SUMMARY.

[illegible]

THE CITY. The amazing freak measures to graft millions off California are shown up this morning by a plain statement of facts in a resume of the political situation at Sacramento.

A clever scheme by clever crooks only failed of success recently because the intended victim held a secret antipathy to mortgages and as a consequence lost only a few hundreds where he was "ribbed-up" to be shorn of thousands.

Chief Engineer Scattergood of the Power Bureau and Attorney Goudge engaged in discussion before the City Club yesterday on opposite sides on the advisability of issuing bonds for a distributing plant.

Complaints were made yesterday against the Chief of Police and two policemen of Pasadena, charging them with using a sixteen-year-old youth to obtain evidence in an alleged illegal sale of liquor.

PACIFIC SLOPE. The State Board of Health yesterday granted three applications for free treatment of rabies by the Pasteur cure. A bill is pending in the Legislature to make treatment free to all.

State Treasurer Roberts declared yesterday that he will have no trouble to place the remaining $15,000,000 bonds of the State highway issue. The funds in the State treasury are now $16,500,000.

GENERAL EASTERN. State Supreme Justice Morschauser at White Plains, N. Y., yesterday ruled that Daniel J. Sully, the "cotton king," shall not return to New York until he has purged himself of contempt.

The Texas Legislature adjourned yesterday because two members died of spinal meningitis and a third has been stricken with the disease.

WASHINGTON. The Arkansas has been ordered to the New York navy yard to be docked for repairs, divers in Cuba being unable to determine the extent of the damage inflicted when the dreadnaught struck a reef a few days ago.

MEXICO. Emilio Vasquez Gomez yesterday proclaimed himself provisional President of Mexico after crossing the boundary from New Mexico.

The Mexican Senate met yesterday in executive session and counseled Madero to resign the Presidency, but a deputation of Senators sent to notify him failed to find him. The Senators informed the people that intervention by the United States is inevitable unless the conflict ceases.

The artillery duel between Madero and Diaz in the streets of Mexico City continued yesterday in a stubborn though spasmodic manner. Panic-stricken people moved by thousands out of the danger zone.

Gov. Colquitt yesterday requested the United States government to send more troops to the boundary. He also urged intervention in Mexico, but received reply that events thus far do not warrant intervention.

FOREIGN. Jan Kubelik, the Bohemian violinist, yesterday canceled by wire all of his concert engagements in Switzerland because of serious illness.

CLOSE CALL FOR WILSON

Rifle Ball Barely Misses the American Ambassador to Mexico.

[A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] MEXICO CITY, Feb. 15.—American Ambassador Wilson had a narrow escape from being hit by a bullet this afternoon. A rifle ball entered a window of the Embassy and missed the Ambassador by a few inches. Ambassador Wilson went to the National Palace at 3 o'clock, to protest to the Federal commander.

The photos were brought to San Antonio, Tex., by refugees and sent from there by special delivery to the Los Angeles Times. The upper panel is a snapshot of President Madero, ahorse, riding through San Francisco street to the National Palace. He is surrounded by a cheering and admiring crowd. The photo of the National Palace was taken half an hour after the Diaz bombardment had ceased. Victims of the cannonade are seen lying in front of the palace.

MADERO STILL EMPHATIC IN DECLINING TO RESIGN.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] After seven days of fighting the deadlock between Maderistas and Felicistas remains unbroken and the end apparently is no nearer in sight than it was after Felix Diaz made his first desperate attempt to capture the city and to overthrow the government last Sunday.

Despite the announcement made at the British Embassy last night, that Madero had his resignation ready and that De la Barra was to act as interim President until a new election could be held, Madero is still President and emphatically declares that he has no intention of resigning. He declares that he was fairly elected President, that he owes it to the people who elected him to prevent the government from again falling into the hands of the element which he ousted and that at all hazards he will be true to his duties.

The action of a portion of the Senate in demanding his resignation will be ignored. In fact, the President has refused to receive the committee bearing the demand.

Madero realizes the seriousness of the situation and the imminence of American intervention until order is restored. It was this realization which led him to offer Diaz an armistice through De la Barra, which the revolutionary leader refused to consider.

Those who seek to force Madero to resign have spread a report that the United States has definitely determined to intervene and in fact already has troops en route to Mexico. The arrival today at Vera Cruz of the battleship Georgia has given weight to these statements. It is not to be denied that these stories have created an ugly feeling among the lower classes against the Americans, which up to this time has been lacking.

Ambassador Wilson, Consul-General Shanklin and other leading Americans are worried at this development in the situation.

It may lead to "attacks on Americans as Americans," which President

Attitude of the United States Is Reaffirmed—While There Is No Disposition to Interfere in Mexico This Country Is Determined to Keep Its Forces in a Position to Protect American Citizens in Any Crisis.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—"Hands off" Mexico for the present was the decision of President Taft and the Cabinet, reached at a prolonged session which lasted until the early hours of this morning.

Mr. Taft and seven of his advisers gathered in the White House, after reviewing the situation from every point of view and particularly the proposal of an armistice in Mexico City, during which non-combatants are to be removed, with the creation of a neutral zone for the American Embassy, determined to reaffirm the non-intervention attitude of the United States, but, meanwhile, keeping the army and navy ready for instant action.

The Cabinet metting broke up just after 12:30 a.m. Secretary Knox announced that Secretary Hilles would prepare and make public the only statement to be given out. Other members of the Cabinet referred all inquiries to Mr. Hilles.

OFFICIAL STATMENT.

His statement was as follows:

"At a meeting of the Cabinet tonight, various dispatches from Mexico were considered, and it was decided that the information so far received afforded no basis for a change in the policy of the government of the United States, already indicated many times in the last two years."

It was practically determined that no further communication would go to President Madero at this time.

REPLY TO MADERO.

The reply to President Madero, as finally framed, was in diplomatic terms, reaffirmation of the attitude of the United States as expressed to Mexico in previous correspondence, indicating a disposition not to interfere in Mexican affairs, but reasserting a determination to keep United States forces in positions where they might speedily be used for protection of American citizens.

The early Cabinet meeting followed a conference between President Taft, Secretary Stimson and Brig.-Gen. Crozier, president of the Army War College, who were called into conference to once again go over the plans that would be put into effect in case intervention became necessary.

If the army is to be sent into Mexico, the transports will be dispatched from Galveston, Tex., instead of Newport News.

FOR AN EMERGENCY.

No new orders resulted from the conference, but Mr. Stimson and Gen. Crozier were told to be ready for any emergency.

The President is still of the opinion that intervention would be unnecessary, reiterating that he would direct intervention only in case of a wholesale murder of American citizens.

If Congress chooses to find a casus belli in the casualties incident to street fighting in Mexico City, the President would not oppose it.

URGES CAUTION.

The President said he hoped the disquieting dispatches from Mexico would not arouse the American people and that the pressure upon Congress would not become so great that a majority would feel called upon to respond to a demand for intervention. According to his latest information, there is little sentiment in Congress for intervention.

HURRIES BACK.

President Taft spent less than an hour at ex-Speaker Cannon's dinner and hurried back to the White House where seven members of the Cabinet were awaiting him in the executive mansion proper. In addition to the army officers at the earlier conference, Brig.-Gen. Aleshire, the Quartermaster General, was present. The session began with the reading of the freshest dispatches from Mexico City.

One of the first things taken up at the Cabinet meeting was a reply to President Madero's personal appeal that intervention or landing of troops be delayed. At the end of the first half-hour the President sent for a stenographer and it was presumed the reply was being drafted.

MOVEMENT OF TROOPS.

A troop movement from Galveston probably would be made by commercial steamers which the War Department may have at a few hours' notice, according to arrangements which have been in force for some time. The drafts would be made from the army posts in the border territory at which troops have been on marching orders for months. The troops available for a quick movement are the Thirteenth Cavalry, El Paso; Second Cavalry, First Battalion, Eighteenth Infantry, and the Twenty-second Infantry, Ft. Bliss; one troop, Third Cavalry at Sierra Blanca, and one troop at Shafter, Tex.; one troop, Fourteenth Cavalry, Ft. Clark; one troop, Fourteenth Cavalry, Eagle Pass; one squadron, Fourteenth Cavalry, Ft. McIntosh; several troops, Third Cavalry, and two battalions of the Third Field Artillery at Ft. Sam Houston.

In posts in Arizona, New Mexico, Kansas, Wyoming and Oklahoma are several regiments of infantry and field artillery.

In addition to this force, there are available at the Guantanamo naval station 2500 to 3000 marines which

All Efforts to Induce Madero to Abdicate During Day Are Futile.

Lawmakers Cannot Find President and Inform Public that United States Is Determined to Intervene Unless Conflict Ceases—Panic Seizes People, Thousands of Whom Flee Out of Danger Zone.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 15.—While the guns of both Federals and rebels were in action and with shells falling on the National Palace and a stray shot occasionally reaching the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate, the latter body, in executive session, wrestled this morning with the problem of restoring peace.

Francisco de la Barra, the former provisional President, who is a member of the Senate, is said to have told the Senators during their secret session some exceedingly plain truths.

And to the people the Senators announced that President Taft had telegraphed to Pedro Lascurain, Foreign Minister, that, at the request of the British Minister here, he was sending marines to Mexico to protect Americans and other foreigners.

President Taft had declared, they said, that this should not be construed as intervention, but, nevertheless it was.

It is understood that President Madero awaited the decision of the Senators in the National Palace, and a delegation went there to counsel him to resign. There seemed to be little doubt that Congress would eventually insist on this demand.

FAIL TO FIND MADERO.

When the Senatorial delegation was unable to find Madero in the National Palace, they came back to report to the entire body, which was still sitting in secret session.

Then the Senators determined to inform the public of the alleged determination of the United States to intervene.

Sebastian Camacho and other Senators drove in a carriage about the city and notified groups of citizens of their failure to find Madero and their consequent failure to secure his resignation.

In the meanwhile Felix Diaz on the rebel side and Gen. Huerta, in command of the Federal troops, proceeded as though no interests other than military ones were concerned.

DISSUADED HUERTA.

The government forces placed a battery within two blocks of the American Embassy but it did not go into action, as Ambassador Wilson persuaded the commander to withhold his fire until he could communicate with Gen. Huerta and attempt to dissuade him.

Its fire undoubtedly would have drawn a reply from the rebels, endangering not only the Embassy but numbers of American citizens in the district.

The result of the morning's fighting was indecisive. Only one foreigner, so far as is known, was injured.

PEACE HOPES FALL FLAT.

Mexico's hopes for peace based on the British legation's midnight announcement of the resignation of President Madero, fell flat. Madero declared this morning that he had not resigned and had no present intention of taking any such action, although he was willing to make any personal sacrifice which he might be convinced was for the good of his country. The British legation's announcement appears to have been founded on misinformation as to the result of the peace efforts of Francisco de la Barra and other prominent men.

ARMISTICE PROPOSAL.

Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson and Pedro Lascurain, the Mexican Foreign Minister, were in conference for several hours during the night. Their efforts to arrange an armistice were vain, however, Diaz, the rebel leader, refusing absolutely to hear of peace until President Madero and his Cabinet had resigned.

Diaz's firmness in this respect was indicated by the activity of his gunners, who continued the bombardment at intervals during the night and after dawn increased their fire until it was more violent than at any previous stage of the seven days' fighting.

Most of those in Mexico City who knew President Madero's stubborn constancy of purpose were pessimistic today regarding his resignation. Others believed he would yield to the persistent demands of men high in public life.

PEACEMAKER.

Francisco de la Barra, former provisional President, played peacemaker today and promises to become as notable in this crisis as he was in the adjustment of the differences of the Madero revolution, which terminated in the overthrow of Porfirio Diaz.

The presence of war vessels of three foreign nations at the port of Vera Cruz and the developments of the past six days appear to have convinced even the Mexican Cabinet Ministers that it would be a mark of forbearance should foreign intervention be delayed much longer. This has been bluntly urged on President Madero as a motive for his resignation.

PANIC AMONG PEOPLE.

The aggressiveness of the rebels during the night brought about further scenes of panic among the people, thousands of whom filled the streets during every lull in the fighting and hastened in jostling masses away from the danger zone.

Before midnight Diaz, taking advantage of the unlighted streets, extended his lines for several blocks and shortly afterward engaged the Federal troops from his new positions in the so-called "Juarez Colony," which is thickly populated with foreigners.

Groups of rebel soldiers deployed along Versailles street and on tops of buildings on Turin street and Barcelonia street. For a time they maintained an almost incessant rifle and machine-gun fire against the Federal outposts stationed far out in what had been called the neutral zone.

ARTILLERY DUEL.

From time to time rebel cannon threw projectiles in all directions, trying to draw the Federal fire. They succeeded between 3 and 4 o'clock in awakening two Federal batteries into brisk action and a sharp artillery duel lasting a half hour gave the city its first experience of a night bombardment. From 4 o'clock until dawn there was practical silence throughout the city. At daybreak the rebel cannon got a renewed reply from the government lines and the battle was again in full swing.

LEGATION OFFICIALS OUSTED.

The announcement of the resignation of President Madero was made on the authority of the British legation at a late hour last night, founded on the fact that De la Barra's visit to President Madero had been followed by an immediate cessation of firing, by both sides. The legation officials took this as an indication that De la Barra had succeeded in prevailing on the President to resign and announced it as a fact.

Gen. Huerta and other Federal commanders again assured President Madero this morning that the government forces would win. This is thought to have been the cause of the President's refusal to resign.

DEATH OF MADERO IS AGAIN DENIED.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] A rumor gained currency tonight that President Madero while making the rounds of the Federal lines with Gen. Huerta had been struck by a bullet and either killed or dangerously wounded.

The report is denied at the palace and so far as can be learned now is without foundation.

GOVERNOR OF TEXAS WANTS MORE TROOPS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AUSTIN (Tex.) Feb. 15.—Gov. O. B. Colquitt of Texas sent a telegram tonight to President Taft urging that United States troops in sufficient number be sent to Laredo and Brownsville, Tex., to protect that section of the border against Mexican bandits that might cross the boundary bent on looting. In the event Federal troops are not ordered to the border the Governor asserts he will establish a militia patrol along the Rio Grande.

It was learned tonight that Gov. Colquitt appealed to President Taft three days ago to intervene in Mexico. In reply a dispatch from Secretary of State Knox to the Governor stated that events up to that time were not considered as warranting alteration in the "hands off" policy maintained by this government.

could be transported to Mexican ports within seventy hours. Ten battleships of the Atlantic fleet also there could land approximately 9000 bluejackets in the Atlantic ports of Mexico in a like time.

LATE DISPATCHES.

At midnight dispatches from Mexico City that both sides were considering a neutral zone for the American Embassy, and proposed to remove non-combatants during an armistice, were taken as an argument in favor of maintaining this government's attitude of "hands off" for the present at least.

WHAT IT COSTS US.

The Diaz revolution in Mexico has now dragged out a full week; has resulted in great loss of life and enormous damage to property; has involved the United States in a great deal of expense through the dispatch of warships to southern waters, for the purchase of large quantities of supplies for troops and the commissioning of transports. Yet officials were ready to confess today that peace seemed no nearer than it did last Sunday night. Military men believe that if Diaz had pressed his advantage that day instead of intrenching himself in the arsenal, he would have prevailed before the dawn of Monday. Today was one of rumors and speculations, and the State Department officials were kept busy denying that the administration had changed its policy regarding Mexico and was about to intervene. With a degree of freedom, quite undiplomatic, the reports of Ambassador Wilson and the American Consuls in Mexico, even including caustic comments upon the conduct of the war, were given publicity, so that it is probable that if Congress should adopt any of the pending resolutions calling for the official correspondence regarding the Mexican revolution, there would be little to add to what has been given to the press by the State Department.

WILSON SUSTAINED.

Ambassador Wilson is being sustained and encouraged in his efforts to remove Americans and foreigners generally from the danger zone, and if need be the draft of $10,000 made in his favor will receive additions. The State Department has not commented on Mr. Wilson's declination to accept the invitation of President Madero to transfer the American Embassy to other and safer quarters. But it is well understood that should it become absolutely necessary to include the American Embassy in the theater of war and the military emergency arises demanding vacation of the premises, the Ambassador must yield and remove his Embassy. The day closed with officials here anxiously awaiting the outcome of the efforts to stop the week-long battle, through the good offices of Senor De la Barra and the Spanish Minister, Cologan y Cologan.

President Madero, as well as Gen. Diaz, is denied arms and ammunition from the United States. This adds to the desperation of the general forces. The American government is rigidly enforcing the neutrality proclamation issued several months ago. Under that proclamation the President forbade, by authority of Congress, the exportation of munitions of war to the Mexican republic. It has been the policy of the President, however, to except importations destined for the Federal army or private interests, provided he was assured they would not fall into the hands of rebels. Because of the terrific battle in Mexico City and the strong position of the rebels, no such assurances can be given and consequently the neutrality ban is being enforced against the whole of Mexico.

BLASTED HOPES.

President Taft and Secretary Knox at an early conference today, were hopeful that President Madero would resign. Confidential advices are said to show a strong sentiment throughout Mexico for peace. Administration officials here have great confidence in the ability of De la Barra, former Ambassador to the United States, and provisional President after the fall of Porfirio Diaz, who has been suggested for that office if Madero steps down.

It was said that Mr. Taft and Mr. Knox talked over the mediation proposal advanced by Director John Barrett of the Pan-American Union, which brought protests from the American colony in Mexico City and the State Department. Neither the President nor Mr. Knox knew of Mr. Barrett's proposal until they saw it in the newspapers. Official opinion is that such a sweeping proposal should have been submitted to the Secretary of State before being made public.

The department is understood to be agreeable to some form of arbitration, but is not willing to enter upon the subject unless Mexico herself should make a request.

Secretaries Knox and Stimson and President Taft himself were told of a report in Mexico that Mr. Taft had advised the British Minister he would send marines. It was categorically denied that such a promise had been made or that marines were to be moved to Mexico City.

Representative Moore of Pennsylvania was advised by Secretary Knox today that Robert Ward of Philadelphia, seized by eight armed Mexicans at Parral and held for $5000 ransom, was liberated on February 4. Mexican troops are pursuing his former captors.

BARRETT REPLY IS MYSTERIOUS.

Flashes Anonymous Letter of Warning.

Resents Criticism of the State Department.

Clash Startles Officialdom in Washington.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The clash between John Barrett of the Pan-American Union and the State Department over Barrett's proposal for a mediation commission to bring about peace in Mexico, is hardly less a sensation in official circles here than the Mexican situation itself. The two affairs divide attention.

The State Department's memorandum last night, characterizing Director Barrett's proposal as mischievous activity, sentimentality and amateur politics, dropped into official circles like a bomb. Coupled with the protest of the American colony in Mexico City, forwarded by Ambassador Wilson, it produced a situation startling to say the least. The Pan-American Union is supported by the United States and the republics of Central and South America. Each pays toward its support by contributions based on population and each nation has one vote in the selection of a director.

BARRETT'S STATEMENT.

Director Barrett today gave out a statement defending his mediation proposal. He said he honestly believed that his action would strengthen the attitude of the administration against intervention.

"To brand as amateur politics the suggestion of mediation by a great and accepted broad and practical agency of international friendship and to call as mischievous activity and sentimentality the application of international co-operation to stop immediately actual fighting and protect lives seems to be the result of misunderstanding of what I actually had in mind," said the director.

"In view of the severity of the complaint of the American colony and the attitude of the State Department, I am forced in self-defense to make public a fact that I would infinitely prefer never to mention, were I not the subject of such criticism.

ANONYMOUS LETTER.

"Late last night, and before I had been informed of the report from Mexico City, I received an anonymous letter. As best I can quote and recall, it was as follows:

" 'As a friend of yourself and your republic, I want to warn you. You are in danger of attack from [illegible] sources on account of the statements you have given out in regard to the settlement of the Mexican situation.

" 'One of these is a certain influence that wants intervention and military occupation and is bitter against the President and State Department for their holding out against intervention. Having so far failed in that direction, they are incensed at your suggestion and may turn on you both here and in Mexico. The other influence is a man in a great department who cordially dislikes you and everything South American.'

"I cannot believe that this anonymous statement is worthy of [illegible] credence. I have the most profound respect and regard for the head of the department to which this letter may have referred and I don't believe for a moment that it refers to him. It must refer to a subordinate, but who he is, I cannot imagine."

BY FITZGERALD SLOCUM.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Such a week as [illegible] tonight, replete as it has [illegible] with carnage and bloodshed, and [illegible] of life and property, has [illegible] before been approached, much [illegible] equaled, in the history of the [illegible] world. The scenes which [illegible] been enacted within plain view [illegible] cable building, the corner of [illegible] de Letran and Independen[illegible], where I have been ma[illegible] since the opening of the five [illegible] of desperate fighting, have been [illegible] as to almost beggar [illegible].

[illegible] the general cannonading of [illegible] was commenced last Tues[illegible] I had just entered the Hotel [illegible] coming there from the cable [illegible]. The bursting of the first shell [illegible] sharp bark of the first ma[illegible] gun cartridge, started a wild [illegible] at the time the streets were [illegible] alive with people. A few [illegible] later, a shell burst im[illegible] in front of the hotel and [illegible] a rush of people to enter [illegible] in their frantic efforts to [illegible] place of escape and safety [illegible] flying missiles which were [illegible] over the heart of the city [illegible] like drops from a sum[illegible] cloud.

[illegible] of the hotel were about [illegible] and knowing that it would [illegible] to witness any scenes of [illegible] from within, I forced my way [illegible] the streets and managed by [illegible] from one shelter to another, [illegible] of doorways, to reach the [illegible] just before its doors were [illegible] all comers.

SPECTACULAR CONFLICT.

[illegible] its very inception the con[illegible] which has raged in this city has [illegible] spectacular. All day Tues[illegible] bombardment continued and [illegible] first day's battle the lulls or [illegible] the heavy volley were [illegible] not nearly as frequent as [illegible] been in the succeeding days' [illegible] and this accounts for the [illegible] of life on that first day.

WATCHING THE SHELLS.

[illegible] the Federals and rebels have [illegible] the most part forced to use [illegible] methods, and the shells [illegible] shot have arched their [illegible] great sections of the city, [illegible] of them exploding in mid-air [illegible] reaching their intended point. [illegible] the progress of these shells [illegible] top of the building, they [illegible] to strike the ground near [illegible] of Federal or rebel soldiers [illegible] might be. [illegible] there was a flash of fire, [illegible] the smoke cleared away, [illegible] upon the ground could be [illegible] bodies of the troopers, some [illegible] death and others writhing [illegible] agony.

[illegible] OF THE WOUNDED.

[illegible] above the roar of the guns, [illegible] small, and the crashing [illegible] rifle fire, could be heard [illegible] and curses, in many in[illegible] of these wounded men, and [illegible] these rang out the shrill [illegible] of the horses and mules [illegible] down by bursting shells or [illegible] in their mad headlong [illegible] through the streets dragging [illegible] the guns into position. [illegible] these shells and solid shot [illegible] bring down human targets [illegible] their force of destruction [illegible] walls and on the roofs of [illegible] massive stone buildings, [illegible] long been the pride and [illegible] places of the capital of the [illegible]. These same buildings are now masses of ruins in many instances and the walls of others are pierced and are tottering on their foundations. There is hardly a single section, single block, in this whole city that does not bear some mark of the fearful conflict which has raged within its confines since last Tuesday.

HAND TO HAND CONFLICT.

From the roof of the cable office I could see the daring and desperate assaults made by the Federal troops on the arsenal, the great stone fortress which has proven to be an impregnable position for Gen. Diaz and his rebels. In company formation, the Federal troops hurled themselves forward through the streets leading to the arsenal, in daring and yet foolhardy attempts to reach its great entrance ways and there engage in hand to hand conflicts with the rebels.

LIVING SHEETS OF FLAME.

I saw living sheets of flame burst forth from the windows and from the roof of this arsenal as the cannon and machine guns belched their fire and deadly missiles into the ranks of the charging columns. The flame and smoke from these guns was augmented by the rifles of the infantrymen and at times it looked as if the whole structure was swept by a conflagration.

MURDEROUS FIRE.

With each murderous discharge of these guns, the Federals halted, their ranks wavered, became serried and then broken. The charge of the immortal 600 at Balaklava has been repeated and re-enacted several times over in these five days' fighting, but in these instances the heroes were on foot and it will take another Tennyson to sing the praises that is justly due these loyal troops.

BUILDINGS IN FLAMES.

Fire has added to the horrors of the bombardment and cannonading to which the city has been subjected and many times at night a lurid glare from burning buildings has illuminated the city and caused pictures of death, of suffering, of weal and woe to stand out in sharp relief against the blackness of the night.

GHOULS PREY UPON DEAD.

Ghouls preying upon their dead victims, stripping them of their valuables and in many cases, even their wearing apparel, could be seen at work in the neighborhood of the cable office and they worked undisturbed, for since last Sunday, practically speaking, there has been no law and less order in the capital city.

It was not until yesterday that the people, harrowed and driven desperate by fear of death from shrieking shot and shell, were afforded a lengthy period of relief. When the cannonading was temporarily brought to a close, they hurried into the streets, seeking shelter in other sections of the city.

FIGHT OVER CRUST.

The poor classes clamored hideously for bread and I saw crowds of peons and their women fight madly over a crust that had been flung into the street from a neighboring restaurant. The drawn and pinched faces of these people tell better than any written words the story of the privations, hardships and sufferings which they have undergone.

PEACE HOPES SHATTERED.

Today the hopes of the people that peace would be established were shattered and broken as President Madero has refused to resign and Gen. Diaz's ultimatum signifies this action alone will bring a cessation of fire and prevent further bloodshed.

Streets that were crowded earlier in the day are now deserted and the shells are rocketing their way over the city in sweeping arcs of fire, bursting in a flash of flame and with a thunderous roar, scattering their messengers of death and destruction in every direction.

Emilio Vasquez Gomez,

[illegible] into Mexico from New Mexico and proclaimed himself [illegible] President of the republic. Gomez served in De la Barra's [illegible] when the latter was Provisional President and is under bond at [illegible] Tex., on the charge of violating the neutrality laws. He [illegible] played an important part in the Madero revolution.

LONDON PAPER PITIES WILSON.

Chronicle Sees no Ground for Intervention but Has Visions of Annexation After Costly War.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Discussing editorially the situation in Mexico, the Daily Chronicle says it realizes the United States cannot ignore it, but that the newspaper does not envy Mr. Wilson the problem that is awaiting him. It says the American expansionists talk of annexation, but that that probably would require more troops than Great Britain needed to annex the Boer republics.

The Daily News says it thinks there is no ground in law or morals for American intervention, but that President-elect Wilson will have difficulty in resisting the pressure in favor of intervening, which would mean annexation after a long and costly war.

OROZCO'S EMISSARY PREDICTS EARLY END OF STRIFE.

Manuel Lujan Draws Parallel With Balkan Conflict and Civil War, During Which Foreign Property Was Destroyed—Attempt at Mediation Is Useless, He Declares.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Feb. 15.—"Talk of mediation is as useless as talk of intervention. Mexicans would welcome neither. This is our own affair," said Manuel Lujan, former Orozco emissary to Washington, and now sole representative in the United States of the northern revolution, on his return from a visit to the rebel camp below Juarez.

LOOKS TO WILSON.

"If Taft and Madero remained Presidents for six years more, intervention might come. But with Wilson and a change in Mexico, intervention is remote. Mr. Barrett is doubtless well intentioned, but he does not know what he is talking about. Foreign intervention surely would see a combination of the rebels and Federals of all parties," he declared, "and I believe the apathy of the Mexican people at large, who so far have taken no active part for or against the revolution, would be broken.

MEXICANS ARE HOPEFUL.

"Americans should be glad that Mexicans at last are really fighting and that an end is at hand of the Madero rule. The trouble will soon be ended and peace will follow. Why mediation while there is fighting? If, after Diaz wins, there is continued strife, then mediation may be discussed. But Mexicans have not given up hope by any means.

"Destruction of foreign property? What is going on now in Turkey? It went on in the United States during the Civil War. Did any one talk then about mediation or intervention? What would Americans have thought if they did? There have been no evidences of intentioned harm to Americans in Mexico, and American property has been destroyed only when it was necessary in warfare."

NUEVO LAREDO FORCE GOES OVER TO DIAZ

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LAREDO (Tex.) Feb. 15.—The Federal troops at Nuevo Laredo, across the Rio Grande River from here, revolted in favor of Felix Diaz this afternoon.

They number about seventy-five cavalry and 125 infantry. No shots were fired.

About twenty Americans in Nuevo Laredo at the time sought aid of the United States Consul and passed in safety to the American side. The bridge was closed and traffic stopped.

GOMEZ DECLARES HIMSELF PROVISIONAL PRESIDENT.

Leader of Vasquistas Crosses Into Mexico to Set Up a Government of His Own Under the Plan of San Luis Potosi—Gen. Salazar and Col. De la Fuente Depended Upon to Join New Pretender.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Feb. 15.—Emilio Vasquez Gomez, recently released on bond at San Antonio, Tex., today crossed the border at Columbus, N. M., and proclaimed himself provisional President of Mexico.

It is reported that Gomez was met below the line by a band of rebels, led by Col. David de la Fuente, Gen. Salazar's chief of staff, who has always been a Vasquista, as the followers of Emilio Vasquez Gomez are called.

FORMER CABINET MEMBER.

Emilio Vasquez Gomez and his brother, Dr. Francisco Vasquez Gomez, played prominent parts in the Madero revolution. Emilio was a member of the De la Barra provisional Cabinet. When Orozco occupied Juarez, during the Orozco revolt, Emilio came to Juarez to become provisional President, but was put in jail by Orozco. The estrangement of the two rebel leaders has never been explained.

UNDER BOND.

When Gomez was released, he came to the United States, where he was arrested on charges of neutrality violation. Recently he was released on bond at San Antonio, and his whereabouts have since been unknown until today.

PLAN OF SAN LUIS POTOSI.

In telegrams sent here today, Senor Gomez said that he would appoint his Cabinet at once, declaring himself provisional President of Mexico by virtue of the plan of San Luis Potosi, which was reformed at Tacubaya and Ayutla. The Tacubaya amendment to the original programme of Francisco I. Madero Jr., proclaimed Gomez President, and was accepted at the time by the rebel generals Orozco and Zapata.

OROZCO DISAPPEARS.

The Vasquistas assert that this stand of the rebels for Gomez has not been altered since and that now they will rally to his call. The difficulty with Orozco, it is pointed out, will not matter now as Orozco has disappeared and Salazar is the acting commander-in-chief of the northern rebels. It is conceded that the influence of Col. De la Fuente will be sufficient to bring Salazar and Gomez to an understanding.

Drink Habit Is A Dangerous Habit

Men Who Cannot Resist the Craving for Drink Should Take the Neal Treatment.

Men do not deliberately become drunkards, nor do they remain so from choice, but gradually—through moderate drinking—become so badly poisoned with alcohol that the craving and necessity for drink becomes stronger than the will-power to resist. They are slaves to a habit which will ultimately wreck them physically, mentally and financially unless they have proper medical treatment — the Neal Treatment, which never fails to remove the craving and necessity for drink in three days, without the use of painful, dangerous hypodermic injections.

The Neal Drink Habit Treatment is successfully administered at fifty-eight Neal Institutes, and is each year redeeming thousands of drink-wrecked men and women.

How Can the People Decide Which Medicine is Best?

S. B. HARTMAN, M.D., Columbus, Ohio.

One of my readers writes me in part as follows. He says:

"I like your idea as expressed in your last article as to how we may become sure we are right in matters of religion and medicine. Experience is our only guide. Now, as to the best way of getting this experience, you did not give any definite instruction. Take my case for instance. I am a man of family. And while we try to live properly, yet we are subject to disease and derangements like other people. Occasionally we have to use drugs. What would you advise?"

My reply, in part, was as follows:

Let us suppose it was a cough, or a common cold, or a hoarseness, or a pain in the chest, or a twinge of rheumatism, or a stoppage of the nose and discharge from the throat, indicating catarrh.

What you are after is, first, to cure yourself of your trouble; and, second, to gain experience so that you may cure yourself next time, if you or any member of your family should be so afflicted.

If you go to the drug store you buy Peruna. If it cures you, then you know what to get next time. If it does not cure you and it proves to be worthless, you know what to avoid.

In taking advertised medicines that have a definite name you are gradually learning to distinguished between those remedies that help and those that do not.

If a neighbor in whom I have confidence should tell me that they have purchased a bottle of some advertised medicine that helped them, I should feel perfectly free to give that medicine a trial. And if I found that the advertised medicine cured me I should not hesitate to tell my neighbors about it. I should not hesitate to have my name published, either, as testifying to the merits of such a medicine. Nothing short of this would be justice. Nothing less than this would be honest.

The prejudices against advertised medicines may have had some foundation in the past. But up to date I can conscientiously say that there are just as good medicines in the drug store, compounded in a manufactory, advertised for sale to the people, just as good medicines of this kind as the medicines that the doctors prescribe.

All our best remedies have been first found by common experience. The testimony of one person and another has spread the news and finally its use has become general.

This is exactly the way Peruna has spread among the people. It has not been advertising that has sold Peruna. Sometimes advertising sells the first bottle to a person, but afterwards it must be the merits of Peruna that sell it.

One person takes Peruna and is cured of a cough, or cold, or catarrh, lung disease or kidney disease, or stomach disease. Some one of these derangements which perhaps the doctors have failed to cure, Peruna relieves. He tells his neighbor about it. His neighbor tries it for the same purpose and is cured also. He, again, tells it, and so the news is spread.

Yes, I mean to put myself on record as saying it is from the experience of the common people that we must expect to sift out the genuine remedies from the many spurious ones claiming attention.

As a doctor myself, who has spent many years in the study and practice of medicine, I say and shall say again many times, that Peruna is the best remedy I know of to meet the common, everyday climatic ailments to which the household is subject. And if I were keeping house as you are, trying to keep free from debt and disease, I should certainly keep a bottle of Peruna in the house all the time. No. 53.

Have You as Many Teeth as You Need? Answer Me Personally

DR. HUMELBAUGH

YOU SAID: If I could get these unsightly vacancies in my jaw filled with teeth that would feel and look like my own once did. Oh, how I would enjoy chewing a good, thick steak instead of compelling my stomach to do the work intended for teeth. And you said (as you looked into your mirror:) I want teeth that will return my mouth to its once youthful appearance. I DON'T want my mouth to be older than the balance of my face. I want a pleasing, attractive expression about my mouth, so my friends will think me good to look at. Furthermore, I want them comfortable and durable, and the work must be done gently and without pain.

ALL RIGHT, LISTEN TO WHAT I SAY: I'll agree to every one of your demands and replace either one or twenty-eight (a full set) teeth equal in every respect to nature's best. And now to price—can't you afford to take the time to come and get my estimate, together with expert advice, free, as to the best method of putting your teeth in first-class condition? Get busy.

RUNNING SHORT OF AMMUNITION.

MADERO'S STORES ARE LOW, ACCORDING TO WILSON.

American Ambassador in Mexico City Wires a Very Significant Statement to the State Department in Washington—Reports Received of Uprisings Outside Capital.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The most significant feature of Ambassador Wilson's reports today is the intimation that Madero is running short of ammunition. By Mr. Wilson's figures, the total casualty list was six killed and forty-eight wounded. The rebels gained 500 deserters from the Federal side.

In the thick of the fighting the president of the local Red Cross was killed by bullets from some unknown source while at work in the plaza, and both that organization and the White Cross have been obliged to disband because of the failure of the government to respect the white flag, and its seizures of their automobiles as ammunition carriers.

The Ambassador's account of Madero's efforts to induce him to abandon the American Embassy is dismissed in a statement that yesterday the Mexican Minister for Foreign Affairs invited him, in the President's name, to remove his residence to the suburb of Tacubayo, out of the line of fire. The Ambassador thanked the President but declined.

From outside of the capital come reports of rebel uprisings. At Ozumba, Miraflores, Lacompania, Chalco, Tlalhuan and San Rafel the Federal troops have revolted, killed their officers and declared for Diaz.

The Harvard Phenomenon Who Startled Scientific World With His Demonstration of the Fourth Dimension Theory Expresses Profound Antipathy to Fair Sex.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] William J. Sidis, the infant phenomenon of Harvard, who recently startled the scientific world by his exposition of the fourth dimension theory, now exhibits a profound antipathy to the fair sex and prides himself upon his disdain.

"A nice little girl?" snorts Sidis. "There ain't no such animal," (using a vulgarism unworthy of Harvard, to convey his disgust.)

"I believe in the three-foot limit, and by that I mean that this distance should be maintained between those of different sex.

"A woman is merely a thing," continued Sidis, "and the very few whose acquaintance is forced upon me, I designate by number, not by name. I keep a catalogue of these names and numbers in my pocket diary and when at rare intervals, a new woman comes into my circle of intimates, she loses her identity as far as I am concerned and becomes a number."

Tiro Properties in the San Luis Potosi District Are Invaded by Marauders Posing as Insurrectos and Two of Their Number Are Laid Low by Bullets of Defenders.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN LUIS POTOSI (Mex.) Feb. 15.—The Tiro General mine, one of the largest properties of the American Smelter & Refining Co., twenty-two miles from Charcas, San Luis Potosi State, has been completely looted by bandits. An attack was made on the mine last Tuesday. The marauders were driven off temporarily by Americans employed at the mine. Two of the bandits were killed. An American named Link was fatally wounded. Americans escorted the women in the camp to Charcas and took the last train out of that city to San Luis Potosi.

RULES TO PREVENT FIRES.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] Charles F. Seyferlich, Chicago's Fire Marshal, says that fire loss fifty times in a hundred is bad business administration. He gives these rules for prevention of fires: Discharge careless help, guard all combustibles, employ a fire inspector, make the plant fireproof. The Chief added that fire insurance companies last year paid $5,600,000 in Chicago, and that all but about 30 per cent. was preventible.

DEFENDS TURKEY TROT.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] The "Bear" and "Tango" and similar dances were barred at the musical college of Northwestern University yesterday by Dean Peter C. Lutkin. His arraignment called forth a defense from Prof. Charles Lutton, who said that musical students are almost alone in understanding and appreciating rhythm and that their dances are nothing more than artistic expressions and frolicsome pleasure. "The average student," continued Prof. Lutton, "knows about as much about rhythm as a cat does about a symphony."

The wounded woman lay four hours without medical attendance until the arrival of Southern Pacific train No. 15, shortly after 5 o'clock, when she was taken to Chico for treatment. She lies in the Sister's Hospital paralyzed, her life about despaired of.

WIRE TAPPER CONVICTED.

A Candidate for Public Office and Preferment in Seattle Is Found Guilty of a Misdemeanor.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Feb. 15.—The candidacy of Arne Nordskog for the City Council received a set-back today when he was convicted of wire-tapping. In legal phraseology, the offense was "injuring a public utility," which is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine or imprisonment.

Nordskog is a private detective and was formerly an electrician. He tapped a telephone wire into a detective agency to overhear conversations. The prosecution charged that he was employed by interests seeking the recall of Mayor Cotterill. His name is on the ballot at next Tuesday's primary election.

FUNDS REACH HIGH LEVEL.

State Has Larger Amount in Treasury than Ever Before—No Trouble to Place Highway Bonds.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—"California bankers have fallen in line and the outlook for the sale of the remaining $15,600,000 of the original issue of $18,000,000 of highway bonds is optimistic," said State Treasurer Roberts today.

Roberts found little trouble in disposing of the last $400,000 of the bonds advertised for sale.

"The State bankers have shown a fine spirit in taking over these 4-per-cent. bonds," says Roberts. "The next sale of highway securities is to be held early in March. At that time $800,000 worth will be offered. Already the associated banks of Sacramento have agreed to take $140,000 of them. Recently Los Angeles bankers took $400,000 and the San Francisco bank purchased $800,000 worth of harbor improvement bonds bearing 4 per cent. interest."

Roberts thinks there will be no need to increase the interest on either the highway or the harbor bonds to 4½ per cent. as proposed. He is confident that the State will never again have the trouble it experienced last fall in disposing of its securities.

Some State officials have been pondering the advisability of changing the denomination of the bonds and selling them as low as $200,000 lots. This would enable the citizens of the State to invest their money in State improvements at the same rate of interest paid by banks.

The semi-final payment of corporation taxes in addition to the regular revenues has brought the funds in the State Treasury up to $16,500,000, a high-water mark in the State's history. Of this amount more than $9,000,000 is deposited in banks bringing in approximately $16,000 a month in interest.

MUSHROOM FARM IN WINERY.

Successful Stunt in Santa Clara Valley by Graduate of a French Horticultural College.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, Feb. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Turning an old winery into a mushroom farm is the "stunt" which has been successfully accomplished at Mountain View by A. Bussiere, a graduate of a French horticultural college, and a noted expert on tuberous plants.

The great wine cellars of the old Rogers winery have been converted into mushroom cellars and mushrooms which are found on many of the fashionable tables about the bay are grown in the semi-darkness of the excavations where some of the best known brands of California wine were once kept in storage.

Bussiere has two partners in the venture and the trio cultivate their own mushroom spawn from seed brought to this country from France.

Spawn for mushroom farms will later be shipped to all parts of the world from Mountain View, according to plans announced today. Bussiere said today that he has found the boast of the Chamber of Commerce that anything can be grown profitably in Santa Clara county not an idle one. He gathers the mushrooms twice daily for market shipments.

PETALUMA, Feb. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Judge Nathaniel King, who has been a justice of the peace of this township since 1880, and who was at one time Coroner of Sonoma county, passed away at his home on Keller street this morning at the age of 83 years.

He was Assessor of Tehama county for eight years, after which he engaged in the sawmill business. He was identified with public life for many years. He had been confined to his home for the past eleven days and at the time of his death two cases were pending in his court. The remains will be cremated in San Mateo county on Monday.

WEDDING PROVES SURPRISE.

Mrs. Langtry Witness at Marriage of San Francisco Monologist to Hotel Visitor From New York.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] Theatrical people of San Francisco were surprised tonight to hear that Ralph C. Herz, monologist, and Mrs. Leah M. Harden, who has been a guest at the St. Francis Hotel for a month, had been married this evening by Superior Judge Lawlor. Mrs. Langtry and Harry Cosgriff, clubman, were witnesses.

Mrs. Harden gave her address as New York City. The marriage followed brief acquaintance and took place without knowledge of Mrs. Nathan J. Landsberger of this city, who is a sister of Herz.

ARRESTED AT TABLE DRINKING STOLEN WINE.

Sheriff Believes He Has in Custody Members of the Gang Who Attempted to Rob the Bank at Vacaville—Men Threaten Resistance, but Are Overpowered.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—Four men, whom the police believe are members of the gang that attempted to rob the bank of Vacaville last Thursday, were captured this afternoon in a typical bandits' rendesvous, a shack in an alley, stacked with burglars' tools, masks and mufflers. Several local burglaries have been traced to the men.

One of the strongest clews in support of the theory that the men are Vacaville bandits is that one is a chauffeur. The discoverer recalled to the police that one of the robbers drove a stolen automobile in which they escaped. Automobile gloves and small parts of a valve for automobile tires were found in the house where the men were arrested. Several other pairs of gloves, such as used by safecrackers in working without leaving finger-prints, were also among the gang's possessions. A large quantity of soap, another necessity of the safe-blower, was found.

The Vacaville bandits headed for this city after the robbery and their trail was lost near Freeport, on the Sacramento River, a few miles below Sacramento. Sheriff J. J. McDonald of Solano county came to Sacramento today in the belief that the bandits were here.

DRINKING STOLEN WINE.

The discovery of the gang came about in a search for the burglars who robbed the garage of H. D. Thomson of the Thomson-Diggs Company. They were found sitting around a table, drinking wine, which was later identified as stolen.

The men were insolent and threatened resistance, but were overpowered.

They gave the names of Harry Smith, Paul E. Rockwell, Joe Bello and Dave Tompkins.

The residents in the vicinity of the house where the police found the gang, say that the men have been here about a month, sleeping during the day and leaving at night. At times they would disappear for a few days. The men were not seen during the time the Vacaville bandits worked.

National Geographic Society and American Museum Want Him to Explore Arctic Under Our Flag.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The National Geographic Society and the American Museum of New York have subscribed jointly $45,000 to Vilhjalmar Stefansson, the Arctic explorer, to defray the expenses of another exploring expedition to the north polar regions. The Canadian government also has made a tentative offer of $75,000 to Stefansson if he will make the expedition under the British flag.

WILL TREAT RABIES FREE.

Three Applications for the Pasteur Cure Are Granted by the State Board of Health.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 15.—Requests for free Pasteur treatment in behalf of three persons bitten by rabid dogs unable to pay for the medical attention necessary were granted today by the State Board of Health.

An effort will be made at this session of the Legislature to make all treatment of rabies free. A bill toward that end has been introduced by Assemblyman Finnegan of Nevada City. It carries an appropriation of $10,000. Several requests for free treatment have already been granted previous to those of today. The usual cost is $100 for the serum and services of the attending physician.

Strike Disturbances at Akron Cause Gov. Cox of Ohio to Dispatch Arbitration Board.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

AKRON (Ohio) Feb. 15.—Scenes bordering upon rioting in the strike of approximately 1000 employees of the large rubber manufacturing plants here today caused Frank W. Rockwell to ask Gov. Cox to send two companies of the State militia to prevent serious trouble.

Gov. Cox has not granted the request, but has dispatched members of the State Board of Arbitration to attempt the establishment of peace.

All saloons were ordered closed today for an indefinite period.

Fisher Hears Arguments and Will Probably Recommend an Adequate Leasing Law for Passage.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Legislation needed properly to develop the potash industry of the United States was discussed at a hearing here today before Secretary Fisher. The general opinion expressed was that a solution of present difficulties would be accomplished by an adequate leasing law, and it was said that Secretary Fisher doubtlessly would recommend such a statute.

Clinton E. Dolbear of San Francisco declared that the chief fault with the laws was in the opportunity for unscrupulous persons to take up and hold large tracts, not for the purpose contemplated under the law, but for timber or townsite lands or water-power sites.

HOUSE OFFICER KILLS HIMSELF. DOORKEEPER CUTS HIS THROAT.

[illegible] NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Capt. A. P. Garden, assistant doorkeeper of the House, was found dead in his rooms late last night with his throat cut. An incoherent note, evidently hastily scribbled just before the deed, indicated that he had taken his life while temporarily deranged. Garden was appointed from Wheeling, W. Va., and was to have been appointed United States Marshal there within the near future.

Hostilities Are Suspended

Troy, O. He was slightly wounded two days ago while passing through the streets. Today a shell chased into Porter's Hotel and killed him.

Sidney Sutherland, correspondent of a Salt Lake City newspaper, but a resident of Mexico City, was killed by the same shell.

REMARKABLE SITUATION.

The situation in Mexico City, apart from its terrifying aspect, is a remarkable one. Friends of President Madero fully expected his resignation; but as the day wore along he became fixed in his determination to hold the reins of power. To the Spanish Minister, Senor Cologan y Cologan, he said:

"I will not resign. I was elected by the people. I am the constituted President. I will die before I resign."

And amid all the confusions and alarms at 5 o'clock the Mexican government applied the censorship to all dispatches and cable messages. This will vastly increase the difficulty of informing the outside world of the operations within the Mexican capital, and will effectually suppress incoming dispatches regarding conditions in parts of the republic.

During the night messengers went about the city locating Senators and asking them to attend a special session in order to discuss the situation and attempt a solution of what is recognized by almost all Mexicans as critical.

More than a quorum of Senators was present. The discussion lasted a long time and a great crowd surrounded the building. The scene was almost identical with that when Congress met to consider the advisability of bringing about the resignation of Porfirio Diaz. In one material respect it differed. There were no mounted police or soldiers drawn across the streets and it was only after a considerable time that a detachment of rurales, spared from the fighting line, appeared and dispersed the crowd.

A resolution was adopted that a committee of the whole wait upon the President at the palace. Twenty Senators appeared there, including the President of the Senate, but were given little satisfaction. They were informed that Madero was not in, and it was intimated that he was on the firing line with Gen. Huerta.

Within a few minutes, however, Madero had been in conference with the Spanish Minister, to whom he made his declaration of defiance to the rebels. Mexican attorneys say the Senate has no power to force the President to resign.

Joint action of the two houses virtually is impossible because there probably are not enough Deputies in the city to make a quorum. It also is considered questionable that any action of the Senate would be valid in view of the proclamation of martial law. It is expected the Senate's manifesto will be issued before tomorrow.

The imminent danger of intervention is referred to and the people are urged to exercise their patriotism to the fullest extent in order to avoid such action.

The news of the Senate's intentions and the failure of Madero to receive the committee was given to the public by Senator Sebastian Comache, a rich and aged Mexican of the old regime, who stood on a street corner and told the people what had been done.

He described the preparations by the United States for the protection of the Americans and other foreigners, in view of which the Senate had decided to depend on the patriotism of the people.

CARRYING PLANS TO JAPAN.

TWO ARRESTED AS SPIES.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

MANILA, Feb. 15.—A draughtsman of the engineer corps, and one of the Bureau of Lands, have been arrested for disclosing military secrets. Detailed plans of Coregidor fortifications were found in the possession of a Filipino who was aboard a steamer bound for Japan. Further incomplete plans were found among his effects.

Join the Happy Alfalfa Growers

Where the Opportunity is Right

We are offering the best alfalfa proposition in Southern California, in the fertile acres of our Willow Plume Subdivision in the BEAUTIFUL SAN JACINTO AND HEMET VALLEY. These lands are level as a floor, streets and pipe lines all in, ready for seeding, for only $250.00 to $275.00 per acre, including full water right.

Aside from being one of the most attractive home places, this is quite an attractive business proposition. These water rights which go with each acre have a valuation in the market of $200.00, and will advance in price as the demand increases, giving you the advantage of two investments at the price of one. The wealthiest men in the country are investing in this valley, because of its unlimited possibilities, and beautiful surroundings. Nat Goodwin at the present time is putting in five hundred acres to apricot and peach trees, to add to his thousand-acre alfalfa ranch.

We are offering you the best land in the country with water; LAND THAT LIES WITHIN TEN MINUTES' RIDE OF TWO OF THE BUSIEST LITTLE CITIES IN THIS SECTION OF THE COUNTRY, SAN JACINTO AND HEMET. Within easy access to Los Angeles and San Diego, the two best markets in Southern California. A MOST DESIRABLE CLIMATE, BEST SOIL, AND THE WATER QUESTION SOLVED. YOU HAVE THE BEST AND CHEAPEST GENERAL RANCHING PROPOSITION IN THIS STATE.

Already we have sold over half of this tract, and it will be only a question of a short time until it is all gone. You must come and see it. Only three hours from Los Angeles by auto or Santa Fe; fine boulevard all the way. We have autos at our office in San Jacinto to show you over the valley. Call or write, San Jacinto Land Company, San Jacinto, or room 625-6 Story Bldg., Sixth and Broadway, Los Angeles. Phone Main 9451.

We invite your Critical inspection of our present magnificent display of CHICKERING PIANOS
IN GRAND AND UPRIGHT FORM

If you appreciate true art as applied to musical instrument construction you will be greatly interested in this splendid exhibit of beautiful Chickering Pianos. Of course you know that the Chickering is the greatest piano made—but perhaps you only known this by hearsay. We therefore want you to come and realize the Chickering's supremacy through personal experience — you can do this only by hearing the marvelous Chickering tone—the tone which is the despair of all other piano manufacturers.

If you can afford to pay the Chickering price, don't be satisfied with anything but a Chickering—because you'll find that there is no instrument that rivals this piano either in tone, construction or durability.

Chickerings may be purchased from us on extremely easy payments and other pianos will be taken in exchange at a liberal valuation.

Warner's Safe Remedies
Bright's Disease

Don't neglect your kidneys and run the danger of contracting Bright's Disease. Many do and they pay dearly for disregard of their health. Weak kidneys are common to most people. That is why there are so many cases of kidney disease, dropsy, and Bright's disease—so much rheumatism, sciatica, backaches and nervous disorders.

Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy has proved to be a wonderful remedy for kidney and liver troubles the past 36 years. Thousands praise it and attribute their recovery to it after having failed with everything else.

They recommend it to their friends, and they in turn use it and praise it to other sufferers. This success and indorsement have grown to remarkable proportions.

"Doctors Held Out No Hope"
"Several doctors said I had severe Bright's Disease, and that there was no cure; my agony was terrible. The first two bottles of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy gave me relief, and I could sleep better. After the sixth I was able to do my housework comfortably. I took 15 bottles in all and several boxes of pills. I now keep the pills as a household remedy. I wish I had used your medicine sooner; it would have saved me many hours of agony."

CLEANS THE HAIR AND MAKES IT BEAUTIFUL—25c "DANDERINE"

In a few moments your hair looks soft, fluffy, lustrous and abundant —No falling hair or dandruff.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few moments you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, luster and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of Dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

Court Rules That Sully Shall Not Return to New York Until He Is Purged of Contempt.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—On pain of arrest, Daniel J. Sully, erstwhile "cotton king," cannot return to New York until he purges himself of contempt of court. This is the substance of a decision handed down today by Supreme Court Justice Morschauser at White Plains.

Sully was declared in contempt more than two years ago for violating an injunction restraining him from settling any claims until he had satisfied a $4000 judgment obtained by William Harmon Black, his former counsel. Recently he employed new counsel and endeavored to have the order of arrest vacated.

FEAR TROUBLE ON THE BORDER.

A General Movement of the Rebels Toward Juarez.

Salazar's Army May Enter Town at Any Time.

Mystery of Orozco's Doings Is Causing Alarm.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Feb. 15.—A general movement of rebel forces toward Juarez was begun early today, according to a ranchman arriving here. Rebel agents here have opened negotiations with the Federal commander in Juarez for proclaiming a truce. Authorities fear trouble across the border because the Federal volunteers are indisposed to join the Diaz revolution.

Of the 1000 government forces at Juarez, nearly half are irregulars, officered by chiefs who fought in the Madero revolution and since have remained loyal to the President. Col. Ignacio Escarte, the volunteer commander, has declared that in event of Madero's defeat, he will disband.

"We shall quit if Madero does," he declared today.

But Col. Juan N. Vasquez, a regular, insists that he is in full command of the Juarez garrison. Rebel agents say that Vasquez and his officers lean toward Diaz.

The rebels offer to bring Gen. Inez Salazar, who leads more than 1200 rebels, into Juarez and assist the regulars if any trouble occurs with the volunteers. Salazar's forces for some days, have been camped within fifty miles of Juarez along the Mexican Northwestern Railway.

No telegraph or railways are operating below Juarez, and no word has been received for two days from the American settlements in the Casas Grandes district or at Chihuahua City, the State capital.

Manuel L. Lujan, rebel agent, returned from a visit today to Gen. Salazar's camp and reported that under no circumstances would the rebels makes an attack on Juarez. They expected, however, to enter the town peacefully, as the Carravo rebels had done at Chihuahua City.

In case of trouble between the regular and volunteer troops, Salazar was ready to assist the regulars if they joined the Diaz revolution.

"Gen. Orozco's whereabouts remain in doubt," said Lujan. "I could not find him. Salazar claims complete leadership of the northern rebels in view of Orozco's disappearance and I was made sole rebel agent in the United States.

ARKANSAS ORDERED DOCKED.

Divers Unable to Determine Extent of Injury Suffered by Dreadnought When She Struck Reef.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Divers at work on the dreadnought Arkansas in Guantanamo harbor, have been unable to find the extent of damage suffered as a result of her grounding on a coral head off Caimemara last Thursday.

The Navy Department has ordered the vessel to the New York navy yard that she may be docked.

FRIGHTENED AT COYOTE.

Owensmouth Farmer Has Narrow Escape from Death When His Horse Takes Fright at Nnimal.

OWENSMOUTH, Feb. 15.—While discing on his ranch this morning C. A. Bell's team became frightened at a coyote and ran away. He saved himself from the knives by falling behind. A valuable four-year-old horse was caught in the machine and the left hind leg cut off. The animal was shot.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The County Highway Commission will asked for bids for the construction of an asphalt-concrete road from Encino to Calabasas over the Ventura road, a distance of 10 13-100 miles. This road is a continuation of the State Highway work on 6.6 miles now being built.

Jackson Tweedy lost a valuable Belgian stallion Tuesday, worth $3500, by pneumonia.

Miss Belle Fletcher, near Calabasas, broke her arm in a fall Tuesday, and there being no physician near, she saddled her own horse and rode thirty miles to Oxnard, where the broken member was dressed.

Frank Goodall, who owns 160 acres on the El Escorpin ranch in the foothills, has a fine display of orange blossoms over his orchard. His lemons, grapefruit and oranges escaped the freeze.

J. D. Marshall begun the erection of a $6000 residence on his ten-acre ranch adjoining Sherman way. It will be a brick and frame structure plastered outside in white.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hunt, who owns property in Owensmouth, left this week for Ravenna, Neb., where he expects to close out his hardware business and engage in the same line here. His tickets were the first overland transportation ever negotiated at our local station.

W. L. Wurm of Nordhoff, Cal., is the new station and freight agent for the Southern Pacific Railway Company, succeding I. W. Shields, who has been relieved for the past six months.

Max Hering and Joseph Vilaride have each purchased townsite property this week and will improve the same.

B. F. Elliott and H. E. Brant, proprietors of the Elliott-Brant Rancho, entertained at a week-end party, having the following guests: Mrs. W. L. Blair of Cleveland, O., wife of General Manager Blair of the New York Central and St. Louis Railway; Miss Florence Bowden and Miss Mamie Maier of the Maier Brewing Company, Miss Marion Bartlett of Detroit, Mich.; Miss Helen Brant and Harold Boyley of Los Angeles.

The total rainfall to date is 6.70 inches, and the ground is in perfect condition for seeding. The American Beet Sugar Company is planting about seventy-five acres a day. Caterpillar plowing will finish next week.

A. Martin of Antelope Valley, who is an expert at planting fruit trees, has a large force employed putting out large orchards for H. J. Whitley, O. F. Brant, Harry Chandler and many others in the valley.

The Harvard School cadets of Los Angeles, nearly 200 strong, have been camping all the week in Sycamore Canyon, south of Owensmouth, off the Ventura road. They break camp this afternoon.

Madero Still Emphatic.

Taft has declared is the one thing which would cause prompt action.

LULLS IN FIGHTING.

The fighting today, up to this writing, has not been so fierce or bloody as on some of the previous days. There has been almost steady cannon fire with occasional brushes between infantry detachments and the machine guns kept busy.

DIPLOMACY AT WIT'S END.

The foreign diplomats are working feverishly to bring about some sort of a settlement of the trouble which will end the fighting, but apparently are making little progress. Neither Diaz nor Madero will yield an inch on the proposition that the other must get out before there can be a cessation of hostilities. It is an impasse for which, up to this time, no solution has been found.

An ugly feature of the situation today is the planting of a Federal battery near the American Embassy, which, if it opens fire and draws rebel reply will make the Embassy practically untenable. Ambassador Wilson's protests up to this time held up the activities of this battery.

MADERO AND HUERTA HOPEFUL.

Gen. Huerta this afternoon expressed himself as satisfied with the situation and confident of ultimate Federal success. "We would have put Diaz out of business long before this," he said, "had it not been for complications outside the fighting."

Madero is still firmly of the opinion, according to persons who talked with him today, that he can wage a winning warfare against the turbulent, irreconcilable elements of the country, which threaten to overwhelm him.

BLANQUET ARRIVES.

His determination was strengthened by the accession to the government forces of Gen. Blanquet and 1100 men from Tuloca, State of Mexico. Blanquet arrived at the Tacuba last night and marched his troops into this city this morning. This brings the government forces near to 7000, although it was rumored that there were important losses throughout the week, the fact is that not more than 100 or so Federals, all irregulars, have deserted or gone over to Diaz.

SENATE ACTION DISCOUNTED.

The importance of the action of the Senate today can be largely discounted because of the well-known political affiliations of most Senators who took part in the special session today at which it was decided to ask for Madero's resignation. These men played politics. How much of actual good faith underlies their action is a question.

TRUST DE LA BARRA.

There is no doubt of the sincerity, honesty and patriotism of former provisional President De la Barra, upon whose initiative in trying to bring Madero and Diaz together the Senators' act hinges principally. De la Barra's name was used by the Senators who are radically opposed to the administration with greater freedom than doubtless meets with De la Barra's approval. De la Barra wants peace regardless of his personal ambitions or fortunes, political or otherwise.

EVENTS IN SENATE.

Events culminated in the Senate today when De la Barra sent a message to Madero offering to do what he could to promote some sort of an understanding or agreement with Diaz. Madero replied, thanking him, but saying that the government would be satisfied with nothing excepting the unconditional surrender of Diaz. Afterward De la Barra talked with Gen. Angeles to bring his troops to the city.

MEDIATION TURNED DOWN.

The President, through Angeles, ordered De la Barra to confer with him yesterday at the National Palace. Several hours' talk culminated in De la Barra being authorized to confer with Diaz and his principal aide, Gen. Mondragon, on the basis of a proposition to suspend hostilities and appoint a joint committee to arbitrate the questions at variance between the government and rebels. De la Barra found the rebel chief in an uncompromising mood. Diaz said: "You may tell the President that the only terms upon which we will cease fighting or agree to an armistice of any length are his immediate resignation, that of Vice-President Suarez and of the entire Cabinet."

DEMOCRATIC LEAGUE OFFICERS.

Congressman Raker Is Elected One of Two Vice-Presidents of the Executive Committee.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Frank S. Clark of Indianapolis was elected president of the executive board of the National Democratic League of Clubs here today.

Other officers elected were: Representative John E. Raker of California and Francis F. Kane of Philadelphia, vice-presidents; Col. William C. Liller of Indianapolis, secretary and organizer, and C. Arthur Hanlenbeck of Kansas, treasurer, who with J. Walsh of Montana, M. F. Stiles of West Virginia, V. S. Bartlow of Ohio, Frank J. Nelson and F. W. Childs of Vermont will compose the Executive Committee.

FINAL WIRELESS TEST.

Scout Cruiser Will Try to Pick Up Messages from Arlington Station, Three Thousand Miles Away.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The scout cruiser Salem put out from Philadelphia to make final tests of the new navy wireless station at Arlington, preliminary to the acceptance of the plant from the contractors. The tests will be carried on for several weeks.

Communication will be established first at a distance of about 300 miles, the cruiser afterwards continuing across the North Atlantic Ocean and making tests at frequent intervals, ultimately testing the power of the plant to receive and transmit messages from a distance of 3000 miles.

REALTY MEN MEET.

FRESNO, Feb. 15.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Two hundred real estate men from Sacramento, Stockton, San Jose and Bakersfield and other valley cities, are due in this city at 4 o'clock this afternoon to be guests of the Fresno Realty Exchange. It is probable that organization of an interior California realty association will result. The programme includes a big automobile parade when the visitors arrive, after which the realty men will be taken on trips through the country adjacent to Fresno. Questions of common interest to realty men of the valley will be discussed at a meeting this evening. Later a banquet will be served at the hotel Fresno. George N. Black, president of the State Federation of Realty Exchanges, will talk on federation work. A dozen other prominent speakers will make addresses.

NEW HALL IS DEDICATED.

Largest Audience Ever Seen at Corcoran Gathers to Set Aside for Public Use a Town Hall.

CORCORAN, Feb. 15.—The largest audience ever seen in Corcoran gathered here last evening to witness the dedication exercises at the new Storzbach Hall. The opening address was made by T. E. Cochrane, followed by an address of welcome by Fred Storzbach, the owner of the building. Other speakers were Justice of the Peace J. W. Harris, Postmaster L. P. Mitchell. The speeches were interspersed with literary and musical numbers, and after the programme had been concluded, dancing was indulged in for several hours.

The new building in which the hall is located is one of the best in town, two stories high, of brick, cement and steel construction, 50x60 feet in size, with a large brick bake oven and bake house in the rear. The ground floor will be occupied by the Corcoran Bakery. The front room of the second floor will be used by the local branch of the Kings' county free library, and the Corcoran Woman's Club. The new hall is 45x48 feet in size, with a stage 12x24 feet, and two ante-rooms, one at either end of the stage. A metal-lined, fireproof box has been installed in one end of the hall for the accommodation of moving picture apparatus. This gives Corcoran the best amusement center since the town was founded.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Corcoran is to have a pigeon and hare farm, J. C. Lewis, having purchased 1500 Homer pigeons and 100 Belgian hares, as the foundation for an extensive farm of this kind.

Dr. R. H. Livingstone, formerly of Los Angeles, has located here as a practicing physician.

BATTLE IS RESUMED WITH RENEWED FU

Majority of Senators Go to National Palace to mand Resignation of Madero, but Fail to Find Populace Stirred Up by Prediction of Americ tervention—Lines of Combatants Are Drawn

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

(The following Associated Press bulletins of yesterday's day wire, arranged in the order in which they were received, give the chronology of yesterday's events in Mexico City.)

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 15.—The rebel guns in the arsenal were in spasmodic action during the greater part of the night, occasionally developing a very galling fire, which provoked vigorous reply from the Federal artillery.

The incessant bombardment of the National Palace and the fierce reply of the Federals were construed as indicating that President Madero had decided not to resign. It was declared in some quarters the report of his resignation was only a strategic move on the part of the government.

For the first time since the remarkable battle began, there was a heavy sustained fire, lasting half an hour, in the total darkness shortly after 3 o'clock this morning. The hostile forces at daybreak faced each other in virtually the same positions they have held all through the week.

EXODUS OF POPULACE.

The exodus of the populace from the districts under fire was even greater than that of yesterday. There was a constant procession of people, hurying through the streets to the suburbs, long before dawn, and this lasted until after daylight.

The offices of the Imparcial were commandeered by the Federal troops this morning for use in their operations.

DE LA BARRA RENIGS.

Francisco de la Barra, former provisional President, professed ignorance this morning as to President Madero's intentions. He declared the question of his resignation had been submitted to President Madero and that the matter, at present, had gone no further.

A few minutes later De la Barra, accompanied by Gen. Felipe Angeles, a Federal commander, went to the palace for a conference with Madero.

PROPOSE ARMISTICE.

Following the conference, De la Barra announced that Madero had authorized him and Gen. Angeles to confer with Felix Diaz and Gen. Manuel Mondragon on the question of arranging an armistice. Madero proposed the naming of a commission by each party to contrive a solution of the situation.

De la Barra immediately made a visit to the rebel position and conferred with Diaz, pointing out the difficulties of the situation and urging the acceptance of an armistice in view of the imminence of foreign intervention.

DIAZ IS FIRM.

Diaz replied to De la Barra that he could not consider an armistice, and that he would enter into no negotiations for peace until he was officially notified of the resignation of President Madero, the Vice-President, and the entire Cabinet.

Diaz's reply was then submitted to President Madero.

The Mexican Minister at Havana telegraphed to the government today asking permission for Cuban marines from the cruiser Cuba, at Vera Cruz, to land and go to Mexico City as a guard for the Cuban Legation.

REBELS EXTEND LINES.

The rebels extended their lines shortly after 7 o'clock this morning and there was a constant shifting of positions by the Federal troops. This resulted in a fresh exodus of those who had remained on the fringes of the danger zone.

DE LA O ON DECK.

A large force of rebels commanded by Gen. Genevevo de la O, is encamped a few miles outside of the capital, in readiness to obey the orders of Diaz. De la O issued a proclamation this morning, explaining his intentions.

Diaz secretly sent a number of officers today to assist in drilling the recruits under De la O. He ordered them to maintain their positions, as he did not want any more men inside his lines than he could conveniently feed and he did not regard reinforcements as essential.

SPECIAL SENATE SESSION.

It is strongly intimated that the special meeting of the Senate, called this morning, insisted on [illegible]
Madero's resignation. [illegible]
Senators did not attend, [illegible] clared they were unable [illegible]

MADERO [illegible]

Senator Lascurain declared [illegible]
the meeting of the Senate [illegible] was by no means certain [illegible] would resign. The President [illegible] was anxious to end the [illegible] a patriotic manner if possible [illegible] further bloodshed, but [illegible]

The general bombardment [illegible]
Federal positions continued [illegible] throughout the morning.

A series of sharp [illegible]

PAY TRIBUTE TO SHERMAN.

Memorial Services Held in Senate Chamber.

Taft Breaks Precedents to Pronounce Eulogy.

Cabinet and Supreme Court in Attendance.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—President Taft, his Cabinet, the entire House of Representatives, the Senate, the Supreme Court and the Diplomatic Corps assembled today in the Senate chamber at memorial services for the late Vice-President, James S. Sherman.

With all its solemnity, it was a scene of color and dignity, the President flanked by the sombre-robed justices of the Supreme Court and the brilliantly-dressed diplomats arrayed in full court costume. The Senate historians said it was the first time since Washington, that a President had entered the Senate chamber while Congress was in session.

Both houses suspended business to hear addresses eulogizing the late Vice-President, by President Taft, Speaker Clark, Senators Root, O'Gorman, Oliver, Gallinger, Kern, LaFollette, Williams, Curtis, Martin, Lodge, [illegible] and Cummings, and others.

THE PRESIDENT'S EULOGY.

The President said in part:

"Mr. Sherman was a man with whom no one could come in contact without feeling better for the meeting and with a more kindly disposition toward his fellow men and the world at large.

"Every one, high or low, who met him, felt the influence of his good will.

"He loved politics. He correctly thought that he could be engaged in nothing more useful to his country and became a partisan on principle. He came to believe thoroughly, and in my judgment, rightly, that the only possible means of securing effective, permanent and just popular government, truly representative of the people, was through parties, and, therefore, he was willing to give up much of his personal judgment to reconcile the views of himself and his associates upon a few great principles. He was an influential and leading member of the House during the controversies that took place over the question whether it should be permitted to do business, or should be at the mercy of the minority and, he died with one of the great speakers of that body.

"We have celebrated the memorial of a modest American, a distinguished patriot, an able statesman and a noble man."

SENATE AND HOUSE TRIBUTES.

High tributes to the fairness and capacity of Mr. Sherman were paid by Senator Gallinger, to whom he had confided his fears of being forced to retire from the Vice-President's chair before the end of his term.

The former Vice-President's long service as a member of the House was reviewed by Senator Lodge.

Other Senators touched upon his remarkable capacity for attracting friendship.

The tribute of the House to its former member, who for many years was head of influential committees, was voiced by Speaker Clark.

"Mr. Sherman was one of those unusual men who had been able to learn the traditions and practices of both the House and Senate. He had himself so well in hand that he could not be lulled into an exhibition of bad temper," said the Speaker. "In victory he was not offensively jubilant; in defeat, he was not utterly cast down. He appeared equal to both extremes of fortune, clearly reckoning with his optimistic philosophy, the astounding swiftness with which situations change."

REPUBLICAN CONCENTRATION.

Senators Make a List of Policies that They Want Enacted Into Law During Remainder of the Session.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Republican Senators today selected these five subjects for concentration of their efforts during the remainder of the session:

Physical valuation of railroads, embodied in the Adamson bill, already passed by the House.

Creation of a legislative drafting and government reference bureau in the library of Congress.

Legislation on the issue of interstate injunctions, as proposed in the Crawford bill.

Eight-hour legislation for women workers in the District of Columbia.

A tariff commission.

The caucus decided to ask the Senate Committee on Finance to report a tariff commission bill at once and to bring the subject to a vote at this session. Republican Senators will urge no other legislation of a general nature than that embodied today in the programme adopted.

American Army Official Going to Constantinople on a Mission that May Mean Much for Philippines.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The aid of the Sultan of Turkey in insuring peace in at least a section of the Philippines is to be sought by Maj. John P. Finley, U.S.A., who left here today for Constantinople.

Maj. Finley goes as the special representative of the United States, as well as a minister plenipotentiary to the 300,000 Mohammedan tribesmen. He will attempt to get from the Sultan, as leader of the Mohammedan religion, an open letter instructing the tribesmen to submit to United States sovereignty and pointing out to them that it will be to their advantage.

CLINE BILL MUST WAIT.

COMMITTEE DELAYS ACTION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Hope of action at this session on the Cline bill for Federal regulation of diversion of water from the Niagara River for power purposes practically was abandoned by the House Foreign Affairs Committee. Secretary Stimson today urged the committee to pass a joint resolution continuing in effect the present Barton

HOW LOUD MUST "THE CALL" BE TO BE "HEARD?"

[Seattle Times:] The preacher puts his heart into the work. Great results are obtained. A great multitude rush to hear him expound the gospel.

Then the preacher begins to have ambition. He wants a new and larger church—and he gets it.

He wants more assistance and he is granted the additional help.

He suddenly discovers that he needs more money—and he demands a greater salary. That is granted also.

But in spite of the increase of demands and the enlarged opportunities he is not satisfied.

Then comes "a call' to another field. His renown as a preacher has reached out into distant lands. Other people want him.

What shall be done? The salary is greater—the field is greater—the opportunities to be in the limelight much greater, and "the call" is so loud that it must be reckoned with.

But why not use this "call" to get better things where one is already located? Ah! there's a thought worthy of consideration.

Action is at once taken. "The call" somehow gets into print—and is taken up by some one of the parishioners as a serious matter.

Committees wait on the preacher to learn the truth—only to ascertain that there has been a "call" of serious moment.

Then protests begin to be made. The preacher is compelled to tell his people the truth. More protests follow and his people demand to know the particulars.

Then it is that "the call' is made to do double duty. Then it is that his people are told plainly that they deserve to lose their pastor. Why?

They are behind a year's salary—many thousands in promises.

They have not kept faith with the preacher. Therefore "the call' is being heard and notice thereof taken.

Then the derelicts get busy. The salary is fixed up. The contribution to the heathen is oversubscribed and a foreign trip is offered as an extra prize not to hear "that call' any more.

The day for final determination comes—a great outpouring of the people takes place.

The good preacher has been wrestling with God—trying to decide whether to go or whether to stay—but at the psychological moment, when all the preacher wanted has been granted, then "the call' elsewhere is cast to the winds. It has ceased to make a noise, and the preacher will not heed its demands.

Great applause among the people. Peace and happiness will now reign for a while anyhow—until some other requirements present themselves, and then another "call" will repeat the programme.

CASCARETS TONIGHT! IF BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED, HEADACHY AND SICK

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, constipation, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress—wake up refreshed and feel fine. Let Cascarets cleanse and sweeten your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and constipation poison from the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box keeps your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and you feel cheerful and bully for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

No Day of Rest for the Suffragette Marchers.

"Gen." Rosalie Jones Fails to Cross the Delaware.

Crowds Greet Tired Pilgrims in Wilson's State.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BURLINGTON (N. J.) Feb. 15.—Instead of crossing the Delaware at Trenton and invading Pennsylvania, the "on-to-Washington army" of suffragettes under the leadership of "Gen." Rosalie Jones, today hiked down the Jersey shore of the river and bivouaced at Burlington for the night. It was a hard weary grind of eighteen miles over alternately hard roads and highways almost ankle deep with mud.

TIRED OF BODY.

Tired of body, but stout of heart, the members of the army retired early tonight, for the Sabbath tomorrow will bring them no rest. Under the original plan, the "hikers" were to have spent Sunday in resting at Bristol, Pa., but a change in arrangements brought them down the Jersey shore and they will march all day tomorrow and invade Pennsylvania by way of Philadelphia late Sunday afternoon.

GREETED BY CROWDS.

Crowds greeted the weary pilgrims at many places along the roads and one of the biggest receptions of the march was at Bordentown seven miles from Trenton. A regiment of students from a military academy with a brass band at their head, met the marchers outside the town. There was a brief conference and then the women, under escort of the students and with the band at their head crashing out Patriotic airs, marched into the town and to the academy grounds. After a greeting by the heads of the institution, and luncheon, the march to Burlington was resumed. Before the army had left Bordentown, the students from Princeton University that had accompanied the suffragettes to that point, deserted and returned to Princeton.

Fifteen hundred persons greeted the army as it entered Burlington and marched to a theater in front of which "votes for women" speeches were made. There were some in the crowd who tried to have fun with the weary invaders, but "Gen." Rosalie Jones and "Capt." Freeman soon had the entire assemblage applauding their arguments.

ABLE TO TALK.

Early in the evening several of the privates in the army, despite their weariness, addressed a meeting in the theater and also gave short talks on the street corners in the center of the town. One of the incidents of the invasion of Burlington was the delivery of a letter by Boy Scouts from the Mayor of the town to "Gen." Jones. The letter extended to her and the army a welcome and the keys of the city. The army tomorrow will continue its march down the Jersey shore to Camden, a distance of eighteen miles. At Camden, they will cross the Delaware on a ferry, to Philadelphia. Sister suffragettes in the latter city are said to be prepared to give the pilgrims a warm welcome.

West Virginia Bill Is Alleged to Be Designed to Block Investigation of Legislative Graft.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHARLESTON (W. Va.- Feb. 15.—What was declared to be a determined attempt to block investigation of bribery charges, was made in the State Senate today when Gray Silver introduced a bill to abolish the intermediate court of Kanawha county, now investigating the pending election of a United States Senator. Many Republican Senators were not in their seats, among them Senator England, in whose district Kanawha county is located.

At first the bill was believed to be nothing more than a joke and it was quickly advanced to its third reading before Senator England, who had heard of it, could get to the Senate chamber. Securing recognition, he opposed the measure. Others joined in the protest and the bill was finally tabled.

DELAY FIREMEN'S STRIKE.

Meanwhile Socialist Introduces a Bill for United States Government Ownership of Railways.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—"The railroads need a strike in their business to embarrass Woodrow Wilson and for other reasons, and I am afraid they are going to get it," W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Firemen and Enginemen, said tonight.

Carter made his statement in a talk at the close of a long conference with his assistants, who with the president of the organization have been handling the firemen's side of the dispute with the eastern railroads over demands for higher pay and revised working conditions.

Assurance was given by the head of the firemen's organization that no action would be taken tonight or as long as the Federal mediators were on the scene. This meant postponement of any definite break in the negotiations for at least thirty-six hours.

FOR FEDERAL OWNERSHIP.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VOTE FOR A STRIKE.

Linemen and Other Employees of Pacific States Telephone Company Demand Higher Pay.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—A vote of employees in the operating and maintenance departments of the Pacific States Telephone and Telegraph Company, canvassed here tonight, showed that the men were virtually unanimous in standing by their demand for an increase in wages of 50 cents per day, made December 2. The result of the vote will be to authorize the district council to adhere to this demand in further negotiations with the company. The men involved are linemen, cable splicers, switchboard men, trouble men, repairers, testboard men and facility men. The 2000 employees who voted are members of local unions in California, Arizona, Idaho, Oregon, Washington and Nevada.

Eugene E. Smith, vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, said tonight he believed his organization would reach an agreement with the company without recourse to a strike.

That's what Stuart's Calcium Wafers are intended to accomplish and do accomplish. Their principal ingredient is Calcium Sulphide, the quickest and most thorough blood cleanser known.

These wonderful little wafers get right into the blood, and destroy eruptive substances present in it. In some cases a few days is sufficient to make a marked improvement. And when the blood is pure the whole system is a hundred per cent. better.

Go to any drug store and get a 50 cent box of Stuart's Calcium Wafers. Get them today.

Don't fret any longer about those blackheads, pimples, boils, tetter, eczema, spots or skin eruptions; they all go and "go quick" if you use Stuart's Calcium Wafers.

NATOMAS BULLETIN

Natomas Consolidated of California Announces the Opening of the First Unit of Its Great Land Project In the Sacramento Valley, California

Over Five Million of Dollars Is Being Spent on Development of These Lands to Make this Announcement Possible

That money is being spent in actual development of the land, constructing levee systems, irrigating systems, road systems, drainage systems. Today, for the first time, the opportunity is offered you to secure PROVEN LANDS, plus UNLIMITED IRRIGATION, plus NATOMAS SERVICE.

The unique combination of these three factors at once distinguishes this company's offer from that of ALL other land companies.

The first unit comprises highly-developed orange and olive land adjacent to the 200 acre groves in Natomas demonstration station. We have satisfactorily proven that no better land than this can be found in California. As for climatic conditions we have the absolute records of 50 years to prove the statement that there are NO killing frosts during the growing and picking seasons to damage these citrus crops.

Natomas Irrigated Lands are seven miles east of the city of Sacramento, along the American River, and are traversed by the Southern Pacific Railroad and the famous Folsom, Placerville and Jackson roads—three of California's finest oiled macadam boulevards.

The profitable operation of the gold dredging and rock crushing plants has made our intensive land developments possible. These industries have helped to finance the irrigation systems, fine roads, demonstration stations, nurseries, thriving groves and most important, the building up of NATOMAS SERVICE.

NATOMAS SERVICE will be dispensed by a staff of six agricultural and horticultural experts, taken from the leading agricultural colleges of the United States and Europe and from the State Horticultural Commission. These men will advise and ASSIST you. If you buy planted lands they will supervise the cultivation and irrigation of your property until you are ready to take charge yourself. OVER 400 MEN ARE NOW EMPLOYED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF LAND DEVELOPMENT ALONE.

These lands are ready for INTENSIVE HORTICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT. They are going to be sold to you in five, ten and twenty-acre units on an extremely liberal payment plan. You can either buy bare land with irrigation and cultivate it with the assistance of our experts, or you can buy planted lands, to be cared for by the same staff of experts.

You are BOUND TO SUCCEED on Natomas irrigated lands. We can't afford to let you fail, because our interests in the Sacramento Valley demand the success of each individual owner of Natomas lands. The land is proven, the water sure and abundant, and the factor of NATOMAS SERVICE is of more importance than you can appreciate until you read our folder on NATOMAS LAND AND SERVICE. You'll have to dodge to avoid this service.

The first folder is just off the press. Write at ONCE, or, even better, CALL for a copy at our offices, 204-205 Hibernian Bank Bldg., Los Angeles.

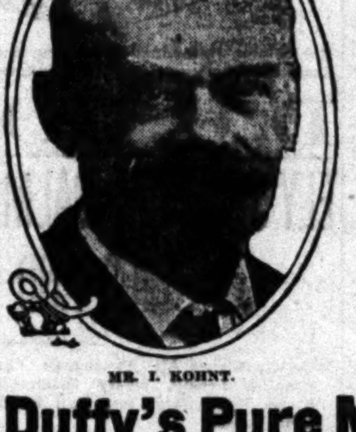
Relieved Nervous Trouble



MR. I. KOHNT.

Was the experience of Mr. I. Kohnt after years of ailing. The great value of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is that it not only relieves but it builds up and strengthens the entire digestive and nervous systems.

"For years I ailed with a nervous trouble which kept growing worse. At times I had terrible dizzy spells. I read so much of what Duffy's had done that I finally decided I would try it. A marked improvement was shown at once, which continued steadily. I have now been using Duffy's for eight years and it has done me much good."—Mr. I. Kohnt, 433 Ralph St., Ridgewood, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

If for any reason your nerves are all unstrung, you feel all fagged out, brain weary, tired and have no appetite, get a bottle at once. It will bring back the sparkle in your eyes, put an edge on your appetite and give you better digestion. Better digestion drives more nourishment into the body, builds more strength, strengthens the nerves, gives more resistance to disease, more energy to the whole system.

BE SURE YOU GET DUFFY'S

Sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY—never in bulk, by druggists, grocers and dealers. $1.00 a large bottle. If your dealer cannot supply you, write us, and we'll tell you where it can be bought. Medical booklet and doctor's advice free on application.

Deaf People

LISTEN!

Listen to this and you won't have the slightest difficulty in being able to really listen to and clearly hear everything—even the minute tick-tick of your watch.

Here's the best bit of news for deaf people that's hit California in many a day:

The Way Artificial Ear Drum Co. of Detroit has opened an office at Room 260 I. W. Hellman Bldg., 411 South Main street, in charge of S. Downing—sole California Agent and a man of vast experience in this work.

They'll be glad to have you write and allow them to explain the merits of the famous Way Medicated Ear Drum—they'll show you why the "Way" way is the only feasible, quick and sure way to get rid of that harassing and often embarrassing deafness, for good and all time—they'll tell you of hundreds and hundreds of grateful people who thought themselves hopelessly deaf and who recovered their hearing by the use of this wonderful and invisible little device.

You owe it to yourself to write them immediately.

Remember the address,

THE ROSEBERRY LAW.

STATEMENT OF UNDERWRITERS' ASSOCIATION.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The Roseberry law, passed two years ago, ill-advisedly, without any investigation of the economical questions involved, as was anticipated by every well-informed person, failed utterly to accomplish its purpose. About the only thing in which it was successful was in stirring up a world of criticism against the casualty companies because they were unwilling to sell compensation insurance at figures below cost.

The first section of that law waived the common law defenses formerly available to employers in personal injury suits, and the balance of the act created a compensation plan and organized an Industrial Accident Board to administer it. Owing to the great discrepancy between the cost under the employers' liability part of the act and under the workmen's compensation portion, practically none of the insured employers of California, except the public service corporations (which corporations had been subjected to unusually heavy damages by injuries,) filed their election under the latter portion of the act.

Because of this the Industrial Accident Board has insistently demanded a change in the law, which would make it, if possible, universally acceptable or compulsory.

The Industrial Accident Board states that because the insurance companies are unwilling to sell insurance at what they (the Industrial Accident Board) deem reasonable, the State must enter the field to sell insurance.

Industrial Accident Board's scheme. Their programme involves. First—A compulsory compensation act applicable to every employer in the State of California, including farmers, nurserymen, fruit growers, dairy interests and the like.

The benefits under this act are as high as the highest schedule adopted by any State and include a life pension plan for all disabilities permanent in character and of 70 per cent. in severity.

Second—The capitalization of a State insurance company, to compete with other companies. We are told by the Industrial Accident Board that this will be "fairly competitive"—at some time in the far, dim and distant future—although they admit that the State company must be subsidized by the State for from four to six years to establish itself.

If this State insurance company is so desirable and so necessary, should it not be subjected to the same requirements as any other insurance carrier? If, with its fund of $100,000 (borrowed from the State, without interest,) that company cannot get on its feet without further help from the State, how can the authorities justify the fact that $100,000 capital is all that is required of any private company to conduct a liability insurance business in the State of California? If $100,000 is sufficient to underwrite this form of insurance, then—they do not intend to extend fair competition to private companies when they ask for additional subsidies. They fear that the political management of this concern must have additional subsidies to exist. This, to us, is the strongest indictment of their State company. There is noting in the bill to show how they intend to make this State company "fairly competitive," but only a simple statement to the effect that it is intended to be "fairly competitive."

Conceding the best intention in the world to the present Industrial Accident Board, they must admit that their plan is not and will not be "fairly competitive" at the outset; that there is no provision in the law requiring that it ever be made so; and yet they ask us to trust to them and providence and hope it will turn out so.

Their next intention is to create a rating bureau—"fairly representative also," on which the State will have four representatives and the casualty companies, one—to be chosen in any manner designated by the Industrial Accident Board. Fairly representative, we take it, of the political interests. They intend to have the rating bureau make the rates for the State company and, in a separate act, compel the private companies and mutual companies to use the State's rates as a basis for their reserves, thus making our rates for us.

Next in the evolution of this plan is the creation of a large and active industrial accident prevention bureau, which will perform the inspection work for the State company, gratis, and which will be used as an adjunct of their bureau, for the purpose of basing their rates on the individual plants.

Next, is the organization, under the direction of their State company, of an auditing department having authority to audit the pay rolls of those employers insured in the State company.

They then proceed to a very extended increase in the powers of the Industrial Accident Board, making it the court of last resort as regards the finding of facts in all claims rising under the act, no matter who is insuring those claims. No settlement will be valid until it has been submitted to the board and O. K.'d by it. This means an employer cannot settle with his employee for any amount of money, no matter how trivial or how large, until they submit their case to the board for approval.

Any man in California giving a moment's thought to this can see the possibility of political exploitation in any scheme placing thousands of appointive offices in the hands of one board of three men and at the sime time a fund running into many millions of dollars into the hands of those same three men for disbursement to the working population of this State. A conservative estimate on this cost is from $15,000,000 to $30,000,000 annually, when this programme is completed—all of which must be raised solely from the employing interests of the State.

That is Dentistry

Artificial teeth that fit well, look well, and wear well, and that restore the natural contour of youth to the face, are the exception rather than the rule. They should duplicate the natural teeth in color, size, and shape, and make possible the proper mastication of food, which is absolutely necessary to good digestion and perfect health. Artificial teeth-making is distinctly a specialist's work, as a great deal depends upon the skill with which they are designed and fitted. In my office this work is done by a dentist of twenty year's experience, and in consequence is abidingly satisfactory to my patients. Dental work can be done by an apprentice for less money than by a skilled dentist who has spent years in study and practice. Cheap work is invariably worth just what you pay for it and no more.

I employ no boys or students, use only the best materials and personally guarantee every piece of work done in this office. Pay less than I charge and you will get less for your money. Pay more and you pay more than is enough. If you like my logic come into my office and let me explain my methods. I will examine your mouth without charge and tell you what my kind of work will cost.

ELY'S CREAM BALM OPENS CLOGGED NOSTRILS AND HEAD—CATARRH GOES

Instantly Clears Air Passages; You Breathe Freely, Nasty Discharge Stops, Head Colds and Dull Headache Vanish.

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning, the catarrh, cold in head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucous dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing, but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.—[Advertisement.

The Gray Matter.

USING BRAINS TO ADVANTAGE.

"Times" Cooking School's Teacher Knows How.

Helpful Hints for Menus of the Lenten Season.

Free Lectures Attract Many Interested Women.

Brains were served at The Times cooking school yesterday—in the form of croquettes—and they were the best brains ever, judging from the way they disappeared when passed about in the audience.

"Now that the Lenten season is here," observed Mrs. Haffner-Ginger, as she measured Swift's Silver Leaf lard into the iron kettle for the deep fat frying of the croquettes and fritters, "many people let up on meats. Whether you observe Lent or not, it is well not to overcharge the blood with too much meat. I am not a faddist on any one food; I believe that everything that God has made for food has its place; but we must give heed to the selection and combination of food; we must take account also of the individual, and of the occupation, for we all know that what is one man's meat is another man's poison. There are people in such perfect health that they don't know they have stomachs—they can digest everything."

"Deep fat frying," she went on as the lard began to bubble in the kettle, "is something that one shou know all about if she is going to indulge in it; your croquettes and fritters must not be grease-soaked. So many palatable dishes can be made by this method—made-over dishes, cooked vegetables and bits and ends put together with a little egg and bread crumbs. Olive oil is the best thing to fry in—the good San Fernando Valley olive oil. We all know that the French are the best cooks in the world when it comes to making delicious, dainty, pretty little dishes. They never waste anything, and it is not necessary to throw anything—not even the tiniest feather of celery—every fiber of food can be saved and utilized. It is the big mind—not the small one—that grasps this idea of using up the scraps.

"First I will make the sauces to serve on the fritters—a white sauce and a brown sauce. The brown sauce, you know, is the basis for so many different kinds. You should plan to have in a glass jar some browned flour which you have previously made ready for use. You may add a little caramel, if you like, besides the flour to make the sauce browner."

RECIPE FOR BROWN SAUCE.

Mrs. Haffner-Ginger then proceeded to make the brown sauce according to the following recipe: Two tablespoonfuls of melted butter; three tablespoonfuls of flour browen in butter; one and one-half cups of beef stock or milk or water.

White cause: Two tablespoonfuls of butter very hot; three tablespoonfuls of flour mixed with one-fourth teaspoonful of salt; a dash of cayenne pepper; one and one-half cups of hot milk, white stock, or water.

Hollandaise sauce: One-half cup butter creamed; yolks of four eggs, one by one; one tablespoonful lemon juice, salt to taste, pinch each of Cayenne and of nutmeg; one cup boiling water.

"Does that look all right?" asked the cooking expert, as she dipped up a spoonful of the brown sauce.

"Fine," answered a chorus of voices.

She then proceeded to make the croquettes—first the rice and after that, the oyster, peach, pimiento, and brain.

Rice croquettes: Two cups boiled rice; three eggs reserving the whites to roll the croquettes in; one-fourth cup butter; three tablespoonfuls milk; one-half teaspoonful scraped onion; salt and cayenne to taste; half a cup grated cheese, grated ham or a cup of minced chicken or brains.

Mrs. Haffner-Ginger then shaped the croquettes in a small-sized icecream mold, dipped them in the white of egg and rolled them in bread crumbs and dropped them into the hot fat.

"I've got an idea that's worth while," remarked one woman, sotto voce, as she made a note of using the little icecream mold for shaping the croquettes.

In frying the oyster croquettes Mrs. Haffner-Ginger sounded a note of warning.

"Oysters," she said, "cook very quickly as we all know. If cooked too long they are tough and not fit to eat; therefore, you must remember to drop your oyster croquettes into very hot fat—for other kinds of croquettes it need not be so hot."

HELPFUL RECIPES.

Oyster croquettes: One cup raw chopped oysters; one-fourth cup cracker crumbs; yolks of two eggs; one teaspoonful butter; one tablespoonful onion juice; moisten with brains; mix with white of one egg roll in bread crumbs and fry in very hot lard.

Brain croquettes: Parboil for five minutes one set of brains; season with salt and pepper; add one-third as much bread or cracker crumbs as brains; mix with white of one egg whipped stiff and two tablespoonfuls of cream; dip in egg, roll in crumbs and fry brown; dress with parsley.

In addition to the dishes concocted yesterday by Mrs. Haffner-Ginger, she adds for the benefit of The Times readers the following recipes:

Egg croquettes: Boil three eggs hard; drop in cold water; remove shells; squeeze through potato masher; boil one cup of milk; add one teaspoonful flour and one teaspoonful butter which have been well mixed. Then add the eggs; one tablespoonful of chopped parsley; one-fourth teaspoonful onion juice; salt and pepper; let cool several hours; shape and dip in egg and roll in bread crumbs and fry.

Potato croquettes: One pint hot mashed potatoes; one tablespoonful butter; one teaspoonful salt; one-fourth teaspoonful celery salt; little cayenne; few drops of onion juice; yolk of one egg; shape into round balls, make hole in center and fill with brains, sweetbreads, ground chicken or peas; dip in egg, roll in crumbs and fry; dress with celery tips or parsley and serve hot.

Corn Fritters: One cup of good canned corn; one egg well beaten; one tablespoonful milk; one tablespoonful melted butter; salt; enough flour to stick and fry like little pancakes.

The public lecture and cooking demonstration this week will be on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 2:30 p.m.

"A business woman called up on the 'phone today," said Mrs. Haffner-Ginger, "and wanted to know if I could teach her how to cook in ten lessons so she can take an apartment and keep house; she's tired of boarding. I told her I certainly could—from soups to dessert—baking, broiling, frying, stewing, steaming and souffles—every method of cooking which she can apply to anything she wants to prepare.

"But before I can open these classes I must have not only your names, but your tuition fee, for I must get all the materials we will want for you to use in your lessons and, therefore, I must have a guarantee that you really mean business. Just as soon as I have the first seventeen pupils to fill those tables in the school kitchen we will begin."

The terms will be as follows:

Course of ten lessons and a year's subscription to The Times, $25.

Course of five lessons and six months' subscription to The Times, $13.50.

One cooking lesson will be given free for every new prepaid six months' subscription to The Times.

These prices are all payable in advance, and the conditions and prices art subject to change by The Times without notice.

Arrangements for the cooking lessons and subscriptions may be made at the subscription counter in the business office.

If a smaller number than seventeen be in a class the fee will be proportionately more. There will be special lessons covering dietetic values, and classes designed especially for nurses, covering cookery for the sick.

DIVES IN SLIME TO THE RESCUE

BRAVE POLICEMAN RISKS LIFE TO RECOVER BODY.

Youth Jumps in Pool for First Swim of the Season, but Oily Compound Overcomes Him and He Drowns Before Eyes of Helpless Companions—Officer Finds Corpse.

After diving for 25 minutes in an icy pool of water thick with crude oil and creosote, Acting Lieut. George A. Sparks of the police department heroically recovered the body of 12-year old William Waddock, who had entered the place with three youthful companions for a swim.

It was to have been the first swim of the season for the four boys who had been anxiously testing the temperature of the greasy hole for several weeks. After a scouting party Friday night, when he shed shoes and stockings to get the temperature of the water with his bare foot, Waddock notified his friends that swimming time had come.

Yesterday being a holiday from school, the four boys did their chores early and started for their swim about 4 o'clock. They were William Waddock, No. 1606 East Fortieth street; Clyde Owens, No. 1869 East Thirty-ninth street; Forrest Rand, No. 1839 East Thirty-ninth street, and Marley Fox, No. 1678 East Thirty-eighth street. None was over 12 years old.

"Billy" Waddock was the first off with his clothes and he dove into the pool. It was a pitiful swimming hole as such places go, with a thick scum of grease over the surface, the water sticky and thick with the oil, and a bottom four feet deep with a glue-like deposit.

Waddock dived into the center, where there is a depth of some twenty feet. The three waited for him to come up. They saw the boy's arm shoot out. His head came to the surface for a second, then disappeared, while his arms continued to wave.

They didn't realize the horror of it for more than a minute. Then they threw poles for Waddock to grasp. He couldn't see because of the oil and grease in his eyes. After a precious waste of time experimenting to save him they ran for help.

Acting Lieutenant Sparks, with Patrolman Shipman and another assistant, rushed to the pool from the University Station. There was no sign of the boy. Sparks, who is 50 years old, shed his garments and dived to the bottom. Eight times he repeated his attempts to find the body. On the ninth trip to the bottom, after the exposure of twenty-five minutes, he crawled along, feeling his way. He found the body slowly sinking into the morass at the bottom. And he brought the body ashore.

It was the most heroic and painful rescue in the history of the department. Sparks has been known as a superb swimmer for many years.

The body was taken to Bresee Bros.' mortuary.

NORTH DAKOTA PICNIC.

Great Crowd Present to Hear Speakers from Native Heath—Officers Elected for Year.

The ninth annual picnic of the North Dakota State Association was held yesterday at Sycamore Park. About 3500 persons were present at the festivities.

Address were delivered by Hon. P. H. Marshall, former Congressman from North Dakota, Edward Winthorp of Barnes county North Dakota, and Hon. Wiley J. Phillips, editor of the California Voice. Recitations given by Mrs. C. S. Thorp included "The State We Left," and "California."

The following officers were elected: M. H. Kruff, president; A. M. Gamble, secretary; J. E. Magra, J. S. Bishop and B. B. Sherman, vice-presidents.

The attendance was the largest in the history of the association.

COTTAGE BURNED.

The home of A. E. Beck, No. 1409 East Sixty-first street, was completely destroyed by fire at 6:30 o'clock last evening. The four-room cottage was valued at $1500 and the loss to contents amounted to $300. There was insurance in both cases. The blaze started with the explosion of an oil stove in the kitchen. Mrs. Beck burned her hand slightly in trying to put out the fire. A chemical engine responded to the alarm and its crew saved the home of A. Marsh, adjoining the Beck property. One side of the house caught fire and was slightly damaged.

PURCHASES AN OPIATE.

On the pretext that he was filing the teeth of a horse and needed an opiate so the beast wouldn't suffer, John H. Wilson, Jr., claiming to be from a well-to-do Philadelphia family, was arrested last night on the charge of securing cocaine with the aid of a fraudulent prescription. Under the signature of a Dr. Smith, he presented a prescription to Manager J. H. Blum of the Public Drug Company, Ninth and Hill streets. Blum was suspicious and called Inspectors Boden and Roberts of the State Board of Pharmacy. They placed Wilson under arrest.

On His Trail.

LOVE'S POTION SWEET POISON.

Bullet and Strychnine Play Part in Wooing.

Broker Gone Broke Gives Up Girl to His Sorrow.

His Nemesis Follows Him in Two Years' Chase.

"Hellos, where'd you come from?" said Evelyn.

"How'dy, I'm not coming, but going," returned Harry St. Claire.

He started off down the street with Evelyn following, and Evelyn [illegible] him. It ended a 15,000-mile chase, four times across the continent and several times up and down each [illegible]. Harry kept up the acquaintance by dodging Evelyn, and Evelyn by following Harry.

They met by accident downtown [illegible] Fourth and Spring—while St. Claire was on his way to work. It was the first time each had seen the other in two years, although Evelyn had missed him by five minutes several times. No one but Harry knows what Evelyn's last name is. She is blonde, pretty, sturdy and persevering.

They met in Seattle several years ago, where Harry was a real estate broker. For one year they were engaged. Then Harry went broke. [illegible] tried to break off the engagement but Evelyn shot him. He still carries the scar in the right hip. He renewed the engagement.

One night Evelyn called at his office. St. Claire had gone, no one knew where. Evelyn drew on her father's account at the bank, mixed whispers with currency to the [illegible] guards at the station, and landed in Chicago just eight hours after Harry did.

In that way the race around the country continued for two years and more.

After the greeting downtown, Evelyn insisted that Harry should go to a show with her, just to celebrate the old acquaintance. The [illegible] Harry could get off for the [illegible] they attended a matinee. When the question of the old engagement recurred, Harry insisted that he was not in position to marry at present, and he would not continue the [illegible].

Evelyn said, "Have some candy." Harry did. It was bitter. When he told her so, she said, "Have another piece." She was eating out of one side of the box, he out of the other. He insisted it was bitter. [illegible] thought it was his bad taste, she said, and insinuated he had bad taste in several ways.

When Harry went to his room, No. 317½ South Main street, that night, he had convulsions and severe pains in his stomach. A doctor was summoned. The physician inquired if Harry had been eating anything bitter. Harry said he had, and [illegible] into another convulsion. The doctor reported strychnine.

Yesterday afternoon Evelyn called Harry by telephone and said she had something important to tell him. Harry groaned into his clothes and met her. He was feeling decidedly ill. She offered him some more candy. He caught at his stomach and refused. He told her he suspected that she had doped the candy before. She pulled the handle of a revolver out of her muff, and said it was impossible. Harry showed he believed her by eating another piece of her candy.

Then he went home. Later he went to the Receiving Hospital. They asked him where he wanted to be sent while he was recovering from the strychnia poisoning.

"Where's a place where no one can find out where you are if you don't want them to," he asked the doctor.

"County Hospital," the doctor replied.

"Wait until midnight, lock the door of the ambulance and then take me there," ordered Harry, "and if anyone asks where I am tell them I'm dead."

And eight times last night phone calls were received at the hospital inquiring after Harry St. Claire, and when the doctor insisted on knowing who was talking, the voice said it was "Evelyn." So the detectives will look after Harry's Nemesis as soon as he can find out her address.

CASTRO WINS IN THE COURTS.

Venezuelan Is Permitted to Stay in America.

May Come and Go at Will, Judge Says.

"I am Vindicated," Exclaims the Hero.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Cipriano Castro is free to come and go in this country at will. Judge Ward, in the Federal District Court this afternoon, sustained the writ of habeas corpus in his behalf, overruling the immigration authorities.

Castro has been out on bail for some time pending a decision in which the government bitterly opposed his entrance on the ground that he was an undesirable, in that he refused to answer certain questions concerning the internal affairs of Venezuela and the murder of Gen. Parades, a political opponent. The special board of inquiry at Ellis Island first refused his admittance, a decision which was affirmed by the Department of Commerce and Labor.

Gen. Castro then carried his case into the courts. He was so moved with pleasurable excitement when told that he had won that he could hardly speak.

"That is fine," he cried. "I am vindicated."

His lawyer said that Castro had not made up his mind just what he would do now. He may or may not visit other cities in the United States. At any event he will return to Europe in the course of a few weeks. He denied that he has any intention of going again to assume control in Venezuela.

Sustaining the writ, Judge Ward said:

"Aliens have the right to enter the United States except so far as the right is restricted by our statutes. The burden is upon the immigration authorities to show that any alien denied the right to enter falls within one of the exceptions to the general privilege. Although an alien who has not yet entered may not enjoy the constitutional guarantees of citizens, he has rights under this law, which must be respected."

The court points out that Castro's case falls within the class of persons convicted or who admit having been convicted of a felony or other crime involving moral turpitude, and continues:

"Congress has required in respect to this particular class of aliens, proof of a specified kind and no other, namely: Either a conviction in the country where the crime was committed or an admission by the aliens. There is no pretense of any conviction and I think ordinary proof is not sufficient. Testimony of unimpeached eye-witnesses that they had seen Gen. Castro kill Gen. Parades with his own hands in cold blood would not only be insufficient but would be wholly incompetent. Therefore telegrams passing between the State Department and its representatives at Caracas upon which the board relied are no evidence whatever to connect Gen. Castro with the death of Gen. Parades, when examined before the special board he had the right to insist that the proof on this point be restricted to that required by the act, namely, His own admission."

Bohemian Violinist Suddenly Cancels All of His Concert Engagements in Switzerland by Wire.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GENEVA, Feb. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jan Kubelik, the violinist, who was booked for a series of concerts in Switzerland, has telegraphed from his home in Bohemia, cancelling his engagements because of serious illness, the nature of which is not stated. His wife and children are with him.

GEORGE CREEL REMOVED.

Publicist and Reformer in the Role of Police Commissioner of Denver, Finds Himself Under Accusations.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, Feb. 15.—Mayor Henry J. Arnold today removed George Creel from the position of Police Commissioner after a hearing on the charges filed against Creel when he was suspended two weeks ago. Charles H. Redmond, an attorney, was appointed in his place.

Here's Something New in the Way of Joyriding.

One of the principal sports of the 'kiddies' day was riding the big elks. From front to rear on this one are Robert A. Purser, Edward Brown, Marie Louise Docker and Lucille Lindenstadt.

TURN ELKS' HALL INTO A NURSERY.

KIDDIES CLIMB THE TABLES IN WILD SCRAMBLE.

Programme Includes Many Wonderful Little Performances by Talented Youngsters—Plenty of Good Things to Eat and Music and Fun Serve for Pleasant Afternoon.

Many fond mothers and a few fathers—very few, for they were not very welcome—stood about in the many rooms of the Elks' Club yesterday afternoon and watched with delight the laughing, dancing, merry children in their play. It was "kids' day" at the club, and for nearly four hours the youngsters romped about and had a glorious time climbing from roof garden to cellar and exploring every nook and corner of the big building.

The children owned everything. There were a few negro-mammy nurses on hand, but their only solicitude was for those who could not help themselves. "You mustn't touch that," or "Come away from there," were expressions forgotten for a few hours, and if any of the little people wanted to ride the stuffed elks it was up to them to say it. They played the pianos, stood on the tables, danced ragtime, regular time, and just some of their own interpretations of the musical numbers rendered in the big assembly hall. An orchestra of the regular kind was on hand the played for them as it would have played for their elders.

They had ice cream, all they could eat, going back like Oliver Twist for more when the first dish had been tucked away. Pink lemonade went with the ice cream and, had it not been for the coming of darkness and the need to go home, some of the little boys might still be hanging about the big bowl of punch or the busy ice-cream distributor. The boys played billiards and pool, swung around in the gymnasium and tore about on the roof. The girls timidly invaded the kitchen, watched the cooks getting ready the evening dinner, played at being grown folks in the dressing-rooms and danced wherever the idea struck them.

When they first arrived, and there were about 600 of them, they were gathered in the big lodgerooms where their papas gather, and the other children told them stories, danced for them, sang them songs and showed that little folks can do just as well as big vaudevillians if they are given half the chance. Exalted Ruler Edward B. Lovie was chairman of the event, being allowed a place on the stage to assist in the announcements. The scene shifter for the occasion, as well as call boy for the acts, was Deacon Clarence Pyle.

Margaret McKee started the programme with a whistling selection and was called back for more. Baby Clara Connors, the smallest of the performers, sang some child ballads. Leone Pritchard accompanied her. Then Leah McKee recited some funny things and Hazel Allen came out in a pretty blue Grecian costume and danced some of the old-world dances. Clella Van Pelt showed the boys and girls the sailors' hornpipe dance in its peculiar steps, and Viola Yorba and Earnest Martinez did some of the old Spanish dances to the accompaniment of the castenets and tambourine.

Virginia Hubbard told some very clever funny stories which were understood by all in the audience, and Bernice Sibeck, last but far from least on the programme, astonished the boys and girls and brought forth many "ohs" and "ahs" as she pirouetted and whirled and danced on her toes in her pretty pink ballet dress. The occasion was one which will last for a long time in the minds of the pleased children.

CHAMBER MUSIC FOURTH CONCERT.

BRAHMS QUINTETTE FINE CONCERT LAST NIGHT.

Juan de la Cruz Soloist in Brahms' Serious Songs—Compositions of Tander and Stevenson Enthusiastically Received by Large Audience at Blanchard Hall.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

Brahms Quintette gave its fourth concert of the season at Blanchard Hall last night.

It will be singularly gratifying to the lovers of higher musical ideals to know that every seat was occupied in the large hall.

When it is considered that the receipts from sale of seats in an ordinarysized hall, divided by seven, plus expenses, is not likely to produce a king's ransom, something else must enter in the performance.

The Brahms Quintette has endeavored for several seasons to bridge in its recitals, the gap that separates the general music-loving public from the more refined and finished productions of chamber music concerts.

There is no difference of opinion today on what chamber music means. It is the highest modern interpretation of the musical art.

In large orchestras, error, omissions and weakness can and are covered through various means. Except in the case of soloists, the orchestra is appreciated for its ensemble work as few, except experts, can pick out ordinary flaws in individual work.

With a quintette, however, as its name implies, there are only five instruments. Each artist stands by himself and yet must be subservient to the other four.

The slightest error is at once noticeable, lack of harmony evident. Five people playing together must be slow, precise, academic. To lift a quintette out of mere technical interpretation is often a very difficult task.

With the Brahms, we have a rare balance—and good quintettes are not common here or elsewhere—Selling is technical and executive; Tandler, temperamental, Simonsen, poetical; Grunn, a dreamer with a delicate touch; Kopper, well trained and enthusiastic. They make an unusual team of excellent timber.

But what makes their well-earned success is that they do not try to give in their public concerts, compositions so exquisitely superior that an expert, and a few at that, could only understand.

Anybody who cares for music can appreciate Tander's "Andante Cantabile" and Frederick Stevenson's charming dance from "Queen Mab."

In the interpretation of Haydn's "Kaiser Quartette" and especially "Adagietto" of Bizet and Schubert's celebrated "Moment Musical," the Brahms Quintette received unusual applause.

The interesting Hugo Kaun's piano quintette Op. 39 in four movements was remarkably well rendered with great brilliancy in the third and fourth.

Signor Juan de la Cruz, basse-chantante, was the soloist of this eventful evening and never sang in better voice, songs better suited to his powerful and well-modulated voice. The so-called "Serious Songs" of Brahms are really sacred hymns, mingling with exquisite charm some of the best features of Georgian chant and modern conceptions of religious music. Ecclesiastes III, and I Corinthian XIII, were delightfully given by the singer.

As well as "Ich grolle nicht" of Schumann was given as an encore after persistent applause.

With quintette accompaniment Signor de la Cruz sang "Wotan's Greeting to Valhalia" and after four recalls "King Henry's Prayer."

The happy combination of the quintette work, with string quartette interpretation of three compositions, the piano quintette and solos accompanied by Monsieur Celebois in the first part and by the quintette in the latter half of the programme, formed a diversified offering.

The Rivals.

TWO BRONCHOS WIN AT RODEO.

ARIZONA HORSE RIVALS THE GREAT CYCLONE.

Thousands See Cowboys and Cowgirls Ride Bucking Horses and Win Exciting Races at the Stadium—Indian War Dance Is One Feature of Programme.

BY AL G. WADDELL.

Arizona's bay bucker Gaviota, rivalled the much-feared black terror Cyclone, at the Rodeo yesterday afternoon.

Joe Pankey of Hermosa, N. M., was elected to try his luck on the back of the Arizona outlaw in the cowboy bucking contests and Red Osborne of Midland, Tex., drew the man-killer from the State of Washington.

Gaviota unseated the would-be rider before he had time to get his hands locked on the reins; and Cyclone put the Texas cowboy on the ground with about six plunges.

Osborne put up a plucky fight and it seemed for an instant as if he would duplicate the performance of Harry Smith the day before. After he was thrown out of the saddle, he sat on the horse's back for two jumps and was thrown hard, missings a kick in the head by a few inches. Cyclone was in a bad humor, and tried hard to injure the cowboy after he had thrown him.

WHITE PELICAN THERE.

White Pelican was also a winner in the bucking contest, throwing Ward Eliot of this city.

W. H. Chaney of Casper, Wyo., stayed on Blue Blazes amid the cheers of the thousands in the grand stands, after he was thrown clear of the saddle; but he was disqualified by the judges on account of holding to the saddle-horn.

Art Acord of Chugwater, Wyo., was the star buster of the day. He rode Square Deal and as the horse refused to buck in a satisfactory manner, the judge put him up on Black Diamond. This horse was also tamed in elegant style and now there is great rivalry between Acord and Harry Smith, the boy who rode Cyclone on Friday.

Acord has ridden Cyclone. He won four championships on this horse last season and is expected to make a great showing in the finals today and tomorrow.

A wild cowboy from Arizona tried to ride the black bull, Sharkey, but stayed less than two seconds on the animal's back.

THE LION'S SHARE.

The Stanley family won a lion's share of the honors yesterday. "Doc" Stanley won the cowboy standing race and ran Johnny Baldwin a close second in the relay. Jay Stanley captured the pony express race.

Tilly Baldwin won her event, as usual, the cowgirl relay; and Johnny Baldwin took the cowboy relay.

Winnie Brown was thrown hard in the cowgirl bucking contest, but was not injured. All the other young women entered in this event rode the buckers assigned them in excellent style.

Wilbur F. McGaugh, a local lad, won the cattle-separating contest.

T. F. Mellerick of Shelbyville won the cowboy quick change race.

Johnny Agee was the one big hit as a trick rider yesterday. He performed all the feats accomplished by the other riders and added several numbers of his own.

The management had a special number on the programme in the form of an Indian war dance, performed by real Indians. The famous Indian band from the Sherman Institute at Riverside was at the Stadium also, and played in relays with the regular military band.

HUBBY HAD A BLACK EYE.

Tulare Man Enters Court With an Optic Entirely Surrounded by Black. Both Get Scathing Reprimand.

TULARE, Feb. 14.—After expressing the opinion that both parties should have been arrested for disturbing the peace and that it would be well for one of them to leave the county, Judge De Witt today fined Mrs. R. Scuffi of Waukena, $20 for having beat her husband. Scuffi swore to the complaint. He was in court during the proceedings and "Exhibit A" was a right eye which bore all the colors of the rainbow. Scuffi attempted to withdraw the complaint against his wife, but Dist.-Atty. La Berson insisted that the case be brought to trial.

After the scathing arraignment of both parties to the action by Judge De Witt, Mrs. Scuffi announced that she would take the advice of the court and shake the dust of Tulare county from her feet. She also made some remarks, not accurately heard, relating to the ancestry, personal appearance and other attributes of the court. Scuffi says married life has its drawbacks.

Friedmann Cure Still Lacks German Approval.

Berlin Physician May Come to California.

Johns Hopkins Doctors Have Rival Serum.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Feb. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dr. Friedmann, discoverer of the alleged tuberculosis cure, is still without official or scientific recognition in Germany. He plans to sail for New York on the Kronprinzessin Cecilie February 18. Dr. Friedmann's methods and peculiarities and his disposition to maintain secrecy in regard to his discovery have alienated many who originally had faith in it. He announced this week that he had turned over the remedy to Prof. Ehrlich, head of the Royal Institute of Experimental Therapeutics at Frankfort-on-the-Main, for test purposes.

Dr. Kirschner, head of the Prussian health department, made a statement on the same day to the effect that Dr. Friedmann had refused to give the culture to Prof. Ehrlich for his tests. Prof. Ehrlich, in response to a telegram asking whether Dr. Friedmann had submitted the culture to him as a private matter or for an official government test, declined to answer.

MAY COME TO CALIFORNIA.

Dr. Friedmann has not as yet placed his remedy at the disposal of the medical profession in Germany and he has not apparently any immediate intention of doing so. Dr. Friedmann says he will only remain for a few weeks in the United States, but talks of going to San Francisco.

Among various statements made by Dr. Friedmann is one to the effect that he will give the remedy to the United States government, and another that he will give the culture only to a few doctors designated by the United States government, who must first learn from him how to use it.

TWO RIVALS FOR FRIEDMANN.

Johns Hopkins Hospital Investigators Will Compete for Finlay's Million-dollar Tuberculosis Cure Offer.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BALTIMORE, Feb. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two young Johns Hopkins Hospital investigators will prove formidable rivals to Dr. Friedmann of Berlin for the Finlay $1,000,000 prize offered for the serum that will cure tuberculosis. In accordance with the stern code of ethics that prevails among Johns Hopkins physicians and investigators, utmost secrecy is preserved with reference to the character of investigations, and results so far achieved, so that nothing may become public except after a most thorough test and then only through channels approved by the faculty.

It has leaked out, however, that for some months the serum prepared in the Phipps tuberculosis dispensary of the Johns Hopkins Hospital under the direction of Dr. Louis V. Hamman and Dr. Charles J. Austrian has succeeded in combating germs of tuberculosis which were inoculated in a number of rabbits.

Not only have cases of rabbits proved satisfactory to physicians, but monkeys have been inoculated with tuberculosis germs and cured by fluid within several months.

FARLEY SAILS FOR SAN JUAN.

Cardinal Will Attend Celebration of Four Hundredth Anniversary of Catholic Church in America.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] Cardinal Farley sailed for Porto Rico on the Brazos today to attend the celebration of the 400th anniversary of the establishment of the Roman Catholic Church in the western world, on Feb 23, 1513, when Bishop Manzo landed from Spain and set up his see in the new world at San Juan.

THE CRISIS IN TOKIO.

TOKIO, Feb. 15.—Such strong evidence of popular unrest continues to be displayed all over Japan that it has been necessary to pull out the soldiery to assist the civil authorities in guarding the residences of members of the imperial family and officials.

At Himejo, Kobe and elsewhere the houses occupied by members of Prince Katsura's new party have been threatened with destruction by the populace.

The new Premier, Count Gombei Yamamoto, completed the formation of his Cabinet today. The portfolios were distributed as follows:

Premier — Count Gombei Yamamoto.

Foreign Affairs — Viscount Sutemi Chinda.

Home Affairs—Kei Hara.

Justice—Masahisa Matsuda.

Finance — Baron Korokiyo Takahashi.

Agriculture and Commerce—Baron Nobuaki Makino.

Education—Sakunoshin Motodo.

Communications—Gijin Okuda.

Navy—Admiral Baron Minoru Saito.

Army—Lieut.-Gen. Baron Yasatuna Kikoshi.

Viscount Chinda, the new Minister of Foreign Affairs, has represented this country at Washington since February 27, 1912.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen, former provisional President of the Chinese republic, was cordially welcomed on his arrival here today. He declared his visit was entirely unofficial and that he had come for the purpose of observing industrial conditions in Japan.

THE SCOTT FUND.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The slowness of the British public in subscribing to the funds being raised for a memorial to Capt. Robert F. Scott and his comrades who died on his expedition to the South Pole is causing much chagrin. Only about $40,000 has thus far been collected, in spite of the urgent appeals of the entire press. The dilatoriness of the public response is attributed to the multiplicity of the sources of collection, which in many cases over lap.

LEST WE FORGET.

A plain, common-sense, everyday reason for the overwhelming preference of classified advertisers for The Times is that Times "Want Ads" pull better and get quicker and more satisfactory results than those of all other local newspapers combined. This knowledge, born of experience, impels almost every classified advertiser in this field to patronize The Times, with the result that this paper regularly prints practically all the "Liners" carried by the five other Los Angeles papers, in addition to a vast number that cannot be found in any other publicity medium. Very few persons have the time or inclination to read the "Liner" section of more than one newspaper, and for the reason stated a very great majority of the people of Los Angeles and the Pacific Southwest, no matter what other newspapers they may take, invariably turn to The Times when they are in search of employment or help, or when they desire to rent, let, buy, sell, exchange, borrow, lend or transact any other kind of business expeditiously and profitably.

An average week's record: For the week ending Saturday, February [illegible], The Times printed 16,665 separate "Liners," 5794 more than its nearest local contemporary, and 9807 more than the second nearest Los Angeles newspaper.

The Times has more bona fide subscribers and is delivered into more homes, offices and business houses in Los Angeles, all Southern California, San Joaquin Valley, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico and the northernmost parts of Old Mexico than any of its local contemporaries, and, by reason of being known far and wide as the leading newspaper of the Pacific Coast, it is read exclusively by fully 85 per cent. of the visitors and prospective settlers who annually visit Los Angeles and Southern California.

The Times' daily average circulation for January 15, 1913, was [illegible] copies, and its Sunday only average circulation for the same month was [illegible] copies. The purchasing power of the buyers in Los Angeles and the Pacific Southwest is represented in these figures.

Times "Want Ads" afford the maximum of publicity at the minimum cost, and they add to the prosperity of those who use and read them. Procrastination is not only the thief of time, but the enemy of progress and individual advancement. Do It Now!

HEADACHY, CONSTIPATED, BILIOUS, TAKE DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS."

Removes the scum from the tongue, sweetens a sour, gassy, bilious stomach; cleanses your liver and 30 feet of bowels without gripe or nausea.

If headachy, bilious, dizzy, tongue coated, stomach sour and full of gas, you belch undigested food and feel sick and miserable, it means that your liver is choked with sour bile and your thirty feet of bowels are clogged with effete waste matter not properly carried off. Constipation is worse than most folks believe. It means that this waste matter in the thirty feet of bowels decays into poisons, gases and acids and that these poisons are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

Most people dread physic. They think of castor oil, salts and cathartic pills. They shrink from the after effects—so they postpone the dose until they get sick, then they do this liver and bowel cleansing in a heroic way—they have a bowel washday—That is all wrong. If you will take a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs tonight you will never realize you have taken anything until morning, when all the poisonous matter, sour bile and clogged-up waste will be moved on and out of your system, thoroughly but gently—no griping—no nausea—no weakness. Taking Syrup of Figs is a real pleasure. Don't think you are drugging yourself; it is composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics, and constant use can not cause injury.

Ask your druggist for "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," and look for the name, California Fig Syrup Company, on the label. This is the genuine—old reliable. Any other Fig Syrup offered as good should be refused with contempt. Don't be imposed upon.

President Among Guests at Cannon Dinner.

Poetical Tribute Written by Congressman.

Press Gallery Contributes a Merry Skit.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—President Taft, Cabinet officials, Chief Justice White, members of both houses of Congress, past, present and prospective, and a host of other political and social friends of Representative Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois, former Speaker of the House, featured the programme and guest list of a farewell dinner to him tonight.

Plans had been made for approximately 500 guests. The programme abounded with novel features, announced by the toastmaster, Representative J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania.

TAFT SPEAKS.

The scheduled speakers included the President, Chief Justice White, Speaker Clark, Representative Underwood of Alabama, the Democratic leader of the House; Secretary Nagel; Postmaster-General Hitchcock, Senators Root, Williams, Penrose; Representatives McCall and McKinley; former Secretary of the Navy Hilary A. Herbert; former Representatives Tawney of Minnesota and Grosvenor of Ohio; Senator-elect James and the former Speaker. When the guests assembled, they found at each plate a souvenir programme with a poetical tribute, unsigned but written by Representative Moore.

QUATRAIN.

On the reverse side, beneath the curling smoke of a pictured cigar ran this quatrain:

"You may break, you may shatter the rules if you will; but the cannon aroma will hang to them still."

A skit burlesquing the members of the House from the viewpoint of the press gallery was contributed by the newspaper men at the capitol who attended almost in a body.

MOVING PICTURES.

Other features of the banquet programme were moving pictures of the "Seven Ages of Cannon," presentation of a bust of Mr. Cannon as the gift of colleagues in the House with Representative Bartholdt of Missouri as their spokesman; and songs by the Gridiron Club quartette. Mr. Cannon's speech in acknowledgment of the farewell tribute was reserved until almost midnight.

I CURE PILES
FISTULA AND ALL RECTAL DISEASES
WITHOUT AN OPERATION
BY MY PAINLESS DISSOLVENT METHOD

I Guarantee to Cure Every Case I Accept for Treatment.

For twenty-five years I have been curing diseases of the rectum and lower bowel. During that time my experience as hospital and railroad surgeon, as college lecturer and professor, has enabled me to develop a method that is superior to all others. I cure without surgery and my patients are never confined in bed and never lose a moment's time from their business.

With my method I absorb pile tumors by medication, applied (or driven in,) by a mild electric current. The piles are absorbed in a few treatments, leaving the rectum in a healthy, normal condition. There is no danger, no bad after effects and no pain or soreness.

My method is not a "home cure" or a "correspondence treatment," but it is an application of skilled treatment administered by me in my office.

If you are a sufferer from rectal trouble, I invite you to investigate my method thoroughly by talking or writing to any of my cured patients. If you will call at my office I will be pleased to give you the names and addresses of many well-known Los Angeles people I have cured, whom you may interview in regard to my treatment.

I TREAT NO DISEASES EXCEPT THOSE OF THE RECTUM AND BOWELS.

REV. EDWARD BROOKS CURED.

My Dear Dr. White: I wish to express to you again my heartfelt appreciation for what you have done for me. After suffering for years with the worst form of hemorrhoids, YOU HAVE CURED ME COMPLETELY, and during the treatment I did not turn aside from my usual work. I therefore commend you and your method to all sufferers from rectal disorders. Very gratefully yours,
REV. EDWARD H. BROOKS (Baptist Minister,) 2812 Menlo Ave., Los Angeles, Cal.

REV. D. N. BURTON CURED.

This is to certify that Dr. White cured me without pain of piles, hemorrhage and ulceration of the rectum. Before going to him I was a semi-invalid, hardly able to get about. Since taking his treatment I have not missed a single Sunday from being in my pulpit. It is one year since he cured me, and I have not had the slightest return of the trouble. I recommend him to all and will gladly write to any sufferer who is in doubt and tell them what Dr. White did for me.
REV. D. N. BURTON, Pastor First Christian Church, Collinsville, Oklahoma. Formerly of Ocean Park.

MR. D. R. THAYER CURED.

After suffering twenty years, Dr. C. H. White cured me of prolapsus and ulceration of the rectum. I know of many Los Angeles people he has cured and I will be glad to talk or correspond with any one needing treatment.

NOBODY CAN TELL IF YOU DARKEN GRAY, FADED HAIR WITH SAGE TEA

Druggist Says When Mixed With Sulphur Prevents Danruff and Falling Hair

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, then left to age and carefully filtered will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching, and falling hair.

Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of muss. Some druggists make their own, but it isn't nearly so nice as "Wyeth's."

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur no one can tell, because it does it so naturally; so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Do this tonight and by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, after another application or two it will be restored to its natural color and be even more glossy, soft and luxuriant than ever.

Local druggists say they are selling lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur"; it surely helps folks appear years younger.

Santa Monica Militia Company Is Found to Be All Right in All Particulars—News Briefs.

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 15.—Co. E, California National Guard, will not be mustered out. This is the declaration of the officers of the Seventh Regiment, who inspected the local branch last night. They found everything in first-class condition, and the company under the newly-elected captain, William H. Carter, on a thriving basis.

Brig.-Gen. Robert Wankowski, Col. W. G. Shrieber, Lieut.-Col. Saltmarsh, Maj. Hutchins and Maj. Collins of the Seventh Regiment were the inspecting officers. Maj. John F. Sherburn and Capt. Frank S. Bowen of the regular army were present, complimenting the members of the company on their showing. The company has been handicapped in many ways, having to fight against opposition in Santa Monica, which has now entirely disappeared. The company has the support of citizens at present, and many new recruits have joined.

In order to raise funds for the purpose of buying a fire alarm residents in the southeastern part of the city gathered at the Grant school last evening and held an auction social. The sum of $55 was raised by the selling of lunch boxes and merchandise, and a musical programme, which was greatly enjoyed, was enlivened by selections given by Mrs. G. W. Peasgood, Misses Marie Woods, Olga Doleshoil, Selma Windhorst and Esther Windhorst, Lorin Badgley, A. C. Moffit and E. R. Selden.

Because of the finding of the body of Miss Soards in Las Pulgas Canyon, the Indians in the employ of moving-picture companies in Santa Ynez canyon further up the coast refuse to pass the canyon day or night, giving as their reason that ghosts now haunt the canyon.

Santa Ana Democrats Table a Resolution Asking for Protection for Southern California Fruits.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA ANA, Feb. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Though torn between a desire to stick to Democratic principles and a desire to keep as much tariff as possible on Orange county products, the Democratic County Central Committee today tabled a resolution that Congressman-elect William Kettner "be and is hereby instructed to use every honorable means to prevent the removal or reduction of the duties on citrus fruits and sugar, and that all of the representatives in Congress from the State of California be and they are hereby requested and urged to use their best efforts to prevent the removal of reduction of said duties."

Some of the speeches made at the meeting today were indorsement of a high protective tariff.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

Pasadena.

NOTED AUTHOR TAKES COTTAGE.

Henry Van Dyke Is a Pasadena Visitor.

Banquet Planned at Which Notables Will Appear.

Harvard Man Will Lecture at Green Hotel.

PASADENA, Feb. 16.—Dr. Henry Van Dyke, author and angler, for whom a greater ovation has been prepared than perhaps any other visitor to the city this winter, arrived on the Santa Fe yesterday afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Van Dyke and his three daughters, the Misses Elaine, Paula and Katrina Van Dyke. The family has taken a bungalow at the Hotel Maryland.

The writer, who had not been in Southern California for ten years, said that he has found things greatly changed, although he had last night as yet seen little. He has an optimistic outlook on affairs in general.

"After all," he said, "human nature is just about the same as it has been for several centuries past."

He says that he does not know how long he will be in the city, but perhaps about a month. He expects to fish for tuna at Catalina Island, a delight that he will be tasting for the first time, although he has long been an honorary member of the Catalina Tuna Club.

"I may get some fish if I am good enough," he remarked. "If I fail to get any I will conclude that I am not good enough."

Dr. Van Dyke will also be very busy with his writing while here, and will probably lecture several times during his stay, though he says that he does not himself know what his plans will be as yet. He gives writing as his "vocation," and says that his teaching at Princeton is his "avocation," which he follows for the sake of coming into contact with the students and "keeping young."

The banquet that is to be given in Dr. Van Dyke's honor at the Hotel Maryland will take place next Wednesday night. The toasts will be as follows:

"President of the United States," to be proposed by the toastmaster, Prof. Charles F. Holder, and responded to by ex-Senator Frank P. Flint; "Our Guests," to be proposed by Dr. John Willis Baer and responded to by Dr. Van Dyke; "A Master of English," to be proposed by Dr. J. A. B. Scherer and responded to by Samuel Travers Clover; "The Press," to be proposed by the toastmaster and responded to by Dr. Robert J. Burdette; "European and African Members," to be proposed by the toastmaster and responded to by Frederick Russell Burnham, and "Walton and Other English Anglers," to be proposed by the toastmaster and responded to by Rev. George L. Spinning.

The dinner will be preceded by a reception between 6 and 7:30 o'clock.

TALKS FAST ENOUGH.

The old expedient of an operating table made the tongue of Frank Ryan, aged about 21, who was passing himself off as a deaf and mute beggar, wag at the Police Station yesterday afternoon.

The man was going about the city with a sheet of paper, on which was written a request for money to aid him to return to his family in the East, stating that he has lost both his speech and hearing from typhoid pneumonia. He called at the office of Dr. A. Pyle in the Stowell building, but the physician mistrusted him, and went into his private office to telephone to the police. Ryan heard him and attempted to escape from the room. The doctor grappled with him, and, although he was finally thrown, managed to hold him long enough so that Ryan, as he rushed from the building, ran into the arms of Patrolman Schultz, who was coming after him.

The prisoner was taken to the Police Station where an effort was made to make him speak. Police Surgeon McCoy came in and the request was made of the doctor in the presence of the prisoner that he operate upon him. Dr. McCoy asked that chloroform be brought and with this Ryan shouted:

"Oh, don't do that!"

He was locked up on a charge of vagrancy and later taken before Police Judge McDonald and committed to the County Jail in Los Angeles in default of $50 bail, as yesterday was a holiday and he could not plead to the charge.

TO KEEP CAMPAIGN PURE.

With the intention of, as he put it, making the coming campaign for City Commissioner a "high-toned" one, Mayor Thum yesterday announced his intention to ask the City Commissioners tomorrow to frown on the recent announcement of Chief of Police Wood that he is a candidate for office. In support of the stand he has taken the Mayor last night said that Chief Wood, in running for the office, works a hardship on the other members of the police force in that they may not feel free to get out and work for other candidates, although when his attention was called to the statement he said that after all it isn't the right thing for policemen to do to play politics—unless they do it out of working hours, at least.

"This coming campaign should be a high-toned one," he said, "and I think to make it such the Chief should at least resign or take a leave of absence if he is going to run for the office."

The Mayor said that the circumstance, for instance, of a Mayor's running for re-election is not a parallel case. He also says that he shall take no part in the coming campaign.

"If anyone comes to me and asks for my opinion, I shall give it to him," he added, omitting to mention whether inside or outside of working hours.

The Mayor's announcement that he will interfere with city employees' running for office—for the water department also is concerned—yesterday caused consternation at the City Hall.

Another nice question is whether a city commissioner may consistently vote to decline to allow the Chief of Police to be a candidate, and then be a candidate himself.

EDUCATOR TO PREACH.

Prof. Francis Greenwood Peabody, who holds the chair of Christian Morals at Harvard University, and who is a guest at the Green Hotel, is to preach at the First Presbyterian Church this morning. At 10 o'clock tomorrow morning he will speak at the First Congregational Church in Los Angeles. He speaks at a special assembly at Occidental College at 11 o'clock next Tuesday morning.

Vigorous Battle.

PASADENA DEFEATS SANTA BARBARA IN POLO MATCH.

PASADENA, Feb. 15.—In a smashing relentless game in which two men were injured and some twenty-eight horses worn to utter exhaustion, the Pasadena polo team yesterday defeated Santa Barbara at Tournament Park, Pasadena, by the score of 8 to 5½ goals.

It was either team's game up to the first of the last period. In fact, Santa Barbara led by one-half a point up to the last period. Then by three spectacular rushes and excellent team work, Pasadena tore through the defense of the Santa Barbara team and three goals in rapid succession gave them a winning lead.

Yesterday's contest was the first of the third annual polo tournaments of the Pasadena club and fully 4000 spectators were present. Over 400 automobiles occupied parking space.

Two episodes of the contest showed the fierceness with which each goal was fought for. In the seventh period, Edward Boeseke of the Santa Barbara team was thrown heavily and his horse stepped glancingly on his chest. Boeseke had just received the ball on a pass from center and had started terrific run down the field with but one man, John Hobbs, of the opposing team between him and the goal. His first swing was a scratch one and the ball rolled but 100 feet. His horse had caught the exulting spirit that came over the hard-pressed Santa Barbara player as he saw a clear field ahead of him and in a fierce attempt to reach the rolling ball before Neustadt on his crack "Muggins," Boeseke's animal slipped on the soft dirt and fell. Boeseke clung tightly to his saddle, but fell to the ground directly under his horse's hoofs. One hoof struck a glancing blow on the chest of the prostrate man, and the spectators turned their heads as a wild cry went up from the other players. It appeared that the man had been stamped by his horse's iron hoof and in a trice he was surrounded by his fellow players. He was assisted to his feet and his brother, Dr. E. J. Boeseke, who was playing back, rushed to his side and helped him to the side lines.

On examination it was found that no bones were broken with the exception of the possibility of one or two ribs being cracked, which cannot be determined until Sunday.

Boeseke, although hardly able to speak, insisted on continuing playing and it required the earnest orders of his brother to convince him that he was totally unable to do so.

As this had been the second accident to a member of the Santa Barbara team there were but two men left out of the four. Elmer Boeseke, who had entered the game against the advice of his physician, was stricken with an attack of nausea in the middle of the seventh period. The terrific strain of the game had weakened him. Dr. Z. T. Mallaby had taken Elmer Boeseke's place and when a volunteer was called for to replace the stricken Edward Boeseke, John B. Miller, presidnt of the Southern California Edison Company, tore off his collar and coat and rolling up his sleeves, eagerly mounted his horse and entered the fray.

Miller gave a good account of himself, and made, perhaps, the most spectacular run of the match. In the seventh period when Walter Dillingham, captain of the Hawaiian team, who was acting as referee, tossed in the ball after an out-of-bounds play, Miller caught it fairly as it rolled in and cleared the ruck. He was after it like a shot and with a second splendid drive sent the ball to within 100 feet of the goal and without hesitating a second drove it a third time directly between the goal posts, making the only unassisted score of the entire match, in three strokes.

The playing of the Pasadena team was a revelation. In the retirement of Tom Weiss and Harry Weiss from the team there was a great deal of pessimism expressed as to the team's strength. Yesterday this was cleared away and it is safe to predict that the Pasadena team will practically equal the great work of last year's aggregation when it won the Coast championship.

Reggie Weiss was easily the star of the contest, and a close second was Elmer Boeseke up to the time of his leaving the game.

Mounted on the great Six Bits, Weiss had but one horse on the opposing team which could equal him and that was the famous Blue Knot of Dr. E. J. Boeseke. On his own team there was but one other animal who could travel with Six Bits and that was Muggins of Bobby Neustadt, and, by the way, it would be a good thing to keep an eye on this boy Neustadt and his Muggins from yesterday's showing.

In the first half Pasadena started off with a rush and smothered Santa Barbara. The latter seemingly could not get started and played practically throughout the entire time on the defensive. By the end of the half Pasadena had 2½ and Santa Barbara had scored one lone goal.

It was in the second half that the hardest fight occurred. The Santa Barbara team is nothing if not hard fighters and hard riders. They held a counsel of war between halves and decided to drop the defensive and take the aggressive. This change of front had an early result. Edward Boeseke drove a goal from a difficult angle and before the spectators had ceased tooting their auto horns and yelling the ball was seen again on its merry way toward the Pasadena goal. Right back of it came the youthful and tall Elmer Boeseke, who was riding like a wild Dervish and yelling at the top of his voice. He had taken the ball on a shot from center and, after riding off Carleton Burke, worked the ball toward the west corner of the field. It was thought that his run was over, as a goal from that point was thought almost impossible. The young man, nothing loath to try at the goal, whirled his horse in the space of a barrel head and with a full arm swing sent it flying true as a die for the goal. It was a wonderful shot, as the angle was very acute. These two goals put the Santa Barbara team in the lead, and heartened by this they threw caution to the winds and played like beings possessed.

In the sixth period Pasadena returned to the aggressive and within a few seconds after play started had the ball within ten feet of the Santa Barbara goal. Here there was a long mix-up, in which the ball was shot from side to side, but did not gain any headway to the goal line. Horses were crushed against horses and riders swore weird swears in their excitement and chagrin over a missed shot. Suddenly the ball rolled free of the ruck and, like an avenger, Reggie Weiss, who had been hovering on the outskirts of the "mob" waiting for just an occurrence, darted down on it and shot it through the goal posts.

It was at this point that the hard luck of Santa Barbara started.

Elmer Boeseke, who had been playing the star game for his team was forced out on account of nausea and while Dr. J. T. Mallaby, who replaced him played well, he did not know his team-mates method of play as did Boeseke. When play had resumed Dr. Boeseke returned to the attack with heroic vim and assisted by Parks made another goal for Santa Barbara.

Then Edward Boeseke had his close call from instant death but the staunch little remnant of the Santa Barbara team refused to give up and Mr. Miller jumped into the fray.

The "gimp" was gone from the Channel City team and while they fought for every inch, Reggie Weiss shot an easy goal and Neustadt followed it up within the space of a few moments with another one. In the opening of the eighth and last period, Miller made his great run from the toss in of the ball and scored for Santa Barbara. It was the last dying flash of spirit of the visiting team, however, and after this Pasadena settled down with a relentless attack which netted three goals, one by Carleton Burke, one by Bobby Neustadt and one by Reggie Weiss.

The Hawaiian team around which centers a vast deal of interest will arrive at Pasadena Sunday afternoon, traveling from Coronado by motor. Their ponies arrived at the park Friday evening and are said by Walter Dillingham, captain of the team, to be in excellent condition.

Monday the Hawaiian team will be seen in action against the Boise team and perhaps one of the best contests of the tournament will result. The Boise players are an unknown quantity as in fact are the Hawaiians except for their exhibition playing at Coronado. The teams will play the first round for the Hogan cup.

SETS ITS SEAL OF APPROVAL.

Ventura Chamber of Commerce Indorses the Proposition of Establishing a Place for the Dead.

VENTURA, Feb. 15.—The Chamber of Commerce has set its seal of approval on the mausoleum plan of burial. At its last meeting E. M. Selby, the Los Angeles attorney, appeared before the chamber in advocacy of this plan.

Being interested in Ventura, and knowing the present cemetery needs, by reason of the fact that the present cemetery is no longer adequate for burial purposes, he proposes the plan for the erection of a large mausoleum, provided with crypts and niches for the repose of the dead. The Chamber of Commerce adopted resolutions favoring the plan because of the urgent need of cemetery room and for the reason that the new plan is better and more sanitary in every way.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The E.C.O. Club of this city, which restored the old Junipera Serra cross on the hill above the old Mission Church here, is now working on a plan to build an automobile drive from the sea to the cross. The club, an enterprising body of women of the city, already has a goodly sum in its treasury which can be applied for this purpose and which will be put into the roadway as soon as the city authorities have established the route to be taken by survey. John Lagomarsino of the City Improvement Committee will take up the matter with the city authorities.

John Brown of Santa Paula, an eccentric old man and known as "Millionaire Brown," passed away at his Santa Paula home Thursday. Deceased was aged about 75 years. He leaves an estate of the probable value of $145,000, mostly in money, bonds and stocks. He leaves a widow and two sons and a daughter. The biggest item of value in the estate is a certificate of corporation stock of New York City of the value of $[illegible]000, payable in 1956 and which draws 4 per cent. interest payable semi-annually.

Joe Williams, George Wilson and Jack Edwin, the three alleged bean thieves, were arraigned before Justice Knox today and their examinations set for Monday next. The men were rounded up in the act of conveying beans from the El Rio warehouse to the Montalvo warehouse from whence they were to be shipped to one P. Sanborn at Los Angeles. There were 108 sacks in the lot, but forty-two other sacks were missing. Yesterday the Sheriff found forty-[illegible] sacks of beans in the warehouse [illegible] at the depot, where they were brought early last Monday morning and marked to be shipped to the same party in Los Angeles. This lot accounts for three more sacks than were really missing from El Rio. The Los Angeles police are busy in the quest of finding the party to whom the beans were consigned.

Long Beach.

CHARGED RENT, CITY PROTESTS.

LONG BEACH OFFICIALS [illegible] DEMAND UNUSUAL.

Building Is Owned by City, but on Account of Legal Procedure the Corporation Finds that It Must Pay Itself Rent—New Theater Is Proposed.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 15.—A demand filed against the city today by the Long Beach Brick Company places the city in the peculiar situation of being charged rent for its own building. The demand is for $[illegible] for a month's rent of a brick annex to the City Hall, just completed and being used by the police department. The cause is the result of red tape [illegible] prevalent in municipal government.

Some months ago the brick company secured a contract to build the structure at a cost of $[illegible] and when the job was completed presented its bill to the Council and it was allowed. The City Auditor, however, refused to issue a warrant on the ground that the fund from which it should be paid was not designated. After a week's consideration, the Council ordered him to pay it from the building fund and again passed the warrant over his objection. The City Auditor then discovered that the building fund was depleted, having only a small balance, and sent the bill back for a new suggestion. The returned bill is still pending and the brick company, peeved at the delay, has taken a new legal step to hasten payment, anticipating that the Council will order it paid from the [illegible] funds and the Auditor will have a new objection that no provision is made for the payment of such bills from that fund.

NEW THEATER.

Local moving picture men who yesterday protested against the city renting the auditorium to W. H. Clune for the presentation of the Biblical subject, "From the Manger to the Cross," fearing that it would injure their business, have a new worry today in the announcement that the Los Angeles manager, incensed over their action, has decided to at once proceed with the construction of a [illegible] concrete picture theater on a site he owns on the Pike. The new structure will seat 1800 people and be conducted along the lines of his other theaters.

LEGAL DOUBT.

Word was received here today in official circles that the State Railroad Commission had serious doubt of its legal right to accept the control of the railroad question in Long Beach recently given in a charter amendment, and this doubt adds to the [illegible] of the fight between the Chamber of Commerce and the Pacific Electric.

At present it has resulted in the stoppage of contemplated track improvements on Pine avenue amounting to $69,000 and yesterday the Board of Public Works piled another trouble on their shoulders by [illegible] the commission's authority [illegible] stopping work on the electrifying of the Southern Pacific tracks to the freight yards which the Pacific Electric expected to occupy jointly. It developed today that the work ordered stopped was begun under an interpretation of orders from President Shoup, and will not be resumed until the question is threshed out by the State Railroad Commission as to whether theauthority can legally be vested in their body.

Hotel Virginia was ablaze with lights tonight and crowded with invited guests who mingled with the hotel guests in enjoyment of the second annual masked ball given by the hotel management. It was a bewildering crowd of masks of every conceivable character, and as none but maskers were allowed on the ball floor, the hundreds of spectators were given a rare treat.

In addition the hotel people had provided an "animal show" and a "country fair" as side attractions and these added zest to the evening.

The city dock today showed more activity than has been seen for several months. Three vessels, the Leggett, Coaster and [illegible] were moored alongside the wharf all day discharging lumber. The dense fog this morning held two of the boats outside the jetties for some hours, both masters being strangers to the harbor entrance.

A petition will be presented to the City Council Tuesday evening signed by several hundred citizens asking the Council to grant Alva Reynolds a concession for a platform 100 feet long and 20 feet wide, east of and adjoining the pier, on which to conduct experiments with the working unit of a wave motor invented by Reynolds. The previous request of Reynolds has been turned down and now he has enlisted the aid of citizens in his appeal.

Among the criticisms of the work is one directed against the temporary manner in which the ditches are being filled. The contemplated paving and other street improvements is arrested until the completion of the system, whereas, it was hoped that work could commence on those streets in which the pipe had been laid immediately upon the covering of the ditches. This cannot be done as the ditches are filled loosely and must undergo a settling process before street improvement of a permanent nature can be undertaken.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The first annual track meet of the Hemet High School will be held on the High School field, Saturday, February 14. Temas will participate from Banning, San Jacinto, Perris and Corona. The local High School has developed some good track material this year and expects to give a good account of itself in the Citrus Belt track meet at Ontario the latter part of March. In Brubaker, who has already thrown the hammer 155 feet this season, Hemet has a contender in the weights; and in Harkness in short sprint, who placed in the Los Angeles meet last year, Hemet has another aspirant of no mean ability.

The Howard Rose Company is the name of a new corporation recently organized in Hemet for the purpose of propagating and dealing in nursery stock, plants, shrubs, vines, seeds and flowers. The capital stock of the new concern is placed at $20,000, $10,000 of which is already paid up. The incorporators and directors are Charles Howard, Earnest Linquist and Gertrude Howard.

The Park Hill Floral Company, wholesale florists who have supplied the markets of Pasadena and Los Angeles for several years from their propagating plant three miles west of Hemet, have purchased property in town and have erected on it at the corner of Florida avenue and Juanita street, an office and ornamental display house for local distribution.

WILL REPAINT BUILDINGS.

Youngsters Who Defaced the Schoolhouses at Pomona Will Correct the Trouble.

POMONA, Feb. 15.—Upon the condition that their names be not made public, the boys guilty of the vandalism of smearing sticky black paint on the exterior of the local High School buildings recently, have confessed to members of the student body of the school, which organization has been investigating this delinquency, with the understanding that if a satisfactory adjustment could be made the local Board of Education would not take up the matter.

The guilty boys have arranged among themselves to defray the expenses of the repainting of the buildings which will be necessary, and they will be held, as it were, on private probation. The perpetrators of the act were not all High School lads.

The active committee in charge of the booster celebration planned for Pomona day on Thursday, February 20, is daily completing details which insure the success of the celebration. The banquet in the evening at the armory, at which time the matter of the formation of a Chamber of Commerce will be considered, will be a big affair, and the aerial stunts promised by Aviator Glenn Martin will be a particular feature. Martin will try for a special "five-quart" gasoline distance record.

Messrs. Edmund P. Stone, Ed Maurer, Baker and Brewer, comprising the Pomona High School track team, together with Luther Nichols and Franklin Lewis, were in Los Angeles today to participate in the relay carnival held under the auspices of Occidental College.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Nicholson, who came here from Ottawa, Kan., for the benefit of her health, and died Thursday evening, was held this afternoon at the chapel of W. B. Todd, on North Garey avenue, at 2:30 o'clock. The deceased was an aunt of Mrs. Harold C. Dewey of Kennok drive, and a sister of S. A. Nicholson of San Bernardino.

Councilman W. A. Vandegrift has sold his paint and paper business which he has conducted here for fifteen years to A. E. Pelton, recently of Ohio, and F. A. Blatz, who has been connected with the business for some time.

A number of boosters for the National Orange Show to be held at San Bernardino next week were here from the Gate City this afternoon advertising the event.

ORANGE COUNTY NOTES.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 14.—The Macbeth Company of Pittsburgh is seeking a location here for a glass factory and is now negotiating for a site near First street. If the factory is located here it will employ eighty men and be operated all the year round. The proposed cost of the plant is $15,000.

A Japanese aviator will fly from Twenty-third street in Huntington Beach to Dominguez and return next Tuesday as part of the programme for the entertainment of visitors, when a big excursion from Los Angeles is due here, and will be shown around this section in autos by the Board of Trade.

HUNTINGTON BEACH.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 15.—Thomas B. Talbert of this city has sold his 160-acre ranch, lying six miles northwest of Huntington Beach and one mile west of Smeltzer, for $102,500 to a Long Beach syndicate, $80,000 being cash and the remainder represented by the Miramar Hotel at Long Beach. The land is now planted to sugar beets and alfalfa and will remain in Talbert's possession till this crop is harvested. It is situated in the noted peatlands section and is among the most productive lands in the Santa Ana Valley.

At a meeting of the City Trustees held last night the City Clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for building the reinforced concrete pier in accordance with the recently-accepted plans of Engineer Ernst Rothenberg of Los Angeles, and the bids will be opened and the contract awarded on March 10. Actual work on the pier should begin in March. The old pier is now being removed.

THIS LOOKS LIKE PROGRESS.

San Jacinto Is Going Ahead by Leaps and Bounds in the Matter of Building Improvements.

SAN JACINTO, Feb. 15.—On Sanderson avenue, in the Fruitvale district, the Citizens' Water Company has many teams and men employed in excavating for the main cement conduit. This line is of two-foot cement pipe and will have a capacity of 500 inches of water. The extension of the water system now in progress will necessitate an expense of nearly $20,000 and will place about 1000 acres of land under a perfect irrigation system. It is expected that the work will be completed by the opening of the irrigation season in April.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Freight shipments from San Jacinto for the year 1912 show an increase of 33 per cent. over the year 1911, while there was an increase in the amount of freight received over the preceding year of about 10 per cent. Shipping statistics as well as the postoffice reports show that San Jacinto is forging ahead as it has never before in its history, and these reports are substantiated by the increase of business experienced by the merchants and the bank.

This week Charles E. Chambers purchased the vacant lot adjoining the bank building on the west from the San Jacinto Land Company, and announces his intention of erecting a business block thereon in the near future.

Following the announcement that W. W. Howard has secured a number of Japanese to plant his 160-acre tract west of town to sugar beets, comes the report that the San Jacinto Land Company will also plant 160 acres to sugar beets this spring. The land is already being prepared for the crop. The tract lies near the W. W. Howard land, adjoining the ostrich farm, and is under the system of the Citizens' Water Company.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new brick cottage being erected by Mrs. Ada Kidder on San Jacinto avenue.

TRYING TO CLEAR MYSTERY.

Relatives of Murdered Woman Are Called to Venice to Furnish Key to the Tragedy.

VENICE, Feb. 15.—Believing as do the police that Miss Nellie Soards was murdered, W. A. Soards, a brother, and A. M. Dunn, a brother-in-law, came here today to contribute their help to the effort to clear up the mystery of the death of the spinster. Soards comes from San Francisco, and Dunn, who is temporarily stopping at No. 609 West First street, Los Angeles, has recently come here from Cincinnati, O., the former home of the dead woman.

Deputy Sheriff Fox, Soards and Dunn broke open the trunk of the dead woman in the tent at No. 358 Villa City late this afternoon, but found nothing which would assist them in their efforts. Miss Soards had locked up the tenthouse and gone away as if she would soon return. The efforts of the police are centered on an attempt to find the writer of the note which called the attention of the authorities to the body. They say that either the scribbler of the note is guilty or knows many things which will assist the police. The inquest is expected to clear up many points now obscure. Faint footprints were found today at a point on the bluff a few yards from the place the body was found, tending to show that death was accidental.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Eight carloads of lumber arrived today consigned to the Venice baseball park. This material will go into the construction of part of the fence and the grand stand. The greater part of the fence is now built, and work on the grand stand will be commenced Monday.

An unusual number of people were on hand with lobster pots, nets and lines tonight, as the lobster season closed at midnight tonight. The catch was poor, as it has been all season. Most of the fishermen favor a closed season of at least three years in order to restock the coast.

MEASLES AT VISALIA.

VISALIA, Feb. 15.—At a meeting of the Visalia Board of Health today it was ordered that the primary grades of the public schools remain closed for an additional ten days. February 14 was set as the date for raising the general quarantine, but conditions are not such that restrictions can be lifted. According to the formal reports of the city health officials there were 109 cases of measles within the city limits February 4. Since that time sixty-two cases were reported in forty-nine families, making 129 homes quarantined. It is estimated that there are 300 cases within the city limits at the present time.

CHILD DROWNED.

Riverside, Feb. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch. The little son of Mrs. Alvah Downey, almost 3 years old, was drowned in a wash boiler today. The child was left alone in the room for no longer than five minutes, while the mother paid a brief visit to a neighbor. On her return she missed the child and on instituting a search saw the little fellow's clothing protruding from the boiler sitting on the floor. When she lifted him out, life was extinct. He had apparently fallen in backwards and was wedged in too close to extricate himself.

AZUSA.

AZUSA, Feb. 14.—Petitions are being circulated asking that the City Trustees call a special election to determine whether the taxpayers are ready to vote $50,000 for the erection of a new grammar school building to be erected in the center of town. The Parent Teachers' Association is agitating the question and exerting itself toward obtaining for Azusa one of the most modern school buildings in the county.

The Azusa Foothill Inn Hotel Company has turned the management of Ye Foothill Inn to C. I. Millis, who is now in full charge. Mrs. C. G. Atwood and Miss Ida Brown, who have had charge of the hotel for the past two years, have returned to their old home in Riverside.

A Message to Breathers of Hyomei

A series of tests recently completed prove that the HYOMEI vapor treatment for catarrh, coughs, colds, and sore throat is wonderfully efficient when only one-half teaspoonful of HYOMEI is used in one-half a tea cup of boiling hot water.

It is advisable to heat the teacup before pouring the boiling water, so that the water will remain hot a longer time. Pour one-half a teaspoonful of HYOMEI over the boiling water, hold cup close to face and breathe through nose and mouth the healing, germ-destroying vapor that arises.

Just breathe HYOMEI, and its soothing medicated and antiseptic properties will come in direct contact with the inflamed parts, stop the discharge, drive out the soreness and heal the membrane.

For catarrh, coughs, colds, sore throat, croup and all nose and throat misery, HYOMEI is sold on money back if dissatisfied plan. Single bottles of HYOMEI 50 cents; complete outfit, which includes inhaler, $1.00 at druggists everywhere.

Mail orders filled, charges prepaid by Booth's HYOMEI CO., Buffalo, N. Y., who will gladly mail trial treatment free.

SNEAK THIEVES OPERATING.

South Pasadena Residents Are in a State of Siege by Crooks of Unusual Finesse.

SOUTH PASADENA, Feb. 15.—Sneak thieves are operating again in this city. Carrol W. Gates, No. 411 Fremont avenue, reported to the police the theft of a leather purse, containing $56 in gold and silver. The Marshal and his assistants are working on a clue, and they hope to have the guilty parties under arrest soon.

NEWS BRIEFS.

A horse attached to a junk wagon became frightened at a passing train at Magnolia and Fremont this morning, ran south on Fremont to Mission, where it collided with a telegraph pole, breaking its leg. The police were summoned and shot the horse. The driver and owner, Joe Gale, No. 503 Chandler street, Los Angeles, was picking up papers on the street, when the horse started to run.

The annual meeting of the missionary union of the churches of South Pasadena was held yesterday at the Memorial Baptist Church, beginning at 10 o'clock. Mrs. P. W. Freeman, the president, presided at the morning session, and other officers are: Mrs. Charles M. Fisher, vice-president; Mrs. Sweet, secretary, and Mrs. Willett, treasurer.

An interesting programme was presented, each denomination being represented, the Presbyterian Church by Mrs. Van Meter in an address on "The Peril of Our Nation;" The Baptists by a black board-illustration of "How I Teach the Indians," by Miss McLain, a missionary; the Congregationalists by a round table entitled "Boosts and Bars," conducted by Mrs. R. A. Torrey; the Christian Church, by a devotional service, led by Mrs. J. H. Freeman; the Methodist with an address on "Foreign Missions," by Miss Spaulding, a missionary from the Philippine Islands. Other members on the programme included a duet by Miss Harriet Vail and Miss Helen Mason, and a song by members of the Queen Esther Circle.

Lincoln's Birthday was generally observed in the schools of the city with appropriate exercises. Yesterday the schools closed for their annual spring vacation, and many of the students are planning on spending the next week at the beaches or in the mountains.

In an interview this morning, Walter Raymond, proprietor of the Raymond Hotel, stated his hotel was having a fine season, in fact, the best for five years with one exception.

It is reported that the Glendale Water Company has made arrangements to purchase water from Los Angeles, but will still do its own distributing. This will be welcome news to the western part of the city, which is supplied by the above company.

INDIANS WIN.

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Sherman Institute Indians defeated Pomona High's baseball team by a 15-to-1 score this afternoon at Chemawa Park. The Indians outplayed the Pomonans at every point. Sherman's battery was composed of White Tree and Jim White; Pomona, W. Smith, W. Morse and Parker.

Dyspepsia Creates Queer Sensations

To Get Rid of That Bloated, Inflated Stomach Pressure Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets After Eating.

Ever meet that sad-eyed young man who tells you the earth is tottering on its axis? He's a dyspeptic. If he is not too for removed from advice and argument induce him to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for a few days. Watch the change. He will now appreciate a funny story; he will go so far as to admit that some cooks are better than others; he will even accept an invitation to a banquet.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but natural elements necessary to digestion, and when placed at work in the weak stomach and small intestines, supply what these organs need. They stimulate the gastric glands and gradually bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition.

There is no secret in the preparation of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are the most popular of all remedies for indigestion, dyspepsia, water brash, insomnia, loss of appetite, melancholia, constipation, dysentery and other kindred diseases, originating from improper dissolution and assimilation of foods, because they are thoroughly reliable, and harmless to man or child.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are at once a safe and a powerful remedy, they will digest your food for you when your stomach can't.

This is a rare opportunity for the sick and afflicted to get an expert opinion on their case free. Difficult and obscure cases especially invited. Come this week and find out your trouble. Absolutely FREE.

DRS. SHORES, Specialists

Drs. A. J. and G. W. Shores have spent many years in the study and treatment of Chronic and Nervous Diseases of Men, Women and Children. They have treated over 100,000 cases in the past twenty years—an experience rarely ever granted any specialists—and have gleaned therefrom information that is invaluable to sick people. They would not attempt to treat Scarlet Fever or Diphtheria at any price, not because they don't know how, but because they have not given it the thought and constant study that other doctors have, and, in short, it is not in their line of specialties. Every moment is given to the treatment of CATARRH, CONSUMPTION, CHRONIC and NERVOUS DISEASES EXCLUSIVELY. There is where they excel and there is where they can serve you better than most any one else. Don't be a permanent invalid.

They know what causes Catarrh. They know how to cure it. They know what causes Stomach Trouble. They know how to CURE it, instead of merely relieving it. They have studied the Liver, the Kidneys, the Ears, the Throat and the Lungs, and they know what to do for these troubles. Health is your greatest asset. GET CURED NOW.

CATARRH, DEAFNESS AND EAR NOISES.

Why not try the treatment that cures? We have published many testimonials from well-known and reliable people, who have been cured of Catarrh, Asthma, Deafness and Ear Noises. If you suffer from any Chronic Ailments, why not come and see the Doctors who cure? Call or Write.

Blight of a Bad Breath.

Do people shun you because you have an offensive breath? Certain forms of catarrh, commonly called "ozena" or dry catarrh, have a very offensive odor.

KIDNEY AND LIVER

Troubles, Sallow Complexion, Pain in Back, Burning or Smarting when urinating. Puffiness under the Eyes. Heed these warnings. Bring a sample of urine and have it tested free. Call Today.

PROMINENT SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH

THE HEAD AND THROAT.

This form of catarrh is most common, resulting from neglected colds. Quickly cured with little cost by Drs. Shores' famous treatment.

Is your head stopped up?
Does your nose discharge?
Is your nose sore and tender?
Is there pain in front of the head?
Is your throat dry in the morning?
Do you sleep with your mouth open?
You can be easily cured now. Don't let it run into complications.

THE BRONCHIAL TUBES.

When catarrh of the head or throat is neglected or wrongfully treated it extends down the windpipe into the bronchial tubes, and after a while attacks the lungs.

Have you a cough?
Do you take cold easily?
Have you a pain in the side?
Do you raise frothy materials?
Do you spit up little cheesy lumps?
Do you feel like you were growing weaker?

Don't risk neglecting these warnings—stop the disease before it reaches the lungs.

OF THE EARS.

Catarrh extends from the throat, along the eustachian tubes into the ears, causing partial or complete deafness.

Is your hearing failing?
Do your ears discharge? Do they ring?
Is the wax drying in your ears?
Do you hear better on some days?
Does a cold make your hearing worse?
Don't neglect this until your hearing is irreparably destroyed.

OF THE STOMACH.

Catarrh of the stomach is usually caused by swallowing poisonous mucus which drops down from the head and throat at night.

Are you constipated?
Is there nausea?
Do you belch up gas?
Do you bloat up after eating?
Is there constant bad taste?
Now is the time to be permanently cured. Drs. Shores are curing hundreds every year.

WHAT SULZER WANTS.

A Permanent Monument at the Exposition to Cost Quarter-Million Dollars Would Suit Him.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) Feb. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gov. Sulzer hates to see New York spend $700,000 in connection with the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco in 1915 and have nothing left at the conclusion of the exposition to show for it. He said today that he favors spending as much as $250,000 for a permanent memorial to be set up at the entrance to the Golden Gate.

It would be the Governor's idea to have such a memorial to represent some great world thought, much on the plan of the Statue of Liberty in New York Harbor.

"That shows the traveler the idea of 'liberty enlightening the world,'" said the Governor, "and as the old saying goes, 'westward the path of empire takes its way,' I should think an illustration of the thought that 'so far and no farther can the tide of man go' would be appropriate for a Golden Gate memorial. That is the end of the emigrant's trail."

Gov. Sulzer was chairman of the commission which had in charge New York State's part of the Columbian Exposition in 1893 at Chicago, and he says since that time he has been opposed to putting up temporary buildings for exposition purposes.

Alimony Pending Divorce Decision Is Granted Mrs. Bishop, Niece of Late Gen. Hancock.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Abigail Hancock Bishop, niece of the late Gen. Winfield Scott Hancock, who is suing James Cunningham Bishop, the banker, for absolute divorce, today received an award from the court of $20,000 a year alimony and $2000 more a year for the support of their youngest daughter, pending determination of the action for divorce.

The order allowing Mrs. Bishop alimony and custody of the youngest child was handed down today by Justice Hendrick of the Supreme Court. The justice made no provision for the elder two daughters, who have been living with their father since he and Mrs. Bishop became estranged. Mrs. Bishop had asked for $25,000 a year for herself and $5000 a year for each of her daughters. In granting $20,000 alimony to Mrs. Bishop, Justice Hendrick said that if the case were put on the calendar for trial now it could be settled within four months.

THOUSANDS SEE ARCHITECTS' EXHIBIT

Display Is Superior This Year to Any Given Previously by Organization.

With larger and better displays and an increased attendance, the fourth annual exhibit of the Los Angeles Architectural Club is proving to be superior to any which have been held in previous years. The exhibition room is on the fourth floor of the Hamburger building, Broadway and Eighth streets, and it is open from 10 in the morning to 10 in the evening each day.

The permanent commercial exhibit is to be seen on the roof of this magnificent building. All elevators run to same and all are invited to visit the beautiful Malthoid roof garden. Thousands of visitors are enjoying the sight of the growing city, to be seen from this garden of 80,000 square feet of surface—the largest west of Chicago—made, laid and guaranteed by the manufacturers of Malthoid Roofing and Flooring—The Paraffine Paint Co., E. G. Judah, manager Los Angeles Branch.—[Advertisement.

Simply Awful!

FOR THREE HUNDRED COMMISSIONS, BOARDS, JOBS AND FAT OFFICES.

Grafting Schemes in the Fifty-Two-Million-Dollar Grab the "Battlers-for-the-Lord" Are Trying to Put Across at Sacramento—Amazing Collection of Freak Measures.

THE wretched charlatanry and shallowness of the Johnson-Lissner-Eddie administration is reflected in the myriad of red, senseless and freaky measures offered by the legislative "crusaders for the Lord" at Sacramento during the first half of the bifurcated session. Many of the bills strike at the foundation stones of State and national government and, if enacted into laws, would turn the present scheme of government topsy-turvy.

Hundreds of the measures reek with insane and Socialistic features designed by cunning third-party ringsters to catch the eyes and votes of the followers of Marx, Debs, Gompers and other eminent friends of the dynamite bomb. The glassy-eyed legislation proposed by the State machine would make a Russian nihilist turn green with envy. We must even dress our children in uniforms! We must abstain from ice cream on Sunday! So says holy Lieut.-Gov. Wallace of the Sinaloa Land Co. and Seaside Water Co.!

If one-third of the 3800 measures introduced are enacted into laws they would reduce the present statutes of the State to chaos and provide thousands of high-salaried jobs for faithful henchmen of the unscrupulous clique. The bills provide for everything under the sun, from prohibiting the sale of ice cream on Sunday to abolishing poverty. Nearly every "Progressive" legislator offered at least one bill which provides for the creation of commissions and appointment of "experts" to high-salaried State jobs.

The "Progressive" faddists apparently fell over one another in their haste to introduce measures lopsided with paternalism and quackery. Paternalism that seeks to infringe on the individual rights is one of the pet fads of third-party statesmen. The regular "Holy Hiram" Christian soldier fairly revels in paternalistic goings.

And the legislators have been so conservative in seeking appropriation for pet schemes, in providing for fat jobs and salaries for the purpose of building and perpetuating a great political machine! The 120 Senators and Assemblymen ask that the State contribute a mere $52,000,000 to enable them to manipulate their pet projects and puerile undertakings during the next two years. All of this is asked for in the name of perfect purity and superior righteousness by the ring of cheap politicians masquerading as dear friends of the people and implacable foes of State unrighteousness.

THREE HUNDRED COMMISSIONS, ETC.

Of the 3800 measures offered in the thirty-day session, nearly 300 provide for the creation of commissions, boards and offices, calling for appropriations of over $10,000,000 to pay the salaries of Bull Moose henchmen and foreign experts brought to California to tell us how to run our State government. If these 300 measures are enacted into laws they would place over a thousand high-salaried "Progressives" on the State pay roll in addition to several thousand assistants, deputies and other employees. Most of these bills establishing commissions are administrative measures and are designed for one purpose—the building of a powerful political machine in California which, once set up, it would take a quarter of a century to destroy.

But speaking of glassy-eyed legislation, the bill offered by Senator Lee C. Gates to abolish poverty and establish State free soup and bunk houses for I.W.W. idlers, hobos and loafers is a common-sense proposition compared with some of the other "battling-for-the-Lord" legislation.

Following are a number of bills and amendments introduced by members of the present Legislature in both houses:

FARWELL'S FREAKS.

Assemblyman Farwell of Los Angeles has asked for $2000 to bring an expert out here to draft a bill providing for pure paint. Also a $14,000 appropriation to enforce the pure paint law after it is enacted into law. The chemist to receive $2000 a year. Farwell also would regulate the news and editorial policy of every paper in the State. He introduced a constitutional amendment which gives every candidate for office a legal right to walk into a newspaper office and force the editor to publish laudatory articles about said candidate without charge. And if Mr. Office Hunter should happen by chance to take offense at any derogatory articles in any newspaper in the State, under the Farwell amendment he has the power to force the editor to write a lengthy editorial apologizing for the editorial policy of his paper and ending by boosting the petty office seeker. It is one of the most ridiculous propositions offered during the first half of the session. It strikes at the freedom of the press and would make every newspaper in the State the plaything of cheap politicians and pap hunters.

Farwell also offered an amendment to the Constitution creating a third-party dynasty in California. Under it the Governor would have the power to appoint all State officers now elected by the people, with the exception of Lieutenant-Governor and Controller. And another by Farwell to create a "Governor's Cabinet" modeled after the President's Cabinet. All of the State officers appointed by the Governor, together with the elective officials, to sit in the Cabinet, which would meet once a week. The Farwell amendments bear the O.K. brands of both Johnson and Lissner.

A GROCER-JUDGE.

A constitutional amendment providing for the recall of judicial decisions was offered by Assemblyman Ambrose of this city. Ambrose is a grocer in Boyle Heights and in all probability never read a judicial decision in his life; yet he would recall decisions handed down by learned and distinguished jurists of nation-wide reputation for fairness and legal knowledge. When Ambrose was asked why he offered the amendment, he replied: "Sometimes the judges get off wrong on cases and I think it would be a good thing to scarce them by providing for the recall of their decisions." Think of it. Assemblyman Weldon, a farmer near Stockton, also offered an amendment to the Constitution providing for the recall of decisions. Ambrose is one of Lissner's pets and was recommended for the Legislature by the Stimson-Brundige-Eddie clique of uplifters.

"Rough-house McDonald of San Francisco, an ex-prize fighter and union labor leader in the Assembly, wants the Legislature to appropriate $7500 to provide jobs for three union boiler makers who shall inspect boilers and union gas ranges throughout the State. Another by McDonald to prohibit the use of bran, sawdust, rice or other similar substances for the purpose of stopping leaks in stationary locomotives or other boilers. McDonald also offered a drastic anti-injunction bill legalizing picketing.

Assemblyman Ambrose also introduced a bill regulating practice of medicine, surgery and other modes of treating the sick and afflicted. It provides for a board of medical, drugless and religious practitioners. Ambrose probably would recognize a sick egg from a healthy one. Think of a grocer regulating the practice of medicine in the great State of California.

Senator Regan of San Francisco, a union labor leader, would abolish both the Supreme and Appellate Courts of the State. Regan isn't a lawyer, but some friends of his have been hard hit by recent decision of the higher courts. Messrs. Tveitmoe and Clancy, who recently inspected the interior of Leavenworth prison, are bosom companions of Regan.

NO ICE CREAM ON SUNDAY.

Assemblyman Benedict of Los Angeles introduced a Sunday Rest Law that is without doubt the most drastic ever offered in the Union. It prohibits the baking of bread on Sunday, also the eating or selling of ice cream or candy between the hours of 9 o'clock and 1 o'clock. It would close drug stores for several hours on Sunday and makes it a misdemeanor for anyone to sell or give away medicine during the restricted hours. If a little baby was taken seriously ill it would make it a crime for a druggist to give or sell the parents any remedy which might result in saving the child's life.

Senator Kehoe of Humboldt introduced a bill providing for a legislative reference and counsel bureau, to consist of ten members, each to receive $3600 a year for telling members of the Legislature what bills to introduce, how to introduce them. It also provides for a secretary and "extra help."

Senator Gates's famous bill to hasten the millennium by abolishing poverty, provides that "to eat, work and to be recompensed for enforced idleness is hereby declared to be the inalienable right of every man and woman in California." Nuff sed.

Senator Finn, water-front boss and leader of the San Francisco unionite delegation in both houses of the Legislature, wants the State to pay criminals and murderers in State prisons $1 a day every working day. Finn was a well-known boss in the "old push days," but Johnson got ahold of him and made him the administration's representative in the Bay City. Finn has offered more than a dozen anti-capital and pro-union labor measures during the first half of the session. All of the bills were drafted by the hired agents of union labor at Sacramento. Union labor has more representatives lobbying at the capital than have all corporations and other organizations combined. It was estimated that union labor had forty hired lobbyists on the job during the first half.

TO "REGULATE" REAL ESTATE.

Assemblyman Bloodgood of Los Angeles offered a Blue Sky Law, which level-headed realty dealers and leading business men say would harass legitimate enterprise, cripple business, and retard the growth of California if enacted into law. Bloodgood practices law at Inglewood, just outside the city, and apparently thinks it his "uplift duty" to regulate real estate and investment companies. If enacted into law, Bloodgood's bill would require at least $200,000 a year to finance the hundreds of odd jobs it would create.

Assemblyman Roberts of Los Angeles has asked for $50,000 for a commission to investigate wages. It provides for the appointment by the Governor of five commissioners at $4800 per. It also provides for a secretary and "extra help." After investigating for two years the commissioners report to the Legislature "what they know about wages."

Assemblyman Mouser wants the State to appropriate $13,000 to promote education in social science and the arts. Of course it creates three fat jobs at $3600 per, plus traveling expenses necessary to "uplift art." Mouser is some artist when it comes to the art of self-defense, for did he not blacken the right eye of "Doc" Whiteside during a "Progressive" rally a few days before the November election, merely because "Doc" refused to call on Mouser to address the assemblage?

MOUSER'S MILLION.

Mouser has asked for $1,000,000 for the erection of a California counties building at the Panama-Pacific exposition. This is to be in addition to the 5 per cent. tax levied upon each county of the State by the Legislature of 1911. The bill provides that each county shall pay the cost of its county exhibit at the exposition. Also one by Mouser increasing the pay of the State Labor Commissioner and deputies, which jobs are now held by rabid union labor henchmen. Mouser lives in a strong union labor district and has always played to that crowd. He wants an appropriation of $20,000 for this purpose.

ON THE VERGE OF BIG DROP.

Nibble at Swindlers' Bait Costs Hundreds.

Prospective "Sucker" Nearly Loses Thousands.

Deep Method in Operations of This Gang.

One of the cleverest gangs of confidence men in the country, according to reports of the victim, H. B. Wilson of La Mirada, who lost only $375 after having been "ribbed up" for $8000, is doing business in Los Angeles. Far above the ordinary caliber of swindlers, this gang worked out one of the most delicately-laid plots ever set in Southern California, and after spending considerable money made scarcely sufficient to pay its actual expense of operation.

According to Wilson, he was seated in the Arcade station about three weeks ago, waiting for his train to La Hirada, where he is foreman of the J. B. Reeves ranch. A drunken man came stumbling along and bumped over him, buch to the apparent disgust of the man who sat next to him. "It's a shame a fellow that younc should go to the bad," said the stranger as an entering wedge.

From that, the conversation developed along the lines of climate and finally came to real estate. The stranger had introduced himself as Henry West of Denver, a postoffice official on a vacation. "My wife's health broke down and I have decided to come here and obtain a transfer to some California station, putting my money in property out here," he said.

WELL SELECTED.

Wilson, who is a man of considerable property, having a large ranch near Tehachepi, an orange and lemon ranch near Ontario and other property, scented a sale, told of his various properties, and West practically offered to buy as soon as he had definitely found out whether a transfer was possible. By that time the train was ready and Wilson left.

Three weeks later, while overseeing work on the ranch, he saw West coming across the ploughed fields and when the two met, Wilson's friend of the depot said he had decided to buy the Tehachepi property, if, after investigation, it proved satisfactory. He asked Wilson to meet him at one of the downtown hotels.

Wilson was there at the appointed time and West introduced him to a man who purported to be the hotel manager, and whose name is understood to be Smith. The latter had been auditing the books at this hotel but said he was forced to go to another of the large hotels, where he was also manager, and invited the two to accompany him. West claimed to know well the father of Smith, who had practically turned over his business to the son in order to gradually get out of the harness.

At the second hotel, Smith, after removing his coat and hat and apparently puting them in the office, but really in the check room, proceeded to the dining-room. There he spoke to the girls in an official manner, walked about the room, and even stepped into the kitchen to look after the service, as he said. After dinner drinks were suggested in the cafe, but Smith declared that he never drank openly in his hotels.

PAID IN ADVANCE.

He suggested retirement to a room which it was afterward discovered had been engaged earlier in the day by two other men, who evidently had given him the key to carry on the work. The man who took the room registered as R. J. Stanley of San Francisco, and from all search in the matter, took no further part in the little bunco drama. While Wilson, West and Smith sat talking about land values, a tall man, one with a real Texas twang, according to Wilson, and one ostensibly under the influence of liquor, came lounging into the place and acted in a noisy manner.

Smith proceeded to show his authority and after telling him he was a nuisance and undesirable in the hotel, went downstairs and soon after came up with an envelope, wh'ch he tore open and proceeded to count the contents, more than $5000, which he handed to the Texan, who gave his name as Heins, and ordered him out of the place. That was last Tuesday evening, and after the episode West and Wilson, both strong in their approval of Smith's procedure, hurried to the depot to take the train to Mojave, near which place Wilson's property is located.

Wednesday was passed in going over this property and West was very enthusiastic on its merits. He decided to take it and from Mojave wired his wife to have things ready for his return. On reaching Los Angeles Thursday, Wilson and West proceeded to the hotel in which they had first met Smith. They found him standing in the lobby, hatless and apparently supervising the service. He welcomed them and West proposed going directly to his room.

SO THOUGHTFUL.

Smith expostulated on the score that it would disturb Mrs. West, who apparently had been in poor health, and suggested the smoking-room as the best place to conclude the matter. Once in the smoking-room West came directly to the point.

"I have $8000 here to put down on the property and bind the bargain, and I think that since you may change your mind about the price and it will take you some time to go after your papers, you should put up a like amount as a bond or guarantee of good faith," he said to Wilson, and further suggested that the money be placed in escrow with Smith.

Wilson said he did not have that much ready cash and it was suggested that he go to a local bank with which he has considerable business dealings and secure a loan through a mortgage of his orange ranch, which he was assured would readily be given by the banker who knew its value to be five or six times the $8000. Wilson admitted yesterday that at first he thought of doing this, but that a dread of mortgages, after a sad experience years ago, made him obdurate and he refused finally to consider this course.

"I'll put up what cash I have with me," he told them, and the bunco artists, seeing their big profits rapidly dwindling, took a chance to get even a small amount. Wilson handed Smith $375, currency, all the money in his wallet, while West, to show his good faith, doubled that amount and papers to that effect were signed. Then West excused himself for a few minutes to go and talk with his sick wife. Smith and Wilson talked affably over the affair and Smith finally suggested press of business which made it essential to return to some of his work.

That was the last of West and Smith, and for that matter of the entire gang. Wilson came out of the smoking-room and casually sauntered over to the desk, inquiring on arrival as to the whereabouts of the manager, Mr. Smith. The clerk looked incredulous.

"We have no manager by that name in this hotel," he said, and proved his assertion by calling in the proprietor and manger and introducing him, at which Wilson began to have a suspicion. His mention of the name of Smith, however, brought to mind the hotel men of the same name, father and son, and these apparently were in charge of the second hotel at which Wilson had seen the tall Texan, who had endeared himself, despite his physical condition, because of the fact that Wilson had also lived in Texas for a number of years.

Arriving there he asked for Manager John Smith. The senior of that party came upon the scene and stated that his son was not in any way connected with the hotel, but that another son was in the business. He called the other son, who was not at all the right Smith. In order to satisfy Wilson, the John Smith who had been impersonated by an imposter was called from home and on putting in his appearance did not answer at all the description of the bogus manager as he turned out to be.

Wilson was dumfounded and only then came to a realization of the fact that he had been played. It took him some time to finish questioning the Smiths, and even then he seemed dazed and doubtful. Yesterday he said that he had been the dupe of very clever sharpers.

DOWN TO MINUTIA.

"Everything was carried out in such detail, not the slightest thing happened to arouse my suspicion, even after I had turned over the money," said Wilson. "There were five or six men and possibly a woman in the deal and evidently they had studied all of my properties and were acquainted with my friends. West displayed a wonderful knowledge of postoffice work when I first met him and I had been in that line at one time and it at once created a bond of sympathy. How the gang ever carried out all of their hotel work, I don't know. They had the name of Smith right and the man who took that part, was polished, well-dressed, apparently well-versed in the hotel business and just the man for the position he seemed to fill. Had it not been for my hate of mortgages, the gang would probably have gotten away with a much larger sum of money, which evidently was their plan."

Wilson described the various parties as men he will never quite eradicate from his memory. "West was about 30 years old, had a slight scar on his left cheek, and on our trip, after two days without a shave, his beard showed a very reddish tinge," said Wilson. "Heins, the Texan, was more than six feet tall, had rather a hang-dog carriage, and purported to be a mule and cattle dealer. Smith, who perpetrated the hotel manager, was of medium build, brown hair, and strong face."

MOUNTAINS TO SEA BOULEVARD.

First Step in Metropolitan Development System.

Activity in the Arroyo Seco Parkway Project.

General District Scheme for Great Improvements.

BY L. D. COX,

Landscape Architect, Park Department.

The time is probably not far distant when Los Angeles will conduct many of her larger municipal projects by means of the metropolitan district scheme. The various plans for the distribution of the Aqueduct water are based on such a scheme. The ultimate solution of the sewer problem can be in no other way, and finally if Los Angeles is to take her just rank in developing and making accessible her surrounding natural beauties, she must have a comprehensive metropolitan park system.

The first step toward such a scheme of metropolitan park development is being taken in the proposed plan for securing a great boulevard from the mountains to the sea through the proposed Arroyo Seco parkway.

The valley of the Arroyo Seco, which will form this parkway and has been described and illustrated in a previous article, extends a distance of twelve miles from the center of the City of Los Angeles, through the cities of Pasadena and South Pasadena and a part of Los Angeles county, to a 1,250,000-acre forest reserve, the Angeles National Forest. It can be readily seen that the success of the scheme must depend on the united efforts of the three municipalities and the county government. How necessary is this united effort will be better understood from the accompanying diagram, which illustrates the relation of the several portions of the arroyo to the respective districts.

GROWTH OF IDEA.

The original movement looking to the acquisition of the Arroyo Seco for park purposes was begun in this city a good many years ago. At first the idea was simply to create a local park and so preserve for posterity within the limits of the city an example of the beauty of the original landscape. However, with the years of effort on the part of the Arroyo Seco people, this movement has steadily grown until there has been evolved the present ambitious plan for securing the entire valley for a great parkway from the city to the mountains.

First, Pasadena and then South Pasadena, each already interested in preserving the arroyo within their own boundaries, gave their support to the common plan and finally the Board of Supervisors added its approval to the scheme, and the chain was complete.

Many civic organizations and a large number of persons prominent in all lines of life and civic activity have given time and effort to the Arroyo Seco. In Pasadena, among others, Mayor Thum, C. D. Daggett, Myron Hunt and several members of the City Council and Board of Trade have conducted an active campaign. In South Pasadena the committee which has conducted the publicity campaign to arouse public opinion, and has been instrumental in securing options on a large part of the parkway area, is composed of R. D. List, Mrs. Edward A. Simons, John E. Carson, Mrs. E. H. Rust and Mrs. E. N. Mumford.

Supervisors Butler, Manning and Pridham have all given considerable time and attention to the matter and have pledged the county's support. Pridham has been one of the most active workers in any of the districts. In Los Angeles, it would be impossible to give a list of the Arroyo Seco enthusiasts, as their name is legion. Nearly every prominent organization in the city has at one time or another gone on record in favor of the project, and many individual members and other citizens have worked long and faithfully.

SHOULDERS TO WHEEL.

Among those who have been most active during the campaign which goes back many years, have been the following: Mrs. A. S. Lobingier, Mrs. O. C. Bryant, Mr. F. W. Blanchard, Mrs. C. F. Edson, Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, Councilman McKenzie, George Brock, C. H. Randall, Capt. H. Z. Osborne, Mrs. E. K. Foster, Mrs. D. C. McCan, Ernest Braunton, G. W. Griffith, the members of the Los Angeles Park Commission and many others.

Like all great projects whose returns are not readily measured financially, a vast amount of effort has been necessary to arouse the public opinion, which must always exist, before such a project can be realized. Today, however, a vast and growing sentiment has arisen throughout the whole district, so that the preserving and developing of the Arroyo Seco seems assured. Los Angeles is definitely committed to the acquisition of its share of the parkway by means of a great assessment district. Pasadena has alreaddy secured the greater part of the valley lying within her boundaries; South Pasadena has secured options of a large share of its portion of the project, and the county has promised to do its part. Each district is proceeding with the solution of its problem in its own way. Los Angeles will condemn the land and pay for it by an extensive assessment district; South Pasadena contemplates a bond issue; the county will levy a small special tax, and Pasadena is securing her portion by direct purchase, by private subscriptions and by bonds.

ARDENT ADVOCATE.

In Pasadena the success of the movement has been largely due to the efforts of Mayor Thum, who has been for many years a lover of the arroyo and a worker for its preservation. Several different ways have been adopted by the Crown City in securing the arroyo land. Lots have been purchased by the city when sold for delinquent taxes, other portions were the gift of individual citizens and many acres were secured on options at nominal figures and then purchased by public fund or private subscription as the options became due. The largest part, however, was the result of the recent bond election, which authorized the purchase of the local water companies, whose holdings were largely in the Arroyo Seco Valley. Pasadena has secured more than two-thirds of the entire area within her boundaries and is working to get the remainder.

The total area of the completed parkway will be nearly 1400 acres, the larger portion lying within the city of Pasadena, whose share of the arroyo will be between 500 and 600 acres. The portion which will be condemned by Los Angeles is approximately 380 acres, and the areas within the county and South Pasadena are 300 and 100 acres respectively.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS.

With the extension of the boulevard from the arroyo through Elysian Park and the Silver Lake parkway, thence by Wilshire boulevard to the sea, the question arises whether or not Santa Monica will not take her part in the metropolitan scheme and secure the proper terminal park feature for the ocean end of this great scenic drive. With the securing of the arroyo parkway, joint control of the development of the various municipalities will become necessary and then the metropolitan scheme of park administration will become definitely established in Los Angeles. It will be then but a short step to a metropolitan park board representing the towns and cities of the Los Angeles district, and the creation here of a great metropolitan park system with its landscape features of mountain, ocean and valley, a system more varied and more beautiful than that which forms the famous system by the shores of Massachusetts Bay. With the wealth of the California flora and the glamor of the California sunshine, such a metropolitan park system may well become the chief claim of Los Angeles to a position among the beautiful cities of the world.

Husky Austrian Impersonator of Women Will Be Arraigned As Soon As He Can Be Arrayed.

Frank Anna Bucher, who was arrested for appearing on the streets attired as a woman, languishes in a tank at the City Jail a hobbledehoy, resembling neither man nor woman, but an odd mixture of both.

Frank Anna is a curiosity among the "bos" and "vags," dressed as he is in a queer conglomeration of garments of both sexes. Detective Zeigler is looking for a complete outfit for the husky Austrian, and as soon as Frank Anna can be outfitted as a man he will be taken into the Police Court and arraigned.

Apparently Frank Anna doesn't see the enormity of his offense, for he considers his arrest a joke. He declares he can't understand why anyone should object if it pleases him to masquerade as an Amazon.

Circular letters have been sent to places where Frank Anna says he has worked, to get his record.

Several hundred dollars' worth of feminine frippery was found in Frank Anna's room, but nothing that a man is permitted to wear. Fine silk stockings, powder puffs, expensive corsets and fancy shirtwaists indicate Frank Anna's penchant for things men aren't supposed to be interested in.

and is playing to the union labor outfit at every stage of the game.

Senator Bryant of San Francisco, a unionite, would abolish capital punishment and make it easy for the Governor or "Lieutenant-Governor" to snatch a murderer from the gallows. Bryant's bill to abolish capital punishment has the support of "Progressive" Legislators in both houses.

TO REGULATE DRESS.

Senator Campbell of San Luis Obispo, would subject all appointive officers to the recall. Senator Birdsall would require children in schools to wear uniform clothes and would prohibit the wearing of silk stockings, rah rah hats, colored shirts and patent leather shoes.

Senator Cohn of Sacramento would send two "experts" abroad to study financial, market and credit systems of various countries in Europe. It would provide a fine junketing trip for two saintly battlers-for-the-Lord and would't cost the State over $7500.

Assemblyman Ryan of San Francisco, union labor leader, offered an act to "protect the public against combinations and conspiracies and to discourage monopoly and encourage competition among corporations and persons." Ryan, like all good Bull Moosers' is absolutely determined to exterminate "loathsome capital" and "organized greed." He doesn't care how he performs the feat, in fact, none of them do. The bill "to protect the public from corporations" was drafted by Theodore Johnson, star organized labor bill writer at Sacramento. Johnson draws a fat salary for his work.

Assemblyman Moorhouse of Imperial presented an act conferring authority on the Railroad Commission to prevent gas and water corporations from extending their services beyond a reasonable capacity or to limit the amount it furnishes to consumers. It would stifle legitimate development and throttle honest business, say opponents of the measure. It is loaded with anarchistic "bugs."

All in the name of perfect purity and superior righteousness.

On with the uplift!

Money Taken in Through Field Service of the General Land Office Equals Expenses Six Times.

H. L. Underwood, acting chief of the field service of the General Land Office, was in the city yesterday on an official tour. He will go to Salt Lake City Tuesday morning, and thence east to the national capital.

As indicating the work of the field service Underwood said that during the four and a half years, beginning July 1, 1908, there was received in the United States Treasury through recoveries in timber trespass cases, timber trespass settlements and permit collections, $1,361,189.03. In addition there was restored to the public domain through suits to cancel patents, 102,525 acres, the estimated value of which is $4,172,118. Included in this is nearly 25,000 acres of coal land, the value of which, at prices fixed by the Geological Survey, is $2,059,492.

There has been restored to the public domain through cancellation proceedings in the General Land Office, 2,747,040 acres, the estimated value of which is $14,207,100. This includes nearly 16,000 acres of coal land valued at $973,000, this value being placed by the classification of the Geological Survey. The homestead land is valued at $5 an acre; the desert land at $2.50 an acre; timber and stone, at $5, and mineral land at $5 an acre. During that time there was restored from unlawful enclosure, 6,447,189 acres.

The appropriation allowed for the maintenance of the field force for the peroid specified was $3,108,330. Thus the recoveries in cash with the estimated value of recoveries of land is over six times the amount appropriated.

Defense in the Darrow Trial Expects Speedy Presentation Of Its Witnesses.

Lincoln Steffens, "philosophical anarchist," according to his statement, will come from his home in the East to tell the part he says he played in bringing about tht confession of the two McNamaras, during the presentation of the defense in the Darrow trial. His testimony is alleged to show in a measure that the defendant did not need to bribe George N. Lockwood, because the compromise was then virtually agreed upon.

Attorney Geisler of the defense legal staff said yesterday that Frank N. Wolfe, city editor of the Municipal News, will be an important witness. He is expected to testify that he came on the same car with Darrow on the morning that Franklin swore the defendant gave him $4000 with which to bribe Lockwood, and was with his employer for some time after reaching the Higgins building.

"We intend to hasten the testimony as compared with the former trial," said Geisler. "Of course we cannot tell how long the cross-examination will take."

It is believed that the State will subject all the defense witnesses to searching examinations and round up its side of the case with some unexpected rebuttal. Asst. Dist.-Atty. Ford declined to explain what the rebuttal will consist of, but he intimated yesterday that it mty have an important bearing upon the case.

Trial will be resumed at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

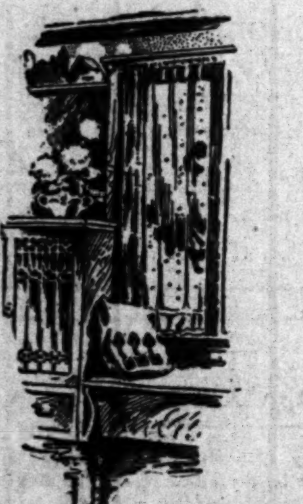
The New Draperies are Indescribably Beautiful

THE draperies are probably the most important factor in creating the atmosphere of the room. Their influence, however, is so subtle that to secure the most pleasing results requires the most delicate discrimination,

The "California" has made a careful study of drapery harmony—and it is in helping you to secure most harmonious results for your special requirements that our service is entirely in a class alone in Los Angeles. In augmenting this important service we show the most critical selections of the new drapery ideas to be found anywhere in the West.

We especially emphasize our showing of the exclusive new designs in Filet and Cluny lace curtains—exquisite tapestries in reproductions of rare antique stuffs and the more graceful period designs such as the Adam, Chippendale, etc.—dainty English and French chintzes and cretonnes—and beautiful fancy linens in block prints for bedroom draperies. You may be assured that whatever you find here represents the world's very latest thought in artistic draperies.

All who are interested in securing ideal effects in the home are cordially invited to visit our Drapery Department that they may appreciate the advantages the "California" offers. Careful comparison will reveal to you the fact that we can serve you not only to best advantage, but with real economy.



In one of our windows this week are exhibited some exceedingly beautiful and exclusive drapery suggestions that you will enjoy seeing.

How I Cured My Superfluous Hair

A Friendly Scientist Showed Me How to Cure It Forever

I WILL TELL YOU FREE HOW TO CURE YOURS TOO.

For a long time I was sorely troubled by a hideous growth of Superfluous Hair on my face and arms. My face was indeed a sight from the exasperating growth and I grew almost to hate myself for my unsightly appearance.

There are many things advertised for Superfluous Hair, and I think I tried them all, but never with any result, except to waste my money and burn my skin.

But, notwithstanding all my years of disappointment, today there is not a sign of Superfluous Hair on my face, arms, or anywhere else. I got rid of it through following the advice of a friendly scientist, a Professor of Chemistry at an English University. The treatment he advised is so thorough, simple and easy to use that I want every other sufferer in America to know about it. It worked such a change in my appearance and my happiness, that I gladly waive my natural feelings of sensitiveness, and will tell broadcast to all who are afflicted how I destroyed every trace of hair, never to return.

If you are a sufferer and would like to have full details, just send along your name stating whether Mrs. or Miss and address, and a two-cent stamp for return postage, and you will receive my complete experience and advice by return mail. Address your letter, Mrs. Kathryn Jenkins, Suite 743 J. C. Duckworth Apartments, Scranton, Pa.

Note: Mrs. Jenkins is a well-known Society Leader in Scranton and will do as she says. Her photograph reproduced above shows she is a lady of refinement.

REDRAWING THE LINES.

Agent of General Land Office to Investigate Claims of Mining Company on Reservation.

The contention between the New La Paz Gold Mining Company and the government, involving the lines of the Colorado River Indian Reservation, originally laid down by proclamation of President Grant in 1874, will be the subject of an investigation about to be undertaken by G. W. Comerford, special agent of the General Land Office, the preliminary evidence to be taken at Yuma and closed at Tucson.

The mining corporation claims that its property lies outside the boundary line of the reservation, and for some time it has been endeavoring to get to work, but Indian Agent O. L. Babcock, acting on advices from Washington, has refused entrance to the workmen in the employ of the company. It is claimed that mining machinery valued at $35,000 is now lying near the line ready to be taken over in case the hearing is favorable to the company that owns and seeks to operate about 400 acres of land in that section.

The question to be determined by the hearing is whether La Paz Arroyo or Great Canta Duma Wash is the south line of the reservation, the company alleging that the latter is the real line of the Government property.

The most of the Colorado River Indian Reservation lies in Arizona. The value of the holdings of the New La Paz Gold Mining Company is undetermined.

Aeroplane Flight Below Sea Level

The cross-country flight from Santa Monica to Gotham Park to take place Sunday, February 16th, will be started at ten thirty sharp, landing in Gotham Park at 11 o'clock. Beginning at two thirty there will be an exhibition of flying, and at 4 o'clock the machine will be prepared for a cross-country flight around Los Angeles, landing in Griffith Park, which lies west of Tropico.

The machine used is a "veteran of many wars," being first used by Glenn L. Martin in a number of history-making flights and is the only machine ever flown successfully below sea level, and won a number of victories on the Eastern circuit. It was then driven by Miss Blanche Stuart-Scott in thrilling exhibitions in Los Angeles, 'Frisco, Boston, and other noted places and is now piloted by Mr. Grover E. Bell, a man of cool judgment and possessing the peculiar talents necessary for the making of famous aviators.

Mr. Bell will demonstrate the advances science has made in aviation and will give a clean-cut performance. He is developing into a cross-country flier who will be heard from in some of the big contests scheduled for the coming summer. The powerful eight-cylinder 60-horse power moter used in these flights the coming Sunday will sing a thrilling tune to the lover of good sport. At a quarter to eleven Sunday morning, the crowds at Gotham Park may expect to see a mere speck in the sky to the westward of the park and in long sweeping circles the machine will descend from a very high altitude until within a few hundred feet of the earth and will finish to Gotham Park by a brisk volplane from the east, landing squarely in the street in the center of the tract.

The exhibition in the afternoon will be at once noticeable for the stability of flight of the machine. The circles will be at varying altitudes and will be a demonstration of the accuracy and preciseness with which an aeroplane can be handled. At 4 o'clock the machine will be made ready for the trip around the city, finally landing in Griffith Park. Upon leaving the ground the machine will begin a series of circles going higher and higher until it has reached a great altitude and will then head straight away on a return flight.

Gotham Park is the latest tract of Commonwealth Home Builders. This has been planned and laid out with the view of making it the most beautiful of all tracts in the south or southwest.

Some of the unique features will be a fine club house with assembly hall, committee rooms, etc., and a wide veranda on three sides and it is expected that this will become the social center of Gotham Park. There will also be a fully equipped children's playground. A park with lawns, flowers and shrubbery extending through the tract from north to south, and on Harbor Boulevard (Main street and Manchester) there will be artistic cement columns with pergola tops at the street intersections. "Homeward" car to Manchester.

Public Service; City Hall, Cour

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Harbor Commission held a conference with Col. McKinstry, at the harbor yesterday on the controversy between the city and the Standard American Dredging Company. It is probable the Harbor Advisory Board will declare the contract cancelled tomorrow afternoon or ask the court for an injunction restraining the company from depositing dredgings from the government contract in the Huntington Fill.

Councilman McKenzie announced yesterday that he will ask the Gas, Light and Water Committee of the Council, of which he is chairman, to recommend to the Council that it submit a proposition to vote $1,000,000 for the purpose of extending the city water mains into eighteen districts of the city not now adequately served.

The Associated Charities appealed to the City Council for the second time, yesterday, to take over its woodyard and men's lodging-house, so that it may devote more time to the aid of women and children.

At the City Hall.

CITY MAY CANCEL BIG CONTRACT

DETERMINED TO MAKE DREDGING COMPANY TOE MARK.

If Dumping from Government Work Is Not Stopped by Tomorrow Afternoon Drastic Measures Will Be Taken by Harbor Advisory Board.

A long conference between the Harbor Commission, Special Counsel Hewitt and Col. McKinstry, army engineer in charge of the harbor, took place yesterday forenoon in regard to the controversy that has arisen between city officials and the Standard American Dredging Company over the failure of the company to obey the orders of the harbor engineers and its continuance in depositing dredgings from its government contract in Huntington Fill. The city officials maintain that there will not be sufficient room in the fill for the government dredgings and those that must be moved in dredging under city contract with this company, and that the excess dredging must be carried to sea at the expense of the contractor.

As it appears that the government officer is not in a position to give any special aid to the city in causing the wosk complained of to cease, the Harbor Advisory Board will probably take drastic action at its meeting tomorrow afternoon, unless the deposit of dredgings from the government work on the Huntington Fill has ceased before that time. Two courses are open for the Advisory Board, either to declare the contract with the Standard American Dredging Company canceled because of its alleged refusal to obey the orders of the harbor engineer, which the special counsel holds are authorized under the existing contract, or an appeal may be made to the courts for an injunction restraining the dredging company from depositing further dredgings in the fill from the government work.

Members of the Harbor Commission stated after yesterday's conference that they were in favor of taking definite action at tomorrow's session of the Advisory Board, and in this they will doubtless be sustained by the Mayor and the Board of Public Works, who are also members of the Advisory Board.

MILLION FOR WATER.

EXTENSION OF CITY SISTEM.

Councilman McKenzie, chairman of the Gas, Light and Water Committee of the City Council, announced yesterday that he will urge this committee tomorrow to recommend to the Council on Tuesday, when bond issues to be submitted to the people at a special election are to be discussed, that there be included a proposition to vote an issue of $1,000,000 for the purpose of extending city water mains into districts that are now inadequately served or have no water service.

If the committee will not give this proposition its recommendation, then McKenzie proposes to introduce such a resolution on his own initiative, and to do his utmost to secure its passage.

This proposition is to be on the understanding that in case the people approve of it the rule requiring the payment in advance, of 80 cents per foot for extension of mains, be abandoned.

McKenzie argues that there are eighteen districts within the city limits that are not properly served with water for domestic use, and that in such territories as are served by private water companies, the rate charged per month is so much higher than that charged by the city water department that the people could well afford to pay the cost of the proposed bond issue and still save money through the application of the lower rates.

Tear Up the Tracks?

Shall the Los Angeles Railway Corporation be compelled by the Board of Public Utilities to tear up its tracks in Temple street, from Broadway to Main street? This is a question that is of interest to the North-East-West Commercial and Improvement Association, as it wants the tracks retained and a car service instituted thereon, while there are other interests that want the tracks removed. The subject was before the Utilities Board during the past week, and has been referred to the City Attorney for his opinion on several legal points.

Would Legalize Spur Track.

The Board of Public Utilities has voted to recommend the granting of a permit to the Santa Fe Railroad for its spur track which crosses Avenue Sixty in Highland Park. The tracks have been in existence for several years, giving car access to a lumber yard that adjoins the city and county lands on Piedmont avenue, where it is proposed to create a public playground and erect a branch of the city library. The action of the commission is simply to legalize the existing spur.

The Arroyo Seco Chamber of Commerce wants the tracks removed and is also anxious to secure the removal of the lumber yard from what is a residence district. Vice-President Cuthbert of this organization was before the Utilities Board urging that the permit for the spur be not recommended, but as it has the indeterminate clause the spur can be ordered removed when the lumber yard vacates its present location, which must be within the ensuing three years.

Would Abandon Woodyard.

The Associated Charities sent a second communication to the City Council yesterday asking that it give immediate consideration to the offer of the association to turn over to the city its woodyard and lodging-house for men, so that the work may be enlarged and the association can be in a position to do more for needy women and children. Statistics showing the number of men given aid were filed with this request. A similar request was made several weeks ago, but the Council has taken no action upon it.

City Hall Brevities.

Judge Joseph Sabath of the Municipal Courts of Chicago is visiting in the city and called upon the Mayor yesterday to gather information regarding the workings of the "sunrise court" and other phases of municipal affairs in which he is interested.

At yesterday's conference between Council committees and the Board of Public Works on the proposed specifications for the construction of a garbage destruction plant various additions to the specifications were suggested and it was sent back to the City Attorney for redrafting. The amended specifications will be ready for presentation to the City Council one week from next Tuesday.

Employees of the Home Telephone Company have filed a request with the City Council for a refund of $20 levied as license fee for a benefit dance given for an injured operator of the telephone company. An amendment to the dance ordinance will be proposed by the Police Commission to provide that in such cases no license fee be charged.

A. J. Larsen, head of the Bureau of Sewer Assessments, stated yesterday that work is progressing well on the immense assessment rolls of the Hollywood main sewer district, but that it is not likely that assessments will become due thereon until some time in July.

At the Courthouse.

WILL APPEAL TO THE PRESIDENT.

CONVICTED LAWYER'S FRIENDS MUCH CONCERNED.

Will Urge on Mr. Taft that Attorney Has Been Sufficiently Punished by Arrest, Conviction and Confinement in County Jail—Grave Fears for His Health.

President Taft will be appealed to by the friends of Attorney Fred H. Thompson to pardon him for having appropriated a part of $15,000 stolen from the postoffice by Orlando F. Altorre. Thompson and his wife have been untiring in their efforts to keep him out of McNeil's Island, to which penitentiary he has been sentenced.

Only an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States can save Thompson if the President refuses to act, the United States Court of Appeals having affirmed the judgment of the United States District Court, which found Thompson guilty.

He is at the County Jail, and his friends declare they fear continued confinement will encompass his death. They are asking prominent Angelenos to tell the President that Thompson's arrest, conviction and confinement in the County Jail has sufficiently punished him, that the state of his health is precarious, and that his mental suffering is acute.

Thompson's early life was passed in manual labor. He worked while studying law, and his friends assert he lacked all the advantages of the average attorney. Since his confinement he has lost a leg by amputation, due to an inherited malady.

CARRIES IT HIGHER.

APPEAL IN PRAGER ESTATE.

The fight of Mrs. Fannie Prager Cohn to recover property left by Charles Prager to the collateral heirs, half of which will go to Mrs. Mary J. Prager, the widow, as community property, under the judgment of Judge Rives, will be continued. An appeal from the judgment was filed by Mrs. Cohn yesterday.

Prager left an estate valued at more than $1,000,000. His will bequeathes his property within the city to Mrs. Prager, including Prager Park and a residence, and a ranch in Orange county to the collateral heirs.

Mrs. Prager elected to take by the law rather than under the will. Her petition was contested by Mrs. Cohn, and the matter was fought out in the Probate Court, where Mrs. Prager won. By her election, Mrs. Prager obtained considerable more property than she would otherwise have secured.

HE'S IN AGAIN.

HINSON AND FINNEGAN.

John T. Hinson, a pressed brick manufacturer of Mt. Vernon, Ill., who was arrested in this city on a charge of embezzlement, was a twin brother of Finnegan yesterday. In the case of Finnegan, it was on again, off again, gone again, Finnegan. In Hinson's case there was a difference. He was in again, out again, almost gone again.

Deputy District Attorney Doran confessed the writ of habeas corpus and Judge Finlayson dismissed it. Deputy Sheriff Aguirre started back to jail with Hinson to get the latter's belongings when Doran ordered his rearrest on a fugitive warrant. Hinson is charged with having embezzled $5000 from a Los Angeles man in a real estate deal. He asserts his part in the transaction is honest.

COMPROMISES SUIT.

HEARST LIBEL DROPPED.

The $100,000 libel suit of M. W. Davis, former secretary of the Pasadena Board of Education, against W. R. Hearst, has been compromised. The sum agreed on its reported by Hearst's counsel, Attorney Meserve, to be $9500.

Davis won a verdict of $35,000 in the first trial before Judge Bordwell. Hearst appealed and a new trial was ordered. The verdict in the second trial was $32,750. Hearst moved for a new trial, which was granted.

It was stated yesterday that Davis is unable financially to prosecute a third trial and the way for a compromise was opened. He is represented by Attorney Sterry.

PROTEST TAXES.

COMPLAINTS AGAINST STATE.

In a suit filed against State Treasurer Roberts yesterday protesting against the tax levied on the gross earnings of the road by the State Board of Equalization, the Salt Lake Railroad alleges a tax of $71,500 is JUST PREENING.

Gov. "Billy" Sulzer is preening his feathers for the Presidential fight in 1916. This will make it necessary for President Wilson to keep one eye on Albany and the other on Trenton.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE LADIES.
The new President will not allow women in his inaugural parade. It will be interesting to see whether he will extend this order to the appointment of Federal officers in suffrage States.

A POPULAR MISCONCEPTION.
"Oh, well, we only live for once." People say this every day as an excuse for the way they do not live. It implies that perhaps they do live either many times or through numerous successions of the one life, and it confesses that in snatching at the portion they miss the whole.

A REASONABLE LIMIT.
Something should be done to protect the dead-letter office under the parcel-post system. The Chicago News suggests that it be equipped with cold-storage facilities. As a substitute measure we move that an inspector be appointed with power to bar antique eggs and liquefying cheese.

COMPARATIVE TEMPERATURES.
For February 14: Los Angeles, maximum 65; minimum 40. For Chicago, maximum 24; minimum 6. Now, say, Mr. Eastern Visitor, aren't you sorry that you can't get an extension on that return ticket—or sorrier still that you ever took a round-trip at all?

A STATE SECRET.
Mr. Wilson says that he will not announce the names of the members of his Cabinet until he sends them to the Senate for confirmation. Most of these gentlemen have wives, and we are at a loss to know how the President-elect will keep these happy dames from some slight self-congratulation beforehand.

MAKING TROUBLE.
The Democrats are said to be in favor of Senator Gore's plan to increase the Supreme Court from nine to eleven members, and the Washington Post thinks they have adopted the philosophy that every little job added to what they have makes just a little more pie. If the Post had to face the brigade of office-hunters lying in wait for Woodrow it might favor the electon of 1100 new judges.

BEAUTY FROM ASHES.
From the most caustic of vegetation a great loveliness springs. Exactly as the golden poppy has within its jeweled heart the powerful draught which might woo the world to sleep, so the humble grease-wood, or creosote bush, blossoms with a beauty of ineffable delicacy at this season when the desert yields few other blooms. The Spanish call it ede-un-dia, "fragrant-for-a-day."

A MAN'S PLACE.
Some there are who find the art their hearts love and cannot express themselves through it. Others know themselves for artists by inclination and cannot strike the golden tone to which the whole of their being would respond. A very few know themselves for artists and find that art which expresses their ineffable yearning. Of such cometh the songs of men. Through them the world is blest.

TO FLY OR NOT TO FLY.
We have seen a prediction that everybody will be able to fly by the first of 1918. Surely we will not all be angels so soon. Give us a little longer lease on the life that creeps along the earth in the sunshine and leave the flying for the long afterwhile. Still we are not unmindful of what Charles Kingsley has said about how hard it is for things to creep after they have once learned to wear wings.

AN ODD IDEA.
Would it not be strange if a tolerable completeness of life made it necessary for each man and woman to be so much of a master as to demand a realization within themselves of the characters of each of the twelve apostles? Are there at least twelve fundamental attributes upon which the fruition of a life depends? Are we so fascinated by the love of John, the devotion of Mark or the courage of Peter that we forget to redeem the Judas?

THE OLD STORY.
The Socialists elected a candidate to the City Council in San Bernardino. His conduct in office does not please all of them, and they wish to recall him. They seem never to understand that a public official from the day of his election no longer represents his party alone, if he is an honest man, but serves the whole people. It probably is not of record that the Socialists, as a body, were ever satisfied with one of their own jobs or with themselves or anything else. A man seems to become a Socialist as a sort of final protest against the universe.

"Tama Jim" Wilson will retire to his farm in Iowa at the close of his term of office. He has given such excellent advice to the agriculturists of the country that his own farm ought to be a great success. That is, if he practices what he has been preaching.

THE LITERACY TEST LAW.
President Taft's veto of the proposed literacy-test immigration law will be approved by all liberal-minded citizens. The immigrants unable to read and write who seek our shores do not come to obtain places on the police force, nor yet to orate from soap boxes on city street corners on the necessity of predatory wealth dividing its accumulations with them. Their illiteracy is their misfortune and not their fault. While unable to conjugate Greek verbs or to solve problems in the higher mathematics the Greeks and Italians and Slavs, against whose incoming the proposed literacy-test law was leveled, can hold plow handles, and drive mules, and milk cows, and dig canals, and grade railroad beds. Somebody must do this work. The disciples of Gompers and Tveitmoe won't do it. The soldiers of Coxey's army won't do it. The I.W.W.'s won't go near the farms except for the purpose of robbing hen roosts.

It is a noticeable fact that the most strenuous advocates of a law to restrict immigration are immigrants who are domiciled in this country, and especially those who have taken out naturalization papers. The man who crowds into an omnibus on a rainy day is usually the first to cry out: "All full inside" when another man seeks entrance.

"SELFISH REASONS."
If The Times and the Tribune were just once, by accident or otherwise, to agree upon anything, as, for instance, that day before yesterday was St. Valentine's Day, the Rebater's organ would stoutly assert that The Times made the statement for "grossly selfish reasons," while the Tribune made it from such pure and patriotic motives as the angels in heaven would appreciate.

The Times does not question that once in a while—once in a great while—its steamed Progressive contemporaries manage by inadvertence to get on the right side of a public question without being paid for it. But one never can tell how long they will stay there.

THE INTERESTS OF BEET GROWERS.
The American Sugar Refiners Company is interested in having the present tariff changed so that raw sugars may be admitted free of duty, while refined sugar shall be subject to duty. If it cannot accomplish this it will still gain if all sugars are admitted free of duty. The refineries company can refine raw sugar cheaper than any other company in America or Europe; and with free sugar and the gobbling up of the Louisiana sugar growers—the Hawaiian sugar growers being already controlled by the refineries company—they can monopolize the refined sugar market and, at lower prices than now, make as large profits as they do now, provided they can get rid of the competition of other makers of white sugar.

The only other makers of white sugar are the beet sugar makers. There is no such thing as "raw" beet sugar. It is refined in the process of making. Free sugar means that German beet sugar will be exempted from duty. It may be true that the German beet sugar makers now pay the sugar beet farmers as much for their beets as American beet sugar makers pay American farmers for their beets. But it is also true that the German government pays the German beet sugar makers a bounty on sugar exported equal to the tariff tax that they must pay in order to get into the American market. If this tariff tax shall be removed the German government will discontinue the payment of this bounty. With its discontinuance German sugars for export would fall in price, the beet farmers in Germany would receive less for their beets, and as labor is of less cost in Germany than here, German beet sugar would be sold at a less price in New York than American beet sugar. The result would be the closing of the American beet sugar factories, and the sugar refineries companies would profit by beet sugar being removed from competition with them. Especially would this be the case if the American Sugar Refineries Company should be successful in its pending attempt to get the sugar planters of Louisiana into its clutches.

For entirely different reasons the sugar planters of Louisiana and the sugar beet growers of the Pacific Coast and the intermountain and Middle West States are equally interested in maintaining the present tariff duties on both cane sugar and beet sugar.

THE WOOLEN SCHEDULE.
The National Association of Wool Manufacturers are meeting Democratic figures of rhetoric with figurer of arithmetic. They show that under the present tariff the average profits of making woolen goods range from 5 to 7 per cent., and that the wages of operatives in American woolen mills are 50 per cent. greater than in England and twice as much as on the continent of Europe.

The woolen industry in the United States has been built up to its present proportions largely, if not entirely, by a protective tariff. It is a legitimate and not a speculative business. Woolen goods are as necessary as food. If the tariff on them shall be materially reduced the mills here must either go out of business or the wages of operatives must be lessened to the Belgian or British standard. Operatives who have been receiving $13 a week will not accept the German wage of $6.50 or even the British wage of $9 a week. They will seek other avenues of employment, and the great woolen manufacturing industry of this country will be crushed.

The number of establishments in the United States in 1909 engaged in the manufacture of woolen goods was 1126. The number of wage earners was 201,751. The capital employed was $506,323,000, and the value of the product was $507,219,000.

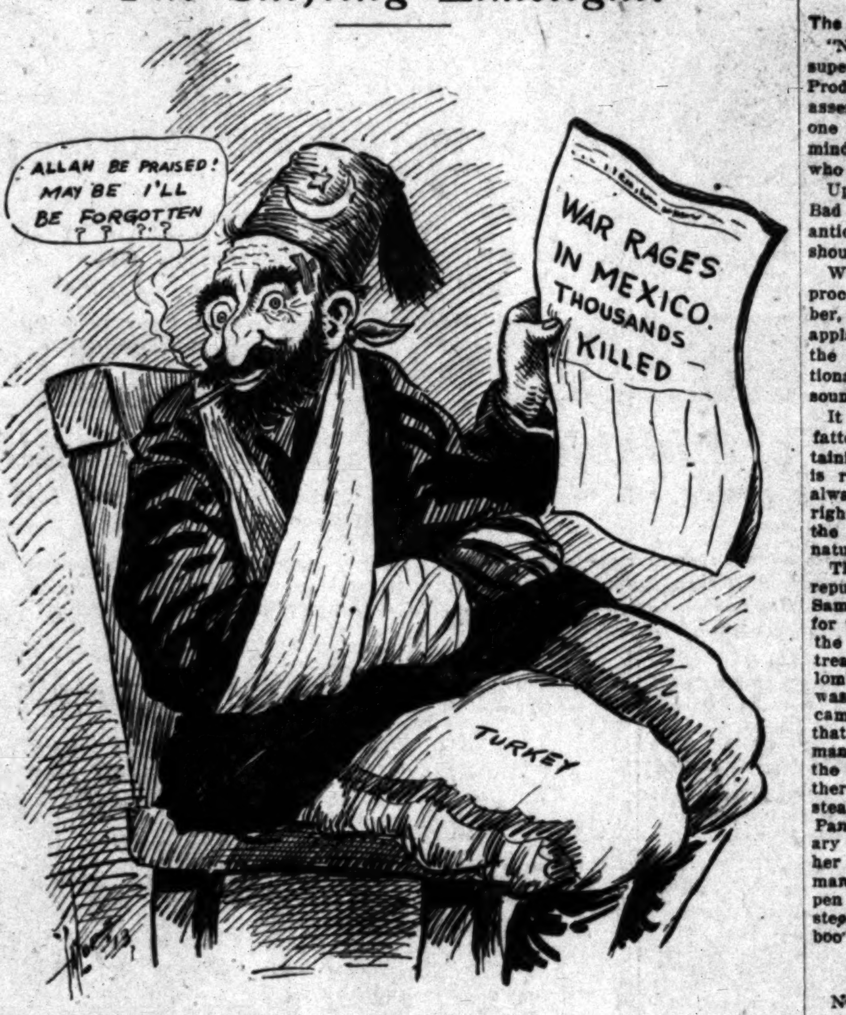
This $507,219,000 was apportioned about as follows: For materials, $322,364,000; for miscellaneous expenses, $27,562,000; for wages $100,398,000 (an average of nearly $900 per annum per operative;) for interest on capital at 5 per cent., $25,316,150, and for profits, $31,578,850.

The average expenditure of the American people for woolen goods is about $5.50 per capita per annum. A tariff reduction that would lessen the prices of goods 10 per cent. would effect a saving to consumers of 55 cents per capita per annum, amounting to about $51,000,000. The gain to consumers of $51,000,000 would result in the loss of a corresponding sum to producers. This loss would necessarily fall pro rata upon the items of labor and profits. There would be nowhere else to place it. Each would be cut down about 40 per cent. The operatives who now receive about $900 per annum would then receive $540 per annum.

Are the American people, in order to save 55 cents per annum per capita, willing to reduce the compensation of 201,751 woolen workers from $75 per month to $45 per month?

The figures we have adduced are compiled from the census returns. They, and the calculations based upon them, may not be technically accurate, but they are substantially so.

The Shifting Limelight.



CHILD LABOR.
The report from the Factory Investigating Commission in New York State, among other startling statements, contains the following: "Of 1259 children found at work in thirty-three sheds, the eldest was 14 years old and the youngest 3." A significant addition to this statement is: "Many of the canners are opposed to the employment of children, but . . . . the parents of the children force them to work."

In California, where the worth of childhood is so amply appreciated, the idea of little tots from 3 years up working long hours in canning sheds seems almost incredible. The youngsters who, during rush times work in our own drying yards, under healthy open-air conditions, are all over 14 years of age and are never tasked beyond their strength. They are volunteers—not pressed by their parents into an unwilling service.

Why are conditions so different out West from those revealed by the New York State Factory Commission? This is not a matter of legislation. New York has wise laws for regulating labor among women and children. The difference is one of parentage. Demagogues and muckrakers love to fasten all the ills in the world onto "bloated capitalism" or "big business." They have set down the curse of child labor to the greed of employers. The report of the New York Commission tells a different tale. Not the employers but the parents are responsible in New York State for this crime against childhood.

The worst cases of child labor in every big city are not found in factories and workshops open to inspection; they are hidden in the tenements, the cellars and garrets, in—God save the mark!—the "homes" of the shiftless and the dissolute who, through ignorance or brutality, reverse the natural order of work and rest. Legislation to help the children must be enforced wherever conditions show the need of it. Legislation alone, however, falls short of the mark. Our young children constitute the coming nation. Before all the children in America can be brought up to the standard of our Californian children all the parents in America must be brought up to the standard of our Californian parents. And then legislation for children won't be very necessary.

SMALL HOLDINGS.
A little land and a sure but little living against a desperate struggle, possible wealth and possible disaster. This is the choice a small plot of land in any irrigated district in Southern California offers to the man whose industry is not limited to the size of his purse. At San Ysidro, in San Diego county, it has been demonstrated that off one acre of intensely cultivated land a man can make a good living; not luxury, but at least sufficiency. The same conditions may be found near any city or town in Los Angeles county as long as a careful and judicious selection is made.

The beginning of the twentieth century has been marked by an intense and feverish activity among all classes in America to climb into the ranks of the millionaires. Those who have it in them to accomplish this end should never relax their efforts. But let it be remembered the number of successes for these aspirants is sadly small compared with the number of failures. Those who have tried and failed sometimes regret bitterly that they had not selected "Easy Street" instead of "Millionaires' Row" to build their future residence.

Already a reaction is setting in, and in ever-increasing numbers men and women are seeking health and a modest competency in preference to sudden riches and shattered nerves. Easy Street is growing more popular and Millionaires' Row less alluring. California has built many mansions for the ambitious and many bungalows for the contented. But as the number of the moderately well-to-do must always exceed that of the abnormally wealthy, it is to the plain people that Southern California now makes its most insistent call.

It has been truly said that if every acre in our southern counties were cultivated as thoroughly and scientifically as the French peasant cultivates his small holding, Southern California could sustain the whole present population of the United States. Conditions of soil and climate and markets make the Southwest an ideal country for small holdings, intense cultivation and a big agricultural and horticultural population. And given these conditions you have a community blessed with health and prosperity, self-supporting and self-confident; where each individual stands on his own feet, independent of any possible combination of capital or labor. The man who produces his own foodstuffs can well leave the academic discussion of the high cost of living to college professors, politicians and sensational magazine writers.

In His special prayer, the Redeemer never taught us to ask for power or riches or advancement above our fellows; He told us to say simply: "Give us this day our daily bread." And since He never expected us to pray for what was impractical or beyond our reach, He has furnished us in this one garden spot of the world an ample opportunity for seeing that this prayer is practically answered. We can hardly expect heaven to do more than drop a fair number of opportunities along our path and give us the chance to use them or leave them. Yet so many wear themselves to death in struggling against the tremendous competition in a large city, often to come out of the conflict with only the dry bones of disappointment, while an abundance of daily bread has been scattered here over thousands of acres among our sunny foothills and throughout our smiling, peaceful valleys.

UNCLE WALT.

The Poet Philosopher.

Oh, the birds to their warbling in vain, and the zephyrs seem but to complain when your innards are thrilled by dyspepsia and filled with some fifty-six samples of pain. When your grub doesn't hit the right spot, all talk about sunshine seems rot; and you feel that the pote of the optimist note should be led out at sunrise and shot. When your stomach's the scene of a storm, 'neath the collar you're apt to be warm; and the uplift seems punk and true progress is junk, and you don't care three whoops for reform. All maxims and proverbs are stale, to help you they hopelessly fail; and you're sore at the gent who would talk of content, and would give him a ride on a rail. It's easy to dance and to sing while your stomach is still in the ring; but it's hard to be glad when that stomach is bad, when it's broken a lever or spring. It's hard to be gay as a thrush when the pain in your stomach won't hush; when you have to go shy of steak and the pie, and fill up your person with mush. I sing like a jay on a shrub when my stomach can handle the grub; but don't you come near with a message of cheer when I'm sick, or I might use a club! WALT MASON.

BURDETTE AT PANAMA.

The Biter Bit—The Guest with a Grouch.

"Now, children," said the Sunday-school superintendent, improving the lesson of the Prodigal Son, "in the midst of this happy assembly of joy and gladness there was one who did not participate; one whose mind was filled with bitter thoughts. And who was that?"

Up went the little hands, and the smart Bad Boy, who always led the responses, anticipated the "elder brother" answer by shouting: "Please sir, the Fatted Calf."

When the hero of the century leads the procession through the canal next September, with the guns thundering the joy and applause of the nations, the bands binding the two seas with a golden chain of national airs, there will be one discordant sound.

It will not be the protesting bleat of the fatted calf. The Bad Boy, always entertaining, is just as frequently wrong as he is right. More frequently. Because it is always easier and smarter to be wrong than right, and the smart bad boy always chooses the line of the least resistance. This is nature, as well as human nature.

The elder brother at the feast will be the republic of Colombia. When your Uncle Samuel was making ready the fatted calf for the feast of the nations, Colombia was the owner of the calf. Under the treaty of 1846 the sovereignty of Colombia over the Isthmus of Panama was guaranteed. But when the time came to dig the canal it was absurd that we should build our house on another man's lot, so we proposed to buy the lot—the Canal Zone. It was a good property, there is no doubt of that. Colombia had a steady income of $250,000 a year from the Panama Railway, besides owning reversionary rights therein—the line was to become her own property in 1967—dear, dear, how many things may, and occasionally do happen in sixty years, especially if they are steered right, and pushed a little and booted some.

"When We Kill Our Pig."

Naturally, Colombia counted and discounted on the fortune that would be hers when the pie was cut. But in the meantime, all the rest of the world became more interested in the construction of a canal across the Isthmus than it ever was in the enrichment of the republic of Colombia. And Colombia was to all appearances as eager as anybody to see the dirt fly.

But there was a natural desire to see a little dough fly with the dirt. For dirt is money, in California and on a canal route. Years ago, at least nine or ten, the Hay-Herran treaty, embodying Colombia's own suggestions and ideas as to what the canal treaty should be, was drawn up and submitted to both governments. The United States promptly ratified it, and then to everybody's amazement Colombia just as promptly rejected the document drawn along lines of her own suggestion.

You see, our South American neighbor conceived the notion that the pig would cut up a great deal fatter if it was kept in the pen a while longer. So she began a system of negotiations and procrastinations and postponements and shilly-shallying and hee-hawing, backing and filling that would make the dilatory evasions of a Turkish peace commission sound as prompt as an old maid's "yes" to a forlorn-hope proposal. The fact is, she was equally afraid of getting too little and of asking for all she wanted. "What would you do for $10,000?" asked a walking actor, homeward-bound over the ties, of a companion du voyage. "I'm ashamed to tell you," replied the other, for it was he. And that is just the way Colombia felt.

In the midst of which a mighty arm, the arm of a wearied and exasperated government, with a hand on the end of it like a "grab-dredger," reached down from Washington, D.C., the hand expanded like a mining prospectus, then closed like a startled clam, and when Colombia, roused from a sweet dream of unmeasured affluence by the breaking of her pipe as it fell to the floor, rushed out of the Bogota Dreamerie, the band wagon was five blocks down the street and still going, loaded to the Plimsoll mark with Americans.

To increase the Colombian irritation, not long after all this a revolution revoluted in Panama, one of the ordinary garden variety which reaches maturity in twenty-four hours. This one lasted longer because President Roosevelt issued the "fifty-mile order" prohibiting the Colombian troops from approaching within fifty miles of Panama. This is about as close as the opposing forces in a South American revolution usually care to come to each other. But this case was different. Because the new republic of Panama was established without molestation, and the money for the Canal Zone and all the appurtenances, dips, spurs, angles, leads and sinuosities thereto appertaining was paid to Panama, and Colombia was left standing in a bleak and driving winter rain, performing that function commonly known in nocturnal snipe-hunting as "holding the bag."

Poor Colombia! "He that loveth silver shall not be satisfied with silver, nor he that loveth abundance with increase. This also is vanity."

Some of our soldiers over in the Philippines told me once upon a day how they caught the monkeys. They tied a bottle or can, with a mouth just wide enough to admit the open paw of the monkey. Then they poured a lot of nuts of a kind of which Mr. Darwin's grandfather is very fond into the bottle. In the morning the hunter came down and captured his monkey. For there he was with his paw thrust into the bottle, bulging with the handful of nuts upon which his greedy fingers tightly closed. He could escape by simply opening his hand and withdrawing it from the trap. Nothing easier. And lose the nuts! Never! He hangs on to them, jabbering and chattering his protest against his capture. But he will die before he will secure his liberty by relinquishing one precious nut.

This is a stronger bit of evidence that the monkey is indeed the progenitor of the human race that was ever put forward by Mr. Darwin.

Let us hope that by the time the marine parade is formed for its progress through the canal our neighbor republic will have "carramba'd" itself into a good humor, and her navy may have a prominent place in the pageant.

And let us further hope that if the toll-nuts in the bottle look never so large and enticing that our uncle Samuel will double up his dredger-bucket hand before inserting it into the bottle-lock, that he may be certain that he can withdraw it with dignity, with or without the nuts. Let him be sure, also, that the nuts are worth the dredge-bucket.

FROST AND CITRUS FRUITS.

Causes and Effects of the Recent Disaster by an Expert Orchardist—Comments and Recommendations.

THE WRITER begs to present for the consideration of his fellow planters the following comments on the meteorological phenomena causing the periodical freezes which visit our State, believing that an accurate knowledge of the basis and relationship of these phenomena must precede any methods for [illegible] protection and determine their practicability. The causes of our freezes are to be found in the operation of definite physical laws, which may be local or State-wide in their [illegible]. Low temperature is the result of loss of heat by radiation, promoted by the dispersal or lifting of [illegible] by the [illegible], accelerated by our dry atmosphere, [illegible] a medium most favorable for [illegible] radiation.

In this connection I will quote from Prof. John Tyndall's "Heat a Mode of Motion," some passages pregnant with meaning for us, in speaking of the quick descent of the thermometer on mountain tops he says: "Above [illegible] spreads no vapor screen of [illegible] density to intercept their [illegible], which consequently passes unhindered into space. A freedom of [illegible] similar to that at great elevations would occur at the earth's surface generally, were the aqueous vapor removed from the air above [illegible] the great body of the atmosphere is a practical vacuum as regards the transmission of radiant heat. The withdrawal of the sun from any region over which the atmosphere is dry must be followed by quick refrigeration; the removal f. a summer night of the aqueous vapor from the atmosphere which covers England would be attended by the destruction of every plant which freezing temperature could kill."

[illegible] there not only describes conditions existing during our freezes, but explains the causes which produce our thermal belts which, under [illegible] conditions are immune from [illegible] during long periods of years, the [illegible] acting as a medium for the [illegible] of heat from the lower [illegible] its dispersion into space is prevented by the screen of vapour with [illegible] that the foothill region and [illegible] lands are bathed in warm [illegible] while refrigeration occurs below; when this protecting screen is [illegible] blown away by a dry wind, [illegible] thermal belts are wiped out. [illegible] these conditions occur in the [illegible] all attempts at holding up temperature by mechanical means [illegible] fire pots, smudges, etc., will be [illegible] of no avail; the loss of heat is rapid and the duration of low temperature too long. Especially is [illegible] of low lands or isolated situations, though it is quite conceivable [illegible] where heat is being generated by [illegible] over large areas, lands situated [illegible] higher levels might be benefited by the r ing heat, though the [illegible] is only slightly, if at all, [illegible] its direct ascension. Then [illegible] exists of a slight lateral [illegible] of the air, carrying the [illegible] out the trees while in a froen [illegible], with the result that the [illegible] expansion would cause a snapping of the fiber and displacement of [illegible] cells which would be indicated [illegible] cambium turning black in a [illegible] days, or even splitting of the [illegible]. This is no fanciful picture, but [illegible] of an actual occurrence [illegible] took place in this orchard four years ago, when the trees which we [illegible] to protect by fires and [illegible] suffered much more severely than [illegible] uninfluenced by heat or [illegible], though the situations were [illegible] the same. And the system [illegible] protection which has [illegible] advocates, but which is worthless [illegible] in the extreme, is [illegible] application of water; their theory [illegible] the water will give off heat [illegible] the trees will receive the benefit, and that a protecting screen of [illegible] vapor will form, retarding [illegible] heat radiations; that [illegible] when applied as in the [illegible] of the cranberry bogs of Wisconsin it is valuable in the conservation [illegible] is of no question, but to [illegible] that equal benefit will accrue [illegible] applied in a California orange [illegible] is to ignore the fact that [illegible] of the situations are [illegible] opposed to each other [illegible] object of attainment different. In the first instance the [illegible] is the protection of the [illegible] of the plant by an ice sheet, [illegible] the temperature of ice is [illegible], 32 degrees Fahr., its [illegible] in this direction is apparent. [illegible] that concerns the orange grower [illegible] temperature of the air surrounding his trees. Of the refrigerative [illegible] of water in connection with dry [illegible] following citations will show [illegible] remember that our killing [illegible] can only occur during periods [illegible] relative humidity, with a clear [illegible] extreme dryness of the air [illegible] acts as a medium for the [illegible] radiation of heat but hastens [illegible] process of evaporation, a factor [illegible] of intense cold.

[illegible] Encyclopedia Britannica under [illegible]: "In the upper provinces [illegible] water is made to freeze during [illegible] nights by leaving it over [illegible] porous vessels or in bottles [illegible] wrapped in moistened [illegible] the water then freezes in virtue [illegible] produced by its own evaporation." In Nicholson's Encyclopedia [illegible], under head soils, is [illegible] following statement: [illegible] keeps down the temperature and it has been found that [illegible] usually from 10 degrees [illegible] Fahr., colder than dry [illegible] same composition."

[illegible] is demonstrated by [illegible] of the wet and dry bulb [illegible] or can be shown by any [illegible] to make the experiment, as [illegible] pour out a bucketfull of [illegible] dry ground, place a thermometer in the place thus wetted [illegible] one on dry ground far [illegible] to be out of the influence [illegible] from the wet place. [illegible] the difference of their [illegible] be 6, 8, 10, 12, 15, or more [illegible] depending on the atmospheric [illegible], the nearer full saturation [illegible] the less will be the [illegible] for at that point evaporation [illegible]. While this frigid property [illegible] evaporation is generally [illegible] practically applied by [illegible] who has wet the covering of [illegible] sprinkled his porch and [illegible] of the water olla, and [illegible] the receptacles which [illegible] by hanging cloths [illegible] sides with suitable provision [illegible] their saturation, and in [illegible] keep their contents cool, [illegible] similar effect [illegible] plants in obedience to [illegible] laws is entirely overlooked.

[illegible] a residence of upwards of [illegible] in this State the writer [illegible] three of these freezes [illegible] an inevitable con[illegible] after a longer or shorter period of years, and while the opinion may seem unduly pessimistic, yet experience and observation has forced it upon me, that there is no practical method of saving a crop of citrus fruit on the trees during one of these periodical visitations; but I hold a most optimistic view of the question of the trees coming through one of these ordeals without the slightest injury, provided they have been maintained in a thrifty, strong, and vigorous condition by generous fertilization and thorough methods of irrigation and cultivation and the surface of the ground kept dry during December and January in order to minimize the effect of evaporation as much as possible.

A, close and comparative examination of the orchards of this county (Kern) since the freeze, confirms in every particular the opinion that a strong vidile tree, like an animal in similar condition, will survive unscathed, where a debilitated one, deficient in reserve vitality, would be seriously injured or perish. In view of the hazard attending citrus culture, I would strongly advise any intending planter to combine with his orange or lemon, Calimyrna figs and olives, both of which are very profitable and thrive with exceptional luxuriance in the arid heat of the San Joaquin Valley, which insures immunity from scale and where the return from their culture is reasonably constant and certain, from year to year.

GLIMPSES OF SAN FRANCISCO.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 14.—Lincoln's Birthday passed off without any particular mishap. It was impossible to get any money out of the bank but there was music in the park to offset this. The kids, as usual, had a good time. We are glad of one thing. The greedy prize fight promoters did not spoil the day with an alleged contest.

From the State of Washington came Ole Hanson to tell us that Gov. Johnson will be President in 1916. This is good news. If Ole will put it in writing we will frame it for a prominent place on the wall. The American people might go farther and fare worse in choosing another man. Hiram would have plenty of eats in the White House. Incidentally, we hope that Hanson will get his wish and become a Senator.

Some wicked aviators have been snap-shotting our batteries. They did not see the signs of keep off the grass. Uncle Sam caught them in the act. It is to be hoped that they will not have too hard a time in Federal prisons. They thought that they were above the law, but astronomers know that it extends from the zenith to the nadir.

For ways that are dark and devious commend us to the Press Club. In the deepest gloom of midnight its members will lay the cornerstone of the new building at Sutter and Powell streets. At that hour the newspaper men feel that they are free men and not slaves. Tombstone III, the club cat, will be on hand, alive and scratching, and not in ashes as proposed by some purists who object to his scratching.

Hamlet puzzled over to be or not to be, and the Spring Valley Water Company is wondering whether it is better to arbitrate its selling price or not. The Supervisors say arbitrate. Mayor Rolph says the price is $37,000,000. It is a beautiful mix-up with water still a mirage.

A daring city official believes that some policemen ought to be posted. In other words, that they should be at fixed points to give information and be ready to answer calls of duty. This man ought to know that his plan is unconstitutional. It would interfere with the life, liberty and happiness of the cops without due process of law. If they were tied to a post how could they chase small boys, shoot unmuzzled dogs, or talk politics in the corner grocery.

Rub your eyes and read again the latest rule of the Police Commissioners. No license is to be issued where criminals gather, melting pots in pawnbroker shops are not permitted, bunco men must not flock in saloons. Fences must behave themselves, Stanyan-street saloons are closed to women after March 1, policemen must break up all gambling or quit the force, etc., etc. Is it possible that these things existed hitherto? It would do no harm to request the thugs to kindly retire from business until the reform wave is spent. It costs the city less than $2,000,000 annually to support the police department.

For a quarter of a century M. Firmis Roz studied American literature. He is one of the forty French immortals, and is lecturing at the State University. He says our books reflect our charming life with no trace of imitation of European models. This is nice of Mr. Roz and we hope he may live forever.

The Indoor Yacht Club sailed for Sissons this week. We regret to see the boys navigate away and we hope that they will be able to navigate straight home. It is a long way to the Siskiyou town with them, but it is never a long time between drinks. They are all seasoned veterans and they resent the blue-coated pilots when homeward bound.

PLUTO.

TOOLS STOLEN.

H. V. Edminson was arrested yesterday by Detectives Fitzgerald and Wynn and Patrolman Finn on suspicoin of having stolen a quantity of tools from shops at Nos. 951 and 953 North Main streets. The police assert Edminson has confessed. A number of the tools are said to have been found in the young man's possession.

TAKES SUDDEN LEAVE.

Jumping from a second-story window, Rena ("Queen") Bonardy, 16 years old, escaped from the Detention Home on the East Side shortly before 8 o'clock yesterday morning. As the girl quickly regained her feet and ran with the agility of a deer, it is not thought she is injured.

Miss Florence Barker,

Talented young actress who began her remarkable career here, where she was leading woman of the Aldrich Stock Company before she was 17. An acute attack of pneumonia resulted in her death yesterday while visiting here with her mother.

Gone Out.

DEATH DARKENS LIGHT OF GENIUS.

TALENTED LOS ANGELES GIRL IS STRICKEN.

Youthful Actress Comes Home to Visit Mother After Losing Health Abroad—Was Leading Woman at Old Grand Before Her Seventeenth Birthday Anniversary.

Miss Florence Barker, whose charming personality and genius challenged the admiration of theatrical critics and won the hearts of her audience everywhere, succumbed to an acute attack of pneumonia and died yesterday while visiting her mother in this city. The beautiful Los Angeles girl early implanted herself in the affections of the theatrical public here, having the unusual distinction of being leading woman of the Aldrich Stock Company at the old Grand, before she was 17 years old.

The lovable child, for she was nothing more than a child in the purity of her thoughts and the charm of her manner, literally took the public by storm at her first appearance here with Ferris and Stone at the Auditorium. So realistic was her interpretation that following her first engagement she was immediately signed as leading woman for the Aldrich Stock Company where she added materially to the popularity of the Grand, remaining there two seasons.

Leaving her home city she went to Hartford, Ct., where success followed her. From Hartford she went to the Crescent Stock Company at Brooklyn and was well on the way to an engagement which would bring her before the eyes of New York critics when stricken with appendicitis. Following an operation she failed to regain her health and was advised to seek the open air until restored. She signed with the American Biograph Company and later went to Europe to join the Pathe Freres Company, but the climate of France did not agree with her.

Her most recent engagement was with the Universal Film Company, where her work in the open was thought to be benefitting her health. Critics as well as the public were looking forward to her early return to the stage when she came home to visit with her mother during the holidays. A serious cold which developed into pneumonia cut short the life which held in it so much of promise.

Aside from the mother, Mrs. Lillian M. Barker, No. 1635 West Seventh street, the only immediate relatives are two sisters, both living in Los Angeles. They are Mrs. H. D. Sallada and Mrs. Edgar Baldy. The body will be cremated.

STATE FEDERATION.

The Federation of State Societies is having plans prepared to remodel the school rooms of the Brownsberger building on Seventh near Figueroa streets. Isaac Springer of the Building Committee, says that the building can be arranged to accommodate several State societies each evening, with a kitchen attachment to serve lunches or refreshments on either floor. The directors will hold a monthly meeting on Tuesday evening to arrange for the contracts.

WHITESIDE PICNIC.

Former residents of Whiteside county Ill., will attend a basket picnic next Saturday in Sycamore Park.

MORE arrivals during the past week have made the stock in our Women's Department complete and varied. We believe that their distinctiveness, their originality and their style make them well worth your inspection.

About the Suits:

Our Suits for this season show a marked degree of individuality. We do not carry many of one style, but an assortment of styles in a variety of materials. Eponges, soft serges, wool poplins, Bedfords, worsteds, in beautiful shades of gray, soft tans, medium and navy blues, cream and staple checks. Prices are $25, $29.50, $35 to $55, and you can find your size at any price.

About the Coats:

A correct material this year is Coverts—we show them in a variety of styles, beautifully lined with silk in high colors. Priced $20, $25, $27.50, etc.

Others in checks and stripes with collars and cuffs in bright colored silks (many being full silk-lined.) Priced $20, $25, etc.

A variety of styles in Navies, Medium Blues, Tans and Mixtures. Priced $25 to $35.

About the Dresses:

We've just received a new line of dresses in Tailored and Demi-Tailored effect. Many have the new draped skirt and dainty collar and cuffs of contrasting color. Serges in navy, medium blue and black, priced at $15, $17.50, $19.50 to $25.

Others of like style in black and white checks, the decided and broken checks so much wanted. Priced equally low, though of a much higher value; we make the economical price for quick selling. Others in Bedford cords and eponge in cream, navy and black.

This is a Montenegrin-Bulgarian Suit, cream and navy, very popular. Priced $45.

New Spring styles in waists—voile, lingeries—popularly priced.

MAN CREATING CITRUS GROVES,

Most Unique and Important Work in Progress.

Will Mean Billions to the Crops of Future.

Mating the Best With the Best the Idea.

Billions, not paltry millions, is the stake involved in the investigation in citrus eugenics, the mating of the best with the best, the ultimate object the super-tree, now carried on in Southern California by A. D. Shamel, physiologist of the Bureau of Plant Industry, United States Department of Agriculture.

Bud selection is the precise term used by department officials in speaking of Shamel's work, but this is denomination cold and uninspired, for Shamel's work is that of a creator, an alchemist of nature working with dross to produce gold, both figuratively and specifically, for the success of the work means increased citrus production and thereby increased prosperity for Southern California.

Unassuming, carrying on his investigations at his home in Riverside, but with the whole of Southern California as his laboratory, Shamel is doing a work that even so good a judge as Director Webber of the citrus experiment station says is the most important ever done in this State.

In the larger sense, Shamel is to be a creator, the creator of a new race of orange, lemon and grapefruit trees, a race specially adapted to our climate and to the semi-arid conditions under which our citrus groves must flourish. The home of the citrus trees is the lower mountain slopes of Northern India, a region of abundant rainfalls, where the trees, even in the jungles, attain to mammoth size. In other words, we here in Southern California are growing our oranges, lemons and grapefruit under abnormal conditions and the creation of trees adapted to the changed conditions of growth is imperative.

TO CREATE NEW TYPE.

Like does not always produce like, a fact that citrus growers long since found out. In fact, changed conditions often cause a reversion to the thorny, scraggly lines of the parents of the Indian jungles, with fruit acrid in taste and thick of skin. More specifically stated, the orange and the lemon as we know them are the products of a tree developed away from its parent. But development often brings weakness and then again a sudden reversal to the parent type.

Shamel will endeavor to fix certain parent species, certain species that by the crossing of the best with the best will become new trees, with renewed vigor. It is now four years since he took up the work and the end is not in sight. In fact, the operation will probably be carried on almost indefinitely by Shamel and his associates, for the citrus industry of the Southland merits and requires the best that the Department of Agriculture can afford.

Shamel's work at present is largely along the line of elimination, the throwing out of the non-producers, the drones, from the consistent producers of well-formed and flavored fruit. The ultimate object is the segregation of the best trees to be parents for the coming race of giants. It is the old, old theory of eugenics, but it is citrus eugenics in this case. Grafting or budding on stocks raised from seed of vigorous species is the precise method to be used in the creation of the new race.

BUCKTHORN MAY HELP.

Experiments so far made by Shamel have been with the Washington navel, Thompson's improved navels, and Valencia, among oranges; the Marsh's seedless among grapefruit, and the Eureka and Lisbon among lemons. These species are the ones so far found most adapted to climatic and cultural conditions in Southern California, and therefore give most promise of ultimate improvement. A new turn to investigations, however, may be given by the announcement of Dr. H. J. Webber, director of the citrus experiment station, that a specimen nursery of all the Rutaceae, the parent family of our citrus trees, is to be established in connection with the station. The buckthorn, the drupes of which are used in a certain well-known cathartic, is a relation of the orange, and it is possible that some hints may even be gained from the buckthorn in propagating the ultimate citrus trees.

Figures prepared by Shamel show that but 60 per cent. of the trees in the normal citrus groves are worthy of culture. For instance, individual trees may be found that will average 450 pounds of fruit per year, where the grove average is but 175 pounds per tree. The 450-pound producer is alone worthy of propagation; the others are more or less drones, parasites, laborers not worthy of their hire. They will be thrown out to make way for the new race that will show a specific money return, based on cost of production.

TREBLING MILLIONS.

California citrus production at present is valued at $50,000,000 a year. With the super-trees the yield is expected to be trebled, making the annual average from the same acreage $150,000,000, and running the value of our citrus acreage up to $600,000,000, where it is now $200,000,000.

But the recent frost has turned investigation into new channels and a frost-proof tree may be forthcoming. In this case, plantings would be further extended, adding high citrus value to land that now has little or no value.

A. D. Shamel,

Government investigator, who hopes to put millions into the pockets of citrus growers by producing trees that are 100 per cent.—not 60 per cent.—efficient, and that are, moreover, especially adapted to Southern California cultural conditions.

WATCHING THOUSAND TREES.

Though bud selection is to be the modus operandi of the change, the work so far has largely been careful, painstaking watching of thousands and thousands of trees, and the tabulation of their productiveness, their virility as bud producers, and the characteristic of the offspring. Thousands of acres of planting have been gone over and Shamel now has many volumed records, augmented with photographs, as a basis for his work. Not once, but many times, the same acreage has been gone over, for seasonable changes and other causes often lead to marked variations in tree performances.

Wherever possible, growers have been interested in the investigations and encouraged to find the one tree that year in, year out produces the best and largest fruit and responds most readily to irrigation. When Shamel has his investigations well in hand growers will be given demonstrations of methods for eliminating unproductive or worthless trees by rebudding or replanting. It is also the plan to establish reliable sources from which uniform citrus stock may be secured.

It is a great work and merits the encouragement of everyone in Southern California, and Shamel especially urges that accredited growers [illegible] him in the preparation of tree performances charts.

SAYS SECRET NO SECRET.

Man Who Pays Thirty-Nine Hundred Dollars for Blackboard Formula Sues to Recover.

Denatured alcohol, ten gallons; shellac, seven and one-half pounds; chrome green, twenty pounds; pulverized slate, one pound. This mixture, properly applied, makes a common school blackboard.

That is the formula Charles W. Fleming, No. 511 Thorpe building, says he paid A. F. Parshall $3900 to possess, on condition no one else except his brother, W. T. Fleming, of El Centro, should be told the secret. Parshall was arraigned yesterday before Justice Young on a charge of having obtained $3900 under false pretenses.

Fleming says all the world knows the secret. He is so sure of it that he allowed Deputy District Attorney Blair to put it in the complaint. Parshall denies any attempt to defraud.

Justice Young set the examination for the 27th inst., and held Parshall in bonds of $3500.

MICHIGAN PICNIC.

The annual midwinter picnic of the Michigan State Society of Southern California will be held at Eastlake Park, Saturday, March 1. Coffee will be served free at a basket dinner at noon. The election of officers will be held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, followed by a programme of speaking and music. Members of the Committee on Arrangements say that they expect this to be the society's largest gathering.

CORNELL AT "MISSION PLAY."

The Cornell University Club of Southern California will attend the "Mission Play," San Gabriel, in a body next Friday evening. The arrangements are being made by the secretary, Harold H. Clark, No. 312 Security building, and the members of the club desiring reservations are expected to communicate with him not later than Tuesday. On Tuesday there will be an excursion from Whittier to the evening performance. Excursions are now being arranged from Riverside, Redlands, San Bernardino, Ontario and San Diego.

WINTER'S WORK OF HELPI[illegible]

GOOD SERVICE RENDERED [illegible] OF THE CITY.

Report of Secretary of Associated Charities Shows Increased Ac[illegible]tivities During [illegible] of the Past Three Months—[illegible] Men and Women Seek Work.

A bright woman once said: "[illegible] becomes desperately poor in California, he at least has the [illegible] of being able to starve [illegible]. He does not need to starve and [illegible] at the same time."

Cold comfort this, at best. [illegible] while it is true that the [illegible] the poor are less numerous [illegible] in severe climates, those [illegible] which remain are none the less [illegible]ing. Winter, even in the [illegible] puts a grimmer visage on [illegible] This is particularly true among the improvident, irresponsible, [illegible] natured Mexican families, [illegible]tomed to the even milder [illegible] their tropical country, who now [illegible] late Southern California so [illegible]ly.

In consequence, the past [illegible] months have been increasingly [illegible]uous ones for the Associated Charities, according to the report just [illegible] by Secretary Sewall. The number of new cases treated by them, which in November reached 106, increased to 152 in December, while [illegible]uary brought 261, making a total of 1556 cases individually passed upon during the time from November 1 to February 1.

In addition to these cases, there were 470 persons to whom [illegible] information was furnished [illegible] an accompaniment of material [illegible] and over 900 phone calls were received, which reported or [illegible] applicants for relief.

The expenditures of every kind for the entire quarter summed up to $5914.47. A little figuring [illegible] shows that this is an average of [illegible] than $4 expended on the treatment of each case, "treatment" meaning the supplying of food, fuel, [illegible] house rent, traveling expenses, employment bureau licenses, [illegible] any or several of these as the circumstances have demanded. [illegible]ber 1 saw $310.61 in the [illegible] February 1 looks opulent and [illegible]ful in comparison, with [illegible]

This department furnished [illegible] meals to homeless men, the [illegible] served in January having [illegible] over the 1194 of November, which [illegible] previous to the beginning of the tourist season. Beds were supplied to 1587 men, the largest number of sleepers (658) also being under January.

More than 3600 articles of [illegible] and furniture have been given [illegible] during these three months, [illegible] pretty nearly everything from [illegible]tesimal flannel shirts and [illegible] for the new babies, to sewing machines and blankets. The [illegible] demand has been for bed [illegible] The estimated value of the [illegible] given is $1086.25.

The Associated Charities [illegible] express wagon made 300 calls [illegible] the gathering up of old clothing [illegible] 246 trips for delivering the [illegible] sold from the industrial department.

One more report is given, from the labor bureau, where 157 men [illegible] women applied for places to [illegible] Employment was furnished to [illegible] of these.

Can This Man Read Your Life?

The Rich, Poor, Exalted and Humble Seek His Advice on Business, Marriage, Friends, Enemies, Changes, Speculation, Love Affairs, Journeys and All Events of Life.

Many Say He Reveals Their Lives with Amazing Accuracy.

Free Test Readings Will Be Sent for a Short Time to All Los Angeles Times Readers.

Has the veil of mystery that has so long shrouded the ancient sciences been raised at last? Can it be that a system has been perfected that reveals with reasonable accuracy the character and disposition of an individual and so outlines the life as to assist in avoiding errors and taking advantage of opportunities?

Roxroy, a man who has for twenty years been delving into the mysteries of the occult, making a scientific study of the various methods of reading the lives of people, seems to have reached a higher round on the ladder of fame than his predecessors. Letters are pouring into his office from all parts of the world telling of the benefits derived from his advice. Many of his patrons look upon him as a man gifted with some strange, mysterious power, but he modestly asserts that what he accomplishes is due alone to an understanding of natural laws.

He is a man of kindly feeling toward humanity, and his manner and tone immediately impress one with his sincere belief in his work. A huge stack of grateful letters from people who have received readings from him adds to other convincing proof as to his ability. Even Astrologers and Palmists admit that his system surpasses anything yet introduced.

Baroness Blanquet, in a letter to Prof. Roxroy, says:—I thank you for my complete Life Reading which is really of extraordinary accuracy. I had already consulted several Astrologers but never before have I been answered with so much truth, or received such complete satisfaction. It is with sincere pleasure that I shall recommend you to my friends and acquaintances; for I feel sure that it would be doing a good action to make your marvelous science known.

If you wish to take advantage of Roxroy's generous offer and obtain a free reading, send your date, month, year of birth, state whether Mr., Mrs. or Miss, and also copy the following verse in your own handwriting:

I have heard of your power
To read people's lives,
And would ask what for me
You have to advise?

Be sure to give your correct name, birth date and address, and write plainly. Send your letter to ROXROY, Dept. No. 73-K, No. 177A, Kensington High street, London, W., England. If you wish, you may inclose 10 cents (stamps of your own country) to pay postage, clerical work, etc. Do not inclose coins or silver in letters.—[Advertisement.

New Spring Millinery Values
Last week we gave you an inkling of the novelty and freshness and variety of the styles which this big first floor ivory and gold millinery salon contains. And now we come before you with talk of values, of the buying power of dollars and cents when they are spent here. Each year has served to impress more and more firmly in the minds of Southern California women the fact that this is the store where they invariably get the greatest hat values. And this season shall stamp that impression yet again.

Tailored Hats $10 to $20
Including Straw Tams.
New Milan and hemp effects, with those soft draped crowns which Fashion demands, and trimmed with smart, aggressive-looking stickups in new styles. Truly, this seems to be the season of the tailored hat, so well are the prevailing styles adapted to tailored effects.

Dress Hats Beautiful
Exclusive Styles, From $15 to $40
In these the severity of the tailored lines has been effectively modified, softened, draped. And so these hats correspond perfectly with the more clinging, naturally graceful lines of all spring garments. Some simply, others lavishly and luxuriously trimmed. WINTER'S WORK OF HELPING.

GOOD SERVICE RENDERED POO OF THE CITY.

Report of Secretary of Associated Charities Shows Increased Activities During Less Mild Weather of the Past Three Months—Many Men and Women Seek Work.

A bright woman once said: "If one becomes desperately poor in California, he at least has the advantage of being able to starve comfortably. He does not need to starve and freeze at the same time."

Cold comfort this, at best. Yet, while it is true that the problems of the poor are less numerous here than in severe climates, those problems which remain are none the less pressing. Winter, even in the "Sunland" puts a grimmer visage on poverty. This is particularly true among the improvident, irresponsible, happy-natured Mexican families, accustomed to the even milder weather of their tropical country, who now populate Southern California so numerously.

In consequence, the past three months have been increasingly strenuous ones for the Associated Charities according to the report just rendered by Secretary Sewall. The number of new cases treated by them, which in November reached 106, increased to 152 in December, while frosty January brought 261, making a total of 1556 cases individually passed upon during the time from November 1 to February 1.

In addition to these cases, there were 470 persons to whom helpful information was furnished without an accompaniment of material help, and over 900 phone calls were received, which reported or referred to applicants for relief.

The expenditures of every kind for the entire quarter summed up to $5914.47. A little figuring readily shows that this is an average of less than $4 expended on the treatment of each case, "treatment" meaning the supplying of food, fuel, medicines, house rent, traveling expenses, employment bureau licenses, small loans, any or several of these, as the circumstances have demanded. November 1 saw $310.61 in the treasury. February 1 looks opulent and cheerful in comparison, with $1284.42.

The report of the industrial department of the association, located on Date street, below the Plaza, is made independently from that coming from the main office. The applicants at this place totalled 1590 for the quarter, which means that about forty more persons than applied at the main office came here with the direct purpose of giving value received in work, for all relief extended.

This department furnished 4781 meals to homeless men, the 1590 served in January having increased over the 1194 of November, which was previous to the beginning of the tourist season. Beds were supplied to 1587 men, the largest number of sleepers (653) also being listed under January.

More than 8660 articles of clothing and furniture have been given away during these three months, including pretty nearly everything from infinitesimal flannel shirts and pink socks for the new babies, to sewing machines and blankets. The greatest demand has been for bed clothing. The estimated value of the articles given is $1086.35.

The Associated Charities one-horse express wagon made 200 calls for the gathering up of old clothing, and 246 trips for delivering the stove wood sold from the industrial department.

One more report is given, from the labor bureau, where 757 men and women applied for places to work. Employment was furnished for 370 of these.

GIVE DANCE TO HELP SUFFERER.

MANY FRIENDS AID POPULA TELEPHONE GIRL.

Twenty - Three - Year - Old Jenny Lind, Suffering from Severe Injuries Sustained in Automobile Accident, Is Recipient of Large Proceeds from Benefit Ball.

Financially to assist Miss Jenny Lind, formerly employed in the electrical department of the Home Telephone Company, who was struck and seriously injured by an automobile driven by John G. Gentry of Cucamonga December 15, a benefit dance was given at Goldberg-Bosley Auditorium Thursday evening. The proceeds of the dance, which was arranged and supported largely by Home employees, will be, it is estimated, $1200 to $1500.

The injury sustained by Miss Lind has already necessitated a serious operation and the removal of several pieces of bone from the region of the knee, according to Mrs. L. A. Robertson, the trained nurse who attended her, and who was also instrumental in having those instrumental in having the benefit dance.

"The money obtained from the affair will probably be needed for a second operation," she said yesterday, "and it will doubtless be a year before Miss Lind will be anything like well again, and then she will be a cripple, one limb being shorter than the other. INDUSTRIAL BUREAU FOR LOS ANGELES.

Fair Heiress of Great Southwest Meets Destiny Half Way—Chamber of Commerce Places Shoulder to the Wheel for Building a Mighty Commercial Metropolis on Solid Foundation of Natural Advantages.

LOS ANGELES, having become of age, as attested by her obviously-outgrowing municipal garments, her foster father, the Chamber of Commerce, is planning for the debutante a coming-out party, the like of which no city in the world has ever had before. As a result of this "party" Los Angeles will, under adequate chaperonage, invite the attention of the commercial beaux of the universe, many of whom, it is expected, will come here to pay their court and lay their factories and their mills at the feet of the fair heiress of the great Southwest, who has so much of worldly goods to give with her own inimitable self. Yet, in spite of this travail of transformation, Los Angeles is not putting off the old; rather is she retaining all that is best of the old, and proposes adding to it a realization of her vision of commercial and industrial supremacy.

As a matter of fact, the new era is opened through the doors of the Chamber of Commerce, and is to be developed as a department of that great municipal asset by means of an industrial bureau, commandeered by broad-gauge men, and having for its purpose the development of the unrealized commercial possibilities of Southern California.

The industrial bureau will be to commerce what the chamber itself has been to the development of the aesthetic city; its soil, its climate, its products, its marvelous advantages as a place of residence; things which have made it what it is, development work which has spread its name in the households of the world.

Now, it is pointed out that this, important as it is, is in need of an auxiliary. Climate, soil, agricultural advantages, will always have a large place in the scope of the bureau, but with the opening of the canal and the rapidly-increasing population the men with vision have arrived at a realizing sense that the future city of a million must be a commercial distributing center, and to meeting and anticipating this need that the industrial bureau devotes its time and energies.

A BROAD VISION.

The idea of such a bureau working in conjunction with, or as a department of the Chamber of Commerce was conceived by Percy H. Clark, who is chairman of the Preliminary Committee of Instigation. In the inauguration of the work Carl E. McStay has devoted much time and the other members, Stoddard Jess, J. W. Burnham, F. W. Braun, H. Jevne, J. E. Fishburn and D. P. N. Little are heartily in accord. It is the opinion of these gentlemen that if Southern California should become a great manufacturing center, it will be the duty of the bureau to collect and disseminate information, pointing out to manufacturers the needs and the advantages of this part of the country.

The bureau will ascertain where and what raw materials are availuble; it will learn all about freight rates; it will know the distributing needs of the entire western slope; it will receive and classify information on the requirements of countries most readily reached through our ports; it will know how many automobiles may be manufactured and sold at a profit; how many shoes are needed to properly shoe the Great West; it will know that the iron industry has scarcely been scratched and that ten times the present output is needed for local and adjacent consumption.

This bureau will be able to say to the great manufacturer of flour, "so many barrels are used within our zone yearly; so many barrels are manufactured yearly; so many barrels are imported every year." In a word, it will have at its command facts and figures which, it is believed, if properly presented to the industrial world during the next five years, will attract investors to the opportunities and pave the way for the commercial metropolis of the future, plus what Los Angeles always has been, the most delectable home city in all the universe.

Chairman Clark is enthusiastic over the proposed commission. "It means more to this city and to Southern California," he said, "than any other movement ever undertaken for this development. It is the logical following up of the splendid work the Chamber of Commerce has already done along other lines; a work which may proceed side by side with it.

"At the present time many inquiries are received which it is impossible to answer because the information is not at hand. Large enterprises are hungry for information in concrete form that we are unable to supply. The bureau will meet this need, and go much further, although the early work will necessarily be devoted to the gathering of the information and the acquiring of accurate knowledge of new markets under new conditions opened to us by the Panama Canal.

WANTED—A WIGGINS.

"One of the important points will be the selection of a commissioner to handle the bureau under a proposed executive committee of five. If we could secure a man as competent in this work as Frank Wiggins is in the chamber proper, we could rest content."

McStay has called upon seventy-five representative men in almost every line of enterprise, and he says that in not a single instance has he met with anything but praise for the new bureau, and enthusiasm for the possibilities it suggests.

"We have everything in our favor," he says. "A climate where building cost is reduced, and where work may be maintained in absolute comfort 365 days every year. We are an 'open shop' open to the labor of the world, free and untrammeled, and this labor is coming with the canal. We have cheap power, cheap fuel, a water distribution, and we are rapidly acquiring the one thing which has made such a move inopportune up to the present time—population. We have more advantages than Kansas City ever had, and at our doors is still another untouched virgin field reachable at lower rates than by our eastern competitors. What we consume. What we produce. The difference. There is the problem in a nutshell. A problem the solving of which will place Los Angeles in the front ranks of the industrial cities of the country.

H. Jevne, a member of the committee, expressed his hearty acquiescence in the work. "I believe it will be the means of calling to their attention wonderful opportunities and bringing many manufactories here," he said. "I think it is a step in the right direction and one which will be productive of much good."

A MAN'S SIZED JOB.

It is proposed to place the conduct of the bureau in the hands of an executive committee of five. These men will be carefully selected and will include citizens whose connection with the bureau will inspire confidence and insure success. "They will be big men," in the words of a member of the preliminary committee.

The appointment of this committee will follow the early organization of the new board of directors for the Chamber of Commerce. They will enter upon their duties at once, but will develop their own plans, being subject only in a general way to the control of the chamber directorate along broad lines of policy.

Out of 800 letters sent out to members of the chamber it is expected to acquire about 400 subscribers to the bureau with which to start the work. The income of the chamber proper is not sufficiently large to warrant the establishment of an industrial department, a work which it is believed is important enough to warrant the proposed departure.

In the "call" the need for the bureau is pointed out equipped with a "well-organized force" is emphasized, "employing at its head the best man that can be secured in the country, empowering him to inaugurate and carry on an aggressive campaign for upbuilding the industrial interests of Southern California."

OPPORTUNITY WAITS.

Frank Wiggins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is naturally enthusiastic over the proposed bureau because it means a greater Los Angeles, and Frank Wiggins and Greater Los Angeles are synonymous terms. "Many new industries," Wiggins said, "could be started here through the influence of the industrial bureau of the chamber, provided sufficient capital could be secured to properly launch them.

"The difficulty I have experienced in the last twenty years is the fact that so many propositions are brought here with insufficient backing, neither with capital nor competent promoters. I am confident that the bureau can be of use in establishing many money-makers provided sufficient backing is given by our own people.

"Here is one item. We are using in this city 2,500,000 milk containers for the distribution of milk, yearly. Why not establish a manufacturing concern here for the manufacture of paper milk containers? This demand will increase with your population.

"While Los Angeles is daily walking around in 500,000 pair of shoes, and slipping into 300,000 pair of slippers at night, there is but one factory within the radius of Southern California and it has more orders today than it can fill.

"We are using 1,000,000 glass jar, tumblers and other receptacles for our preserved fruits and jellies, independent of the tin receptacles.

"We have the best material for the manufacture of glass that there is in the United States. All it needs is capital and brains to establish a glass factory.

"It takes 500,000 night shirts to accommodate the people in Los Angeles every night and nobody here making them.

"We address over a million envelopes a day, and cities of less population and less business enterprise have their own envelope factories.

"Los Angeles imports 160,000 tons of cotton goods during the year from eastern mills. Why not reverse the proposition and manufacture the cotton goods here, out of the products of the Imperial Valley, which, this year amounts to 8500 bales of cotton and promises to reach 25,000 bales next year? All that is necessary is capital and experience.

"The city of Los Angeles uses 5,000,000 incandescent lights yearly and there is only one factory here at the present time, employing thirty men and attempting to furnish a small percentage of this consumption. If Los Angeles uses 5,000,000, how many more will the neighboring cities use from a factory that can be established here?

"One of the most important works of this bureau will be to educate our own people to patronize our own industries. If they will do that they will more than compensate the subscribers to the fund."

The committee is convinced that the results accruing from the plan will tremendously increase the manufacturing interests of the district and benefit every other interest, property owner, and investor in Southern California.

To properly finance the undertaking it is estimated that from $50,000 to $60,000 per year will be required, and those to whom the plan has been unfolded are invited to become members of the industrial bureau, dues for which are $100 per annum.

"We ask your active co-operation," the committee adds, "to the end that this bureau shall become the greatest active agent in the future for the upbuilding of Southern California. We want you to look upon this as $100 per year out of your advertising account, and we expect to make returns ten times as great as any other $100 you will spend in publicity."

Fathers of a Coming Commercial Giant.

The Chamber of Commerce is about to give birth to an "Industrial Bureau," a department devoted to the commercial upbuilding of Los Angeles, Southern California and the Great Southwest. It's a big vision and here are some of the members of the preliminary committee of instigation and organization. Clark is the father of the thought.

ISSUES COMPLAINT.

Deputy District Attorney Blair issued two complaints against Joseph Murphy yesterday. One charges the defendant with passing a fictitious check and the other with passing a check drawn upon a bank in which Murphy did not carry an account. The amount involved is small.

We are exclusive agents for Macey cases for Southern California.

—There is a Hard Way to Keep Floors and Woodwork Clean—and an Easy Way!

Which is yours?

If your hardwood floors and woodwork are being treated with broom, brush, damp cloth or mop, floor oiler or any combination of these, then you are using the harder way and the less effective.

The new method of taking care of bare floors and woodwork, the method which seems to us the best so far devised, is a polishing mop (and dustless dust-cloth) saturated with the "Oil of Gladness."

The mop or cloth does not scatter the dust, but gathers it up, and gets into corners and under furniture, as the usual cloth, brush or mop will not do. The polish on it—only a very small amount at a time—helps to take up the dust and also polishes the wood very successfully.

"Oil of Gladness" contains no gum nor grease. It is not a veneer, but a wood food which lasts long and it is excellent also for pianos and furniture. Positively not inflammable.

Mops for polishing or dusting, $1.25 to $2.00 each; Dust Cloths, 10c and 25c each; "Oil of Gladness" polish, from 25c a bottle upward. Secure a sample of "Oil of Gladness" Dust Cloth free at Barker Bros.

It is a cool day in the local [illegible] State Court when Yancey is not [illegible] sued by Barnsdall, or made the [illegible] of some body-snatching or [illegible] of court proceeding.

Yesterday contempt [illegible] and in addition to Yancey, [illegible] Taylor, Edmund Burke, A. B. [illegible] brother of J. C. ("Mule-foot") [illegible] Doan, C. T. Hansball, J. E. O'[illegible] and others were summoned [illegible] March 10 to show cause why [illegible] should not be punished for [illegible] for the alleged violation of [illegible] issued by Judge Wellborn, July [illegible] 1912.

On that occasion the court [illegible] order restraining the defendants [illegible] interfering with or disposing of [illegible] assets belonging to Barnsdall and [illegible] Yancey, including the Hopkins [illegible] containing about 3000 acres of [illegible] or any assets of the Petroleum [illegible] duction Company, except to [illegible] to the receiver the books and [illegible] of the corporation of which J. "At Hell's Gate the party was attacked by a mob of blacks. Several of the whites were killed. The captain escaped with a spear wound in his head.

"Capt. Nicholson went to Johannesburg in 1895. There he became involved in the famous Jamieson raid and was cast into jail with John Hays Hammond, both being held as political prisoners. With a price on his head the captain later escaped into the Orange Free State. Again, pursued, and with his head split open, he swam the Vaal River and was later picked up unconscious by British officers.

"As an officer on the staff of Col. McKenzie of the Seaforth Highlanders, the captain became intimately acquainted with Field Marshals Roberts and Kitchener.

"He has settled down here and has a lucrative business; but the call of war seems to be greater to him than the calling of peace—and, I must confess, it is also with me. We both want to be away, in the field, where there is real life—life with the spice of danger.

MR. WILSON ON BUILDING COMPANIES

(A SERIES OF DAILY TALKS ON BUILDING COMPANIES)

Los Angeles Building Co Answers 711

At 9 o'clock last evening, closed with me one of the most interesting weeks in the history of my business. My announcements during the week brought hundreds to my office—TO ASK QUESTIONS.

Yesterday's announcement, wherein I made the statement that three-quarters of the Building Companies sold their organization stock at fifty per cent below PAR, and asked the public to pay PAR for their stock. Understand, I didn't say that the method adopted by other building companies wasn't a fair one. I do say, the LOS ANGELES BUILDING COMPANY will have their stock at fifty per cent. below par, or in other words, 5 cents A SHARE FOR THE 7% CUMULATIVE, PARTICIPATING PREFERRED STOCK (par value 10 cents.)

The responses to these announcements have been very gratifying.

EVERY OPPORTUNITY, however, comes to an end sometime. OPPORTUNITY NEVER WAITS. IT KNOCKS BUT ONCE.

To the readers of these announcements who is ON THE POINT of coming in and seeing me, let me again invite to come in and meet me personally. You are under no obligation for calling one me, and asking questions.

In the limited space that I have taken in the papers today, I WANT TO GIVE A SUMMARY of my talks.

The BUILDING COMPANIES in Los Angeles are their biggest organizations. Public spirited people point with pride to them.

The BUILDING COMPANIES make it possible for the clerk, the mechanic, in fact, for all classes to enjoy real home life.

Look at the LOS ANGELES INVESTMENT COMPANY. It stands today, the largest building company in this world. A few dollars, even, invested in that Company a few years ago, is worth today, as many thousands.

There are hundreds of other Companies whose shares have advanced very materially and are paying large dividends.

The investor who buys shares in a building company that is operating in and around Los Angeles is simply BETTING on Los Angeles, and is there any city in the world that you can BET ON for its future as you can for Los Angeles?

LOS ANGELES BUILDING CO.

ONE MILE OF BUNGALOWS EVERY WEEK AND FIFTY-TWO WEEKS IN THE YEAR IS THE RECORD.

The LOS ANGELES BUILDING COMPANY has two tracts of land, one at Santa Monica, and the other at Alhambra. This Company will invest your money in nothing but improved real estate. Yes, we will build exclusively on well located property.

The Organizers of the LOS ANGELES BUILDING COMPANY are paying the same price for their shares as the public is paying.

There is not a share of free promotion stock.

There will be no large salaries paid to its officers.

I have been successful in my building operations. One of the Companies with whom I have been identified is today paying dividend at the rate of 12% per annum and offers one of the strongest securities in Los Angeles.

MY PROPOSITION IS THIS. BUY THIS PREORGANIZATION SEVEN PER CENT. CUMULATIVE PARTICIPATING PREFERRED STOCK AT 5 CENTS PER SHARE.

THE PAR VALUE IS 10 CENTS. This gives you the stock at fifty per cent. below par. I will include also a bonus of ten per cent. of your subscription in common stock. I will agree to refund your money within thirty days from the date of your subscription, provided you are not thoroughly satisfied upon thorough investigation.

THIS OFFER IS LIMITED TO 250,000 SHARES AT 5 CENTS. When this amount has been sold, the offer will be withdrawn, and stock will be advanced to not less than 10 cents per share.

My office is open daily until 9 P.M., and on Sundays from 9 A.M. until 4 P.M.

If it is impossible for you to call at my office and interview me personally, send your subscription by return mail. ACT TODAY.

CURES RHEUMATISM

Quickly Eases Stiff, Sore, Swollen Joints and Muscles—Drives Rheumatic Pains Away.

It is needless to suffer any longer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can easily avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and it is useless to rub on liniments or take ordinary remedies to relieve the pain. This only prolongs the misery and can't possibly cure you.

The only way to cure rheumatism is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone, does this because it neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter the poison from the blood, and drive it on and out of the system.

Croxone is the most wonderful medicine ever made for curing chronic rheumatism, kidney troubles, and bladder disorders. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find relief from the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all your misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Croxone costs but a trifle at any first class drug store. All druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst backache or overcome urinary disorders.—[Advertisement.

"Little Wireless Phones"
For the ears that will cause you to HEAR

What eye glasses are to failing sight, my invisible ear drums are to lost or failing hearing. Just as simple and common sense and on the same principle, for they magnify sound as glasses magnify sight. They are really tiny telephones of soft, sensitized material, safe and comfortable, which fit into the orifice of the ears and are invisible. They can be removed or inserted in a moment and worn for weeks at a time, for they are skillfully arranged for perfect ventilation and anti-friction. These little wireless 'phones make it easy to hear every sound distinctly, just as correct eye glasses make it easy to read fine print. Among the nearly 400,000 people whom they have enabled to hear perfectly, there has been every condition of deafness or defective hearing. No matter what the cause or how long standing the case, the testimonials sent me show marvelous results.

COMMON SENSE EAR DRUMS have restored to me my own hearing—that's how I happened to discover the secret of their success in my own desperate endeavors to be relieved of my deafness after physicians had repeatedly failed.

It is certainly worth your while to investigate. Before you send any money just drop me a line. I want to send you free of charge my book on deafness and plenty of evidence to prove to you that I am entirely worthy of your confidence. Why not write me today?

Every Man Read This

This treatment is said to have acquired a wonderful reputation throughout the East, owing to its peculiar propensity to fortify the nerve force and generate health and a consequent personal magnetism, so essential to the happiness of every normal human being. It is claimed to be a blessing to those who are physically impaired, gloomy, despondent, nervous and who have trembling of the limbs, dizziness, heart palpitation, cold hands and feet, insomnia, fear without cause, timidity in venturing and general inability to act rationally as others do. Also of vast benefit to writers, professional men, office workers and the victims of society's late hours and over-indulgence in wines, liquors, etc.

By preparing the treatment at home secretly, no one need know of another's trouble, while the ingredients are much used in filling various prescriptions, so that even the purchase of them separately need occasion no timidity.

If the reader decides to try it, get three ounces of ordinary syrup sarsaparilla compound, and one ounce compound fluid balmwort; mix and let stand two hours; then get one ounce compound essence cardiol and one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom), mix all together, shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one at night.

This contains no opiates whatever and may also be used by women who suffer with their nerves with absolute certainty of prompt and lasting benefits.—[Advertisement.

Celebrate With Banquet in Honor of College Founded Seventy-Five Years Ago—Guests.

More than 100 alumni of Knox College gathered at a banquet last evening in the Federation Clubrooms in the Wright and Callender building to celebrate the founding of that institution seventy-five years ago.

The guests included two former Mayors of Galesburg, Ill.; Dr. C. W. Leffingwell, father of the Arctic explorer; Mrs. B. F. Arnold of the class of 1863, who is the mother of eight children, all graduates of Knox College, and P. W. Thomson, who gave a resume of the diamond jubilee celebration held during commencement week at the college last summer.

W. C. Mage of the class of '86, was toastmaster. O. T. Johnson, who established a store at Galesburg which is now the largest in Illinois outside of Chicago, was present, as were also Mrs. Emma Edwards and Dr. Ann W. Nixon, who graduated more than fifty years ago.

Alumni of Knox College organized the Knox College Club of Los Angeles sixteen years ago. The officers are: R. J. Caskey, president; P. W. Thomas, vice-president; Mrs. Fred W. Phillips, secretary, and Mrs. Wesley Barr, treasurer.

Fried Rabbit and Stale Ice Cream Poison Couple—Wife Faints Trying to Reach Husband.

An over-indulgence in fried rabbit and stale ice cream almost caused the death early yesterday of Robert L. and Lydia Byrd, No. 825 South San Pedro street. Byrd is at the County Hospital in a serious condition from ptomaine poisoning. Mrs. Byrd was treated at the Receiving Hospital and returned home.

Mrs. Byrd said she and her husband ate the rabbit and ice cream for dinner Friday evening. The couple retired about 9 o'clock.

"I was awakened by my husband groaning," said Mrs. Byrd. "I fainted twice while attempting to reach his side. The last time I did not recover consciousness until about 10 o'clock this morning, when I summoned neighbors."

Also called Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pruritus, Milk-Crust, Weeping Skin, etc.

ECZEMA CAN BE CURED TO STAY, and when I say cured I mean just what I say—C-U-R-E-D, and not merely patched up for a while, to return worse than before. Remember I make this broad statement after putting twelve years of my time on this one disease and handling in the meantime nearly half of a million cases of this dreadful disease. Now, I do not care what all you have used, nor how many doctors have told you that you could not be cured—all I ask is just a chance to show you that I know what I am talking about. If you will write me TODAY I will send you a FREE TRIAL of my mild, soothing, guaranteed treatment that will convince you more in a day than I or anyone else could in a month's time. If you are disgusted and discouraged just give me a chance to prove my claims. By writing me today I believe you will enjoy more real comfort than you have ever thought this world holds for you. Just try it and you will see I am telling you the truth.

MRS. ANNA L. SMITH entertained with a thimble party at her home, "Quinta Ana," Saturday afternoon. Music and bright witty conversation contributed to the delightful afternoon. Mrs. C. H. Hawksford sang a contralto solo; Misses Clara and Mattie Provolt a duet, with Miss Bessie Provolt as accompanist; Miss Hazel Carter and Miss Robertson, piano solos. Mrs. Smith's guests included Mrs. O. J. Robinson, Larimore, S. D.; Mrs. Lyda Barrett, Sioux Falls, S. D.; Mrs. C. C. Cribbs, Mrs. A. F. Spiecher, Mrs. W. W. Cribbs, Mrs. S. H. B. Van der Voort, Mrs R. S. Smith, Mrs. C. H. Hawksford, Mrs. Olive Hurst, Mrs. R. B. Howeth of Los Angeles, Mrs. W. L. Dawes of Long Beach, Mrs. George Pence, Mrs. Theodore Garvey, Miss Nellie Burrows of Pasadena, Mrs. R. O. Church of Burbank, Mrs. A. D. Cross, Mrs. J. W. Crocker, Mrs. John Day Frazier, Mrs. C. F. Parker, Mrs. C. E. Shattuck, Mrs. Lenora Miller, Mrs. Joseph Wilson Nethery, Mrs. Simon Lutz, Mrs. R. Z. Imler, Miss Bertha Winkler, Miss Lillian Dix, Miss Mattie Provolt, Miss Mollie Arbuthnot, Miss Bessie Provolt, Miss Marcella Miller, Miss Clara Provolt, Glendale; Miss Maude Speicher, Miss Robertson and Miss Hazel Carter, Los Angeles; Mrs. W. H. Bullis, Mrs. David H. Imler and Miss Hickman, Tropico.

Mrs. W. A. Hough, assisted by Mrs. Clyde Carmack and Mrs. A. E. Marek most charmingly entertained the Tropico Thursday Afternoon Club at the beautiful new home of Mrs. Hough Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Edward M. Lynch, Mrs. Mary McLean, Mrs. Henry Edwards and Mrs. T. C. Rice-Wray gave talks on the parcel post and elicited much interest and enthusiasm in the recently adopted parcel post system. Mrs. Dwight Griswold, the club president; Mrs. Hal Davenport and Mrs. T. C. Rice-Wray gave reports of the day spent recently as the guests of the Rosencranz Club at Echo Park Clubhouse, Los Angeles, when the Philanthropic section of the Rosencranz Club observed reciprocity day.

At the close of the business session Mrs. George H. Hutton of Santa Monica, chairman of the music section of the Los Angeles District Federated Clubs, gave an interesting talk on the "Orchestra and Its Composition," Mrs. Hutton supplemented her talk with musical composition, rendered on a Victrola, illustrating the legitimate use of each instrument used in the orchestra.

Mrs. W. C. Wattles, Mrs. Hal H. Davenport, Mrs. R. C. Burke, Mrs. Harry Bowman, Mrs. H. G. Pettit and Mrs. O. E. Clements, who are arranging the programme for Wednesday evening for the Tropico Clubhouse building fund, announced that they will give a witches' dancing party and that the costumes will be unique and comical. The dance will be given at Knights of Pythias Hall. This event will permit Tropico society to don any comical and grotesque costume and appear ridiculous for one evening.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Lunn, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whitney and Allen Davenport, have returned from a motoring trip to Redlands and Riverside.

Mrs. S. H. Ford of Chicago, who has been spending the past three months as the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. C. Wattles, has been the charming honoree at a number of recherche social events was the guest of honor at a matinee to witness the "Mission Play" Saturday when Mrs. Wattles and Mrs. Edward M. Lynch were hostesses.

San Bernardino.

A HAPPY nuptial event occurred Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Brua on Sixth street, when Miss Genevieve Nelson Waddell of Taylorville, Ill., became the bride of Fred A. Wilson, a well known young attorney of this city. Miss Waddell has been a resident here the last year and a half, and in that time has won a wide circle of warm friends. The decorations of the home were daintily carried out in pink and green. "O Promise Me" was sung by Mrs. H. F. Andrews and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Alvah Grant Fessenden of the First Presbyterian Church. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Waddell of Illinois, were here for the interesting event. The bride has been given a great amount of prenuptial attention, a number of affairs being given in her honor. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will spend their honeymoon at a Venice cottage, after which they will make their home in San Bernardino.

A delightfully-appointed luncheon and afternoon were given Wednesday by Mrs. F. A. Maginnis at her Seventh street home, the affair being in honor of Mrs. Kurt Wall of Vevey, Switzerland, and Mrs. W. C. Nelson of Bennington, Kan., both of whom are spending the winter in San Bernardino. Other out-of-town guests included Mrs. S. H. Tripp of Covina, Mrs. E. Kepler of Peoria, Ill., and Miss Jane Collins of Whittier. Pink and green prevailed in the decorations, while Valentine hearts predominated in many ways in the decorations and refreshments. Interesting contests were enjoyed, Mrs. E. H. Lyman and Mrs. G. R. Owen winning the favors.

At a reception held at the home of Judge and Mrs. B. F. Bledsoe Tuesday afternoon by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A., in honor of Mrs. Hollabaugh, wife of General Secretary M. A. Hollabaugh, and Mrs. Dunn, wife of Physical Director C. L. Dunn, both of whom are new residents here, attracted a large number of the women of the city. The parlors were decorated in pink, while a yellow tone prevailed in the dining-room. Mrs. H. M. Barton gave a delightful solo, while a brief talk on association work was given by General Secretary Hollabaugh to the ladies present.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. McGroarty of Los Angeles were guests of honor at a dinner given Tuesday evening at the home of Judge and Mrs. B. F. Bledsoe, a dozen guests being assembled at the pleasant affair. Jonquils in a yellow bowl formed a pretty centerpiece for the table.

Whittier.

MR. AND MRS. O. C. ALBERTSON of Berkeley way entertained with a dinner party Monday evening the basketball five of the High School. The table was attractive in red and white, the places being marked by red lighted candles and clever folders in which each guest was asked to complete a short basketball story. Those present besides the host and hostess were Coach Wilson, Manager Graham, Jones, Jackson, McBurney, Woollomes, Hood, Benton and Setzer.

The household economic section of the Woman's Club met Monday afternoon at the clubhouse in regular session and a most delightful hour was spent listening to several interesting papers. Mesdames Dunlap, Miller and Collins acted as hostesses and a delicious collation was served following the programme.

Mrs. A. A. Heitman was hostess to a small number of friends Friday evening at her home on East Camilla street. The evening was spent at "five hundred," after which a dainty collation was served. The table was artistically decorated in red hearts and cupids in keeping with St. Valentine.

The guild of St. Matthias Episcopal Church met Thursday afternoon. The ladies in observance of Lent spent the hours in tying comfortables for the St. Andrews home and no refreshments were served.

Miss Aurora Frankum was hostess to the members of the J.B.T. Club Tuesday evening at her home on East Penn street. The evening was spent with games and music, after which dainty refreshments were served.

A Valentine dance was given by the Elk Lodge to a large number of their frends Friday evening at their beautiful club rooms. Programmes and decorations were in keeping with the Valentine motif. About seventy-five couples enjoyed the affair, the first of a series of six.

Mrs. Charles S. Swain of Los Nietos was hostess at a small bridge party Wednesday afternoon. The attractive Swain home was tastefully decorated in cut flowers. Following the game a dainty collation was served.

Miss Elizabeth Lum was hostess to the members of the music section of the Woman's Club Tuesday afternoon at her beautiful residence on East Hadley street.

Palms.

A BIRTHDAY surprise party was given last Saturday evening on Slewey Richardson at his home. About thirty young people spent an enjoyable evening there with games.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Earle and son, Rudolph, of Los Angeles, spent Wednesday here with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lowe and daughters, Gladys and Evelyn, of Chino, who have been visiting Mrs. W. W. La Forge for several days, returned to their home, Tuesday.

Mrs. F. W. Thatcher was the guest of friends in Los Angeles Saturday.

Miss Mabelle Attrill spent Sunday with relatives in Riverside and Redlands.

G. P. Shanks and son, George, and A. R. Messick, spent from Saturday to Tuesday in Tucson, Ariz.

San Jacinto.

MR. AND MRS. F. T. ALLEN left for Los Angeles Sunday, after a week's visit in San Jacinto.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bradley and children of Upland were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Emerson the first of the week

Mrs. Lillie Keast Kennedy arrived in San Jacinto this week from Los Angeles on a short visit to her parents.

On Monday a Shakespeare Club was organized with a membership of ten ladies. The "Merchant of Venice" will be studied this spring. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Ada Kidder.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Emerson and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Fowler visited Perris on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hopkins of Los Angeles are guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Thompson.

The regular meeting of the P.E.O. was held at the home of Mrs. Hattie Thomas. The chapter is planning for its annual banquet to be given at the close of the year's work. The president, Mrs. C. D. Pool, entertained the officers of the P.E.O. at luncheon this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blair have moved to the John Shaver place in the South San Jacinto district.

Mr. and Mrs. George Arnold left Thursday for British Columbia to remain indefinitely, Mr. Arnold having sold his property to John Ross.

Mrs. R. G. Foster visited in Los Angeles for several days during the past week.

The young friends of Wilfred Walkenshaw gathered at his home Monday night in honor of the young man's eighteenth birthday. Games were enjoyed for several hours and a delightful evening was passed.

Downey.

J. H. STRINE, who has been in Sacramento attending to political affairs, is at home for a short stay.

J. A. Myers of Downey and Dr. T. A. Lynch of Los Angeles are visiting Dr. Ryan at Banning for several days.

W. S. Kenny and wife of Highland Park are guests of Mrs. Kenny's father, E. N. Skidmore.

THE members of the Philathea Club of which many Duarte girls are members tendered a reception and shower to Miss Edith Wade Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Edward M. Scott, Mrs. C. H. Sarwine and Mrs. Richard A. Van der Las were the patronesses. Mrs. Scott assisted by her mother, Mrs. Garland Woodson, cordially welcomed the guests and after a jolly evening, a wedding march was played and the guests marched past the bride-to-be each showering her with a pretty linen gift. After this pretty little ceremony supper was served. Among the guests from Duarte were Miss Florence Blain, Miss Nellie Wilson, Miss Retta Blain, Miss Venola Marquis, Mrs. C. H. Sarwine and the Misses Flossie and Dora Blain.

A jolly party, which included Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Radabaugh, Mr. and Mrs. William Beardslee, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sarwine and Mr. and Mrs. Walter K. Shaw dined at Seven Oaks Hotel Monday evening, and afterwards enjoyed the concert that Prof. Clarence A. Krinbill gave, assisted by vocalists from Los Angeles.

Mrs. Joseph Fowler, Miss Burkhart and Miss Lizzie Fowler were the joint hostesses of the ladies of the Methodist Church at a pleasant February party given Friday at the home of Capt. Hardy Fowler. About forty ladies were present and late in the afternoon all gathered about the tea tables for a cosy half hour over refreshments.

The members of the Ladies' Hockey Club of Duarte held a meeting Monday on the Bradbury fields, when they welcomed home two of their good players who have been spending the fall months in England and Canada, Miss Dolly Scott and Miss Marjorie Maddock. The others who shared in the game Monday, which was preceeded by a reunion, were the captain, Miss Alice Scott, Miss Morgan, Miss Marjorie Morgan, Miss Hilda Carter and Miss Millie Scott, and Mrs. Scott Lee Boyd, Mrs. Emily M. Seymour, Mrs. J. Allen Munro, Mrs. W. H. Young, Mrs. Arthur Gordon Maddock and Mrs. J. M. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Bliss entertained on Sunday with a dinner party complimentary to Mrs. Boyer and her daughter, Miss Lulu Boyer and J. H. Entler of Los Angeles.

The card clubs of Duarte are providing fascinating diversion for the ladies and gentlemen and on Tuesday afternoon a new bridge club was organized at the home of Mrs. Ludie Gerhart Cross on Buena Vista avenue. Twelve ladies were present who plan to meet on alternating Tuesdays for an afternoon at bridge. The Five Hundred Club, which numbers sixteen ladies and gentlemen, met Thursday

PERSONALS.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Anderson are occupying a suite at the Van Nuys. Anderson is an attorney of Prescott, Ariz., in charge of the Clark interests in that State, who has just come here from Jerome, where he made a tour of inspection of the United Verde properties. "Business conditions in Arizona were never better," he said, "and there is everywhere an air of improvement and development. This winter has brought many tourists and new colonists to the State, which means added prosperity for the entire West."

An automobile party, traveling in two machines left the Angelus yesterday morning for San Diego. O. J. Stough, millionaire land owner of the southern city, had as guests in his machine Thomas Carey, the Chicago millionaire brick manufacturer and his party. T. D. Murphy, Goldfield mining man, had a small group of friends in his machine. The united party will pass several weeks in the southern part of the State looking over various properties and making the occasion also an outing trip.

George B. Douglas with his family is occupying a suite at the Alexandria. He came here from Cedar Rapids, where he operates the Douglas Cracker Company, one of the principal cracker-baking companies in the United States. He is here for a rest. W. J. Millican, a millionaire land operator of Calgary, with Mrs. Millican, his daughter, Anna, and son, Harry, is occupying a suite at the same hotel. He is planning a winter home in Southern California.

H. H. Manny of Seattle, accompanied by Mrs. Manny, is at the Lankershim. Mr. Manny has long figured in railroad circles and both he and Mrs. Manny are well known here.

A. F. Duclose, Indian agent at Ft. Mojave on the Colorado, is registered at the Hollenbeck. He came up chiefly to ascertain from Federal and military authorities the possibilities of utilizing the Mojave and the Apache Indians on the reservation as scouts in Mexican territory, should intervention be decided on. J. D. Miller, inspector of Pullman service out of Chicago, is making his home at the same hotel.

Richard C. Patterson, an attorney of Kansas City, is a guest at the Lankershim. He is here in the interests of a client in a probate case. Dr. Fred Stauffer is registered at the same hotel. He is not only a practicing physician of Salt Lake, but is also extensively interested in real estate and mines.

W. B. McMillan, an extensive shipper of lumber out of Eureka, is registered at the Hayward. He came down to view the harbor progress at San Pedro and yesterday stated that it far exceeds even at this time the expectations of lumber shippers in the northern part of the State as to size, wharfage facilities and continued improvements. W. W. Breckenridge, a railroad official of Tucson, is staying at the same hotel.

WILL RESIST PAROLE.

Deputy District Attorney Says Dangerous Doctor Has Short Term Considering Crime Committed.

Deputy District Attorney Veitch was informed yesterday that Dr. J. A. Mead who pleaded guilty to a charge of criminal malpractice and who is serving two years in San Quentin, is making efforts to be released on parole.

Mead was instrumental in causing the death of Miss Margaret Cross. He pleaded guilty and asked for probation from former Judge Hutton.

"I think the defendant secured a light sentence when the facts are all considered," said Veitch. "I certainly will resist any effort to get the man free on parole. Such crimes deserve severe punishment. He virtually was guilty of murder."

Mead is said to base his plea for commutation of sentence or parole upon alleged ill-health.

SHOWS SPARTAN SPIRIT.

Cook Falls Into Hole, Injures Feet, Makes Ladder and Starts for Receiving Hospital.

F. F. Kline, a cook of Harrisburg, Pa., was taken to the County Hospital yesterday with a broken left foot and a sprained right foot, sustained, he said, when he fell into a twenty-foot elevator excavation in the basement of a building being reared on East Ninth street.

Kline told the Receiving Hospital doctors that he lay in the excavation all Friday night, unable to find a means of getting out. At down he found two boards, and with these made a rude ladder, having also found some nails.

After climbing out of the excavation, Kline tore a couple of pickets from a fence and made crutches. With these he started for the Receiving Hospital. Kline said he entered the building to sleep. He was walking to Riverside, where he had been promised employment. Kline is at the County Hospital.

AID BEACH POLICE.

Sheriff's Deputies Join the Investigation of Cause for Woman's Death in Canyon.

Deputy Sheriffs from this city yesterday joined in the investigation of the cause of the death of Miss Nettie Soards, whose body was found in Dead Man's Canyon not far from Santa Monica.

One theory is that the woman was murdered by a companion who escorted her to a lonely spot near where the body was found and then pushed her over a cliff. The autopsy showed that the neck, both shoulders and the low jaw were broken.

A woman's handbag and a pair of opera glasses were found about a mile from the spot where the body was discovered. A gold watch known to have been usually carried by Miss Soards was missing when the seachers found the body.

The whereabouts of the body was made known through an unsigned postal card which was mailed in this city the 7th inst.

VISIT TO THE REPUBLIC.

Large Company of Ladies Inspect the George Junior Republic, and Inspect Recent Improvements.

On Lincoln's Birthday, a large number of women representing various civic clubs and parent-teachers' associations, by invitation of its citizens, made a pilgrimage to the little republic of nearly a mile square, on a ranch, forty miles from Los Angeles in San Bernardino county.

The changes and improvements that have taken place in the republic were a surprise to those who had not been there during the last two years, since young Waterhouse became superintendent. A noon-day dinner was served to nearly seventy-five guests, only four of whom were men. Particular interest was shown in the newest building, which has just been completed, embracing the gymnasium, clubhouse and swimming pool, the latter being filled with water from a large artesian well belonging to the republic. There are thirteen other buildings, devoted to school, industries, government and dormitory purposes.

Chronic Stomach Trouble Cured.

There is nothing more discouraging than a chronic disorder of the stomach. Is it not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle? "About one year ago," says P. H. Beck of Wakelee, Mich., "I bought a package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using them I have felt perfectly well. I had previously used any number of different medicines, but none of them were of any lasting benefit." For sale by all dealers.—[Advertisement.

300 New Spring Suits on Special Sale!

Latest Models and Colors--All Sizes--Values From $20.00 to $30.00

Our garment buyer, who is now in New York, wired us to the effect that he had secured three hundred new spring suits at about one-third less than their actual worth. Many of these are advance samples. Values range from $20.00 to $30.00. For convenience in selling we have divided them into two lots and price them at $12.50 and $17.00. This is one of the most opportune sales we have ever held. Think of buying crisp, new spring suits that are right down to the minute in point of style and color at the same prices that are being charged about town for tag ends of the winter stock. There will be a big demand for these suits on account of the newness of style and the extreme lowness of price, so an early response is advisable.

$17.00

New Spring Suits

Suits possessing character, snap, go and vim. Fine blue serges with collar and cuffs of tan colored wool ratines. Round cut coat, finely tailored. Also blue serges of the same description with black moire collar and smoked pearl buttons. Navy blue serges, carefully made and finished. Plainly tailored round cut coat with watch pocket; light gray and tan striped suitings. The coats have watch pockets and are lined with serviceable satin and soft messaline silk. Latest skirt models. All sizes up to 40. Most of these are $20.00 values. Sale price $12.50.

Full Length & Johnny Coats

David Warfield

In Peter Grimm. One of the great parts of an actor accounted by many as the greatest of the American stage.

Histrionic.

WARFIELD'S WAY TO SUCCESS.

RETURN OF PETER GRIMM ARTIST'S NEW ROLE.

Tomorrow Night at the Mason David Warfield Will Begin Week Engagement in a New Play of Striking Originality and Deep Sentiment.

BY HECTOR ALLIOT.

While David Warfield has produced a deeper impression on the dramatic taste of American audiences than any other actor, he has created also a tremendous unrest in the lower ranks of the profession.

Hundreds of candidates for the footlight applause have wondered why, better endowed by nature than Warfield, more intellectual and better trained, they have not before now been accorded the same recognition.

No end of theater-goers have also asked themselves how it happened that this artist had climbed the ladder of fame so rapidly.

Few realize the truth. There has not been anything of the pyrotechnic in Warfield's career.

Primarily endowed with certain essential qualities of infinite patience and earnestness of purpose, it has taken him twenty years to reach the highest seat among the elect and that through hard work and many heartaches.

If he has won at last the crown of laurels, it is only because for almost two decades, he slowly worked his way to the top, through the narrow lane of efficiency, one step after another.

It is no small credit to him that he began at the bottom of the ladder, a poor California boy, without means or protectors, in a little back street theater in San Francisco, some twenty years ago.

There is, no doubt, something romantic about a young actor playing the role of an Irish washwoman in "O'Dowd's Neighbors," a rough, farcical play suited only to a Barbary Coast audience, and becoming the interpreter of the "Music Master."

Most people remember the latter, a few only, know of the former; the intervening period is altogether overlooked. Yet it was the formative period and the final recognition of long years of arduous toil.

From many experiences, most of them hard enough to discourage, David Warfield finally emerged in New York and vainly attempted to persuade George Lederer to let him present the little sketch, "Einstein," at the Casino. Lederer, who knew that the playlet had been a failure on the road, declined the offer.

If there had not been a baseball game given for the benefit of the New York Herald, free ice fund, and played by two teams of actors, in the costumes of their parts, David Warfield might to this day be a barnstorming genius undiscovered.

But it was preordained otherwise; the make-up of Einstein that had been so little appreciated on the road, proved Warfield's triumph card in New York. His appearance on the baseball diamond in the costume of the typical East Sider with shaggy beard, flat hat, well drawn to the ears, a long shabby frock coat, was the object of much attention and merriment from the public. His foolish expression and simple ways caused almost as much amusement.

Lederer was no longer obdurate and "Einstein" did big business at the Casino, for weeks.

Warfield visited Belasco and from that first interview was born the eminently successful co-operation of actor and author-manager that still remains unchanged. "Einstein" was metamorphosed into "The Auctioneer" and Warfield was launched on the high sea of success.

For those who seek the cause of his renown in some patented method, the great simplicity of the plays he has presented, is very disturbing.

Warfield is so constituted that he could not adequately impersonate a complex, highly-colored character. His strength is his naturalness and sincerity, the rarest of qualities on the stage.

He relies for his appeal to an audience upon the spontaneous expression of a simple human sentiment of deep emotion, restrained almost always and only suggested.

In addition to his sterling genuineness of intention and purpose, he is possessed of one peculiar and personal factor rare, if not unique—a quality of a sob that vibrating in him, sets vibrating in every one within hearing the same deep and profound emotion. When combined with the effected cheerfulness of one sad of heart, it is absolutely irresistible; tears come to every eye.

It is a tremendous gift for an actor to possess. It has made the histrionic fortune of the California boy.

No one has fully understood the possibilities of Warfield's talent like David Belasco, who has applied himself to construct the best vehicles possible for the exploitation of his ward, friend and co-worker.

Tomorrow, David Warfield will appear in a new play, that has received the highest recognition, "The Return of Peter Grimm."

In the modern unrest and speculation, the world-old belief in spirits has attracted anew much curiosity. They stage, these last two seasons, has presented for consideration, Hindoo beliefs in reincarnation, double personalities, ghosts and phantoms. Since these plays have been received with favor, it would indicate naturally that a far greater number than one would imagine are interested in the subject.

David Belasco has composed a new play around this ancient theme and it is apparently as daring as it is entertaining. It is new as well.

Peter Grimm, a horticulturist and botanist, is the type of the successful, painstaking nurseryman of two centuries ago, carrying his methodical ideas in the management of his affairs and of his family. He dies and returns as an inspiring ghost, whose voice is only heard by those whom he loves best, and advises. After many such experiences that a ghost would encounter, if he returned on earth to discover the pettings, jealousy and heartlessness of some of his heirs and friends, Peter Grimm once again returns to the land of memory.

The theme is original and brings out some interesting problems that would delight by their unexpected solutions, the soul of psychological investigators. For the materialists the old Dr. MacPherson will prove charming by his ultra-rational theories. But everybody will side with Katie, who is in love and crossed by her stubborn Dutch father, Peter Grimm, in the flesh.

As the ghost, the hard-headed botanist, is found to have been much improved by his journey in the land of tomorrow, and to have acquired great wisdom when he delivers himself of this admirable statement, "How foolish we are, we old matchmakers, to think we can turn the world about and reckon from a false logic, that eliminates the call of youth."

Big Event.

NAT GOODWIN TO APPEAR AGAIN.

FAMOUS OLD ACTOR TO PERFORM IN "OLIVER TWIST."

Dickens's Play Will Be Fine Vehicle for Display of Old Timer's Versatility—Fine Supporting Company Has Been Secured—Grace Valentine Will Play the Title Role.

Monday night, at the Morosco Theater, Nat C. Goodwin will commence a special starring engagement with the Morosco Producing Company.

This is a theatrical event that has been awaited with no little degree of anticipation since the unfortunate accident to Goodwin six months ago which made imperative his retirement from all active stage work.

Manager Morosco has chosen "Oliver Twist" for Mr. Goodwin's reappearance, and has selected Comyn Carr's dramatization. This is the same version in which Goodwin appeared with the Liebler Company all-star cast at the New Amsterdam Theater last spring.

Mr. Morosco has supplied an organization of suppporting players that may be relied upon to give a performance of exceptional worth. For the important role of Bill Sykes Mr. Morosco has selected Harrison Hunter. The role of Nancy will be in the hands of Helen Robertson, while Grace Valentine will be seen as Oliver Twist.

Scenically, the Morosco production of "Oliver Twist" gives every promise of being a distinct triumph.

Burbank Theater.

One of the most important premier productions that has ever been made on a local stage, will take place at the Burbank Theater, this week, when Zellah Covington, and Jules Simonson's new comedy, "The Elixir of Youth" will be given for the first time anywhere, beginning with the usual matinee today.

The presentation is more than ordinarily interesting for the fact that the comedy has already been accepted for production in New York two months hence.

During Mr. Morosco's recent trip to New York, he made an effort to secure the entire American rights. This was impossible, owing to the fact that the piece had already been accepted by John Cort and Byron Ongley. He did, however, succeed in inducing them to let him produce the play at the Burbank, before it was revealed to metropolitan audiences.

Zellah Covington, one of the authors, has come from New York to stage the piece and will incidentally play the chief role, that of an old doctor 70 years of age.

The play affords excellent chances to Beatrice Nichols, James Corrigan, Grace Travers, Donald Bowles and all of the other members of the Burbank organization.

The stage settings will be the most expensive that have ever been seen on the Burbank stage, and after the presentation, the entire production will be shipped to New York and used in the production on Broadway.

Orpheum.

Lily Langtry, the handsomest of all English actresses, will top the bill at the Orpheum, opening tomorrow afternoon, in her newest dramatic vehicle, "Mrs. Justice Drake." Mrs. Langtry is here for a week only, but it is likely to be one of the most delightful weeks the Orpheum has ever known.

Besides her histrionic ability Mrs. Langtry brings a galaxy of gowns that will make even the men sit up and take notice. She is one of the noted trio of stars for the Orpheum this season, the others being Ethel Barrymore and Sarah Bernhardt, soon to be here.

With Mrs. Langtry comes a vaudeville bill of remarkable excellence headed by Amelia Stone and Armand Kalisz, in a miniature comic opera, "Mon Amour." Another couple sure to make fun for all is composed of Alf Grant and Ethel Hoag, who will proffer a funny affair, "The Troublesome Trunk."

"Those French Girls," the Amoros sisters, also are most versatile girls, and they will present a series of songs, dances, acrobatics and poses. George W. Barry and Maude Wolford will offer "At the Song Booth," which is a potpourri of songs, mostly their own. Roxy La Rocca is a harpist of such merit that the King of Italy presented him the instrument on which he performs. The Chadwick Trio and Wilson's comedy circus, with the unrideable mule, "Obey," will be the only holdover features. The motion pictures will complete the week's very unusual bill.

Beginning tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock the sale of Bernhardt seats will open at the Orpheum. So far, for the week past, only mail orders sales have been received, and while these will continue a chance will now be offered to those who wish to pay cash at the window.

The Bernhardt engagement will begin on Monday, March 3, and she will present a total of six changes of bill while here.

"The Mission Play."

The "Mission Play" will enter its nineteenth week with Tuesday's matinee.

Majestic Theater.

Kolb & Dill will be seen for just one week in "Algeria," commencing tonight, at the Majestic Theater.

These comedians are making a two week's tour of the State while a traveling company interrupts their engagement at the Savoy Theater, San Francisco.

The Kolb & Dill offering is "Algeria," with lyrics by Glen MacDonough, book by Roland Oliver and music by Victor Herbert. "Algeria" has to do with a Shiek, a bunch of his suffragette wives—and a princess, who fears she will become an old maid. Around this princess much of the plot revolves.

Kolb & Dill are said to have with them on their present visit to Los Angeles the best organization they ever have shown at a local theater. Heading the company are Maude Amber and Winfield Blake, both of whom were associated with Kolb & Dill in the old days of Fisher's Theater, San Francisco. The company includes twenty-four feminine members, all of whom are said to come up to the Kolb & Dill standard.

Commencing next Sunday night, Florence Webber and the Hammerstein Comic Opera Company in Victor Herbert's notable success "Naughty Marietta," will be seen at the Majestic.

Empress Theater.

An uncommonly attractive vaudeville bill, consisting of seven new Sullivar & Considine acts, will come to the Empress this week, beginning with the matinee tomorrow.

The new bill will be headed by Nick Kaufman's Roller Skating Girls. This sextette of beauties has for the past six months proved one of the most attractive features of the Berlin Winter Garden.

The second feature of the new bill will be Marie Stoddard, one of the best known and most successful singing comediennes in vaudeville today.

Third in importance will be George Leonard and company in the lively musical skit, "The Maid and the Meddler."

Another attractive offering will be that of Gilbert Losee, a triple-voiced phenomenon, who has three distinct voices.

Lois Paulisch, a violinist of rare ability, will also add to the musical portion of the bill.

The acrobatic portion of the new bill will be furnished by the Les Adlers, an agile man and woman, who offer a thrilling gymnastic spectacle on the Roman rings.

Republic.

The Mabel Fonda troupe of juggling girls and boys will be the stellar attraction at the Republic Theater this week, beginning with the matinee Monday.

Another big feature on the new bill will be Emerson, Morris and Walton in a song and patter novelty.

Ward and St. Clair, a clever man and a pretty girl, will present a skit which they aptly term, "In the Garden of Harmony."

Van and Pearse have a corking comedy called "Get a License," which has scored heavily all over Levey time.

And almost everyone knows Frank Merritt. He doesn't require special scenery or a brass band, for he is a whole show all by himself.

Another act that is sure to keep mirth at a high pitch will be the Celestos, comedy acrobats, who perform sensational stunts in burlesque garb.

Pantages.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS

BY SYDNEY FORD.

AS MANY women as could crowd into the large class room on the second floor of the Ebell Club House assembled last Thursday morning to listen to an entertaining programme by the drama section of the club, which is under the curatorship of Mrs. Ada Henry Van Pelt.

The department has now reached that happy stage in the study of Maeterlinck's dramas where his wife, known on the stage as Georgette Leblanc, comes into his life and exerts her benign influence over his hitherto pessimistic and gloomy writings. She sheds a bright, warm ray of sunshine and by the alchemy of love and good fellowship converts him to the optimism of her joyous nature.

Ethelyn Ashton gave a sketch of Mme. Maeterlinck which was full of interest. One of the most interesting figures of the literary and social circles of Paris, her nature combines from her parentage the sunny, warm temperament of Italy with the nebulous fancies of the North. Light-hearted, joyous, vibrant with life and feeling, this brilliant artist who adores her gifted husband has so influenced his material life and thought that this studious, somber scholar radiates something of her joy of being in his later productions.

Mrs. James Bert Stearns read portions of the play "Rutherford & Son," which has taken London by storm but has not yet been produced in this country. It is a matter of feminine pride that this play was written by a woman—and it is her first, too—and so tremendously good that it leaped at once into the spotlight of success in the world's metropolis. The plot concerns a successful manufacturer living in the outskirts of a little factory town in the north of England, who has built up a large commercial plant and has become so absorbed in the building that he cares for nothing else and does not hesitate to wrong his own son to further increase the material interests of the firm. There are eight characters and the play is in three acts, concluding with a note of tragedy wherein the son leaves home forever.

Mrs. Alice C. Riley of Evanston, Ill., founder of the Drama League of America, addressed the department. Ebell was the first Los Angeles club to come into the league—a fact which the speaker fully appreciated—and she outlined the objects and aims of the organization, which is a movement on the part of the audience to so educate the public that it will appreciate and stand back of good drama. She expressed it as her opinion that the theatrical situation here is more susceptible to such influence than that of the hard-and-fast East. She appealed to the drama section of Ebell to establish classes and found educational centers in the city to educate and show the difference between a good and a worthless play. She said that the public library is the real foundation of the educational work and went on to describe how it is carried on in her own city of Evanston—a place about the size of Pasadena. They began there with the library and now have one of the finest dramatic libraries in the country. A bulletin is posted up, showing what plays are on the boards in Chicago—which is to Evanston what Los Angeles is to Pasadena and other surrounding cities—and designating which plays are worth while and giving references to books which explain just what the play is.

The output of the educational material of the league is in charge of Brander Mathews of the University of Chicago. The play-going committee prepares these bulletins and it is their business to deliver the right audience to the right play. The bulletin is not influenced by the box-office receipts, but only by the absolute merit of the play. No worthless plays are bulletined.

Mrs. Riley's talk was listened to with great interest. "When a good play comes along," she urged, "go and see it—and go early in the engagement; encourage good drama by your patronage, and discourage worthless plays by your absence."

Wednesday Morning Club.

Under the direction of Miss Lucile Davis as hostess, a children's party was given at the Wednesday Morning Club House on Saturday afternoon when Miss Wallace and Miss Fowler entertained the little folks with music, games and refreshments. The 100 little guests enjoyed a delightful afternoon. The childless club members were invited to borrow a youngster to bring to the party and, judging from the number there, every one brought a baby.

Next Wednesday will be an open meeting when all the members are requested to invite their friends. The programme at 2 p.m. includes a vocal solo by Mrs. D. E. Fullmer, vocal selections by the music section of the club, and a lecture on the eastern question by Dr. D. E. Fullmer.

A Popular Reader.

Miss Helen Louise Kimball, who has recently given programmes of her stories and character sketches before the Friday Morning Club and last week appeared at the Alhambra Wednesday Afternoon Club, will recite at the Highland Park Ebell Club next Tuesday morning. Next week she goes to Santa Barbara, where she is to fill several engagements, one on March 1 at the Santa Barbara Woman's Club.

Letter from Mary Antn.

Miss Belle Baer read an interesting letter which she has just received from Mary Antin, author of "The Promised Land" before the drama section of Ebell at its meeting last Thursday in reply to a letter Miss Baer sent her concerning the situation of a young girl here and asking the author's advice which was summed up in the suggestion that the girl—who was lonely and felt forlorn—ojin some such organization as the "Lend-a-Hand" Club organized by Edward Everett Hale. Miss Antin mentioned the joy she had once experienced in attending, in Dr. Hale's company, one of these clubs of his organizing in Boston.

Reception for D.A.R. Candidate.

The reception tendered by Eschscholtzia Chapter, D.A.R., to Mrs. Harrison Purdon, candidate for State Vice-President General, at the Alexandria last Tuesday called out a large number of guests which included many visiting Daughters who belong to the tourist contingent, now so numerous in Southern California.

In the receiving line, beside the guest of honor, were Mmes. F. P. Young, Vice-President of Eschscholtzia; Ida Walker, Regent of Hollywood Chapter; Richard W. Edwards, for three years State corresponding secretary of Iowa; Mrs. Mary Banning, charter member of Eschscholtzia and ex-Regent; Mrs. Ralf and members of Eschscholtzia board. Tea was served in the tearoom late in the afternoon.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Henry Billings and Miss Bertha Billings of Chicago; Mrs. S. H. Brown, Painesville, O.; Mrs. Richard W. Edwards and Mrs. Martha H. Home of Iowa; Mrs. E. Clinton Carter of Milwaukee; Mrs. Virginia Forsyth of New York; Mrs. Earl G. Fellows of Comer, Mich.; Mrs. F. M. Van Horn of Denver; Mrs. Charles Vernon Story of Long Beach.

Something Out if Nithing.

"Kitty Cheatham is an expert in making something out of nothing," observed Mrs. C. Q. Stanton at the drama section of Ebell the other day when local plays were being discussed.

Miss Helen Louise Kimball,
Who appears before several women's clubs this month.

Another member who has a friend in "Bunty Pulls the Strings" remarked that this actress succinctly declares that the eternal triangle in the dramatic world is—the play, the audience and the actors.

Guest Programme.

There is a great demand for tickets for the Friday Morning Club's guest programme on next Saturday evening when Miss Mary A. Dickinson, a pupil of Leschetizky and an instructor in the Michigan Normal Conservatory of Music will give a piano recital, assisted by Fred Ellis, the well-known baritone and president of the local Music Teachers' Association.

I had the pleasure a few evenings since of hearing Miss Dickinson and she is certainly a mistress of the keyboard. She plays with a verve and finish that gives keen delight to her listeners, and she will undoubtedly draw a large audience.

She's a Winner.

Mrs. W. A. Moses, head of one of the committees in the Y.W.C.A. campaign, has led her forces on to victory every day since the campaign began, heading the list day after day, in the amount of subscriptions taken.

It will be remembered that Mrs. Moses—before she was Mrs. Moses—was one of the most succesful women real etate operators in Los Angeles. Beginning with a few hundred dollars she rolled up a fortune in six figures.

How to Brown Hair Without Detection

Mrs. Potter's Walnut-Tint Hair Stain Can Be Applied in a Few Minutes Every Month.

There is a way of staining gray, faded or bleached hair any shade desired, from a beautiful rich brown to almost black, so that it is difficult, if not impossible, for even experts to detect that the hair has been treated in any way.

This preparation has the tremendous advantage over hair dyes of containing no silver, sulphur, lead or other poisons which invariably cause hair-falling. It has no odor, no oil, no sediment and no grease, and does not rub off on the clothing. It makes the hair grow out fluffy and luxuriant.

A liberal amount as a laboratory trial package of this Walnut-Tint Hair Stain, together with a booklet on hair, is sent by Mrs. Potter's Hygienic Supply Co., 1745 Groton Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio, in plain, sealed wrapper, if you will send 25 cents in stamps or coin, and if it is desired to continue the treatment, full-sized packages may be obtained at drug or department stores for $1.00 a package.

It is applied in a few moments with the comb, and it stains the hair evenly, from tip to root. It produces any shade desired, from a beautiful, rich brown, to almost black.

One bottle of this Walnut-Tint Hair Stain can last a year.

Luisa Tetrazzini is another song bird of the Chicago organization. Never in the history of Italian music has there been such a capable diva as this same little woman who stands today as the queen of the bel canto stage.

Other names to conjure with are those of Mario Sammarco, Gustave Huberdeau, Hector Dufranne, Elenora De Cisneros, Minnie Saltzman-Stevens, Jane Osborn-Hannah, Clarence Whitehill, Henri Scott, Edna Darch, Armand Crabble, Charles Dalmores and Mabel Riegelman.

BIG REPERTOIRE.

The repertoire which has been so carefully arranged is also evenly balanced. "Thais," "The Love Tales of Hoffman," "Haensel and Gretel," in English; "Rigoletto" and "Lucia" and "Natoma" in English, our American opera, with the libretto by Redding of California, music by Herbert and the great music dramas of Richard Wagner, are surely the culmination of as remarkable a repertoire as was ever arranged to please and educate an American public.

Nordica Recital.

Mme. Nordica, America's greatest soprano, will be heard in concert at the Maryland Hotel, Pasadena, Friday evening, February 28.

The proceeds of the Nordica concert are to go to the fund of the Childrens Training School of Pasadena. Tickets will go on sale Wednesday morning in Pasadena.

Nordica will be assisted by William Morse Rummel, violinist, and Romayne Simmons, pianist.

—o—

Mischa Elman Concert.

Mischa Elman, the young violinist who can make his instrument sing into one's heart, will play at the Auditorium February 18 in the Philharmonic Course and Saturday afternoon, February 22, assisted as usual by the pianist, Percy Kahn, of London.

Elman first played for us when he was 17 years old; he returns a man of 21, and has passed the stage in the lives of all young geniuses, when they either go forward or retrograde. Elman is now in the class of the master players, and yet he retains that glorious charm of youth and the "Elman tone," as Maud Powell calls it.

An opportunity will be given on Tuesday evening for teachers and clubs to obtain student rates, if purchased before the day of the concert.

—o—

People's Orchestra.

Few Indian suites have created more attention in the musical world that did the "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast," written by the young negro composer, Coleridge-Taylor, whose death occurred last year. This suite has been heard at some of the greatest musical festivals of the past three or four years. A portion of this suite, "Onaway Awake Beloved," will be given on the stage at the Auditorium this afternoon when G. Haydn Jones will sing it with the People's Orchestra.

A novel feature of the programme today will be the Andante from "Cleopatra" by Mancinelli. Another Indian motif will be the prelude to the third act of "Natoma," Victor Herbert's magnificent opera soon to be heard upon the Pacific Coast.

Massanet's Scenes Picturesque, the overture to "Imphigene and Aulide," and a "Carnival Overture" by Glazounov will complete the card, which promises to be one of the most genuinely musical of the season.

—o—

Opera Musicales.

Endeavoring to assist the public to understand the coming opera season Manager Behymer has secured the services of Anna Shaw Faulkner of Chicago, who is in authority on all of the grand operas, and Marx Oberndorfer, pianist, who are the originators of the opera musicales. These artists will present at the Auditorium a series of interpretative recitals.

Miss Faulkner will discuss the Wegner influence upon later day dramatics, while Mr. Oberndorfer at the piano plays a condensed version of the entire opera.

The first of the four lectures will be Wednesday afternoon, with a programme on the subject of the Wagnerian Ring, fully illustrated by slides and colored pictures.

On Thursday afternoon the French music is taken up in "Thais." One-third of the time will be given over to an explanation of "Natoma," the American opera.

On Friday evening is to be another illustrated talk on the beauties of the entire Wagnerian series of music dramas.

For Saturday night "Tristan and Isolde" has been reserved. The closing part of the evening will be devoted to "Haensel and Gretel."

—o—

Ring Music.

On Friday afternoon, February 21, at the Auditorium, the Los Angeles City Teachers' Club will give the final of six events which were arranged and carried out in anticipation of the Wagner Centennial anniversary. The series opened last fall with a lecture by B. R. Baumgardt on the life and aims of Richard Wagner. This event Friday afternoon is a special concert of Ring music by the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra.

The programme has been arranged with an idea of covering the principal tone pictures of the Ring series, and the list indicates the wide scope of the numbers: Entrance of the Gods into Walhalla—Motives: Walhalla, Ring, Spear, Compact, Fricka, Loge, Freia, Flight, Giant, Eternal Youth, Rhinegold, Ring; tone—Pictures from "Die Walkure"—Motives: Sword, Siegfried, Love's Sadness, Love Song, Walkure, Magic Flute; Schmiedelieder (Blacksmith's Songs)—Motives: Siegfried the Fearless, Sword, Compact; Waldweben (Free Forest Life)—Motives: Forest-weaving, Walsung, Love-life, Freia, Siegfried, Siegfried the Fearless; Siegfried's Death and Funeral March—Motives: Curse, Siegfried, Hagen, Death, Fate, Brunnhilde's Awakening, Love's Passion, Walsung, Love, Sword, Siegfried the Hero, Walhalla; Song of the Rhine Daughters—Motives: Ride of the Walkures, Rhine Daughter's Shout of Triumph, Siegfried, Rhine Daughters, Walhalla, Expiation.

Peoples' Concert—New Soloist.

One of the most popular tenors, G. Haydon Jones, will make his first appearance with the Peoples' concert, this afternoon.

Mr. Jones has selected for his number on this occasion that magnificent number from the Hiawatha Suite by Cooleridge-Taylor, "Awake, Beloved," a number which has been given at many of the great musical festivals of the country with tremendous success.

Other features of the concert will include the prelude to the third act of "Natoma," an opera in which all Californians are especially interested, since is involves not alone a Californian story, with its setting at the Mission of Santa Barbara, but because its music and libretto are both essentially American.

The Andante from Mancinelli's "Cleopatra," Glazounov's Carnival Overture and the overture to Imphigene and Aulide, by Von Gluck.

—o—

Gertrude Cohn's Recital.

Miss Cohn will appear in recital at the Raymond Hotel on Thursday evening, February 20, when she will present an unusual programme, including compositions by Beethoven, Schuman, Chopin, Paderewski, Lizst, Leschetizky and Mendelssohn-Leschetizky.

This young pianist, a native of California, has received from the most competent critics of Berlin and Vienna, the highest commendation for her brilliant and perfect technique, acquired from Padereweski and Leschetizky, who have attested to her remarkable artistry.

tership of W. H. Lott, will hold its next regular rehearsal at Von Stein's Music Academy, No. 953 South Hill street, on Monday evening, February 17.

One hundred singers are invited to join in presenting the oratorio "Sampson."

De Chauvenet Reception.

On Thursday evening, February 20, a concert and reception will be given by members of the De Chauvenet Conservatory of Music, and Mr. Clarence C. Rudy, professor of oratory of the Wallis Dramatic School at the Gamut Club auditorium, No. 1044 South Hope street. Those participating in the programme are Mr. and Mrs. de Chauvenet, Dr. Edmond Hiner Mr. and Mrs. DeLano and sextette, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Werner. The programme will begin at 8:15 p.m.

Charles Bachman's New Role.

Mr. Charles Bachman, who so cleverly visualizes the role of Ubaldo, the old Indian caretaker of the ruins of San Juan Capistrano in the "Mission Play," now running at San Gabriel, will resign from the cast in a few weeks for the purpose of taking a much-needed rest, as he has given nearly three hundred performances in the "Mission Play." Mr. Bachman has recently leased "The Getaway" from Maude Leone, and, assisted by a strong supporting company, will appear in this dramatic vaudeville offering.

Organ Recital at U.S.C.

The organ pupils of W. F. Skeele, dean of the college of music, U.S.C., appeared in recital yesterday afternoon at the university chapel. These pupils were heard in a programme, to which Miss Ruth Robinson and Miss Elizabeth Buffington, pupils of Mrs. Norma Rockhold Robbins, contributed vocal numbers. The programme included the finale to the fourth Guilmant sonata, two Bach preludes and Fugues and the Guilmant march chorus and the selections given by Miss Gladys Ogborn, Miss Marie Gurwell, Miss Gueiph McQuinn and Wesley Kuhnle.

Misses Hope and Fuhrer.

May MacDonald Hope, the gifted young pianist, who has recently come to Los Angeles after a five-year course of study with Teresa Carreno, will be the soloist this evening at the Hotel Hollywood, where she appeared last Sunday night.

Miss Bessie Fuhrer, the violinist will also appear in the programme this evening.

Olga Steeb's Return.

Olga Steeb is to return to Los Angeles and appear again in concert. This remarkable young artist has not played here since May, 1910. In the intervening, time Miss Steeb has done some remarkable things. Her feat two years ago when she played nine of the big piano concertos with the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra, in less than two weeks, attracted international attention and won for her the enthusiastic approbation of the most distinguished Berlin critics.

It is of interest to note that these programmes were actually prepared in three months, a very high testimonial to the efficiency of Los Angeles schooling and methods—Miss Steeb having been born, raised and entirely educated in this city.

Musette Sands Recital.

Mrs. Musette Sands, pianist, assisted by Mrs. F. O. Wells, both pupils of Jaroslaw de Zielinski, will give a recital in the rooms of the Los Angeles Conservatory of Music and Arts, in the Walker Auditorium building on Tuesday evening, Lebruary 25, where the second semester of lectures on the history of music by Prof. de Zielinski, will be given every Monday at 1:30 o'clock p.m.

Von Stein Academy.

Miss Mabelle Fearnley of the Von Stein Academy of Music, is now engaged with the rehearsal of a musical play entitled "Slumberland," for which Thomas Frederick Freeman of the Von Stein Academy has composed fascinating music. The performers will be largely recruited from the student body of the academy. The performance of "Slumberland" will be given at the Gamut Club auditorium during March.

For the faculty concert, scheduled to be given by the academy at Gamut auditorium on Tuesday evening, March 4, a diversified programme is now in preparation.

MUSIC NOTES.

The large audience that congregated at Carnegie Hall last Tuesday evening was convincing proof of the place Mme. Julia Culp, the Dutch soprano, has made for herself in America. Artistry of the first rank was granted this liedersinger on the occasion of her first recital in New York. Mme. Culp will be heard in Los Angeles in April.

Josef Lhevinne will be the last famous pianist to appear here this season. Throughout the East he has enjoyed a tremendous vogue this year, repeating in all the cities where he has been heard numerous times before. He will be in Los Angeles April 1.

Adeline Genee, the Danish dancer, and her company of solo dancers and ballet is meeting with enthusiastic audiences at every appearance. It is just two years since Los Angeles enjoyed its first season of interpretative dances in the persons of Pavlowa and Mordkin. In the coming of Genee, Los Angeles will witness novel interpretations of an entirely different school from the Russian premiere, for Genee is a disciple of the Franco-Italian school of pantomime. Genee will be here in March.

May MacDonald-Hope, whose brilliant piano playing is only equaled by her delightful singing, was the principal soloist at the usual Sunday-evening recital at Hotel Hollywood last Sunday.

Edwin House, baritone, and Dufferin Rutherford, tenor, two of the best-known vocalists of the city, are singing at the Auditorium this week in a special musical programme incidental to the great Biblical spectacle, "From the Manger to the Cross."

THE UNCHLOROFORMED.

George Maynard, a Worcester (Mass.) printer, 84 years of age, can read twenty-four languages, many of which he speaks fluently. Mr. Maynard says that he especially enjoys reading the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam in the original Persian.

James Hart, the oldest immigrant in Hollidaysburg, Pa., has celebrated his eighty-third birthday anniversary. Mr. Hart came across the water from Ireland in the year 1840. He helped in the building of the Pennsylvania Railroad yards, in Hollidaysburg, in the early 50's.

The late widow Mary Oxenreider of Avon, Pa., was 95 years old. Up to the last fortnight of her life she helped in the housework, read and sewed without spectacles, and smoked her corncob pipe every day.

Wesley Bent of Maynard, Mass., has recently celebrated his ninety-sixth birthday. He has been married three times, his present wife being only 39 years old. They have had five children, four of whom are living, the youngest being 4 years old. The father is in the best of health and expects to live another score of years.

Benjamin Hall, of Danboro, Pa., aged 90, boasts that a barber never yet plied shears on his head or razor on his face.

John Munsinger, who celebrated his hundredth birthday at Howard, Kan., last month, has 144 living descendants—thirteen children, forty-nine grandchildren, eighty great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren. There were so many of his descendants at the celebration that it was necessary to rent the Odd Fellows Hall for the dinner.

Eliza Wentworth Merrill of Gray, Me., aged 102 years, still enjoys corresponding with her friends. She writes a beautiful hand. Mrs. Merrill retains an indistinct memory of seeing her father return from Portland, where he had gone to enlist during the War of 1812.

Jeremiah Bancroft, last chief of the practically extinct tribe of Ponkapoag Indians, although nearly 90 years of age, works a small but productive farm at Douglas, near Boston. He has long followed the ways of the white man, and has a practical knowledge of agriculture. He claims to hold a valuable equity in 600,000 acres reserved for the tribe in the Blue Hills district in colonial days.

Spring Suits and Coats of Grace and Beauty

Your visit this week will be incomplete if you fail to see the advance models we show in Suits and Coats. You will not find here the glitter and glare of the cheap and tawdry, but the utmost refinement of style and materials—that air of elegance for which the Blackstone Store is justly famous.

Among the latest Suit arrivals are those of: Wool poplin and bengaline, plain diagonals and serges, sponges and novelty mixtures, and a complete assortment of black-and-white shepherd checks.

The range of styles is so broad, so diversified they must be seen to be appreciated.

New Spring Suits at $22.50, $25.00, $30.00, $35.00 and up.

Smartest of Coats
For Street Afternoon or Auto Wear
Style is expressed in every line of the new Spring Coats—style unlike any seen before. There's a freshness about them that's most delightful.

Coats of plain or brocaded Ratine and Woolen Matelasse; smart looking checks of wooly surfaced or smooth goods, stripes, diagonals and chevron weaves and of the conventional covert cloth. Black, white, staple shades and many extreme novelties in color effects. New Spring Coats from $32.50 up. —Second Floor

New Spring Styles in Marinette Sweaters
The Aristocrat of Knitted Coats
Will be on display Monday morning. The Marinette retains its shapeliness in all conditions—wear improves it. No other Knitted Coat compares with it in style, quality, weave or grace of lines.

Ask to see the new English models—wooly outside, plain inside. New Reseda Green, Old Roses, Copenhagen blue and white. Every price from $4.00 to $18.00. —Second Floor—

BITS OF VERSE.

Love.

What ist our love, when all is said?
Is it a pang of the heart or head,
Or, is it a throb of the soul instead

Born in a minute, an hour, a day;
Born to be master, to force, to sway
Born to be humble, to serve, obey.

Is it a spark which has burst to flame
At the touch of hands, a remembe name—
The heat from another fire that ca

Is it the grope of the lonely soul,
That feels for its place in the w wide whole—
That needs its mate as the ocean

What is our love? Is it blood

Do we need its solace, joy or pain,
To fit our lives for the earth-strain?

Tell us, you who all wise things
Why need we love in this vale
Is it flesh or soul that we clasp

The Thought.

I had a golden thought today:
Oh, happy thought, it set me
I turned it over every way,
Then tossed it high, as 'twere a
Alas! Alas! My golden thought!
Where have you flown? Where you fall?

I searched my little garden plot
Till even-time, all unavailing,
Until at last I quite forgot
The treasure I had been bewailing
But 'twixt the lights of night and
I leap the wall, with you to play,
And there I found my wilful
Had flown from me to you.
Then lovely looks of shy surprise
That hovered in your dancing
Explained how one thought multi

The Thief.

"Thou shalt not steal."
Was it to
God spake this stern decree?
Nay, curl not so your scornful lip
As though that could not be.

For he spake not alone to those Whose fingers snatch away
The gem or coin or treasure rare
Those street-bred birds of prey

But if with idle, venomed word
Your soil your neighbor's
Or rob him of joy of life,
Or cast an unjust blame—

And further still, if so you take
From your own soul its truth
Or lower the standard of your Good Morning, Life.

Good morning, Life—and all
Things glad and beautiful.
My pockets nothing hold,
But he that owns the gold,
The Sun, is my great friend—
His spending has no end.

Hail to the morning sky,
Which bright clouds measure hi
Hail to you, birds whose throats
Would number leaves by notes;
Hail to you, shady bowers,
And you, green fields of flowers.

Hail to you, woman fair,
That makes a show so rare
In cloth as white as milk—
Be it calico or silk;
Good morning, Life—and all
Things glad and beautiful.

Beyond.

Our eyes have wings on which spirits fly
To farthest edge of some reaching plain,
Or to the hills upon whose mits reign
The gods—eternal sentinels earth and sky.
But out beyond the range of sight,
Far out beyond the desert's rim,
High up above the mountain's lines dim Lies all the soul would compa its flight.
The flowering beauty of the day,
The pungent sweetness vagrant breeze
Wafts to the senses, do but and tease
The fancy, in its restive

Dear heart, the rose of our today yields
A perfumed promise of Elysian
Where love and laughter dwell, sorrow dies;
There I shall read Life's meaning your eyes.

All the folk were dancing—all world was gay—
But darksome was the mountain and there we lost our way!"

"All worn you are with fasting
green with weather-stain,
And you'll never go a-seeking

Though married little more than four years, Lieutenant and Mrs. Burleson have had five different homes and they came directly here from the Philippines.

"I can fold my tent and depart for the ends of the earth with a day's notice now," said Mrs. Burleson, "though it was quite disheartening at first. My longest stay at any post was in Manila where we were two years and a half. After settling my domestic affairs in Manila I found so much time on my hands, that I presented my diploma from the New York School of Art and asked permission to teach in the public schools. I obtained the position after complying with the usual requirements and during my entire residence I had the honor and great pleasure of being the supervisor of Art in all the public schools of Manila and the adjacent rural districts. My work was delightful, taking me from school to school and filling my day with congenial duties. I cannot speak too highly of the Filipino children. They are gentle and tractable and are full of artistic fire and have the material in them for great things. But like all the Orientals, they have at present little originality. Their training hitherto has not been of the sort to bring out original thoughts. I am afraid our American eagle screams so loudly among aliens that they begin to fear that nothing they possess is of value and they must at once imitate all they see in us. I found this forcibly impressed in teaching art in Manila. There was so often latent talent of

Rheumatism
A Home Cure Given by One Who Had It
In the spring of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case. I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. If, after you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

The Knabe IS MADE IN THE KNABE FACTORY

THE KNABE is the most carefully constructed piano of the day, every detail being a perfect part made to measure up to the Knabe standard of excellence. Not only is each component part of Knabe Pianos a finished product in itself, but the thoroughness of Knabe construction is followed out in the "thousand and one" parts comprising the complete instrument, all of which are made in the Knabe factory. In considering the purchase of a piano you may never have thought of this, which is worthy of serious consideration.

The New Things of Spring
—at the
J. W. Robinson Co.
Broadway at Third

Silk Top Coats—Of Bengaline and Etamine
THE newness of a top coat—and the comfort of a silk one, easily carried—just enough coat for wear over summery clothes. They're in both black and blue bengaline,—smart little cutaways—trimmed with buttons and loops of the material and lined in Amber or Gold.
The etamine coats show through their weave in eponge effect—bright linings of a coppery rose color, green or old blue.

The Pin Stripe Vogue—in So Many of the New Suits
OF imported, dull blue eponge—and with a pin stripe thread of white—one of the smartest of the new suits—Another of dull blue is pin striped in Amber—and piped and lined with Amber.
And in a satiny striped, new blue cloth—there's just a suggestion of the white between the stripes. A soft gray has this line of white woven in. And a good looking black suit is piped in white and accentuated by buttons of both black and white.

The Lingerie Dress And it's Evolution
INSTEAD of the white muslin and blue sash dress of simplicity—it started out to be—the lingerie dress—this spring—is very nearly elaborate. But with the elaborateness of soft, set-in laces, panels of tucking, and embroideries. These so artistically combined that they seem to have been woven in.

As for the "Linens"
THEY'RE as tailored looking as those one-piece serge dresses that were so popular last season. A delicate pink linen—is finished with a black patent leather belt—buttons of the material embroidered in black—and only a collar of heavy cream lace to counteract its severity.

Young Girl Fashions—in Linens and Ratines
A TAILORED-looking white ratine with a patent leather belt in the new Begonia Red. Buttons, too—of the Begonia shade—with centers of white. Old blue ratine—the collar and cuffs with an embroidery of ratine in Amber. And, down the front, Amber buttons. In linen—there's a model of white, banded by inserts of a heavy linen "rope" lace. And a pink linen with collars and cuffs of white embroidered in black. These in the young girl's department.

Hats of Maline—For the Earliest Wear
CLOSE-setting, round Turbans, swathed in fluffy Maline. And given smartness, newness, by the tall, slender Mephistopheles feather that curls up—right in front. In black, taupe, begonia—and shades of blue.

And Hat Fashions For the Small Girl
DAINTY hemp shapes of white and in a soft "straw" color. Trimmed in wreaths of tiny pink satin roses and bands of French blue velvet. And lacy, lingerie "baby" bonnets—with little turn-backs of embroidery and finished with a pink or blue bow.

Guimpes of "Shadow"
EITHER in cream or white. And with sleeves, or sleeveless. With one-piece dresses of wool—for spring street wear—these are a dainty finish. And priced as little as 50 cents.

White Gloves For Tailored Wear
THIS season—it will be white gloves with the most mannish of tailored clothes. White gloves—stitched with black. At only $1.50—there's a good style embroidered in all self-tones or in Oriental colorings. And white, beaded in silver—white beaded and embroidered in Amber. These a third less than the usual prices of $20 and to $45.

Beaded Tunics Priced a Third Less!
THESE are in black, white, cream, a delicate pink and gray. Black-beaded and embroidered in Amethyst, Taupe and green. Black, beaded and mbroidered in all self-tones or in Oriental colorings. And hite, beaded in silver—white beaded and embroidered in mber. These a third less than the usual prices of $20 and o $45.

French Lingerie Marked Down a Third!
GOWNS, combinations, corset covers and petticoats. Wonderfully hand-embroidered and of the finest and sheerest nainsook. In the new slender cuts—and as daintily and as carefully finished as though you, yourself, had made them. And priced at just a third less than usual.

Vests of Italian Silk Specially Priced—$1.50
USUALLY $2 and $2.50—these are splendid values. They are white and pink and plain or embroidered in self-tones. On sale Monday at $1.50.

Bulgarian Silk Crepe—For "drapey" Afternoon Gowns
A NEW crepe de chine! With a tiny rose-bud pattern in a blending of Nell Rose, Crimson Rambler and a bright yellow center. These on one-tone grounds of either tapestry or dark blue, taupe or dull brown. Or Bulgarian Silk Crepe in an all-over patterning of the Bulgarian colorings!

Embroidered Stockings—In Black—at 25 cents!
BLACK, embroidered in self-tones and in colors. These are stockings reduced in price—from 35, 50 and 75 cents—to the special Monday price of 25 cents!

New Embroidery Ideas—To be Worked out in "class"
FROM 2 to 4:30, every afternoon, there are embroidery classes—in our Art Department. Here—the new English idea of embroideries on a black ground—carnations in all the deep pinks—sweet peas in lavenders and pinks. And here the newest of embroidered waist patterns are "started"—waist patterns of voile and ratine-striped French crepe. New stitches are explained, and exclusive embroidery designs "worked out." Waist patterns—stamped—as little as $1.50. The lessons are free.

Soap—Guest Room Size And Soap from Budapest
BOXES filled with tiny cakes, sandlewood scented or fragrant with violets. To accompany guest towels. And the daintiest of transparent soaps—from Budapest. Rose and benzoin, glycerine and violet—and Mayfair. In long cakes—and to be cut in four. And English bath soap—a half pound cake for 10 cents—Cocoa and almond soap and Violet's cold cream soap. These fragrant, clean smelling, clean looking, soaps—very unlike the usual—cake of soap.

Curtains—for Your Spring Furnishing CURTAINS that may be taken down, easily, quickly laundered and put up without the fuss of stretching and pulling. Curtains of the daintiest etamines—with appliques of Irish point, Italian filet, self-tone embroidery and hem-stitching. (25 pairs of Arabian net curtains, cluny edged, in ecru only, are priced at $2—hardly more than the cost of the material.)

Bedford Cords and Vigoreau—The materials for Spring Suits
BEDFORD cord in a pongee color with a thread stripe of dull red. Bedford cord in a soft gray, with a thread stripe of tapestry blue. And basket-weave cheviots in dull grays and sand color—with a fleck of red, or lavender—to give it "life." Then the smart thing is to have the tailored suit accessories,—of the "other" color. A hat of violet tones with a suit of gray cheviot, flecked with lavender.

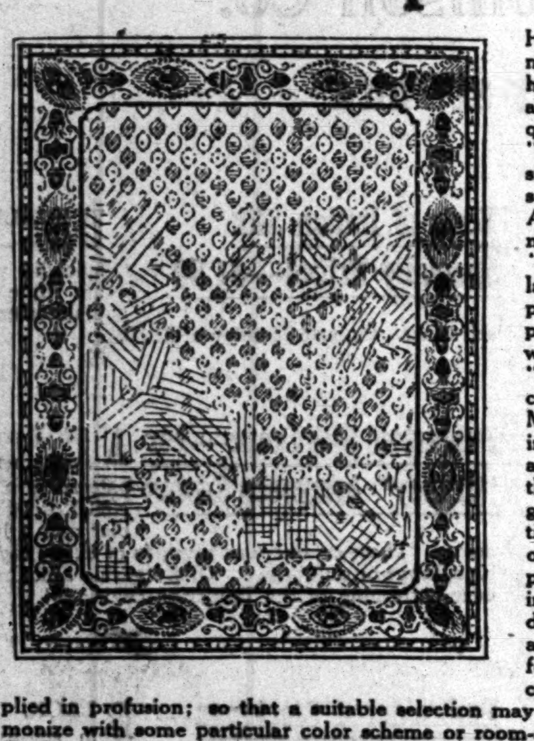
Of Embroidered Pique—The Coat—The Skirt of Linen!
THAT'S a new "spring" combination. The cutaway coat is of a wide wale pique, embroidered in rose buds of lavender, old rose, or tapestry blue. Then a skirt of the plain white linen.

Ratine French Crepes And Crepe, Chenile Bordered
WASH crepes—with the effect of a broken weave—very much as the weave is broken in pongee silks. In sand color, sea shell pink,—and with alternating, wide and narrow stripes of white figured in the self-color. And blue and pink French creped voile—bordered in a chenile pattern in the same tone. These are lovely wash stuffs—to go into the new spring clothes you're planning!

Sheffield Gifts—
FOR springtime weddings—a gift of Sheffield Plate! There are very unusual designs—new ideas in the fashioning and patterning of silverware—that will make your gift of Sheffield individual.

The Silver-Clean-Pan
TO do away with all of the old-time fuss and work and worry—of polishing the silver. This new way—just place the silver in the chemicalized pan with enough warm water, a little salt and baking soda. And in three minutes—silverware bright and shining.

The Carpet Rug



Has become one of the necessities of our modern home-furnishing; its adaptability to special requirements, and its varied "run" of suitable "room-sizes" making it indispensable.

Although attractive rugs may be well made from "yard-goods," the regularly-woven, "stock" carpet-rug possesses the superior advantage of being without the objectionable "mitre-seams" at the four corners.

Manufacturers are engaging in a lively competition as to which shall produce the highest grades of these goods in the most attractive designs; and not only are the best examples of Oriental Rugs being cleverly copied, but dainty, delicate colorings and meritorious patterns, for both ordinary and special rooms, are being supplied in profusion; so that a suitable selection may be easily made, to harmonize with some particular color scheme or room-size.

Quality and price enter into the subject with equal interest. These popular rugs comprise all the best-known grades of carpetings, at equivalent prices, adaptable to any room in the house.

The demand with us is so constant that we are compelled to carry, always, a large assortment of these rugs at carefully-graded prices.

This Skin Peeler All the Rage in Society

(From Society World.)

There is a growing tendency among women of culture and fashion to pay more attention to hygienic means of preserving their charms. The advent of mercolized wax doubtless has been largely responsible for this. This remarkable substance produces complexions so natural in appearance, so magnetically beautiful, artificial complexions are no longer desired. Instead of "doctoring" an offensive skin, the skin is peeled off. The wax peels the skin so gradually, in such fine particles, no discomfort is experienced. The fresher, younger skin beneath, wholly in evidence within a week or so, is lily white, satiny soft and smooth. It's not a patched-over complexion but a brand new one. That's why mercolized wax has become such a rage among society folk. The wax is put on nights like cold cream and washed off mornings. All druggists have it; one ounce will do.

Another hygienic treatment now much in favor is one to remove wrinkles, made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pint witch hazel. Used as a wash lotion it "acts like magic."—[Advertisement.

the highest order, but one had to guide and to direct and to encourage and applaud constantly in order to keep them heartened for the effort.

"No one who has seen the exquisite needlework which comes from the South Sea Islands and especially from the more ancient civilization about Luzon and the larger islands need be told that the women do not lack artistic sense. Little girls learn to use their needle almost as soon as they learn to walk and from long practice they soon become the skilled workers which the world recognizes in them. Needlework is acknowledged as woman's highest artistic expression and in Manila I came to believe this absolutely. There have been women artists of the highest talent even of genius, like Rosa Bonheur in our own generation, but there has never been a man who could make the embroidery which the expert Oriental women produce though many great artists have equalled Rosa Bonheur as animal painters. This embroidery shows that lack of originality of which I complain. It is done so exquisitely as to color and perfection that it seems impossible that human hands could be so accurate and deft. But the same patterns are reproduced generation after generation until after examining them as I did, they seem to have exhausted admiration. Introducing the bold methods which modern art teachers have adopted to bring our talent in their pupils will no doubt in time work a revolution. But the Filipinos are conservative. They adopt new ways very slowly and are always more or less timid regarding the innovation. However, I know that the excellent school system well established in the larger cities will in time produce results which will bring before the world the splendid artistic endowments of these gentle and intelligent people.

"I might make the same criticism about music. Their native music is plaintive and haunting, but it is all on the same order, minor chords and composed of but few notes and of course it becomes wearisome after a time. Music is now taught in the public schools also and under the direction of good teachers, some splendid voices are being discovered, and some marvelously talented players of stringed instruments are coming to the front with a rapidity which means that we may expect something very fine from Manila one of these days."

Mrs. Burleson lived in Cuba for a few months and she was just as much interested in the progress of affairs in Havana as she was in Manila, but she was there too short a time to become active in the art of music except in the academic way. In Porto Rico where Mr. Burleson was also for a time, she found much to waken her interest, but she had scarcely made plans to work actively in the schools when her husband was removed to San Francisco from which post they went to the Philippines.

"I naturally renounced art as a mission when I made up my mind to marry," said Mrs. Burleson, "but I can never renounce the idea of using my training wherever I can find opportunity for what is only more a love of beauty and order than talent of any great promise. My joy in Manila was principally that the natives love everything beautiful and their eastern daintiness to which a Latin civilization is added gives even the poorest a picturesque touch which the western world lacks. I am a firm believer in a woman knowing how to do something well and of adding this interest to her daily routine, if she has a home and the obligations of matrimony. If she has not, it is all the more incumbent on her to do something useful be she queen or peasant. We women who grew up in the old environment of the sheltered woman, the well-known clinging-vine type, owe much to this suffrage movement which has spread in less than twenty years from the few to the multitude and from about four countries to every country. I hear from many sources that the southern woman is still opposed to suffrage and that she is fortified by the judgment and the support of all the 'best women' of the North and West. Now, I should not like to open a discussion about the meaning of the 'best women,' but there are many young girls who are to aid, some to march, others to act as pages at the various entertainments which we have been giving as a matter of revenue to further our very ambitious projects and helping us in clerical ways, and in every way possible. There are daughters of men and women of national reputation revered for their fine qualities at home and abroad and are friendly to the cause. I could make a long and imposing list to prove that the best women of the South are willing to meet conditions of today and to help solve the problems which face us all. Of the women who are either aiding financially or giving their active support, their number is overwhelming and after March 3 it will no longer be possible for the most rabid opponent of suffrage to say that the representative women of the country are not behind the movement, or at least a most powerful proportion of them."

Deep-Seated Cough

CURED IN 5 HOURS.

New Home-Made Syrup.

(Cut this out.)

Progress in medical compounds never ceases, and now it is stated by a prominent medical man that any deep-seated cough or cold on the lungs can be actually cured in five hours by the clock. Opium and morphine have been resorted to in the past, as relief measures. But now it is learned that the system must be treated to rid it of inflammation and congestion. A tonic laxative cough syrup does the work so quickly and thoroughly as to be almost magical. What heretofore has taken weeks to cure can be accomplished in hours. Get this formula filled or mix it at home, and always keep it on hand: One-half ounce fluid wild cherry bark, one ounce compound essence cardiol and three ounces syrup white pine compound. Shake the bottle and take 20 drops every half hour for four hours. Then take one-half to one teaspoonful three or four times a day until the system is purified and tones up. Give children less according to age. One filling will usually cure a whole family, as the dose is small.—[Advertisement.

SCIENTISTS, EXPLORERS.

Charles H. Corbett, credited with being the foremost penologist in the province of Ontario, Canada, has just rounded out forty-seven years as governor of the Kingston and Fontenac jail, having been appointed when only 18 years of age. The governor is the senior prison official of the Dominion, and has the unique record of never having lost a prisoner, although fully 15,000 have been under his charge. His father, a sheriff, was in charge of the jail for thirty-three years, hence the family holds the remarkable record of governing the institution for the past eighty years.

Capt. Roald Amundsen, questioned concerning his plans for a North Pole trip, replied that he expected to start north in the Fram, now at Buenos Ayres, in July, 1914, proceeding into the Arctic Ocean through Bering Strait, and to drift with the ice through the center of the Arctic basin, as near the center, that is, as possible. He thought it would take him five or six years to accomplish this—years spent in important scientifice investigation.

IN THE LIMELIGHT.

Because he has been "such a friend to the old soldier, the best friend they ever had in the White House," a Nebraska veteran, 82 years old, has sent to President Taft a quilt composed of 5982 pieces of silk, made by the veteran himself.

A. Sinadino, who has been appointed Consul-General at Boston by the Greek government, is president of the Pan-Hellenic Union of America. He is prominent in business, being engaged in the cotton trade.

Thomas E. Edison does not want money is the opinion of a syndicate that has been trying to buy the rights of the talking pictures Mr. Edison has recently perfected. An attorney of the syndicate handed a certified check for $1,000,000 to the inventor as a tender of good faith on an offer of several million dollars. "He just sat there and laughed at that check," said the attorney.

J. J. Schott of Galveston, Tex., who has been a druggist for thirty years and has occupied the same shop all that time, put up his millionth original prescription one day last week. He celebrated by closing his establishment for four hours and entertaining all his employees at an oyster roast. This is the first time in thirty years that his store has been closed during business hours.

Judge Landis of the United States District Court at Chicago recently refused to entertain a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in which the Municipal Court of Chicago was attacked as an institution without existence in law. In his reply he said: "I will not lend myself to pass upon the validity of an enactment of the Legislature of Illinois when none of the State courts has been resorted to for relief. There isn't anything more unseemingly than a mere United States Judge presuming to annul the act of a State Legislature."

Sentiment is lost on Justice Goff of the New York Supreme Court. Frank C. Gardner, a stock salesman, on trial for the theft of $16,000 in 1908, said: "Your Honor must pardon me, but I must trust to the Almighty to answer these questions, as the charge was made so long ago." Just then the grand jury filed in and, turning to the members, Justice Goff said: "While the witness is communing with the Almighty I will see what you gentlemen have to say." The grand jury handed up some indictments and then Gardner's trial went on.

FAITHFUL SERVANTS.

Capt. Hogemann, commodore of the North German Lloyd Line, has applied to the company for retirement after thirty-five years of service.

A. R. Whaley, elected vice-president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad a few days ago, at a salary of $25,000 a year, begun his career thirty-six years ago as a brakeman on the Providence and Worcester Railroad, working for $1.62 a day. In his new position he will be in charge of the operation of all the company's trains.

After serving Uncle Sam for half a century, during which time he performed daring deeds as a scout in the Civil War and carried mail in Chicago for forty-four years, Lawrence LeBron has left the service of the government and prepared to retire to his farm in Kansas. During his years as a mail carrier he has walked over 195,000 miles.

Maheon C. Husted has resigned as baggage agent of the joint passenger station at Denison, Tex., after thirty-four years' service.

Miss Helen Cheever has been clerk in the Sioux City (Iowa) postoffice for thirty-four and a half years.

OVER THE SEA.

Sir Thomas Elliott, secretary of the Board of Agriculture since 1892, has been appointed comptroller of the Royal Mint of Great Britain.

Raj Rana Bahadur, who has been traveling in Europe for several months, is not only Rajah of Jhalawar, but is an author of ability, as his recent book, "Travel Pictures," attests. He is about to return home, where he rules over a kingdom of 2694 square miles, lying south of the Punjab. He speaks English perfectly, is a close student of science, and plays a good game of cricket.

Capt. Arthur H. Rostron, who commanded the Carpathia at the time of the Titanic disaser, has been awarded the medal of honor by the American Cross of Honor, in recognition of his prompt response to the call for help. The cross will be presented to him in this country on March 1. Capt. Rostron is now in command of the steamship Caronia.

$3.50 Recipe Free, For Men

SEND NAME AND ADDRESS TODAY—YOU CAN HAVE IT FREE AND BE STRONG.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his health, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men.

I think I owe it to my fellowmen to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is discouraged with repeated failures may stop dragging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative upbuilding remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 3750 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

INAUGURAL FETE FOR POINCARE.

New President of France Is Democratic.

Owes Origin of His Name to a Lacemaker.

Poetess Still Awaits Trial on Murder Charge.

BY PAUL VILLIERS.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

PARIS, Feb. 15.—Six days hence M. Raymond Poincare will be de facto President of the French Republic. His regime will inaugurated by a great fete at the Hotel de Ville. It is to be a "people's party." Everybody is welcomed. Let us hope the still uncaught motor bandits and other anarchists will remain away.

M. Poincare says he means to risk the displeasure of the protocol, which is one of the severest institutions in France, by going about like an ordinary citizen. He intends to dine with his friends when they ask him and stroll the boulevards at his pleasure.

A man of many accomplishments, it is incorrectly stated that Poincare once went in for science. He did not; but he took up the bar, politics and also art. The great painter, Degas, according to his friends, says that M. Poincare is the only politician who knows anything about art. The new President has a brother, Lucien Poincare, who is a physicist like his late cousin and who has chiefly specialized in pedagogy, and is Inspector-General of Public Instruction. The name of Poincare is common to a number of ancient families of Lorraine. To its origin a pleasant legend attaches. Centuries ago there was a lace maker at Nancy renowned in the countryside for her proficiency in her art. Not content to be past mistress of the ordinary "point de croix" and "point de dame," she invented an embroidery of her own, the "point carre." So as Mademoiselle of the Point Carre she was known, and her husband when she married was proud to perpetuate the title of honor.

SHOW FF ILL-TEMPER,

Rather a comic show of ill-temper by a defeated candidate has been made by the President of the Senate. M. Mascuraud, a commercial man, who runs an influential committee, wrote to Mr. Dubost to ask him to deny what some newspapers had said about conversations between them at the Senate two days before the Presidential election. M. Dubost replies: "My dear colleague: The newspaper accounts were indeed inaccurate. I consider it my duty to restate the exact truth of the matter. Meeting you in the lobbies, I said to you with vivacity, "You have tried to split up the Republican party and it is now clear that you are leading it to certain failure!' That is all; I did not add a single word. Believe, my dear colleague, in my most distinguished and devoted sentiments, Antonin Dubost."

It was M. Mascuraud who started the Pams candidate. But for M. Pams, M. Dubost evidently thinks he would have been elected President of the Republic. Hence this not very dignified temper.

POWERS OF A STATUE.

In the little cemetery of Beziers there is a statue of the Virgin Mary—a simply-carved figure which has stood there beyond the memory of man. Now, this statue has suddenly become the center of a bitter controversy. Women guard it night and day, fearing the vandal hands of skeptics.

The daughter of a peasant was supposed to be incurably sick. She is a beautiful girl, but nobody in Beziers was eager to marry an invalid—especially when the "dot" was very insignificant. Deeming herself disgraced, she went in tears to the statue and pleaded to the Virgin to send her health and a husband. Her name, too, was Marie.

"Arise, Marie, and come with me," said a voice behind her. She turned, startled, and could see no one. Frightened, again she prayed to the Virgin.

"Arise, Marie, and come with me," repeated the voice from nowhere.

Marie arose, walked in a trance to the village church. At the door of the church a handsome young man doffed his cap and took her hand. He led her within and they were married. And Marie found she was in perfect health.

The young man and the wedding part of the story are unquestionably true, and it can be easily understood what an impression the incident made on the other unmarried girls. All went praying to the statue for husbands. The priest and bishop remonstrated without avail. The police tried to interfere. Then, rude youths started to stone the "miraculous statue." Riots occurred. Now, women guard the image night and day and the bishop has ordered a special inquiry into the matter. Meanwhile, he has issued the following announcement:

"We learn that for the last few days many people have visited the old cemetery to see a so-called miraculous statue of the Virgin. The clergy request the faithful not to attach any importance to current rumors as in such cases one cannot be too circumspect. The greatest prudence is therefore necessary."

GIRL AWAITS TRIAL.

Madame Alice Crespy, the provincial poetess, in whose house at Agen was found the dead body of her lover, the Abbe Chassaing, is still awaiting the decision of the trial judge. Picturesque was she in her version of the tragedy to the commissary of police, the farewell visit, the ultimate endearments, the sudden sharp report, "the pellet of lead that annihilated in a moment and forever the noble youth."

Cold and precise the verdict of the medical expert has cut across this fine web of sentiment. It is impossible, such is the opinion of Dr. Ricard, that the fatal shot could have been fired by the Abbe himself. The wound showed no trace of turning, and must have been inflicted from a distance of some six feet.

CARLSRUHE (Germany) Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] Princess Victoria Louise, the only daughter of Emperor William, was betrothed here last Tuesday to Prince Ernest Augustus of Cumberland, heir to the vacant throne of the Duchy of Brunswick and heir to the claimant of the suppressed throne of Hanover.

Then, amid the clash of joyful bells in the streets of Carlsruhe, the most picturesque city of Northern Germany, the Emperor and the representative of the House of Hanover shook hands, after a dispute which has lasted since Prussia seized the kingdom of Hanover in 1866, because it sided with Austria in the war.

KING VICTOR NOW A VOTER.

First Monarch to Exercise Right of Franchise.

Proposed Camel Race from Milan to Rome.

Big Falling Off in Tourists from United States.

BY CLEMENT J. BARRETT.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

ROME, Feb. 15.—King Victor Emmanuel's right to the vote has been approved by the Superior Court after a careful reading of the new franchises act and the constitutional stipulations. So, the King of Italy becomes the first monarch in the history of the world who will be able to say he has cast a ballot.

The King is going to exercise his franchise. He has let it be known that he cherishes the honor, as every good citizen should.

"Every man," says His Majesty, "should take part in the affairs of the nation."

"And every woman," suggested the Duchess of Sparta.

The King shrugged his shoulders and evaded this suffragist suggestion.

DUKE D'ABRUZZI.

Although it came some days after the event, the present most prized by the Duke d'Abruzzi among the many he received in recognition of his fortieth birthday, was a little watch made by a Swiss guide in the Alps. The guide was once a member of one of the Duke's climbing parties, and was dismissed with a handsome present. Now, the Duke is wearing the peasant's watch.

There is no more intrepid adventurer among European royalties than the Duke of Abruzzi, and all the world knows of his brilliant climbing expeditions. Although certainly remote, the Duke d'Abruzzi is not without prospects of one day becoming the King of Italy. Between him and the throne there are five lives—the King's infant son, the Duke's eldest brother, the Duke of Aosta, and his two infant sons, and the second brother in the Duke's family, the Count of Turin. The matrimonial desires of the Duke, which are well known on both sides of the Atlantic, recalls the pretty romance which surrounded the marriage of his parents, the Duke and Duchess of Aosta. During the War of 1866, the two sons of Victor Emmanuel took an active part, and the elder, Umberto, succeeded his father as King of Italy, while the younger, Amadeus, became Duke of Aosta.

The latter was 21 at the opening of the campaign and was eager to receive the baptisin of fire so sought after by the Princes of the House of Savoy. Being created Major-General of the Lombardy Grenadiers, he led an assault against an Austrian battery, at Custozza, and in less than an hour, carried the position, spiked the enemy's guns, and placed the tricolored flag over the captured redoubt. Now, the romance of war and love often mingle, and it was not long ere Amadeus fell victim to the charms of the Princess Maria Victoria della Cisterna, belonging to one of the noblest houses of Piedmont. As the lady was not of royal blood, an estrangement ensued, owing to parental objection. The lovelorn swain soon fell into deep despair, until Victor Emmanuel, learning of the deep affection existing between the young couple, said: "Very well; they shall be married. It is not for me to stand in opposition to the wishes of my sons."

A CAT'S DEVOTION.

This story of the devotion of a cat to her kittens is vouched for by the rector of San Juan Letran.

Three kittens were trapped in a burning house. The mother went to the first floor, took up one of the kittens with her mouth and carried it ouside to a place of safety. She returned and fetched a second kitten and then went for the third, though the staircase had begun to burn. The flames spread, so the cat, still holding the kitten, went to a window and jumped to the street below. She was picked up with her back broken and her fur all scorched and died soon afterwards.

CAMEL RACE.

A camel race from Milan to Rome is promised for a few weeks hence. Since Italy became interested directly in Africa, anything that is African has a sure vogue among the people. Hence, the camel, until now, not much thought of north of the straits, has suddenly been seized upon as an animal well worth conserving for use and pleasure.

REDISCOVERING AMERICA.

The hotels are fairly well filled at the principal Italian resorts, but it is remarked that there has been a great falling off in the number of visiting Americans. It is stated by hotel managers who have inquired into the cause that the explanation is to be found in the fact that most wealthy Americans "are now busy rediscovering America."

EDITOR SAVED FROM TOWER.

Premier Asquith Seems to Fear Ridicule that Probably Would Follow Journalist's Imprisonment.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The House of Commons did not send L. J. Maxse, editor of the National Review, to the clock tower Thursday for his refusal to reveal the source of information on which he had based allegations of improper conduct against some of the Cabinet Ministers. The House evaded giving a definite decision by agreeing to "do nothing at present."

Premier Asquith pleaded the lateness of the session, but it is said that the ridicule threatening to overwhelm the House of Commons if it attempted coercion was probably the deciding factor.

British Ecclesiastic Has No Fault to Find With Those of Gentler Sex in London Who Possess the Courage of Their Convictions and Use Weed in Public.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Feb. 15.—There is no reason why women should not smoke if they want to and like the weed, says the Bishop of Ripon.

The bishop is now in this country as a lecturer at Harvard University. He says that if men enjoy smoking he does not see why women should not enjoy it, too.

In England there are many women who smoke in public, but in the United States very few have the courage to do so because of public sentiment.

In fact, in all the big restaurants of New York and St. Louis women are not permitted to smoke in public dining-rooms.

AIR CROWN JEWELS THEFT.

Chief Secretary for Ireland Says Nothing Has Been Discovered to Solve Mystery.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The mystery of the theft of the crown jewels from Dublin Castle in 1907 had another public airing in the House of Commons Thursday. Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, declared emphatically that "nothing has been discovered to explain the mystery of the theft or to justify the arrest and prosecution of any one."

He added:

"The story that any one is suspected is a lie and I am sorry it has been lately revived in connection with the name of Lord Haddo. The introduction of his name is a particularly cruel outrage for he was not in Ireland for months before or after the robbery."

Lord Haddo is the son and heir of the Earl Aberdeen, Lord, Lieutenant of Ireland.

POPE'S SISTER DIES.

Tears Roll Down Cheeks of Aged Pontiff as He Intones the De Profundis.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

ROME, Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] Rosa Sarto, aged sister of Pope Pius X, died here Tuesday. Soon after the election of the Pontiff two of his sisters came to Rome to live near him. They took up their residence a short distance from the Vatican with Angelo Sarto, the Pope's nephew, and visited him freuently. Rosa had been a second mother to the Pope.

The Pope spent the afternoon in his private chapel reciting prayers for the repose of the soul of his dead sister. He was finally persuaded to take some nourishment.

At 5 o'clock this afternoon he was visited by his two surviving sisters and niece. He refused a request that the funeral services should be held at the Vatican which would enable him to see the body before the funeral.

When the Pope guessed from the look on the face of his secretary that there was bad news he said: "God's will be done."

Then he knelt down and recited the De Profundis with the tears rolling down his cheeks.

WHITE SLAVER GIVEN FLOGGING.

Young American in London Gets Heavy Sentence.

Mad Mullah Again Makes the English Uneasy.

Winston Churchill to Stick by the Liberals.

BY PAUL DAMBETH.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

LONDON, Feb. 15.—"The people of England are keeping the devil so busy," says the Cardinal-Archbishop of Westminster, "that he has now no time for sleep or to tempt the rest of the world."

Dr. Bourne's remark was engendered by the columns of scandal of all sorts which teem daily through the pages of the newspapers. With the divorce calendar choked by a record army of petitioners to be relieved from mis-mated marriages and the police of the country rounding up the white slavers by the hundred, the impression is certainly given that his satanic majesty has certainly been working overtime in this country.

Peers, representatives of the churches, army and navy, as well as commoners of lesser degree, figure in these cases of vice exposed.

In one of the most abominable stories ever told in a court of law, a dapper young American figured as the agent of the devil. He told Justice Darling in the Old Bailey that he was a well-known short story writer—had written many successful short stories for the Boston Transcript, and other American publications. Timothy Patrick O'Connor was the name under which he was tried. In respect to the famous "Tay Pay," the name was at first suppressed, but the famous Irish journalist and statesman insisted that it be given to the public, saying, "the prisoner is not the first cuckoo who has fastened and fattened on a name above reproach."

SLAVER IS FLOGGED.

The police ascertained that the man had at least a dozen other names, and that he was driven out of the United States for his activities in a series of most scandalous transactions. In addition to two years' imprisonment he was sentenced to receive thirty strokes of the "cat." He fainted when he learned his back would be bared to the scorpion touch of the whip.

To many people the "cat" may seem cruel and unusual punishment, but the experience of the authorities here in the enforcement of the white slave law, proves its efficacy. This class of criminal requires heroic treatment. The "cat" terrorizes these outcasts as no other punishment could.

The "author" screamed, raged and fainted by turns when the whip was applied with no tender hand.

It transpired that the prison warden who administered the whipping is the brother of one of the girls wronged by the convicted scoundrel. The authorities were unaware of the fact until after the event. Poetic justice!

MAD MULLAH BUSY AGAIN.

The Mad Mullah of Somaliland is again making the English in Africa uneasy. He is arming the troops and fortifying the posts of his hinterland, and reports have it that he is employing German officers as military instructors.

The Mullah is one ruler who has successfully defied and defeated the military might of England. He has routed every force sent against him. As a last resort, England armed the "friendlies" in the vicinity of Somaliland and sent them against the Mullah. His Mullahship killed some, roasted and ate the fattest, made slaves of others and disarmed and dispersed the rest. Now, there does seem a strong likelihood that he is preparing for a big move against John Bull in Africa.

Winston Churchill has no intention of leaving the Liberal party to return to the Tories, even now when the food taxes cherished by Bonar Law and Chamberlain have been "thrown to the wolves." True, Churchill, Gibson Bowles and other prominent Unionists crossed the political corridor on that question when it was first mooted. But they have since become rooted to the soil of Liberalism and just now they have made it plain that there is no prospect whatsoever of a "return trip" to Toryism. The Tories would be quite willing to promise Churchill the leadership of their party if he would accept.

He realizes, however, that his fortunes are bound up with the policies represented by the coalition administration. And he knows he would lose a large amount of his present popularity if he were to play with the fates and expose himself to the charge of fickleness. Also, he is sure of one day being Premier, even if David Lloyd George precedes him as the successor of Asquith in the leadership of the Liberal party.

A great fight is just now beginning in the politics of England. Lloyd George is out to bleed the dukes with a vengeance. He has no intention of sparing them. It may possibly mean that the land tax programme may mean an earlier dissolution than has been contemplated, and it is certain that many of the wealthy Liberal land owners will change sides. But Lloyd George is assured the backing of the country and the dukes will have to submit to the operation with the best grace—which means the worst at their command.

When he visits the United States, the Chancellor of the Exchequer intends to say a few words as to how to make Mammon behave. Of course, his remarks, as a visitor with a proper sense of the courtesy due his American hosts, will all bear upon the English land question. But they may have an American application.

Much comment is being made in army and navy circles at the extraordinary number of troops that are, at present, being hurried back from India and South Africa. The question is being asked whether it has any bearing on the European situation?

WIT AND TACT CONQUER EMPEROR'S PREJUDICE.

[BY CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

Duchess Sophie von Hohenberg,

Morganatic wife of the heir to the Austrian throne. She has won her way to the heart of the aged Austrian Emperor and his court entourage by her wit, tact and force rather than beauty. The marriage, which had been opposed by the Emperor, proved a happy one, and the barriers which would keep her children from the throne succession are being eliminated one after another. Before her marriage the Duchess was the Countess of Chotek.

VIENNA, Feb. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Duchess Sophie von Hohenberg, wife of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the Austrian throne, who has for a long time been working to improve her position in Austria, is now tolerated with excellent grace by the court ladies. The aged Emperor now likes her better than he likes his heir, her husband. Her pretty and engaging children are treated exactly as the other children of the imperial house.

Before her marriage the Duchess was Countess Chotek of Chotkowa and Wogniss. She became the morganatic wife of the Archduke July 1, 1900, and on her marriage was created Princess of Hohenberg, which title since has been raised to Duchess. The marriage has proved a happy one and has been blessed by several children.

The Duchess' greatest admirers cannot say she is beautiful, but she has brains, tact and force.

EARL GRANARD ENTERTAINS.

Gives Two Parties in London Since His Return to Forbes House From Ireland.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

LONDON, Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] The Earl and Countess of Granard have given two parties since their return to Forbes House from Ireland. One day Princess Henry of Battenberg lunched with them. Eight guests were invited, including Mrs. John Ford, Marchioness of Ripon, Lady Cunard and Lady Paget.

They also gave a dinner party. The table was beautifully done in pink tulips and lilies of the valley in old silver vases and bowls. Lady Granard wore a gown of white with a gold train, edging in point and one heavy gold tassel, while the bodice was swathed in gold cloth studded with brilliants. As jewels she wore a low bandeau of diamonds and a collar of pearls.

The death of Bradley Martin will make considerable difference in the social programme of the Liberal party this season. The Countess of Craven, who was to have given one big reception and several big political dinners, will not entertain.

TRUST IN GOD, KAISER'S MAXIM.

EMPEROR WARNS GERMANS NOT TO FORGET FAITH.

Declares People of Today Are Only Too Inclined to Believe in Tangible Things and to Place Difficulties in Religion's Way—Should Study History.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Feb. 11.—Declaring that the Prussians were "oppressed and dismembered folk" in 1806 as a consequence of God's judgment, because they had lost faith in Him, the German Emperor at a memorial service at Berlin University delivered this week a characteristic speech, warning the present generation of Germans not to forget the faith of their fathers. The Emperor emphasized his words by pounding on the desk.

He asserted that the Germans of today are inclined to believe only in tangible things and to place difficulties in religion's way. They should study history, he said, and see how the Prussians regained their old faith and fought the war of liberation, whose glorious result was not man's work, but God's work.

"So," continued the Emperor, "we have in the history of the past certain proof of God's guidance, and that He was and still is with us. And with this teaching of the past the whole German youth can forge in its fire the tried shield of faith, which must never be lacking in the armory of Germans and Prussians.

"With such weapons, looking neither to the right nor to the left, we will go our direct way, eyes uplifted and hearts uplifted with trust in God. Then we can all repeat the great Chancellor's words:

"'We Germans fear God and nothing else in the world.'"

PORTUGUESE WIN VICTORY.

Organize Punitive Expedition Against Rebellious Chief in Africa and Open Up New District.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LISBON, Feb. 15.—Advices from Mozambique, Africa, say the notorious native Chief Napana recently raided the Nampula district of Mozambique, massacring many European settlers. The Governor immediately dispatched a punitive expedition. After a march of nearly 400 miles the expedition came upon the band and routed them after five hours' fighting, killing 200 and wounding 500. The Portuguese lost four men killed and twenty-two wounded.

The victory is considered very important because a new region will be opened for Portuguese development.

Tight Little Isle.

BRITAIN'S ELITE IS MIGRATING.

United States Is Getting Cream of England.

American Immigration Laws Attract Capital.

Prices of Choice Mummies Take Awful Slump

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The United States is getting the cream of the vast migration which is leaving the British Isles in a constantly increasing stream. This is the opinion of the London manager of an American railroad which maintains one of the most complete emigration bureaus in Europe.

He ascribes this advantage not only to the superior resources of the United States, but to the American immigration laws. The manager confesses that while he was an official of the railroad at home, he felt that the laws were too strict, but residence abroad has taught him that if anything, they are too lax.

MANY FAMILIES SETTLED.

The people handled by the American railroad bureau are business men with capital to invest, and farmers who want to start in a new country and who have enough money to buy small farms. During the past year 300 families of this description have been sent to the United States as the result of the advice of this one railroad, and many more have been sent by other American agencies, or have gone on their account. The bureau manager describes these people as abundantly able to take care of themselves, even under the adverse conditions prevailing in England, but they have managed to scrape together a small capital and they are anxious to get a start in a country where they can do more for themselves and their children than they could ever hope to do in this country.

BIG SLUMP IN MUMMIES.

A man who lived in Egypt 6000 years ago was sold this week in London for $200. This mummy of the pre-dynastic period was part of the de Rustafjaell Egyptian collection, which was sold before a gathering representing the leading museums and collectors of the world. This collection was considered one of the finest in existence, and there was eager bidding for some of the pieces, but on the whole the prices realized were not high. As one dealer expressed it, there is at present "an awful slump in mummies." Private collectors bore away the choicest relics, but several of the museums, including the British Museum, enriched their Egyptian rooms at the sale.

Enhanced prices in Austria are having an injurious effect on the public health. Reports from that country show that the steady advance in the cost of all articles of food, as well as in house rentals, is creating a condition of mal-nutrition in a large proportion of the population.

Some idea of the increase in the cost of living is given in a paper read by Mrs. Granitsch before the Union of Austrian Housewives. She quoted official figures to show that all articles of food have increased in price during the last six years from 18 to 40 per cent. Milk has increased 30 per cent., meat 40, sugar 25, flour 25, vegetables 50 and fruit 30 per cent. Among the lower middle class in Vienna the consumption of meat has gone down to about three ounces per head, because people have to economize to "keep up appearances." The infant mortality has gone up in the same classes to 24 per cent., of all births, while the laboring classes, who can spend comparatively more of their income on food, show an infant mortality of 17 per cent.

House rent during the same period has gone up from 30 to even 100 per cent. Overcrowding, with its natural results, tuberculosis and increase of infectious diseases, has been the inevitable result.

Accession.

WON OVER TO SUFFRAGE BY THE MARCHIONESS.

[BY CABLE AND FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE OVERLAND TO THE TIMES.]

Lady Londonderry and Lord Lurgan.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The new Duke of Abercorn will be a valuable accession to the women's party in the House of Lords. His Grace, though the inspiration of the Marchioness of Londonderry, is a staunch supporter of the cause of suffrage. While he was fairly active in politics as Marquis of Hamilton, he is better known as an inveterate entomologist. He has one of the finest collections in the world—just now being removed to the ducal seat at Baronscourt. He has also two little sons and several daughters. The eldest son, now Marquis of Hamilton, is yet too young to be betrothed to any of our eligible maids. He is a fine, sturdy boy, and will one day be a great catch, as the Abercorns are wealthy, as well as among the noblest in the land. This, by the way, is of the "Handsome" branch of the Hamilton family as distinguished from the "Hungry Hamiltons." Both are Scotch, although the Duke of Abercorn is a resident Irish landlord and the family has long been established in Ulster.

ABDUL HAMID AS A PROPHET.

Fragments of Ex-Sultan's Diary Published.

Predicted War With Bulgaria Years Ago.

Fattest Man in Germany Kills Himself.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

BERLIN, Feb. 16.—"War with Bulgaria will and must come. We should have settled with this evil fellow seven years ago, but Russia and England hold our arm every time we raise it to strike these Balkan robbers."

This is one of the reflections contained in the diary of ex-Sultan Abdul Hamid, now being given fragmentary publication for the first time by Prof. Stein, the well-known Berlin publicist, who is editor of Nord und Sued.

The diary contains several passages of particular interest at the present time, as for instance, the following: "It is really quite time that we forced German influence back again. We must show the Grand Seigneur (Marschall von Bieberstein) that we are distrustful of him and of German policy. My Ambassador in Berlin reports that it is the plan of the German Emperor to create a German sphere of influence in Asia Minor. Well, I have nothing against economic invigoration of Asia Minor by the Germans, but the German papers demand German colonization along the Bagdad Railway. What are these newspaper writers thinking of? Do they think that we are going to abandon to German settlers those Anatolian regions which were purchased by our fathers with such heavy sacrifice. Unfortunately, we have always neglected to keep foreign peoples at a distance—that has been the cause of all our misfortune. But in Anatolia we must and will remain alone. Thanks be to Allah that this last place of refuge still remains for our comrades in race and faith not assailed from every side."

THE PRICE OF PEACE.

The religious tendency of the Kaiser was in evidence recently while he was visiting a convent of cloistered nuns. The Emperor entered into conversation with one of the sisters.

The woman was 35 years of age, and His Majesty asked her how long she had been a nun. She replied, "About twenty years." The Kaiser remarked that she must have begun her novitiate very early. She answered, "At 16." His Majesty then asked: "What caused you, when so young, almost a child, to renounce the world and its pleasures. Some great misfortune?" She answered, "No, only my love for God. And you, who have remained in the world, what pleasures do you find in it?" The Kaiser, without replying, asked: "Did it cause you no sorrow to sacrifice your youth?" She said: "What is youth? A dewdrop in the field, which nature gives in the night and which disappears with the first rays of the morning sun."

The Kaiser left her with the remark: "Sister, you have gained that which the world refuses—peace."

RADIUM TO CURE CANCER.

Encouraging results have been obtained by the treatment of certain cases of cancer with radium at the Berlin Institute, according to a report just issued. The 539 cases which were dealt with are summarized as follows:

Apparently cured, 53; cured, 28; improved, 245; not improved, 70; abandoned treatment, 88; dead, 55.

Many who applied for treatment, the report states, had already exhausted all the known resources of medicine and surgery; their condition being almost hopeless. The term apparent cure when used in referring to cancer cases means that all traces of the disease have disappeared.

In the detailed report of the effects of the radium treatment on the different types of cancer the epitheliomata, or skin cancers, are divided into two classes: (1) Those on the face, body and arms, with or without extensive ulceration, in which cures were readily obtained, and, (2) those attacking not the skin, but the tongue, lips or mouth, where the results were "almost universally disappointing." In the latter group of cancers temporary improvement was quite frequently seen, but the radium appeared to have no effect in preventing or delaying the appearance of secondary growths in the glands of the neck and elsewhere.

A number of cases previously declared to be inoperable became so much better under the treatment that an operation for the complete removal of the growth became possible.

The result of the radium treatment of cancers of the breast is, according to the report, "on the whole encouraging." Warning is given, however, that radium treatment should never be used to take the place of an operation if this is possible.

In addition to giving encouraging results obtained in cancer cases, radium has proved of the greatest service in the cure of such widely different complaints and disfigurements, as rodent ulcer, birthmarks, chronic eczema, psoriasis (a skin disease) and tubercular glands in the neck. In rheumatic gout "striking benefit" has been "not infrequently obtained" by drinking water in which radium emanations (gases) have been dissolved.

It is now officially admitted that all authoritative quarters have long been agreed that a number of additional requirements of the German army must be satisfied and that a new military bill will be presented to the Reichstag in the course of the present session. On the other hand, reports that negotiations have taken place between the government and the Centre party, are denied. It is considered doubtful whether the government will be able to secure the necessary appropriations and the bill may fall through.

Herr Rudolph Hegemeyer, a well-known lover of landscapes, and the fattest man in Germany, committed suicide recently because, he said, he was so stout he could not travel in comfort to enjoy the beauties of nature.

He had himself wheeled in a chair to a point above one of the most picturesque parts of the Rhine. Then he dismissed his servant, and sat and gazed at the prospect for some time. Having soothed his fancy he drew a revolver from one of his pockets and blew out his brains. He is said to have weighed 420 pounds.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

VIENNA, Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] Emperor Franz Josef still resists the pleas of the heir to the throne to reinstate Count von Hoetzendorf as chief of staff of the Austrian army. However, should war break out on account of Servia's aggression toward the Adriatic, there is no doubt that Von Hoetzendorf will lead the first army corps of invasion. He is known as the hotspur of the army. His hatred of Italy is intense and had, no doubt, much to do with his retirement.

"DEMON CARGO" SINKS STEAMER.

MINERAL WATERS EXPLODE AND SEND HER TO BOTTOM.

London Captain Plays Hose on Sodium Only to Have Two Tons of It Break Out in Flames, and Vessel Breaks in Two When Sodium Goes Overboard.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Feb. 15.—The story of the "demon cargo" of the steamship Hardy was written into the records of the King's bench through the testimony of her captain. On a voyage from Tropert with a large cargo of mineral waters, consigned to a London firm, water reached a quantity of metallic sodium, which was also a part of the cargo, setting it on fire.

The captain, not being aware of the nature of the sodium, played the hose on it, with the result that two tons of it were set on fire, and there was a series of explosions. Nonpulsed, the captain ordered all of the cases of the sodium heaved into the sea. When this was done the force of explosion of the sodium in contact with the water caused several of the cases to jump back again aboard the ship, and the vessel itself caught fire. There was another explosion in the cargo, which caused the vessel to break amidships and sink. The mate was drowned, but the captain and crew were saved.

The story came out in an action for damages against the steamship company for the loss of the mineral water. The court awarded the plaintiff $5000 damages with costs, and remarked to the captain that he "seemed to have had the devil among the tailors when the water got in."

MARITIME CONVENTION WITH AMERICA PLANNED.

Empire Said to Want Permission for Her Warships to Maneuver in American Waters and to Permit Naval Agents to Assist Consuls in Cities in United States.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

PARIS, Feb. 15.—The report is current here that negotiations have been under way for the past year between the United States and Germany with a view to concluding a maritime convention.

At a conference of delegates from the United States and Germany, which, it is said, will meet in Berlin in May or June, to consider questions relating to the Monroe Doctrine, and which will be presided over by the German Foreign Minister, Herr Von Jago, and attended by the German naval secretary, Admiral Von Tiripitz, Ambassador Leishman and the American naval attache in Berlin, Howard White, of Germany, will make the following propositions, according to report:

First, that the Americans consent to the building by Germany of an Atlantic coaling station near Panama.

Second, that it give permission to German warships to maneuver in time of peace as far as 80 deg. longitude and 10 deg. latitude in American waters.

Third, that a telegraph convention with an electrode be concluded between the two countries.

Fourth, that a convention be signed for the construction of lazarettos in war time outside of American harbors on the Florida coast.

Fifth, that German maritime agents be appointed in American cities to assist German consuls in maritime matters.

SCOTT'S APPEAL TOUCHES NATION

Families of Arctic Heroes Will Be Cared For.

Explorers Teach British How to Die Nobly.

Fuel Shortage and Lack of Skis Cause Disaster.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Capt. Scott's touching appeal to his countrymen, written when death was upon him, has stirred the public imagination and is the principal theme of editorial comment of the morning newspapers. The appeal is certain to meet with handsome response in the various funds that are being raised. Several of the theaters already have decided to give benefit performances for the families of the men who perished.

The Daily Telegraph says editorially. "Few and scattered, indeed, are those of British blood who have not by now known that heart-shaking thrill of pride and pity which the story of Scott and his companions sent throughout our race."

The heroism of Capt. Oates in going to die rather than to be a handicap on his companions also is the subject for high tributes of admiration by the newspapers.

DYING NOBLY.

The Morning Post: "We never have heard of greater heroism than this, not even among the ancients, who made an art of dying nobly, while Capt. Scott's unique dying journal should teach all of us how to live and how to die."

WONDERFUL JOURNAL.

The Standard says of Scott's journal: "That it should have been written at all is wonderful. That it was written in such a tone of temper is more wonderful still. The record is complete and leaves no uncertainty. A merciful veil is drawn over that terrible death scene in the frozen hut with the Antarctic blizzard shrieking a savage requiem, but over the rest of the story there is no mystery."

RELIEF FUND.

The Daily Chronicle has opened a fund which it heads with a subscription of $10,000. Another $5000 has been added to the newspaper's subscription.

TOUCHING FIDELITC.

The Times, editorially, says: "Nothing in the painful, yet inspiring narrative is more touching than the fidelity with which Capt. Scott and his comrades, fighting for their lives with the remorseless forces of nature, clung in their ever-increasing peril and weakness to their scientific records and geological specimens. It was thus that they snatched victory out of the jaws of death."

FUEL SHORTAGE.

There has been much comment in London on Scott's reference to a shortage of fuel. No explanation has been forthcoming and those connected with the organization of the expedition say everything was most carefully arranged and supervised by Capt. Scott himself

The Times suggests two possible explanations: First, that the oil fuel left in the depots had evaporated, and second, that it may have been tapped by return parties sent back at intervals on the journey to the pole

PROFIENCY WITH SKIS.

The Daily Mail remarks that Scott in his last statement omits any mention of skis that thinks it was by use of skis that Amundsen was able to move with such extreme speed and avoid the terrible weather such as was encountered by Scott. The editorial says that henceforth, proficiency with skis will be an indispensable qualification for every candidate for polar exploration.

PENSION FOR MRS. SCOTT.

It is understood that Mrs. Scott will get an admiralty pension of $1000 a year.

HOW SCOTT WAS FOUND.

Britains Believe When Details Are Told Glorious Page of History Will Be Added.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Feb. 15.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Christ Church says that full details of Scott's return journey will reveal a still more glorious page of history when they are published than the brief official narrative.

"It is said," says the Daily Mail, "that Petty Officer Evans was assisted by his comrades from the Pole until his death and that every ounce of food was exhausted long before death came to Scott's party. Only a small quantity of tea was found with the bodies, which were discovered in the following positions: Scott, sitting with his back to the tent pole. Between his head and the tent pole he had placed his diary as a support to his head. Dr. Wilson and Lieut. Bowers were lying in their sleeping bags.

MAY RECOVER BODIES.

"Possibly an expedition will be sent for the bodies next summer. A memorial cross to Scott, Wilson and Bowers was erected on Observation Hill. It was constructed of Jarrah wood and will last for ages.

"Members of expedition indicate the possibility of disappointment at Amundsen forestalling them, took the 'stiffening' out of Scott's party for the return journey.

"While descending Beardmore glacier the ice was found to be terribly rough and many obstructions ten to twelve feet high had to be climbed, which resulted in the explorers being badly bruised or strained. Commander Evans denies that the explorers died of scurvy. He says that death was due to exposure and weakness. The members of Lieut. Campbell's northern party are in magnificent health considering the terrible privations they underwent in an igloo, where they led a primitive existence for six and one-half months. They had a regular physical drill. Their only literature was 'David Copperfield,' of which one chapter was read aloud daily.

TO PUBLISH HISTORY.

"It is doubtful whether any of the difficulties of Scott and his party will be published before the history of the expedition appears in book form. Surgeon Atkinson, who organized the search party, refused to give any information beyond the official narrative.

"The steamer Aorangi still is out of range of wireless communication and therefore it is probable that Mrs. Scott, widow of the explorer, who is a passenger, has not yet been informed of her husband's sad end."

The Chronicle publishes a long copyright dispatch from Christ Church which deals mainly with the points already covered by the newspapers and the preparations for the expedition preceding the final dash to the Pole.

ORDERS QUEEN TO QUIT.

Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria Warns His Wife to Cease Work for Invalid Soldiers.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

SOFIA (Bulgaria) Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] King Ferdinand, whose official title is Czar of the Bulgars, has commanded his Queen to cease her labors for invalid soldiers.

She has been working very hard both at the front and in her own hospital here, where she has German nuns as nurses.

Ferdinand is terribly afraid of infection and will not enter a hospital or have a surgeon or a nurse near him. He has kept his queen in perpetual quarantine because she has always been tending the sick and the wounded. He has aged much since the war began for he works day and night, besides feeling tremendous responsibility.

Three Sentenced to Month's Imprisonment in Ireland Start Hunger Strike and One Is Released.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

DUBLIN (Ireland) Feb. 11.—The three suffragists who were recently sentenced to a month's hard labor for an attack on the windows of Dublin castle are now on a hunger strike. Mrs. Hopkins, one of them, is in such a serious condition that she was released and sent to a hospital.

Predestination.

DR. FRIEDMANN IS A FATALIST.

FEARS ASSASSINATION IF HE VISITS AMERICA.

Gives Credit to a Woman, Frau Zoch, for Aiding Him in Discovery of Alleged Tuberculosis Cure and Says She Is Only One Who Knows Formula.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

BERLIN, Feb. 15.—Dr. Friederich Franz Friedmann fears he will be killed on his visit to the United States. Furthermore, a woman is the discoverer of the alleged cure for consumption. This information was gleaned today by a reporter who kept an appointment previously made with the savant.

After being ushered into the Friedmann office and introduced to Dr. Harry Benjamin, one of the doctor's assistants, and a few moments talk on trivialities, Dr. Friedmann said:

"I don't see why she shouldn't be present during our talk. Please open the door, Benjamin."

Dr. Benjamin stepped across the room and pressed a button. A secret door in the wall opened and there entered a woman. She was apparently between 35 and 40 years of age.

GIVES CREDIT TO WOMAN.

"This is Frau Zoch," he said. "You may speak freely before her, for she knows as much concerning my discovery as I do myself and she is the only person in the world who could manufacture my serum should anything happen to me."

"I was there when he drew blood from his first turtle," she said intensely. "That was fourteen years ago. He was a boy of 22 and I—well, I have kept a vigilant eye on him ever since. I will not go to America," she continued, in wavering tones, "and I don't believe you (addressing Dr. Friedmann) will go. When Prof. Schleich tells you again they will kill you in America and take your serum away from you, you will change your mind and give our remedy to Germany."

IS A FATALIST.

"I am a fatalist," said the doctor. "We are both fatalists, she and I, and we both know that if I am to be assassinated in America, there is no power on earth to prevent it.

"Physicians here tell me to wait and I will be made a privy councillor to the Kaiser, but I leave that to fate. High officials look down on me because I am a young man. They say: 'This young man Friedmann, how dare he to discover anything without first consulting us?'"

Before the conclusion of the interview, Frau Zoch announced that Dr. Friedmann would leave for New York before the end of the coming week, but that whether she would accompany him was a matter yet to be settled.

PRINCESS LUISE TO WED.

Marriage of Only Daughter of German Emperor to Prince August Scheduled for October.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Feb. 15.—It is understood here that the marriage of Princess Victoria Luise, only daughter of the German Emperor and Empress, to Prince Ernest August, son of the Duke of Cumberland, will take place in October, next.

It is assumed that the marriage will be the first step toward placing the young prince on the throne of the Duchy of Brunswick, since he will enter the Prussian service and take the oath of allegiance to the Emperor as King of Prussia. This will probably be followed by his formal [illegible] tion of the throne of Hanover after his father's death or another [illegible] may be reached by the federal council, rescinding its vote, making the accession of the Duke of Cumberland [illegible] to the dukedom of Brunswick dependent on the formal renunciation of the head of the house to the Hanoverian throne. Parisian Clergyman and His Wife Charged With Swindling [illegible] Woman Out of Large Sum.

[BY CABLE AND A. P. TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Feb. 15.—A former missionary named Herriot Bunnoust and his wife were arrested on a charge of having obtained control of and misappropriated $400,000 belonging to a young matron named Jusserand.

Madame Jusserand told a remarkable story to the magistrate. She said that Bunnoust made the acquaintance of her parents several years ago, gained extraordinary influence over them and induced them to confide her to his care. Bunnoust, she charged, then succeeded in estranging her from her parents by circulating malicious reports concerning her [illegible]. These reports, Madame Jusserand said, also caused the death of her mother.

At her death, however, the mother left her daughter $1,000,000, of which Madame Jusserand said Bunnoust through coercion obtained control and misappropriated $400,000. The young woman declared that eventually she escaped from Bunnoust and married a stone mason named [illegible] rand, who, hearing her story, communicated with the authorities.

The magistrate after hearing the explanation of Bunnoust and his wife as to how they were able to buy a large chateau in the country and also keep an establishment in Paris signed an order committing the couple for a further investigation.

THE HELPING HAND.

"How far that little candle throws his beams!
So shines a good deed in a naughty world."

A hospital de luxe for animals and birds, with a bath, elevator, reception room, parlor, study, kitchen, dining room, operating room—in fact, all the appurtenances of a modern hospital for human persons—is to be erected on Lafayette street New York. The new building will cost $150,000, is to be fireproof, three stories high, and will have a facade of brick in colonial style. The Women's League for Animals, of which Mrs. James Speyer is president, is building the hospital.

The hospital, it is said, will be the first of its kind in America, and the finest of its kind in the world. Anything from an elephant to a pet mouse, a pet eagle, to a canary bird, can be treated there. Horses, dogs, cats and feathered songsters will, however, be the principal patients.

The building will be 114.9 wide and 112 feet deep. On the first floor will be a large reception space, operating room, dispensary, office and some stalls. On the second floor will be a larger operating room, more stalls and a bathroom for the patients. On the third floor will be dog kennels, a kitchen, two rooms for dogs with contagious diseases, a special room for cats and another for birds, a study, a smoking room, a dining room and a parlor.

For conveying the animals from floor to floor an extra large elevator will be installed. In the basement will be an incinerator for dead animals and the refuse.

The Bemis Brothers Bag Company, which operates cotton mills and bag factories in ten cities in the United States and Canada, has announced an annual bonus, payable December 31 of each year, to all employees who have been in the service of the company for more than a year. About $15,500 will be required for the distribution.

Under the plan, employees who have served a year receive 2 per cent. of their earnings December 31 and 2 per cent. additional for every additional year they remain with the company.

The company owns cotton mills at Jackson, Tenn., and St. Louis and bag factories in St. Louis, Minneapolis, Indianapolis, Omaha, Kansas City, Memphis, New Orleans, San Francisco, Seattle and Winnipeg, Manitoba.

Five charitable organizations in New York will be benefited under the will of Miss Florence Phillips. They are the Society for Ethical Culture, the State Charities Aid Association, the Montefiore Home for Chronic Invalids, the New York Skin and Cancer Hospital and the National Child Labor Committee. The will leaves [illegible] to be divided among them.

A stable helper whose real name was unknown was burned to death in a fire that destroyed the main barn of the Thede Brothers Transfer Company at Peoria, Ill. After the fire lines had been stretched he broke through and rushed into the burning stable to rescue horses. Just after the man entered the building the roof collapsed and he was buried under burning timbers.

Mrs. Thomas J. Allen, of Boston, who died recently, left $30,000 to Harvard College. It was left in the name of her late husband and is to be used for general purposes. It will be known as the Thomas J. Allen fund. It was the largest of 17 bequests of like nature.

William Nesbit, 12 years old, of St. Louis, by promptly administering antidotes saved the life of his brother, Campbell Nesbit, 2-year-old son of George Nesbit No. 6303 Alabama avenue, after he had swallowed bichloride of mercury tablets for candy.

The elder boy was preparing his lessons while his brother was playing around the floor. The father and mother were in an adjoining room. The little fellow began to cry, and when asked what was the matter, the child showed a box from which he had eaten a tablet. William knew the box contained poison, and hurrying to the refrigerator got a bottle of milk from which he forced the baby to drink. He also gave him some lard. Mrs. Nesbit called Dr. J. Walter [illegible] who after an hour's work pronounced the baby out of danger. The physician said only the antidotes administered by the elder brother saved the baby's life, as he could not have arrived in time to prevent his death.

Prince Louis Ferdinand of Barvaria, who is a surgeon, has been granted the use of one of the university buildings at Munich for the purpose of carrying on his medical practice which he had hither to conducted at the palace. The fact that the Prince does not charge any fee and that he usually gives medicines to the poor without charge has enlarged his practice to such an extent that his patients cannot be accommodated at the palace.

By a timely gift of $12,500 to the Polyclinic Hospital of New York Mrs. [illegible] saved that institution from the hands of the sheriff. An execution was already in the sheriff's hands, and he had attached the surgical instruments at the hospital. Mrs. [illegible] heard of the hospital's predicament and forwarded her check for the relief.

One of the largest bequests ever made for missionary work is disclosed in an appraisal of the estate of Robert Arthington, of England. Although the value of the entire estate is not given, the personal property alone is appraised at $4,593,000. Practically all of which is left to two missionary societies—the Baptist Missionary Society and the London Missionary Society.

The will directs that the money be used for "Giving to every tribe of mankind that has them not and which speak a language distinct from all others, accurate and faithful copies of at least the Gospel of St. John and the Gospel of St. Luke, together with the Book of the Acts of the Apostles, printed in the language of each tribe." The will further provides that at least 10 or 12 persons of each tribe be taught how to read.

$50.00 For a Name

Lane's 327-29 S. BROADWAY

WE WANT YOU TO ASSIST us to select a new name for our store, and will pay $50.00 in gold coin to the man, woman, boy or girl who sends us the name we consider to be most appropriat e and under which this store will be known in the future.

WE WANT A NAME that will be significant of this business, a name that we will make synonymous with—good merchandise—fair and equitable prices—good service to you and ultimate satisfaction in all your transactions with us.

For years this store has been known as Lane's and has enjoyed the confidence and patronage of thousands of Los Angeles men and women. Mr. Lane's entire interest has been absorbed by men who see where and how the business can be made of more value to you.

A new display front has just been built at considerable expense. The buying force has been strengthened by men who will bring to you the best merchandise of their various kinds obtainable. Our New York office will keep us in daily touch with styles and novelties as they appear in the East.

Improvement will be our watchword, progress our motto, and for such a business we want a name, a name easily remembered, and for the best such we will pay $50.00 in gold coin.

All names must be submitted before 5:30 p.m., on February 28.

Do not send more than one name, but we are anxious to have suggestions from a large number of peopje.

Names are to be dropped in a sealed box provided for that purpose at the Pattern Dept.

Out-of-town patrons may mail their suggestions, marked Name Contest, Lane Dry Goods Company.

Announcement of the name selected will be made shortly after the first of March.

In case the name selected was suggested by more than one person, the $50.00 will be equally divided among them.

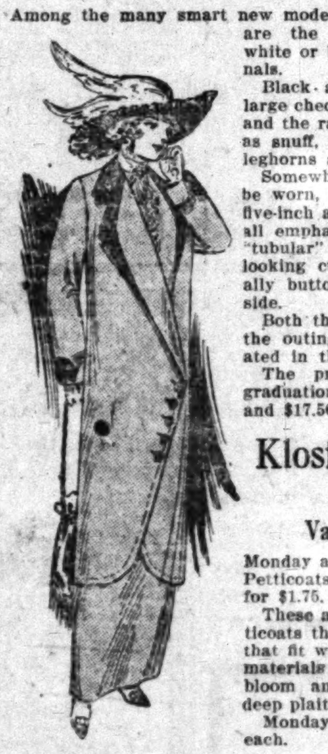
The Spring Coats
Are Beauties



Among the many smart new models in our coat section are the attractive gray and white or black and white diagonals.

Black and white plaids and large checks too, are in the lead and the rather high colors, such as snuff, Copenhagen, rose and leghorns are the best sellers.

Somewhat bizarre shades will be worn, the lengths are forty-five-inch and full length. These all emphasize the straight line "tubular" cut coat with good looking cut-away fronts, generally buttoning low and on the side.

Both the mannish utility and the outing effects are accentuated in this season's styles.

The prices range by easy graduation from $12.50, $15.00 and $17.50 up to $25.00.

Klosfit Petticoats $1.75
Values to $2.75

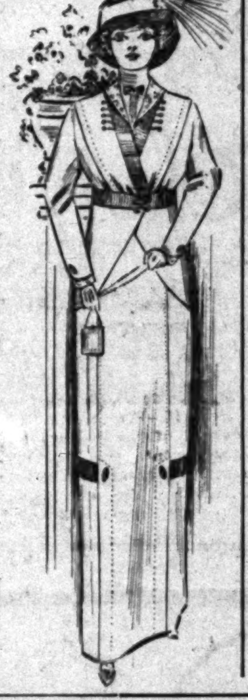
Monday a sale of all our Klosfit Petticoats which sold up to $2.75 for $1.75.

These are the snug-fitting petticoats that do not wrinkle and that fit without alteration. The materials are black Heatherbloom and satine, made with deep plaited flounces.

Monday your choice at $1.75 each.

A Great Collection of SPRING SUITS

We are now prepared to show about every new model in Spring Suits that has found favor in the eyes of the discriminating woman.



At $15.00

—There are very smart looking suits of neat mixtures in light colored combinations and navy serges.

At $19.50 and $25

—is the most comprehensive assortment in our entir collection. Suits of serge, vigoureux, worsteds, Bedford weaves, whipcords, etc., in dainty light colorings; leather and sand shades, taupe mixtures and invisible stripes. Also delicate herringbone effects, smart black and white shepherd checks and the ever popular plain black and navy suits.

All of our suits are carefully tailored, with occasionally a touch of the ornamental here and there; perhaps a satin or brocaded collar, in one or two colors.

The skirts are not quite so scant as heretofore and most of them have the short side plaits, giving more fullness at the bottom, where it is really needed.

The favored length for the coats are the twenty-seven and thirty-inch, most all of which are in the two and three-button cut-away styles.

There is also a wide range at $30.00, $35.00 and up to $49.50 in the more elaborate suits, one of which is here sketched.

HERPICIDE CO.

You can enhance your natural charm and attractiveness by the intelligent use of

Newbro's Herpicide

Nice hair, well cared for imparts a sweet dignity and winsomeness, an air of naturalness which no matter how great the effort, never can be assumed.

Clean, thick, luxuriant hair is merely a question of care and cultivation. If your hair is dull, brittle, uneven and coming out with every combing, it is because its life is being destroyed by the presence of dandruff. Dandruff is due to a germ or microbe. HERPICIDE destroys this germ, keeps the scalp clean and sanitary, gives the hair life, luster and luxuriance and checks the falling.

With its well-known hair-saving qualities and exquisite fragrance, HERPICIDE is the most delightful and efficient of all hair-dressings. It contains no grease and does not stain or dye. The itching of the scalp stops almost instantly.

ONE DOSE RELIEVES A COLD—NO QUININE

Pape's Cold Compound Cures Colds and Grippe in Few Hours—Tastes Nice—Acts Gently.

You can surely end Grippe and break up the most severe cold either in head, chest, back, stomach or limbs, by taking a dose of Pape's Cold Compound every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken.

It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, mucous catarrhal discharges, running of the nose, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this wonderful Compound as directed, without interference with your usual duties and with the knowledge that there is nothing else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist can supply—accept no substitute—contains no quinine—belongs in every home. Tastes nice.—[Adv.

MEN OF NOTE.

Sherman Pleased a Boy.

[Detroit Free Press:] Many good stories are told of the late Vice-President Sherman. One that he told himself concerned an experience that befell him on a railway train not long after he became Vice-President. He was traveling alone and went into the diner one night, to find himself seated opposite a boy of 17 or 18.

The boy eyed him covertly for some time, as though trying to place him. Dinner was served and was half eaten when he accomplished the feat. Leaning across the table, he ventured:

"I beg your pardon, but aren't you Vice-President Sherman?"

The Vice-President admitted it, and the boy radiated pleasure at the idea of dining with the nation's second official. As the waiter brought the checks, he said, timidly:

"Please, Mr. Vice-President, won't you let me pay for your dinner?"

"Why should I do that?" asked the surprised Mr. Sherman.

"Well, you see, I'm on my way home for a vacation, and if I could tell the folks I had bought the dinner for the Vice-President of the United States it would be pretty fine for me."

"And I finally had to let him pay for it," said Mr. Sherman.

Mayor Shank Was Willing.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer: Mayor Shank of Indianapolis received a call one afternoon from a brace of women reformers who desired him to shut down on vice right ay-way.

"Do you think it can be done?" asked Shank, pleasantly.

"Indeed, yes," said the women folks.

"Oh, very well," said Shank. "You just take charge here for a couple of days and do as you like. I'll back you up in whatever you do. I'm going over to Dayton to make a speech and I've got to hurry to my train right now. Good-by."

And he rushed out, leaving the women standing in his office in heaps and heaps of astonishment.

Hitchcock a Good Worker.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer:] Postmaster-General Hitchcock loses all track of time when he gets interested in a problem before him. He got to working on a proposition relating to the new parcel post, at his office one night, assisted by his secretary, until toward midnight. Then he looked up long enough to bid his secretary to go on home. He said he would stay a few minutes longer to write a couple of letters. When the secretary came to the office the next morning, he met Hitchcock just starting home.

Richard Mansfield's Wit.

[Kansas City Star:] The late Richard Mansfield possessed a very concise and penetrating wit, of which only those who knew him intimately saw the best flashes. One day in his dressing-room he chanced to read a prize offer of $50 to be given for the best story about an umbrella. He scribbled something quickly on a scrap of paper and turned to an English friend who was with him and said:

"I have a good one. Here it is. We will send it in."

The friend took it and read these words: "Once I bought an umbrella."

The Englishman in telling of it afterward added, "And Mansfield really thought that blooming thing was funny, but we did not send it in."

Rockefeller Learned the Reason.

[Popular Magazine:] John D. Rockefeller and a party of friends were taking a trip across country in Georgia last fall when they came to a stream which they had to cross by ferry. The ferryboat was operated by a whitehaired old negro. While they were floating across Mr. Rockefeller tried to make conversation.

"Jack," he asked the old man, "have you caught any fish today?"

"Naw, suh," replied Jack, dejectedly.

"The fishing," observed Rockefeller, "must be pretty poor."

"I spec' it is," agreed Jack, sadly.

"You haven't caught any fish at all?"

"Not a one."

"That seems strange," continued Rockefeller.

"It do," said Jack, and still his bearing was that of a man weighed down by woe.

"Well," asked Rockefeller, "why is it, do you think, you haven't caught any fish?"

"Humph," said Jack, still mournful, "I ain't been fishing today."

Annual Spring Showing Of Exclusive Woolens

Our Spring exhibit of popular cloths is the most complete we have ever shown. It comprises everything new, in all the latest shades and weaves, with exclusive patterns that attract the most fastidious eye.

The woolens are the highest class obtainable and are selected with great care from the most noted mills. The making of the suit is on a par with the class of the goods, which means THE BEST.

To those who can appreciate this class of tailoring we extend our cordial invitation.

We also wish to call your attention to the fact that Mme. Hoffman of New York has taken charge of our dressmaking department, and is prepared to turn out handsome dresses in exclusive models.

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE.

Short Paragraphs Concerning Persons and Events in and About the National Capital.

BY MARGARET WADE.

Chief of the many attentions offered Mrs. Grover Cleveland during her week's visit in Washington was the dinner by President and Mrs. Taft, which brought to the White House [illegible] of many minds with a [illegible] of maids and matrons of [illegible] more than ordinary social interest at an Executive dinner party. Mrs. Cleveland, looking little older than when she left the White House [illegible] years ago, sat between the President and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court; the latter, despite the [illegible] of his elevation by the present Executive, is a staunch Democrat and old-time friend of Grover Cleveland's widow, being Edward Douglas White, former Senator from Louisiana.

Other notables of the company, whether considered in present or past [illegible], were Hon. Robert T. Lincoln, son of the martyr President; Hilary A. Herbert, Secretary of the Navy in the last Cleveland administration; John W. Griggs, Republican ex-Attorney-General, and former Ambassador to France, Henry White; with numerous personal friends from army and navy, as well as the president of Princeton University, John G. Hibben. Mrs. Cleveland's fiance, Prof. T. J. Preston of Wells College, was also present with a number of the younger set of the administrative circle and several of the White House aides.

The feminine guests, in addition to the magnetic Mrs. Cleveland, included Mrs. Benjamin Harrison of Indiana, widow of that President who succeeded and preceded the twice-chosen Grover Cleveland. Mrs. Harrison was [illegible] the mistress of the White House [illegible] marriage to the former President having taken place several years after his retirement from office. There [illegible] also Mrs. George W. Goethals, wife of the director of the Panama [illegible]; Mrs. Thomas F. Bayard, widow of the late President Cleveland's first [illegible] Secretary of State and [illegible] to the Court of St. James; Mrs. Marshall Field, late of Chicago, and Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, late of New York, both now of Washington's ever-increasing winter colony.

Miss Esther Cleveland, who accompanied her mother, was naturally the [illegible] of the younger group of maids [illegible] in the large company. This youthful guest of the evening [illegible] born in the White House just [illegible] years ago, but, like her mother, had never crossed its threshold since the expiration of ex-President Cleveland's second term, until a few days ago. Esther Cleveland, who, [illegible] from her name and lineage, would be a welcome addition to Washington's debutante ranks, will remain several weeks longer a guest of Mrs. John Hays Hammonds and other friends of her family.

Mrs. Cleveland's visit, with her future husband as escort(has naturally [illegible] much tea-table discussion regarding the wisdom of her second [illegible]. Without reflecting upon Prof. Preston, a man of parts and the possessor of an ample fortune which he [illegible] wisely, there is a well-defined [illegible] of regret, that, in the language of one of her oldest friends, "Grover Cleveland's widow should descend from her pedestal and join the [illegible]." Mr. Preston's presence [illegible] succession of brilliant functions in honor of his distinguished bride-[illegible] was, to some degree, inevitably [illegible] of embarrassment to his hostess, [illegible] in spite of an engaging [illegible], his place in these companies was necessarily "below the salt." While no one criticizes the [illegible] or wisdom of a second marriage [illegible] of a President's widow, the [illegible] of the hitherto obscure pro[illegible] during this particular visit of [illegible] and her young daughter, [illegible] an absolutely unique position in White House history, is generally considered an unfortunate [illegible] of good taste.

Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, who came to Washington solely to grace the dinner party at the White House, is also [illegible] mother of a young girl destined [illegible] society with the prestige due [illegible] daughter of a President. Miss [illegible] Harrison, who accompanied her mother to Washington, but not to the White House, is just [illegible] the only child of ex-President [illegible] second marriage. She is [illegible] young girl with well-[illegible] mind and, in her own right, [illegible] something of an heiress. Mrs. [illegible], contrary to many public [illegible], was never a member od [illegible] household during President [illegible] term of office. She [illegible] a frequent visitor there and a [illegible] of the first Mrs. Harrison. As [illegible] Scott Lord, she married a [illegible] Pennsylvanian named Walter [illegible], a man of large means [illegible] death left her a widow before [illegible] of their honeymoon. This [illegible] was wisely invested by President [illegible] and will become the [illegible] of his youngest daughter.

[illegible] Mrs. Woodrow Wilson's [illegible] against the vulgarity of certain [illegible] dances is having its [illegible] in Washington. The ladies of [illegible] in charge of the [illegible] ball, have formally an[illegible] "no trots" for their ball, [illegible] This stand was not taken [illegible] a heated discussion, but [illegible] has perched on the banner of [illegible]. With Mrs. Edward [illegible] White, wife of the chief justice, heading the receiving line, and [illegible] Randolph Heth, the [illegible] of a true Virginia family, [illegible] of the board, this particular ball is bound to be a dignified [illegible]. These wise women and [illegible] are not foolish enough to [illegible] the guests or subscribers [illegible] their dance. They will not, [illegible] have any ragtime music [illegible] Waltzes and two-steps, with [illegible] old-time lancers for the [illegible] and veterans who always [illegible] the occasion, will make up [illegible]

[illegible] something must be done in [illegible] of checking fashionable [illegible] is recognized by all con[illegible] Washington. Authorities of [illegible] academy at Annapolis, [illegible] for social purposes is a suburb [illegible], have issued a set of [illegible] for the dancing at the [illegible] prohibiting all the animal [illegible] the animal names, which [illegible] southern ladies and the of[illegible] at Annapolis to be [illegible]

[illegible] other hand, heretofore staid [illegible] and matrons, and maidens not [illegible] youth are willing to tur[illegible] the instruction is given in [illegible] ballrooms late in the [illegible] by a merry youth of good [illegible] money and without [illegible] with a guarantee of social [illegible] to the impecunious [illegible] his particular tal[illegible]

[illegible] of the exclusive ballrooms in [illegible] is practiced to the [illegible] of other dances is that of [illegible] of the Navy and Mrs. [illegible] who entertain with a "small [illegible] two weeks, their com[illegible] accepted as the [illegible] Washington.

[illegible] at the White House [illegible] a feature of even the State [illegible] the present administration, it was only when the President ceased to participate that the old-time waltz and two-step gave place to the "trots," but President Taft has never lost his love of dancing and retains the old-time method described by that veteran Congressman, former Speaker Cannon, who recently asked the leader of an orchestra to play "one-two-three" tunes, whereupon Representative Cannon joined the merry whirl of the beautiful "Blue Danube."

Mr. Justice McKenna of the Supreme Court and Mrs. McKenna are enjoying a succession of visits from their daughters, a trio of handsome young matrons, who came to Washington as cabinet girls from California sixteen years ago, when their father entered the social family of the late President McKinley as Attorney-General. The eldest of these favored maidens was then just entering society, the youngest in the nursery. Mrs. Pitts Duffield of New York is the former Isabelle McKenna, while the second daughter, who made her debut shortly after her father's promotion to the Supreme bench, is Mrs. Davenport Brown of Boston, and Hildegarde, the baby of the family, is Mrs. John Leggitt Pultz of New York. Justice McKenna's sons-in-law are all men of wealth. The only son of this California jurist, Capt. Frank B. McKenna, U.S.A., also "married well," as the phrase goes, his wife being daughter and heiress of Richard C. Kerens, Ambassador to Austria-Hungary, one of St. Louis' well-established millionaires.

The return of Representative and Mrs. John W. Dwight to society after several years' mourning, puts another Californian in the front rank of Congressional hostesses, notwithstanding Representative Dwight represents the Thirtieth New York District. Mrs. Dwight, who is good-looking, as well as young, was formerly Miss Emma Childs of Los Angeles. The Dwights inaugurated their hospitality for the present season on Saturday with a delightful dinner party at their R-street home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ord Preston, whose marriage took place in San Francisco in November, are entertaining Mrs. Preston's parents, Gen. and Mrs. Arthur Murray, the former having been called from his post on the Pacific to a conference of all the generals of the United States army, in session during the past week. Young Mrs. Preston, who was Miss Carolyn Murray, is cordially welcomed in Washington, where she achieved a brilliant belleship prior to her father's assignment to his present post.

Why PURITAS Distilled Water Is Best

The Water YOU Should Have at Your Home or Your Office.

Probably the chief reason for your using PURITAS to the exclusion of all other waters, is the fact that PURITAS Distilled Water is safe.

That is—when you drink PURITAS exclusively, you need have no fear of contamination from vegetable or mineral substances; no fear of catching any disease which may be carried in ordinary water.

PURITAS Distilled Water is exactly what its name implies—a hygienically, scientifically prepared water for domestic use—drawn from pure, deep wells, then thoroughly distilled.

The process of distillation is the only known method of absolutely destroying animal and vegetable matter or germ life in water. Boiling will not destroy these substances; filtration will not remove them from your drinking water—but distillation will.

After this careful and thorough distillation, PURITAS is subjected to a scientific process of aeration—to restore to the water that life and sparkle which boiled waters noticeably lack.

And finally, PURITAS Distilled Water is put up in truly clean, five-gallon glass demijohns, mounted on tilters which operate so easily that even a child can use them.

The five-gallon demijohn, delivered anywhere within the old city boundary lines, costs but 40c—a remarkably small investment for the amount of safety it brings the family that use it.

It is positively unsafe to take chances with ordinary drinking water, filled, as it is, with all sorts of impurities and dangerous disease germs.

Why not order a demijohn of PURITAS at once? Note the beneficial effect it has upon you—note how your complexion clears up, what relief you find almost immediately from any incipient kidney or rheumatic twinges you may have suffered. While PURITAS is in no sense medicinal, its use is a true aid to perfect, glowing health.

Out-of-town residents, who desire PURITAS, and cannot find a dealer in their vicinity, can secure any desired supply simply by writing or telephoning us; Home 10053; Sunset, Main 8191.

Granted Insurance After Lung Trouble

There are so many cases of Consumption reported where the details show the disease started with a cold or a cough, that it is really surprising that people are not more anxious to immediately stop these apparently minor troubles. Our advice is "stop the cough or cold, if possible, without delay." Otherwise more serious troubles are likely to follow. If the medicines you are now taking do not bring relief, try Eckman's Alterative, as this man did:

337 Dean St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: I am giving you below a brief history of my case, which I trust you will use for the benefit of those suffering from any similar troubles.

"About a year and a half ago I noticed that my health was rapidly failing, until at the end of six months my weight had fallen to 129 pounds. I was troubled with night sweats, a severe cough and was very weak, having in fact absolutely no ambition whatever. About this time I consulted a physician, who told me my lungs were affected. Not satisfied, I went to another doctor, who after examining me said that I was in the first stages of consumption. At this point I started to take Eckman's Alterative. The night sweats stopped almost immediately, my cough became looser and gradually disappeared. My weight is now 142 pounds and my physician has pronounced me perfectly sound—which, together with the fact that I have been accepted by two different insurance companies for insurance, makes me sure of my entire recovery by Eckman's Alterative. I should be very glad to communicate with any one who would be interested in my case."

(Sworn Affidavit) W. K. GEE.

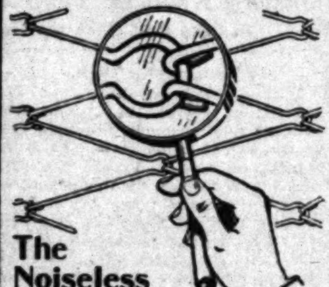
Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by The Owl Drug Company and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

2 Chief Reasons Why 3 PIECE BEDS Give You More for Your Money . . .

The only bed improvements in a century are incorporated in these 3-piece beds. With the introduction of this new bed principle, rails are forever banished—together with the labor, expense and complications they entail. The 3-piece beds are easily put together—one person can do it in "a jiffy." It is a labor-saver because the spring can be detached from the bed with all the bedding on. It is sanitary because it has no dust-catching rails. Study the pictures of the patented wedge lock and patented diamond fabric link below—you will then know why these beds are destined to become used the world over.

Demonstration at "The Eastern" This Week

We are this week making a special demonstration of 3-piece beds in our south window. We want you to come down town and see this demonstration—it proves beyond doubt that the ideal bed has at last been invented. You will make a serious mistake if you buy beds without first inspecting these models—because you will eventually buy them anyway, so why waste time and money?

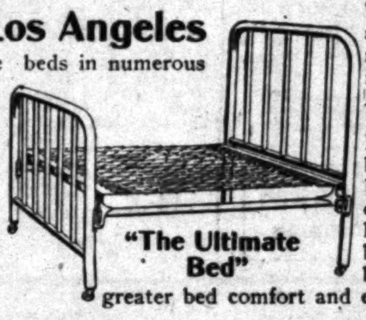


The Noiseless Patented Diamond Fabric Link

This splendid link insures an absolutely noiseless bed—it is impossible for this bed to squeak or groan or otherwise disturb your rest. In buying Diamond Springs be sure and get the genuine—"note the eye" which prevents stretching and sagging.

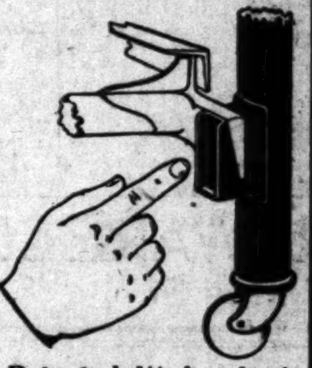
Made in Los Angeles

We have 3-piece beds in numerous styles and finishes—white, Vernis Martin and cream and our popular wood finishes. These beds come in all sizes with various diameters of posts and fillers.



"The Ultimate Bed"

The 3-piece beds are a "home-made" product—invented in Los Angeles, made in Los Angeles by Los Angeles labor and backed by Los Angeles capital. Support home industry by buying 3-piece beds—it means greater bed comfort and economy.



Patented Wedge Lock

This lock makes the bed and the spring absolutely rigid—it is impossible for the bed to collapse or the spring to fall to the floor. It means a lighter bed and less labor. It means an absolutely sanitary bed because there are no dust catching rails.

Every 3-piece bed is absolutely guaranteed by the manufacturers for ten years.

Special Introductory Prices

During this demonstration week we are making very special prices on all sizes and styles in 3-piece beds. We are very fortunate in being able to offer a complete line because the demand is very heavy. An opportunity to buy at less than regular prices is one that no economical person should miss.

EDUCATORS, AUTHORS.

Janet Scudder, the most prominent woman sculptor of America, is to erect a fountain on the Rockefeller estate at Tarrytown, N. Y.

Prof. Willard C. Fisher has resigned the chair of economics and social science at Wesleyan University, which he had held for twenty-one years.

Ex-President Eliot, Bishop Lawrence and others connected with Appleton Chapel, at Harvard College, gave a dinner in Boston last week, in honor of the Rev. Francis Greenwood Peabody, D. D., Plummer professor of Christian morals, who is about to retire from his college post. He is going to Japan to lecture at several universities and will return about July 1.

George F. Swain, the newly-elected president of the American Society of Civil Engineers, which was founded in 1852, is professor of civil engineering at Harvard. For twenty-five years he has been consulting engineer for the Massachusetts Railroad Commission. During recent years he has done much work in the way of appraising the value of railroad properties. He is the author of many professional papers and reports in engineering periodicals and elsewhere.

Simon Harmon Vedder has returned to this country after fulfilling one of the most unique commissions ever given an American artist. He was sent by the British government in 1909 to paint the portraits of the rajahs of the Rajputana states, it being the desire of the government to present the paintings to the Mayo College at Ajmer. In all, he painted fourteen potentates for this school, journeying about from one court to another. Although a native of New York, the artist has lived in London for seventeen years.

Dr. Richard P. Strong, who will take charge of the department of tropical medicine which Harvard University is about to establish, won the admiration of the medical world when he went with Oscar Teague to the plague-infected district in Manchuria in 1911, and in the dead of winter, when water froze on the operating table, encased himself in something like a diver's uniform, and worked until the end of the epidemic, performing operations and making autopsies. His work as director of the government biological laboratory at Manila is a matter of history. He is now in the health department of the United States Insular Bureau.

The Best Cough Syrup is Easily Made at Home

Costs Little and Acts Quickly. Money Refunded If It Fails.

This recipe makes a pint of cough syrup, and saves you about $2.00 as compared with ordinary cough remedies. It stops obstinate coughs—even whooping cough—in a hurry, and is splendid for sore lungs, asthma, croup, hoarseness and other throat troubles.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. Tastes good.

This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite, and is slightly laxative—both excellent features.

Pinex, as perhaps you know, is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and the other natural healing pine elements.

No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this recipe, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.

Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe. This plan has often been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equaled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

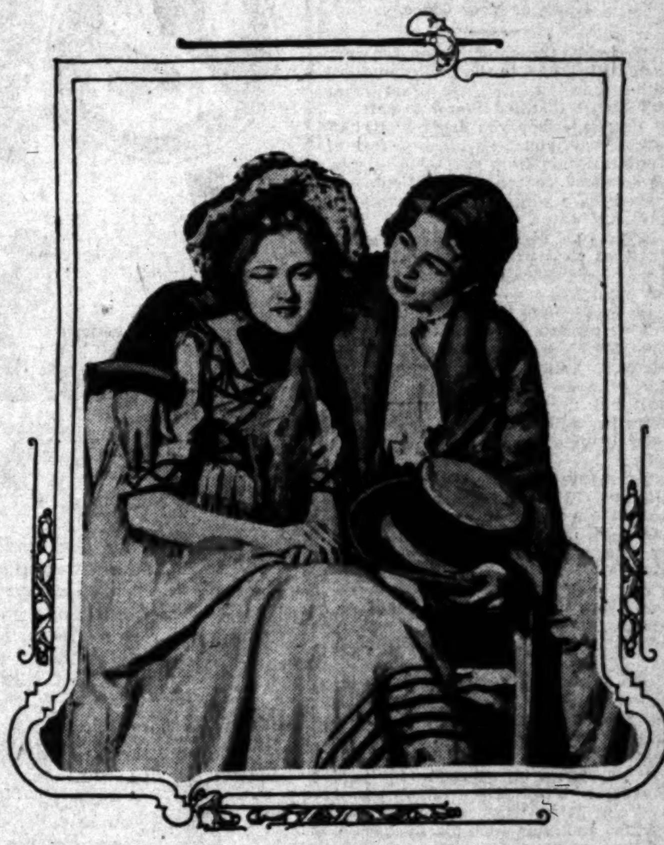
IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.



Marjorie Knott as "Dot," and George Morrison as "John,"
In "The Cricket on the Hearth," at Thirtieth-street school.

Los Angeles High.

With a total enrollment of 1945 the school begins the second term with no diminution in numbers after its large graduating class, 800 of the pupils are boys and 1185 are girls. Mrs. Susan Dorsey, vice-principal, reports an unusually fine lot of intermediate pupils among the new comers, with a correspondingly high grade of ninth year pupils. There was the usual number of recent arrivals from the East in the incoming class.

One of the most remarkable developments in the history of the school has been the rapid growth of the collegiate or graduate department. There are now 120 students enrolled for this work. Last week they finished their mid-term examinations, which were of regulation university severity and three hours in length.

Among the first members of the faculty to announce their intention of going abroad next summer are Mrs. Susan Dorsey, vice principal, and Miss Edna Gearhart of the art department. Miss Gearhart will spend most of her time in Germany visiting and inspecting the many excellent craft schools of that country. She will also go to Italy. Mrs. Dorsey may extend her trip for more than the summer vacation, spending some time in Italy, Germany and especially in England.

"The Politicians," the musical comedy presented by the senior B class at the close of the first term, made such a popular hit that it will be repeated on the afternoon of February 19.

The Boys' Glee Club has organized for the term with the election of Wayne Fisher, president; N. Bolin, manager, and Carl Lange, librarian.

Mrs. Avery of the modern language department has returned from a leave of absence spent in Spain. She has resumed her work in teaching Spanish.

The school this term was completely reorganized and in working order within two days after the opening of the new term. The upper class pupils were a helpful factor in making out details from the office.

Channing Follette and George Cohen will represent the school in a debate against Anaheim. Either Los Angeles High or Anaheim is due to win the league championship.

Manual Arts High.

Last week the interest of the student body was centered on the senior A's who received the first sheep skins from Manual Arts. Immediately upon graduation the first alumni organization was formed. The following officers were elected: Harold Harris, president; Lucile Pinkerton, vice-president; Glen Goodrich, secretary. These staid and dignified students were so loth to part that they planned a picnic in the Arroyo Seco for the 15th, when they gathered to discuss old times.

The art department has doubled its registration and has some new courses which are very popular. Bob Wagner has some classes in illustration which assist in the publication of the various school magazines. Mr. Donaldson now offers metal and jewelry work to advanced students.

The English department is fortunate in adding to its number Miss Belle Parsons, who comes from Polytechnic. Miss Faddis now has classes in literature. The expression and oral English classes are in the hands of Miss Howell and Miss Parsons, who are planning some unique productions from the B9 students.

The classes in advanced botany are doing work of a very practical character. They are studying horticulture and agriculture and are assisting in the care of the school gardens, which will play such an important part in the school beautiful.

Mrs. Morgan has added a new sport to the Girls' Curriculum. A class in archery is open to advanced students and as the girls will practice on their own campus, a large number have registered.

Hollywood High.

Miss Maria Sanford, 84 years of age, for fifty-four years a college teacher, and until recently head of the English department of the University of Wisconsin, addressed the student body last week on literature and its value to the man. Miss Sanford in a strong clear voice, but slightly worn with age, for three-quarters of an hour, put her soul into presentations of many of the gems of literature, holding her audience as only the best can do.

The German, French and Spanish plays, Hollywood's innovations, which were presented at the Auditorium last Friday, were characterized by immense success. As the first of their kind to be held at the High School, the success is all the more brilliant and deserved. Many of the characters taking part deserve mention, especially Carlos Garcia, a native of Cuba, in the Spanish play, "Los Solternos," and Matilda Summers, a native of Munich, Germany, for the life and feeling which she puts into the German play.

Besides the skits each country was represented by a chorus and dancers in full costume, which served particularly to give the students an insight into the life and manners of the European countries. The plays were staged to raise money for the purchase of a phonograph and necessary books and charts to be used in the language classes.

Marian Woodley and James Candee, as winners of the declamation contest, held annually by the school, will have their names engraved on the silver cup, presented by the Hollywood Board of Trade.

Hard, consistent training in track, basketball and baseball marks Hollywood's athletics at present. The fellows have been spending a great deal of time in preparing the field, roughened by the recent rains, for future meets.

Several important amendments became a part of the school constitution as the result of an election held last week at the High School. The amendments covered class representation on the board of control, the method of introducing amendments and others of less importance.

Twenty-first-avenue Intermediate.

On Monday the new B7 class began work at the Woolwine site. The buildings at Avenue 21 and Avenue 23 being filled, arrangements were made at the new location for the incoming class. The Woolwine residence has been remodeled and furnishes pleasant quarters.

The registration on Wednesday was seventy-five tenth-graders, 189 ninth-graders, that is 264 regular High School students, and 439 Seventh and Eighth Grade pupils.

Miss Katherine Moran has returned from her leave of absence; Miss Edna Ames, after six months abroad, has resumed her music work; Miss Maud A. Brown, general science teacher, has left for a tour of the Mediterranean. The new teachers at Twenty-first avenue this term are: R. D. Wadsworth, who comes from Polytechnic High School to take charge of general science work; Miss Edith Hopkins, who left the Santa Ana schools to teach Latin and English; Miss Clark, formerly of Fourteenth-street Intermediate School, will instruct in physiology and science; Alvin W. Ault of Kansas is to teach mathematics and Miss Elizabeth Errett of San Francisco will do Batavia work.

Thirtieth-street Intermediate.

The A9 class of Thirtieth-street Intermediate presented in a most able manner and to an enthusiastic audiance on February 11 "The Cricket on the Hearth," a drama in three acts from Charles Dickens's story of the same name. The characters were taken as follows: John Perrybingle, a carrier, by George Morrison; Mr. Tackerton, a toy-maker, Gernett Evans; Caleb Plummer, his man, Stanley Dunmire; Edward Plummer, Frank Raymond; Dot's father, Thoron Van Wyo; Dot, Marjorie Knott; Bertha, Caleb's blind daughter, Wildrod Wellborn; Mrs. Fielding, Maybelle Newberry; May Fielding, Gladys Thomas; Tilly Slowboy, Addys Jones; Dot's mother, Edna Sydow; Porter, Leonard Miller. The play was presented in three parts, scene I being the interior of John Perrybingle's cottage; scene II the interior of Caleb Plummer's cottage and scene III was the same as scene I. The scenery for act II was designed and made by Allan B., Adrain Jameson, Will McCuno, Frank Raymond, Forest Smoot and Loyd Vermillian, of the school.

Lincoln and Washington Days.

Lincoln's Day was observed in all the schools with appropriate exercises on Wednesday. In the foreign quarters of the city, especially, the day was used as the occasion to inculcate patriotism.

Washington's birthday falling on Saturday, the Friday preceding will be celebrated.

Superintendent Francis Goes East.

Superintendent Francis left for the East on Friday to visit the superintendents' convention in Philadelphia, where he will speak on the 28th, his subject being "Some Educational Experiments in Los Angeles."

Superintendent Francis will also speak at Houston, Tex., and at Boston on the occasion of the Century Club banquet, on March 1.

Vernon-avenue.

The auditorium of the Vernon-avenue school was crowded Wednesday afternoon to listen to the "Lincoln programme" prepared by the school.

In her opening remarks, Miss McCarthy, the principal, dwelt on the influence which Abraham Lincoln's life should have on the her pupils, and made an

BRENT'S Credit System

Is absolutely fair, and you will do well to avail yourself of it, in buying furniture and household goods here. BRENT'S prices, too, are extremely reasonable; and BRENT'S stocks the largest and best selected that can be obtained.

Make it a point to do your dealing at BRENT'S, the Great Credit House. You'll find it the most satisfactory from every point of view—in the dependable furniture you'll get; in the wide assortment you'll have to choose from, and in the low prices you'll pay.

BRENT'S

Store Open Saturday Nights

During the past three years we have studiously refrained from keeping our store open on Saturday evenings, in compliance with a verbal agreement made among business houses at that time. Now, however, we find a large number of our competitors back in the old rut; we have therefore decided to keep our store open every Saturday evening until 9 o'clock. One-half our force of clerks will be on duty; these clerks will be given one-half day's freedom during the week following their night duty, to avoid hardship on their part. I trust the public will appreciate our position. Respectfully,

E. J. BRENT, Proprietor BRENT'S Great Credit House.

The Most Beautiful Spring Suits We Have Seen

Building Business

—upon the solid Foundation of Service—Bullock's is growing—

January, 1913, showed an increase in sales over January, 1912, that was well above normal.

February, 1913—to date—is standing shoulder to shoulder with January.

The gains are gratifying—they have been won, not by frenzied methods—but by Merchandise of quality, values and service that has had for its first consideration—"The Satisfaction of the Customer."

—There is a great difference between "Business Building" and mere "Business Getting."

The winning of Confidence by meriting it is more important than the winning of sales—in the eyes of this organization.

The New Cream Suitings

—Serge—Whipcord—Bedford—1913 calls them "Favorite"

—So you will find them at Bullock's — on Spring's own dress goods throne—a royal showing. Creams of beauty and quality and value—that are distinctly diffetent and that will make eyes sparkle with delight.

—Won't you see them Monday?

—Along with the new evening shades in cloaking?

—The New Grays; The Black and White Stripes; The plain weaves, in all the shades most wanted now—

There are Navy Serges $1.25

—that are among the most striking values we have had—good wide serges rich in the quality that gives such satisfactory wear—and that defies the sun.

—There are Mannish materials at $1.50; Eponges at $2.50 and $3.00; Ratine at $2.50 and $3.50 yard. And other dress woolens that are reasons why no woman who has in mind the making of a new spring suit or dress should fail to visit Bullock's on Monday.

—Haven't you seen the new silk that Bullock's is showing —that magnificent Indian Crepe?
—"It's the most Beautiful Radically New Silk

—that I have seen in years—

—"A glorious idea—Crepe made brilliant with striking Indian colorings—and the queerest, prettiest Indian patternings.

—"At Bullock's in the only variety that I have seen—

—"Do you know, I am coming to be more and more certain if I want to get the new silks first—I must go to Bullock's for them."

Wash Fabrics

—Staple, well-known weaves in patterns you have not seen before.

Royal Zephyr Gingham 25c —Imported gingham of uncommonly fine texture, and 32 inches wide. Stripes, checks and plaids in great variety, and solid colors as well.

Gingham 15c
—The famous Orange Blossom Gingham—Made to Bullock's order—32 ins. wide, firmly woven and in the most dependable colorings — stripes, checks plaids and solid colors.

Indian Head 15c
—All shades in this well known linen finish suiting, 34 inches wide, at 15c yard.

Jap Crepes 20c
—Bullock's imports these 30-inch Japanese crepes in 10,000 yard lots.
Immensely popular for both street and house wear, and for children's dresses. Solid colors as well as stripes in great variety. They require no ironing—and that has much to do with their great popularity.

Wonderland Suiting 15c
—27-inch fabrics of firm, heavy weave with colors woven in—economical, serviceable fabrics for children's and women's wash dresses.

Tissue Crepe
—A fine crepe weave with the new Ratine stripe effect; 27 inches wide. Many of the best wash colorings.

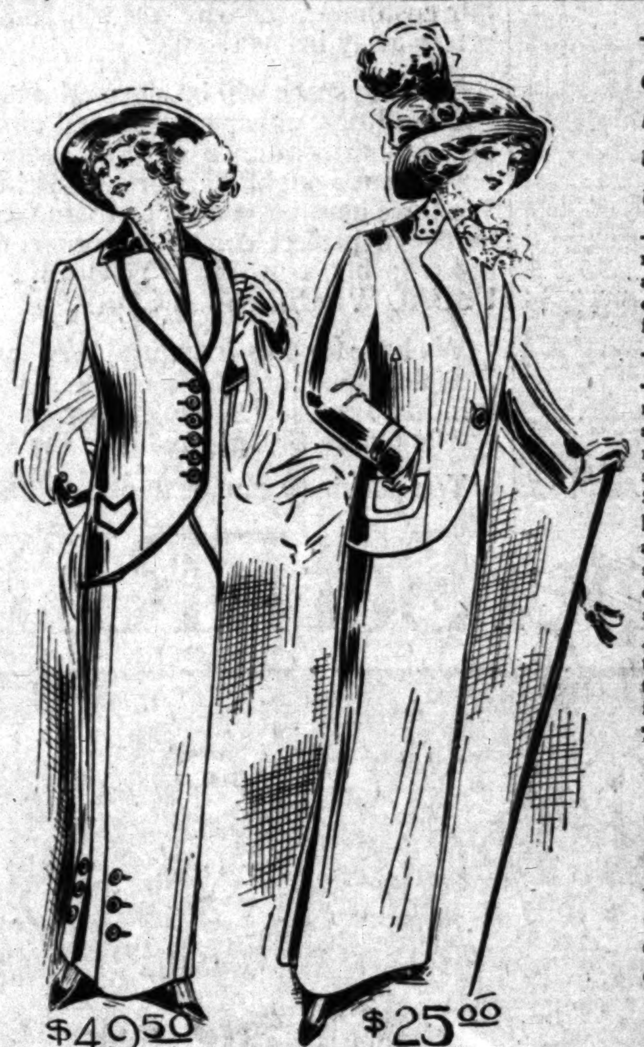
Buy Stationery

—and be sure you buy Berlin's Stationery at Bullock's on Monday.

—High grade correspondence paper that is universally liked—at 75c box—correspondence cards in all colors with envelopes to match—each card with steel die embossed initial in combination of gold and illuminated color—one quire cards to each box—in pink, violet, green, azure, lavender and gray—

—At 50c box—Berlin's Linear Note size paper and long, narrow envelopes with part circle flap. In buff and pink.

—At 75c box—Berlin's Colonial Lawn letter size paper with new fold. In buff, blue, white and pink.



$49.50 $25.00

—They are here—not too many—and mostly one of a kind—the smart, exclusive styles that have been approved by Fashion—and that insure the individuality and character which women demand.

—Not like other suits—no, indeed, but yet the trend of spring's mode has been followed, even in their differences—differences that are creations of "Art in Tailoring." More than one woman will be delighted with them, Monday. More than one woman will choose from among them her own most becoming new spring suit.

—For the prices are attractions as well as the styles.

—Even at $25.00—Are very pretty effects, of French Blue Bedford, navy mannish and French serge, navy diagonal and light novelty stripes in gray, tan and dull blue tones. Coats; cutaway, short, round-cornered, or the cleverest blouse effects. It's hard to understand how such unusual new spring suits can be sold for so little as $25, especially at the very start of the season.

But at $49.50—Creates greatest interest—a wide range of navy and novelty weaves;- white hairline stripes, tiny broken and striking shepherd checks, imported serge, diagonals and stripes—ever so many splendid ideas. Novelty coat effects and trimmings in such variety.

And so rarely attractive that in themselves they are well worth a trip to the store just to see. Don't fail to see the new suits, Monday.

The new Pattern Hats now arriving by express are simply indescribable —They are SO different from anything heretofore shown—and each one ENTIRELY different from the others.

—Lovers of the luxurious in millinery have a treat in store for them in the display to be seen tomorrow at Bullock's.

$1.25 Undermuslins Featured —On Monday the thousands of women who habitually pay $1.25 for undermuslins are to find exceptionally great varieties and uncommonly strong values at their favorite price arranged for easy choosing in Bullock's Underwear Section, 2nd floor.

Gowns at $1.25
—Of dainty nainsook cut with liberal fullness; quite elaborate yokes of neat lace insertions and embroidery; most of them, too, are run with wash ribbons. Also many pretty styles in crepe gowns, neatly trimmed with lace.

Combinations $1.25
—The corset cover and drawer styles, with yokes of dainty lace and embroidery, run with wash ribbons.

Petticoats $1.25
—Correctly cut garments of sturdy nainsooks with deep embroidery flounces, ribbon run.

Princess Slips
—Chemise, corset covers and drawers of choicer materials and more artistically trimmed than most of those you would expect to find at $1.25.
—Whatever price you wish to pay, look to Bullock's for unexcelled values. (Second Floor.)

Handkerchiefs

—Wonder values at 25c.

—Women's handkerchiefs of pure linen, daintily embroidered by hand—both fabric and embroidery being far better than you would expect to find in 25c handkerchiefs.

10c Each—$1.15 a Dozen.
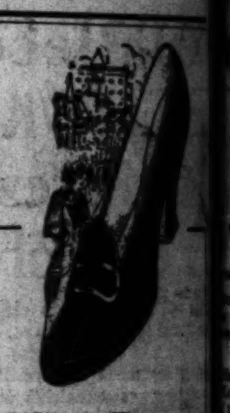
—Women's handkerchiefs of pure linen with neatly embroidered wreath and initial in corner. A good assortment of initials. Main Floor.



New Pumps

—The last word in Footwear Fashions.

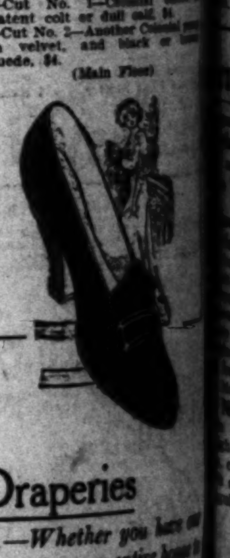
—Tailored pumps for street wear in a half-dozen or more different leathers and shades, so you can have the same model in shades to match various costumes.

—Evening slippers, too, in which the same model is made up in velours, satins and various leathers.

—Cut No. 1—Colonial effect in patent colt or dull calf, $4.

—Cut No. 2—Another Colonial pump in velvet, and black or brown suede, $4.

(Main Floor)



Velvet-Finished Rugs

—Bullock's will feature velvet-finished rugs on Monday—

—The Wiltons, Axminsters and Velvets of all grades and sizes will be shown in seemingly endless variety.

—And they are priced much lower than we shall have to charge when compelled to buy at present market quotations—the rugs now here, understand, were contracted for before the recent heavy advance at the mills.

9x11 Velvet Rugs $9.95
—But only 50 of them, 9x11 ft. Velvet rugs in handsome Oriental, floral and allover patterns, $9.95. That offering alone should crowd the Rug Section on Monday morning.

9x12 Seamless Velvets $14.75
—These big one-piece velvet rugs in small Persian designs worked out in rich color combinations are most extraordinary values at $14.75.

Big Axminsters $14.95
9x12 ft. and 8¼x10½ ft. sizes in soft, high-pile Axminsters—floral and Oriental designs—to be sold Monday at $14.95. As there are only 18 in the lot, and as the price is about a fourth under worth, late comers are more than likely to be disappointed.

9x12 Wilton Velvets $22.50
—Handsome one-piece rugs of unquestioned excellence at nearly a third under worth. Most of them copies of real Persian rugs—wonderfully clever reproductions, both in colors and designs. 9x12 ft., $22.50; 8¼x10½ ft., $20; 6x9 ft., $12.50; 36x63 at $3.50.

9x12 Royal Wiltons $37.50
—Rich Oriental and Persian designs in the luxurious, long-lived Royal Wilton weave——9x12 ft., $37.50; 8¼x10½ ft., $32.50; 6x9 ft., $27.50.

Small Wiltons
—The highest quality. And they're priced nearly a third under present market value.
—22½x36 inches, $2.95.
—27x54 inches, $4.95.
—36x63 inches, $6.95.

Wilton Velvet Carpets at $1.35 Yd.
—An underworth price, as you will realize when you note their quality. High grade wool velvet in plain tan, brown and green shades; also in pretty brown, green and blue Moresque effects. Stair carpets, hall carpets and carpets with narrow borders to match—carpets that will retain their luster and beauty through years of hard service. $1.35 yard.

Bullock's Quality Linens

—Linens of questionable quality are never allowed to enter the Bullock stocks.

—Every piece of linen bought at Bullock's will prove to be just as represented—and prove to be generously good value at the price paid.

—If such were not the case would "The Linen Store's" business be growing by leaps and bounds?

Scalloped Cloths $4.50
—72x72-inch cloths of fine all-linen damask, beautifully scalloped—floral and conventional designs—$4.50 each. Half dozen 22-inch napkins to match, $3.75.

Pattern Cloths
—Of fine satin damask—absolutely all linen—in the circular designs usually found in the high-priced damasks——70x71-inch cloths, $3.25.
—70x90-inch cloths, $4.00.
—70x108-inch cloths, $5.00.
—22-inch napkins to match, $3.50.
—24-inch napkins to match, $4.00.
—The assortment includes rose, poppy, ivy, Shamrock and conventional designs.

Other Pattern Cloths
—Of double damask—beautiful snow white linen from Ireland's most famous mills—in the round designs with tulip-and-band, poppy-and-ribbon, bow-knot-and-tulip combinations as well as the ever-popular lily patterns.
—72x72 inches, $4.00; 72x90 inches, $5; 72x108 inches, $6.
—24-inch napkins to match, $5.50 doz.

Huck Towels 20c
—20x40 inch towels of union linen huck—not ALL linen, but of fine close texture that will give long and satisfactory service. Snow white, with red border.

Special Notions

—Few women but will find strongly appealing values in this list of special items for Monday.

—Salespeople in the notion section should be kept busy the entire day—so unusual are the prices on wanted notions—buy notions safely and profitably at Bullock's on Monday—

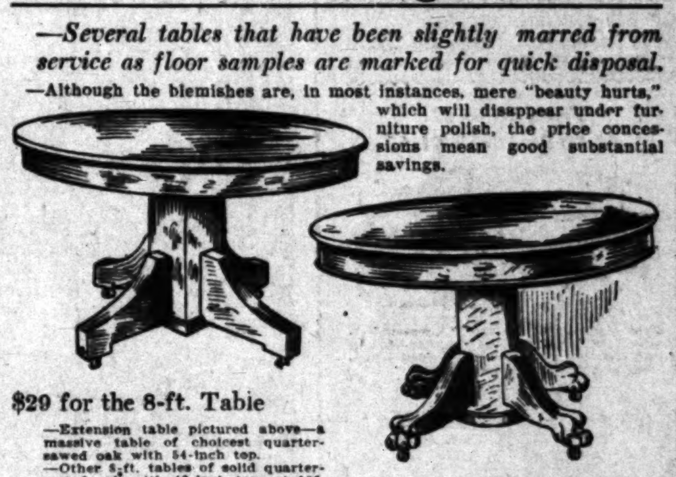
Save on Dining Tables

—Several tables that have been slightly marred from service as floor samples are marked for quick disposal.

—Although the blemishes are, in most instances, mere "beauty hurts," which will disappear under furniture polish, the price concessions mean good substantial savings.



$29 for the 8-ft. Table
—Extension table pictured above—a massive table of choicest quarter-sawed oak with 54-inch top.
—Other 8-ft. tables of solid quarter-sawed oak with 48-inch tops at $25, $27.50 and $30—all much under regular.

Register in Free Classes, Venetian Crochet, Fourth Floor, Needlework Section.

CONCERNING SOCKS.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Who would have thought that one small word could cover so much domestic misery? Socks! Male socks! Chiefly married male socks. A recent research of mine convinces me that half of life's disillusionment evolves from the hole in a sock.

A certain spinster friend of mine who takes a fearful and abiding interest in the Hadley Home, which, as all good citizens know, is a haven for the down and outs from which they are assisted to become up and ins, looked me severely in the eye last week.

"I have discovered something you can do for those poor men," she assured me jubilantly. Florence can be very disconcerting.

"I am a very busy person"—I began.

"Oh, this won't take any time at all," she insisted. "All I want you to do is to ask all those men you meet if they will be kind enough to send their old socks to the Hadley Home. It is simply dreadful to think how badly they need socks down there."

"But, my dear girl, socks are a very intimate subject to discuss with one's ordinary male acquaintances. Quite embarrassing, in fact. Suppose I just buy a few pairs—"

"Fiddlesticks!" interrupted the Hadley champion. "A nice little Lenten penance for you. A few bought pairs won't do. We want dozens of pairs and I'll darn them," she added heroically.

Which explains how I came to set forth on the perilous quest of socks, how I came to lay bare many a domestic tragedy, how I opened up old wounds, ignited smouldering fires of wrath and generally made a jolly nuisance of myself. Florence is thorough to the point of sinfulness. I live in daily awe of Florence.

My first victim was a society husband. His wife is a radiant social queen, very prominent in the culture movement. We were dining and the occasion seemed auspicious.

"Have you," I asked with what I hoped was a sweet, appealing smile, "more socks than you know what to do with?"

"I guess not!" he snapped and the acidulated glance that darted across that table actually set my teeth on edge.

An anxious inquiring glance from madame made me hasten to explain.

"Socks to give away!" growled the society husband." Socks! Socks! I seem to do nothing but buy socks week in and week out but do you suppose I ever have a pair fit to wear? Do you? Let me tell you—"

"George is very sensitive on the subject of socks," murmured madame. "Didn't you think Bunty perfectly sweet?"

It was therefore with considerable diffidence that I approached the banker e'er he set forth for a round of golf.

"God bless you, my dear, believe me there is no one quite so down and out that he would wear my socks when I've done with them. I buy 'em cheap, you know, 10 cents a pair or three for 25 cents. Then I throw 'em away. It saves darning."

And they tell me he is worth ten millions. And I saw his daughter buy a dozen pairs of silk hose at $4 a pair with my very own eyes a few days ago.

The judge always wears such chirpy-looking socks and they tell me his wife is German, so once more I proceeded to perform my Lenten penance. A beautiful blush suffused his countenance e'er he confessed.

"I'd like to give you the whole bunch," he assured me, "but, "but—well, she footed the last pair out of the upper part of a pair of her own and, well, you know, they'd hardly—The part that shows above the shoe there doesn't go clear through—"

And I turned guiltily away. What wounds was I not probing!

"Oh, sure, you can have that half-dozen pairs the wife gave me for Christmas if you can get her to give 'em to you. They're fierce," declared the real estate princeling. "I bought myself a few nibby little pairs last week and I keep 'em up at the office. That keeps everybody good tempered. Never any holes in those I wear on the car, and they last fine. Keeps me real nervous remembering to change 'em though."

Ah, of course. Obviously it was a bachelor I should have asked. They will wear them good and yet have no one to darn them. Why, of course.

"Well, the fact of the matter is, you know, my socks last forever. That nice little Miss Peck keeps them darned for me when the second Smith girl doesn't, and then dear old Mrs. Watson insists upon taking compassion on me every few months and sending me some new ones. Decent old girl. Yes, I'll certainly send any I don't want," he added dubiously.

Evidently I happened upon too popular a bachelor. Next I tried a poor cadaverous soul who must surely have been crossed in love several times.

"Much more to the point if she would offer to darn my socks for me," he growled. "Look at these." Whereupon he produced one of the most heartrending-looking bundles eyes ever rested upon. Green socks atrociously darned in red. Black socks cobbled together in grey. Violet socks mottled with browns and tans. And worst and saddest of all a few pairs hopefully patched with a new patent stocking patch.

In sheer sympathy I told him about the banker's plan.

"Thank you," he said indignantly, "but I prefer good hosiery and a certain discrimination in taste. I may be poor, but I am artistic."

Florence says this is what comes of giving votes to women. Florence says she always suspected that society was rotten at the core. Florence wants to know what on earth the women are thinking about.

And Florence has asked me for the address of the cadaverous-looking bachelor.

In the meantime what of Hadley Home? We have it on poetic authority that man can be happy without a shirt. The question is can he hope to get a job without socks?

Herr von Jagow, successor to Herr von Kiderlen-Waechter, late Imperial Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, entered the diplomatic service in 1895, after holding various civil posts. He was first appointed attache to the Embassy at Rome. Since 1909 he has been Ambassador to Italy. He has been described as the ablest among the younger German diplomatists. Herr Jagow is a man of high culture, reserved, and cautious, and his external polished bearing contrasts markedly with his predecessor's direct methods and strong South German humor.

BY A PRINCESS OF THE REALM.

LIFE IN THE SENSUOUS "LAND OF THE AFTERNOON."

ST. VALENTINE must take the blame for quite a number of Lenten defections. Several small dances, designated informal, but really distinctly chic, took place on Friday evening. When the calendar will bungle things so sadly that a revered saint's day, associated solely with youth and gladness, falls in a season of penitence and gloom, what is a poor hostess (with hundreds of debutantes to appease) to do?

* * *

But aside from these, the Lenten interlude will be largely sartorial. Tea table gossip for the last few days has see-sawed between the Whiting-Barrow-French-Perkins denouement and the new evening dress trains. Who would have guessed at such a state of affairs, they seemed on the best of terms in church only the Sunday before last, and aren't those new long sinuous trains going to take a lot of managing?

And talking of dress, a drastic innovation has just been made in a fashionable London theater by no less a personage than Granville Barker. Producing "Shavian" and such like intellectual plays at the Savoy, he has just given notice that "evening dress is no longer essential in this theater."

To those of us who know our London, it will be realized what a stir such a notice would cause. From time immemorial the London theaters have been full dress affairs in every part of the house, but the pit and gallery and during the Boer War, many were the furious controversies as to whether a soldier in uniform could be admitted to the sacred precincts.

This rule, of course, made the theater a delightful social affair and it has always struck Americans as odd upon their first visit to see the women in very decolette attire. It was probably the outcome of the fact that pretty well every one above the "lower middle classes" dresses for dinner in England any way. This is not exactly snobbishness so much as tradition. The women's dresses are often sadly out of style and the men's dress suits a shade passe, but they recognise the pleasing influence of a complete change of apparel, and it is a tradition that is likely to die hard.

All the same, Granville Barker evidently found that society does not necessarily coincide with the intellectual; that, alas, many of the latter are minus a dress suit even in England. It is noteworthy that musical comedy and the more frivolous plays have not yet found it necessary to modify the evening dress rule!

Another controversy that is raging in English society circles is the "motor standard" in connection with the children of the wealthy. It is claimed that the automobile is the most evil influence in the lives of modern society children. That, besides making them helpless and pampered to a degree, the average boy now estimates his friends according to the number, size and value of their motor cars.

One must confess that the motor car is not having a very beneficial effect upon our own spoiled offspring. They are frequently taken to and fetched from school in machines that represent fifteen years' income to whole families of their less fortunate fellows and one cannot but wonder how such children would fare if they were suddenly thrown upon their own resources by a turn of fortune's wheel. There is no doubt whatever that luxury of all kinds is exceedingly bad for character, even in grown-ups. Who of us has not seen the effect of a long stay at an expensive hotel upon young children who have been in the habit of living on proper nursery fare at home? With a long menu of delicacies to choose from at meal times, they become peevish, fractious and finally cannot be persuaded to eat anything at all. Nothing pleases their spoilt little palates and that most valuable of all assets, a healthy appetite, is quite unknown to them.

In the same way the motor car affects muscles and constitution. They feel martyred if they have to walk a block. Slow traveling of any description raises their utmost scorn. Far from an automobile being a treat to them, they become so blase that nothing but the best and most expensive car on the market will satisfy their young ideals. What sort of a figure will such boys cut if they are ever called upon to suffer great endurance, to play the part of men in a world that so badly needs men?

So there is a movement afoot to abolish titles in Canada. A certain Mr. Burnham is busy getting himself disliked in high circles by presenting a bill to the Ottawa Parliament to wipe such things out of the Dominion. All men are equal, says the honorable member, and titles are superfluous and vulgar in a country that calls itself democratic.

Personally I am all for titles. I think the English idea of rewarding merit, genius, philanthropy or statesmanship with a barony or peerage is a harmless and highly attractive system. That such a title should be hereditary is perhaps not good. I believe in every man earning his own title. But human nature craves distinction of some kind and in some form or another the title will be always with us. If the doctor's title were abolished, for instance, the profession would lose half its lure.

Napoleon I know the value of distinctions and honors. The Kaiser knows them now. They are a fine incentive to man to do his best—and a cheap enough reward for valor, for enterprise, for statesmanship, goodness knows. Then, too, a man tries to live up to his title. It not only inspires him to do great things but to maintain the standard.

Yes, by all means, let there be titles. Even the glorious company of heaven have their ranks and distinctions.

Washington, Mrs. Howard Donnell, Mrs. W. V. Lansing, Mrs. W. A. Stephenson, Mrs. Fred German, Mrs. Charles Meyer, Jr., Mrs. Conrad Davis, Mrs. C. N. Bahrenburg, Mrs. Fred Eaton and Miss Ada Grove. A handsome hand-painted prize fell to Mrs. Davis.

Elaborate Affair.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zemansky, No. 957 Arapahoe street, was the scene of a brilliant dance Tuesday evening, the occasion being their eleventh wedding anniversary. Assisting the host and hostess was their cousin, Miss Fannie Morris, the betrothed of Ruben Barnat of San Francisco, and their house guest, Miss Masie Tankenoff of St. Paul. An exquisite arrangement of Killarney roses adorned the large living-room, while American Beauty roses nodded from long stems in crystal vases in the den. In the dining-room, where supper was served to about fifty young people,, the appointments were original and carried out in pink.

A Jack Horner pie ornamented the center of the table, to which ribbon streamers were attached. Surrounding the pie was a garden scene and above was a Maypole gaily decked in ribbons, while suspended from the ceiling by pink tulle ws a miniature airship in motion over the table.

The ballroom had been transformed into a bower of beauty by the use of smilax and asparagus fern and spring blossoms. A canopy of green covered the ceiling, through which scintillated red and green lights. The musicians who discoursed delightful music for the dancing were screened behind a bank of smilax and ferns. Cards was played in the reception, hall upstairs, and about 150 guests enjoyed the hospitality of the evening.

Bridge Luncheon.

Mrs. Frost J. Knight delightfully entertained a congenial coterie of friends with a bridge luncheon Tuesday at her home in Elliott Place. Luncheon was served at small tables, with a gold basket filled with jonquils and violets and valentine suggestions embellishing it. Included were Mrs. Charles Steinbaur, Mrs. William Hoxworth Potter, Mrs. Fred Hanson, Mrs. Rufus Anderson, Mrs. Howell Baker, Mrs. Karl Elliott, Mrs. Charles Sellers and Mrs. J. Allen.

Mrs. J. E. Squires, Mrs. S. G. Porter and Mrs. Ben D. Howes received informally at the home of the latter, No. 237 South Cahuenga boulevard, recently, honoring Maquoketa friends who are residents and visitors in the city.

The entire house was darkened and a profusion of pink roses and enchantress carnations adorned the living-room and den, while the appointments in the dining-room were carried out in red and white. Resting in the center of a handsome lace cloth was a crystal basket filled with white carnations, the handle tied with a huge red satin bow. Other features of its decoration were the Dresden-shaded candelabra and the cut glass dishes filled with bonbons.

Mrs. Charles H. Fayram presided at the tea urn, with Mrs. Walter Dunn at the coffee urn; assisting in the dining-room were Mrs. Frank McDowell and Mrs. George Cravens. Fifty guests called during the afternoon.

House Party.

An enjoyable house party is being presided over by Mr. and Mrs. John Catron at their home in Playa del Rey. A duck dinner was served last night, followed by cards and dancing, while the feature of today's entertainment will be a clam bake on the shore. Included were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ganahl of Monrovia, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gortner of South Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGinn of Omaha and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McDonald of Butte, Mont.

Silver Wedding Anniversary.

A Physician Cures His Wife Of Consumption

With A Simple Home Treatment. Book Fully Describing The Treatment Sent Absolutely Free To Any Lung Sufferer.

DR. W. H. KNIGHT of East Saugus, Mass., writes: "My wife was down with Consumption, when I ordered the Lloyd treatment. She was very weak from night sweats, cough, and in a feverish condition. I noticed a change for the better after ten day's treatment, and from that time on up to three months, when the cure was completed. The Lloyd Treatment kills the Tubercle Bacillus in the blood and tissue, and it is the only remedy so far discovered that will do this. It is a preventive as well as a cure. It should be used by those who are run down, or those who fear the approach of Consumption. It can be truthfully said that for the cure and prevention of Consumption, it is the most wonderful treatment of the present age."

This is only one of hundreds of letters received from physicians and others reporting cases of consumption and lung trouble restored to health in all sections of the United States. We want to send every lung sufferer absolutely free the startling statements of Dr. W. H. Kiester of Dayton, Ohio, Dr. C. G. Pinckard of Kansas City, Mo., Dr. J. H. Ward of Troy, Mo., and many others who report results almost beyond belief, together with a valuable booklet on the cause, prevention and treatment of consumption and lung trouble.

If you are suffering from weakness, blood-spitting, pus-filled sputum, night sweats, chills, fever, loss of flesh, painful lungs, distressing cough, wasted body, loss of strength—write me today and I'll send you ABSOLUTELY FREE the sworn testimony of many who, after suffering with just such distressing symptoms, now state that they ARE CURED, strong, able to work, without ache or pain, happy, full of praise, after a few month's use of this simple home treatment. Send your name and address TODAY. JUDD Q. LLOYD, [illegible] Lloyd Building, St. Louis, Mo.

A Rare Treat For Gem Lovers

Again emphasizing their diamond supremacy, Feagans and Company announce a most important exhibit and sale of gem diamonds and gem pearls including the world famous diamond

Republique de' France

This stone is a beautiful blue gem diamond weighing 43 3/16 carats and is beyond question the finest pear-shaped diamond in America.

It is only through special arrangements with David C. Townsend & Co., diamond cutters and importers of New York—that we are able to exhibit for a few days this wonderful gem.

The display also includes many other rare gem diamonds and gem pearls, both mounted and unmounted and reflects the new and authentic Paris models in jewels.

It will give us much pleasure to show you this important gem collection and the many other beautiful and exclusive wares we have exerted so much effort to gather and of which we feel so justly proud. Welcome always.

Informal Affair.

Mrs. George H. Dunlop charmingly entertained a number of guests at her pretty home, No. 1717 Ivar avenue, yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Katherine Saunders, who will soon become the bride of Harlow Potter. After a pleasant afternoon spent in music and cards, dainty refreshments were served after which the complimented guest was showered with a number of pretty gifts.

Seven O'clock Dinner.

Mrs. C. H. Kent of No. 1743 Chester court gave a 7 o'clock dinner to the members of the Los Angeles Five Hundred Club at her home Tuesday evening. In the center of the table was a cut-glass vase of red carnations and ferns. At each place were Valentine favors and heart name cards. The tally cards were suggestive of St. Valentine's Day.

Club Affairs.

The Valentine dance given by "The Grafters" at Wilcox Auditorium Friday evening was one of the happiest affairs of the younger set. More than 130 guests danced from 9 until 12 o'clock. Cosy corners were arranged about the rooms, and tables were placed for those not wishing to dance. The patronesses included Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Greenwood, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Kirchhofer, Mr. and Mrs. George I. Eastman, Miss Elizabeth Waggoner and Miss Elizabeth Wood.

Coronado Gossip.

On Tuesday evening the management of Hotel del Coronado gave a dinner and dance to the tennis players gathered for the tournament. Covers were laid for thirty-five, among whom were several players from Los Angeles and environs.

Among the recent arrivals registered from Los Angeles at the hotel are Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Strong, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lyon, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Veness, Miss Veness and L. W. De Lano.

Engagement Made Known.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert N. Spencer announced the engagement of their daughter, Ida May, to Earle V. Grover, a young business man of this city, at a prettily-appointed affair giv at their home Saturday afternoon. The guests were Misses Leora Powell, Lucille Jackson, Maude Lindley, Vera Wilson, Mary Caldwell, Ida Lossing, Ellen Robinson, Laura Spencer and Mrs. W. T. Grover, Mrs. W. J. Grover and Mrs. J. T. Capito.

At Hotel Green.

No more elaborate social function has been given this season in Pasadena than the reception and dance Friday evening at Hotel Green when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gardner Neustadt entertained some 400 guests in honor of their house-guest, Miss Ruth Gardner of Quincy, Ill., who is passing the winter at "Fairview" the picturesque country place of Mr. and Mrs. Neustadt. Miss Gardner is a charming debutante and has been the recipient of much social attention during her visit here.

The Romanesque-room in the west building of the hotel was used as a reception-room and was artistically decorated with aisles of bay trees, flowering branches of golden acacia whose blossoms in long strands formed flowery curtains at the windows. In front of the fireplace with its flower-banked mantel the receiving party stood, including Mr. and Mrs. Neustadt, Miss Gardner and Mrs. P. H. Gardner. Mrs. Neustadt wore a charming gown of silver gauze draped with pale green chiffon with crystal embroideries and touches of jet; Miss Gardner's gown was azure blue combined with coral brocade and delicate trimmings of sable. Mrs. Gardner wore a handsome robe of blue with lacy draperies embroidered in cut steel beads.

Assisting about the rooms were Mmes. Henry Mauris Robinson, Fred Elmer Wilcox, William E. Grattan, Harrison I. Drummond, Kenneth Avery, Clinton Churchill Clarke, Mrs. William A. Garland of Los Angeles, Miss Cora Auten and Miss Louise Burke of Los Angeles.

The cafe in the west building was cleared for dancing and in the extension circle tables were placed for serving supper. These were each ornamented with jonquils upon which were poised crystal butterflies. The ballroom was embellished with a gross of bay trees and quantities of box and in the Colonial dining-room where punch was served almond blossoms were used with artistic effect.

Arend's orchestra furnished music and the scene was unusually brilliant as the gowns and jewels worn by the women guests were of extreme elegance and beauty.

OUT-OF-TOWN-SOCIETY.

South Pasadena.

IN THE WEEK just closed there was no more radiant function than the handsome charity ball given Friday in Ong's Hall, Mission and Fair Oaks avenue, by Chapter A.A., P.E.O. Scores of handsome gowns were worn and invitations were accepted by 200 guests. Especially pleasing was the arrangement in the ballroom of the decorations, which were distinctly valentine in motif. Strings of red hearts were festooned from the beams of the ceiling, combined with asparagus plumosus, forming a canopy, and potted palms and ornamental shrubs were placed around the room. Immes orchestra of Los Angeles discoursed sweet music for the dancing, and an elaborate supper was served at intermission. Card tables were arranged for those not caring to dance. Mrs. William Bradshaw, the president of the chapter, was assisted by the members, including Mrs. George W. Adams, Mrs. T. W. Bishop, Mrs. George W. Werden, Mrs. Frank Stephens, Mrs. E. Burke, Mrs. John Doyle, Mrs. William Bebb, Mrs. H. G. Tallerday, Mrs. William Cochrane, Mrs. M. G. Alhambra.

IN COMPLIMENT to Miss Hazel Stokes, who is soon to become the bride of Howard Riggs, a Valentine party and handkerchief shower was given by Miss Agnes McMillan and Miss Cleora Smither at the home of the latter on South Fifth street Friday evening. Miss Stokes was presented with a veritable shower of dainty handkerchiefs, and afterwards dainty refreshments, carrying out the color scheme of red and white, were served. The invited guests were Miss Catherine Molitor, Miss Marguerite Graffen, Miss Florence Lindeman, Miss Catherine Hardy, Miss Elsie Warren, Miss Leone Taylor, Miss Hazel Stokes, Miss Edith Riegel, Miss Montgomery, Miss Gladys Knessel, Miss Isabel Vaughn, Miss Helen Davidson, Miss Bertha McKay, Miss Bernice Sumner, Miss Gladys Graffen, Miss Hattie Cook, Miss Charlotte Sumner, Miss Elsie Delmarter, Miss Jean Delmarter, Miss Edna Davelaar, Miss Pearl Riegel, Miss Leora Davelaar, Miss Ruth Martens, Miss Harriette Dunbar, Miss Ruth Waring, Miss Lois Dunbar, Miss Julia Martens, Miss Erma Dunbar, Miss Grace Turner, Mrs. Orin Stokes, Mrs. Charles McMillan, Mrs. W. Y. Smither, Mrs. C. E. Overton, Mrs. Austin B. Gates and Mrs. Ralph Hornby.

Miss Mary Blacklidge has had as her guest the past week her friend, Miss Valencia Krauchi, of Santa Ana.

Alhambra is justly proud of one of her gifted residents, Miss Laura M. D. Mitchell, a painter of ivory miniatures, who has been having a splendid exhibition of her work in the rooms of the Friday Morning Club this week.

The Ostend Club gave a dance at the Woman's Clubhouse Saturday evening. About twenty couples enjoyed a delightful evening.

Miss Grace Wallace of Ramona Acres entertained recently her classmates of the Alhambra High School in the class of 1910. The affair was a delightful and informal reunion.

Mrs. McIlvain and Miss Julia McIlvain were among the guests at the wedding of Miss Frances Cochran, daughter of Gov. Cochran, and Walter Dodsworth of Kansas City, Mo., which occurred on Tuesday evening. The ceremony was performed by Dean McCormack at the St. John's Episcopal Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Clapp entertained at dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sipprell, recently of Spokane, Wash., who have returned to Alhambra for an indefinite stay. The dinner was Spanish in all its details and menu. The favors were tiny clay bowls filled with nuts. Covers were laid for twelve. After the dinner bridge was played, and a musical programme of Spanish melodies greatly enjoyed by all the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fuller have as their house guest Mrs. Mattie Cutler of Philadelphia.

Clogged Bowels a Menace to Health.

Constipation at Bottom of Most Serious Illnesses—Avoided by a Simple Remedy.

Trace the origin of the commoner ills of life and almost invariably you will find that constipation was the cause. It is not to be expected that a mass of fermented food can remain in the system beyond its time without vitiating the blood and affecting the nerves and muscles. It congests the entire body.

The results are colds, fevers, piles, headaches and nervousness with its accompanying indigestion and sleeplessness. There is only one thing to do, and that is to remove the trouble; and when nature seems unable to do it, outside aid is necessary. You will find the best of all outside aids a remedy that many thousands are now using for this very purpose, called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Many hundreds of letters are received by Dr. Caldwell telling of the good results obtained, and among the enthusiastic letters is one from Docia Wood of Little River Academy, North Carolina, who suffered with constipation and indigestion so badly that she could not sleep well at night and everything she ate distressed her. She writes that after her mother had given her Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin she "can now eat anything."

It has untold advantages over pills, salts and the various coarse cathartics and purgatives, for while these do but temporary good, Syrup Pepsin cures permanently. The effect of its action is to train the stomach and bowel muscles to do their work naturally again, and in a short time all forms of medicine can be dispensed with. It can be bought without inconvenience at any nearby drug store for fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, the latter size being regularly bought by those who already know its value. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

DOCIA WOOD.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

Monrovia.

ON Friday evening occurred the St. Valentine's Domino Dance, and proved to be one of the most enjoyable events of the year. The affair was a masquerade, the great percentage of the costumes being those of clowns, fools and harlequins, for the gentlemen, and vari-colored dominos and Yama-yama costumes for the ladies. All wore masks, the face coverings ranging from the conventional eye mask to the extravagant affairs of papier mache. At the door the guests were given small paper cupids and hearts as souvenirs. The decorations consisted of a lattice ceiling of strips of red crepe paper, extending over the entire floor, and down the sides of the hall. A series of giant red hearts, suspended from the lattice, furnished the principal means of illumination, all the other lights being shaded with the same crimson tone. At the refreshment booth, a delightful valentine punch was served from a huge candy heart, the punch swimming with ruby heart shaped confections. The grand march began promptly at 8:45 o'clock and was a decidedly unique figure. During the earlier part of the evening, a lot of fun was had in the attempts of the different masquers to learn each other's identity, and a number were so effectually disguised that only the signal to remove masks, at the close of the last dance before the intermission, settled the doubts. About fifty couples were present.

The ladies who attended to the arrangements of the dinner for the canyon day workers, who put in their time so effectually on Lincoln's Birthday, in beautifying the new municipal playground, made a delightful social affair out of the occasion and did wonders in keeping up the enthusiasm which is such an important factor in an affair of that kind. The excellent dinner which the ladies prepared gave the men renewed vigor in their afternoon labors. Rev. Clark March had charge of the commissary department, and was ably assisted by Mrs. B. F. Crews, D. G. Stephens, H. H. Newman, S. S. Bush, M. R. Newman, G. N. Conly and R. L. Wait. The canyon day was a great success and numbered among its visitors Messrs. R. W. Pridham, Richard D. Colton.

CLUSTERS of the deepest-hued purple violets modestly nestling together in beds of their own green leaves, but perfuming the whole atmosphere with lovely fragrance, slender-stalked yellow jonquils lifting their sunny faces to announce that spring was near at hand, and long tendrils of the sturdy English ivy vine that trailed over windows and archway, all combined to lend a touch of colorful floral beauty to the home of Mrs. A. H. Griswold Tuesday last on the occasion of a luncheon party given in honor of a group of out-of-town club women who had come to attend the Reciprocity Day meeting of the Colton Woman's Club. Mrs. Griswold is district federation chairman of reciprocity and information, and it was apropos that the visiting chairmen of other departments should be her guests. Places were found at the table by means of violet-adorned cards, and the four-course menu emphasized the violet note. Those to share in the hospitality of the affair were Mrs. Ella Westland, president of the Southern District of the California Federated Women's Clubs, Upland; Miss Gertrude Reid, corresponding secretary, Cucamonga; Mrs. J. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Edwin Christensen have as their guests Mrs. A. H. Christensen and Miss Aleen Christensen of Salt Lake City.

The Doctor's Advice

by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given, and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Streets, Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Old Soldier" writes: "I would like to know what to do for rheumatism, as I am so crippled that I cannot walk. Please answer at once."

Answer: Here is the best remedy for rheumatism that is known, and if taken according to directions you will soon be out again and be strong and well. Get 2 drams of iodide of potassium; 4 drams sodium salicylate; one-half oz. wine of colchicum; 1 oz. comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz. comp. fluid balmwort, and 5 ozs. of syrup sarsaparilla comp. Mix and take a teaspoonful at meal time and again before going to bed.

"Laura" says: "Some time ago I contracted a very severe cold and cough. I have tried many remedies, but they do not seem to help me at all. I wish you would advise me what to do."

Answer: What you need is a laxative cough syrup, one that will drive the cold from your system. The following prescription will cure your cold and cough: Get a 2½ oz. package of concentrated essence mentho-laxene and make according to directions on the bottle. Take a teaspoonful every hour or two or until your cold is better. This will cure you in a very few days.

"Stenographer" writes: "I can scarcely do my work on account of the terrible distress in my stomach after eating. I have a heavy feeling in my stomach and gas forms. I am also constipated."

Answer: This condition if neglected will cause appendicitis. You should begin at once and take tablets triopeptine, which can be bought in any drug store at small cost. They are packed in sealed cartons with full directions accompanying the package. I am sure many cases of appendicitis could be prevented by the use of triopeptine.

"A. R." writes: "Please send me a prescription for a good tonic. I am weak and languid all the time, have no appetite and cannot sleep at night."

Answer: Obtain the following ingredients from your druggist and take for several weeks and you will be strong and healthy. Syrup of hypophosphites comp., 5 ozs.; tincture cadomene comp., 1 oz. (not cardamon), and take a teaspoonful before each meal. Shake well before taking.

"Miss Beatrice" asks: "Will you please prescribe for one who is too fleshy so that about 30 pounds can be taken off?"

Answer: Obtain of any well-stocked druggist a tube of 5-grain arbolene tablets and take regularly as per directions accompanying same. Many of my patients have reduced at the rate of a pound a day without any ill results.

"Unhappy May" writes: "I suffer constantly with headaches, indigestion and kidney trouble. My skin is pimply and oily."

Answer: Three grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur tablets) is the best known remedy for the blood. They are made from sulphur, cream of tartar and herb medicines which act directly on the blood, purifying it, thus causing the pimples to disappear and the skin to become fresh and healthy looking. These sulpherb tablets are packed in sealed tubes and can be bought at any drug store. They will also cure your kidney trouble and indigestion.

"Mrs. O."—The best remedy for bedwetting in children is to give them 10 to 15 drops in water before meals of the following: Tincture cubebs, 1 dram; tincture rhus aromatic, 2 drams, and comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.

"Audry" writes: "For the past year I have suffered greatly with catarrh. It has affected my blood, stomach and bowels to such an extent that I suffer constantly. Can you tell me a cure?"

Answer: I heartily recommend the use of antiseptic vilane powder for the cure of catarrh. First ask your druggist for a 2 oz. package of vilane powder; then thoroughly cleanse the nostrils with the following wash: One-half teaspoonful of the powder to a pint of warm water. Use this several times a day by snuffing the water from the palm of the hand through the nostrils; after which make a balm by mixing a teaspoonful of vilane powder with one ounce of lard or vaseline and apply to the nostrils daily. Internal treatment for the stomach, bowels and blood should be used. Syrup sarsaparilla comp., 4 ozs.; comp. fluid balmwort, 1 oz.; fluid ext. buchu, 1 oz. Mix and shake well and take a teaspoonful four times a day.

"Sorrowful May" says: "My scalp is covered with dandruff, my hair is oily and straggling. Please help me so that I may look like other girls."

Answer: You can very easily "look like other girls" if you will get at the drug store a 4 oz. jar of plain yellow minyol and use it regularly according to the directions given. It will cure your dandruff and make your hair soft and fluffy and make it grow. This treatment differs from all others and I have actually seen the most wonderful transformations when people have used this only two or three times.

"Ann" writes: "Could you prescribe something to increase my weight? I am tall and thin to such an embarrassing degree that I am frequently subjected to slighting remarks."

Answer: Hypo-Nuciane tablets have been prescribed with great success as indicated by gratifying letters from hundreds of girls who suffer as you do. These tablets can be purchased in sealed packages from any well-stocked drug store and full directions are given inside. These should be taken regularly for about two months, and you will be surprised to note the color in your cheeks and lips and your weight will increase from 15 to 20 pounds.—[Advertisement.

INSURANCE AGENTS' MEETING—A DISCUSSION OF PROPOSED LEGISLATION ON INSURANCE MATTERS.

There are an exceedingly large number of bills now pending before the Legislature which vitally affect the insurance interests in this State, a number of which include State Insurance schemes covering casualty and life insurance lines.

A meeting will be held in this city on TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, at 8 p.m., to discuss these matters, at which meeting representatives of the various California General Agents' Associations will express the views of the Companies and discuss the various proposed measures.

It is hoped that a full attendance of agents and brokers of this entire county, representing all classes of companies, will be at this meeting.

The meeting will be held at Choral Hall, AUDITORIUM BLDG.

THE TEST OF THE FIREPROOF BOX given by Messrs. Hill and Evans at the 20th ave. bridge proved very successful, the contents came out unharmed after having been in the fire for 90 minutes. This box is now on exhibition in the show window at 632 S. SPRING ST. If placed in a safe the box makes a safe within a safe for very valuable papers, and after preserving the contents of the box the energy goes without loss in the safe and protects its contents. They also make a safe protector in the form of a hermetically sealed box which takes but very little room and acts as a Chemical Fire Extinguisher when the temperature rises above the danger point (212 degrees F.) inside the safe. The protector generates vapor and carbon dioxide gas, thus preventing crisping or burning of papers.

PERSONAL—
MRS. MASSON,
the noted palmist of London, Eng., may be consulted at 222 S. SPRING ST. (over Owl Drug Store) by those desiring CAREFUL, CONSCIENTIOUS AND SCIENTIFIC HAND READINGS FROM ONE OF THE FOREMOST PALMISTS OF THE DAY.

The earnest student and thinker will soon learn in his investigation along psychological lines that that which pertains to occult phenomena proper can readily be distinguished from crude and oft-exposed SLEIGHT-OF-HAND TRICKS, the most common of which is the telling of the subject's name, age, etc., AFTER HE HIMSELF HAS WRITTEN THAT information.

PALMISTRY, HONESTLY PRACTICED, WILL NOT tell you your name, but it WILL give you information of considerably greater value in every-day life.

Your vocation, your present line of work, matters of health and domestic life, financial conditions, and ways and means of climbing out of a rut of ill luck into wide paths of success and prosperity, can all be told you through scientific palmistry WITHOUT A SINGLE QUESTION, WRITTEN OR VERBAL.

MRS. MASSON DOES NOT APPEAL TO IGNORANT SUPERSTITION, BUT TO THE FINEST INTELLIGENCE.
FIRST-CLASS PATRONAGE SOLICITED.

PROF. C. IRVIN ALTHOUSE,
NOTED ASTROLOGER AND PALMIST OF NATIONAL FAME AND REPUTATION.
STUDIO PARLORS, 539½ S. BROADWAY.
A RESIDENT OF LOS ANGELES 29 YEARS.

PROF. ALTHOUSE is an experienced practitioner in the science of modern ASTROLOGY, by which he has made many REMARKABLE PREDICTIONS. The horoscope shows the powerful influence of the planets in all affairs of life. It shows diseases, deaths, love and marriage, financial affairs, talents, environments, about children, relatives, when and where to travel, what to seek or avoid, when in danger of losses, troubles, etc., etc.; also your good periods coming—GIVING DATES of these events for the FUTURE.

PROF. ALTHOUSE read E. H. Sothern, Nat Goodwin, Schuman-Heink, Gadski, Admiral Schley, David Starr Jordan, ex-Gov. Pardee, ex-Senator Clark, Senator Smoot, Baron Rothschild, Gen. Chaffee, Edison, Sousa, Modjeska, Sembrich, Julia Marlowe, Anna Held, Jefferson, Capt. Hobson, Lillian Russell, Calve, Admiral Evans, H. E. Huntington, De Wolf Hopper, Maxine Elliott, Ethel Barrymore, etc.

PROF. ALTHOUSE'S SKILLED work must not be classed with other readers. Therefore do not waste your money on the idiotic advice and warning of HUMBUG astrologers, palmists, psychics—those doing dishonest work.

PROF. ALTHOUSE gives except PALM readings with each astrological reading.

DR. J. A. LARSEN writes: "I want to say that your reading was the most satisfactory thing I have ever had in my life. I know a great deal about these sciences, and I consider your work as the most THOROUGH and reliable of any reader in the United States."

PROF. ALTHOUSE'S wonderful proficiency in the casting or HOROSCOPES and in HAND reading has brought him a LARGE AND SUCCESSFUL PRACTICE. The most private confidences are reposed in him, and his advice is sought in the most difficult and critical circumstances. Personal attention given. STRICT PRIVACY. HIGHEST GRADE OF WORK that skill and many years of experience can produce. HIGH-CLASS PATRONAGE solicited.
Daily and evenings; Sunday, 10 to 3.
STUDIO PARLORS, 539½ S. BROADWAY.

SO YOU'RE GOING TO BUY A SECOND-hand car? Going to rush right out and match your knowledge of automobile values with some poor boob of a second-hand broker? Take your own line of business, for example—What happens to the wise guy that tries to beat you at your own game? If he gets the best of the deal, it's a good sign that somebody's foot slipped, isn't it? If you'll find a man who ever got a real bargain in a second-hand car, it will only be after you have found several who have been stung and stung properly. Would you get much satisfaction in wearing a diamond you bought "cheap" from some philanthropic gent who was "suddenly called East"? Hardly. What protection have you when you buy a car that is "guaranteed to be in perfect condition." They all "guarantee" them but are you wise enough to know whether their guarantee is based upon a $150 rebuilding job or a hasty tinkering up, covered by a cheap coat of paint. A guarantee is only as good as the Firm behind it. Remember that, and you will have absorbed your first and most important piece of information in selecting a used car. One of our rebuilt and repainted APPERSON JACKRABBIT Cars with the regular SHETTLER guarantee as to their mechanical condition, is surely worth more to you and should give you better service than any new low grade car at an equal price. APPERSON cars are high grade and free from petty troubles; no matter how old they are. A rebuilt 1910 or 1911 car is just as good a car for any kind of use as a 1912 or 1913 model, providing they are all in equally as good mechanical condition—and that is where the SHETTLER guarantee comes in. Some of our very best and most valued customers are the purchasers of our rebuilt cars. They were told the exact truth when they bought their cars and are satisfied with their purchase. If you would only stop and consider the matter calmly, you could readily see that we could not afford to misrepresent the facts in regard to a rebuilt car any more than we would dare to take advantage of the buyer of a new APPERSON. Let's get acquainted.

We also have a Mercer, Duro-Car and a Regal, for sale, cheap.

SEWING MACHINES—
Old and New.

CARLOADS OF SEWING MACHINES MUST go regardless of price. We have purchased the entire stock of a wholesale sewing machine jobber at one-fourth the actual factory cost, and are placing them on sale at unheard-of prices. We also have a lot of good used sewing machines that we must close out and are going to get rid of them, even if we have to sell them for $2 apiece. Below is a partial list of what we have on hand:

White, $3.	Domestic, $3.
Singer, $5.	Wheeler & Wilson, $4.
New Home, $3.50.	Standard, $4.50.
Household, $2.	Singer, $4.50.
Household, $2.	Singer, $4.50.

And many other makes from $2 up to $25. Brand new Singer and Wheeler & Wilson sewing machines sold as low as 50 cents per week.
New machines rented.
Repairing 50 cents and up.
Remember, that every machine you buy during this sale is fully guaranteed, or money refunded, if not satisfactory.

Many Ways.

KNOCKOUT BLOW IS DANGEROUS.

Punch on Jaw May Result in Brain Concussion.

Slam on Solar Plexus Causes Temporary Paralysis.

Kidney Blow Barred by New York Commission.

The most common knockout blows are those on the chin, the angle of the jaw, the stomach, the heart, the kidney and sometimes the liver. A blow to the chin is transmitted through the lower jaw backward and upward to its sockets at either side of the base of the skull, directly over which rests the brain. And the brain thus jarred suffers concussion.

There are four general degrees of concussion, according to Physical Culture. Boxers usually suffer from only the first two, a simple jarring with no injury and a bruising with little injury and quick recovery.

The symptoms of the slighter forms of brain concussion are momentary loss of consciousness, giddiness, mental confusion and pale face.

The signs of the more severe forms are prolonged unconsciousness, feeble pulse, pale face, shallow breathing, cold surface, muscular relaxation, sweating and vomiting. The man can be roused with difficulty but responds angrily and immediately relapses into a somnolent condition. He lies curled upon his side with eyes tightly closed and he resents any effort at changing his posture. The pupils of the eyes are contracted.

AID FOR INJURED.

The first aid treatment in the rare, severe cases should be as follows: Primarily, rest and quietude must be insisted upon in all instances. Under no circumstances should alcohol be given (and, by the way, a drink of whisky is the first thing most people think of in case of an injured person,) for if there is hemorrhage into the brain tissue the alcohol will make the bleeding more profuse.

Give a few drops of aromatic spirits of ammonia in water, surround the patient with hot water bottles, put a mustard plaster over the heart and give hot drinks; meanwhile using cold applications to the head. This relates only to the serious cases which very seldom occur. In the great majority of instances, the boxer who has been "knocked out" recovers in a few seconds; and in five minutes he is as well as ever.

The injuries from a blow applied to the angle of the jaw, under the ear, are identical with those cited above.

SOLAR PLEXUS BLOW.

Now we come to the third cardinal knock-out blow, that to the stomach, which affects the noted solar plexus. Plexus means network. The solar plexus consists of a great network of nerves, part of the sympathetic nervous system, which controls the blood supply of everything in the abdominal cavity. And this means it all; for the blood vessels of the abdomen are so large that they can contain the whole amount of blood in the body.

When a blow pushes the stomach back this network of nerves is carried against the bones of the spine, where it is squeezed and it becomes partially paralyzed. Thus the nerve supply of the tremendously large abdominal blood vessels is incapacitated, these blood vessels expand and most of the blood of the rest of the body rushes into these vessels, literally starving the heart and brain of blood, and the victim falls unconscious.

Taking much blood from either the heart or the brain would "put a man out," but in this case it is doubly done. Also the sympathetic nervous system is so arranged that severe injury to the solar plexus reflexively affects the nerves of the heart, sometimes stopping it.

Nine people out of ten think that the stomach is much lower than it really is. Putting it roughly, this organ is slightly below the flexible lower portion of the sternum (breast bone,) which any person can feel for himself, and it is behind the angle formed by the divergence of the forward ends of the ribs from each other, like an inverted V. Any one can plainly feel this angle on himself.

A blow, if planted too high, or too far to one side or the other of the median line, is checked by the breast bone or by the ribs. It has to be placed to a nicety to get between these barriers of nature and have the force of the blow reach the solar plexus.

Over the heart, similarly, we have a cardiac (heart) plexus of nerves. A blow to this has, to a lesser degree, the same effect as one to the solar plexus. In addition, the direct jar to the heart and to the nerves governing it is temporarily damaging. It must be remembered, however, that the heart is protected by the ribs.

Likewise, we have the renal (kidney) plexus, which is similarly, but in a still less degree, affected by the blow. Boxers know that the "kidney punch" has been prohibited for some time in England and it has just been forbidden by the New York Boxing Commission.

All of these torso blows cause shock when severe. External warmth is the most important of all treatment. The man should be placed on his back with the head low, that the blood may go back to the brain. This can be accomplished by placing rolled blankets, coats, etc., under the other parts of the body.

FLYING SPARKS OF MOTORDOM.

The Board of Directors of the Syracuse (N. Y.) Automobile Dealers' Association has decided to confine this year's automobile show, February 25 to March 1, to the Armory, instead of holding the overflow in the Alhambra, as was done last year.

The first annual automobile show at Eau Claire, Wis., will be held from February 25 to 28 in the Armory. It will be under the auspices of the Eau Claire Automobile Dealers' Association, and thirty-five makes of cars will be represented.

W. T. Campbell, who owns a 1000-acre ranch near Lexington, Or., besides using his motor car for business and pleasure, has rigged up an equipment whereby he pumps water to four large tanks. He simply blocks the car, jacks up the back wheels and connects a belt to the pump.

Owing to the large demand for exhibit space the Arrangements Committee in charge of the annual show of the Tri-City Automobile Dealers' Association of Davenport, Iowa, has decided to exclude all dealers outside the three cities. Preparations are being made to make the 1913 show the biggest ever held in Davenport.

Financial provision has been made for the construction of an extensive system of good roads in El Paso county, Texas, and a number of counties in New Mexico. The bond issue for good roads in El Paso county amounts to $390,000. In the adjoining county of Dona Ana, New Mexico, $100,000 has been issued for the purpose.

The roads of France, on the whole, do not compare in excellence with those of England. But it is acknowledged that the condition of the roads of France has been growing worse during the last ten years. Some charge it to steel-studded automobile tires, while others hint that the government is lax in its duty of keeping the roads up to the mark.

According to figures furnished by the State Highway Commissioner, Michigan has built 463 miles of roads in the last six months. The State has paid rewards on all but 100 miles, but all of the road has been accepted. The amount of road built in the last six months is larger than the amount built during the first four years of existence of the State Highway Department.

A newspaper in London, Eng., is conducting a test of petrol as a fuel.

The third annual automobile show at Tiffin, O., will be held March 5 to 8, inclusive.

An automobile factory with a $100,000 capital, has applied for a free site in New Martinsburg, W. Va., for a factory.

The Long Island (N. Y.) Automobile Club will hold its first spring run on Washington's Birthday. Fourteen prizes will be awarded.

The Stonewall Automobile Club building, country headquarters of the Winnipeg (Ont.) Automobile Club, was totally destroyed by fire recently.

There will be forty-nine exhibitors at the motor car show to be held in Baltimore, February 18 to 22, in Fifth Regiment Armory. These will include thirty-two pleasure car firms and seventeen commercial car dealers.

The Pennsylvania Highway Department is making preparations for oiling all the roads leading to Gettysburg in time for the unusual travel next summer, when the reunion of the Blue and Gray will be held on the famous battlefield.

Twenty-nine State Governors have named delegates to represent their States in the second Federal Aid Good Roads Convention called by the American Automobile Association, to take place in Washington, D. C., March 6.

Three-quarters of a million dollars' worth of automobiles will be exhibited in the Omaha (Neb.) automobile show at the Auditorium, February 24 to March 1. At the show last year $500,000 worth of cars were displayed.

RIVERSIDE IN FRONT.

Victoria Golf Club Wins Very Close Contest from Redlands Team. High Wind Hurts Play.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] By a 5-to-3 score the Victoria Golf Club today won from the Redlands Country Club in the initial league game for this season, played on the local links, the contest being one in eighteen-hole match play, by twos. The two winning Redlands men were R. Hornby and M. S. Phillips, who beat H. G. Pattee and E. N. Hillegas, respectively.

The Riverside golfers named first in the following matches were winners:

R. D. Osborne against Gregory Palmer; E. B. Howe against W. M. Cochrane; T. D. Hewitt against R. Will; C. O. Evans against J. Williams; C. W. Girdlestone against Leslie Gay.

The features were C. O. Evans's thirty-yard putt and the spectacular putting at the eighteenth hole by Dr. Howe. The prevalence of a "norther" and recent changes in the topography of the links somewhat hindered the play.

When using the engine as a brake in descending hills with the ignition cut off, open the throttle. This will materially cool and clean the cylinders, while if the throttle be closed, a certain amount of oil will be sucked into the cylinders from the crank-case.

How They Play.

WHITE SOX DATES ARE ANNOUNCED FOR BIG TRIP.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] The itinerary of the two Chicago maor league baseball teams was made public in detail yesterday, as follows:

Cubs—February 15, leave Chicago for Tampa, Fla.; February 17 to March 18, at Tampa, Fla., (training camp.) White Sox: First Team—February 24 to March 5, in Paso Robles; March 6, Oakland; March 7 and 8, San Francisco; March 9, morning, Oakland, afternoon, San Francisco; March 10, St. Ignatius College at Sacramento; March 11, St. Ignatius College at San Francisco; March 12, Santa Clara College at Sacramento; March 13, at Oakland; March 14 and 15, at San Francisco; March 16, morning game at Oakland, afternoon at San Francisco; March 17, St. Mary's College at Oakland; March 20, 21, 22, 23, at Los Angeles; March 26, at Venice; March 27, 28, 29 and 30, Venice at Los Angeles; March 31, Yuma, Ariz.; April 1, El Paso, Tex.; April 2, Amarillo, Tex.; April 3 and 4, Oklahoma City, Okla.; April 5, 6, 7, and 8, St. Joseph, Mo.

Dates at St. Joseph are subject to change, owing to the opening of the White Sox at Cleveland, instead of at St. Louis.

White Sox: Second team—March 2, 7, and 8, at Los Angeles; March 3, 14, 15, and 16, at Los Angeles; March 17, Sacramento, at Marysville; March 18, and 19, Sacramento; March 20, at Oakland; March 21 and 22, San Francisco; March 23, morning at Oakland, afternoon at San Francisco; March 27, at Oakland; March 28 and 29, at San Francisco; March 30, morning at Oakland, afternoon at San Francisco; April 1, Ogden, Utah.; April 2, Salt Lake City, Utah.; April 3, Grand Junction, Colo.; April 5 and 6, Des Moines, Ia.; April 7, Ottumwa, Ia.; April 8, Davenport, Ia.

Why We Change.

BIRMINGHAM WANTS BUD RYAN TO MAKE GOOD.

WHETHER or not Joe Birmingham will be a playing or bench manager for Cleveland depends upon the ability of the outfield recruits to make good. If Ryan, Leibold or Beall can show big league stuff, Birmingham will stick to the bench. But if none of the three mentioned is able to make a decided impression, the manager of the Naps will be forced to stick to his old job in the outfield.

He considers Jackson a fixture in right and Graney in left, and does not regard Tim Hendryx as quite ready to fill a permanent berth in fast company.

Joe wants to adorn the bench. The majority of the Naps are youngsters, with but a year or so of experience in the big league. Because of that fact, Joe believes he can be of more use on the bench than in the garden. Naturally, he is pulling for one of the three mentioned, Ryan, Leibold or Beall, to crowd him out of the position he has held for so many years.

Queer what changes a year will bring about. Last spring Birmy did not relish the idea of warming the bench, and watching Ryan and Butcher take the places he believed belonged to himself and Graney. Now that he is manager, he is in favor of what he opposed a few months ago.

Has the Speed.

JOE PATCHEN II SHOWS HE IS TWO MINUTE PACER.

IT SEEMS to be universally conceded among horsemen that Joe Patchen II is a coming two-minute pacer, and, judging from his recent performances, not without reason. This is amply warranted by his breeding and his thoroughbred strain runs back many generations.

That the brilliant and consistent bay stallion may reach the goal in an exhibition mile this year is possible, but the chances are that by the time the next light harness season rolls around Joe Patchen II will start on a career that promises to startle the horse world. It was only last month at Los Angeles that he reeled off an exhibition mile in 2m. 30s., which is nearly three seconds below his record, so that the future holds big promises for this sterling pacer.

Yet his performances are entirely warranted by his breeding, and it will be of interest to know the quality of his ancestors.

FINE BREEDING.

Joe Patchen II, bay stallion, is registered as a standard trotter, 47,491. He was bred by H. S. Osborne, Bridgeport, Ct.; foaled in 1905, and sired by Joe Patchen, 2m. 1 1-4s., pacer. The dam of Joe Patchen II was the noted pacer, Bessie Bonehill, 2m. 5¾s., made in 1897, eight years before she produced Joe Patchen II, 2m. 3 1-4s. Bessie Bonehill's sire was Empire Wilkes, 3798, he by George Wilkes, 2m. 22s., and his dam was Jane Mosely (dam of Capt. White, 2m. 15s.,) by Mambrino Patchen, 58; second dam by Tom Crowder, a son of the Canadian pacer, Pilot, side of Pilot, Jr., 12. The dam of Tom Crowder was by Slashem, a son of Whip Cornet, by the thoroughbred, Blackburn's Whip.

The second dam of Joe Patchen II was Arab Girl (dam of Colonel Colt, pacer, 2m. 23⅝s.,) by Crittenden, 433. The latter was by Strader's Cassius M. Clay, Jr., 22, a son of Cassius M. Clay, 18, sire of George M. Patchen, 2m. 23½s. The dam of Crittenden, 433, was Flora, by Pilot, Jr., 12; second dam Mary (dam of Dick Moore, 2m. 22½s.,) by Monmouth Eclipse, a thoroughbred son of American Eclipse; third dam by Bertrand, a thoroughbred son of the famous Sir Archy, and fourth dam by Kosciusko, also a thoroughbred son of Sir Archy.

FOURTH DAM ARABIAN.

The third dam of Joe Patchen II was Saleda Bashaw, by Bashaw, Jr., 51, and his fourth dam was Saleda, a grav Arabian mare, imported by William McDonald of Baltimore, Md. Bashaw, Jr., 51, was by Green's Bashaw, 50. The second dam of Bashaw, Jr., 51, was Fanny Foss, by Young Green Mountain Morgan, a son of Hale's Green Mountain Morgan, by Gifford Morgan, a son of Woodbuy Morgan, by Old Justin Morgan. The second dam of Bashaw, Jr., 51, was Fanny Morgan, claimed to be by Hale's Green Mountain Morgan, and third dam by Sherman Morgan, the sire of Vermont Black Hawk, 5.

The sire of Joe Patchen II was Joe Patchen, 2m. 1 1-4s., by Patchen Wilkes, 2m. 29½s., whose sire was George Wilkes, 2m. 22s., and whose dam was Kitty Patchen (dam of Georgianna, 2m. 26 1-4s.,) by Mambrino Patchen, 58; second dam the famous Betty Brown (dam of Wilkes Boy, 2m. 24½s.,) by Mambrino Patchen, 58; third dam Pickles, by Mambrino Chief, 11.

The dam of Joe Patchen was Josephine Young (dam of Donura T., 2m. 18 1-4s.; Miss Josie, 2m. 20½s.) by Joe Young, 2m. 18s., second dam untraced. Joe Young was by Star of the West, 2m. 26 1-4s.; his dam was Lady Gregory, by Green's Bashaw, 50; second dam by the thoroughbred Simpson's Blackbird, 401, son of Camden, he by Shark, whose sire was American Eclipse. Shark's dam was Lady Lightfoot, a daughter of Sir Archy.

POMONA WINS.

Varsity Ball Team Trims University Stars in Good Game by 5 to 4 Score.

The Pomona College baseball team won its first game of the season yesterday afternoon on the Claremont diamond by defeating the University Stars, a team made up of former California and Stanford varsity players, by the score of 5 to 4.

The game was featured by the heavy hitting of the Pomona men. Hollway rapped out a four sacker, while Capt. Harry Kingman scored a pair of runs with a triple.

Mackie Reed, formerly Stanford varsity pitcher, worked for the Stars while Forrest Stanton of California was behind the bat.

MATCH FOR HOPPE.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch to The Times by Federal (Wireless) Line.] Negotiations are pending for a contest of 1500 points, 18.2 balk line billiards, between William F. Hoppe, world's champion and Fireman Cassignol, conceded to be the best billiardist of the present day in France. If the game is arranged, it will take place early in April in Paris, for which city Hoppe will embark a few days after his match with Oro Morningstar for the 18.1 championship at Pittsburgh, March 19.

SWIMMING CHALLENGE.

The swimming team of the Berkeley High School wishes to challenge either Los Angeles High School, or one of the southern schools for a championship dual aquatic meet to be held either in the north or in one of the Southern California plunges. Arthur W. Kidder, manager of the Berkeley team, has been trying to get in touch with some of the local High Schools for a meet of this nature, but as yet has received no satisfactory replies from the south.

SWISS COMMERCIAL UNION.

Provides Commercial Education for Young Men for Business Pursuits With Benefit and Savings Branches.

[Washington Star:] The Swiss Commercial Union, the chief aim of which is the education of young men engaged in commercial pursuits, has, according to the annual report just published, a membership of 18,000, with eighty-seven district sections, Consul Murphy writes from St. Gall. That the educational facilities provided by the union are appreciated is evidenced by the 525 classes under instruction during the past school year with 11,800 pupils. Of these, 49 per cent. were acquiring languages, 34 per cent. followed the commercial course and 17 per cent. general school studies. Apprentice examinations were held in twenty-eight districts and of 1110 candidates, 994 passed successfully and were awarded diplomas.

Two new and important books were published by the union during the year—commercial arithmetic and commercial law. The "Schweizerische Kaufmannische Central-Blatt," an ably-conducted journal published by the union, attained a circulation of 15,400. The lecture courses were unusually well attended; the sick benefit funds, the savings funds, the helping fund and the employment bureau were all operated successfully, the latter having procured positions for 2242 members.

During the year $164,000 was expended for educational purposes, of which $117,300 went for teachers' salaries. The Swiss Federal government gave the union $58,286, the cantons donated $28,178, the communes and counties $21,230, and commercial organizations $11,773, while tuition fees amounted to $34,933. Decisive measures that were taken by the union brought about higher wages to enable its members to meet the increased cost of living, and a new form of employment contract was adopted.

An analysis of the membership shows that 62 per cent. of the 18,000 members are above 25 years of age, 35 per cent. between 19 and 25, and only 3 per cent. are less than 19 years; 89½ per cent. of the members are Swiss, 10½ per cent. foreigners; 60 per cent. are single and 40 per cent. married. German is the native tongue of 83 per cent. of the membership, French is 83 per cent., Italian 4 per cent., while 5 per cent. have other native tongues; 14 per cent. are employers and 86 per cent. employees. The union has been in existence over fifty years, and the St. Gall section is preparing for the celebration of its fiftieth anniversary in December, next.

TOO RICH OR TOO POOR.

The Automobile Makes Changes in the Lives of Both the Owner and the Chauffeur.

[Chicago Record Herald:] Not long ago the wife of a very wealthy man who lives in one of the most fashionable suburbs complained to the family physician that she was "feeling miserable" and needed medicine.

"No," the doctor answered, "you don't need medicine. I will tell you plainly what is the matter. You have an automobile to take you wherever you wish to go. About the only walking you do is that which you have to indulge in when you step across the porch to enter your limousine. You must walk more. If you will not walk I cannot give you any medicine that will help you."

The lady considered that preposterous and the doctor was dismissed. Then a great specialist was summoned from New York. He made a careful study of the case, and said:

"There is only one course that I can recommend. You must walk."

"Walk!" the lady exclaimed. "That's what the other doctor said."

"The other doctor was right. You must walk seven miles every day if you wish to get well."

There being no help for it, the lady has been faithfully following the doctor's orders. Every day she starts out on a seven-mile walk, but she insists that her chauffeur shall follow with her $10,000 car.

Notary Public in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

A. L. Dennis, being duly sworn, declares that he is and has been for twelve years Superintendent of Circulation of the Los Angeles Times; that the above detailed statement of circulation for the month of January, 1913, is correct, and shows the circulation of The Times for each day of the month named.

A. L. DENNIS,
Superintendent of Circulation, The Times.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of February, 1913.

[Seal] T. L. CHAPIN,
Notary Public in and for the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

The Times is the only newspaper in Los Angeles that does not make a practice of permitting agents, newsboys and dealers to return unsold copies of its issues. Neither does it misbrand or predate its editions, or inflate its circulation by printing more copies than are actually necessary to supply its patrons.

The Times' entire circulation is practically net, and it is more genuine and superior in every respect to that of any other newspaper in Southern California.

FACT AND COMMENT.

On page 1 of part 6 in today's issue of The Times is pictured a handsome office block which is soon to replace a frame rookery erected a generation ago on South Spring street just below Fourth. The removal of the shack in question will be welcomed almost as much as the advent of the modern skyscraper projected in its stead. It is easier to apologize to the visitor for a vacant site than for some of the outgrown village improvements that are sandwiched in among our up-to-date downtown buildings.

At Sixth and Spring streets the last one of four or five dilapidated shacks that have for years constituted an eyesore to the city has just vanished before the onslaught of the wreckers. Here will arise one of the finest structures on the Pacific Coast, and proud as the city will unquestionably be of the modern improvement, its pride will be matched by the general satisfaction over the disappearance from the corner of the tumble-down, cross-roads stores that so long have disgraced the business center.

One by one the old-time structures of the village days are being demolished by the builders of metropolitan Los Angeles. About two years ago The Times published photographs of a number of the notoriously disreputable corners of the downtown district, valuable properties given over to cheap-penny businesses conducted in disreputable shacks and vacant lots rented out to fakirs with cheap shows and tents. Every one of the lots exposed to condemnation has been improved since that time, with the exception of the corner at Sixth and Spring above mentioned and that is now cleared and ready for the excavation contractor. The outlook for a truly metropolitan skyline is hopeful, thanks to the fact that so much building is being done in Los Angeles at the present time.

Poor Policy.

The policy of allowing business property to deteriorate is suicidal in a city which is advancing in population and material wealth as is Los Angeles. The old-timers who can't seem to get it through their heads that Los Angeles has passed the small town stage of development and the owners who think that by waiting for others to improve they can cash in the "unearned increment" without financial outlay are going to get left in their calculations in the future, as they have in the past. If a tenant can't find a desirable office or store in the location of his choice he is going to his him elsewhere. One owner who refuses to decently improve his property can work a permanent harm to an entire district. Tenants demand and will pay well for modern city accommodations and the old type of building no longer has any attraction for the wide-awake business or professional man.

The sooner then that some of the owners of dilapidated shacks in downtown Los Angeles appreciate the cold facts of the situation the better it will be for their own interests. The warning applies not only to those who have already suffered for their niggardliness and lack of foresight and whose chance of recovering investment opportunities fast slipping is already dwindling, but to those owners who, because they have their antiquated rookeries securely wedged in between modern buildings, fancy that they are "fixed" for life. There are in New York City today small pieces of property crammed in odd spaces between big buildings on which owners now have to pay annually in taxes three times as much as can possibly be realized from rentals. These foolish owners are the men who refused to sell or to improve, thinking sooner or later to make some sort of a killing or other. The big buildings are erected all around such properties shut down upon them, making impossible the erection on the neglected site of any structure with proper light courts and entrance facilities. It is hardly likely that an owner could get in quite so hard a predicament in Los Angeles, but that he places his interests in jeopardy through a policy of retrenchment will not be gainsaid by any one who has ever observed the growth of the city's business district.

There is another side to the story, of course, and that is the question of civic pride and public-spirited interest in the city itself. With certain rare souls this is a forceful argument for the improvement of rundown property. Most individuals, however, whatever their ranking in the financial world, are actuated in their expenditures by dollars-and-cents considerations rather than by any desire to forward the general public interests. The appeal to the business or pocket sense is, therefore, the practical appeal. Once the short-sighted ones are thoroughly convinced that it doesn't pay to maintain village conditions in a world city, and many portions of the downtown skyline will rapidly begin to take on a different aspect.

MANY APARTMENT PLANS SHAPING.

STRUCTURES FOR MOST PART FOUR STORIES HIGH.

Sketches Out for Fine Building on South Hill—Contract Let for Large House at Second and Flower—Notable Improvement for West Sixteenth.

Among the many apartment-house projects now engaging the attention of local architects and contractors the following are noteworthy recent developments:

Sketches have been drawn by Architects Dennis & Farwell for a five-story and basement steel frame and brick apartment-house that is projected by L. C. Lohman for a site on the west side of Hill street near Pico. The structure, as planned, will contain eighty-one rooms in two and three-room suites and will be 50x90 feet in size.

Plans are being prepared by E. J. Borgmeyer for a four-story brick apartment-house to be erected by the Apartment Building Company on Figueroa street near Fifth. The building will be 60x150 feet and will contain 100 rooms. The same architect has completed designs for a five-story apartment-house to be erected by the same concern at Second and Flower streets. The contract for this improvement was awarded during the past week.

R. H. Raphael and associates have had plans drawn by E. H. Dorr for a four-story and basement brick apartment-house to be erected at Sixteenth and Courtland streets on a site 120x130 feet in size. The building will contain about 150 rooms in two and three-room suites.

C. C. Rittenhouse is drawing plans for a four-story brick apartment-house that is projected by M. E. Blasier for a site on St. Paul avenue near Sixth street. The building will be 55x171 feet in size and will contain about 115 rooms.

Morgan, Walls & Morgan have completed plans for a three-story brick store and hotel building to be erected by A. W. Rhoades on the west side of Figueroa street just below Tenth. Ye Planry Building Company is drawing plans for a three-story brick apartment-house to be built on Hope just below Pico by Dr. W. T. Manning. The Richards-Neustadt Construction Company has drawn plans for a three-story brick rooming-house projected by W. S. Hook, Jr., for a site on East Fifth street near San Pedro.

NEW REALTY CONCERN.

The Grundy Real Estate and Investment Company has opened offices at Nos. 432-34 Union Oil building. C. Fred Grundy is president; I. S. Hurst, vice-president and H. J. Kemper, secretary. The company will do a general real estate, sales and investment business.

REVISED PLANS ARE ACCEPTED.

OLIVE-STREET BLOCK TO HAVE STRIKING ELEVATION.

Approved Design for Ten-Story Knickerbocker Building Calls for Elaboration of Decorative Features—Club Quarters to Be Richly Furnished.

Revised designs for the street elevation of the Knickerbocker building now under construction on the west side of Olive street near Seventh, have been completed by John C. Austin, and W. C. Pennell, associated architects, and have received the final stamp of approval by the Knickerbocker Fireproof Building Company, builder of this noteworthy structure. The foundations of the building are now in and work is to be begun at once upon the superstructure by J. V. McNeil, the contractor in charge.

The Knickerbocker building will be so known because of the fact that the three upper stories of the structure will be occupied by the Knickerbocker Club. The first story will contain two large store-rooms and the floors from the second to the seventh, inclusively, will be devoted to lofts.

The structure will be 50x165 feet in ground dimensions and ten stories in height, above a full basement. It will be of reinforced concrete construction and absolutely fireproof. The front will be of an attractive and unique design and will be faced with terra cotta and tile, the ornamentation being worked out in the former material. Striking among the decorative details will be specially designed grotesques. The general treatment will be Gothic.

The building is being erected on a site recently secured under a fifty-year lease by Shirley Ward and a number of associate, from D. Botillier.

The Knickerbocker Club will occopy the three top stories and roof garden of the building and plans to expend $40,000 in furnishing quarters to equal any in the city. The interior will be finished in modern Dutch style, with furniture to correspond. The top floor will be devoted to an auditorium with a seating capacity of 800 persons.

On the eighth and ninth floor there will be the main dining-room of the club, a buffet, card-room, billiard-room, lounging-room and library. A spacious ladies' dining-room and two or three small banquet halls will occupy about half of one of the floors. The roof garden is to be fitted up for an open-air dining-room and for al fresco entertainments of the vaudeville variety. Its appointments will be modeled after those of eastern roof garden theaters.

THROOP TO EXPAND.

Two Fine Buildings to Be Added to Campus Group of Growing Crown City Institution.

The Board of Trustees of Throop Polytechnic Institute at Pasadena has commissioned Elmer Grey of this city to prepare architectural plans for two new buildings to be erected for the Crown City institution. One of the structures will be a combined music hall and art museum and the other a combined library and science building.

The first building will be erected at Wilson avenue and California street, and the second at Wilson and San Pascual avenues, in Pasadena. Both structures will be of reinforced concrete and tile construction and in architectural keeping with the rest of the campus group of Throop. The music building will contain an auditorium seating 1200.

MAKE GOOD PROFIT.

The Birnbaum Investment Company reports the sale of the southwest corner of Hill and Eighteenth streets, 134 feet on Hill by forty-two feet on Eighteenth, to Grover T. Garland and Philip W. Dickson for $40,000. The Birnbaum Investment Company bought the property from William Ball in 1905 for $8000.

Awaiting Magic Touch.

SYNDICATE TO DEVELOP PART OF GREAT "TEJON."

Five Thousand Acres of Choice Hillside Land in Pastoral Empire of San Joaquin Valley Conveyed to Los Angeles Corporation—Entire Tract to Be Planted to Citrus Trees.

THE EARLY beginning of the active development of an empire of rich horticultural and agricultural lands hitherto unscratched by the plow, is assured as the result of a deal concluded during the past week in this city and by the terms of which the Los Angeles syndicate owning the great "Tejon ranchos" in the San Joaquin Valley, has formally conveyed to a corporation to be known as the "El Tejon Citrus Land Company" 5000 acres of the choicest ground in that magnificent property. The consideration in the transaction is given at $500,000 by representatives of the corporation, who also announce that they are preparing to expend $250,000 in the development of the tract secured.

The deal assumes especial significance through the fact that a complete water system for the irrigation of the entire 5000 acres is to be installed at once, and that the whole tract is to be set out to citrus trees. A syndicate to furnish the necessary capital for the development, subdivision and planting of the land is now being organized by C. C. Whittemore, counsel for the Clark railroad interests. This organization completed, the property is to be placed on the market.

The actual development work will be carried on under the personal direction of H. U. Kies, an expert horticulturist, who was for many years identified with the citrus land industry in Cuba. Kies will have entire charge of the planting operations and will superintend the work of caring for the trees.

It is understood on good authority that the development and sale of the 5000-acre tract in question will mark the first step in the carrying out of a plan now being formulated for opening to cultivation and improvement other large bodies of land of the same enormous holding. One of the plans now taking shape involves the laying out of an extensive townsite at a favorably situated point in the great ranch area. Those interested in the development of the former Gen. Beale rancho, are at this moment working out a plan to furnish railroad facilities for all the arable acreage of the property and for the surrounding lands, as they are settled and improved. These men enthusiastically predict that in a few years, tens of thousands of acres that now serve no other purpose than to provide grazing for roaming range cattle will be supporting a prosperous horticultural and agricultural population and a PLAN LODGE HOME.

Local Odd Fellows to Erect Fireproof Structure at Twelfth and Flower Streets—Theater Project.

The architectural firm of Morgan, Walls & Morgan has been commissioned to prepare plans for a $150,000 structure of attractive design and fireproof construction to be erected by the five downtown lodges of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of this city at the northwest corner of Twelfth and Flower streets. The site of the proposed building is 100x150 feet in size. The ground story of the structure is to be divided into stores, while the upper floors will contain the lodge quarters.

The same firm of architects is taking bids for the construction of a fireproof theater building to be erected by Mrs. L. Ducommun at Nos. 1318 to 1824 South Figueroa street. The building will be 100x120 feet in size and three stories in height. It will be occupied by the Egan Institute of Dramatic Arts and will contain an auditorium, ball room, studios, class rooms and living-rooms. The street front of the structure will be of handsome design.

HOTEL CONTRACT LET.

The contract for the completion of the Wentworth Hotel at Oak Knoll was awarded during the past week to the Richards-Neustadt Construction Company of this city. Numerous other sub-contracts were also let and the work of finishing the huge building will be started at once. Plans for the extensive alterations and additions contemplated by H. E. Huntington, the present owner of the property, were prepared by Myron Hunt. A perspective showing the structure as it will appear when completed recently appeared in The Times.

—Why more than

worth of lots have been sold to date at West Adams Park

The pure, fresh, uncontaminated valley air—the freedom from smoke and other objectionable elements—the ever-changing grandeur of 150 miles of mountain range (visible from every lot)—the excellent improvements, good building restrictions, the proximity of costly homes, and of millions of dollars' worth of subdivision development under way—the surprisingly low prices of lots as compared with adjoining unimproved property—are some of the conditions which have been responsible for the sale of over $400,000.00 worth of West Adams Park property to date!

There are plenty of excellent sites left for you to choose from.

At the same bed-rock prices, too!

$850 will buy one.

OUR idea of a home is one both PRACTICAL and ARTISTIC. By careful thought we manage to instill certain INDIVIDUALITY into each home.

It quite frequently happens that the PROSPECTIVE BUILDER'S IDEAS and PURSE do not correspond. In such cases our PRACTICAL knowledge comes to the rescue, and often where others have hopelessly FAILED, WE SUCCEED.

We build homes from the modern five-room cottage, at $900, to the most elaborate dwelling. It rests with the INDIVIDUAL, entirely, what his home will cost. By concentrating our PURCHASING POWER, combined with our PRACTICAL knowledge, and being in a position to DISCOUNT our BILLS, we can, for a given quality of work, discount our competitors' prices.

We build either by contracts on a fixed fee of 10 per cent. of estimated cost of work, or on our own lots in Los Angeles, Redondo and San Pedro, on easy terms.

We make no additional charge for our Architectural services, if we build, or if we fail to satisfy you both as to price and design.

A HOME AND AN INVESTMENT.

WEST SEVENTH STREET CORNER.

Beautiful 12-room house, lot 80x165, in Wilshire. It is actually worth from $35,000 to $40,000 today, and eventually will have a business value, situated as it is. The owner is leaving for an extended tour of the world, therefore the extraordinary monetary sacrifice. The house is charmingly planned, perfectly built, most beautifully decorated and up-to-date in every detail.

The first floor is one of the handsomest to be found in any house in Los Angeles under $50,000. Living room, dining room, music room and den are in mahogany. Two large fireplaces, sun parlor, built-in effects, kitchen, pass kitchen and laundry on the first floor. The house has burglar system. There is a $1200 heating plant, one of the finest private systems in the city. Six fireplaces in the house.

On the second floor are five bedrooms, three fine tiled baths and shower. There are two upstair porches. On the third floor is a billiard room, two sleeping rooms and bath. First floor porches, pergola, garage for two large machines. While this has everything to recommend it as a fine house, unimpeachably located, perfectly finished and most comfortable in every way, it will yield big profits eventually as an investment as well to the purchaser. See it.

BIG BARGAINS.
ATTRACTIVE BARGAINS.
UNDER LIST PRICES.

In fact, it's a sacrifice sale. So much so, that I cannot afford to spend to use gasoline in showing these houses. There is no room for any expense. You will have to take the EL MOLINO CAR on MAIN STREET, over the Pasadena Short Line and tell the conductor to let you off at TITUS AVENUE. It only takes 14 minutes to get there. You will find me there every afternoon.

I have 6 to 8 houses, 5 and 6 rooms, ranging in price from $2800 to $3400.

On beautiful 50-foot lots, 140 feet deep, high ground, fine water, mountain view, gas and electricity, and the prices on same will starle you. They are all cheap in price, but high-class buildings. I have to sacrifice some of these places, and I am ready to do business and will do business quick.

I am open for a proposition. I have got something that I want to sell. I have got something that has got to be moved. If you want a home and have a little cash, I am the man you are looking for.

6-ROOM BUNGALOW.
PRICE $3250.

Just one block from 6242 Huntington Drive, the house described below, just one block off the car line, and another true type of that mission bungalow which has been so popular throughout Southern California.

The exterior is of the same finish and same plaster effect as so many of the beautiful homes you find on West Adams street. It presents the most attractive appearance and a proposition that will last for a lifetime.

It's a modern house, containing all the built-in features, oak doors, paneling, beaming, buffet, bookcases, big cabinet kitchen.

The price includes shades, fixtures, lawn; in fact, everything absolutely complete.

It's a good bargain and a good buy.

It's on a large lot, 50x145, just inside the city limits, on high ground. The climate is absolutely perfect.

5-ROOM BUNGALOW.
PRICE $3250.
Terms, $250 cash; balance $30 per month. Including interest.

This is a thoroughly modern, new and up-to-date house. It's of the Swiss Chalet type, Japanese effect of architecture. The exterior is partly plastered. The roof in Malthoid, guaranteed. The porch extends across the entire front and around the side of the house.

Living-room 20 feet long; big dining-room, 2 bedrooms. Bath and kitchen, screen porch with laundry tray.

Oak floors, beam ceilings and all kinds of built-in features.

Interior woodwork dark green.

Exterior plaster light tint of green.

Interior of living-room and dining-room light green stain.

Remember, this house has the best of plumbing, fine electric light fixtures, good papering; in fact, everything is included to make it thoroughly modern and up-to-date.

The lot is 50x142.

It's on Huntington Drive, on the highest ground just inside the city limits. It's a paved street, and one of the finest boulevards in the State.

6-ROOM BUNGALOW.
PRICE $3450.
Terms—$250 cash, balance $30 per month. Including interest.

It's a charming bungalow of the Swiss Chalet type. Oak floors in the main rooms, balance of the floors polished and scraped. Big wide cement porch, extending across the entire front of the house. Built-in bookcases, buffet, paneling; in fact, every modern convenience has been put into the house. Big cabinet kitchen with laundry trap.

The exterior of the house is covered with shakes, and Malthoid roofing—by the way, a guaranteed roofing. It's one of the best.

Bathroom and cabinet kitchen finished in white enamel.

Then again, it's on a big lot, 50x145, and a good location on high ground.

By the way, look up Huntington boulevard; it's the finest in Southern California; 200 feet wide, fine mountain view, good water. In fact, it's a healthy place to live.

$3100.

A SPLENDID 6-ROOM BUNGALOW, with hardwood floors, breakfast room, and all the new ideas in built-in features. I can positively state that this is the best bungalow I have ever seen offered for $3000 and it is so nicely situated, too—just completed, never occupied. You ought to see the fine decorations in this house, and the hardware and all the first-class improvements throughout—A really wonder bungalow bargain for only $3100.
Easy terms if you want—only $175 down, and easy monthly payments.

$3500.
FIRST-CLASS NEW HOUSE.

Full two-story, 9 rooms, with beautiful den and sleeping porch. This house has just been completed and was arranged and built by an architect of long experience for his own home, but change of circumstances makes him want to sell.

The lot is 40x150, on a street 100 feet wide, in the Wilshire district. This property is all surrounded by homes of much greater value, and it is a decided bargain for $3500.

$5000.
WILSHIRE DISTRICT.
ON GRAMERCY PLACE, CLOSE TO 3RD ST.

On an east front lot stands a modern, up-to-date bungalow, which I can sell for $5000 if taken quickly.

The section is entirely built up and there is no other house on the boulevard, as desirable for $5000, and this is probably the last opportunity to get one in this immediate district for $5000.

You should ask me about this.

$7500.
BRAND NEW—NEVER BEEN OCCUPIED.

One of the neatest modern homes in the beautiful Westlake district, located on one of the highest points in the city; grand view of the foothills and mountains, and the ocean, and yet the house is close in, only two blocks from splendid car service and not more than five minutes' walk from Westlake Park.

House is full two-story, contains 9 rooms, and all the latest improvements, very desirable, indeed.

Only $7500, and very easy payments, in fact, you can get it by paying $1000 cash, balance can be arranged.

Automobiles at your service at any time if you are really in the market for a house of any description.

NEW BUNGALOWS.
NEW IDEAS.

Houses at 3760 ARLINGTON STREET, and 1527 WEST 56TH STREET are my show houses.

I have furnished them complete to give you an idea of what a really modern up-to-date home looks like.

I will sell these houses either furnished or unfurnished. House at 3760 ARLINGTON STREET can be purchased for $4250, unfurnished, and can be sold on easy terms.

The house at 1527 WEST 56TH STREET can be bought for $3450, unfurnished.

About $200 cash and the balance $30 per month, including interest.

I have within one block of the Arlington-street house 14 others which I can truthfully say are the prettiest bungalows in Los Angeles.

Within two blocks of the 56th-street house I have 41 others ranging in price from $2850 to $3500; all of which I can sell on very easy terms.

These furnished houses can be seen at night by appointment. My office is 1353 WEST 54TH STREET; and my telephone is VERMONT 50.

These show houses are furnished by Lyon-McKinney & Smith, and Parmelee-Dohrman Company.

FOR SALE—

TWO SEVEN-ROOM HOUSES.
IN THE WILSHIRE DISTRICT.

622 Vine st., an English chalet at $8000.
627 Vine st., a Swiss chalet at $8000.

These houses are just completed. They were built by us and are backed by our guarantee.

Each house is convenient, up-to-date and artistically designed.

On the first floor of each is a large living-room, dining-room, den with disappearing bed, large bedroom with bath and toilet, and a large kitchen.

On the second floor are two large bedrooms with toilet and washroom.

These houses have hardwood floors and are thoroughly modern in every way, and we believe they are the very best buys in this section of the city.

Very reasonable terms can be arranged.

We are exclusive agents for the following properties:

Read each, for they are bargains.

[illegible] Wilshire.

5-room bungalow on Wilton place. Large living-room and dining-room, library, breakfast-room, 2 bedrooms and bath; cabinet kitchen; screened in back porch on first floor. Two bedrooms and sleeping porch on second floor. Cement cellar and all piped for furnace. Large cement porch across front and side of house. Lot 50x140. Reasonable terms.

[illegible] Crenshaw Heights.

8 rooms, 2 baths and maid's room. East front large lot. Garage with cement floor. Brand new and ready for you to move in on the 20th. Splendid living and dining-room, library, cabinet kitchen, breakfast-room and maid's-room and bathroom downstairs; four very large sunny bedrooms and bath upstairs. The price is exceedingly low and the terms most attractive.

[illegible] $1000 cash. Wilshire.

New and beautiful 8-room house on Gramercy place that is a dream, and surrounded with houses costing from $15,000 to $25,000, and some of our best people in the city in them. Living and dining-room finished in mahogany. Large massive fireplace. Library, breakfast-room, two bedrooms and bath and maid's-room on first floor; two large sleeping porches, both on second floor; east-front and commands a splendid view of the mountains; large cement porch. High terraced lot, cement drive to garage. Do not fail to see this. Very reasonable terms.

[illegible] West Adams Heights.

8 rooms and sleeping porch, all large and so arranged that the moment you enter the home you feel at home. It was built for a home by day labor, and the foundation would be a credit to a $15,000 house. The result is, not a crack. The house is in absolute first-class condition and you could not spend a cent on it if you wanted to. Splendid neighborhood. Only one block to the car and twenty minutes to 5th and Spring; $1500 cash and $50 per month, if desired.

$[illegible] Crenshaw Heights.

This is simply grand; 10 rooms, 2 baths, on corner; only one block from Pico; splendid view. It is the cement plastered style, built by one of our leading builders of the city, and we don't believe you can find a criticism to make. Possession can be given in ten days and terms can be arranged.

$[illegible] Westlake.

This close-in, splendid home of 12 rooms, with its 62x150 foot lot means comfortable quarters for you for a few years, and then a lot worth $25,000. Where can you invest your money to better advantage? The house will rent every month in the year and pay 8 per cent. net on price asked. Let us prove what we say.

FURNISHED HOUSES—
THEN AGAIN—UNFURNISHED HOUSES.
SIX-ROOM BUNGALOWS.

Just completed, 16 brand new bungalows on Arlington street and Van Ness avenue, about two blocks south of Jefferson, just in between two car lines; one of these houses sold today. The other houses are all absolutely complete in every way; electricity in all turned on, and we can show these houses by appointment AT NIGHT.

FURNISHED HOUSE AT 3760 ARLINGTON STREET.

We have a beautiful furnished bungalow, brand new, never been lived in. The furniture has never been used. We will sell the house with or without the furniture.

The price of this house alone is $4350 and can be sold on easy terms. It will pay you to see this house and see what about $650 will do in furnishing a brand new up-to-date house. Everything is there, just ready to move your trunks into. Don't forget—you can see these houses day or night.

1327 WEST 54TH STREET.

Here is another six-room bungalow, beautifully furnished, at a cost about $325; we can sell the house alone at a price of $3450.

About $200 cash; balance $30 per month. Including interest.

Remember, that I have had in this district about 41 houses, having sold six during the past week. They are all brand new five and six-room bungalows and can be had on terms ranging from $150 cash to $250 cash, and from $26.50 to $30 per month.

In other words, I have under my control between 50 and 60 brand new five and six-room houses which absolutely contain the best of workmanship, including all kinds of built-in features, beautiful paper, fine electric fixtures, oak floors, lawns, flowers and everything that goes to make a home beautiful.

My office is open during the day and up to 8 o'clock at night.

The two furnished houses are my show houses. If you don't want to buy a house, you can get good ideas with reference to furniture. They are houses which the tourist would enjoy, and remember, whether you want to buy or not, you are always welcome.

My address is 1365 WEST 54TH STREET and you can reach my office by taking the MONETA AVENUE-WEST 54TH STREET car and get off at 54TH AND NORMANDIE. My telephone is VERMONT 50.

See me and you will find that I have the most beautiful bungalows to be had in Los Angeles. You will find that my selections of paper, decorations, colors are the very best, and you will absolutely find the best built houses and the best bargains in the city of Los Angeles.

These two houses furnished by Lyon-McKinney & Smith and Parmelee-Dohrman Co.

HERE'S A BEAUTY.

You owe it to yourself and us to see this house before you buy—it's a beauty and we will sell it to you for less than you could build it for yourself—it's in a choice part of the Wilshire district, only 1 block from Wilshire and on high ground—it's built of cement with tile roof and by a first-class conscientious builder—it has 10 rooms—2 beautiful baths—maid's room—big, roomy, well-furnished basement with Pittsburgh water heater—big fine furnace—downstairs finished in mahogany of exquisite workmanship—upstairs in white enamel—garage to match house, room for two machines—lot about two feet above grade and 60x150 feet. We can help you buy this right and you'll have a home you'll be proud of. The price is around $18,000. Phone us Monday to take you out to see this lovely place.

ALSO NOTE

We have over two hundred houses listed with us, from cunning little bungalows at $2000, $100 cash and $25 per month, to stately mansions for $55,000, and, remember, if you are interested we will be glad to show any of them. Furthermore, you need not fear being annoyed by being urged to buy, but you'll be treated as a friend. Cut this out and phone us. Our auto waits.

HOMES BUILT TO ORDER.

NO MONEY DOWN.

OTHERS SAY, HOW CAN WE DO IT?

WELL, WE BUY AT WHOLESALE AND DISCOUNT ON BILLS.

We differ from other building and investment companies, because we loan our own money and build on your lot. We do not ask you to buy our land; we loan and build on any lot. Select the lot you want, let us buy it and build you a home. Your credit is good with us.

BUILDING PLANS MADE TO SUIT YOU.

MANY FOR THE ASKING.

Why pay rent when we will furnish you the money, plans, house and lot? Yes, this is going the limit. A home for the asking. We build bungalows, cottages, residences, apartments. Every rent payer can own a home on our easy payment plant. We treat every man alike. The rich man, the poor man, the farmer can do business with us. Get our prices and terms. DO YOU WANT TO BUY A HOME.
DO YOU WANT TO BUY A BUNGALOW?
DO YOU WANT TO BUY AN UP-TO-DATE SNAPPY PLACE

Beautifully furnished, on a street that's all built up solid with new homes; in fact, it's a most beautiful street. Every house a new one. Yards all leveled and in nice shape. Lawns to be put in. Palms, flowers; fine street work? If so, take the MONETA AVENUE-WEST 54TH ST. CAR LINE.

WALK ALONG 55TH STREET, between NORMANDIE AND DENKER, in the 1400 and 1500 block, and you will see about 20 brand new bungalows, 5 and 6 rooms.

WALK ALONG 56TH STREET, between NORMANDIE AND DENKER, and you will see about thirty brand new 5 and 6-room bungalows.

WALK ALONG 58TH STREET, between NORMANDIE AND DENKER, and you will see 17 new 5 and 6-room bungalows.

If you don't want to walk—get off the car at 54th and Normandie, at my office, No. 1355 WEST 54TH STREET. I am a good walker, I am a good talker, and I have about fifty handsome bungalows for sale at prices ranging from $2950 to $3400.

Terms: From $150 cash to $300 cash.
Balance $26.50 per month to $30 per month.

My machine is at your disposal, and if you want a home, if you contemplate buying one, see me. I am strictly business! I helped build these houses. I selected the paper, the decorations, fixtures, helped plan them, put in many little conveniences that a woman likes, such as writing desks, bookcases, cabinet kitchens, ironing boards, etc. I mean business and I want to talk business.

FOR SALE—
We have a large list of vacant lots for sale. The following would all make ideal sites for apartment houses or flats, and the prices are all extremely low:

New England ave. north of Washington, 50x132, east front, $2300. This price is far under the market for property on this street.

Figueroa st. north of Vernon, 50x150, west front, $2200. This site is now ripe for an apartment-house.

Grand ave., south of 29th, 50x135, $3000, east front.

Grand ave. south of 39th, fronting east on Grand ave. and west on Flower st., $3300. The double frontage makes this an exceptionally desirable property and it will soon be taken.

12th st. west of Union, 50x135, facing Bonnie Brae, $6300. This lot is worth much more.

Florida st., between 8th and 9th sts., and only one block west of Figueroa, 40x137, $8500. Being so close in makes this lot very desirable.

BEST LOT BUY IN ONEONTA PARK DISTRICT.
Here's a rare opportunity for some one looking for a snap. Don't take my word for it that this lot is $350 under value; investigate yourself. If you want a beautiful building site, or a sure profit investment, look this up. It's a case of needing the money. 50x150, east front, level as a table; fine homes all around it; splendid locality, street work all done, gas, electricity, fine view mountains and valley, block and a half from 3 car lines and 20 minutes out; high ground (nearly 700 feet) which means health and comfort. Locality building up wonderfully. You can't buy the adjoining lots for less than $1500. For few days only I offer this at $1150; $150 down, balance monthly. I defy you to beat it anywhere in the entire Oneonta Park district. Better hurry.

FOR SALE—
LARGE LEVEL LOTS
50x140.
Every Street Improvement Completed and Hundred Houses Already Built on Tract.
ONLY $625.
On the terrace ground at terminus of Washington-street car marked "Rimpau avenue." Tract extends over to 16th street or Venice car line. Most of these lots are just off the high-hill ground of Arlington Heights district on level ground that naturally slopes to the west, is just beyond and within a stone's throw of higher-priced and higher-restricted property, just east of it selling for very much higher prices. Everybody can't afford the very high-priced locations and yet desire to get as near to the best as possible. We certainly have the goods for medium-priced homes to cost, completed with lot, from $3000 to $5000. We have a few lots on the high ground for $1100 and under, and they are less than acreage values. Building inducements to any who will build at once.
These prices are actually less than many lots located several miles farther out, and offers the benefit of two good car lines—Venice or 16th-street line and "Rimpau avenue." Car of Washington-street line direct to our tract agent's office every 5 minutes. Paved streets from center of city pass this property and lead on to Venice.
Go out today or any day and take a deposit along to hand the tract agent, for it's the low-priced-lot-investment opportunity of the season. A small cash payment and $10 monthly payments makes you owner of the growth in value in whatever you can buy. Take a look at Arlington Heights Terrace tract for the best small investment available. Real estate is the surest investment and you know it. Call week days and see WARREN F. M'GRATH, No. 310 Van Nuys Bldg., with STRONG & DICKINSON, Main 1273, Home 60195, southwest corner 7th and Spring sts.

FOR SALE—

LAND
LOS ANGELES AND VENICE.

Before June of this year every available piece of property suitable for subdivision situated on Washington Blvd. between Los Angeles and Venice will be snapped up.

The cheapest piece of land of any decent size today on Washington Blvd. is held at $2500 an acre.

One piece has already sold at $4000. There are other tracts along this boulevard that have been sold 4 or 5 times within the last twelve months.

We can offer you a tract of 86 acres almost adjoining the city limits, fronting on Washington Blvd., a 2500 ft. frontage on the Pacific Electric Air Line, for $2000 an acre and very easy terms.

We can offer another piece of property consisting of 85 acres, further down the boulevard, part of which is already subdivided, at $1650 per acre, plus a 5 per cent. commission.

If you are looking for an investment in the way of a tract of land which is sure to become city property and which is sure to be valued at a per front foot rate within 24 months, let us take you down in an automobile and show you these two tracts.

We don't deal in "hot air" but sell honest bargains.

FOR SALE— Suburban Property.

FOR SALE — JUST THE RIGHT PIECE of acreage that you really want, if you'll investigate now. Southwest, in the great trend of growth toward the harbor. High ground, fine soil, elegant view. Between Vermont and Western ave., just outside city limits. Near Athens-on-the-Hill. About a mile north of Strawberry Park. Buy all you can afford now for there's a big profit coming to owners of property in this district in the near future.

5 acres that may be cut up later into 22 lots, only $5300

4 acres with frontage on three graded streets, only $4300

1½ acres with 200 feet east frontage within a couple of blocks of Vermont avenue $2000

1¼ acres four blocks from Vermont avenue $1650

Single acres $1000 to $1200

2 acres 3 blocks from Vermont, but don't all lay level $1500

Now, I want you to know, too, that LOTS near by where cement work has put in are selling for as much as our price of acres. Is it any wonder that most of our sales of adjoining acres have been to well posted business men? The best posted man or woman is the one who will invest in the acreage the quickest after seeing it.

Remember, streets graded, water piped, building and race restrictions and many houses built and occupied. Natural gas mains now within 2 blocks of tract. Very reasonable terms that'll pay out in 2 or 3 years. Will take a fifth cash, etc., maybe less or more, as you say. See WARREN F. McGRATH, with STRONG & DICKINSON, 310 Van Nuys Bldg., S. W. corner 7th and Spring. Main 1273, Home 60195.

FOR SALE—
ATTENTION, ATTENTION ATTENTION, ATTENTION!

The biggest snap of the season: 10 1-3 acres, one and one-half miles southwest of El Monte, one mile from the electric cars, and 1-4 mile from public school. This land has 180 walnut trees of the Vroman variety of Franquette, budded on the black walnut root, two years old; 200 banana apple trees, two years old, 87 yellow winter pearmain, 12 peach trees, two years old, six Bartlett pear trees, two years old, 14 choice varieties of plums, grapes, figs, etc. There is a five-room California house. The barn contains stanchions for 12 cows, four horses and will hold twenty tons of hay, corrals and milkhouse, 6-inch double-cased fine well, for domestic use.

The El Monte country is noted for its fine walnuts and deciduous fruits, and we consider that this property is the choicest in the valley. A bargain of this kind is hard to get. Reason for selling is the owners have purchased a large ranch in the northern part of the State. Price $8000, one-half cash, balance to suit. First come, first served.

Eagle Rock.

FOR SALE—
STOCK CERTIFICATES VS. LAND.

Putting your money into a stock certificate has some advantages: it is very convenient to be able to take it out of your pocket and look at it and figure up your profit, based on the latest quotation in the big advertisements.

But there's something mighty SOLID about land. Then again, you OWN the land and you can control it according to your judgment.

If you prefer putting YOUR money into stock, don't waste your time reading our ads., because we haven't any to sell and don't ever expect to

We are LAND AGENTS. In Eagle Rock, we sell a great deal of land—in fact more than all other AGENTS put together.

TWO SNAPS.

Lot in Campus Park, one block from Occidental College grounds, facing on 100-foot street; all street work paid, $800, ¼ cash.

Lot on Central avenue, one block from principal business blocks. Street work done. $750, ¼ cash.

NATOMAS CONSOLIDATED.

What it is:

A Twenty-five Million Dollar Company.

Has thirteen gold dredgers at work.

Is building forty miles of levee along the Bear and Feather Rivers.

Has thirty thousand acres of the richest and rarest orange lands in California.

Has ten miles of water ditch; taken from the American River.

Sells planted orange and olive lands for $375 an acre.

Gives years to pay for it.

Markets the crop for the grower, paying the highest market price.

Employs eight hundred men, gives the settlers and buyers first chance.

Takes care of the land for the purchaser at the cost price.

Has never in sixty years had a frost or cold to injure the trees.

Oranges grown on the Natomas Lands are picked, packed, shipped and sold in October, giving the first chance for high prices in the eastern markets.

Has hotel and cottages for the use of the newcomers, and situated eight miles from the capital of the State.

The climate is mild and equable. Never cold or hot.

Send me your name and let me put you on the list, giving you data on the progress of this great work.

It will pay intending purchasers to investigate our proposition thoroughly.

For further particulars, 204-205 Hibernian Bank Bldg.

FOR SALE—
FARMERS WANTED IN ARIZONA.

Big opportunities in Maricopa county, Arizona; government reports tell of rich soil twelve to sixty feet deep—rich as the Nile.

Farmers who are being crowded out of California on account of high land prices should visit the Great Salt River Valley.

Alfalfa, corn, wheat, vegetables of all kinds, cotton, sugar beets, deciduous and citrus trees, dates, poultry, stock raising and dairying are all profitable, $40 per acre is about the average net profit from raising alfalfa. They cut an average of six tons to the acre, and this has been selling for from $8 to $16 a ton.

A Swiss who has lived in the Salt River Valley for eight years, and who has been in the dairy business all his life, writes: "I have never seen a country where stock does so well, and matures so quickly."

CHEAP LAND.
ABUNDANCE OF WATER.

There is an abundance of "stored water" in the great Roosevelt Dam for irrigation purposes. Thousands of acres of land are ready for the plow.

Phoenix, the capital of Arizona, is a winter paradise, and is growing rapidly. There are other towns, such as Mesa, Tempe, Glendale, and the new town of Chandler. Good markets. Railroad facilities excellent. Splendid schools and churches.

Low railroad rates from Los Angeles on Wednesdays and Fridays in parties of three or more. Write for forty-page book on the resources of Maricopa county, and inducements that are offered to settlers. Land prices at present are very reasonable.

Address VERNON L. CLARK, Commissioner of Immigration, Dept. 5, 403 Fleming Block, Phoenix, Ariz.

EARLY SEASONS.

Oranges picked and marketed before the frost. Sold at handsome profits.

Beautiful growing alfalfa fields only $150 per acre, right on railroad and close to new town. Farm where an investment of one-fifth your present holdings will bring greater returns and sure crops in growing, thrifty Salt River Valley. One night's ride on Southern Pacific or Santa Fe.

If you must till the soil farm where Nature works with you and not against you. Hundreds of satisfied Southern California ranchers recently invested here. You owe it to yourself right now to investigate the wonderful government water system, fertility of lands, climatic conditions, and unprecedented opportunity for ground-floor prices in the highest class of agricultural and horticultural lands in the southwest. Hundreds of beautifully developed farms there speak for themselves.

Lands are level with deep, rich soil, easily worked, and may be had in tracts of 10 to 160 acres. This is the famous Chandler Ranch of 18,000 acres being sold directly by owners in compliance with the ruling of the U. S. Reclamation Service.

While it lasts opportunity knocks at your door, the like of which may never be presented to you again, to obtain at a ridiculously low price highest grade lands with modern facilities and advantages, eliminating the pioneering element. Will not knowingly sell to the purely speculative class as this is a proposition for the earnest home maker.

OWN A LOT in the thrifty town of Chandler, with 60,000 or more fertile acres all under the great Roosevelt Dam surrounding and supporting the same.

Literature and weekly newspaper published at Chandler on application. Two excursions weekly.

EARLY ORANGE LAND

THE TIME

TO BUY ORANGE LAND

IS NOW.

The place is Orange Cove, in the Orosi district in Tulare county.

A Plain Proposition in a Nut Shell.

There is no question as to the profit in orange growing.

NOW NOTE

Orange Cove, 4 miles north of Orosi, is a proven orange district. The profits in the Orosi district are larger than elsewhere on account of the fruit reaching the eastern markets in time for the Thanksgiving and holiday trade.

The recent freeze did our grove, put out last June and without any protection, little or no damage, proving beyond question that is the safest place to buy orange land.

As a matter of plain common sense can you AFFORD to purchase orange land ANYWHERE without investigating Orange Cove? Prices now $150, $175 and $200 per acre, on easy terms.

This is the cheapest buy in the Turlock district, and will soon be snapped up.

For Sale—44 acres, Siskiyou county, in the Strawberry Valley, near Sisson and Shasta, the great resorts, in full view of Mt. Shasta, the grandest mountain in the world. The beautiful Sulloway Creek runs through this ranch; also 300 inches deed water, which is perpetual and the finest in the world. 12 acres cultivated, 25 more can be cleared and cultivated and balance timber. This is the finest fruit and vegetable soil in the country and a ready market for all that can be raised. Small house, barn and outbuildings. And, just think of it, only $2500, half cash. We have several other small ranches in the beautiful Strawberry Valley.

For Sale—Equipped and well-stocked dairy ranch of 200 acres, in the Scott Valley, Siskiyou county. 130 acres in alfalfa, 50 in grain and 20 timber. 7-room house, 3 fine barns, California barn, wagon shed, blacksmith shop, up-ground fire and frost-proof cellar, dairy plant with modern machinery and steam cooking boilers; nice family orchard, spring water piped to the house, yards and barns. With it goes 350 acres government land, will range 50 head of cattle. With this ranch goes 60 head of cattle, including 18 dairy cows, 5 horses, 5 hogs, many chickens, all the implements, wagons and dairy machinery, all fenced, in perfect condition, and all for the modest sum of $11,000. A paradise to live in and an independent income.

Come in and let us show you what we have in the line of other stock ranches in this locality, ranging in price from $10,000 to $55,000. This country is all saturated with the purest of snow water from the mountains. Splendid hunting and fishing. We also have many stock ranches in Placer county, well watered by mountain streams. Also many small fruit and vegetable ranches in this county ranging from $1000 up.

A word to the wise is sufficient. Buy country property now while the price is within your reach. In a few years there will not be an acre in California that you can stick a plow in or graze an animal on that can be bought for less than $100 and from that up into the thousands.

6519 ACRES FINE LAND.

PRICE $135,000, TERMS $35,000 CASH. BALANCE 3 YEARS, 5 PER CENT.

THE BEST RANCH BARGAIN IN THE STATE.

This is a broad assertion, but nevertheless a fact. This ranch is rolling land of the very finest soil, located about 10 miles from Paso Robles, and about 16 miles from the ocean; 600 acres has been in cultivation, the balance is covered with large white and live oak trees; it has been conservatively estimated that there are between 150,000 and 200,000 cords of wood on this ranch, which if cut into railroad ties and fuel wood ought to sell for a net profit of double the price of the ranch. They have a very heavy rainfall in this section, which insures good crops. There is also a stream flowing across this property, which flows all the year, and you can get fine wells any place on the ranch at less than 25 feet.

This is very fine fruit land, in fact, the best apples in this country are raised on the adjoining ranch. They have taken first prize wherever exhibited. There are many subdivisions of apple land now being sold at from $200 to $300 per acre that do not compare with this land for growing apples. An immense amount of money can be made out of this property; are you going to make it?

Might exchange this ranch for first-class business property in L. A. of equal or less value.

FOR SALE—STATE DOES NOT ADVERTISE BARGAINS. I DO. DO YOU WANT BARGAINS? I have spent money and years of searching out STATE LAND BARGAINS; YOU need my descriptive list, to see, select and buy from officials. Some natural born "quitters" let this land go to the State years ago. When mule street cars were on Main street I was disgusted with California and went away, and let my land go to the State. So have others. It is valuable now. I came back to search out my land and found the State sold it. I found other land had gone to State. I bought all I could. My land is not for sale till fair. There is plenty left for you now. Some I search out is bought every month at bargain prices. STATE SELLS REGARDLESS PRESENT VALUE. NO RESIDENCE REQUIRED. BARGAINS.

I GUARANTEE that some land in list (not ALL,) will be well located, valuable, level, fertile, rich, soil. Some small pieces fine for alfalfa. Some I know are very near R.R., good towns, water, school, market and close in. I guarantee that some pieces are within two miles of depots of these good towns: Los Angeles, San Diego, Pasadena, Riverside, Redlands, San Bernardino, Fresno, Colton, El Centro, Brawley, San Pedro, Santa Monica, Bakersfield, Stockton, Sacramento, Oroville and Oakland. In fact, in any county and near any city except San Francisco. I guarantee first list to reach you by registered mail. I guarantee to suit all pocketbooks from $25 up. I trust you to pay me $10 till after you buy from officials and find all satisfactory, provided you send me $5 check when you order me to register you lists of land that YOU CAN BUY NOW, on which the price varies, and order me to send you lists later of 25 pieces from over 1,000,000 acres of school land that comes on the market this year at $2.50 an acre, on long time payments. It will pay you to order direct from this ad. I will register all to you. Write fully with your order. References and new circulars free. Write JOSEPH CLARK, Searcher State Records. FOR SALE—
REAL ESTATE AT SACRIFICE PRICES.

Do you know, right now one can purchase orange groves and other Southern California real estate at much lower prices than they can six months hence?

HERE ARE POSITIVE BARGAINS.

BARGAIN NO. 1.

Only $5500, should bring $10,000, purchases a 10-acre ranch, well located, about 4 miles out from Pomona. "Fairly good improvements." Part oranges in good bearing; fruit frosted but trees in good condition for next season's crop. Part deciduous trees, in bearing. Owner in the East, can't meet $4000 mortgage now due, writes me to sell entire property for the ridiculously low figure of $5500. No trade considered. Cash proposition only.

BARGAIN NO. 2.

Only $15,000, crop reserved, buys one of the best income, full-bearing, 10-acre orange groves in the Upland district, north of Upland, directly on the car line. Owner has other groves, needs money now to run his other groves and for a few days will sacrifice this fine income grove for $15,000; at least $10,000 cash down. Don't waste my time in submitting exchanges on this property. If you have money and are looking for something you can now buy for $15,000 and resell next winter when the new orange crop is on the trees, and which will bring high prices owing to next season's short crop, then come right away and inspect this particular orange grove, which should sell on sight at the low price here offered—$15,000. The water stock alone on this grove will sell for $3500. Trees were smudged and will bear a heavy crop next season. Have several good exchanges in orange groves, ranches and pomona city property.

FOR SALE—
Diversified Crops, Money-Making Crops on the Orosi Farms.

We are pleased to advise our clients and friends that the young orange trees planted last June on our demonstration farm were not hurt by the "worst freeze in 30 years" and even nursery stock seems to have escaped injury. This experience emphasizes the advantage of the Orosi district in Tulare county as a Naval orange territory, because our oranges ripen four to six weeks earlier than in Southern California and are shipped by Dec. 15.

The freeze also teaches the advantage of diversified crops. The Orosi Farms soil is choice for oranges, and it is also adapted to the growing of peaches, olives, figs, Thompson's seedless grapes, melons, berries, Turkish tobacco, alfalfa, etc. We will be glad to quote specific instances showing that the above crops yield $100-$300 an acre.

With such returns possible, our lands cannot long remain at $150-$200 an acre. We offer choice inducements to settlers. We will accept ¼ cash and wait six years for the balance.

Don't get scared. Grow oranges, but grow other crops as well. Twenty acres well tilled means luxury.

FOR SALE—
HOMESEEKERS DON'T MISS THIS.
We are just opening a new subdivision in a district that is already improved, where there are fine schools, churches, near a nice town, where there is an abundance of water already demonstrated, where people are making money and have made it for a long time, where they can raise oranges and sell them before it is time to lose them by frost, deep rich soil that will raise anything. We are offering this at prices and terms so that the man of SMALL MEANS can get a piece and have time to grow something before the next payment comes due. This is not a new district, but in a country where there are already all kinds of fruit and alfalfa. This is in Tulare county, in the famous OROSI DISTRICT. Come in and let me tell you about the proposition we are offering. C. H. ANTRIM, 606 Consolidated Realty Bldg.

GOVERNMENT LAND—

SOMEWHERE IN LOS ANGELES THERE are hundreds of people who want a home on government land where they can make a living and provide a future for their children and their old age. I have lived in Arizona for six years. I know practically every large tract of government land that is still open to the homesteader in Southern Arizona. I have made six years' study of the agricultural possibilities of Southern Arizona, and have traveled thousands of miles looking for suitable land where water for irrigation purposes could be secured at a minimum cost. I have located about 3000 acres of such land, rich river bottom land within three miles of the railroad, with abundance of water at from 10 to 30 feet. This land adjoins cultivated fields that produce sixty bushels of wheat, 40 tons of sugar cane, 10 crops of alfalfa and 5 tons of barley hay to the acre. I have located fourteen people on this tract of land since the 27th day of January. My next excursion will leave Los Angeles at 10:30 next Tuesday night. Round trip railroad fare only $16.25, and I have room and accommodations for only four people. Come and see me early if interested. This is a bona-fide proposition and means just what it says. MURRAY J. MORLEY, Secretary Southern Arizona Development Association, Hollenbeck Hotel, Los Angeles, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

SEE ME FOR LOCATION ON THE FOLLOWing government lands in the Imperial Valley. First come, first served.
640 acres, right in the improved section, with water available from ditch running by the land. Cheap for a quick location.
80 acres of as fine land as there is in Imperial Valley; plenty of water from present ditch on one side of the land; must be located within the next week.
80 acres, three miles from one of the best towns in Imperial Valley.
65 acres, no better anywhere. If you want something good see me about this.
160 acres, all ready for cultivation; can be filed at once and is a snap for anybody that gets it.
All of the above are open government lands together with about 20 other pieces and are all ready for immediate filing.
My Motto: "No filing, no pay!"

NOT A DISSATISFIED NOR A DISHEARTENED HOMESTEADER IN THIS VALLEY.
This valley is not going to be, but is today, the richest valley in the West.
The soil is a deep fertile sediment loam, inexhaustible in richness; it is level, with a gentle incline toward the river, which makes it easy for irrigation.
No hardpan; no alkali; plenty of water, suitable for 6 to 8 crops of alfalfa, deciduous fruits and early vegetables.
Land that is inferior to this land is now selling from $60 to $150 per acre.
Why buy land when Uncle Sam is offering you better land?
Failure on the above land is impossible because the water conditions are right and the climate is perfect. Near a large, prosperous, growing city, affording you a good ready market.
Call and see government maps, bulletin and reports. Courteous services to all.

FOR LEASE—ONE OF THE VERY FINEST apartment houses in the city, consisting of 112 fine large rooms. This building will be finished outside with glazed brick and stone, presenting a very elaborate appearance, and inside in mahogany and white enamel. Among other attractive features will be a very large veranda across the front, a large lobby and amusement room, each being over 40 feet long, roof garden, passenger elevator, etc. I have built many fine apartment houses, but this one is the best yet and the best part of this proposition is the location, which is up on the hill near Fourth and Hope, only five minutes from this office, where you can keep all your apartments rented all the year at top prices. I can convince any sane person in ten minutes that this is the best location in Los Angeles today. I will lease this building for ten years to a responsible tenant for $[illegible] per month. FOR EXCHANGE—
That property lying between 7th and 26th streets and Montana and Nevada avenues, Santa Monica, better known as the Palisades district, probably has no better natural conditions for homes in the world. Lying high and level, with a gentle slope toward the ocean, it commands a magnificent view of the surrounding country, the ocean, the mountains and the plain; the climate is unexcelled, being 10 deg. cooler in summer and 10 deg. warmer in winter than in Los Angeles, making ideal home conditions. I have 100 very choice residence lots within this district which I will sell on exceptional terms; I will take as partial payment any good property here or in the Eastern States. This will permit you to make some money on your investment. I will take you to the property in our auto at any time. This is a rare opportunity. Let me hear from you.

WANTED—FOR REALTY INVESTMENT.

It takes money to make money. This is true. Reliable real estate firm has an option on exceptionally fine piece of local property at a very low figure. We have not the necessary cash to finance the proposition, hence will take one person with $20,000 cash or will syndicate it with four persons of $5000 each. We can conservatively positively guarantee better than 25 per cent. on your money within one year. This is a straight business proposition by reliable parties, so do not answer unless you have the ready money. Your answer will be treated as confidential. Address Y, box 576, TIMES BRANCH OFFICE.

MONEY WANTED—

We own and offer for sale first mortgage notes, in coupon form, earning six per cent. interest, in amounts of $100, $250 and $500, secured by improved, close-in Los Angeles city property in west and southwest districts, appraised at double amount of loan. These mortgage notes are absolutely safe and conservative investments.

40 PER CENT.

AND SAFETY.

The principal and 6 per cent. interest are guaranteed by ample assets in the hands of a trustee and must be paid back if investors are not satisfied with the dividends from CASTALINE COMPOSING MACHINE SALES. Money for a larger factory is needed. Orders on books which cannot be filled; buyers urging delivery; estimated monthly profits from the enlarged factory $75,000. This is a substantial and safe investment, coupled with tremendous profits. A similar company paid over 1000 per cent. yearly. This company may do as well, but 40 per cent. is reasonably certain. Will you call and see the machine in operation or write for the safe plan of investment? G. E. FAIRHEAD, 513 Stimson Bldg., Third and Spring sts.

THE "WINNER" INVESTMENT CO. IS new in name only, as the men back of it are well-known builders. Our business is building and selling houses, especially bungalows. Last year's surplus earnings would enable us to pay several hundred per cent. on our original investment. "Winner" stock is now offered at par, 10 cents per share, 1 cent per share cash, balance per share per month. $5 per month pays for 500 shares. The price will be advanced soon without notice to 15c, equal to a 50 per cent. dividend. No promotion stock. A 20 per cent. redemption fund has been provided for those making small investments.

The important question is neither the amount of assets, nor the ratio between assets and liabilities, but are dividends satisfactory, and are they earned in the business, and what are future prospects?

Investors, bungalow buyers and owners of vacant lots please call.

RAMIFICATIONS OF A LIQUOR LICENSE FIGHT.

A COMPLAINT against Chief of Police W. H. Wood, and Officers Shelton and Worrell of Pasadena, charging them with contributing to the delinquency of Bernard Luce, aged 16 years, by using him to obtain evidence of the illegal sale of liquor at the Pekin Cafe, was laid before Judge Wilbur yesterday. If he signs it warrants will be issued for the arrest of the men.

The complainant is W. H. Shepp, proprietor of the Pekin Cafe. The Pasadena City Council has before it the revocation of his license for violation of the restaurant-liquor ordinance. Shepp is represented by Attorneys McKelvey & Stephens.

Stephens states that Charles A. Luce, father of Bernard, is preparing to bring suit against Wood, Shelton and Worrell for $10,000 damages for the alleged use they made of his son and the mental distress to the father upon discovery of this fact.

CHINATOWN NOTABLE PAID HIGH TRIBUTE.

PRAYERS will be said on two continent for the soul of Wong Fon Lung, one of Chinatown's wealthiest and most distinguished citizens, who died Thursday. Part of the funeral services was conducted yesterday afternoon under a canopy in front of one of the merchant's stores at No. 426 North San Pedro street, and the Chinese cemetery beyond Evergreen, from which place the body was returned to Button's morgue, No. 412 North Main street, to be sent to San Francisco today and from there across the Pacific to its final resting place i n Hongkong.

Mrs. Lung is on a visit in China and she was notified of her husband's death by cable. She sent word for the body to be sent there for burial.

About 2500 Chinamen visited Button's morgue in the two days that Lung's body was lying in state there. The funeral procession yesterday, was one of the largest known in the history of Chinatown. The hearse was followed by forty hired carriages and a large number of privately-owned vehicles. An altar was erected at the cemetery and the casket placed in front of it. The ceremony there consisted of prayers by the mourners, the burning of candles, music by a Chinese band, the burning of the clothing and personal effects of the departed Celestial and the making of an offering of food to placate evil spirits.

The roast pig and much of the ceremony usually performed at a Chinese funeral was omitted yesterday in accordance with a wish expressed by Lung on his death bed. He was in sympathy with the new republican government in China, which is seeking to free the people from superstitions that have existed for thousands of years.

Lung had been in Los Angeles forty years and in that time accumulated a fortune estimated at nearly half a million dollars. His company operated stores in several of the principal cities on the Pacific Coast and he had large real estate holdings both in this city and in San Francisco. Three grown sons were associated with him in business. He began business here with a capital of $50.

For years Lung acted as host to distinguished persons who visited Chinatown, and his duties gave him an extensive acquaintance. He was personally acquainted with all of California's Governors in the last twenty years. Six weeks ago Lung entertained a party of visitors which included the Mayor and Chief of Police. The merchant spoke English fluently and his children attended American schools.

ANTI-FROSTS TO REST ALL DAY.

CAMPAIGNERS WILL OBSERVE SABBATH IN SILENCE.

Have Addressed Fifty-five Hundred Persons at Seventeen Different Places, and Will Renew Activity Tomorrow—Find Citrus Growers Deeply Interested.

Having addressed 5500 persons in three days at seventeen different places, the State College of Agriculture frost reclamation campaigners will rest today and gain renewed energy for tomorrow's onslaught on old Jack Frost. This onslaught is scheduled to begin at Crafton at 9 a.m., and to be waged from there to Highgrove and then on to Riverside, Fernando, Whittier, Anaheim and Santa Ana.

"More than pleased with the interest shown," is the statement of Director Webber of the Citrus Experiment Station. "Not only are the growers attending the lectures, but are asking questions and otherwise showing lively interest in the problems presented by the frost."

Dr. Webber further said that not one discouraged grower was found.

General Manager Powell of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, who has been alternating day work here with night campaign speeches on the special, also expressed himself as pleased with the way the people are turning out to hear the speakers.

Dean Hunt of the State College of Agriculture and Dr. Webber have proved to be the William Jennings Bryans of the trip, speech-makers who never tire. Ex-Dean Wickson of the College of Agriculture; W. T. Clark, superintendent of farmers' institutes; J. E. Coit, professor of citriculture; J. B. Neff, conductor of farmers' institutes for Southern California, and J. S. Burd, chemist in charge of fertilizer control, are also with the party and are making speeches.

Especially pertinent has been the advice given by the experts regarding fertilizing and pruning. Everywhere the growers have been urged to be sparing in the application of fertilizer and in the use of the pruning-knife. Where strong fertilizer was applied before the frost the growing of cover crops has been urged as a means of checking the trees' tendency to make premature and unhealthy growth. It has also been shown that pruning before the dead wood can be accurately differentiated from the live wood is apt to cause misshapen trees. The alcohol test for frosted fruit has also been explained at every stop.

CAN'T MATCH FINGER PRINTS.

Police Identification Bureau Unproductive of Information Regarding Suspected Burglars.

The files of the Central Police Station identification bureau were searched yesterday in the hope that some record might be unearthed which would give the police a definite clew to the identity or possible criminal career of three men arrested early Friday morning on suspicion of having attempted to ransack a residence on West Eighteenth street, and a fourth man giving the name of Frank Lucas, who was arrested about noon in his room at No. 330 Crocker street.

Not a trace could be found in the records of any of the men. Their Bertillon measurements and finger prints taken Friday could not be duplicated among the thousands on file.

Bert Hamilton, alias "Curley;" George Johnson and Frank Smith, the trio arrested following the revolver duel, were closely questioned by detectives yesterday, but no information was gleaned from them.

Mrs. Hamilton visited her husband in jail yesterday, and left headquarters following a violent crying spell. She was not questioned by the police. The woman is being watched, it is said, in the hope that Bob Crawford, who escaped following the fight, will attempt to get into communication with his pals through her.

The men are held at the City Jail.

The statement was made yesterday that Lucas will probably not be prosecuted in connection with Friday morning's job. The police have satisfied themselves that he was not a member of the auto party. The most damaging evidence against him is that he was a room-mate of Smith.

MOTOR TRUCKS.

Pacific Metal Products Company Absorbs the F. L. Moore Company. A Torrance Concern.

Planning the largest automobile truck manufactory west of Detroit, with a yearly output of 100 completed cars, the Pacific Metal Products Company, whose capital stock was recently increased from $500,000 to $1,500,000, yesterday absorbed the F. L. Moore Motor Truck Company, capitalized at $250,000.

Edward Double, president of the Union Tool Company; W. L. Stewart, vice-president of the same concern, and C. F. Stratton, assistant general manger, with Robert Watchorn, treasurer of the Union Oil Company, and W. H. Wells of Chicago are the stockholders of the Pacific Metal Products Company. This company has been engaged in the manufacture of tanks, car steel, nuts and bolts and recently completed a fine plant at Torrance.

The F. L. Moore Motor Truck Company has been in existence three years and during that time has been engaged exclusively in the assembling of gasoline and distillate commercial trucks. The output last year was 193 trucks. The new company plans to manufacture all truck parts in its own shops.

MORE THOUSANDS COMING.

Passenger Services Expecting Great Rush of Tourists This Spring to the Land of Sunshine.

That 50,000 persons will come to California during the approaching colonist season is the prediction made by General Passenger Agent Peck of the Salt Lake, and others. Tickets are on sale under these rates from March 15 to April 15 and the advance waves of the great invading flood of home-seekers are expected to make their presence felt about March 19 or 20.

During the last colonists'season—the fall of last year—the railroads handled 35,000 persons into California, a goodly proportion of them to Southern California. The spring rush is usually 30 per cent. heavier than the fall rush, besides contributing more real settlers, many of those coming during the fall being winter tourists who may or may not settle here.

Climate has long been synonymous for Southern California, but it isn't climate so much as the manifold agriculture opportunities that attract the colonists. The East is kept almost constantly flooded with railroad literature telling of agriculture opportunities out here, but the months preceeding the colonists' season always brings cries for more literature, further information. At present the inquiries are many regarding the San Joaquin Valley, indicating that the valley is to come into its own.

DISPLAYS HORSE SENSE.

Animal Falls Into Ditch and Tramples Dirt Thrown in by Rescuers Until Hole's Filled.

Blistered hands, stiff backs, lame shoulders and the satisfaction of knowing they saved the life of a dumb brute is the sole reward of W. R. Pitsenberger, a humane officer, and Motorcycle Officer Hamilton for having saved the life of a horse that fell yesterday morning into a nine-foot excavation. The men rescued the animal by filling the trench with earth. It took them more than an hour.

The horse is of a team owned by the Barker & Thompson Dairy, No. 804 Hawthorne street. They were driven by Fred Kent of Latin Station. At Sichel and Broadway the team bolted. When Kent saw he could not control the horses and that they would run into a trench made by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Light Corporation, he jumped and escaped injury.

One of the horses fell into the excavation. When the harness was cut the animal dropped on the gas main at the bottom of the trench. With shovels Pitsenberger and Hamilton threw earth into the excavation. As the horse trampled it under his hoofs he was slowly raised to the street level. Not until the excavation had been filled within about a foot of the top could the horse be induced to step out. His only injury is a scratch on one ear.

BIG ANGELENOS, LARGE PROJECT.

FORM COMPANY TO DEAL IN HIGH-CLASS MORTGAGES.

Capitalized at Million Dollars and Backed by Many Local Capitalists, Plans Extensive Business in This City, in the East and in Foreign Countries.

Having for its principal purpose dealing in first mortgage bonds and loans, the American Mortgage Company, capitalized at $1,000,000 and organized by a group of local bankers, capitalists, business and professional men, will actively enter the financial field of Los Angeles tomorrow.

The company has been organized for some time and a few weeks ago was incorporated under the supervision of Dr. Peter Janss, its president. The bonds and loans dealt in by the company are to be secured by first liens on the highest class of improved income-producing real estate in Los Angeles and Southern California. On this basis the company will furnish money for the improvement of business and residential property.

The scope of the company also comprehends the reselling of mortgages to local investors, as well as through its European and eastern connections. Bond issues may also be purchased and resold to investors, and loans may also be made on a conservative bank basis, according to the plans projected.

The company is a close corporation, no stock being on the market, and among those interested are Dr. Peter Janss, Stoddard Jess, Isaac W. Hellman, Epes Randolph, Bishop Conaty, Dan Murphy, E. L. Doheny, C. A. Canfield, Gen. Otis, Arthur Letts, Willets J. Hole, H. F. Stewart, W. D. Woolwine, R. A. Rowan, E. T. Earl, M. H. Newmark, M. F. Ihmsen, O. F. Brant, Guy B. Barham, J. A. Jevne, Reese Llewellyn, John Llewellyn, Frank X. Pfaffinger, Frank Pierce, H. W. Tuck, William Lacy, R. H. Lacy, James A. Gibson, W. E. Dunn, Albert Crutcher, D. K. Trask, John H. Quinton, W. H. Code and J. Caussade.

Frank N. Fish, who has had fifteen years' experience in real estate loans and who for six years was cashier of the Metropolitan Trust and Savings Bank of San Francisco and more recently of the Merchants' National Bank of this city, is secretary and general manager of the company.

Jules Caussade, a stockholder, is one of the best-known capitalists of France and represents one of the largest French syndicates. He was a visitor in Los Angeles some time ago seeking investments here and at the time declared that $100,000,000 of French money is seeking an outlet on the Pacific Coast and especially in Southern California. Caussade will act as the European representative of the American Mortgage Company.

HURTS BIG AND LITTLE.

Bicyclist Painfully Injured When Knocked Down by Auto — Toes Crushed at Packing Plant.

A possible fracture, contusion of the jaw, and a one-inch laceration of the left thumb were sustained yesterday by William Hitchings, 34 years old, who lives at Fourth and Los Angeles streets, when knocked from his bicycle at Sixth and Los Angeles streets by an auto driven by Charles Severson, No. 354 West Fifty-fourth street. The young man was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

John Maldonado, 17 years old, No. 3115 Folsom street, may lose four toes of his left foot. The members were crushed in an elevator yesterday at the Cudahy packing plant.

Senobio Campos, 14 years old, lost his balance while making a high jump on the Violet-street playgrounds yesterday and sustained a fracture of the left radius. His arm was placed in splints at the Receiving Hospital and he was removed to his home, No. 1936 East Seventh street.

Local Stock Market Activities

BY JNO. O. KNIGHT.

Listed securities held the greater part of the investing public's attention during the past week. Union Oil was traded in heavily on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, at prices ranging from $97.00 on Monday to $92.12½ on Friday, when a slight reaction occurred. The market closed strong yesterday at $93.25. Several hundred shares changed hands during the week. First National Bank scored a new high record with sales at $725.00 per share.

Home Telephone stocks were also active. Continued rumors of the probable merger of the systems on the Pacific Coast have caused the bid and asked prices on most of these securities to advance several points in the last few days. Ten dollars has been bid for large blocks of Los Angeles Home Telephone Company and Portland Home Telephone stock sold as high as $17.50 the last week.

Of the unlisted securities, Great Republic Life Insurance stock has probably been watched with the greatest interest, as it was expected by many that the stockholders' meeting held during the past week would result in considerable demand for this issue. This activity, however, has not made itself manifest, as this stock was offered rather freely around $13.00 per share at the close of the week, with few bids better than $12.50. Funding Company of California remained steady around 87 cents, with offerings at from .89 to .90.

Cawston Ostrich Farm stock changed hands in small lots at around $31.00. Consolidated Realty remained firm around $110.00, with open orders for larger blocks of this stock at $106.00. Commonwealth Home Builders stock sold freely at 25 cents and .25½. Southern California Home Builders was in demand at 22 cents. Home Makers of Los Angeles showed considerable activity around 12 to 12½ cents. A few shares of Pacific Home Builders stock has been offered at around $1.50. Owing to the difficulties in which the Conservative Investment Company finds itself this stock has been offered around 15 cents, with few bids in the market above 10 cents.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Although regarded only as of a transitory character, there was an advance of 1 cent in egg prices yesterday. Receipts were lighter than usual during the past few days. It is probable that a decline will occur again during this week, although there may possibly be a slightly firmer market before it occurs. Butter was steady, as was also cheese.

Honey is up a little, owing to the shortage in the supply, and the predicted limited crop this season.

Prunes are about ½ cent easier, and raisins are just a shade weaker. Oranges are about the same. Apple receipts were good.

The vegetable market was without any particular feature, except that a heavy shipment of potatoes came in. Onion receipts were large also. Good shipments of sweet potatoes continue. Dried beans are showing quite a degree of firmness, Lady Washingtons and small whites having strengthened a little.

There has been a general advance of ½ to 1 cent in prices of ham and bacon, as well as some dried meats. Some kinds of olive oil are also up, because of the crop shortage last season.

There is an easier feeling in the hay market, owing to the recent rains, and a decline has occurred in alfalfa.

Reported receipts were: Eggs, 381 cases; butter, 17,850 pounds; cheese, 430 pounds; potatoes, 4711 sacks; onions, 1405 sacks; beans, four sacks; sweet potatoes, 149 sacks; apples, 2540 boxes.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

Union Oil Is Stronger; Provident Weaker—Consolidated Mines Active but Unchanged.

Union Oil stocks were again the chief center of interest, but the activity was good in other issues. As indicated likely in yesterday's report, Union Oil advanced, opening half a point above Friday's close, and making another quarter before the close. Final quotations were $93.12½ bid at $93.50. Provident was off a quarter of a point to $105.75. It held at that figure, closing with $105.75 bid at $106. Rice Ranch was up to $1.38 on one sale. Amalgamated sold at $83.50 again. Central was traded in at $1. California Midway showed a shade of strength, but opened at only 13¼. National Pacific was on the down grade to the extent of a quarter of a point.

Home Telephone common stock sold at $10.50 and Los Angeles Investment at $4.08. The former was a little stronger; the latter a little weaker. There were no closing quotations on National Pacific.

Consolidated Mines showed no change on good business.

Big Four Touches New High Point in Bid—Mexican Comstock Declines Three—Goldfields Quiet.

[Special service to The Times by B. F. Taylor, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Manhattan Big Four was the strong feature, closing 88 bid, a new high. The market for the Goldfield continues very contracted. Tonopah stocks were unchanged to 2½ points weaker. In the outlying camps, Nevada Hills lost 12½. Round Mountain was up 2. In the Comstocks Mexican showed a 3-point loss; Union dropped 1 point. Ophir was up 1. The market is totally lacking in interest.

New York Cotton Market.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—A late cable from Manchester yesterday spoke of enormous spinners' stocks and the refusal of further freight until spinners take delivery. As the Manchester situation has been so bullish, this probably caused Liverpool temporarily to let up in the strength it has shown for the past two weeks. The local feeling is decidedly bearish on the theory that all bullish factors have been discounted and conditions in the stock market are speculative. This constant turning of sentiment with the fluctuation of the market alternately weakens and strengthens the technical position and helps to keep it in a rut. A twenty-point decline will make everybody a bear and a similar advancement will convert them into bulls. October cotton is now only 130 points above what it was a year ago, when it continued its advance up to the end of July. Now, with a crop of 2,000,000 bales less and with the trade conditions good and the total available from this date forward 1,142,000 bales under last year, on the basis of a 14,000,000 crop, it does not seem logical that the new crop should be a sale. One must not fail to realize that a 16,000,000-bale crop a year ago opened up new channels and an increased demand for cotton from every corner of the earth, and if the [illegible] of Arbitration by Firemen on Eastern Lines on Terms [illegible] by the Companies Causes [illegible] Time on Wall Street. [illegible] Issues Are Strong.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Railroad [illegible] sold off sharply in the last five [illegible] of trading today after it [illegible] known that the representatives of the firemen on the eastern [illegible] had rejected arbitration of the [illegible] proposed by railway managers. Previous to this time the movement had been narrow and unimportant with a heavy tone at intervals. [illegible] definite information from [illegible] and concerning the prospects [illegible] strike of firemen has restricted [illegible] to small proportions. [illegible] was no pronounced selling [illegible] until the final drive, and as [illegible] operators seemed in no haste [illegible] the market was dull. Pennsylvania was one of the conspicuous [illegible] issues, selling down to 118, [illegible] since 1908. It was influenced not only by fears of a strike [illegible] by the reiteration of unconfirmed reports, which have been circulated recently to the effect that [illegible] block of the road's treasury [illegible] will be sold. The total unissued stock which is free [illegible] to stockholders is $80,- [illegible]. Although it was reported [illegible] selling interests had [illegible] price of refined copper for [illegible] delivery at 15 cents the copper [illegible] did not reflect the weakness of the metal markets. COPPER INDUSTRY.

[Furnished by E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

There was no London metal market yesterday.

Electrolytic copper delivered in thirty days for April and May is offered at 15 cents a pound in New York and some good-sized orders have been booked at that figure. This is about 1-8 cent a pound below Friday's lowest price.

The January report on Braden indicates that the various tunnels encircling the contact continue their advance in ore of good grade, adding to the already great length of continuous ore which has been penetrated by these workings. The No. 2½ Fortuna tunnel advanced eighty-nine feet during the month, the last 263 feet having averaged 2.67 per cent. copper. The No. 1 Teniente advanced ninety-six feet during the month. The last 144 feet averaged 2.33 per cent. copper. The No. 2½ Fortuna, located on the opposite side of the contact from the Teniente mine, is one of the later tunnels, and is not as far advanced as some of the other workings. The No. 2 Fortuna tunnel is the farthest advanced and the face of this tunnel is the nearest working to the No. 1 Teniente of the Teniente mine. Both of these are approaching each other at a depth of 1000 to 1500 feet. Approximately 1400 feet remains to make this connection. It is interesting to note that while the grade of ore in the No. 1 Teniente is not as high as formerly, the ore in the No. 2 Fortuna at last accounts averaged 3.24 per cent., which seems to indicate that possibly another shoot of higher grade material is about to be entered on the Fortuna side. During January there were produced at the property 1,484,000 pounds of copper, which is a considerable increase over recent months. Not only was production greater, but in nearly every department there was a decided improvement over the December results. After the alterations at the concentrator are completed, Braden's production should steadily increase.

The following dispatch from the City of Mexico will be of general interest to stockholders of the United States Smelting Refining and Mining Company: "In December this company milled approximately 41,000 tons of ore. The total for November was 39,200 tons. The company starts the year without any deferred charges—1,000,000 pesos having been charged off in 1912—and with the mines in better condition physically and with regard to ore reserves than at any previous time. The net earnings in 1912 were double those of any preceding year. The Rosario mine, the reopening of which was started in 1911, after twenty years of idleness, is now considered one of the company's most important properties, and has been completely equipped for operation on a scale of 300 tons a day. The United States Smelting, Refining and Mining Company, controlling Real del Monte, is anxious to acquire other properties in Mexico, and so far 150 visits of examination have been made. These have resulted in only four formal examinations and no purchases have been made.

The issuance of Ray Consolidated's December statement output makes possible a compilation showing total output of all the porphyry properties for 1912. This impressive total was 257,899,945 pounds, compared with 187,512,880 pounds in 1911, an increase of 70,387,065 pounds, or 38 per cent. The labor troubles at Utah Copper and Nevada Consolidated during the latter part of 1912 seriously handicapped these two properties. Barring these disturbances the combined output of the porphyries for 1912 would have totaled 280,000,000 pounds. The following shows output for 1912 compiled from official monthly output figures, compared with actual output for 1911, with increase or decrease (in pounds:)

"The trouble," writes the London Standard of the copper market, "has its origin in a very simple matter, the growth of supplies stimulated by high prices having been greater than that of consumption, hampered by the high cost of the metal. It is rather a curious thing that in times like the present the big American producers, whose holdings constitute the market menace, always seem unable or unwilling to take a bold course. Had the leading interests, instead of reducing their price by 10 shillings or so at a time, made a sharp cut, they could undoubtedly have liquidated the bulk of the burden, and the speculative market today, instead of being nervous to a degree, would in all probability have been steady at something above the current level. Producers will now possibly have to reduce their rates still further, and it is the uncertainty which exists on this score that is responsible for the prevailing nervousness. Rumor has it now that, disappointed with the results of their policy, for the sales have been relatively insignificant, the chief producers intend to lower their price until they have cleared off everything held, confining themselves henceforward to selling current output. The adoption a few months ago of the policy of selling when people wanted to buy instead of piling up stocks would have saved the copper market many anxious days."

WHEAT GOES UP AND THEN DOWN

OWNERS OF THE CEREAD MAKE A TRY TO REALIZE PROFITS.

Fresh Advance Is More Than Wiped Out and the Market on the Chicago Board of Trade Closes Weak at Prices Ranging from Former Level to Three-eighths Under.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Possibility of rain or snow tempted wheat owners to try and realize profits. In consequence, a fresh advance was more than wiped out and the market closed weak, at prices ranging from last night's level to 3-8 down.

Corn finished at 1-8@1-4 to 1-4@3-8 off; oats at a decline of 1-4@3-8 to 3-8, and provisions varied from unchanged to a rise of 12½.

Buying of wheat was so brisk that many shorts were forced to cover. Dry weather in the American winter crop belt and lack of snow protection in Russia gave most of the courage to the bull side.

Opinions that it was too early by thirty days to have a crop scare, helped turn the trade to the selling side. In addition, receipts at primary points were liberal and rain had visited the Punjab.

Despite alleged scarcity of forage southwest, corn eased off with wheat and because of limited shipping demand. More than 6000 cars of corn were reported as being held back from elevators here by a blockage on the belt line. Belated investors lifted oats a trifle, but, substantially, the market was slow to absorb offerings.

Provisions averaged higher throughout the day. Most of the improvement came from an advance at the yards.

FINE MATINEE RACES.

Little Bernice Shows Her Class in Interesting Matinee Given by Los Angeles Driving Club.

Notwithstanding the many other attractions the harness races of the Los Angeles Driving Club drew a fair sized crowd of spectators to Exposition Park yesterday and the sport was all that the enthusiasts could ask for.

The five races on the card were interesting in many ways and one of the best was the first one, the 2:18 pace, which Little Bernice won, with a best time of 2:15. The club officials intend to give these little matinees every two weeks, weather permitting.

Discovers A Rich Gold Mine

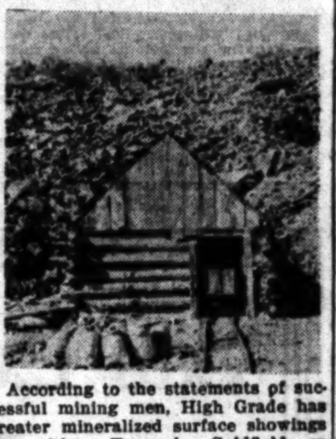
A Horse Trader Located and Owned the Rich SUNSHINE Mine at High Grade.

The richest gold mine at High Grade, the new gold camp located in the northeastern corner of Modoc county, California, was located by Jack Laughlin of Klamath Falls, Oregon. Laughlin was trading horses in Goose Lake Valley when he heard of gold having been found in the Warner Mountains. He immediately went into the district and staked many claims, among them being the now famous SUNSHINE. He disposed of his interest in the SUNSHINE for a few dollars because he considered the claim of little value at the time and was pleased with his bargain when the sale was made.

Little work was done on the Sunshine until the fall of 1911, when Charley Laughlin, a brother of Jack's, began prospecting the ground and in a few days he located the bonanza pay streak from which has been taken rock assaying over $20,000 per ton. Carload shipments have given returns of $248 per ton.

Last June this mine which was peddled for a few dollars by Laughlin was sold to mining men of Los Angeles for $68,000. These gentlemen had previously bought adjoining claims and at once consolidated all of their properties and organized the Sunshine-High Grade Mining Company, choosing as officers and directors, bankers and successful business men of Lakeview, Oregon, among whom are Felix Green, W. P. Heryford, J. D. Heryford, F. M. Miller and Senator W. Lair Thompson.

A portion of the Sunshine properties is under lease to miners who are working the ground on a royalty plan. The company reserved the richest part and will determine the extent of the gold deposits by sinking a shaft. The ore is sacked as taken from the mine.



According to the statements of successful mining men, High Grade has greater mineralized surface showings than either Tonopah, Goldfield or Cripple Creek, and the ore found in the Sunshine mine at shallow depth is surprisingly rich. Greater depth, it is claimed, will make this mine a sensational producer of gold and those associated with it wealthy.

The successful development of the mines at High Grade will not only produce millions of dollars of new wealth, but prove of far-reaching benefit to the entire tributary country. The discovery of Goldfield built a city of 20,000 people in the heart of the Nevada desert, 200 miles from the regular beaten lines of travel. The discovery of gold transformed a cow pasture into the world's greatest gold camp with a production in a few years of $300,000,000 and brought a population of 50,000 people to the mountains in the shadow of Pike's Peak, Colorado. It turned the small village of Colorado Springs into one of the richest and most prosperous places in that State. The mining industry of Colorado made the beautiful city of Denver with its 300,000 population.

High Grade, with its wonderful mineralized formation, may surpass in production any of the gold camps that have been discovered in the past. Go into this mineral belt of country and you will be astonished at the surface showing and marvel at the richness of the rock. Investigate High Grade. See it for yourself. Join some one in the ownership of a mine or buy stock in the best companies working in that promising gold field. It may be your turning point and bring you wealth in abundance. Mining has brought others millions, it may treat you as well.

Stock in the Sunshine mine, the richest mine at High Grade is offered at 25c per share.

Powerful.

ONE SAYS NO, ANOTHER YES.

Distributing System Subject of Much Argument.

City Club Hears Both Sides of Electric Project.

Positive and Negative Talk Sounds Convincing.

The city's power project and the proposed issue of $6,500,000 to construct or acquire a distributing system was the subject under discussion at the City Club yesterday. Chief Engineer Scattergood of the Power Bureau spoke in favor of the proposed bond issue and Herbert J. Goudge spoke in opposition, arguing that the city should use other means at this time to utilize the power to be generated, and not add the $6,500,000 bond issue to its financial burdens at present.

Scattergood presented practically the same arguments in favor of the proposed power bonds and against the acceptance of propositions made by the power companies that he has given in several public assemblages recently, and which have been fully reported in The Times.

He outlined the general plan of the power system and the purposes of the proposed bond issue, told of the work now under construction on the big project and work that is proposed, and gave details of the progress of the work. He summarized the benefits which should be realized from the city's power and the possibility of relief to taxpayers through this source of city revenue. Then followed a review of the negotiations with the power companies and a discussion of the proposals received from these companies.

FOR GOOD PURPOSE.

In closing he declared that those opposing the proposed bond issue "would make it appear that those who are urging the approval of power bonds are intent on the installation of an independent system and the destruction of existing properties, while, in fact, those who are urging power bonds have done everything possible to avoid the necessity of an independent system, at the same time preserving the city's interest, and are intent on nothing other than securing to the public good service at the lowest possible rates."

Goudge, in presenting the opposite side of the argument, declared that this is simply a business question as to whether the city shall incur the proposed $6,500,000 indebtedness at this time. He used a series of charts reviewing the city's financial condition during the past few years and up to the present time, and declared that the city's bonded indebtedness has been increased 7½ per cent. within six years; that assessment valuations have been raised, but in spite of that fact the rate of taxation has increased; and that in the past six years the bonded debt of the city has increased four times as great as the increase in property valuations.

The speaker then took up the subject of the ethical right of the city to do that which it is wrong for corporations to do. He declared that if the city went before the State Railroad Commission with a proposition that could have no other outcome than to put every private corporation out of business, it would not be given ten minutes of time for a hearing.

OTHER WAYS TO DO IT.

He urged that there are ways and means available whereby the city will be able to utilize the power to be generated along the Los Angeles Aqueduct without burdening itself at this time with the proposed bond issue, and declared that unless the city halts in its mad career of piling up bonded indebtedness it will soon stand far at the head of the cities of the United States in bonded indebtedness in proportion to its population.

In discussing the ways available for the city to utilize the power to be produced, the speaker said that it is possible for Los Angeles to enter immediately upon the absolute control of the distribution of electricity, even by eliminating the proposition of leasing the power to the companies now in the field.

He outlined the proposition of the power companies to lease to the city at a reasonable return on the valuations, the present power distributing systems and declared that this proposition ought to commend itself to every business man unless he is committed to the idea that the city will not have anything unless it secures the legal title thereto.

He then outlined the agency plan, whereby the power companies propose that the city shall make them its agents to distribute the power generated by the city's plants, and said that either of these propositions open the way for the distribution of power from the aqueduct without the city having at this time to increase its bonded indebtedness for a distributing plant that would practically mean the ruination of the plants now installed by the private corporations.

ORANGE LAND SALES.

M. S. Robertson and E. M. Sheridan report the following sales for the Orosi Orange Land Company, since February 1: Frank D. Pritz and Carl D. Stewart, forty acres, $9000; R. M. Bobst, twenty acres, $4600; Harry A. and Guy C. Orcutt, twenty acres, $4000; E. S. Warren, forty acres, $8000; John Montgomery, forty acres, $7000; Van Cleve Construction Company, seven and a half acres, $1125; E. B. Milnor, seven acres, $1068; G. P. and J. W. Cummings, twenty acres, $2600, and J. L. Walker, twenty acres, $3500.

SEEK HARBOR DISTRICT.

J. W. Weightman and Edwin W. Sandison, Jr., report the sale of 115x160 feet on the west side of Main street, Wilmington, between Third and Fourth streets, to the Los Angeles Smoked Fish Company, the consideration being given at $6500. The company's plant is now situated at Sixth and Santa Fe avenue, where its business has outgrown the capacity of the present plant. The concern will erect a plant, handling three tons of fish daily. The building to be erected will be a one-story brick structure, 80x140 feet in size, with concrete basement.

BUYS WESTLAKE SITE.

Charles O. Middleton, a local realty operator, has purchased a lot, 100x150 feet in size, on the west side of Westlake avenue, between Seventh and Eighth streets, for a reported consideration of $20,000. Middleton is having plans drawn for a 140-room apartment-house, which he proposes to erect within a few months.

To Develop "Tejon."

number of thriving urban communities.

A REALTY SENSATION.

The sale of the huge tract now commonly known as the "Tejon ranchos" by the heirs of Gen. Edward F. Beale to a syndicate composed of about thirty Los Angeles investors was the real estate sensation of 1912 in California. This great pastoral empire, lying in the elbow formed by the Sierra Nevada and Coast Ranges at the southern end of the San Joaquin Valley, approximates in size the State of Rhode Island, including within the confines of its four great Spanish grants more than 276,000 acres of land in one body.

The Tejon ranchos, at the time they passed out of the possession of Truxton Beale and his two sisters, Mrs. John R. McLean and Madame Bachmetieff, were in essentially the same condition as when Gen. Beale himself took up his residence on the tract. Like their father, the heirs of the distinguished scholar, warrior and transcontinental surveyor paid no attention to the practical financial exploitation of the enormous holding. For fifty years the property, though boasting an incalculable wealth of undeveloped agricultural and horticultural possibilities, together with unestimated, though certain, timber and mineral resources, was permitted to remain what Beale first made it, a live-stock rancho.

Gen. Beale bought the southernmost unit of the property, the La Liebre grant of 48,799 acres, while he was Surveyor-General of California—an appointee of President Lincoln. At the same time he came into possession of the Rancho Castaic of 22,178 acres. His next purchase was the original Tejon grant of 97,612 acres, and a little later he acquired Los Alamos grant of 26,626 acres. Purchases of railroad lands and other tracts, made from time to time during the years that followed, brought the total acreage up to the present proportions.

The property lies for the greater part in Kern county, although a considerable portion of the south end is in Los Angeles county. The entire distance from the north end of the Tejon grant, a point about fifteen miles east of Bakersfield, to the south end of La Liebre grant is forty-two miles in a straight line and at its widest part the tract is about thirty miles across.

Tejon Pass, the gap between the Sierra Nevada and Coast Ranges selected by the State Highway Commission as the route for the $18,000,000 roadway now being extended through California from end to end, is entirely within the Castaic grant of the property and is expected to play a vital part in the establishment of communication between the great ranch holding and the outside world, once the contemplated developments are under way.

SAVED WATER RIGHTS.

Gen. Beale in surveying the property so ran his lines as to secure the horticultural purposes. One thing water sources of the score or more streams flowing into the valleys on the ranches, doing so entirely with an eye to the future of the property as a grazing region. It is not believed that he ever seriously considered the possibility of utilizing these water sources for the extensive irrigation of arable lands for agricultural and is certain, however, Beale, in surveying the tract as he did, secured for the rancho for all time water rights that make feasible the development of at least 150,000 acres of table, foothill and valley lands in the ranchos. Men with capital, push and big experience now propose to accomplish what the original owner of the property probably never dreamed of attempting—the conversion of the holding into one of the richest soil principalities in the world.

Beale, himself, was well aware of the soil fertility of his plain, hill and mountain lands. At the ranch headquarters he caused to be developed in the years before he came to take up a permanent residence in Washington about 100 acres of high table land directly in the course of a clear mountain stream. Here, with simple wooden gates tapping the natural year-around flow and conducting it to lateral ditches, there was developed an orange grove, the product of which has always been and is today as nearly perfect as citrus fruit can grow. In this little cultivated spot in a realm of grazing land are also fig and olive groves, a mixed orchard of peaches, apricots, pomegranates and pears and a large vineyard.

On the ranch there has always been grown from 2000 to 5000 acres of barley which has been fed to the animals on the place in the form of hay. In the old days the Indians of the Beale grants used to grow fifty centals of wheat to the acre in a portion of the ranchos irrigated by a small creek. In the southern end of the rancho, over in the Antelope Valley, the vaqueros in charge of the cattle enjoy the fruits of a few apple trees that rival in the excellence of their product the best grown in California. Experts pronounce different portions of the property ideally adapted in point of soil, elevation and climate for a great variety of products.

At the time of the recent damaging frosts the small groves at the Tejon ranch-house suffered no damage, practically all the fruit having been previously picked. A small nursery containing 5000 young orange trees, some less than a year old, was not affected, although in no way protected from the elements. The present owners of the ranch, as the result of their observations, declare that they have a great advantage over the citrus growers south of the Tehachepi, once they begin the development of the lands of the Tejon Ranchos, because their fruit will be ripened, picked and in storage before frost can get to them.

It is such favorable indications and conditions as these, say those taking over the 5000-acre tract conveyed by the ranch owners during the past week, that influenced the members of the buying corporation to announce their intention of developing the whole acquisition as a citrus grove holding. The 5000-acre piece lies on land with the same slope, elevation and exposure as that of the little cultivated tract around the main ranch-house and has identical soil and climate conditions. The tract to be developed is in the northern portion of the property and will be irrigated from a stream rising high in the Sierra Nevadas.

POLITICAL TIPS.

The New York Mail calls attention to the fact that Gov. Wilson was nominated and elected the Chief Executive of New Jersey by "a party pledged to free the people from the corporate monsters which had fastened themselves upon the State. But as soon as he was elected he turned his back upon his office and wandered throughout the country preparing the way for his own election to the Presidency. It was only after his safe election to a higher place that the Governor of New Jersey undertook a few weeks of the grave work which the whole country had for two long years expected him to do. With the exception of a commission government provided for the city of Trenton, his official record has been a blank. He has been an absentee Governor. This is the actual and significant showing of the highly-educated and trained man who will be the next President of the United States."

The President-elect is becoming irritated with the newspapers because they continually seek information regarding the make-up of his Cabinet. The other day he said: "If the newspapers expect me to tell what I intend to do, I'll not do it. I won't tell anyone."

There is evidently a good Democratic administration in control of New York State's affairs. Gov. Sulzer says he is no spoilsman, yet one of the first bills he signed resulted in the summary removal without cause or charges of five Republicans from places in the Adjutant-General's office. The new law allows the Adjutant-General to remove or appoint assistants under him and to select them, if he chooses, from civil life. The old law provided that the assistants must be selected from the national guard and could not be removed except on charges.

Ohio Democrats have evolved a gerrymander scheme for the purpose of changing some of the present Republican Congressional districts so that Democrats may be elected. Congressman Ashbrook of the Seventeenth and Connressman Willis of the Eighth district are especially selected for decapitation by the proposed gerrymander, and other districts that are just barely Democratic will be strengthened so that no election fluke may cause a Democrat to be defeated.

The Oklahoma Legislators propose to make a radical reduction in the number of offices in counties of less than 45,000 population. These counties are now organized the same as the most densely populated counties of the State. One bill proposes the abolition of all township offices and conferring their duties upon the County Commissioners. Another bill abolishes the office of Assessor in all counties and confers the duties upon the County Treasurer. More radical changes are proposed for counties of less than 20,000 population.

While Hadley was Governor of Missouri he had seven dogs as a part of the furnishing of the executive mansion at Jefferson City. When his term of office expired he gave to each one of his colonels a dog as long as the supply lasted, rather than leave the animals to the mercy of a Democratic administration. Not a dog was permitted to run any chance of becoming homeless.

The vaudeville inaugural parade being prepared for the inauguration of Woodrow Wilson is continually receiving novel additions, one of which will be a troop of mounted Indian maidens in the cavalry division of the suffragette pageant. This will be the first time Indian women will have taken any part in the suffragette movement.

The vocabulary of the United States Senate has been enriched by the addition of "whangdoodle." The other day Senator Martin was trying to find out why the Judiciary Committee had not reported out the anti-injunction bill, and said he had received only "platitudinarial assurances" as to what would be done.

Senator Nelson, a member of the committee, replied that the bill would not be hurried in any "whangdoodle manner" or by any "whangdoodle haste." Mr. Martin is now searching the dictionaries to determine the meaning of the new word in reference to Legislation.

One of the novel propositions sprung upon the South Carolina Legislature is that no citizen be allowed to own more than $10,000,000 or be proprietor of more than 1000 acres of land. There are any number of South Carolina citizens who own more than 1000 acres of land, but it is doubtful if any single man in the State can lay claim to $10,000,000. It is not believed there are more than a dozen millionaires in the whole State, so that there is little danger of the $10,000,000 limit being crowded.

A direct move to lower the high cost of living is the purpose of a measure before the Wisconsin Legislature. The effect of the bill would put the consumer in the cities in direct communication with the farmer, country dealer and merchant, and wipe out the high profit of the middleman through a direct system of marketing.

Gov. Foss of Massachusetts, who has been credited by the politicians with a desire for a fourth term in his present office, now says that he aspires to be Mayor of Boston. This may arouse the antagonism of Mayor Fitzgerald, who has received the Governor's cold shoulder in some of his political aspirations.

Gov. Dunne of Illinois has been in the limelight the past week because of a verbal attack he made upon the whisk-brush boy in a restaurant. "Touch me again with that broom and I will have you arrested," ejaculated the Governor. In its joy over the Governor's warning the New York Sun says: "Glory to Dunne, a name made sympathetic, endeared to all of us; now we can take sanctuary under it from the whisk-broom devil."

That Kansas may be saved from the appalling scourge of weed seeds and to release farmers of the State from the grip of the dodder and bindweed, the Agriculture Committee of the Senate is figuring on introducing a bill calling for the sale of only pure crop seed. It is stated that from 1 to 6 per cent. of the seed sown each crop season on the Kansas farms is weed seed. The new bill will regulate the sale of seed at seed stores, mills and elevators throughout the State. Figures show that Kansas spends $6,000,000 annually for seed, and of this it is estimated that $1,000,000 each year goes for weed seed. H. F. Roberts, botanist of the Kansas Experiment Station, has written an extensive article on the question.

Gov.-elect Hatfield of West Virginia indicates an intention to have a house-cleaning in the State offices, and that the "invisible government" and the "infernal lobbyist" of whom Gov. Glasscock has complained will be driven into the open. "If the Legislature will give me the power," he says, "I will do the rest."

The contest over the United States Senatorship being waged in the Tennessee Legislature is declared by the Memphis Commercial Appeal to have "reduced itself to a continuous exhibition of political jockeying." There is no principle in the contest. The various candidates have not given out declarations of faith. Some State-widers are for local option candidates and some local optionists are for State-wide candidates. Some so-called Democrats are for a candidate who voted for Hooper. Some Republicans are for candidates who voted for McMillin. Into the contest the offices of Comptroller, Treasurer and Secretary of State have been thrust as prizes. Other alluring "prospects" are being held out, and yet the fault is said to be not in the candidates, but in the method of the contest.

MEXICAN REARRESTED.

Insurrecto Accused of Killing Ranchman Defending His Home, to Be Prosecuted by Consul.

Heraculio Romero, whose extradition on the charge of killing Pedro Arguilles, May 23, 1912, at Canada Verde rancho, was denied by United States Commissioner Owen ten days ago, was rearrested yesterday on the same charge, and in default of bail was returned to the County Jail where he has been held since the hearing on the orders of the District Attorney.

It is alleged that Romero was a member of the Gen. Tirsa de la Toba band of insurrectos who terrorized the boundary line some months ago, and that Arguilles was shot while defending his family and his home. At the former hearing, one of the witnesses endeavored to establish an alibi in behalf of Romero, claiming that he was in El Centro the day of the killing, but investigation into the standing of the witness caused the rearrest of Romero.

Mexican Consul Baz, is certain that Romero is the man and will furnish testimony to that end when the case is again presented. Romero was shot in the foot in one of the skirmishes with the Federal troops, and this wound has acted as a means of his identification.

Secret Service Agent Hazen returned yesterday from Phoenix where he assisted in the indictment of C. P. Wagnon and James Danielson, charged with passing counterfeit 50-cent coin all the way from Tucson to Phoenix. Hazen thinks the men also operated in Los Angeles, and that they have a bad record, both of which propositions he will try to establish by his office memoranda and collection of rogues' gallery pictures.

MAY BUY CEMENT PLANT.

County Considers Purchase of Factory Now Owned by Aqueduct to Keep Cost within Bounds.

There appears a strong possibility that Los Angeles county, through the Board of Supervisors, may acquire ownership of the Monolith Cement plant, now the property of the Los Angeles Aqueduct. The question as to the practicability of this purchase will come before the board tomorrow.

Members of the Board of Supervisors, in discussing the matter yesterday, said the advisability of such a move had been considered and predicted that definite action would be taken. According to the Supervisors there are many reasons why the acquisition of the cement plant by the county would be a wise step. With a view to making the purchase in, event of an investigation justifying such action, it is more than likely that a committee will be appointed tomorrow to take the matter up officially.

It is pointed out by those favoring the purchase that the acquisition of this plant would enable the county to keep the price of cement within bounds as it has been heretofore. The location of the plant also, while said to have been considered rather out of the way when the question of its purchase by the city was up, is thought to be admirably suited to the convenience of the county in carrying on its work. Members of the board said yesterday that the matter would either be considered by the members as a whole or sent to a special committee for investigation. The inference was that in event of everything being satisfactory the county would make the contemplated purchase.

Lofty Hotel Projected for Adjoining Site.

A frame shack of a generation gone by which has long marred the metropolitan sky-line of South Spring will soon be removed to keep company in oblivion with the antiquated structures just wrecked at the site of the projected Merchants' National Bank block at the northeast corner of Sixth and Spring. The structure in question is the one-story wooden store building adjoining the Hibernian building at Fourth and Spring, on the south, and occupying forty feet of valuable frontage on the east side of Spring. In its place I. W. Hellman of San Francisco is to rear a modern seven-story structure of fireproof construction as an addition to the great building now bearing his name and which fronts on Fourth and Main streets.

Designs for this important improvement are now being prepared by Morgan, Walls and Morgan, architects of that portion of the present I. W. Hellman block fronting on Fourth street and successors to the firm of Morgan & Walls, planners of the original I. W. Hellman building on Main street, as well as of many other of the noteworthy structures of modern Los Angeles. The Spring-street addition will be joined by wide corridors with the buildings already erected by the San Francisco banker and will comprise an integral part of the whole improvement.

The addition will be forty feet in width and will have a depth of 160 feet. It will be handsomely faced with matt glazed terra cotta. The first story will contain two storerooms, the upper floors being given over entirely to offices. The elevators of the present I. W. Hellman block will serve the tenants of the projected addition.

The original portion of the building, that adjoining the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank on Main street, was erected in 1906 and is 140x160 feet in dimensions. The Fourth-street addition was completed in 1911 and has a frontage of 160 feet by a depth of sixty feet. With the addition of the Spring-street structure, the building will have a total street frontage of 340 feet and will extend from Main to Spring. In point of ground area covered and the number of offices provided, it will be the largest block of its class in Los Angeles.

FINE BLOCK TO REPLACE SHACK.

Up-to-Date Office Building for South Spring.

To Be Part of Big Structure Started Years Ago.

Lofty Hotel Projected for Adjoining Site.

A frame shack of a generation ago which has long marred the metropolitan sky-line of South Spring will soon be removed to keep company in oblivion with the antiquated structures just wrecked at the site of the projected Merchants' National Bank block at the northeast corner of Sixth and Spring. The structure in question is the one-story wooden store building adjoining the Hibernian building at Fourth and Spring, on the south, and occupying forty feet of valuable frontage on the east side of Spring. In its place I. W. Hellman of San Francisco is to rear a modern seven-story structure of fireproof construction as an addition to the great building now bearing his name and which fronts on Fourth and Main streets.

Designs for this important improvement are now being prepared by Morgan, Walls and Morgan, architects of that portion of the present I. W. Hellman block fronting on Fourth street and successors to the firm of Morgan & Walls, planners of the original I. W. Hellman building on Main street, as well as of many other of the noteworthy structures of modern Los Angeles. The Spring-street addition will be joined by wide corridors with the buildings already erected by the San Francisco banker and will comprise an integral part of the whole improvement.

The addition will be forty feet in width and will have a depth of 160 feet. It will be handsomely faced with matt glazed terra cotta. The first story will contain two storerooms, the upper floors being given over entirely to offices. The elevators of the present I. W. Hellman block will serve the tenants of the projected addition.

The original portion of the building, that adjoining the Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank on Main street, was erected in 1906 and is 140x160 feet in dimensions. The Fourth-street addition was completed in 1911 and has a frontage of 160 feet by a depth of sixty feet. With the addition of the Spring-street structure, the building will have a total street frontage of 140 feet and will extend from Main to Spring. In point of ground area covered and the number of offices provided, it will be the largest block of its class in Los Angeles.

The early erection of a ten-story hotel building on the site adjoining that of the new Hellman improvement is in contemplation by N. W. Stowell of this city. The lot, like its neighbor, is improved with an old frame building, the removal of which would be heralded with general satisfaction. Negotiations for a tenant for such a structure as that contemplated by Stowell are now under way, but there is as yet nothing definite in the project. The site has a frontage of fifty feet.

SALES AND LEASES.

Hotel Broker Reports Transfers of Close-in Hotels and Apartments. Extra Story for Improvement.

E. M. Whilton, hotel broker, reports the following leases and sales of hotels and apartments:

To Mrs. Emma Curtis, lease and furniture of the eighty-room Twain Hotel, No. 515½ West Seventh street, $8500 cash, the lease still having four years to run. W. L. Graham is the seller.

To E. Ingram of Los Angeles, lease and furniture of ninety-five-room Wawona apartments, No. 525 Wall street, $7500 cash. The lease has four years to run. T. W. Towne is the seller.

To Mrs. Anna McClellan, lease on Buckingham Hotel, corner Ocean Front and Clubhouse avenue, Venice, two years. Peter Haack is the lessor.

To Mrs. Harrington of Los Angeles, ten-year lease on thirty-five-room hotel now under course of construction at No. 828 Boston street; total rental, $18,000. Mrs. A. H. Sheldon is the lessor. This deal was handled in connection with Barney Brunk, hotel broker.

Whilton also reports leasing to Mrs. Margaret Bush an additional story to the building she leased some months ago, and which is now under construction at No. 937 South Flower street. The building will have four stories instead of three, as originally planned. J. A. Anderson and Mrs. Clara Shatto are the lessors.

WORK ALL NIGHT.

Tillers of Vast Fields in San Fernando Valley Busy Whole Twenty-four Hours of the Day.

OWENSMOUTH, Feb. 15.—Ten huge caterpillar traction plows and harrows, provided with powerful acetylene headlights, are being used all night, as well as through the day, to till a vast area of beet sugar, lima bean and grain land around this place. The American Beet Sugar Company alone has 13,000 acres under cultivation and because the soil is now just right for seeding the traction plows are operated twenty-four hours a day, each plow cutting twenty acres in that length of time. In addition to these huge devices 200 or more mules are being used in auxiliary work.

The American Beet Sugar Company will seed 5000 acres to sugar beets this season and 8000 acres to beans and grain, according to the Janss Investment Company. This corporation last year tilled 8000 acres to beets and found the crop highly profitable.

At the Workman ranch, in the same part of the San Fernando Valley, 1600 acres are being prepared for sowing. At the Elliott-Brant ranch 1400 acres are being plowed. Other big areas are under attention at the West, Home and Patton ranches. Smaller ranchers are well advanced with their work.

CARNEGIE NAMES TERMS.

Iron Master Offers Glendale Library Building Under Certain Conditions.

GLENDALE, Feb. 15.—A communication has been received from Andrew Carnegie by the Trustees of this city stating that Mr. Carnegie is willing to give the city a library costing $12,500, providing the Glendale people will provide a suitable site and appropriate $1250 yearly for the upkeep of the property. For the past several months the local people have been waiting for a chance of this kind.

The city of Glendale has purchased sixty-seven acres in Verdugo Canyon at a total cost of $2040. The terms paid were $500 down, the city assuming a $1000 mortgage and paying $540 at 7 per cent. on time.

NEW HOME FOR LOZIER.

Leading Automobile Concern Takes Ten-Year Lease on Fine Garage Projected at Figueroa and Pico.

For a term of ten years and at a given total rental consideration of $100,000, the Bekins-Speers Motor Company, agent for the Lozier and Abbott-Detroit cars, has leased from J. A. Graves, a two-story, fireproof garage building to be erected by the latter at the northeast corner of Figueroa and Pico streets. Garrett V. Winne, manager of the leasing department of Frank D. Tatum & Company, acted as broker in the deal.

Plans for the structure contemplated are now being prepared by Morgan, Walls & Morgan. The building will replace an old frame store and will constitute an important new, close-in improvement. It will be one of the most up-to-date structures of its type in the city, and will contain a large and handsomely finished display room, lighted from both street frontages.

NEW VERMONT SQUARE.

The Southwest Land Company reports nineteen houses started in New Vermont Square during the past week. The names of the builders follow: G. Michel, corner Forty-fifth and Raymond; E. P. Pratt, corner Forty-eighth and Raymond; Johanna Chick, Forty-ninth between Raymond and Normandie; H. E. Herrin, corner Fiftieth and Budlong; G. N. Friberg, Fifty-first between Vermont and Kansas; Hugh C. Gibson, Forty-sixth between Normandie and Halldale; F. G. Redmond, corner Forty-sixth and Halldale; Mary Clancey, Forty-first between Gramercy and Arlington; Paul H. Muskat, Forty-first between Gramercy and Arlington; Rochester Building Company, two houses, Forty-second place between St. Andrews and Gramercy, and Forty-second place between Western and St. Andrews; Leon H. Sherwood, Forty-second place between Western and St. Andrews; Henry Kriesman, Forty-first between St. Andrews and Gramercy; H. R. Ellis, Forty-third between Western and St. Andrews; G. J. Gliever, Forty-first drive between Gramercy and Arlington; Matt T. Mancha, corner Forty-third and St. Andrews; R. C. O'Haver, Forty-third between Gramercy and Arlington; August W. Johnson, Forty-first drive between Gramercy and Arlington, and G. J. Horton, Forty-third between Gramercy and Arlington.

PLANS FINE BUNGALOW.

The Janss Investment Company reports the sale of a lot on Alexandria street, near Hollywood boulevard, to W. N. Sarver, who plans to build on the site a $5000 bungalow. The same company reports the sale of a site on Hollywood boulevard, in the same tract, to a local investor, who is now having plans drawn for an apartment-house. Both sites are in the subdivision recently placed on the market by Arthur Letts, and which adjoins the Holmby house estate of the Broadway merchant.

Top of the Heap.

LOS ANGELES FAR IN LEAD.

Beats New York in January Building Activity.

Eclipses Philadelphia and Chicago Combined.

Other Coast Cities Shine in Construction.

Los Angeles completely eclipsed all other cities in the United States in the number of permits issued for new buildings during the month of January, according to statistics compiled by Construction News of Chicago. The local building department, in fact, granted during the opening month of 1913 exactly 349 more permits than were issued in New York City, with its five great boroughs and its population of 5,000,000, and eighty-four more permits than were taken out in Chicago and Philadelphia combined.

In point of money outlay represented by its January building operations this city stood at fourth place, being exceeded only by New York City, Chicago and Boston, and beating Philadelphia by $500,000. San Francisco claimed fifth place; Detroit, sixth; Dayton, seventh; Philadelphia, eighth; Newark, ninth, and Portland, tenth, in the national construction valuation column.

San Diego made a splendid showing, standing at eleventh place with a total of $830,127 to its credit and leading cities many times its size. Oakland followed San Diego with the creditable total of $586,288 as its building outlay, while Seattle ran a rather bad thirteenth in the list with a little in excess of $500,000.

As against the 1390 permits issued in this city for the month of January, New York City boasted 1041; Chicago, 515; Boston, 325; Philadelphia, 791; San Francisco, 394; Dayton, 470; Detroit, 431; Portland, 397; Seattle, 589; Newark, 192; Oakland, 269, and San Diego, 401.

Following is the classified compilation:

City—	Number Buildings.	Estimated Cost.
New York	1,041	$8,829,629
Chicago	515	7,041,637
Boston	325	4,007,000

ADD TO TRACT.

The Cudahy Builders, a home building corporation, organized to construct houses in the new industrial town of Cudahy City, has added to its previous holdings by the purchase of ten lots for a reported consideration of 11,775. Plans for the first bungalow homes to be put up in the town by this organization have, it is stated by the company officials, been completed. Victor G. Kleinberger and F. H. Edwards, subdividers and general sales agents for Cudahy City, report sales as follows: Leo Campbell, four lots, $3200; George T. James, two lots, $1800; J. Walker Hancock, two lots, $1700; C. A. Treula, $700; E. W. Woods, $1600; Edward C. Browne, two lots, $1700; Thomas M. Noble, $600; John V. Fashing, $600; George H. Massey, $1150; Emma Jacobsen, $600; A. L. Scofield, $1700; Anna Miller, two lots, $1650; John L. Miller, $1250; W. C. Phabet, three lots, $3000; Carl W. Weller, two lots, $1900; George P. Ford, $700; Jesse Trontla, $525; James J. Jones, two lots, $1500; T. T. Wilton, two lots, $1800, and Ethel E. Esgar, $1400.

EAGLE ROCK SALES.

The Edwards & Wildey Company reports the following Eagle Rock sales for the past week: James H. Moshier to William M. Ostrander, lot in Stanley Heights, improved with a small bungalow, $1500; to Emily C. Cameron of Ottawa, Can., lot in Ellenwood Heights, 80x170 feet, on Colorado boulevard, near Ellenwood drive, $900; Valeria P. Chisholm to Florence Sands Murray, lot in Eagle Rock Central tract, Eddy avenue, near Colorado, $700; Henry M. Lovett to Jennie E. McCammon, lot in Mayfair Park, improved with seven-room residence, No. 139 Royal drive, $4150; Henry L. Lloyd to Hermione L. Sweatt, lot in Artesian Heights Park, 60x160 feet, Mariposa avenue, near Hill drive, $850; to Robert Law, lot in Campus Park, 50x125 feet, Alcatraz avenue, $850, and to A. L. McGowan, lot in Campus Park, 50x150 feet, Valley View avenue, $1000.

OFF TO RECUPERATE.

Frank R. Strong of Strong & Dickinson, and vice-president of the Western Building and Investment Company, has sailed for Honolulu for a prolonged rest. Following an attack of typhoid fever early last summer, Strong has not sufficiently regained his health to permit of his giving attention to his business. He will remain in Honolulu until thoroughly recuperated.

BUY THIRTY-THREE LOTS.

Real Estate and Building Company Acquires Southwest Sites for Immediate Improvement.

The California Real Estate and Building Company has purchased thirty-three lots on Gramercy place, south of the Jefferson-street car line, from A. S. Farley, for a given consideration of $33,000. These lots comprise a tract recently opened, and the street work has been finished, sidewalks and curbs laid and gas and electricity provided. Plans are being drawn for thirty-three bungalows of five and six rooms each to be built at once in the subdivision.

Twenty-seven and a half acres adjoining Glendale were sold during the week to a New York capitalist, and a Los Angeles corporation, whose names are withheld, through the same company. The acreage is on Pacific avenue, two blocks from a car line. The company will act as development and sales agents and will have the property ready for the market within a short time. The consideration in the deal is given at $42,000.

Mrs. Juanita Hobson, recently from Bristol, Tenn., has purchased from the same company a six-room bungalow, at No. 325 Gardena avenue, for a reported price of $3400; Joseph B. de Remer, has bought a six-room bungalow at No. 3766 Arlington street, Fred J. de Mille has bought a five-room bungalow at No. 1620 West Fifty-eighth street, for $2800, and a six-room bungalow at No. 1444 West Fifty-sixth street, was sold by the company to E. W. Jackson for $2900.

PUTTING IN LIGHTS.

Ornamental Illuminating System at Van Nuys Well Under Way. Ranchers Busy.

VAN NUYS, Feb. 15.—The Pacific Underground Construction Company has a large force of men at work putting in the system of ornamental street lighting, which will soon make Van Nuys one of the best lighted suburban towns in the State. The posts carry five light clusters each and are spaced about 150 feet apart. This lighting system will cover the entire business district and the full extent of Sherman Way through the town.

South Sherman Way, extending from Van Nuys, south to the new State highway under construction by Roger Bros., is now completed, and will be opened as soon as this first stretch of State road is completed. Following the recent rains, the ranchers are all busy. Orchards are being put in on all sides. It is estimated that from 150,000 to 200,000 trees, including peaches, apricots, plums, apples and walnuts will be planted in the Van Nuys field this season. The American Beet Sugar Company will have under cultivation over 10,000 acres.

The contract for the new Methodist Church has been awarded to J. W. Dake, a local contractor, who commenced work last week. This building, when completed, will cost about $10,000. G. A. Lemay, formerly of Newton, Ill., will start a $3000 home on East Broadway this week. N. B. Russell has the framework up for a $5000 residence on West G street.

"Los Terrados," a novel hotel just opened at South Pasadena.

OVERLOOKS VALLEY.

New Hotel at South Pasadena Occupies Commanding Site in Sierra Vista Hills—Modernly Appointed Throughout.

One of the most attractive of the recent improvements in South Pasadena is the newly occupied Hotel Los Terrados situated in the hills at Sierra Vista and overlooking the San Gabriel Valley. The property, which is four blocks north from the Sierra Vista station, stands on a sightly piece of ground which has been elaborately terraced and highly improved.

The hotel consists of a main building and three bungalows, with a separate structure of the log cabin type devoted to social purposes. The hostelry is well appointed throughout. Architecturally the group is a most interesting one, being designed in the rustic style. E. S. Gatch is the owner of the property. A. S. Heineman of Los Angeles was the architect of the improvement.

ENLARGING BIG PLANT.

Standard Oil Company Adding Five Stills and Asphalt Manufactory to El Segundo Refinery Equipment.

EL SEGUNDO, Feb. 15.—The biggest force of workmen ever employed in El Segundo since the completion of the first unit of the Standard Oil Company's refinery, is now at work inside the Standard's big yard, constructing five additional stills, which will increase the refinery capacity to more than 1300 barrels of oil daily; and hurrying forward the new asphalt plant which, it is expected, will be ready for operation in about two weeks.

It is reported that the Standard intends to continue construction work at the refinery even after the five stills now under way are completed and that the addition of new stills will go steadily forward until present capacity shall have been doubled, at least.

HARBOR ACTIVITIES.

Sales of lots in the Los Angeles-Wilmington harbor tract at Wilmington are reported by Frank D. Haddock, manager of the Western Improvement Company, as follows: J. ROOM TO GROW IN.

The Pacific Home Builders have made arrangements to take over the space on Hill street formerly occupied by the Los Angeles Investment Company and which adjoins their present offices on the south. The lease will give the former company the frontage from Nos. 331 to 337 South Hill street, inclusively, and will afford ample quarters for business expansion. The company is making elaborate preparations for the opening of its Angelus Park tract on Washington's Birthday. A feature of the opening will be a barbecue under the supervision of Jose Romero, Spanish chef.

STRATFORD SOLD.

E. W. Cason & Co., Associated Hotel Brokers, report the sale of the business of the Stratford Apartments, Sixth and Burlington streets, from Harry and Delphine Jarman to George A. McCormick for a stated consideration of $15,000. The lease was transferred for seven years at a reported consideration of $60,000. The Stratford was erected three years ago by Frank C. Hill, a local attorney, and is said to represent an investment of about $75,000. The place contains 125 rooms.

ORANGE LANDS IN DEMAND.

Citrus Acreage Moving in Porterville Field.

Southland Investors Buying Large Tracts.

Developed Grove Sells for Record Figure.

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 15.—Renewed interest in orange acreage and orchards characterized the real estate market of the Porterville district this week. Practically all the purchases were made by Southern California investors and in a large majority of the cases the raw land purchased is to be developed without delay.

Positive statements were made this week on the authority of such experts as W. S. Shippey, A. G. Schulz and other recognized orchard men of this district, that there is nothing in the present condition of any of the orange groves to indicate that there will be anything but a normal crop of fruit in 1913. This statement comes directly upon an official report from Schulz, who is the Horticultural Commissioner of this county.

James Althouse of Southern California has purchased a 160-acre tract of orange lands in the Deer Creek district for a reported consideration of $17,000. This is considered one of the best acreage properties in the most thoroughly proven section about Porterville. Althouse was here this week and put a force of engineers at work to run the levels for a complete irrigation system. He expects to plant to early navels this year.

J. F. and R. F. Schuster, business men of Akron, Iowa, who came to this district from Los Angeles, have purchased fifty-one acres in the Richgrove district. Thirty-five acres of the property was planted to early navels last spring. The rest is bare land. The Schusters paid a given consideration of $15,000 for the property. They expect to move here to take personal charge of their purchase.

Desair B. Myers of Pasadena has purchased forty acres of alfalfa land in the Westfield district and spent a portion of the past week here planning for improvements. He has already let contracts for the installation of a pumping plant. When this is completed the tract will be checked and put into crop.

Quite the largest sale of the week and of the year to date was reported this week when J. E. Coombs sold his thirty-five-acre orange grove in the Lindsay district to Judge J. H. Pryor of Pasadena for a reported price of $65,000. Five acres of the tract are in lemons and the rest is in 15-year-old early navels. Judge Pryor expects to make his home in Central California, at least during a greater portion of the year.

Officials of the Rief Land Company, a corporation of Oil City, Pa., who are already owners of a large tract in and about Ducor, where they once carried on costly oil exploration work, have purchased a seventy-acre piece of orange land in the Richgrove hills. The property brought $11,895. The statement is made that the entire tract will be put out to early navels this year, if suitable trees can be secured. This property lies within a short distance of a fine 2-year-old grove of ninety acres, owned by I. W. Hellman of San Francisco.

William Burgess of Los Angeles has purchased a ten-acre tract of orange land in the Ducor district, paying $10,000 for the property. Burgess expects to take personal charge of the development of the property.

MAY ORGANIZE.

Realty Dealers of Central California to Hold "Get Together" Meeting at Fresno Next Saturday.

FRESNO, Feb. 15.—An organization of real estate men of Central California, is a possibility at the meeting here next Saturday night of dealers from Stockton, Bakersfield, Sacramento, Turlock, Merced, Modesto and possibly other cities. Though the invitation for the gathering was sent out by the Fresno Realty Exchange simply to foster co-operation and good fellowship among the dealers, it has been intimated that a strong organization may be consummated.

Over thirty-five members of the Stockton Realty Board, fifty local [illegible] and many real estate men from Sacramento will make the trip here. The Stockton men will come to Fresno in a special car. The visiting real estate men will be banqueted Saturday and Sunday at the Hotel Fresno and numerous automobile excursions into the country have been planned.

LOTS IN DEMAND.

Activity in Suburban Property Features of South Pasadena Real Estate Market.

SOUTH PASADENA, Feb. 15.—One of the notable features of the realty trade during the present season has been the active buying of suburban lots, and homes. Several large deals have been consummated and many deals of less importance closed in recent weeks.

Washburn Bros. report recent sales as follows: Huntington Land Company to S. N. Perrine of Los Angeles, 50x150 feet, west side, La France avenue, between Huntington drive and Alhambra road; Sarah C. Milner to Mary E. Veir of Alhambra, 50x175 feet, north side Lyndon street, between Fair Oaks avenue and Marengo avenue; [illegible] K. Webb of Los Angeles to Ina W. Palmer of the same city, 50x232 feet, west side Marengo avenue, between Bank and Rollins street; R. L. Sprague of Los Angeles, to L. L. Washburn, five acres on Michigan avenue, corner of Roy, 350 feet fronting on Michigan avenue on the new county boulevard in La Canada; Mrs. E. Rabbeth of Redlands to J. E. de Vall of Los Angeles, 50x175 feet, south side Lyndon street, between Fair Oaks and Marengo avenues. All above mentioned sites are to be attractively improved. George A. Colby has sold to Charles B. Ingram, 100x275 feet on Milan avenue, adjoining corner of Spruce street, consideration being given at $3750. The new owner plans a handsome home.

TAKES SALES DEPARTMENT.

C. H. Elmendorf, formerly with Edward D. Silent & Co., has accepted the position of sales manager for Charles O. Middleton, with offices in the Story building. Elmendorf will devote his energies especially to forwarding the sale of harbor property owned and controlled by the Middleton syndicate.

SANTA MONICA'S HOSTELRIES COMPARE WITH EUROPE'S BEST

HOTEL WINDERMERE BY THE SEA — SANTA MONICA

World-Traveled Americans and Europeans Pronounce "Hotel Windermere by the Sea," Santa Monica, a Veritable Arcadia Among Hotels.

If there is one person more fitted than another to be a connoisseur on the hotel subject, it is the globe trotter.

It is the man or woman who is accustomed to the extremes of life and the unusual as well as the normal modes of living and the usual.

It is the man or woman who perhaps one season of the year will betake himself or herself to the islands of fair Japan; there to be fascinated with the shrines, the temples, the gardens, the mountains, the tea houses, the geishas and all of the other allurements of this odd and attractive people, while the next season will be spent in the Louvre, amid the ruins of Rome, or on the stately Thames.

This is the type of men and women whose praises are invariably heard loudest in laudation of the glories of Santa Monica, and the inexpressible charms of her best Hostelry, "Hotel Windermere By the Sea."

Though the occasional traveler often does not realize it, there is far more to a hotel than just the four square walls that contain the daily necessities for living. There is within those square walls a marked personality, either pleasing or displeasing, that is as evident to the frequent traveler as are the various personalities of the individuals with whom he comes in contact during his travels.

This hotel personality or atmosphere confronts the stranger from the moment he enters, and stays with him throughout his sojourn. To it, more frequently than most of us realize, can be traced the approval or the disapproval pronounced by the traveler upon the various cities through which he has traveled.

It is the personality of "Hotel Windermere By the Sea" that is regarded as one of its greatest charms. So great a factor, indeed, has it become, that many a "globe trotter" abroad, has heard of it through his American friends. in Europe, at last wending his way westward to glory in the majesty and peace of Santa Monica's unrivaled natural wonders, and above all, to make his headquarters at "Hotel Windermere By the Sea."

WARMTH OF WELCOME AKIN TO ORIENTAL HOSPITALITY.

The warmth of welcome that one feels from the moment he alights from his limousine or touring car and begins to mount the broad, magnificent sweep of white stone steps, until he is escorted to his apartments, is a geniality that is rarely duplicated throughout the entire Christendom of the superior type of hotels to which "Hotel Windermere By the Sea" belongs.

It reminds the traveler very strikingly of the best class of hotels in Japan run on the European plan, in this geniality and hospitality; though there are but few if any other features of the hotel that smack in any way of the Orient, except the Japanese garden. This geniality so greatly resembles Japan, with its pushing about in perambulators by human attendants, being put to bed at night, escorted to the bath every morning, packed and unpacked, and generally coddled and cajoled, that the guest of "Hotel Windermere by the Sea" remembers it ever.

Aside from its hospitable personality, "Hotel Windermere By the Sea" has every possible advantage of the highest class American hotel. It offers to its guests their choice of either the American or the European plan.

It is a superbly built structure, designed in Mission architecture; in the white, rough stone effect with huge mission arches, pillars and towers, and furnished with every conceivable appointment and convenience that could contribute to the comfort and pleasure of its guests.

The rooms are arranged throughout to be single or en suite, with or without private bath and almost every room commanding a superb view of the sea. All of the rooms have their private telephones, as in all the other standard hotels of the United States.

Five different car lines to and from Los Angeles pass the door, making it possible to catch a car into Los Angeles at almost any time. These include the Venice Short Line, the Hollywood Line, the Sawtelle, the Westgate and the Air Line.

In the superbly appointed spacious dining-room the finest cuisine possible is supplied the guests.

The commodious reception hall is the gathering place much of the time of many of the guests, where they can sit by day and enjoy an uninterrupted view of the glorious old Pacific; or by night listen to the melodious strains of the selected orchestra which the management of the house has engaged for a concert every night in the year.

The well-appointed poolroom affords a world of pleasure to the pool and billiard lover; and the ballroom with its exquisite furnishings and glittering chandeliers seems a veritable fairy bower at night when the dances are given, as they are, at least once every week in the calendar.

Imagine the charm of such a bower of loveliness. A shimmering mass of fairy gowned femininity, fluttering about like so many gold-winged butterflies; just outside on one side of the ballroom from the Japanese garden can be seen the rich, red glow of the Japanese lanterns casting their effulgent light over more of the glimmering feminine dancers and their partners, while on the other side can be seen the moonlight across the waves of the sea.

High above the mirthful voices of the dancers sound the rich notes of the orchestra; vieing for supremacy of charm with the various scents of the blossoms that pervade the heavily perfumed atmosphere.—[Advertisement.

INCREASE HOLDINGS.

The McCarthy Company has just completed the purchase of an additional ten acres of property in the Westlake-Wilshire residence district, which, added to the ten acres bought in the preceding week, gives the firm a prospective new subdivision of twenty acres. The total price paid for the property is given at $160,000. The seller in both transactions was Mrs. Edith Franciska Schmidt. The property is bounded by West Eighth, Catalina and West Ninth streets and Normandie avenue, and is surrounded by handsome homes. It will be subdivided by the McCarthy Company immediately, the lots to be 50x135 feet. The tract will be known as West Eighth Heights. High-class building restrictions will prevail.

FOR SOUTH BROADWAY

The Richards-Neustadt Construction Company has been commissioned by the Isaacs Brothers Company of this city to design and build an eight-story reinforced concrete loft building which is projected by the latter company for a site on the west side of Broadway, between Seventh and Eighth streets. The work of clearing the site for the proposed structure will be begun on or about April 1, according to the builders. The building will have a frontage of 120 feet by a depth of 140 feet and will be absolutely fireproof. It will adjoin on the south the four-story block recently completed by the Isaacs interests on Broadway and which is occupied by the Unique Cloak and Suit House.

PLANS WINTER HOME.

The sale to A. G. Morehouse, formerly of Canada, of three halfacre lots in National Boulevard Heights is reported by H. Gordon Badger, manager of the subdivision department of Robert Marsh & Co. Morehouse expects to improve one of the sites with a winter home.

NEW PROPERTY LEASED.

The Pleasant View apartments, an attractive two-story frame and plaster structure at No. 516 South Rampart boulevard, has been leased by S. T. Berry to T. C. Smith and W. P. Peyton through the agency of the Wellman leasing department of the Wright-Callender-Andrews Company. The lease calls for a ten-year term and a reported total rental consideration of $11,710. The house is arranged in two and three-room suites. The place is at the edge of the exclusive Westlake-Wilshire district.

M. "Squarepoint," President.

The Simple Life of the Painstaking Raymond Poincare.

PARIS, Jan. 25.—"No, I don't smoke at all, and I don't drink, thank you. Enjoyments? Oh, yes. A good book, a good fire, and a lampshade in the right position. Why I don't smoke? Oh, my health is quite good. But I have always tried to find my enjoyment in pleasures which are useful, and reading is the most useful pleasure of all."

There, in a few words, you have the best possible description of M. Raymond Poincare—or President Squarepoint, who will succeed President Fallieres at the Elysee.

He is a Lorrainer. The photographers have made his face and his features familiar to the world. They have not yet succeeded in reproducing his invariable expression. Whenever I have seen M. Poincare he has always worn it—the look of intense and painstaking interest in everything around him, from the smallest trifle to the greatest possibility in international politics.

"I like taking pains," I heard him say once. "Not only because I think everybody owes it to life to do whit he can in it, but because taking pains is so interesting. Whatever is worth doing—and most things are worth doing—is worth doing thoroughly. I think one ought to absorb all one can from the field of life, like sheep graze. Cows eat so carelessly, and cows are always stupid."

APOSTLE OF COMMON SENSE.

M. Poincare is the apostle of plain common sense. "I never preach it, though," he told some one who mentioned this to him; "it is so much more useful to practice it. The example may do good, and practice of common sense always makes profit." Sturdy common sense is Raymond Poincare's god, and Paris, which has a knack of nicknames, has translated his name into one already—President Squarepoint.

He was born in a little square-built house in the matter-of-fact little town of Bar-le-Duc, which makes jams for the rest of France, and breeds sound politicians, financiers and writers on grave subjects. His father was an engineer, his uncle was a doctor whose scientific research work taught Raymond Poincare that there is romance to be found in work of practical utility.

When he was eight years old he went to school and enjoyed a wet holiday more than a fine one, because he could shut himself up with a book on a wet day. Science was his first love. His old mother, who has enjoyed his election with the calm serenity of a woman whose own father was nine times a member of the Chamber during the reign of Louis Philippe, is fond of teasing him about the way in which he used to take the lamps to pieces to see why the oil crept up the wick, and how he nearly killed himself by swinging a bucket of water round his head to show that the water would not fall out of it at a certain velocity.

PRESIDENT'S PETS.

He has always had pets. It is significant that his first pet was a parrot, and that he loved the bird because "teaching my lessons to Raymond"—the parrot was named like his master—"teaches them to me at the same time."

A couple of days before his election to the Presidency of the republic M. Raymond Poincare disappeared for a whole morning. He had gone to find out what was wrong with some goldfish belonging to his brother, Lucien. He found out that the food they had was disagreeing with them, and he cured the goldfish before he returned to see to his election.

He served his country near the frontier at Nancy. His officers were struck by the peculiarities of the young soldier who seized every spare moment, even on march during maneuvers, to read. He got the sergeant's stripe before he left the service, and was made lieutenant of the reserve afterwards. He has since been promoted, and is a captain of the reserve now. And this rank of his reminds me that Raymond Poincare has as yet not the right to wear the red ribbon of the Legion of Honor, though in less than a month he will be the Grand Master of the order, and the hawkers who sell his portrait on the boulevards show him with the broad red ribbon across his shirt-front.

DOMESTIC LIFE.

Seven years ago, soon after his marriage, Raymond Poincare built himself a comfortable little country house at Sampigny, in the department of the Meuse. He loves this corner of France, where he was born and bred, because of the tranquillity he gets there. "I like the feeling," he said once, "that nobody thinks it necessary to take off his hat to me down there, and everybody calls me 'Monsieur Raymond.'"

His father died two years ago. His mother has since lived almost entirely with M. Poincare and his wife—a charming woman, very pretty, and a delightful hostess. She was, it is said, once a dancer at the Scala Theater in Milan, but of this I am not absolutely certain.

There is little need to say much about Raymond Poincare's political career. It has been of such steady advance that everybody in following the history of France has followed the political history of M. Poincare. Throughout his whole history one thing has been peculiarly remarkable—his thoroughness in everything which he has undertaken, his quiet and painstaking methods, and the inevitable way in which he has invariably succeeded in everything which he has undertaken. "Failure," he said not long ago, "should never come. It usually means a want of preparation. There is no difficulty in getting what you want, either for your country or for yourself, either in the smaller things of life or in the greater, if you are perfectly certain what you want and take the necessary time and trouble to find out the best method of getting it."

This is the new French President's theory of life in a nutshell. And his love of thoroughness, the absence in him of all unnecessary "fluff," his plain thought, plain life, plain speaking and simple courage are likely to make him the best President of the French republic in history.

France is delighted with her President Squarepoint. He has fallen into the square hole which was waiting for him and he will fill it to perfection.

JOHN N. RAPHAEL.

BENEFIT OF INCORPORATION.

Suits for Damages Against Members of Unions Could Not Occur if Bodies Were Incorporated.

[The American Employer:] United State Deputy Marshall Selay G. Blakeman is making formal demand upon members of the local hatters' unions of Danbury, Bethel and Norwalk, Ct., to pay the $240,000 domages, with costs, amounting to about $100,000 more, under the recent United States Supreme Court decree, rendered in favor of D. E. Loewe & Co., of Danbury, Ct.

The homes and other property, and bank accounts of these defendant hatters were originally attached some ten years ago, in the same suit, The Journal of the Knight of Labor for January says, and the steps now being taken are in aid of collecting therefrom the judgment above referred to. Althought it is true that a bond was furnished by the national organization of the United Hatters of North America, in lieu of the attachments thus made, the property to be levied upon very likely will have to bear the burden of payment demanded.

Of course, a movement is contemplated to make an assessment upon all the members of the United Hatters of North America, or possibly of asking the American Federation of Labor to levy an assessment upon the membership of its organization and thus "chip in" to pay the damages. But this in no wise lifts the burden from the shoulders of labor—and the result is that wage workers, either of one or more organizations, will have to contribute to make up the huge sum of the damages.

All this burden and hardship might have been avoided by the hatters' unions, and by all other unions possibly thus forced to assume in part the payment of this huge sum, if the policy of labor union incorporation so long advocated and maintained by the Order of the Knights of Labor had been followed.

The history of this hatters' case emphasizes the folly of the method which has been pursued for years by so many labor organizations in this country. Labor organizations cannot expect to hold employing corporations liable for damages in any cases which they may bring against such employers unless such labor unions are willing to stand upon a square, business-like form of organization—that is, to become incorporated themselves.

Incorporation has its advantages and its disadvantages—but it is a shield in all cases to the personal members of all corporations. The members of employing corporations, by incorporation, are free from personal responsibiyity for damages decreed against the corporation. Why should not labor organizations adopt the shield of incorporation for its members? If this had been done by the hatters' unions, not a cent of this huge judgment could be collected out of the personal property, or homes or bank accounts of any member of such union—neither would members of any labor organization anywhere in this country be called upon to contribute any sums whatever toward the payment of such damages. Here lies the weakness of present forms of labor organization—of all other unincorporated labor organizations. It is a weakness and liability which, if longer tolerated, will wreck, financially, labor organizations throughout the entire country, in every trade and business.

By becoming incorporated, unions will assume the same responsibilities and liabilities as are borne by employing corporations, no more, no less. They will be on an equal footing with the employment corporation and thereby gain the respect not only of such employing corporations, but of the public generally.

BIG TRACT ON MARKET.

Five thousand acres of Tulare Lake lands., comprising the Home Land Colony tract, has just been put on the market by the Braly-Janss Investment Company. The tract has been subdivided into forty-acre parcels. The tract is on the Santa Fe Railroad, sixty miles north of Bakersfield, and about twelve miles southwest of Corcoran. An extensive water system has been developed on the property. G. H. MacGinnis has been appointed sales manager for the ranch lands and will handle the Tulare property in conjunction with Lake Elsinore Farms, subdivided by the same company.

RUSHING RESERVOIR.

Rapid progress is reported upon the construction of a great storage reservoir at Yucaipa, which, when completed, will be used to impound water for the irrigation system of the new South Bench tract, a property under development by the Redlands and Yucaipa Land Company. About 1500 acres of this tract, it is stated by Claussen Bros., Los Angeles agents of the company, will be planted in apple trees this season.

A contract has just been let to a local concern for a sixteen-inch steel pressure main to be installed in Emil Firth's Perris Irrigated Farms tract. In addition, an eighteen-inch cement line is reported under construction in the same tract. Sales closed by Firth are reported as follows: To Miss Emma Dolmage, eighty acres, $12,000; to Miss May Dolmage, fifty acres, $7500, and to J. H. Butler of Santa Ana, sixty acres, $6000.

CALIFORNIAN'S VOCABULARY.

Terms in Vernacular of the Southwest Suggested by "El Rodeo" for Charity.

BY ROCKWELL D. HUNT.

THE historical heritage of the true-blue Californian embraces a goodly list of words and expressions that have come down from a bygone age, bequeathed by the Spanish regime and the old Mexican days.

For the sake of our romantic past and to preserve the true historic perspective it is fitting that certain significant institutions of an earlier epoch be commemorated, important anniversaries celebrated, and interesting events marked with appropriate ceremony. Thus the faithful portraiture of our mission history by means of verse and drama, the revivifying of the wondrous "Days of '49" by renewed celebration and the painstaking endeavors of monuments committees play an important part in the education in things Californian not only of the throngs of easterners that swell our population but also of multitudes of our own young native sons and daughters.

The repetition of scenes from the Rodeo for the benefit of sweet charity offers occasion for making a plea for a more general study of the fascinating features of our historic past. As a slight contribution a partial catalogue of significant terms—mostly from the Spanish—with brief accompanying statements of meaning and application in California history, is herewith presented.

El Rodeo—First of all, what is the Rodeo? The word is commonly translated "round-up;" and to understand its historical significance it is only necessary to recall that in the care-free days of the Spanish Dons there was no need of keeping one's cattle on his own land. The ear-mark and the brand of the young, registered with the government, established their ownership. The ranchero (owner) sometimes found his animals fifty or sixty miles away from his grant. The rodeo was the gathering at one point (usually a circular plat) of all the cattle from the surrounding ranches for the purpose of counting and branding the young. Each ranchero, assisted by his numerous vaqueros (cowboys,) skilfully separated from the general herd all animals bearing his earmarks and brand, and drove them off to his own ranch, the young calves being allowed to follow their mothers. The round-up occurred in the spring of the year, often extending throughout a week, and was presided over by a "Judge of the Plains," whose function it was to arbitrate questions of difference between owners. It often assumed large proportions, as, for example, in the case of Joaquin Bernal, owner of the Santa Teresa rancho near San Jose, who is said to have branded annually not less than 5000 head of young stock. Naturally many horses were required, and each ranchero and vaquero had his favorite mount. Perfect riding was expected as a matter of course.

While the rodeo was primarily a matter of business, it was even more interesting as a social institution; for the boys especially it was the one great occasion of the entire year. There was generally more of amusement than of labor. Hospitality was unbounded and became proverbial—all ended in the elaborate fandango (dance,) participated in by the ranch folk of every estate from far and near. Truly the memory of el rodeo can never grow dim on the pages of California's romantic history.

Fandango—This word is frequently used to designate any dance of low order, even the ceremonial dance of the wild Indians; it is more accurately applicable to a dance introduced into the West Indies by the Guinea negroes, and later to a dance of the common people. One of the best descriptions of the California fandango is found in Dana's "Two Years Before the Mast." The use of cascarones (egg-shells filled with finely-cut gold and silver paper and cologne or colored water,) was very common, and sometimes the sport became so rude as to endanger the dresses of the senoritas and the faces of the cavaliers.

Fiesta, a feast day or holiday. This was of frequent occurrence in California as in all Latin countries, presenting an important phase of social and religious life.

Vaquero, usually translated "cowboy," but denoting in its better sense a horseman or trainer of horses; as such his chief business was to manage wild horses or break bronchos (untrained young horses) to bit and saddle. Thus "broncho busting" becomes a leading feature in all representations of western life. Many vaqueros found steady employment on certain ranches, while others went from ranch to ranch practicing their trade as needed.

Caballero, a knightly gentleman of the old regime, always thought of as riding gracefully on his favorite mount.

El Patron (or la patrona,) the master or mistress of the household in the early ranch days of California. The typical family included from twelve to twenty children, besides retinue of Indian servants; all were carefully taught to show marked respect towards master and mistress.

Lariat, a small but very strong rope of rawhide or horse hair, used for lassoing or tethering animals. Also called reata, or riata. This was an indispensable article in the equipment of every vaquero.

Sombrero, the wide-brimmed hat still used extensively in California as well as in Mexico. The ornamentation of the sombrero, including band, tassel and jewels, was sometimes very elaborate, making it an object of considerable value and genuine pride to the owner.

Hacienda, a landed estate equipped for stock raising, etc., as a revenue-producing establishment. The Mexican hacienda in some instances comprised not simply miles, but scores of square leagues of land.

Siesta, an after-dinner nap, commonly indulged in, though not peculiar to the Californians.

Manana, tomorrow. The proverbial reply to many a question demanding prompt action; indicative of the freedom from strenuosity and of the all too common tendency to procrastinate. Why do aything today that can be put off till tomorrow! Manana!

Matanza, the season of cattle-killing for their hides, which constituted the chief article of commerce of the early Californians. This came usually in the month of May, the number of animals slaughtered corresponding to the number of calves marked at the preceding rodeo and the extent of available pasturage. The carcasses of the cattle (they could not be devoured by the hundreds of dogs belonging to the neighboring ranches) attracted numbers of grizzly bears from the near-by hills, the bears in turn affording plenty of exciting sport for the vaqueros armed with their reatas.

Carreta. This was a heavy, lumbering cart of two or four wheels, drawn by one or more yoke of oxen. It was clumsy but very strong, its great wheels being hewn from blocks of solid oak and its parts being bound together by means of rawhide thongs. The creaking of the ponderous wheels when not properly lubricated with soap, might at times be heard for more than a mile; nevertheless it was a serviceable vehicle in an age when there was neither automobile nor wagon in California, and it served for many a unique "joy ride" and "wash-day expedition."

Reboso, a narrow scarf worn by the women, draped gracefully over the head and shoulders. Other garments most typical of the age included the mantilla, or lace head-covering worn by the women, and the sarape (frequently spelled serape) which was a short blanket or cloak of broadcloth worn by the Spanish gentleman, or sometimes thrown over the rider's saddle. The early Mexican style for men, according to Mr. [illegible], embraced "broad-brimmed hat, usually of a black or dark brown color, with a gilt or figured band around the crown, and lined under the rim with silk; a short jacket of silk or figured calico; the shirt open in the neck; rich waistcoat, if any; pantaloons open at the sides below the knee, laced with gilt, usually of velveteen or broadcloth; or else short breeches and white stockings." A red sash around the waist took the place of belt or suspenders.

Gentiles, a term applied to the [illegible] untutored aborigines. The expression "Digger" Indians, so often applied to them, is unjust and opprobrious and should not be used.

Neophytes is the word to designate the baptised Indians of either sex, those connected with the Franciscan missions.

Gringo is a contemptuous epithet applied by the Californians to one of English blood or speech, especially the Americans whose early coming into California was regarded with increasing solicitude.

Greaser. This is a term of contempt applied to a Mexican or Spanish-American of low estate, or to the mestizo (half-breed.) The greaser may be said to have been at the bottom of the social ladder among the Spanish-Californians.

Pobladores were the settlers or Mexican colonists from New Spain, or [illegible]. As a rule the first California pobladores were densely ignorant and [illegible] shiftless; at best the Spanish colonization policy met with indifferent success.

Pueblo was the name applied in a general sense to a town of any size; however, in a more special sense, with [illegible] means "a corporate town, with certain rights of jurisdiction and administration." As is well known the [illegible] pueblos formally and successfully [illegible] were founded in Alta California were San Jose and Los Angeles. The plan [illegible] the public square at the center of the pueblo; grouped around it are the public buildings, then the [illegible] lots of the pobladores.

Presidio was the fortified [illegible] on the sea coast. The four presidios of Spanish-California were San Diego, Santa Barbara, Monterey and San Francisco.

Alcalde is the title of the magistrate of the pueblo. In a general way he combined the functions of Mayor and judge, and was an official of much consequence. His insignium of office was a silver-headed cane or staff.

MONTROSE OPENING.

A large number of automobiles have been engaged by the Holmes-Walton Company to carry the throng which it is expected will attend the opening of the new town of Montrose in the Crescenta district, above Glendale, on Washington's Birthday. Arrangements have been made by the company to prepare for 3500 persons at a barbecue luncheon. The opening festivities at Montrose are scheduled to begin at 10 o'clock next Saturday morning. Jose Romero, the Spanish chef, will be in charge of the barbecue. Montrose is situated twelve and a half miles from the City Hall of Los Angeles. The Foothills boulevard from Glendale passes through the property and links it with Altadena and Pasadena. A large sum has been expended in the development of the property.

Strike When It's HOT---

Today the keynote to big profits is close-in ACREAGE—acreage at the gates of this fastest growing city in the United States.

The growth of a city towards the "million" class means fortunes for the owners of near-by lands.

You know the story of New York, of Chicago and of Philadelphia, of the great fortunes piled up by the increase in land values from the enormous growth of these cities.

The opportunity today is here—right at home.

These fertile close-in lands must be counted on to fill the "million" population bread basket of Los Angeles; they will be the densely settled suburbs of tomorrow.

Acreage today affords a most wonderful opportunity for investment. Acreage means real golden profits—not merely the "over-night" paper profits that vanish when the day comes to cash in.

The opening of the Big Canal and the two great Fairs mean millions to Los Angeles and vicinity.

Are you planning to share in this wonderful prosperity?

Have you banked your dollars in 5 or 10 acres close to the gates of the city?

Act now—buy these last great close-in valley lands at real acreage prices.

Own 5 or 10 acres where the rich, sub-irrigated soil and the wonderful improvements mean quick action.

MIDNIGHT-- TOMORROW

Up to midnight tomorrow the price of our shares will be 27½c. On Tuesday it will be 30c.

Monday is the ANNIVERSARY of our first year of active business. In that time we have grown from 22 shareholders to over 5000, and from $30,000 capital to nearly $700,000, with over $300,000 paid in.

We own our own subdivisions in Los Angeles and San Diego, have made a success of home-building, and also own 7200 acres in the COACHELLA VALLEY, near Indio.

The reason for advancing our shares, in addition to the general prosperity of our business, is the completion of the first well on our 7200 acres in the COACHELLA VALLEY.

Its capacity is greater than had been estimated (200 inches) and its location determines the water supply for the entire tract, showing ample water at a shallow depth.

It is estimated that the value of the entire 7200 acres, which was bought at a very low price, has been increased by at least $25 an acre ($180,000).

As we propose to place this land on the market in small tracts (with water) the profits should be exceedingly good, even at a moderate selling price.

In buying this land, little consideration was given to its value for date cultivation, but competent authorities assure us it is the best in the Southwest for the purpose.

If this proves true, as seems entirely likely, the increase in value will be much more than estimated above.

We are frank about this. For ordinary uses such as alfalfa, figs, melons, etc., it is (with water) a valuable body of land; but as date land, the value increases rapidly.

Our reason for seeking as many small shareholders as we can get is, that we started as a company of small shareholders, have made a success through combining the influence of these shareholders for the company's good, and built up a great business about them.

Instead of advancing the price of our shares rapidly, we have held advances back, to give as many as possible the chance to become shareholders without having to pay a high premium.

Our total authorized capital is only $1,000,000. A large part of this is already subscribed, the average subscription is less than $150, and most of these are being paid monthly at the rate of $1.25 for each 100 shares.

We are paying Quarterly Dividends at the rate of 10% a year on par (20 cents) which gives a net income of 7¼% at the present price of 27½c. These dividends should gradually increase to 20% a year.

$1.25 with subscription, and $1.25 monthly pays for each 100 shares. Take more, or pay cash, if you prefer. All payments receive dividends.

We prefer the small subscriptions that gradually grow into larger ones as the Company grows. Begin small and grow with us.

Kindly do not wait until the last minute. Our offices will be kept open Monday evening for your convenience.

No subscription that is not in our hands, or in the mails, by midnight, tomorrow, can be accepted at 27½c.

California's Vocabulary.

The term was also applied to the Christianized Indian who served in the capacity of foreman over a squad of neophyte workers at the mission.

Padres refers to the "fathers" of the Franciscan order, in charge of the California missions. Padre Junipero Serra was the first and greatest father-president.

El Camino Real was the King's Highway or Royal Road connecting the cordon of missions, twenty-one in all. These were usually one day's journey apart, occupying many of the most choice and eligible sites along the coast of California. Much enterprise has been displayed during recent years in restoring and marking with mission bells El Camino Real.

Mayordomo was the title of the foreman who managed the estate for el patron. At the time of the secularization of the missions mayordomos were appointed "to care for everything relative to the advancement of the property under their charge, acting in concert with the reverend padres."

Tortillas are the thin cakes usually made of coarse corn meal and eaten with the breakfast coffee. They were rolled out on the metate a very useful stone utensil, after the meal had been ground in the ubiquitous mortar.

Such is a partial catalogue of terms used in Hispano-California that should be preserved in the vocabulary of today as an effective means of entering more fully into our historical heritage. Those were the days of idle, wasteful childhood; we cherish their memory, but desire not to return to them. Then came the period of storm and stress, hot and feverish for gold and government. Only today has California—our California—reached the age of vigorous manhood, full-armed for many a conquest, duty-bound to achieve a destiny commensurate with noble gifts.

CACTUS AS A POISON ANTIDOTE.

A Toad Gives a Hint at a New Quality in the Thorned Plant of the Arid Plains.

[Sunday Magazine:] In midsummer the writer witnessed a combat in the Texas Panhandle region between a horned toad and a large tarantula. The toad made rapid drives at the tarantula, crippling it by the loss of one leg. Soon the tarantula fastened itself by its mouth to an eyelid of the toad and heroically endeavored to do as much harm as possible. As soon as the toad was free of its foe it ran to a near-by cactus, cut through the thin greenish skin, sucked vigorously at the scant juice, and then rubbed the wounded eyelid against the damp fiber of the cactus.

Now was the battle renewed. Part of another leg was lost by the tarantula, and again was an eyelid of the toad attacked. Again was the cactus sought, and the same actions resulted as when the first eyelid was wounded. The toad was readily rejuvenated by the cactus fluid, and soon returned to give battle. Fierce was the struggle once more. In the meantime the writer kicked the small cactus beyond reach of the toad.

Again was the toad bitten by the huge spider, and again it sought the place where the cactus stood. Disappointment was evidenced by the wounded creature in not finding the plant as before. The toad sat seemingly meditating for several seconds, then hurried hither and thither in search of the plant: to no avail. The battle was again taken up; though it was apparent that the toad was in distress and laboring under a handicap of some painful sort. Soon it began quivering. It panted and feverishly played for time.

Presently the tarantula fastened itself to an eyelid of the plucky combatant and actually spit poison into its eyes and flesh. When seemingly satisfied the tarantula released its hold, eyed its victim for a second, then hobbled away; while the toad sank closer and closer to earth in the throes of death and swelled as if full of virulent poison. It finally gave up the ghost after such a battle royal, more defeated by man than by an enemy of the plains.

The cactus plant has afforded man a strong heart tonic for many years, and from the use this little horned warrior of the plains made of the cactus fluid as an antidote for tarantula poison man may yet find in this prickly, apparent nuisance of the semi-arid regions of the great Southwest an antidote for many poisons hitherto considered almost universally fatal; for, where nature's creatures go and partake by instinct and grow well and hale, man the reasoner may learn vast secrets for the healing of humanity.

[Lippincott's:] An American traveling in Europe engaged a courier. Arriving at an inn in Austria, the man asked his servant to enter his name in accordance with the police regulations of that country. Some time after, the man asked the servant if he had complied with his orders.

"Yes, sir," was the reply.

"Well, sir, I can't pronounce it," answered the servant, "but I copied it from your portmanteau, sir."

"Why, my name isn't there. Bring me the book."

The register was brought, and, instead of the plain American name of two syllables, the following entry was revealed:

"Monsieur Warranted Solid Leather."

BUYS NINE LOTS.

Many capitalists and employers of labor, as well as some of the employed, doubt the wisdom or efficiency of such a law, and its enforcement would create many difficulties under our Constitution and mode of government. Gompers can find plenty to say in opposition to such a law, though it is supposed to be in the interests of labor. The clap trap he uttered about slavery and the rest at the meeting of the National Civic Federation simply shows him up in the guise of a reckless demagogue. He did not discuss the question. He merely tried to appeal to class prejudice and stir up trouble.

In certain cases the general public has some rights which are trampled on by both sides in disputes between labor and capital. Railroads and all public utilities affect the people directly and something should be done to stop strikes and lockouts which inflict hardship on those who are not parties to the dispute. Much is to be said in favor of compulsory arbitration in such cases. It is a big question, in the solution of which labor has much to gain and nothing to lose.

But Gompers and his like have much to lose through compulsory arbitration. It would rob the professional agitator of the chance to live without working, because the settlement of wage disputes would become a matter of decent and orderly procedure before a court or arbitration board. It is time the rights of the public were considered in such cases.

Labor's Unrest.

STRIKES ON AND OFF AND STRIKES COMING.

THE British Amalgamated Society of Rairway Servants, the General Railway Workers Union, and the Pointsmen and Signalmen's Society have put forward a scheme which represents the summit of trade union dictatorship, says a special cable dispatch to the Sun of New York. They propose to set up an executive committee of twenty-four members, in whose hands absolute power will be vested. This committee will not only be entitled to declare a general railway strike at any time and under any pretext, but will be permitted to call out all railway employees without first taking a ballot with them or consulting them in any way. The scheme, in effect, will give the committee life and death powers over the whole trade and commerce and social life of the United Kingdom and deliver the rank and file of the railway service into the hands of a few labor bosses. It is possible that the railway men in appreciating this fact will refuse to ratify the scheme, which has been submitted to conferences of the three unions concerned. It may be pointed out that this scheme to all intents and purposes will nullify the whole existing procedure for discussing hours of work, wages, and conditions of service generally under the cancilation boards which were established in 1907 and whose work was indorsed by the royal commission which was appointed after the railway strike of 1911.

The London taxicab strike is getting worse. The loss up to January 24, was:

Loss in wages to strikers	$225,000
Loss of receipts to owners	400,000
Strike pay disbursements	52,500
Total money loss	$677,500
Working days lost	300,000

The strike pay has been cut down from $3.75 to $3 a week, with every expectation of further reduction each week as the strike goes on.

The striking bakers of London demand among other things, a 54 hour working week with one hour a day off for meals, a minumum wage of $7.50 a week for bakehouse hands, and $8 a week for factory hands; double wages for Sunday work, and time and a half for overtime. More strike trouble is expected on the Northeastern Railway of Great Britain if the fines of six days wages inflicted in the settlement of the recent strike are not remitted by the company, though in the settlement and as condition of the reinstatement of the strikers they agreed to pay the fines. The company (to say nothing of the public) suffered great loss by that strike which was begun because of the (proper) discharge of a drunken locomotive engineer.

Boot and shoe operatives of England demand a 48-hour week without reduction of wages; a minimum wage of $8.75 a week for all adults; employees to be counted as boys up to 21 years of age; abolition of all overtime; abolition of female labor in the clicking, press, lasting and finishing departments, and a long list of other changes. A strike is feared.

The Miners' Federation of Great Britian is balloting on the question of a five days' working week for all miners in the country. This looks as if the last strike settlement will not stay "settled."

The strike fever shows no signs of abatement. Gompers and Morrison claim to now have 40,000 of the more than 100,000 Steel Corporation workers on the Federation rolls and Morrison has called a general strike. This in spite of the 10 to 16 per cent. wages raise just granted. It has long been a grievance of Gompers that all the Steel Corporation's workers are not unionized. The direct cause of Morrison's strike order is the refusal of the Steel Corporation officers to meet representatives of the striking employees of the American Steel and Wire Company, a subsidiary organization. Morrison is talking recklessly, telling the men that they and their families will not suffer when out on strike, if it lasts even as long as a year. This is a wild assertion, particularly if 40,000 strike. To carry out the promise that 40,000 and their dependents will have to be supported, while also there will be 40,000 less to contribute to a strike fund. That cuts into the union finances two ways at the same time. Here again a great strike is to be started without any information to the public about grievances, if any, of the workers. All that is said about that is "better working conditions wanted," without any details about the present working conditions. What Gompers and Morrison really want is "recognition of the union" so as to make the American Federation of Labor more important and increase its yearly revenue. Increased revenue is needed because in 1912 the Federation paid out $70,000 more than its receipts of $207,000. Since 1881 the Federation of Labor has received for dues, etc, $2,638,042 of federated union labor's wages money. What has federated union labor to show for that great contribution of its earned wages money?

The strike of the 7000 coal miners, employed in the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western collieries, has not the sanction of the district officials of the union, and is declared by the company's officers to be in violation of the working agreement that was made a year ago. The union leaders say that the men have "taken affairs into their own hands." That is a poor excuse. It reveals a condition that will be an obstacle to future negotiations for a working agreement. One of the principal sources of a labor union's strength is its adherence to the agreements or contracts which it [illegible]. Union labor has proven itself, in many cases, far too ready to break its own contracts.

Labor leaders predict a speedy settlement of the Boston strike of 5000 garment workers. The strike committee has backed down from its refusal to accept mediation by the State Board of Conciliation, and Arbitration.

Ninety-five to 98 per cent. of the telegraphers on the Queen and Crescent and on the Southern railroads have voted to strike unless their demands for increased pay and better working conditions are granted.

Rochester, N. Y., seems to be in sight of a settlement of its clothing strike. Strikers and manufacturers both express themselves as willing to meet and bring their difficulties to an end. One striker has lost her life in a riot. An employer and five male strikers are under arrest. The clothing manufacturers themselves ask the present grand jury to look into the conditions in the Rochester clothing factories.

Havana, Cuba, has a general strike of truck drivers, paralyzing all freight traffic. The trouble is over minor conditions in their municipal licenses.

About 700 hotel workers and other hotel help lost their jobs by the strike and are walking the streets of New York looking for work. That's more "work" than the hotel strike leaders, Ettor, Giovannitti, and Elizabeth Gurley, are doing. I.W.W. labor supports them without work, as it does W. D. Haywood.

Chicago garment-workers are getting a strike fund together in response to a secret order. Each member of the clothing unions, is assessed $5. Labor leaders say this Chicago strike fund, when completed, will amount to more than $200,000.

The American Federation of Labor (Gompers and Co.,) is arranging a campaign to unionize all the unorganized workers in the United States, and to enroll immigrants as soon as they land in the country. This means a life and death struggle between the A. F. and L. and the I.W.W. The campaign will use 500,000 pamphlets, printed in thirteen languages. This is aimed at the steel, sugar, textile, rubber and packing-house industries. It's another of Gomper's ways of "preventing strikes."

Ninety per cent. of the 30,000 firemen employed on the fifty-four eastern railroads have voted to strike, failing arbitration under the Erdman act. The companies stand out for mutually selected arbitration, as in the engineers' case. If the strike occurs it will tie up every eastern railroad and subject more than half the people of the United States to great suffering, in the face of the railroads' offer to submit all matters in controversy to an unbiased arbitration commission of five, seven, or nine men. Under the engineers' arbitration award by an "unbiased commission," the men got also back advance pay to the amount of $1,000,000.

A porcelain strike is on at Trenton, N. J., and in one week dynamite was used to wreck buildings. Part of one strike plant was wrecked and another narrowly escaped. Much strike violence is occurring.

Rochester, N. Y., clothing employers are still firm in refusing recognition of the union.

A garment-workers' strike is on at Baltimore. Led by women, forty-one strikers were arrested for disturbance. Eight of them are women. Newark, N. J., has a strike in the same trade, and there is much rioting.

The lower house of the Arizona Legislature votes down the attempt to put the union label on its stationery.

The month's New York garment-workers' strike loss:

Wages lost by strikers	$10,000,000
Lost by employers	20,000,000
Total direct loss to February 8	$30,000,000

Average wages of the 30,000 eastern railroad firemen, who propose to strike, have increased 35 per cent. in ten years—from $2.05 to $2.88 a day. Now they want 35 per cent. more on the $2.88 a day, average, or $9,000,000 a year more in all.

The Western Federation of Miners is not making any headway with the strike they started at Mineville, N. Y. The reports of "sufferings" which they sent to Gov. Sulzer were found by his investigating agent, P. J. Downey, a union man, to be gross and false exaggerations.

DROP I.W.W. CHARGES.

Lawrence District Attorney Quashes Indictments Against Ettor and Several Others.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SALEM (Mass.) Feb. 15.—Another chapter was written Thursday in the history of the troubles growing out of the Lawrence textile strike of last winter when Dist.-Atty. Atwill dismissed indictments against leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World.

Among the charges dropped are those alleging conspiracy against William D. Haywood of Denver, William E. Trautman of Chicago, James P. Thompson of Portland, Or.; Edmund Rossoni of New York, William Yates of New Bedford, Gildo Mazzarello of Lynn, and Ettor Giannini and Thomas Holliday, both of Lawrence. Several other indictments against some of these and other persons, alleging assaults with and carrying dangerous weapons, and disturbance of the peace, also were quashed.

Of all the charges resulting from the strike troubles, only two now are outstanding. These are a joint indictment alleging conspiracy against James J. Ettor, Arturo Giovannitti, Giannini and Haywood, and one against Joseph Caruso, who, with Ettor and Giovannitti was acquitted in connection with a charge of murder. Caruso still is accused of assault with intent to kill Patrolman Benoit of Lawrence in a strike riot.

QUARTER BILLION DOLLARS COST OF BRITISH STRIKE.

Wage Earners the Principal Losers Through Closing Down of Coal Mines—Sixty Million Working Days and More Irretrievably Squandered During the Past Year in One Labor Difficulty in England.

[BY CABLE AND FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE OVERLAND TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] One of the outstanding facts that emerge from a review of the state of the labor market in 1912, is the colossal costliness of strikes. Last year, it will be remembered, was marked by the biggest strike in our industrial history—the strike of the coal miners in March for a minimum wage. The stoppage was complete in every coal field of the country; 1,096,947 workers underground and on the surface of the pits stopped work, and the strike, extending over the full month of March, involved the loss of 31,567,000 working days.

The loss of employment to the workers in other trades was probably equal in extent to that of the miners, which would mean the loss of another 31,567,000 days. If we take the average earnings of the strikers, and if those who were thrown out of work by the strike at 5 shillings per day, this would represent a loss in wages of 15,783,500 pounds. This is only a small portion of the loss occasioned by the strike, as there was the drop in railway receipts, which ran into millions, and the loss of production in all the trades affected, bringing the total cost of the strike up to 50,000,000 sterling. In the various groups of trades, according to the official returns, the number of men directly involved in disputes and the aggregate number of working days lost during the year were as follows:

	Workers.	Days lost.
Building	5,636	107,600
Coal mining	1,096,947	31,567,000
Other mining and quarrying	754	37,400
Engineering and ship building	62,232	1,093,000
Other metal	30,825	134,300
Textile	53,632	3,655,000
Clothing	24,711	507,800
Transport	129,738	2,558,500
Other trades	23,774	478,200
Totals	1,408,266	40,139,400

UNEMPLOYMENT.

The year was one of great commercial enterprise and activity, and unemployment has been lower than for many years past. The figures of unemployment for each month in the year on the trade union returns of 880,000 workmen are:

	Percentage of unemployed.	Workers unemployed.
January	2.7	22,485
February	2.8	22,611
March	11.3	76,144
April	3.6	30,000
May	2.7	22,307
June	2.5	20,696
July	2.6	22,222
August	2.2	19,556
September	2.1	18,785
October	2.0	17,822
November	1.8	16,142
December	1.6	14,442

MINIMUM WAGE ACT.

It should be noted that returns for March apply only to 675,535 persons. As regards legislation affecting labor during 1912, the great coal strike led to the passage of the minimum wage act as an agreed measure. On the whole, the act is working more smoothly and effectively than was expected.

REPORTS ON WAGES AND CONDITIONS.

Timely Bulletins from All Parts of the World.

Ninety-nine per cent. of the existing American labor-discontent is utterly unwarranted; certainly as far as discontent with existing American rates of wages is concerned. In no country of the world are wages within 100 to 300 per cent. as high as they are in the United States for similar kinds of work. In this column on February 2 and February 9 comparisons of American high wages with foreign low wages were given and further examples are now adduced:

Pottery Wages.

Frank H. Hutchins of the Brotherhood of Potters, testifying before the Ways and Means Committee of the House a few days ago said:

"In England pottery wages are 100 per cent. lower than in this country. In Germany they are 20 per cent. lower than in England. In France and Holland they are 30 per cent. lower than in England. In Japan they are about 45 per cent. lower than in England."

And these are the countries with whose makes of pottery American pottery has chiefly to compete.

Women's Wages in France.

Trade—	Per day.
Ironers	$0.41½
Dressmakers	.41
White goods sewers	.40
Waist makers	.48
Lace makers	.41
Embroiderers	.47
Milliners	.48

Working hours are never less than ten daily. The above rates are average. In some cases the pay is as little as 2 cents an hour. In no case does the pay go higher than 60 cents a day, or $3.60 a week, maximum, and $1.20 a week minimum. American working women, especially in the trades named, would strike and strike if they had to face such low wages as women workers in France are glad to work for.

Steel Wages Raised.

The United States Steel Corporation announces a raise of 15 per cent. to unskilled laborers and of 10 per cent. to others. Altogether more than 100,000 men will be benefited. Yet Gompers is trying hard to get all the workers for the steel corporation to strike and has sent his man, Friday Morrison, there to bring it about and to lead it. And this is in spite of the fact that Gompers has for years professed officially and personally that he and his organization are against strikes as such. Leading Middle West steel companies also announce an increase of the wages of common labor to $2 a day.

WOULD REGULATE SALVATION.

Cleveland Unionites Threatened a Boycott of Revival Meetings Because of Non-Union Labor.

[The American Employer:] The Cleveland (O.) Federation of Labor has taken upon itself the task of regulating salvation, and has succeeded in having its own way with a series of revival meetings in the West Side section of the Forest City.

A number of West Side clergymen united in the construction of a tabernacle at West Fifty-eighth street and Franklin avenue, and engaged the services of Milford Lyons, an evangelist, to conduct revival meetings there. The contract for the construction of the building was given to Skeel Bros., who are open-shop people. The ministers themselves did actual work on the tabernacle, standing side by side with Skeel Bros. workmen.

In due time the situation was brought to the attention of the local branch of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, the officials of which, in due course, took it before the Cleveland Federation of Labor, where a threat was made to boycott the revival meetings in case the promoters of the revival did not at once recognize the claims of union labor. The Amalgamated Association of Carpenters and Joiners of America, which lately got its walking papers from the American Federation of Labor, took no part in the matter nor did that organization object to the employment of non-union labor upon the tabernacle.

The strange feature of this is that the federation "got away" with it. Rev. M. J. Keyes, the clergyman specially in charge of the evangelistic campaign, paid a visit to the Building Trades Council and made his peace with the union carpenters. Dr. Keyes, on leaving the meeting, declared to newspaper men that he had been ignorant of conditions and wanted to do the right thing towards union men, and that he would have a committee to meet union electrical workers and gas fitters and arrange for union labor for heating and lighting the tabernacle.

The revival meetings are presumably attended by some of the wives and children of members of the Cleveland Federation of Labor. These fortunate ones are certainly subject to congratulations that their husbands and fathers permitted them to seek religious comfort under strict union conditions. We notice that a question has been lately raised as to whether the Savior was a union carpenter or at all events, would He be one if He were on earth and in his ministry today? And it is perhaps a matter of community congratulation that the Cleveland Federation of Labor does not insist on documentary proof that the twelve apostles belonged to the Fishermen's and other unions, if there were such in those days, before permitting their families to attend religious services at any of the, all-around the year churches of the Sixth City.

PASSING OF HAYWOOD.

Western Federation of Miners Has No Longer Any Use for This Flamboyant I.W.W. Agitator.

[San Francisco News Letter:] It is interesting to note that organized labor as we know it in San Francisco has small use for Haywood. In the current issue of the journal of one section of local union labor, the Labor Clarion, is reprinted from the organ of the Western Federation of Miners an article about Haywood Haywood and his school. The article in question says:

"William D. Haywood, who was once secretary-treasurer of the Western Federation of Miners, is now in the West endeavoring to make dates in every mining camp possible in order that he may stir up strife and dissension. Haywood is the traveling representative of the I.W.W., an organization which was repudiated by an overwhelming referendum vote of the Western Federation of Miners.

"Haywood's mission to the West is solely for the purpose of sowing the seeds of discord.

"When Haywood was acquitted at Boise, Idaho, and took the lecture platform to speak to the working class, he repeatedly declared to his audiences that the only guns which he carried was a card in the Western Federation of Miners, and a card in the Socialist party, and to make something of a hit with his auditors, would draw those cards from his pockets and wave them aloft, as a play to the galleries. . . But the false alarm who once talked about these cards as his only guns waves them aloft no more, for 'Bill' thought so little about his card in the Western Federation of Miners that he has lost it through non-payment of dues, and the Socialist party, in all probability, will relieve the hero of his other gun on account of his advocacy of 'sabotage,' 'direct action' and 'hitting the ballot box with an ax.'"

The deeper significance of this article and of its indorsement by the organ of local union labor is not in its personal hostility to Haywood; it is in the evidence it presents of the real feeling of organized labor toward anarchy, no matter under what name it hides. Organized labor, in truth, dreads and detests syndicalism, "direct action," sabotage and the annihilation of property rights quite as much as does organized society as a whole.

And with reason. The anarchists, including the I.W.W., are for the destruction of the wage system, and that would be at least as disastrous to the wage earner as to the wage payer. Likely enough, we shall before long witness the spectacle of organized labor working not against capital, but with it for the suppression of all movements that lead to lawlessness. Organized labor may want laws made in its favor; it may be looking for the best possible bargain with capital, but it does want law, order, security; it does want to maintain a degree of individualism and it does not want paternalism made supreme.

Music School for Poor.

Efforts are being made in Baltimore for the establishment of a Music School Settlement similar to those which have been begun in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and other cities.

The plan is to have lessons given at 25 cents each, allowing the pupil to take one or two lessons during the week. A computation of the expenses of such a school indicates that it will require about $5000 a year. The New York school, after which the Baltimore school will be patterned, is maintained by the following classes of members and amounts contributed: Founders, $1000; patrons, $500; life members, $250; associate life members, $100; annual patrons, $100 a year; sustaining members, $25 a year; contributing members, $10 a year; associate members, $5 a year; scholarships, $25 a year. With a fund of $5000 and pledged yearly amounts of $1 and over from members for at least three years, it is believed the school can be made self-sustaining.

The first Music School Settlement was the result of the work of David Mannes of New York, concert master of the New York Symphony Orchestra.

Helping a Town's Prosperity.

The Commercial Club of Muskogee, Okla., has decided that the present low average of crop yields must be increased as a basis for the prosperity of the neighborhood. It has therefore arranged to invite progressive farmers from other States, or from other parts of Oklahoma, to rent the present poorly-handled farms, and by crop rotation bring back their fertility. An agricultural expert will also be employed whose sole duty it will be to look after the needs of the farmers and help them in the diversifying of their farming operations. The club cares nothing about the sale of land, its chairman says. "All it is concerned with is the development of the more or less unproductive farms of the county by putting on them better farmers. We want to have a richer farming territory about Muskogee if we may hope to have a greater city, and the club will endeavor to co-operate with the tenants and landlords in arriving at the goal we have in view.

"Another thing that next commands our attention is the establishment of a public market for farmers in Muskogee, where hay, oats, corn and other products may be brought and where persons may know just where to go when in need of such products. We have negotiated for a large vacant space within a block of the business district where farmers may have a place to go when they come to this city to bring their products and to trade in the stores. It is the plan of the committee to develop a greater spirit of friendliness with the farmers of the county. We hope to make them feel that we are interested in their progress, for upon their success largely depends the prosperity of Muskogee."

A Zoo for Nashville.

Under the lead of the Industrial Bureau the foremost citizens of Nashville, Tenn., have united to promote the Nashville Zoological Society, the object of which is to establish a zoological garden in the city. It is believed this will prove an entertaining feature for the vast number of visitors to the city as well as to the people of Nashville and its suburbs. Biology is now one of the important studies taught in the city's schools, and it is argued that what is acquired with difficulty in weeks of study from textbooks may be acquired in half an hour at a zoo, and in connection with this, when an aviary and an aquarium and botanical gardens are made part of the proposed zoological park, Nashville will have as a civic asset one of the most important means of attracting visitors that can be organized.

Kansas Cities to Sell Gas.

The Mayors of several Kansas cities directly affected by a recent increase of the price of natural gas, recently met at Kansas City, Kan., to evolve plans for concerted action. It is their plan to carry the gas question into the State Legislature and seek a constitutional amendment giving the city power to take over and operate the property of the local distributing company.

Helping the Unemployed.

The municipal rock quarry of Kansas City gave employment last winter to about 2500 men for a period ranging from one day to a month—until such time as they were able to find permanent jobs, either through their own efforts or the instrumentality of the city's free employment bureau, another one of its activities. For every cubic yard of crushed rock the individual received 60 cents, thus enabling him to earn $1 to $2 a day. These laborers represented nearly every type of the unemployed, skilled and unskilled, including even some of the professions. As an indication of their willingness to work, many men arrived at the quarries as early as 5 o'clock in the morning.

The total expenditure incident to the maintenance of the rock quarry amounted to about $15,000, whereas the board realized about $13,500 out of the sale of rock to the street railway company and to the Board of Public Works.

Considering the fact that the stone broken by hand was sold in competition with some broken by machinery, it is significant that the entire expense to the community of maintaining this important activity was only $1500.

Tacoma's Poor Jail.

Tacoma's city officers have been threatened with arrest by the Humane Society of the place because of the inhuman conditions said to exist at the City Jail. The society, however, has been unable to find a law under which the prosecutions may be carried on. Attention to the cruel conditions under which prisoners are held was developed by the detention at the jail of L. H. McCullough while awaiting inquiry as to his sanity. He was detained in a cell for ninety-five hours without any means of sleeping or resting except lying flat on a cement floor. No cot, bed or mat was provided.

In the ninety-five hours during which he was incarcerated it is said that he stood on the cement floor seventy-five hours. The Humane Society wants conditions changed or the jail closed.

A new magazine, devoted to home-building and investments in Southern California, made its appearance in Los Angeles during the past week. The new publication, which will appear monthly, bears the name of Thrift, and is issued by the Southern California Home Builders.

Gillette's Regent Square

It is natural that advance inquiry concerning this new subdivision has reached huge proportions.

Gillette's Regent Square is a high-class, moderate priced offering on San Vicente Boulevard in Santa Monica, "where the mountains meet the sea."

In all details of this subdivision the policy of giving full measure has been followed.

Full measure of profit opportunity for the investor. Full measure of modern conveniences, facilities and advantages for the homesite seeker.

Full measure of satisfaction which goes with our giving to purchasers a little more than is really necessary.

It should be pleasing to you to have the opportunity NOW to make an Advance Inspection Trip to a place like this, where, for every dollar you may invest, a heaping measure of value and profit opportunity will be given.

Shrewd investors, who weigh well all factors before selecting, will fully appreciate the genuine intrinsic value as found in Gillette's Regent Square.

It's contrary to all laws of profit-making to allow procrastination and the "put off" spirit to interfere with your decision.

Come up now, before the opening day rush, and protect your interests by arranging for a free auto trip of inspection.

We have a beautifully illustrated booklet all ready for you. Ask for it.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY.

INQUIRIES FROM AND ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Much in Little.

VICKSBURG (Ariz.) Jan. 21.—Q.: Under separate cover I am mailing to you ore sample that several of us here are interested in, and want your valued opinion of, as we are all readers of your department. Our crude field assaying shows a precipitate that we cannot quite place. Sample is from the Harcuvar mountains, near Vicksburg, on the A.C.R.R.

F. L. R.

A.: The Times did not receive your first sample, and we thank you for mailing us a duplicate of the substances.

We very carefully analyzed the ore, and find that it is on the order of tetrahedrite, in part. It is a most difficult ore to test.

Platinum and tellurium not present in any sample, and throughout the matrix arsenopyrite, chalcopyrite, pyrite, "white-iron," and "peacock-iron." appear under the glass, with traces of ferric and ferrous oxides.

Further testing: manganese present. Bismuth trace. Nickel trace. Antimony approximately 3.75 per cent. Lead present. Native silver (sparingly) in microscopical crystals.

We observe in the analyses that the matter holding back in the pan is a silicious iron-silver combination, but it occurs sparingly.

Samples like the ones under description are very hard to determine mineralogically, but chemically, we would place the ore as refractory.

Cerussite and Anglesite.

GUNNISON (Colo.) Jan. 21.—Q.: Two samples are respectfully submitted in the hope that "In the Earth" column will state mineralogical names and compositions. No. 1 looks like calcite crystals in chlorite, but there is a reaction for lead and we suspect the metal in the chlorite, as samples assay 10 per cent. lead. No. 2 also assays heavy in lead, but I confess that the samples have me "a going."

K. L. T.

A.: Glad to hear from you. The greenish sample with grayish-white, somewhat transparent cubes are cubes of cerussite, and resemble the cerussite found near the old Ironton smelter, Gunnison county, Colo. The remaining specimen (tagged No. 2) is Anglesite (lead sulphate,) and this variety of lead ore occurs as a sort of pseudomorph after galenite (lead sulphide.)

Silicate and Carbonate.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 21.—Q.: I would like to have your valuable opinion on samples of rock from one to six inclusive, and to know their geological names, and something near what they carry in alumina or other metals. No. 1 is associated with No. 2 in alternate strata, running from one-foot to three-foot in width, and resemble Amblygonite and Variscat, or associated minerals; the white No. 2 lying between the strata running from two to ten feet in width forming a vein 150 feet in width, and strata standing nearly perpendicular following the strike of a fault-zone near the crest of a mountain. No. 3 comes in noodles in a vein some 200 feet in width, and resembles Gearksuktite or Prosopite (aluminum fluorides,) and vein matter composed of soft white material No. 4. Walls nearly perpendicular. No. 5 is a vein nearly four feet wide forming foot-wall of vein No. 6 material, dipping about 15 degs., from perpendicular toward a fault-zone. Country-rock gneissic-granite (altered.) All samples from San Bernardino county near Barstow.

G. Y. P.

A.: No. 1 is a shaly mass carrying iron oxides, manganese dioxide, nodular and amygdaloidal spessartite, with feldspathic matter. Aluminum silicate present, but there is no native Alumina (aluminum oxide) in the mass. The sample in no wise resembles Variscite or Amblygonite, and phosphoric acid is absent. No. 2 is an impure limonitic silicate of magnesium, aluminum, and calcite; carrying Fuller's earth in part. No. 3 (occurring with "noodles") is impure dolomite with iron oxides. Lime carbonate coating from wall contact. Feldspathic matter in the mass, and the sample is not Gearksutite by any test. Prosopite is a rare mineral, seldom found abundantly natively. No. 4 is altered rock which, originally, was probably dolomite. No. 5 is a cherty-calcareous "pudding-stone," iron oxides present with trace of phosphoric acid. No. 6 is a double silicate of lime and magnesia (in part kaolin;) iron oxide (limonite) in the mass. No sample tested for boron, sodium, or potassium.

The geological description you give of the locality is of interest, and the formations referred to by you, are odd, indeed.

Platinum Absent.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—Q.: Will you kindly tell me through your columns how much this sample assays for gold? I should also like to know if platinum is present. What gives me the idea of platinum is that a light-colored metallic substance hangs behind everything else in the plan.

R. W. S.

A.: In the conglomerated mass we find aluminum silicate and feldspathic matter. Magnetite, other iron oxides, and titanite are present. We pulverized the sample and find mixed iron oxides and trace of lead sulphide as concentrates. This department of The Times does not assay for gold or silver.

Skidoo No. 23.

SKIDOO, Jan. 23.—Q.: I am sending you under separate cover samples of rock and dirt taken from the west side of Death Valley near the north end, in Inyo county. Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 come from a formation apparently in place at an elevation about 800 feet above the pan of the valley. Nos. 1, 2 and 3 I believe contain niter. Nos. 1 and 2 also show borax by acid and flame test. No. 4 comes from northerly end of this formation, and No. 5 occurs between 3 and 4. The sample in envelope marked VI, comes from small stringers running through the material in sample No. 1. These stringers vary in width from one-half inch to two inches in strata eighteen to twenty feet wide; all of these samples are taken from the surface. Sample No. 7 is taken from the surface of the valley at a point directly under, and receiving the drainage from upper formation and distant about one mile. There is large tonnage of all materials contained in samples, in fact the amounts appear to be almost inexhaustible.

Would you consider the ground to be worth development? Is any of this material commercially valuable in the quantities present? Is there a process by which the borax and niter present can both be saved?

F. G. T.

A.: It is indeed a pleasure to read your practical and clear-headed letter, which smacks of the language used by the genuine boys in the hills, and notwithstanding the fact that on our last visit to Rhyolite we were forced to visit Skidoo, and there had pinned upon our shirt bosom by the boys a certain pin with the warning "Skidoo, No. 23" enameled thereon it would be a pleasure if we were with you today. Your letter has the date of "23" also.

The samples can be referred to as "Salines." No. 1 carries traces of iron-alum (halotrichite,) potash 3.20 per cent. Nitric acid none. Low in boron. No. 2 sodium chloride present. Iron alum trace. Potash 4.60 per cent. Boron present. No. 3 Borate and silicate. Aluminum silicate present (in part kaolin;) iron traces; sulphur trace; potash 4.15 per cent. Boron-calcite, soda, potash present; good stuff. No. 5 chiefly Fuller's earth, in part kaolinite. No. 6 boron-calcite; potassium nitrate 3.20 per cent. No. 7 carries portions of elements set forth as of 3, 4, 5 and 6, but more sodium chloride is in the mass than in any other sample.

From this showing and your practical knowledge on the subject it will appear that it would be a very risky undertaking to go much on development with but one test on each of the samples, and therefore we cannot advise you. One thing is sure, there is plenty of sunlight at the locality for

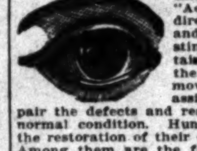
Remarkable Invention

"Actina" a Scientific Appliance for Relieving Defective Eyesight, Has Achieved Wonderful Results.



If your eyesight is defective, or you have any form of eye trouble that might endanger your eyesight, you should lose no time in investigating "Actina." It is applied directly over the eye, and its potent action stimulates and maintains the circulation of the blood, thereby removing congestion and assisting nature to repair the defects and restore the eyesight to normal condition. Hundreds of people owe the restoration of their eyesight to "Actina." Among them are the following:

Prof. T. S. Sligh, Mansfield, La.
Rev. J. M. Foster, Burton, Wash.
Rev. W. C. Goodwin, Moline, Kan.
Mrs. S. A. Donnella, Agt., U. S. Secret Service, Louisville, Ky.
T. F. Lees, Great Barrington, Mass.

Many persons wearing spectacles might better be without them. Strengthen the eye by improving the circulation and it will not require an artificial lens. If you are interested and desire to know what the "Actina" is and what it is accomplishing, write today for our FREE TRIAL OFFER and OUR BOOK—TREATISE ON DISEASE. The book contains most valuable information. A postal card will bring it to you. Address, ACTINA APPLIANCE COMPANY, Dept. 89H, 811 Walnut Street, Kansas City, Mo.

SUPREME COURT TO MAKE IMPORTANT CHANGES.

One Case Just Reached Has Dragged Along for Thirty-five Years, and in Other Cases Enormous Amounts of Testimony Is Dumped Upon Judges for Perusal.

[Washington Star:] The Supreme Court has had an impressive experience with eighty cases, and now proposes to make important changes that will increase the efficiency of the courts. For instance after taking thirty-five years to wend its way through the equity courts, a suit over Thomas Edison's patent for an automatic telegraph system has just now come up for consideration by the Supreme Court. When the suit was brought the country was engaged in celebrating its marvelous progress as marked by the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia. The world has grown tired of expositions marking the progress of the nation since that year. Thousands upon thousands of dollars have been spent in taking testimony in the case before commissioners in America and England. And the end is not yet.

LAWS DELAYS TO BE STOPPED.

SUPREME COURT TO MAKE IMPORTANT CHANGES.

One Case Just Reached Has Dragged Along for Thirty-five Years, and in Other Cases Enormous Amounts of Testimony Is Heaped Upon Judges for Perusal.

[Washington Star:] The Supreme Court has had an impressive experience with eighty cases, and now proposes to make important changes that will increase the efficiency of the courts. For instance after taking thirty-five years to wend its way through the equity courts, a suit over Thomas Edison's patent for an automatic telegraph system has just now come up for consideration by the Supreme Court. When the suit was brought the country was engaged in celebrating its marvelous progress as marked by the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia. The world has grown tired of expositions marking the progress of the nation since that year. Thousands upon thousands of dollars have been spent in taking testimony in the case before commissioners in America and England. And the end is not yet.

What does the Supreme Court propose to do to remedy these conditions?

In seventeen words, the court probably accomplished its greatest reform. "Unless otherwise prescribed by statute, or these rules, the technical forms of pleadings in equity are abolished." It would be difficult to estimate how many men are dying in poorhouses today because that rule was not adopted decades ago. The effect of the rule may be judged from the seemingly reliable statement that one-half the time of an American court is taken up with a consideration of the technical forms of the proceedings.

At present the solicitor may dilly-dally along by filing "demurrers" and "pleas," setting up that too many, or too few, or the wrong parties have been named in the suit, or that there is an insufficiency of fact to support the suit. In either event the matter would be set down for formal hearing, and months, if not years, would be consumed in dealing with this phase of the litigation. After February 1 these old bread-winners for hungry lawyers will be abolished. The rights of clients will be protected by allowing points to be raised by "motions to dismiss," which may be set down for hearing by either party within five days. The right to have the proper parties named in the suit may also be raised by the "answer" to the suit. Even if this method is pursued, the Supreme Court has taken precautions to hustle things along. If the plaintiff does not call for an argument on the point of proper parties within fourteen days he may forfeit his suit entirely.

At present the plaintiff files his bill, the defendant may "answer," and then the plaintiff is given another shot at it by being permitted to file a "reply." The "reply" almost invariably repeated what was contained in the "answer." The Supreme Court has wiped out the "reply." It has established the rule that courts will take it for granted that everything in the "answer" is denied.

Another death blow to technicalities was couched in the new rule which provides that "the court, at every stage of the proceeding, must disregard any error or defect in the proceeding which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties." This rule will avoid hundreds of new trials every year.

Relief will probably arise from the [illegible] of Federal courts from the provision that the clerk's office shall be open during business hours on all days except Sunday and legal holidays, instead of the first Monday of each month, to receive and dispose of motions and other proceedings which the clerk is authorized to grant as a matter of course. As to motions which require a hearing before a judge, the Supreme Court lays down the rule that at least one day a month be set aside for that purpose.

In keeping with the object of having litigation move along swiftly in the courts, the Supreme Court will reduce the number of martyrs produced from time to time.

At present a Federal court can only put a party in jail for refusing to obey its command. The aggrieved party gets no relief and the stubborn one becomes a martyr. After February 1 the court may direct that the desired act be done by a third person instead of attempting to induce the performance of the act by a sojourn in jail.

Standing high among the reforms is the one that requires "the testimony of witnesses shall be taken orally in open court except as otherwise provided by statute or these rules." Under the rules a "good and exceptionable cause" must be given the judge before the testimony may be taken outside of court, as is done generally today.

This reform means that the farce of having an examiner or a master take testimony will pass away. No more notable spectable of the result of taking testimony before an examiner need be cited than the pending judicial hearing in the government's suit to dissolve the United States Steel Corporation as a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. [illegible] P. Brown, a lawyer, was appointed examiner to take the testimony. Under the rules of practice he does not have a word to say about the time the hearing adjourns for lunch. He cannot rule upon a single question which is asked, but must refer every dispute to the judges, who eventually pass on the case. Hundreds of pages of testimony were taken in Washington recently before the examiner, to which objection was entered. It went into the record and will cost from one to two dollars a page for printing alone. Some time the judges must plod through it, perhaps to decide that it should not have been received. Thus it is that this momentous question will be decided in the first instance by judges who, perhaps, will not see a witness in the case. Instead of the witnesses coming into court and testifying in a week or so, high-priced lawyers and a corps of stenographers are traveling over the country to the witnesses at an expenditure of money and occupying months of time. Yet judges and lawyers are striving as best they can under an antiquated system.

Probably never again will an equity suit drag out over thirty-five years as the Edison suit referred to before has continued. One of the new rules provides that after a cause has been placed on the trial calendar it shall be heard, but if it is not reached within one year the suit shall be dismissed. The expensive practice of producing expert witnesses is reduced so that the poor man may defend his patent against a rich infringer.

Much of the delay complained about is due to the mass of matter thrown for consideration upon the judges in the higher or appellate courts. Steps have been taken by the Supreme Court to remedy this, and at the same time to reduce the cost of printing in event of appealing.

Instead of printing the whole record of proceedings in the lower court, the attorneys are required to condense. In the first place, the attorneys for the appellant are to select such papers as they desire to send up. The opposing attorneys may then add to this list.

Instead of taking the evidence from the trial court to the Appellate Court in the exact words of the witness and the lawyers examining them, the attorneys will be required to condense the testimony into narrative form. In the Standard Oil dissolution suit the testimony laid before the Supreme Court for reading filled twenty-one volumes. About as many words were contained therein as were spoken in the session of Congress then meeting. It would have required the court about as long to read the record as that Congress was in session. The entire testimony probably could have been condensed into one volume. Judge Hough of the New York Federal Court recently complained that in a patent case before him the record comprised thirty-six large octavo volumes, of which more than one-half was repeated matter.

Under the new rules the parties, with the approval of the trial judge, are authorized to prepare a mere statement of how the case arose, how decided and the facts proved or sought to be proved and send that up to the Appellate Court. When it is considered that it costs $10,000 to print the record in some cases before the Supreme Court the revolutionary nature of the rule is appreciated.

The court has cautioned lawyers against including formal and immaterial parts of exhibits and other documents in the appeal record. In order to discourage effectively the practice in this regard the court provides that the lawyers themselves may be required to pay the costs incurred by infractions of the rules. The ring of the language of the court sounds as if some easy-going lawyer may become a horrible example shortly after February 1.

FORTUNES LOST IN SMOKE.

A Serious Study Being Made to Determine Ways to Keep Much Wealth Going Up the Chimney.

[Current Opinion:] Almost $600,000,000 worth of property is annually lost in smoke in the United States. Fortunes even larger than that go up the chimney with the soot and the gases. Prof. William D. Harkins, who makes these startling statements, tells of one single chimney which literally spouted up $1,000,000 a year. It seems strange that so little is known in regard to smoke. Its economic importance is just beginning to be understood. The University of Pittsburgh has recently established a laboratory employing twenty-five specialists for the scientific investigation of this phase of our industrial life. The United States Bureau of Mines is studying the problem of preventing the escape in cities of the black smoke due to coal, and it has just established a special laboratory in San Francisco for the purpose of studying the smoke given off by copper-smelting plants. Chicago, we are told, is conducting similar studies of its smoke problem, and much work is done by industrial concerns here and abroad along similar lines.

The work done so far is, however, entirely inadequate. The smoke inspector in the city of Chicago estimates that the annual damage caused by the soot and other ingredients of smoke amounts to $50,000,000 in that city alone, and on the same basis, it is said, the damage in the United States as a whole reaches the prodigious figure of $600,000,000 a year. This, Prof. Harkins explains, does not by any means represent the entire loss, since the black soot which escapes and does a large part of the damage is really wasted coal. The coal lost in smoke amounts on the average to 10 per cent. of all that is used.

A Great Company With a Great Record and a Greater Future

SECURITY HOME BUILDERS OF LOS ANGELES

A little over three months ago this company was organized.

Today we are recognized as one of the strongest companies of our kind.

We started from a small beginning and within three months time have grown to such proportions that today we have 1002 shareholders, with 1,136,915 shares sold.

There is a reason for the wonderful success we have had and will continue to have.

This company was organized on right principles, on safe, sound, business methods.

Every business transaction of this company is above board and will stand the most rigid investigation.

There has never been any real estate traded for stock in this company.

There is no promotion stock.

There are no favorites or chosen few. Everybody paid full market value for their shares, and everybody shares alike in the entire profits.

The past records and business dealings of the men directing the affairs of this company will stand the most rigid investigation.

Last month we sold 674,400 shares of stock. Two times during the month we were obliged to call special Directors meeting in order to accept the over-subscription of shares.

It was the intention of the Directors of this company to raise the price of shares when the 750,000 mark had been subscribed for.

But so many were the subscriptions that on the 20th day of January we were obliged to call a special Directors meeting and increase the allotment 250,000 more shares.

But even this great increase in the allotment was not sufficient to supply the demand and after all subscriptions were counted that had been received, or post-marked not later than February 1st, the total subscription was 1,119,615 shares.

What were we to do, send back the money paid on this 119,615 shares and disappoint 140 people, or call a special Directors meeting and again increase the allotment so that we could accept this over-subscription?

Rather than disappoint this additional 140 people a special Directors meeting was called, the allotment increased, and the over-subscription accepted.

The remarkable success we are having proves that the people know a good thing.

It proves that we have a great future, that we have only just started to grow, and there is no doubt in our minds that a few dollars invested in SECURITY shares today will mean independence to the investor in after years.

Shares Now 12 Cents

And Advance to 13 Cents March 1st.

$7,500 Death Claim Paid

San Francisco, January 18, 1913.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

This is to certify that my husband, William E. Griffith, insured in the Pacific Surety Company, was accidentally killed on the 11th day of January, 1913, and hereby acknowledge receiving their voucher check for $7500.00, in full settlement of my claim.

My husband was insured for $5000.00, but under his Pacific Surety Company policy, he was paid $2500.00 additional, on account accumulation earned.

My husband had other accident insurance, but to date the Pacific Surety Company is the only one that has paid me.

I desire to thank you for your prompt payment of this claim, as you have assisted me in every way, and I was put to no trouble or bother, and your check for $7500.00 was paid to me the same time as I handed you my proofs.

Yours very sincerely,

KATHERINE H. GRIFFITH.

We Receive Letters of Thanks Like This Every Day

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.,
December 2, 1912.

PACIFIC SURETY COMPANY,
First National Bank Building,
San Francisco, Cal.

Sirs:

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your check of this date for one thousand (1000) Dollars in favor of Mrs. Annie J. Beal, widow and beneficiary of Charles R. Beal, who held your accident policy No. A-806 for the above amount.

Mr. Beal met his death on November 21, 1912, but you were not informed of this fact until my notice to you giving the circumstances of his death, mailed from my office Saturday afternoon, November 30, 1912. You could not have received this communication until this morning, December 2, 1912, at 9 a.m. At 11 o'clock that morning your office called me on the 'phone and announced your approval of the claim, and stated further that you would deliver to me a check for the full amount at 2 p.m. At that hour today I called at your office and received a check for the sum of One Thousand Dollars in full payment and settlement of this death claim.

I beg to return the sincere thanks of Mrs. Beal for your prompt consideration and approval of this claim, particularly as it is paid at a time when it can be of greatest assistance to her. I beg further to say that I have never known in all my experience an insurance claim so promptly allowed and paid. It is a token of your prompt and fair methods of doing business.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) F. J. SOLINSKY,
(Brother of Beneficiary.)

Modern Harmless Bullets.

[The Lancet:] From Austria there have gone to Bulgaria, to Montenegro and to Servia fifty surgeons who are in charge of about 2000 beds.

One of them, Dr. Fedlicka, states that he has had an opportunity of observing 670 cases of severe wounds in Servian soldiers and expresses his surprise at the rapidity of healing and aseptic conditions of even the most dangerous injuries.

Men shot through the body by bullets, which penetrated the liver, the lung, the spleen and the intestines, recover after a fortnight or so without much evidence of ultimate harm.

The modern bullet is rendered aseptic by the enormous heat of the burning powder and it hardly ever shatters long bones, so that there were very few amputations.

Ready Excuse for High Cost.

[Dallas News:] William Jennings Bryan, on his last visit to Philadelphia, said to a reporter:

"Oh, yes, they have no difficulty in explaining away the high cost of living. No difficulty. No difficulty whatever.

"I know a woman who went to a fruiterer's to buy some apples the other day. The price of the apples shocked her.

"'Why are these so high?' she complained.

"'They're high, ma'am,' said the salesman, with a gallant smile, 'because they're so scarce.'

"'But,' said the woman, 'I read in yesterday's paper that there was such a bumper crop that the apples were rotting on the trees.'

"The salesman rubbed his hands. He smiled more gallantly than ever.

"'That's just it, madam,' he said. 'That's why they're scarce, of course. It doesn't pay, you see, to pick 'em.'"

Paint Without Oil

Remarkable Discovery That Cuts Down the Cost of Paint Seventy-Five Per Cent.

A Free Trial Package is Mailed to Everyone Who Writes.

A. L. Rice, a prominent manufacturer of Adams, N. Y., has discovered a process of making a new kind of paint without the use of oil. He calls it Powderpaint. It comes in the form of a dry powder and all that is required is cold water to make a paint weather proof, fire proof and as durable as oil paint. It adheres to any surface, wood, stone or brick, spreads and looks like oil paint and costs about one-fourth as much.

Write to Mr. A. L. Rice, Manuf'r., 466 North St., Adams, N. Y., and he will send you a free trial package, also color card and full information showing you how you can save a good many dollars. Write today.

An Eyewitness' Story.

SOLDIERS WERE BURIED ALIVE.

GREWSOME TREATMENT OF WOUNDED IN BALKAN WAR.

Turkish Priests Say They Are Beggars, as They Have Lost the Fatherland—Highest Ambition of a Moslem Is to Have Killed Eleven Christians.

[New York Herald:] Tragic scenes of the Turko-Bulgarian war, which he says he can never forget, were described by John C. Uhrlaub, a rug merchant, of New York City, who was a passenger on the Mauretania, which arrived last Saturday.

Mr. Uhrlaub had been absent for several months in Turkish territory and left Constantinople on December 1. He went to the outposts of the army and traveled in an automobile along the lines of the Turkish army which has been battling against the Bulgar hosts.

"Both in Constantinople and beyond," said Mr. Uhrlaub, "I witnessed unspeakable atrocities. With my own eyes I saw soldiers, ill and dying and wounded, hurled from the slowly moving trains which were bringing them in from the front. There they were left to perish miserably beside the rails, being scarcely able to move from the spots where they had fallen. I saw bodies, often several at a time, placed in trenches and as the earth was thrown over them I saw here and there convulsive movements of the arms and legs. Some were not quite dead. They could not have lived doubtless, yet some were being buried alive. I appealed to one of the Turkish priests and asked why this should be.

"'They are beggars, dogs,' he answered. 'They have lost the fatherland. Who cares?'

ENORMOUS LOSSES.

"The losses on both sides have been enormous. For miles I saw bodies strewn everywhere. Only the soldiers who were wounded in the upper portions of their bodies escaped from the field, for those who had leg wounds perished miserably, where they were without food or water. The Turk is not inclined to help the fallen. What little has been done for the ill and wounded Turkish soldier has been done by Christians and Jews.

"The Turkish soldier sees his comrade dying and his first thought is to rob him. I saw one of the soldiers of Turkey bend over a seriously wounded companion in arms. He took from the pockets of the prostrate man all that he had, a finger cut from some Christian with the ring still upon it, the portions of two ears with ear-rings still upon them. Another took from a dying comrade a great mass of Turkish banknotes and several jewels, all clotted with blood, and the man from whose bosom he removed them was not wounded. He was dying from disease.

"In the streets of Constantinople many of the neglected soldiery died. One I saw fall, with hand extended upward. 'Allah! Allah!' he cried. An hour later the corpse was lying there with arm stiff and stark lifted to the sky. What sights of human misery I saw as the refugees came into the city! Starved, exhausted, [illegible] they were sent to Asia Minor [illegible] what is to become of them [illegible] become of them is left to the imagination. The inroads of disease were terrible on every hand. A professor of languages whom I knew went with his two children to see his old home at San Stefano, one the outside of the old city. He died and was buried in his own yard, all within a few hours, and his children returned without him.

"The Turk when not under the influence of his religion is amiable enough. He is honest in his dealings and straightforward. He treats Christians with courtesy and often with a fine sense of hospitality. Let the priest come, let him be inflamed by the Koran, and he becomes a monster of cruelty. So treacherous is the Turk that many Christians have given up aiding the wounded and the starving soldiers. I said to a dying Turkish soldier in Constantinople, for I am able to speak the language of the country:

"'Is there anything that you wish? Can I do anything for you?'

"'I would that Allah would grant me more of life so that I may kill four more Christians,' was his reply. 'For I have killed but seven.'

"It is a tradition that when a Turk has killed eleven Christians he may enter into the delights of Paradise.

"'Whom did you kill,' I asked him. 'Were they soldiers?'

"'No,' was his reply. 'Three children, two women, two old men.'

"In one of the hospitals a Christian surgeon had by careful nursing and a most difficult operation saved the life of a Turkish soldier.

"'I am glad to say,' the surgeon told him, 'that you will be able to leave the hospital tomorrow.'

"'Allah be praised!' exclaimed the Turk, and, reaching down into his garment, he stabbed the surgeon who was bending over him in the back of the neck, killing him instantly.

"For reasons such as this the women of Constantinople are withdrawing from any nursing activities as too dangerous."

Language Purists Busy.

[Ottawa Republic:] There is to be a country-wide attack upon slang, ragtime, swearing and suggestive expressions. The Language League of America, at a recent meeting in Chicago, has arranged for it. Unquestionably, modern society has slipped into careless habits of speech, but it will be a difficult matter for the purists to establish a line of demarcation for slang. Words that were classified in that category a decade ago are now pretty generally accepted in literary circles as apt and simplified, or at least comprehensive expressions. The league would better concentrate its efforts on the suppression of the greater evils of profanity and of suggestion.

Got Even With Bismarck.

[Tit-Bits:] Bismarck was no favorite with women, least of all clever women, who dared to think for themselves and imagine that they could fathom questions of state. He was never tired of snubbing strong-minded ladies, putting them down and stamping on them. One day he paid a visit to the Russian embassy at Berlin, where he behaved as usual, flouting even the mistress of the house, the Countess Schouvaloff herself. He took his leave at length, to the relief of the family, everybody, and presently the [illegible] mastiff was heard barking at the great man as he passed through the court yard. Immediately the Countess ran to the open window, and Bismarck heard her voice, saying to him in a tone of gentle entreaty: [illegible]

Has Many Sides.

HELEN GOULD'S PHILANTHROPIES

DO NOT INTERFERE WITH HER BUSINESS INSTINCT.

Besides Her Railroad Properties She Is Interested in Many Traction Lines in Different Cities, as Well as Real Estate Investments and a Poultry Farm.

[New York Times:] Miss Helen M. Gould came into a fortune of $10,000,000 at the death of her father, and it is estimated that by careful management and judicious investment this fortune has grown to $30,000,000, despite the number and size of her charities.

Her method of doing good has been practical. From the very beginning of her career her charitable work was personal in its character. It was not her practice to send a check to this or that society, and then rest content. She acted as a Sunday-school worker, and as a volunteer settlement worker, and then, when her resources became larger, the institutions and philanthropic projects which she founded were all under her personal direction.

It was not until 1898 that the American public learned of the extent of the work Miss Gould had done. The homes she had established for the care of sick children at Woodycrest and elsewhere, her personal charge of philanthropic institutions in this city, and the numberless gifts she had made to different charities were all so unobtrusively managed that they had remained comparatively unknown until the blaze of popularity burst upon her for her work in behalf of the American sailors and soldiers during the Spanish-American War.

CARE FOR SICK AND WOUNDED.

At the first call to arms she responded in the only way in which she then thought she could be of service to her country, by giving $100,000 to the government for war expenses. Then she became interested in the Red Cross Society, and was active in the auxiliaries of that organization. She was an honorary member of the Women's War Relief Association, and donated sums of money from time to time to that body. But this did not satisfy her.

Her first really active participation in the war relief work started with a visit to the wounded and sick soldiers at the Marine Hospital, the Smith Infirmary, and the Ft. Wadsworth Hospital on Staten Island. The personal contact which she experienced that day, the insight into the sufferings of the first men brought home wounded from Santiago, seemed to map out her work for her. She soon assumed control of the Woman's War Relief Association and reorganized it, making its object the care of the wounded and sick who were coming from Cuba in transports by the hundreds.

At one time when through some official blunder, supplies were wanting at Montauk Camp, where numbers of the sick and wounded were being received, she prevented the suffering and death which would have been caused in delay by wiring $25,000 to the camp for instant use. Her checkbook was open for every movement for the benefit of the American fighting man, and, when she had done all that money could do, she gave her own personal services. Many a wounded soldier in Montauk Camp owed his life to her nursing.

When there was no further need for her services in the hospital she turned her energies to the future welfare of the volunteers who had lost their positions by going to the front.

WON THE NATION'S THANKS.

Her services did not go unrewarded. The whole nation, through Congress, thanked her by ordering a gold medal to be awarded to her. The States of New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois thanked her in resolutions. More than three thousand soldiers and sailors wrote her personal letters of thanks, and all these were placed in an album, which is one of Miss Gould's most prized possessions. From the veterans of the Civil War Miss Gould received the official badge of honor.

Another highly-prized gift which Miss Gould received at about this time was a solid gold badge of the New York fire department. This was for what she had done when the Windsor Hotel was burned. Miss Gould then turned her home into a hospital for the treatment of the injured, and she herself worked so hard with the sufferers that for some time she was on the verge of nervous prostration.

The Spanish-American War left her the popular idol in America. This enviable position had not a few drawbacks. One of the greatest of these was that it made her the object of thousands and thousands of begging letters and crank letters. The applications made to her for charity became so great that Miss Gould found it necessary to organize a bureau to investigate appeals and systematize her charitable work.

For this work Miss Gould was eminently fitted. She had deliberately prepared herself for the work of handling her large fortune. Shortly after the death of her father she had gone to law school and taken a thorough course. Further than that, the Gould estate had been safeguarded so that the charitable designs of Miss Gould would not be able to cut into it too deeply.

The will of Jay Gould left his heirs bound to follow closely the advice of the executors of his estate. The supervision by the executors over the affairs of the heirs extended even to matrimony. The will provided that none of the children should marry without the unanimous consent and approval of the executors, on penalty of losing one-half of his or her inheritance.

Thus now Miss Gould's marriage must have the sanction of the other children. This provision, it will be remembered, threatened to cut down the inheritance of Anna Gould, then the Countess de Castellane, when she married Prince de Sagan.

Those who know only of Miss Gould as a philanthropist realize that she is one of the finest types of business women in the United States. Charitable as she is, Miss Gould has absolutely divorced the two lines of work which occupy all her time and energy. Her philanthropy does not interfere with her financial operations, and her business does not interfere with her philanthropy. And her philanthropy is as well systematized and conducted as her business affairs.

MISS GOULD'S BENEFACTIONS.

Miss Gould has always been intensely interested in the Railroad Young Men's Christian associations and it is a notable fact that thousands of members of those associations in different cities are practically employees of Miss Gould. Most of the railroads in the country which bear the Gould name are partially owned by her. Her stock holdings represent a network of roads branching out into every section of the United States.

Miss Gould's popularity with the railroad men is as great as it is with the army and navy. In 1910 a committee representing the railroad branch of the Young Men's Christian Association waited on Miss Gould at her residence at Irvington-on-Hudson and presented to her a loving cup and a bound volume of personal letters from the various branches of the association. Here are Miss Gould's largest benefactions:

Navy Y.M.C.A. building and addition	$500,000
City of New York University	210,000
T. U. S. Government at outbreak of Spanish-American War	100,000
Hall of Fame building, N. Y. University	100,000
For scholarships, N. Y. University	40,000
Equipping Navy Y.M.C.A. at Norfolk	25,000
To National Women's Relief Association	25,000
To Rutgers College	25,000
To Engineering Dept., N. Y. University	20,000

The gifts of smaller sums by Miss Gould would probably bring the total up to $1,500,000. Most of her gifts, large and small, have never been announced, and the public has learned of them only indirectly, so that only a part of the philanthropy of Miss Gould is really known.

CALAMITIES APPEALED TO HER.

The amount which she has given for building railroad Y.M.C.A. branches is in the hundreds of thousands. During the San Francisco earthquake, at the time of the Texas flood, and in every national calamity, Miss Gould has responded generously. The charities in which she has taken the greatest personal interest are the Woodycrest Home for Crippled Children, the Girls' Sewing School in Lyndhurst, and settlement work in this city.

Miss Gould also has been furnished with vast means of charitable work in the railroads in which she had a voice. One instance of this occurred in March of this year. A drought left the farmers in Colorado and some of the Southwestern States with no water or fodder for their cattle. They did not have the cash to ship the stock before the usual time nor did they have money to buy food or to bring water.

The shortage meant a great loss to the State and to owners of live stock, and consequently a great loss to the railroads, for there would be little freight to carry. Miss Gould telegraphed to President Bush of the Missouri Pacific, requesting him to aid in lending the farmers money or fodder, and in making it possible for them to get water, either by irrigation or by carrying it to them on trains.

Miss Gould was a heavy stockholder in the Missouri Pacific, and was not only interested in the farmers, many of whom would have been bankrupt and lost their farms, but she realized that the logical organization to help them, purely from a business point of view, was the railroad which depended greatly for dividends on the freight handled by the farmers.

Miss Gould has never been a society woman, chiefly for the reason that she has been too busy all her life. Miss Field, in her article on Miss Gould, said:

"Society as it is known today does not interest Miss Gould in the least. Her social secretary keeps her long visiting list in order and up to date, and during the season hands to her each day the 'at home' cards for that day, and cards are sent to the many on whom it is not possible for her to call. Upon a few she calls, and it is the older people, her mother's friends, whom she sees oftenest and with whom she is happiest.

"It is her custom to select 'first days,' as she tried to avoid 'crushes.' She is very susceptible to the effects of crowded, stuffy rooms. She is very diffident about meeting people, and prefers to pay her respects to the hostess and quietly retire.

She usually received her friends informally at her home on Tuesdays during the winter, but gives two or three receptions during the season. She rarely gives large dinners, and when alone she lives very simply.

"When one leaves the city in the early summer for the country it is usually for rest and recreation. Not so with Miss Gould. At and about her beautiful home at Lyndhurst, at Tarrytown-on-the-Hudson, she has many interests which keep her even more fully occupied than while in the city. Every Saturday morning the bowling alley and clubhouse near the river are full of little and big girls learning to sew. Teachers come from New York, and if the full course is taken these girls are able at the end to make a dress from start to finish, and if they have any talent they can trim a hat in the latest fashion.

"The children move about class by class, and each has a chance to try all of the sports and compete for the prizes. Miss Gould goes from group to another, her face as merry as those of the children, enjoying it all as much, if not more, than they do."

HER ANNUAL BUSINESS TOUR.

Besides her railroad property, Miss Gould has invested heavily in the stock of traction companies in many of the largest cities, especially in the South. Each years she makes a trip in her own private car to inspect these various properties, and to suggest improvements. Of course, she has a number of managers, secretaries and agents, but she is nevertheless in close touch with all her property, and it is she who directs all her enterprises. She trusts nothing to her agents, and she has time and again proved herself more astute in matters of direction than the men who manage her affairs.

Montrose

Thousands of people will visit Montrose on Washington's Birthday, next Saturday. Many will buy then and there. Are YOU going to wait for that? Or will YOU select before—and secure all the benefits our wide publicity and heavy selling will bring?

Real Western Barbecue

On Opening Day---Next Saturday

Next Saturday, at Montrose, we'll give you a picture of old-time Spanish California days—a delicious Barbecue luncheon cooked out of doors, beneath the oaks, by Senor J. Romero, the famous Spanish Chef.

You'll want to be there—thousands will go.

But the shrewd, well posted Buyers are getting in at Montrose NOW—going over the property, studying the lay of the land, selecting business lots, seeking out the particular residence sites that please them.

Substantial profits will accrue to every Montrose Buyer, whether he purchases in advance or not.

But who do you think will reap the biggest profit?

—The "ground floor" Man or Woman who gets in first, of course.

Are YOU going to be one of these?

Up you go from Glendale, on the famous Foothill Boulevard—spinning up, up, up, but on a grade so gradual you do not realize the ascent.

You're 1300 to 1400 feet above the sea when you reach the junction of the Verdugo, La Crescenta, La Canada Valleys. This point is Montrose—thirty to thirty-five minutes from downtown Los Angeles.

No fog up here. You're right between the grand Sierra Madres and the verdure-clad Verdugo Mountains—where the air is dry, sweet and balmy—pungent with the health-giving scents of the mountains.

Here is a high, gently sloping mesa, looking south from which there are miles and miles of thrifty orchards, groves and productive gardens.

These beauties belong to YOU, if you live at Montrose.

So do the close-by Canyons, the splendid trees and the leafy shrubbery that grows on all sides in such profusion.

Think of having a HOME in such surroundings—in a carefully restricted, beautifully developed residence park—with all the conveniences heart could wish—where order and quiet beauty prevail in street, parking and vacant lot alike, because the free care given by the owners of Montrose provides for just these advantages.

All lots here are large, fronting on winding drives.

—But get our free Booklet—its truthful pictures by pen and camera will give you the whole story.

Low Prices Now at Montrose—Very Easy Terms. The Finest Suburban Town Adjacent to Los Angeles Will Build Here—at This Natural Townsite.

The BIG advance, and the BIG profits will accrue to those who have the wisdom and the foresight to buy at Montrose NOW—just as the wealthy people of Los Angeles and of Pasadena are those who invested wisely in land in early days.

In this present day—this very week—tomorrow in fact—will YOU be one of them?

Eat and Get Thin

This is turning an old phrase face about, but modern methods of reducing fat have made this revision possible.

If you are overfat and also averse to physical exertion and likewise fond of the table and still want to reduce your excess flesh several pounds, do this: Go to your druggist (or write the Marmola Co., Farmer Building, Detroit, Mich.) and give him (or send them) 75 cents. For this modest amount of money the druggist will put you in the way of satisfying your ambition for a nice, trim, slim figure. He will hand you a large case of Marmola Prescription Tablets (compounded in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription), one of which you must take after each meal and at bedtime until you begin to lose your fat at the rate of 12 to 16 ounces a day. That is all. Just go on eating what you like, leave exercising to the athletes, but take your little tablet faithfully and without a doubt that flabby flesh will quickly take unto itself wings, leaving behind it your natural self, neatly clothed in firm flesh and trim muscles.

Mines and Mining in the Great Southwest.

Phoenix.

MAY START THE BALL ROLLING.

Shipment May Mean Placer Field's Opening.

Electricity from Arizona for Goldfield Mill.

Superior to Derive Power from Two Sources.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Feb. 14.—Northeast of Phoenix in the neighborhood of Morristown, along the line where the last foothills of the Bradshaws run down in the plain, lies a long stretch of rich mineral ground. It appears to start around Congress and Octave and to have been more or less exposed by deep erosion for fifty miles or more to the southeast from that point.

A vast amount of placer ground is within this district, including the noted placers of Rich Hill, along the Hassayampa, in the Santo Domingo Wash and in the canyons that lead down from the White Picacho and along Humbug Creek. The placer gold came assuredly from erosion and the leaching of the talus of the mountains to the northward.

Down the scattering foothills east of Morristown, much good-looking ground has been under location for many years, though with little tangible result in the way of output. This condition is likely to be changed soon, for Dan Ainsworth, manager of the Arizona-Vermont Copper Company, and of the Orion Gold and Copper Company, is preparing ore for shipment from both properties.

The Orion group comprises seven claims, lying four miles from Morristown. Upon it is available a dump of several hundred tons of ore, sampling 5.6 per cent. copper and 54 per cent. in lead, with a couple of ounces of silver to the ton. A favorable offer has been made for the ore by the Needles smelter, to which it will be shipped.

Ainsworth has been in Phoenix for several days, getting teams for the work of transportation to the railroad. The Arizona-Vermont group, including twenty-seven claims, lies eight miles from Morristown, and on it is exposed a large body of medium-grade copper ore, running well also in gold.

The late strike of lead ore on the London-Arizona property, near Winkelman, is reported to be immense and of a character that will well repay transportation to the smelter. Three hundred tons are now ready for shipment to El Paso. The ore lies about six miles from the railroad, but the haul is a cheap one.

The Superior mining district will soon have a double source of power. The Calumet and Arizona Company is extending a line from Ray, carrying electricity generated at the great Ray Consolidated plant at Hayden, and the Lewissohn interests are electrically connecting their properties at Miami with their Magma mine at Superior; this electricity is generated at Roosevelt by the United States Reclamation Service.

The terminal of the two lines will be less than three miles apart, and there is speculation whether it may not eventually be found cheaper to cross this small gap and secure power from the government for the mines at Ray, than to continue to use the power generated at Hayden by the burning of expensive fuel, carried in by rail.

Through the sale of treasury stock George U. Young now announces that he is at last prepared for the installation upon his Mammoth mine at Goldfield, of a new 300-ton stamp mill, to be operated by electric power from the Arizona dam. The old ten-stamp mill on the property is operated now, providing funds for the further development of the mine.

Within sixty days Superintendent Roy Sibley expects to have at least 200 men working on the mines of the Copper Creek Company, thirty miles above Mammoth. He is shipping a carload of concentrates a week from Winkelman, and the smelter at Douglas is giving gross returns of about $1700 a carload.

The company is preparing to build a thirty-inch gauge railroad from the mine to Mammoth, the line to be constructed by a subsidiary corporation, with the pretentious title of the Phoenix and Copper Creek Railroad Company. It is expected that before another year a broad-gauge extension of the Arizona and Eastern will have been completed from Winkelman up the San Pedro, at least as far as Mammoth.

Some of the richest gold ore ever found in Arizona has come from Winifred district, less than twenty miles north of Phoenix. Renewed activity is reported in this district, which has had sporadic working for over thirty years. D. W. Steel gets about $60 a ton from ore worked by him in a crude way from the old Red Dog mine. His facilities only admit of the treatment of about a ton a day.

IS COMING INTO ITS OWN AGAIN.

Output Grows With Opening of New Year.

Many Companies Plan Renewal of Work.

French Capital Backs Large Project.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

GOLDFIELD (Nev.) Feb. 14.—The opening month of the year 1913 showed a substantial increase in the production of gold bullion by the Goldfield Consolidated Mines Company and a highly gratifying outlook for all the operating companies of the district. Several of the mining companies owning ground of good promise, but which have been inactive for some time past, have been enabled to resume active operations as a result of their having undergone reorganization and secured ample funds to carry on their work, either by levying assessments on their stock or increasing their capitalization.

During the past year the prospects of the camp for permanent and heavy production have been bettered many fold, and were never at any time since the camp was discovered brighter than at present. Ore of good grade has been exposed in parts of the district that were formerly supposed to be barren, and the productive area has been correspondingly widened, giving substantial promise that the district as a producer of precious metals is in its infancy, and that there still remain as good opportunities for the coming of bonanza mines as ever before.

The estimated production of the Consolidated for the month of January, 1913, just issued by officials of the company, is as follows: Total tons mined, 27,265; gross value recovered, $505,000; operating expenses, $175,000; net realization for the month, $330,000. This is a gain of $60,000 over December. The actual monthly returns, which are not available until the smelter returns are in, usually exceed the preliminary estimate by from $10,000 to $25,000.

Mining operations on a scale of considerable magnitude are now under way by the French Western Exploration and Reduction Company, of which E. Jerrier de la Bathie is the representative and general manager in Nevada. This company, composed of and financed by French capitalists, has acquired title to the mill in Goldfield that was formerly owned by the Nevada Goldfield Reduction Company, the Tokop mine in the Gold Mountain district, the Orlean mine at Hornsilver, and control of the Silver King mine, also in the Hornsilver district. In connection with the mill there is a sampler of large capacity, and the equipment is excellent and in good condition.

The Pioneer Consolidated Mining Company has just acquired a complete milling plant of fifty tons' daily capacity, and it will at once be installed on the company's ground near the shaft. The plant is the one that was erected over three years ago [illegible] Beatty, Nev., but which was never entirely completed and has [illegible] dropped a stamp. W. J. Tob[illegible], president and general manager of the Pioneer Consolidated, who has been in Goldfield for several days, has returned to Pioneer, where he will supervise the installation of the mill.

While no attempt is made at production by the management of the Goldfield Merger Mines Company other than by the removal of the ore that is brought to light in the progress of development work, it is reported that a large tonnage of commercial ore is already exposed in the workings of the Velvet claim, and that preparations will be made shortly for extensive stoping.

Development work of the [illegible] importance is that which the [illegible] company is conducting on its [illegible] claim, where the main shaft is [illegible] to great depth, and the [illegible] Grizzly Bear vein is exposed at [illegible] a dozen points from the west [illegible] cut on the 1330-foot level.

This big vein has been penetrated diagonally by the cross-cut, and [illegible] connection with the Grizzly [illegible] workings was made in the vein, which is shown to be at least fifty feet [illegible] at this point, and to contain [illegible] seams of ore. An important fact [illegible] has been demonstrated in this [illegible] is the fissuring of the shale underlying the latite and dacite of the district, indicating that the [illegible] of the property extends to [illegible] depth.

Shipments of milling ore are [illegible] warded from the Poleverde [illegible] the Jumbo Extension Mines Company to the leased mill at Bonnie Clare [illegible] the rate of ninety tons daily for [illegible] days of the week, and it is expected that there will be no difficulty [illegible] maintaining a treatment average upward of 2000 tons monthly. [illegible] heads are maintained at from [illegible] $12 per ton and excellent returns [illegible] obtained at the plant. In addition [illegible] this ore, occasional shipments [illegible] higher-grade material are made to the local sampler of the Western [illegible] Purchasing Company and by the company shipped directly to the smelters for treatment. The ore carries silver and copper as well as [illegible] and yields better returns by smelting than otherwise.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Florence Goldfield Mining Company will be held at the company's offices in Goldfield on [illegible] 1 and will be followed by a meeting of the directors, when it is believed steps will be taken to acquire milling facilities for the treatment of the large tonnage of good milling ore [illegible] is known to exist in the property. [illegible] this ore some remains standing [illegible] the drifts and stopes and a considerable quantity is broken and stored [illegible] the old stopes and raises, where [illegible] can be mined at a comparatively small expense. The company [illegible] has one of the best shafts and [illegible] ing equipment in the district; [illegible] shaft is 1270 feet deep and well timbered. With its station on the [illegible] foot level the company is now prepared to undertake the deep development of its property.

Excellent progress has been made in the work of enlarging the [illegible] shaft of the Goldfield Ore, about [illegible] feet north of the Consolidated [illegible] lines, and it is announced that [illegible] work will be completed by February 20, when a large hoisting plant, together with compressor and [illegible] drills, will be installed and the [illegible] will be sunk rapidly to a depth [illegible] 1000 feet.

This shaft should penetrate the [illegible] channel that is associated with the [illegible] Columbia Mountain fault at a [illegible]

Dollars That Grow

are the greatest power in the business world today. Gibraltar stands for the dollar that grows not only through co-operation, but with the certain productivity of the soil and the steady advancement of the California Acre. The land and the trees that are planted therein never fail to increase in value. Gibraltar grows the trees, plants the acre and sells the orchard home. Gibraltar's growing dollars are further backed by the expert direction of men who have been successful for over a score of years in the nursery and land investments which Gibraltar is now managing for the co-operative shareholder. These great facts are the reason why

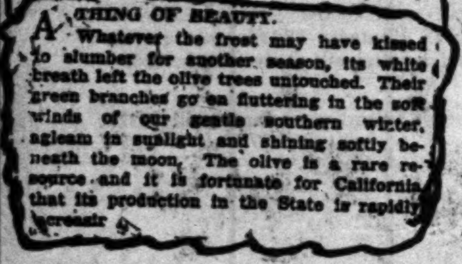
California Has the Land and Gibraltar Has the Trees



L. A. Times Jan 24 1913,

A THING OF BEAUTY.

Whatever the frost may have kissed to slumber for another season, its white breath left the olive trees untouched. Their green branches go on fluttering in the soft winds of our gentle southern winter, agleam in sunlight and shining softly beneath the moon. The olive is a rare resource and it is fortunate for California that its production in the State is rapidly increasin

There are 3,000,000 acres of olive land in California and Arizona—about one-half of the world's supply—that will take 200,000,000 trees to plant. Gibraltar is propagating and growing the largest supply of olive trees in the world. The price of these trees is steadily advancing as a result of a demand that cannot be supplied. These prices mean profits for shareholders.

Gibraltar's Great Nurseries Expand

Located in several counties the Gibraltar nurseries now include the largest olive tree propagating plants in the world located at San Bernardino, Hemet and Montebello, in addition to the acreage growing nursery stock at the former points, besides Rialto, Redlands and Glendora. Under the expert direction of President Isaiah Martin and Vice-President C. M. Wilhite Gibraltar has within 12 months placed more than 11,000,000 of olive, citrus, palm and other nursery stock in its immense propagating plants and nurseries. These officers, who have had over 20 years of experience, conservatively and ably handle the orchard and nursery business of Gibraltar, aided by a trained and expert corps of assistants.

WILL START OLIVE FARM

Los Angeles Company Is to Develop Tract of 240 Acres

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 1.—Active work will be started within a month on the development of a 240-acre olive orchard for the Ducor district. The work is to be done by the Foothills Orchard Company, which is a subsidiary corporation of the Edmund Packing Company's interests in Los Angeles.

The tract to be planted is a portion of the Salladay lands, south and west of Porterville, which were recently sold to the company.

Machinery for an irrigation system adequate to the size of the project has been purchased and will be shipped to the lands at once.

GIBRALTAR is making profits for shareholders from the selling of the 1897-acre Bloomington tract of rich horticultural land in 5, 10 and 20-acre tracts upon easy payment—10 years if desired. This is the district that captured the Sweepstakes Cup for oranges at the National Orange Show at San Bernardino last year, besides the first cup for five boxes of Washington Navels and many other prizes.

Gibraltar's Special Excursion Wednesday, Feb. 19

WILL CARRY YOU TO THE BLOOMINGTON ACREAGE AND THE GREAT NATIONAL ORANGE SHOW AT SAN BERNARDINO. The price of a round-trip ticket if purchased through Gibraltar will be but $1, while the excursion rate is $2.35. Gibraltar wishes to show you the land and what is being done in developing its Bloomington acreage. FREE LUNCHEON WILL BE PROVIDED on the grounds near packing houses. Then you will be taken on Gibraltar's special train to San Bernardino to inspect the immense olive propagating plant of the company and the National Orange Show. Pointers on California Lands

Sharon Farms your Opportunity

SHARON MADERA

If you lived in the San Joaquin Valley, the celebrated farming empire of California you would know the fine old 22,000-acre SHARON RANCH. It has been held intact for years and the splendid crops produced upon it have given these lands an enviable reputation, known well to all ranchers in the vicinity. It is level, rich, with every facility for cheap irrigation.

We purchased this beautiful farming land a few months ago for subdivision, and we bought it at such a figure that we can offer this land at the unusually attractive price of $100 to $200 per acre in ten, twenty and forty-acre farms.

These farms are located near the County Seat of Madera County and have a railroad station on the tract. We have established a town-site and built and furnished a hotel. There are stores, telephone, telegraph, express, mail, and lightning train service.

Due to the exceedingly low price at which we are offering these lands, the improvements that we are putting in, the rapidity with which the tract is being taken up, and the assurance of abundant harvests, it means that every farmer will more than double his money in two years.

Space will not permit the detailing of the very easy terms at which this choice land may be secured, but we have it all in printed form and will send it free on application. There are life insurance features and unusual provisions in our selling contracts protecting the buyer from loss in case of illness or misfortune that will be of interest to you. Look into this matter and you will be pleased, having found, we believe, exactly what you want.

was erected over three years ago Beatty, Nev., but which was never tirely completed and has dropped a stamp. W. J. Tobin, president and general manager of the Pioneer Consolidated, who has been in Goldfield for several days, has turned to Pioneer, where he will supervise the installation of the mill.

While no attempt is made at production by the management of the Goldfield Merger Mines Company other than by the removal of the ore that is brought to light in the progress of development work, it is reported that a large tonnage of commercial ore is already exposed in the workings of the Velvet claim, and that preparations will be made shortly for extensive stoping.

Development work of the greatest importance is that which the Merger company is conducting on its St. Ives claim, where the main shaft is sunk to great depth, and the great Grizzly Bear vein is explored at half a dozen points from the west crosscut on the 1330-foot level.

This big vein has been penetrated diagonally by the cross-cut, and the connection with the Grizzly Bear workings was made in the vein, which is shown to be at least fifty feet wide at this point, and to contain many seams of ore. An important fact that has been demonstrated in this work is the fissuring of the shale underlying the latite and dacite of the district, indicating that the enrichment of the property extends to great depth.

Shipments of milling ore are forwarded from the Poleverde mine of the Jumbo Extension Mines Company to the leased mill at Bonnie Clare at the rate of ninety tons daily for six days of the week, and it is expected that there will be no difficulty in maintaining a treatment averaging upward of 2000 tons monthly. Mill heads are maintained at from $8 to $12 per ton and excellent returns are obtained at the plant. In addition to this ore, occasional shipments of higher-grade material are made to the local sampler of the Western Ore Purchasing Company and by that company shipped directly to the smelters for treatment. The ore carries silver and copper as well as gold, and yields better returns by smelting than otherwise.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Florence Goldfield Mining Company will be held at the company's offices in Goldfield on March 1 and will be followed by a meeting of the directors, when it is believed steps will be taken to acquire milling facilities for the treatment of the large tonnage of good milling ore that is known to exist in the property. Of this ore some remains standing in the drifts and stopes and a considerable quantity is broken and stored in the old stopes and raises, where it can be mined at a comparatively small expense. The company now has one of the best shafts and mining equipment in the district; the shaft is 1270 feet deep and well timbered. With its station on the 1250-foot level the company is now prepared to undertake the deep development of its property.

Excellent progress has been made in the work of enlarging the shaft of the Goldfield Oro, about feet north of the Consolidated lines, and it is announced that work will be completed by Febr 20, when a large hoisting plant, together with compressor and machine drills, will be installed and the shaft will be sunk rapidly to a depth of 1000 feet.

This shaft should penetrate the ore channel that is associated with the big Columbia Mountain fault at a Ocean to Ocean.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION to hand you herewith copy report made to the Los Angeles Auxiliary of the Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association by F. C. , chief engineer of the Los Angeles County Highway Commission, George S. Hinckley, engineer of , concerning the road from to Yuma via Palm Springs, the Salton Sea, through Brawley the Mammoth Wash.

to add to this report that at the Messrs. Joyner and Hinckley over the road I was with them, they said to me, personally, is no road construction problem between Banning and Yuma that to an engineer." I quote because they are the exact words Joyner, to which Mr. Hinckley his approval. You will recollect a report made regarding this by Engineers Clark and Bright before you at one of your Los Angeles meetings last spring.

would seem that a road which been approved by four well-known merits your serious consideration and is, for the following reasons, entitled to survey by the engineers of your staff.

As I understand it, a survey has been ordered by you as far as San Bernardino; also to Riverside. will, of course, be a survey from San Bernardino to Riverside, passing through Colton. A survey from San Bernardino or Colton to El Centro through Redlands, Beaumont, Banning, etc., would connect two county seats by a highway running north and south, which, in spirit, would seem to meet the provision of the law as to coast and inland highways; and the survey will be only 167 miles. From San Diego to El Centro the present mileage is 125 miles and probably, if anything like the proper survey, a survey will add at least twenty miles more. That is, a survey from San Bernardino to El Centro is only forty-two miles more, a survey from Colton to El Centro is only twenty miles more than from San Diego to El Centro. If the survey, now under way, is continued from San Bernardino to Redlands, which would seem probable, since this is a city of 11,000 people, it will reduce the remaining distance to El Centro by eleven miles and the road to be surveyed would be only eleven miles more than from San Diego to El Centro.

The survey from Colton to El Centro is over a road which has been pronounced by four engineers to be feasible and to possess no engineering difficulties. The road from San Diego to El Centro, with a grade which your commission wishes to adopt, offers many engineering problems.

The only part of the Colton-El Centro road regarding which any objection question has been raised is between Banning and El Centro. I have been over this road a few times with engineers, with county supervisors, and with men of practical experience. They all tell me the construction over this part in question is easy and comparatively inexpensive. The grade is never over 1 per cent. Road construction material is close at hand nearly the whole distance, the longest haul being two miles in one short stretch. I know those who are not informed and those who for reasons of their own, are against this road, claim it impossible because of sands. I say to you that there are small stretches of sand; that they are on the northeasterly side of the pass and valley along the line of railroad track and that, on the southwesterly side of the pass and valley there is little or no sand. This is the side on which the road lies that is now used. The water question has always been raised regarding Whitewater Point and today a road has been constructed over that point by Riverside county funds and private subscriptions which makes it passable. There is little, practically nothing, in the talk of sands and water offered by those who oppose this route. I say this as one who has been down over the route two days after a sand storm and on one occasion this fall when a terrific norther was blowing. It is likely this road would not cost as much to construct and certainly because of its slight grade, not as much to maintain, as the San Diego-El Centro road.

(4) This road will open up for setlement thousands of acres of land on which can be grown oranges, lemons, and grapefruit that will ripen earlier and be of as good quality as that grown in San Bernardino Valley; on other parts of which can be grown cotton, dates, figs and other tropical fruits. Water can be had for irrigating this land from the Whitewater streams of the San Bernardino range, from the creeks and underground streams from the San Jacinto Mountain and all that range of mountains and hills southwest from San Jacinto. Already ranches are established wells are bored, and there are even flowing springs at many places along this route. Inside of two years when No. 8 Extension is carried out in Imperial Valley thirty-eight miles of this route will be under irrigation from the Colorado River. The construction of this road means a tremendous increase of taxable property for the State of California. On the other hand, the road from San Diego to El Centro passes through a mountain range on miles of which no water of any quantity can ever be put, which, therefore, can never be developed.

(5) A road from San Bernardino to El Centro will pass through many towns already developed with wealth and population: Colton, Redlands, Beaumont, Banning, Palm Springs, Indio, Coachella, Thermal, Mecca and Brawley, the assessed values of which total $20,000,000 and the population of which is a good many thousands. In this statement I refer to the assessed values and the population of the towns alone, not to the districts lying in between. Between San Diego and El Centro the only town is Campa, the population of which is 300, the assessed value of which is $22,000.

As I understand it, in determining the location of State Highways, the first thing to be considered is the law. The second, the possibility and expense of permanent road construction. The third, the cost of maintenance. The fourth, the present development and the population of the district under discussion. The fifth, the possibilities of development.

I submit to you that in every one of these points the road from San Bernardino to Colton and thence to El Centro takes precedence over the road from San Diego to El Centro.

Finally, may I say that I have not one dollar of personal interest in this proposition. All the property I own west of New York City is my small winter home in Redlands.

I trust you will give this letter your consideration and that you will do me the courtesy of a reply, and I am

Very respectfully yours,
G. W. WILDER,
President Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association.

Are You FAT?
I Was ONCE.
I Reduced Myself

I was Fat, Uncomfortable, Looked Old, Felt Miserable, suffered with Rheumatism, Asthma, Neuralgia. When I worked or walked, I puffed like a Porpoise. I took every advertised medicine I could find. I Starved, Sweated, Exercised, Doctored and changed climate but I ruined my digestion, felt like an invalid but steadily gained weight. There was not a single plan or drug that I heard of that I did not try. I failed to reduce my weight. I dropped society, as I did not care to be the butt of all the jokes. It was embarrassing to have my friends tell me I was getting Stout, as no one knew it better than myself.

Something Had to be Done.

I began to study the cause of FAT. When I discovered the cause I found the remedy. The French Method gave me an insight. I improved on that. Removed the objectional features, added more pleasant ones, and then I tried my plan on myself for a week. It worked like Magic. I could have at the end of the first week when the scales told me I had lost ten pounds by my simple, easy, harmless, Drugless Method. It was a pleasure then to continue until I regained my normal self in size. I feel fifteen years younger. I look fifteen years younger. My Double Chin has entirely disappeared. I can walk or work now. I can climb a mountain. I am normal in size. I can weigh what I want to weigh. I am master of my own body now. I did not starve, but ate all I wanted to. I did not take Sweat Baths. I did not Drug. I used no Electricity, or harmful exercises, but I found the simple, sane, common sense WAY of reducing my weight and I applied it. I have tried it on others. My Doctor says I am a perfect picture of health now. I am no longer ailing. I am now a happy, healthy woman. Now I am going to help others to be happy. I have written a book on the subject. If you are fat, I want you to have it. It will tell you all about my Harmless, Drugless Method. To all who send me their name and address I mail it FREE, as long as the present supply lasts. It will save you Money, Save you from Harmful Drugs, Save you from Starvation Diets, Harmful Exercises, possibly save YOUR LIFE. It is yours for the asking without a penny. Just send your name and address. A postal card will do and I'll be glad to send it so that you can quickly learn how to reduce yourself and be as happy as I am. Teaching Birds to Sing.

[Harper's Weekly:] "Professors" among birds are those that are maintained for the purpose of teaching their companions to sing. These birds have, in turn, been taught by other birds, or by persons who are clever at whistling. Years of experience have taught the canary raisers that, in order to obtain the best results from their songsters, they must use Saxon birds as trainers.

The industry of training the young birds flourishes in the Hartz Mountains. Nowhere else are the birds so conscientiously brought up. Thanks to the wonderful patience of the peasants of that region, the birds learn to modulate their voices, produce silvery sounds, and introduce a variety of notes into the long trill, embellishing them with many a grace note.

For a long while these results were never obtained elsewhere, for the exported birds cease to transmit their vocal qualities in perfection after one or two generations. Now, however, canary education in England has advanced to an astonishing degree. In that country there are several schools for birds, where the musical education of these warblers is intrusted to "bird organs" brought from the Hartz Mountains.

These curious instruments are as strange in sound as they are in appearance. They consist of large cylinders full of water. These slide one into the other and are moved by a chain on a pulley attached to a fixed bar. The musical box is placed at the top of this arrangement.

The bird organ produces a plaintive and monotonous sound, resembling that of water rolling over a bed of rocks and of wind sighing through trees. It seems that these sounds have the effect of taming the birds and making them amenable to discipline.

The walls of the "classrooms" are occupied by lines upon lines of cages. The pupils are grouped in classes, according to their degrees of education. Those that possess weak or defective voices or have false methods of warbling are the objects of special attention.

Birds that have made a successful beginning are put under the persuasive influence of the finer bird organs, which are worked by electricity, and are remarkable for the richness and perfection of their tones. Whenever a pupil is considered worthy of it he receives individual tuition, the best artists thus produced afterward becoming teachers to new arrivals.

Charged Against Society.

FOR WORKERS ON HAZARDOUS JOBS.

Interview With Charles Earl, Solicitor of the Department of Commerce and Labor, Who has Pioneered the National Compensation Law Into Effect.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Thirty-six years ago a committee of the British House of Commons showed that the old way of doing business was fast becoming obsolete. Corporations were taking the places of personal owners and partnerships. The masters, as the English still call the employers of labor, were disappearing into retirement and agents were managing mills, factories and mines. Ancient and familiar relations were being brought to an end. Industry was being unsentimentalized. Logically, so the committee argued, the act of an agent in the eye of justice and the statute should be the act of the corporation owning the establishment. Thus began the agitation which, three years later, brought about the enactment of the employers' liability law.

BLOOD NOT FIGURED WITH COST.

Up to the time English manufacturers ascertained the cost of their products by figuring up the outlay for labor, interest, and insurance, the depreciation of plant, and the losses sustained through bad accounts, it was an elementary problem in arithmetic. Workmen were injured and workmen were killed. Their blood might be on the product, but it was not included in the price. The employers' liability law changed the book-keeping of industrial concerns. Men who met their death while at work, so declared the act, were worth something to their wives and children. Men who were injured at their work should not be compelled to bear the whole of the loss. The British compensation law, crude though it was, turned the Anglo-Saxon mind toward the thought that human workers, equally with machinery, required protection and new legislation.

The thought was a long time in crossing the Atlantic Ocean. Labor was well paid here, and Americans, driving ahead in the profit and excitement of building a continent, were practical and not always ethical. Some things had to be delayed. The arts, for example, and also sundry delicate matters of justice. It was not until May 30, 1908—twenty-eight years after the action of Great Britain—that Congress passed a law "granting to certain employees of the United States the right to receive from it compensation for injuries sustained in the course of their employment." Maryland and perhaps one other State had, in a narrow way, applied the compensation principle to small and unimportant classes of workers. The first broad recognition of the principle, however, was left to the national government.

Since the law went into effect, during August, 1908, sixteen States have taken it as a pattern for legislation of their own. It is administered by the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, and his decision is final. This officer for the past four years has been Charles Nagel of St. Louis, a wise and kindly man and a very able lawyer. The pioneer work of the law, however, has been done by Charles Earl, the solicitor of the department. In face and figure, Mr. Earl is a refined copy of Theodore Roosevelt.

ORIGIN OF THE COMPENSATION IDEA.

"The compensation act," Mr. Earl says, "is a distant step in advance. It substitutes the enlightened modern view for the obsolete doctrines of the common law respecting responsibility for certain wrongs for which there had been no remedy. It permits the prompt payment of compensation at a time when the breadwinner is stricken and money is most needed. Furthermore, it keeps the family of the workman, if he is killed at his employment, out of the poorhouse or off the charity list."

"Where," I asked Mr. Earl, "did the compensation idea originate?"

"In Europe, where society has had more time to reflect than is the case in new countries. Political economists long ago perceived that many hazardous ocupations were necessary to the general welfare. Digging coal is one of them, making iron and steel is another. We could not get along without railroads. Nor can railroads, it would seem, be operated without the loss of life and the injury of trainmen. Powder and dynamite are articles of common use almost everywhere. Their manufacture is dangerous to all who are engaged in it. Every steel skyscraper pays a toll in human blood.

"Political economists and other thoughtful persons also perceived that while society required coal and iron and transportation, that society was not paying the full cost of these primal requirements of modern civilization. Workmen were being killed and workmen were being injuerd in performing a public service but the loss was not added to the cost of the service they were doing. Instead, it fell in the event of death, on the families of the men and, in the event of their injury, on themselves.

"A coal miner, so the new philosophy shows, is engaged in an occupation of the hightest importance to his fellow citizens. The coal he digs warms the people in winter, keeps factories in operation and moves railroad trains. Let us say that a miner has his leg broken in an accident. The roof of the mine fell in and there was no escape. Under the old practice and the old view of such an event, the miner, a poor man, would lose his wages until he resumed work. In the meantime he and his family might be a charge on the community in which they lived. Perhaps his landlord and his grocer might help. It is almost certain that his comrades in the mine would take up a collection in his behalf. But nothing came to him as a matter of right. He had knowingly entered a hazardous occupation and must be willing to bear its penalties while enjoying its rewards. It was a brutal argument but it was excepted by public opinion and was sanctioned by our laws.

ADDED TO THE PRICE OF COAL.

"The theory of the legislators who passed the national and State compensation laws is that the injured miner is entitled to at least a part of his regular wages while he is lying in bed with a broken leg and that his family should be paid something in case of his death. The cost of his injury, therefore, is put on the public where it belongs. It is counted in with interest, mining, transportation and other expenses and properly increases the price the consumer pays for his coal.

Charles Earl,
Solicitor of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

The miner, consequently, under the modern scheme of compensation does not become the beneficiary of charity. No violence is done his self-respect. His wife and children need not be ashamed to meet their neighbors and playmates face to face. The miner, you see, is a wounded soldier in the industrial army of the nation. Necessarily he has a furlough with pay during his absence from the ranks.

"When our mines and manufacturing establishments were small and few in number, we followed the common law of England in dealing with the cases of injured workmen. The workman was compelled to prove in a court of law that his injury was caused by the neglect of his employer. Unless he could do so, he recovered nothing. The employer ordinarily denied responsibility. He could defend the suit brought against him by charging an injured workman with contributory negligence.

"Thus a brakeman losing an arm or a leg might have been challenged in his statements and shown to have been neglectful of his own safety. The burden of proof was on him. It was the custom, also, in defending suits for personal damages to say that the injury was caused by a fellow servant of the man who was hurt. Clearly, so the logic of such a defense ran, a railroad company was not liable if an engineer in backing his locomotive against a standing train at a greater speed than usual crushed a brakeman between the cars. The fellow servant, namely the engineer, under the common law as developed, was to blame.

KNEW JOB WAS DANGEROUS.

"In short, employers maintained that they were not responsible for the personal negligence of their workmen, nor for the accidents they caused. Furthermore, railroading or mining or iron-making was a dangerous occupation. The worker knew the hazards he was taking, and, being a free agent, should be compelled to bear the consequences of his choice. He could be a farmer, a shoemaker or a clerk. When he picked out a dangerous place, thus voluntarily assuming a risk, he should not complain if he happened to get hurt. It was even held that in some accidents—the breaking of a flywheel, for example—no one was at fault. In such a case the injured workmen could not recover anything, no matter if he were made a cripple for life.

"Happily, the world has outgrown such ancient ideas of what is wrong and what is right. The conscience of this age demands that men engaged in hazardous pursuits, in a service for the public, be given a money protection against injury and death. An iron molder in making stoves may receive burns which will keep him away from his work for months. The cost of the stoves manufactured by the foundry in which he is employed cannot be accurately ascertained until his lost time is added to the other items of expense. Moreover, he should be paid promptly and without a suit. Under the common law an injured man had to hire a lawyer and get his proof. Perhaps he nearly starved to death while waiting for action by the court. A compensation law keeps his name on the pay roll. And the consumer, to use a familiar phrase, pays the tax."

"The national law," I said, "only benefits those persons who are employed by the United States?"

"It includes artisans and laborers at work in arsenals and navy yards; in river, harbor and fortification projects; in the hazardous places of the reclamation, Bureau of Mines, forestry and lighthouse services; in such manufacturing establishment as are owned or operated by the national government, and in constructing the Panama Canal. In all, about 110,000 persons are covered by the law. Clerks in the departments at Washington, experts and professional men, are not mentioned in the statute.

A GREAT SUM ALREADY PAID.

"Our payments, most of which are continuous for a time, cannot be added and brought down to date. I can say, however, that during the first thirty-five months of the operation of the law compensation was given in 7152 cases of injury, 280 of which resulted in death. The sum of $791,924 was paid to injured persons. Dependents in death cases received $167,883. A rough guess would increase both sums about 50 per cent. as the total paid out up to February, this year. For my own part I think that all artisans and laborers employed by the United States should be covered by the law, regardless of the places where they work, and that the hazardous nature of their service should not be a factor in determining their right to compensation.

"The man who is injured, if the injury lasts more than fifteen days and was not caused by his own negligence or misconduct, receives his usual wages during his disability up to one year. If he is killed or dies from his injuries, a year's pay goes to his wife and children or his dependent parent. Should he be permanently crippled, he would get a year's wages and no more. Were he to lose the sight of both eyes, his name would be marked off the pay roll at the end of twelve months. The compensation for such a personal calamity is inadequate, and the law, I suppose, will be liberalized by Congress at some future time.

"I think the law should likewise be amended—and the principle is applicable to public or private employment—so that the compensation to an injured man be made slightly less than his ordinary wages. Experience has shown that such a policy is best for all concerned. It is only human nature for one to delay his return to work if his pay is coming in right along. I would fix the compensation below the usual earnings and thus give the disabled man a tonic that would often hasten his recovery. While our national law is a long step toward social justice, it needs, as I have often shown, some improvement. It fails also to cover injuries not received in accident. To say that an injury was not sustained through an accident appears paradoxical. There are plenty of such injuries, however.

"A pressman at the Bureau of Engraving, for instance, moves his arm in a certain way nearly 1000 times each day. He finds some morning that his arm is a little stiff at the elbow and shoulder. The stiffness increases, but he remains at work. He finally discovers that his arm is so lame that he must stay at home and call a doctor. No definite accident has occurred, but he is temporarily put out of commission because of the nature of his labor and Uncle Sam, his employer, ought to pay him until he is well enough to resume his place.

"Before the enactment of the present law, workmen of the United States suffering injury at their employment had no means whatever of recovering personal damages. Special acts for particular cases were occasionally passed by Congress, but the money that they carried was a gratuity. The person injured had no recognized rights and the government being incapable of doing wrong, as the old theory maintained, could not be sued in a court of law. Persons in private employment, as on railroads and in manufactories, could sue, but I have already shown the difficulties they met in recovering damages for the losses they sustained. The Federal government by the enactment of the compensation law has become a model for the States. The day is coming, I dare say, when workmen generally, or those engaged in dangerous pursuits, at any rate, will be protected against loss of wages by injury.

"Moreover, there is a tendency all over the country toward the payment of losses incurred by reason of occupational diseases. Men working in lead become poisoned. It is necessary that men should work with lead. Such workers, therefore, should be assured that they will not be deprived of their earnings when stricken with a disease common to their employment. Acids and chemicals bring on occupational maladies. The cost of a keg of white lead must ultimately include its proportional share of the compensation given the man suffering from lead poisoning. It is a just charge and will be subtracted from the profits of the manufacturer or added to the price asked the consumers."

WHAT SOME STATES NOW PAY.

"You say the laws of the State are patterned after the act passed by Congress?"

"Yes, in principle. In some States, notably Washington and Nevada, compensation is compulsory; in others it is optional with employers, who are free to choose the law or to be sued for personal injuries in the courts as heretofore. The new law of Massachusetts gives the dependents of a workman meeting death at his employment, 50 per cent. of his wages for 300 weeks. The minimum weekly payment is $4; the maximum $10.
Illinois, in the event of the death of a workman, allows four years' earnings, but the sum must be no less than $1500 and is not to exceed $3500.
The compensation in Kansas is the earnings of three years, but the payments must amount to $1200, with $3600 as a maximum. California also pays three years' earnings, the minimum of the total payments being $1000 and the maximum $5000.

"Total disability in Massachusetts is met by the payment of half wages for a period of 500 weeks; in Kansas, half wages for no more than ten years;
in Illinois, weekly payments up to $3500 in the aggregate and in California, not more than three years' wages in weekly sums ranging between $6.41 and $32.05. For partial disability, Massachusetts allows half wages for not more than 300 weeks;
Kansas allows from 25 to 50 per cent.
of the weekly earnings up to ten years;
Illinois allows half wages for no more than eight years; California allows per cent. of the usual wages for a period not exceeding three years. She adds, where death occurs, $100 for funeral expenses to the payment of sums varying from $1500 to $5000.
Men who are permanently disabled receive from $5 to $12 a week as long as they live. Such are some of the laws of our States. I refer to them in detail because they show the thought of the age. Other great States have similar laws. All States, no doubt, will adopt the principle of compensation to men engaged in dangerous pursuits."

"What effect will compensation laws have on the legal profession?"
I asked.

"I do not care to venture very far into such a matter. Litigation, obviously, will be lessened. Some lawyers are engaged almost exclusively in what is known as personal injury cases. They take such business with an agreement that they are to have a certain part of all money collected.
Often it is the larger part. Compensation laws establish a standard of payments. An injured man knows what he will get. He obtains his money without legal formalities. All large employers of labor would prefer to have it so. They know what they must pay. Moreover, compensation laws work toward safety.
They cause employers more fully to safeguard the men who take the risks."

"Will bricklayers, carpenters, iron workers and all classes of artisans and laborers be paid some time for the injuries they receive?"

"I don't know. It must be remembered that compulsory compensation might cause ruin in some cases. A country blacksmith employing one hand could scarcely pay a large sum were the hand killed by the kick of a horse. Again, a little farmer might be sold out by the Sheriff were his hired man to meet death while cutting grain or gathering apples in the orchard. Such aspects of the subject must be considered when there is a suggestion that every worker in the country be included in the scheme of compensation. Some form of insurance, compulsory perhaps, and paid by the employer and employe may be the way to protect persons working on farms and in small establishments."

NAVY'S WIRELESS STATION.

Operators Can Handle Six Messages at Once from Their Isolation in a Sound-Proof Room.

[Washington Star:] Shut in a sound-proof room, with heavy doors like a refrigerator, or a vault iron safe, six wireless operators can simultaneously take messages out of the air from the aerial that stretches between the tops of the big steel towers that the navy department has erected at Arlington.

The wire from the aerial runs into this isolated room and branches to the six sets of sending and receiving instruments. If Colon and Guantanamo and San Francisco are all talking at the same time, each will be using a different wave length according to the capacity of its plant.
This wave length can be varied by the sending operator within a range of 20 per cent.

The operator who is taking a message simply tunes his receiver up or down until he gets the key in which the message he wants is being sent. This may not completely shut out all the other messages that the towers are getting, but it dead-ens them and sharpens the tone of the message that is wanted. It is more or less like a roomful of persons all talking at once, but a man who is listening to a particular speaker can largely ignore the general hum of conversation.

The plant is not to be only a sending and receiving station, but ultimately will be equipped for laboratory work, so that instruments can be tested and research work carried on. When all of the switchboard is equipped it will be possible to shift any variety of the several currents to any part of the building, where it is wanted for any purpose.

Inside the sound-proof room the operators are as nearly isolated from the outside world as though they were perched on the apex of the north pole. Outside their room there is a little office with telegraph and telephone instruments, and this is connected with the operating room by a telautograph wire, so that if a message is caught that needs to be relayed to the Navy Department or anywhere else, it can be passed through the thick walls by the telautograph and copied on a special typewriter. This machine makes four copies of the message, three of which can be torn off and used as required, while the fourth drops into a locked drawer, to which the only key is in the pocket of Woodford, who is in charge of the station.

Why Prisoners Went Bad.

[Washington Star:] The warden of a famous penitentiary was discussing the convicts' school that he has successfully established.

"Our convict pupils are doing well," he said. "Our curriculum aims especially at strengthening their will power. These poor fellows want to do right, but their wills are weak. In fact," the warden smiled and shook his head; "in fact, they are all wish-bone and no backbone.

"Of course, too, their upbringing may have been bad. Parents often spoiled them, perhaps. Like the well-known case of the father who said:
'I have never struck my children except in self-defense.' Or like the well known case of the father whose little boy had a goat.

"While this father was entertaining some guests in the drawing-room the boy dragged the goat in through the door and the animal immediately butted over and smashed a huge and expensive vase of enamel.

"'Willie,' said the father, sternly,
'how often have I told you never to bring that goat into the drawing-room? If you will have it in the house, I insist that it be confined strictly to the sitting-room, dining-room and library.'"

Changed Boundaries.

NOTED RANCHES GET THE KNIFE.

"Making Little Ones Out of the Big Ones."

Poland Princes Cutting Off Pieces for Farms.

Famous California Estates Needed for Homes.

BY CHARLES ALMA BYERS.

California's famous ranches, noted for their immense acreage and a diversity of other reasons, are gradually disappearing. In fact, only recently came the report from Santa Barbara that the last of the really big ones is soon to be subdivided. A realization of this fact brings to many an old Californian a feeling of sadness, for it means the passing away of a sort of landmark of the early days almost as dear and as full of romance and history as the old Spanish missions. Nevertheless the passing was inevitable. It was as sure to come as is the center of our population destined to continue to move westward.

The cutting up of the old ranches is but an indication, and probably the most indisputable one, that the population of California is growing by leaps and bounds. The State must make room for this influx of home-seekers, and this means that the size of the farms or ranches must be gradually decreased. And where this subdivision will eventually end is indeed difficult to predict.

MUCH CUT UP.

In 1850 the average acreage of a California farm or ranch was 4465.6, and in 1910, a period of sixty years, it was only 316.7. Surprising figures, aren't they? Nevertheless they are authentic, for they come from a bulletin just issued by the nation's Department of Commerce and Labor. In 1850 there were but 872 farms in the State, while in 1910 there were 88,197 —another way of showing how our ranches have been cut up. The in-

The number of farms in the State in 1910, and therefore of all farm operators, was 88,197. Of the operators, 66,632 are classified as owners, 3417 as managers and 18,148 as tenants. The number and percentage of all farm operators in the same years as to color and nativity were as follows: Native white, 58,926, or 66.8 per cent.; foreign-born white, 26,193, or 29.7 per cent., and negro and other non-white, 3078, or 3.5 per cent.

In regard to farm mortgages, the government's bulletin reports that of the 66,632 farms owned wholly or in part by the operators, 39,368, or 59.5 per cent., were free from mortgage in 1910 and 33,620, or 67.8 per cent., in 1900; that 26,749, or 40.5 per cent., were mortgaged in 1910 and 15,979, or 32.2 per cent., in 1900; and that the remainder, 515 in 1910 and 1494 in 1900, were unknown.

Of the 88,197 farms in the State, 39,352, or 44.6 per cent., were irrigated in 1909. The acreage reported as irrigated in the same year was 2,664,104, or 23.4 per cent. of all the improved land in farms. The area to which enterprises existing in 1910 were capable of supplying water was 3,619,378 acres, and the total acreage in irrigation projects, completed or under way, in 1910 was 5,490,360.

Bisbee.

LOWERS COST, BUT DOESN'T CUT WAGE

COPPER QUEEN IS REDUCING UNDERGROUND EXPENSES.

Company Won't Stand for Union Interference, but Is Popular With Miners—Placer Ground Near Warren Reported Sold for Fifty Thousand Dollars—Smelter Planned.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

BISBEE (Ariz.) Feb. 14.—Under the new top-slicing system of the Copper Queen Company, a vast amount of additional ore, workable at a profit, is developed. Underground costs are steadily lowered, without a decrease of wages or sacrifice of safety.

The Queen is continually installing new appliances for the betterment of underground conditions in its hundreds of miles of workings and its popularity with the miners employed shows no decline, though the company steadfastly refuses to permit any union interference.

Two new shafts, the Silver Bear and the Sacramento timber shaft, are sunk, while work is steadily prosecuted on the schist and porphyry deposits, from which a new field of development is opened, namely, the building in Bisbee soon of one or more of the largest concentrators on earth.

Placer ground below Warren is said to have been sold by a number of Bisbee residents for $50,000, the first payment to be made the next July. The richness of the ground has been demonstrated, but many problems of cost will have to be worked out before success is assured the enterprise.

The Leadville mine at Courtland is shipping about five carloads of ore a day. The carbonates go to the Copper Queen smelter at Douglas, and five cars of sulphides a week to the smelter at Tucson.

Copper ore averaging 25 per cent. has been found in quantity fourteen miles south of San Simon on the property of the Willie Rose Copper Mining Company. The whole bottom of the shaft is said to be of good ore.

Plans are made for a $200,000 smelter at Tecolote camp, forty miles west of Carbo, on the Southern Pacific-Sonora line. Mine development has been going on for seven years, resulting in the blocking out of 3,000,000 tons of ore, averaging 4 per cent. copper and $15 to the ton in gold and silver. The company has about 12,000 acres with many ore veins. The deepest workings are 600 feet.

Persistent Rumor.

COMPANY SEEMS HARD TO SELL.

SHELLS REPORTED BARGAINING FOR ASSOCIATED.

Possibility of Big Foreign Interests Being After Concern Is Plausible, as They Are Reputed to Be Anxious to Enter Business in This State.

If rumors could sell an oil company, the Associated would by now be the property of one of half a dozen concerns. About six months ago the announcement that the Union Oil Company was a prospective purchaser, started the ball rolling, and since then it has careened around the oil world, settling in a new corner periodically.

The latest reported prospective buyer for the Associated is no less a factor in the oil business of the world than the Shell interests. In fact, a prominent authority is quoted as saying that they are bidding for the Associated.

Some oil men are of the opinion that it is not so much a question now of whether somebody wants to buy the Associated, as whether the heads of the Associated want to sell. However, it is generally presumed that they do if they can get a sufficient price.

The possibility of the Shell interests being interested in the purchase of the company affords unlimited opportunity for speculation. Despite denials on the part of certain representatives of the Shell interests, it is apparent that they are not averse to invading the fuel oil business of the State, from the fact that Alexander MacKeye, officially connected with the Anglo-Egyptian Oil Company, one of the Shell's subsidiaries, tried to open negotiations for the Union. There seems every reason to believe that the shells would like to get a small finger in the pie of the California oil business, attracted, no doubt, by the great possibilities of oil development offered in this State, especially in connection with the Panama Canal.

The prospective influx of European capital into California, indicated by the several big deals pending and many reported offers, indicates more than anything what interest foreigners are taking in the development of the State's oil resources. Whether or not the Shell interests have a hand in any of these cannot be learned, but such facts sometimes do not come to the surface until a long time after everything seems to have been said and done.

The assumption that the Shell interests are after the Associated is, consequently, no more impossible than others that have been heard in the last six months.

Gibraltar's Excursion

Orange Show Special

To Our Land at Bloomington
To Our Olive Propagating Plant

AND TO THE NATIONAL ORANGE SHOW AT SAN BERNARDINO

Next Wednesday, February 19—Train Leaves at 8:45 a. m.

Grand Sweepstakes Prize Cup, and Prize Cup of Best Commercial Pack of Oranges, Won by Bloomington Fruit Association at the Last National Orange Show at San Bernardino.

The special rate at which we are running this personally conducted excursion to Bloomington will enable many people who are directly interested in the land—the propagation of olive trees and the planting of orchards—to see with their own eyes the evidence which will convince them of the superior advantages in locating their orchards in the Gibraltar tract. We will take you direct to the land, on which we will serve free luncheon—We will take you to see our olive propagating plant and the National Orange Show at San Bernardino. You will see Gibraltar's elaborate exhibit at the Orange Show, one of the most novel features there. The railroads are making a rate of $2.35 during the Orange Show—Our rate is $1.00—if you register at our office.

The Earth Is Calling You and Will Meet You Half Way If You Will Develop Her Acres

IN THE THRIVING COMMUNITY AT Bloomington there are those who have made their orchard home a permanent thing and will achieve an undisturbed independence thereby. The broad acres of the Gibraltar company adjoin this hustling town on the west, and in this land experienced fruit growers are building their homes and planning great orchards. 5 acres—10 acres—20 acres and more—various tracts are offered and chosen according to the means of the buyer. Responsible firms are offering to contract for entire olive crops from 10 to 40 years in advance. Such is the future of the olive. Of oranges, we can say Southern California shipped nearly 40,000 carloads last year, and the demand is far exceeding the supply. The best oranges command fancy prices, and Bloomington oranges won the grand sweepstake prize at the last National Orange Show. Gibraltar is selling its acres at Bloomington because the rich soil is there—it is the same identical soil that produced the prize oranges. The buyers are losing no time. Of the many tracts sold the following owners are building or ready to build their dwellings: J. E. Ford, Elizabeth and Edward W. Wilson, F. M. Upstill, Bertha and Harry Reynolds, J. C. Munson.

One of Four Pumping Plants Now in Operation on Gibraltar's Tract.

The price of five acres ranges from $2250 to $3000. A generous discount for all cash and an additional discount of five per cent. is offered on the total purchase price of your tract if you have Gibraltar build you a house costing $500 or more, during 1913, provided the discount does not exceed one-half the cost of the house. You are not pioneering, you are not getting raw land when you buy on the Gibraltar tract at Bloomington. You are living in a thriving community, with schools (one now being built at a cost of $20,000;) churches; trolley cars to Riverside (7 miles;) Crescent City line (building) to Rialto (3 miles;) P. E. extension to connect main line with Bloomington, Riverside, Colton (4 miles;) San Bernardino (7 miles) to cross the tract. S. P. railroad bisects tract. Other improvements adjoining are two Packing Houses, a great Olive Pickling Works, an Oil Mill, S. P. Depot, etc. Four Pumping Plants on the tract supply abundant water and the climate and temperature the year round is conducive to healthy living and the production of big citrus or olive crops regularly.

If you are seeking orange or olive land for an orchard home—with deep, rich soil—you will find it in the Gibraltar Acres. Your tract will be planted by the Company to your choice of Trees. The selling price includes the complete orchard and one share of Water Stock per acre. Gibraltar will build your house on terms, thus affording you every opportunity to come immediately into possession of a complete Orchard Home.

of about 700 feet, but even in that event will be continued through the faulted area to the depth stated. The present operations of the Oro are considered to be among the most important in the district.

Mining men who have visited the camp of Rochester, in Humboldt county, and whose opinions and advice are worthy of heed, are strongly advising their friends and acquaintances against going to the northern camp at this time, and many are deploring the character of publicity that is used to advertise the district and attract to it a stampede of mining men and camp followers. A man who has just returned to Goldfield from Rochester declares that there are only about fifty men actually employed in the mining district, while the entire population numbers almost 2000. Pneumonia is rampant and several deaths have occurred.

Shipments out of the old camp of Good Springs, in Southern Nevada, are now the heaviest in the history of that section, and there is hardly a property of any importance in the camp that is not active. The district is one of the most varied in point of mineral resources that can be found anywhere in the West. At present the chief production is zinc, but there are some heavy lead producers and high-grade copper and gold properties.

Capt. G. C. Webb, who served with the British army against the Boers in South Africa, and who has been in Goldfield for the past two years, left camp the other day with his wife for London, from whence he will go to Bahia, Brazil, in the interest of an English corporation that has a mining concession from the Brazilian government. While here Capt. Webb had charge of several mining properties, including latterly the C. O. D. Consolidated. He has mined in almost every country in the world.

Frederick E. Browne of Denver has just sued the Goldfield Monarch Mining Company in the District Court on various notes totaling $15,595.93. C. C. Parsons was president and Harry W. Robinson was secretary at the time the notes were issued.

Capt. J. W. Morrell, a mining operator of Lida, Nev., formerly Chief of Police of a Kentucky town, was released from jail yesterday after having been confined for the past week. When arrested he was so drunk he didn't know whether he was in Nevada or Kentucky—and cared less.

STRIKE ORE IN DORMANT MINES

Old Mother Lode Producer Are Revivified.

Arizonans Enter Tuolumne District.

Mammoth Company Negotiates for Copper Group.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.] JACKSON (Cal.) Feb. 14.—Discoveries of commercial ore in the Alpine and Empire-Pacific mines have aroused fresh interest in the Drytown district. Both of these mines are old time properties and have been recently reopened after lying dormant for approximately twenty years. Situated in a section of the Mother Lode that has always been noted for the prolific production and immense dimensions of its veins, the properties are giving every promise of again becoming heavy gold yielders.

The west cross-cut from the 500-foot level of the Alpine broke into ore last week, at a point approximately sixty feet from the station. The quartz shows good values and the management is arranging to commence comprehensive development work at this point. The easterly cross-cut from the same level has advanced about 200 feet and is expected to intersect the old east vein at an early date. The east and west ledges have been developed sufficiently in the upper levels to show their high character, and the company is highly encouraged by the recent strike at the 500-foot point. William H. Hooper is general manager.

Developments at the Empire-Pacific, better known as the Plymouth Consolidated, are even more satisfactory. This property has been completely unwatered and repaired to a depth of 1600 feet, and a winze advancing from this level has entered a solid body of quartz, showing good values. The discovery of commercial ore at this depth is considered highly encouraging, and further developments are progressing vigorously.

Drifting from the Pacific shaft to open the deposits of the Indiana claim is proceeding steadily, and an underground hoist has been installed in the Indiana to facilitate operations. This claim is virtually a virgin portion of the property, and its development is followed with much interest.

The Plymouth Consolidated group has a credited productive record of $11,000,000 and for years was one of the leading gold yielders of the State. Friction among stockholders, and a destructive fire combined to still activities after the 1600-foot level had been opened. There remains in the old workings immense deposits of ore which were formerly too low grade to treat, but which may now be profitably handled with modern milling appliances.

The reopening of the group ranks among the most important events of recent years on the lode. The property is operated under bond and option by Bewick, Moreing and Company, of London. Albert Barch is general manager.

ARIZONANS IN TUOLUMNE.

The Longfellow Gold Mining Company has been organized to operate the old Longfellow gold mine at Big Oak Flat, a noted gold section of Tuolumne county. The company is organized with a capital stock of $500,000, under the laws of Arizona, with its principal place of business at Phoenix. Los Angeles and Arizona people are stated to be principally interested. As a safeguard to stockholders the articles provide that the company cannot incur more than $50,000 in liabilities at any one time.

The Longfellow has been a fairly productive mine in past years, but has been consistently handicapped by lack of capital for systematical development. Considerable milling ore is blocked out, and it is understood the new operators plan to undertake deep mining immediately and the development of the property on a broad scale.

The Utica Mining Company has completed arrangements for the reconstruction of its flume line, and a large force of workers is about to depart for the hills. The company, one of the largest operators on the Mother Lode, has trouble with its water and power flumes in the winter, because of deep snow and other unfavorable conditions and every spring develops the need for repairs. It would seem that permanent work would be justified instead of the annual repairs, as the expense thus incurred could be avoided by the construction of a line sufficiently massive to withstand the assaults of the elements.

MAMMOTH ACTIVE.

Negotiations are pending for the transfer of the extensive holdings of the Stowell and Shasta Exploration groups of copper mines to the Mammoth Copper Company, operating the Mammoth mines and smelter at Kennett. The Stowell estate lies near the highly developed estate of the Mountain Copper Company and is considered one of the most promising on the Shasta copper belt. It has been developed sufficiently to demonstrate the presence of huge deposits of copper ore of commercial quality and it is understood the Mammoth people plan to conduct vigorous developments as soon as the deal is ratified.

The present owners acquired the property several years ago, but the slump in copper prices, together with the unfavorable conditions generated by the smoke agitation, militated against the extensive development originally outlined. With the culmination of the deal the Mammoth will become the owner of the largest copper acreage in California. The combined area of the Stowell and Shasta groups approximates 2400 acres, practically all of which is in fairly proven territory.

Although handicapped by lack of laborers, the Mammoth is making a record production per month with its three active furnaces. The cool weather facilitates the handling of larger charges, as the bags are not so susceptible to damage from the heated fumes as when the hot season is at its zenith. The monthly pay roll is close to $90,000 and more men are badly needed in the mines. The Balkan War drew away a large number of the company's muckers and considerable difficulty has since been experienced in maintaining a sufficiently large working force.

HEIRESS STUDIES ART IN A ROMAN GARRET.

[BY CABLE AND FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE OVERLAND TO THE TIMES.]

Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] Crowds still come to gaze at the portrait of Gabriele D'Annunzio, the Italian author, painted by an American heiress, Mrs. Romaine Brooks. There is something weird and fascinating about the picture that seems to portray not only the physiognomy of the author, but also gives a glimpse of the soul of the artist.

Mrs. Brooks gave up home and fortune to study art under the most realistic conditions. She spent years in a garret in Rome and sat at the feet of the great masters of the brush in Europe. The portrait has assured her fame and has made her a celebrity in art circles.

PARIS, Feb. 15.—The United States embassy in France is about to be turned into the street. The landlord of the house in which the embassy offices are situated on the Avenue Kleber, and where they have been located for fifteen years, has given notice that the place must be vacated on April 15 as he intends to transform it into a hotel.

The question of finding a suitable location for the chancery of the embassy has become a serious one, owing to the overcrowding of Paris.

EDITOR ATTACKS MARCONI GAMBLE

Amazed at Relations With British Officials.

Declares Isaacs Unsuited to High Position.

Refuses to Divulge Source of His Information.

[By Atlantic Cable and by Federal (Wireless) Line Overland to The Times.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] A special cable to the New York Herald dated London, February 13, says: There were lively scenes at yesterday's meeting of the commission inquiring into the Marconi agreement after Edward Oliver, editor of the Outlook, told how as a result of the scandalous rumors he asked Lawson to write articles on the contract.

J. L. Maxse, editor and proprietor of the National Review, was called and gave remarkable evidence about what he described as the amazing gamble in the shares of a company engaged in a confidential negotiation with the British government. Maxse attacked the personality of the managing director of the Marconi company, Godfrey Isaacs, who, he said, "appears to have dealt with the British government as if he were one of the great powers."

ISAACS UNSUITABLE.

"There is nothing in his somewhat checkered career," he said, 'that suggests his suitability for such a high and responsible place, and it is not easy to discover the successful concerns with which he was previously associated. Nor has anything explained the action of the postoffice and the government in knuckling down to him."

Maxse refused to give the committee the names of persons who had supplied him with information, giving as his reason that his position as editor depends upon inspiring the confidence of persons with whom he holds confidential communication.

DEBATE ON REFUSAL.

The committee adjourned twice to consider what steps should be taken regarding Maxse's refusal and eventually decided to report him to the House of Commons.

Handle With Care.

HOW RAILROADS HAUL DYNAMITE.

MANY PRECAUTIONS ARE TAKEN WITH THE EXPLOSIVE.

Regulations Are Strict About Packing the Stuff in Cars, Their Place in the Freight Train, and the Reports the Men in Charge Must Make.

[Pittsburgh Gazette-Times:] Do you know, Mr. Traveler, that at any time you ride in a railroad coach or Pullman you may brush elbows with concentrated death—with capsuled annihilation? Do you know that when you board your morning train in the suburbs to come to work in the city you may be embarking on a journey side-by-side with a chained fiend, who, if he broke loose, would reduce you to undiscoverable atoms?

These are startling words. But they need not arouse undue alarm; for, as stated, the fiend is chained. Every precaution that the law, and strictest rules, carrying heavy penalties for violation—and science as well—can suggest is being taken to render this monster as harmless as the giant Gulliver was when bound with a network of cords by the tiny Liliputs.

The monster's name is explosives. Dynamite, nitroglycerine, gunpowder, naphtha; these are the manifold forms he assumes. Every day he rides on the railroad cars that come into and pass out of the city. Yet so admirable are the regulations prescribing the manner of packing, the handling and the transportation of explosives that scarcely a single accident or wreck due to such freight exploding has occurred in the Pittsburgh territory within the memory of living men. When it is born in mind that millions of pounds of dynamite, nitrocellulose and other deadly stuffs are shipped in and out of this city every year, being loaded from wagon to car and from car to wagon, this remarkable showing is all the more extraordinary. A large proportion of these thousands of tons of explosives are used in coal mining and quarrying operations in Western Pennsylvania, although some of the freight is shipped to Eastern Ohio and West Virginia, where there are vast collieries. The Pennsylvania Railroad system ships a greater bulk of explosives than any other railroad system in the United States.

WARNING FROM A TRAGEDY.

The showing in Pittsburgh is almost duplicated in the case of the nation at large; for not since the terrible catastrophe of May, 1905, near Harrisburg, Pa., has a carload or shipment of high explosives broken loose, scattering death and destruction. In that catastrophe a car loaded with dynamite exploded, killing twenty-three persons and injuring more than 100 on an express train standing near the freight cars containing the deadly stuff.

As the telegraph flashed the grewsome news to every State of the Union a universal cry went up demanding stricter care and heavier penalties for the boxing and shipping of explosives. The railroads themselves took the initiative, forming the bureau of explosives of the American Railway Association, which was charged with the control and supervision of all matters connected with the handling and transporting of explosives by the carriers. At the head of this bureau is B. W. Dunn, chief inspector, an expert on high-power explosives and inventor of the kind now used in the United States army and navy. He has jurisdiction over 203,000 miles of track; practically the total mileage of the standard-gauge railroads of the United States. In the American Railway Association are comprised no less than 158 companies.

The rules of the bureau conform to the regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which by act of March 4, 1909, was given supervisory functions concerning the methods of boxing, the handling, shipping and delivery of stipulated explosives. Foreign railroad authorities declare that the regulations devised by this body are the best in the world for the purpose sought. Certainly if trees are to be judged by their fruit, this judgment is well merited and correct.

The steam railroads of the United States transport more than 600,000,000 pounds—or 300,000 tons—of explosives every year, or six pounds for each man, woman and child in the country. These 600,000,000 pounds of condensed death sell for $43,000,000. If detonated in Allegheny county they would blow it completely off the map—almost as completely as St. Pierre and the Island of Martinique were lifted out of the sea and sunk piecemeal beneath the surging angry bosom of the Atlantic.

WHERE THEY'RE HANDLED.

If you walk down to the Duquesne freight station of the Pennsylvania Railroad at the point you will see, near the tracks along Liberty street, half a dozen men placing boxes full of something or other carefully in box cars. On the side of the car you see a large red placard bearing the significant words: "Handle Carefully. Keep Fire Away!" If you question the men, they will tell you that they are loading up explosives. Those innocent-looking white wooden boxes contain dynamite or other explosive material. For all the men seem to care about it they might as well contain soap or fifty-seven varieties of edibles. Nobody seems to be at all nervous; nor do the men step about with cautious tread, holding their breath and glancing at each other in furtive terror and apprehension. Not at all. They are just as cheerful and seemingly carefree as other mortals and joke and laugh as much. But you notice that none of them do any smoking; nor do they ever strike a match. Not even a lighted lantern is permitted within many feet of the car and no explosives are loaded at night. The men will also tell you that it is one of the rules that boxes or cans of explosives are never placed in the direct sunlight.

Of course, in handling these boxes and cans the men do not toss or jar them around as the bagage smashers do frail trunks or decrepit suit-cases. Instead of tossing cans of powder they hand them in from the wagon at the car; although sometimes a reckless pair may throw them from hand to hand. However, black powder does not detonate by concussion as does dynamite; so that even should a can fall no harm would result as far as explosion is concerned. But in the case of dynamite boxes are never tossed. They are carefully passed from one man to the other.

This handling of explosives at the Duquesne depot is done two days a week. On other days explosives are not shipped.

CAREFUL PACKING.

By examining the inside of the cars one gets a good idea how the goods are packed, that is, packed in such a scientific manner as to guard against explosion in transit. This, of course, is the important thing. While it is beyond human possibility to foresee or forestall wrecks and the consequent explosion by the violent concussion due to wrecks, it is possible to minimize the chances of wrecks or derailments and to provide for the dangers incident to sudden jars. This protection against jarring is taken care of by the most approved methods of staying and bracing of the shipment. As the packages receive greatest stress in a direction parallel to the length of the car, they are loaded to offer the greatest resistance in this direction.

The first essential, however, is to see that the goods are properly packed when offered for shipment. The law is very strict in this respect and says that all packages must be plainly marked on the outside with name of contents and must show no leakage of liquid ingredients or parts. Thus dynamite, being nitroglycerine soaked in wood pulp or other composition, may leak, the nitroglycerine oozing out. This, of course, is highly dangerous, as nitroglycerine is one of the most destructive and volatile explosives known to man. Violations of the rules prescribing manner of packing or preparing explosives may be visited with eighteen months' imprisonment or a fine of $2000.

There are several methods of staying and bracing. Brackets holding the board at the foot of the cargo are nailed to the car floor. In packing the goods lengthwise great care must be exercised to see that cleats or handles do not interfere with the process. By placing one row of boxes a couple of inches above the other—which is done by nailing strips on the floor—secure interlocking of the boxes against jarring is obtained. The greatest care is taken to cover projecting metal parts of the car with wood: draft-bolts, king-bolts and bolt heads, for instance; for these may penetrate the boxes and allow the explosives to run out.

The car is never filled to the roof with explosives, but generally only three or four feet deep. Some shipments only occupy a small space. The loading begins at either end of the car and proceeds towards the middle, where solid gates are firmly placed against the boxes. Another method is to cover the entire car floor and place planks crosswise to hold the box tiers close and snug.

PILING KEGS OF POWDER.

Kegs of powder are piled so as to interlock, the bottom of the chime of one keg engaging with the top part of the chime of the keg immediately in front and below it. Braces placed crosswise and secured by notched cleats nailed to the sides of the car, hold the ends of the kegs and also hold the lower tier from becoming disarranged by any springing of the car floor. The entire cargo holds intact—which is very important.

The most rigid rules hedge in such matters as the driving of nails in placing the stays and braces. Lumber free from knots is used, for a nail may be deflected by a knot and perforate a can of powder or a box of dynamite.

The precautions against premature explosion are not confined to the boxing, handling and shipping of goods; but concern equally the condition of the car in which they are packed and transported. This car—which is a box car of not less than 60,000 pounds capacity—must not have a loose board, a hole or a crack that will permit ingress to a spark. The doors must fit close and be thoroughly stripped. Trucks and journal-boxes must be in first-class working order before the car starts on its journey. Furthermore, the car must be carefully swept out before a single package of explosive is placed in it.

SUCCESSFUL BEAR TRAP.

Fishhooks Hung to Ensnare Santa Claus Finally Catch a Big Black Bear Coming Down Chimney.

[New Orleans Times-Democrat:] C. J. Labarre has returned from a Christmas hunt he made in the lower Gulf Coast country, with his two sons, Pierre and Frank, and a party of friends, and tells how a big black bear was caught in a trap set for Santa Claus.

"We reached our destination at about 11 o'clock at night," said Mr. Labarre. "We were entertained at his camp by Cleofas Bertlot, who is a professional trapper. I noticed a half-dozen shark hooks hanging by wires from the top of the camp chimney. This camp chimney was made in the usual fashion out of nine-foot pickets and set up in cone fashion, about four feet square at the top, with a six feet square opening at the bottom. I remarked to Mr. Bertlot that his contraption for hanging his kitchen utensils was too high, and all the artists who had painted chimney scenes and romance writers have pictured the iron tripod, chain and hook, that could be adjusted to any height. He listened to my comments for a while and told me that his little son had been hearing about Santa Claus and had fastened those wires and hooks with a view of trapping Kris Kringle, in the event he should come down the chimney, but the boy had gone home for Christmas and the hooks had remained fastened there.

"At about 4 o'clock in the morning we were suddenly awakened by a mighty confusion, such a noise as is made when an entire menagerie is engaged in mortal combat. We rushed down to the camp, lighting the two handiest lanterns we could find. Breaking into the camp we found that a monstrous black bear, in attempting to enter the camp by way of the chimney, had slid down the chimney backwards, in the manner that Mr. Bruin usually enters his place of retreat. He had evidently lost his footing and fallen into the hooks intended for Santa Claus. These hooks held him fast and we had no trouble in killing him."

Food Supply.

FEDERAL CARE OF FISHERIES.

MILLIONS OF EGGS, FRY AND FISHES DISTRIBUTED.

An Attempt Is Made to Make an Equal Return to the Waters of the Country for the Fish Collected as Food, and to Improve the Fisheries by Propagating.

[Washington Star:] Fish, being one of the most important foods, has been the subject of consideration since the achievement of our national independence. But while several States had fish commissions, and the American Fish Cultural Association, now the American Fisheries Society, was in existence prior to 1871, no branch of the government was charged with this question until that year. But matters of importance arising of both a foreign and domestic nature Congress was influenced to pass an act creating the office of Commissioner of Fish and Fisheries in 1871, its duties being to prosecute "investigations and inquiries on the subject, with a view of ascertaining whether any and what diminution in the number of the food fish of the coast and the lakes of the United States had taken place; and if so, to what causes the same is due; and also whether any and what protective, prohibitory or precautionary measures should be adopted in the premises."

From the outset the work of the bureau naturally fell under the three general heads of scientific investigation, fishery inquiry and fish culture. This same classification, extended and perfected, enters into the organization at the present time. Approximately 350 persons form the present personnel of the bureau, of whom all but about ninety are at outside stations, laboratories or on vessels. The land owned and occupied by the bureau at its fish-cultural and biological stations covers an aggregate area of 12,000 acres, with a value of $240,000. Improvements and equipments at these stations represent more than $1,000,000, while other property of the bureau includes four seagoing steam and sail vessels, twenty steam launches and 150 small sail, power and row boats, which, with equipment, are valued at about $300,000. Six fish transportation cars are worth $45,000. The aggregate investment of the national government in property devoted to the fishery service is thus about $1,585,000. And in the beginning $5000 was appropriated for its work and no salary for its head!

At the time of the formation of the bureau, artificial propagation of fishes was not contemplated, but was instituted by an act of Congress a year after its establishment. The fishes to which attention was first given were the shad, Atlantic salmon and white-fish. The work proved so popular that it was extended annually, and soon overshadowed all other branches. The policy followed by the bureau, as enunciated by Dr. Goode, has been that it is better to expend a small amount of public money in making fish so abundant that they can be caught without restriction and serve as cheap food for the people at large than to expend a much larger sum in preventing the people from catching the few fish that still remain after generations of improvidence.

The actual work of the bureau has followed this line, to increase the fish life of this country instead of devoting its time to the enactment and enforcement of fishery legislation. In this work the United States government has a special and unique claim to be styled "paternal." The stocking of waters with food fishes is a direct

Yucaipa Valley
Where the
BIG RED APPLE
Grows

—you can make big money raising apples in the Yucaipa Valley—the finest proven—most perfect—and most profitable apple-producing land in the State of California.

—markets pay higher prices than those received by Northern growers—apples are equally as fine—freight rates lower.

—$1000 an acre or more has been made in the Yucaipa Valley—you can do the same with proper thought and care. One orchard of 60 acres has brought in $1000 an acre for three successive years—one orchard of 22 acres brought in $25,000 in apples in one year. Over 40,000 young trees going in NOW, —over 3000 acres fine, healthy apple trees in Yucaipa Valley now—where soil is soft and easily worked (the same for 20 feet down), where there is an abundance of water and rainfall—where there are no heavy winds—sufficient elevation—and where there has NEVER been a crop failure since the valley was discovered!

—let us send you literature about Yucaipa Valley and the opportunity that awaits you there.

—land that will produce such apple crops—land that will pay dividends on crops—land that will pay dividends on crops raised between the trees until they become big dividend payers themselves—

dividual to the State, Dr. Butler saw three views to be taken. One was that the individual was nothing and the community everything; another that the community was everything and the individual nothing.

"If anarchy be the result of the first of these views, stagnation is the result of the second," he continued. "The western peoples from the time of the Greeks have endeavored to avoid both anarchy and stagnation by adopting and acting upon a third point of view. This point of view, in contradistinction to individualism on the one hand and to communism on the other, I call institutionalism, for the reason that it looks upon the individual as finding his highest purpose not in antagonizing his interests to those of his fellows, but in using his freedom and his power of initiative to help them build and maintain the institutions that are civilization.

TWO-PARTY SYSTEM BEST.

Dr. Butler then turned to the two-party system, giving this opinion:

The parliamentary history of Great Britain and of the United States demonstrated that free government will progress most rapidly and most equitably if it is conducted under a system in which two political parties, differing sharply on some fundamental principle of government, stand over against each other as opponents and as critics.

Six methods of gaining real progress were put forward by Dr. Butler. He commended the suggestion that in future amendments to the Federal Constitution be submitted to the States for ratification when passed by a majority vote of both Houses of Congress in two successive Congresses, and when so submitted be voted upon either by the Legislatures, by conventions in each State, or directly by the voters, and when so voted upon, be ratified whenever accepted by a majority of the State, on condition that the ratifying States also contain a majority of the population of all the States.

He noted that the people were dissatisfied with the present method of nominating and electing public officers, but disagreed with proposed remedies.

"It is my belief," he argued, "that the rapid development of legislation controlling political party organization and procedure is not a step forward, but rather backward—or perhaps sideways; and that real progress lies in a different direction.

"The method of the direct primary is probably advantageous within relatively small and homogeneous communities, where men know each other and where candidates for office can be discussed with some degree of understanding and personal acquaintance. That it will be highly disadvantageous to substitute the direct primary for the method of the convention and conference when large areas are involved, such as a great State or the nation as a whole, I am entirely certain."

EXPERTS TO FRAME OUR LAWS.

Reform in our legislative machinery was his third subject. Loosely-drawn laws, leading to litigation and delay, at present tend to defeat the popular will. He would have commissions of experts to draft bills instead of the present haphazard system.

As a means of bringing continuity and coherence to our governmental policy, he put forward the plan to give the national Cabinet officers a voice in the proceedings of Congress.

"That this action would, if taken," he set forth, "greatly increase the efficiency of our government and bring the executive and the legislative branches into closer understanding of each other's methods and purposes, without in the least trenching upon the independence and authority of either, seems to me quite certain. One of the most valuable features in the business of the House of Commons is the asking by members of the House of specific questions on matters concerning which the public wishes information, or about which some criticism or discussion has arisen. Many a long and useless speech that now extends over pages of the Congressional Record would be saved if a responsible Cabinet officer were at hand to give immediate answer to a definite question, or to offer a statement of fact."

His fifth point was that a new Congress should come into being within sixty or ninety days of an election, and his sixth, that the short ballot should be adopted.

"A government must first of all make certain its own security and stability," he declared. "It must then labor to advance the national ideal and at the same time strive to take an honorable part in the life and aspirations of the world as a whole.

"In such ways as these lies the path of true progress in politics. That path is not to be found amid the morasses of discontent, or class feeling, of the grasping for privilege and monopoly, or by making the individual lean constantly more heavily upon the community for maintenance and support. It is to be found rather out on the clear and sunlit heights of individual opportunity, where a fair chance is given to every man to stand erect and to do a man's work in the world, knowing that thereby he is serving the state and helping to build civilization on a yet securer basis."

THE SPAN OF LIFE.

Average Age of Man Is Lengthening But There Is a Singular Difference in the Longevity of Animals.

[Harper's Weekly:] In the Middle Ages the average span of human life was about 30 years. The average among civilized peoples is now about 40 years. The startling prophecy that man would sometime only begin to understand life at 100 does not seem so unreasonable, perhaps, when we consider the span of life allotted to vegetables and to other animals. There exists at the present time in the island of Ceylon a tree which was planted 288 years before Christ. In the suburbs of Athens travelers are shown the olive tree of Plato, which is 2000 years old. The plantain tree of Hippocrates, the father of medicine, is 2300 years old, while the giant redwood trees of California are estimated to have lived at least twenty centuries. Tourists in Hildesheim, Germany, are never allowed to pass the famous so-called "thousand-year rosebush" in the grounds of the cathedral. The list of legendary trees might be indefinitely extended and world trees include the chestnuts of Etra, the walnut trees of St. Nicholas in Lorena, the olives of Jerusalem, the yew trees of Yorkshire, Eng., which are 1000, 2000 and 2500 years old, and the cypresses of Mexico, which are considered the oldest trees in the world.

These figures are taken from the data of Dr. Legrand, a well-known French naturalist. He also points out singular differences in the longevity of animals of varying species. The crocodile and the carp live, he says, 300 years; the elephant and the whale 200; the falcon 150; the parrot and the eagle 100; the lion and the rhinoceros 60; the goose, common pike, and pelican 50; the hart and vulture 40; the ass, bull and camel 30; the horse 25; the peacock from 23 to 25; the pig, bear, cow, pigeon, cat, dog, deer, wolf, and the fresh-water lobster 20 years; the duck, nightingale, lark, fox and pheasant 15; the canary and the cricket average 10; the rabbit lives 8; the squirrel and hare 7. Insects which undergo metamorphosis live usually from 1 to 2 years and there are flies whose span of life is one day. Nature, it will be seen, shows man no special favor or disfavor among the animals. The great epidemics which have disappeared at the edict of science, together with intelligence in the matter of living, are the chief causes which are favoring and will in the future favor man's longevity.

English statistics show that women born of large families live to the greatest age. The United States Census in 1890 showed seventy-seven women and thirty-four men over 90 years of age.

EASY SCIENCE.

Things Composed of the Same Elements Do Not Look Alike and Also Differ in Other Characteristics

[The Argonaut:] Every one knows that the diamond is only charcoal crystallized; but there are a great many other things in nature that, though possessing widely different properties, are composed of exactly equal quantities of the same elements. The white of an egg and rattlesnake poison are formed of identically the same amounts of the same elements. The oil of roses and common coal gas are each formed alike, both being composed of four atoms of hydrogen and four atoms of carbon. Sugar and gum arabic are likewise brothers of the same weight and texture. All the hydrocarbons, known to science as a combination of sixteen atoms of hydrogen and ten atoms of carbon, are alike in their composition. To enumerate some: Oil of orange, lemon, cloves, ginger, and black pepper. The suggested explanation of these peculiarities is that the atoms are placed differently toward one another in the molecules of the different substances. Other things just as peculiar are evident when certain substances are united chemically. Thus hydrogen gas, which is odorless, and nitrogen gas, which is also odorless, when united to make ammonia, which has a very strong odor. Copper, which has no odor, and zinc, which also has none, when melted and mixed to give us brass produce a substance with a characteristic one.

ORIGINAL NAMES.

Kentucky Parents Develop Something Unusual for the Eight Members of Their Family.

[Birmingham Age-Herald:] Probably one of the most quoted and consequently most widely-known epigrams of the immortal Bill is, "What's in a name, a rose by any other name would smell as sweet." In the abstract Bill was right, and the application is easily understood, but, notwithstanding what Bill says, there is a whole lot in a name. To any man in public life a distinctive name is an asset. Rudyard Kipling is certainly more attractive than Richard Jones; Tyrus Cobb sounds much better than John Brown. Theodore Roosevelt is certainly more classy than William Taft, but for a euphonious cognomen Woodrow Wilson puts it over either of them.

There are many examples of curious combinations of Christian and surnames, but none possibly more striking than those of the children of the late Gov. Hogg of Texas, whose daughters and son were Ima Hogg, Ura Hogg, Eza Hogg. These were the regularly recorded names of the children of the late Governor, which, while showing his sense of humor, rather reflected on his want of taste. Then it was taking an unfair advantage of a kid that couldn't help himself to attach an appellation on him that might tend to invite ridicule in later years.

Much ingenuity has been displayed at times by fond and doting parents to furnish suitable names for their offspring, and history sacred and secular has been faithfully searched to get a name "just a little different," and sometimes with startling results.

A few days ago Tom Pound, otherwise Col. Pound, returned from a vacation spent at Boiling Springs, Tenn. Among the acquaintances he met while at that delightful resort was a Kentucky Col—no, a Kentucky preacher. Tom was always strong at finding out things, even the cost of running for Sheriff, and soon got next to the divine, who proved a most delightful companion, as preachers generally do (when away from home) and many a pleasant hour they spent together.

Discussing names one afternoon the preacher gave Tom an illustration of the curious names some parents impose on their children. He stated that in his congregation was a family named Donahue. They had eight children named as follows:

Orvile Rex Donahue.
Esther Lex Donahue.
Valley Vex Donahue.
Estis Ex Donahue.
Raymond Retrex Donahue.
Vera Coplex Donahue.
Nicir Cortex Donahue.
Alma Doplex Donahue.

These are certainly unusual names, but have the saving grace of being sandwiched between names that are not unusual and therefore can easily be lost in the shuffle in the event the name is not appreciated when the bearer reaches the age of understanding.

The authenticity of the above is vouched for by Colonel Pound, which everybody knows, puts it beyond all shadow of doubt. Why all the children's names ended with an ex was not explained.

FOOD FOR EVERYBODY.

Banana Believed to Have Been the Tree of the Source of Good and Evil in Which Satan Hid Himself.

[National Geographic Magazine:] There exists a legend relative to the Christian inhabitants of the East that they believed the banana to be the tree of the source of good and evil, in a bunch of whose fruit the serpent that tempted Eve hid itself, and they add that when Adam and Eve became ashamed of their nakedness they covered themselves with the leaves of this plant.

The origin of the banana is given as India, at the foot of the Himalayas, where it has been cultivated since remotest antiquity. Its origin in the new world is as doubtful as the origin of the American Indian. Natural to Asia and Africa, where more than twenty distinct species of the genus are known, it is said to have been brought first to America from Spain, early in the sixteenth century, and planted in the Island of San Domingo, whence its spread was rapid throughout the surrounding islands and the mainland. This has never been authentically established, however, and some authorities include the banana among the articles that formed the base of the food supply of the Incas and the Aztecs before the arrival of the Spaniards.

Certain it is that throughout the whole meridional America there is a strong tradition that at least two species of the plantain were cultivated long before the coming of the Europeans. Furthermore, it is singular that in all the languages indigenous to the region where the banana appears that plant has a special name, not proceeding from the conquerors, as was the case with the names of many other plants, animals and various articles introduced into America after its discovery.

Grown over the entire extent of the meridian of the earth, the fruit of the banana today forms, in large part, the principal food of a majority of the peoples living under the tropical zone.

Knife to Fit His Mouth.

[New York Herald:] Some years ago, in the district of Jalpaigori, Bengal, there was a sudden epidemic of petty thefts and burglaries, says the Strand. The police, completely baffled for some time, finally arrested an individual on suspicion, who, after a preliminary magisterial investigation, was remanded in custody with a view to further inquiries as to his antecedents.

On being searched a policeman, suspecting he had something concealed in his mouth, ordered him to open it, when, embedded round one of his back teeth, was found a hard substance, which, on being extracted, proved to be a small, semi-circular clasp knife. The prisoner, who had hitherto protested his innocence, now made a full confession, and eventually turned out to be one of the notorious criminal tribe of "Burwars" from the district of Gonda, in Oudh, and had already been convicted of fourteen previous offenses.

He admitted that the knife had been specially made for him, and that he used it for cutting open bales of cloth and also for pocket-picking.

A Sensation.

CENTURIES OLD CITY IN MEXICO.

BELIEVED TO BE EVIDENCE OF CHINESE ORIGIN.

The Ruins Are Located Not Far from the City of Mexico and Show Its People to Have Been of a High Order of Civilization.

[New York Times:] A sensation has been created in British scientific circles by advices received from Sir Martin Conway, Prof. William Niven and Senor Ramon Mena of the discovery of absolute Mongolian remains only a couple of hours' walk from the City of Mexico, thereby confirming the hypothesis that has long been held that the most ancient civilization of Mexico and Peru preceding that of the Toltecs and the Aztecs was of Mongolian origin.

Close to and partly beneath the ruins of the ancient city of Teotihuacan, about nineteen miles northeast of the City of Mexico, the scientists uncovered the still more ancient city of Otumbia, which flourished with a wondrous civilization centuries before the Aztecs or Toltecs rose to power, possibly even before Babylon and Nineveh swayed the destinies of Western Asia.

With the financial assistance of the Mexican government the expedition began the removal of a six-foot layer of earth, representing the dust and detritus of more than twenty centuries. This soon brought into view many evidences of a vast and populous city of a very high order of civilization. Chief among these was a great pyramid. It is 700 feet square at the base, and its apex is 187 feet high, while many of the giant blocks of stone in its massive walls must have required extraordinary engineering skill to handle. This pyramid also has its riddle, for the axis of the main gallery is coincidental with the magnetic meridian.

Near the pyramid was found another remarkable building called the "Casa-Pintada," or painted house. On the ground floor are six rooms, with smoothly-polished floors of white cement. The walls, which are composed of clay mixed with fragments of stone, are thickest at the base, and slope slightly upward. They are also smoothly finished with a thin coating of plaster, which is painted Indian red. On these walls are paintings representing human beings in elaborate garments and head dresses. The colors used in the paintings are green, red, pink and orange-brown. The workmanship is of a high order, the figures being boldly drawn and carefully colored.

Then came the greatest discovery of all. While excavating near the base of the great pyramid Prof. Niven unearthed the remains of yet a third civilization beneath the ruins of ancient Otumbia, making three great cities of lost and forgotten races, built one above the other.

In what appears to have been a tomb of the lowest city, whose age so far defies calculation, Prof. Niven found the clay image of a Chinaman, with oblique eye slits, padded coat, flowing trousers, and slippers. Only the queue was lacking to make a complete portrait of a mandarin of the recently-defunct Chinese empire. It should be remembered, however, that the Chinese did not adopt the queue until after they had been conquered by the Tartar hordes from the north.

The image is about seven inches in length, and where the arms are broken the edges of the clay show red, and friable in the center. The outer surface of the clay, however, is of granite hardness, and it is only with the greatest difficulty that it can be chipped with a hammer. In the ears are huge rings, and on the head is a skull cap with a small button in the center, precisely like that worn by the modern mandarin. The coat, which is loose and of the type still worn by the older Chinese, is fastened with a frog and button, and on the breast is a circular plate, evidently once covered with a thin layer of beaten gold, but worn bare by contact with the earth for unknown centuries.

"This Chinese image," writes Prof. Niven, "was not made by the Aztecs. It is much older, and proves that the ancient peoples of Mexico were familiar with the Mongol type. It was found in a tomb or bed chamber beneath the ruins of two other ancient civilizations, thirty feet and three inches below the surface. The room, which was thirty feet square, and built of concrete walls, was probably a tomb.

"On a raised cement platform in the center lay the skull and bones of a man of not more than five feet in height. His arms were very long, reaching almost to the knees, while his skull was of a decidedly Mongol type. Around his neck had been a string of jade beads—another link in the Chinese theory, for real jade has never been found in Mexico in the natural state.

"Beside the skeleton was a string of 597 pieces of shell. With this money lay the greatest find of all—the little Chinaman. It is the first of the kind ever found in Mexico, though Mongol types are found in sufficient numbers among the American and Mexican Indians to argue an Asiatic origin.

No Need to Have Gray Hair

This Simple Recipe, Made Up at Your Home, Solves the Problem.

A good many men and women go through life handicapped by gray hair, believing that it cannot be darkened so as to escape detection among their friends. This is altogether wrong. Of course the cheap dyes and stains are often unsatisfactory, but here is a simple formula, which you can put up at home for very little cost, that will be found to meet every requirement: To 7 ounces of water add one small box of Barbo Compound, 1 ounce of bay rum and ¼ ounce of glycerine, and you'll have a delightfully good preparation for gradually darkening gray hair or beards, as well as a good remedy for dandruff and other scalp disorders. It is to be applied once a week until the hair is darkened, then once every two weeks. It has none of the objectionable qualities of ordinary dyes and stains—stickiness, rubbing off, and such defects—and is genuinely reliable in every way. If your druggist hasn't Barbo Compound, ask him to order it for you.—[Advertisement.

The Purpose of This Announcement Is to Direct Your Attention to a Series of Very Unusual Advertisements Which Will Appear in This Newspaper, Over Our Signature, Commencing Monday

You Can Look at This Campaign From Behind the Scenes

A superior opportunity deserves to be presented in a different way. For that reason we are going to tell you in advance the effect we hope to create in your mind as a result of our advertising in this case.

In These Advertisements We Will Attempt

FIRST: To make you say at once,—"That is fine;—that is different;—this is something I will examine into more fully."

SECOND: We are going to try to get you to go even farther, and to say to yourself;—"This must, indeed, be a thing desirable above all others of its kind,"—and in this forthcoming series of advertisements to help create that impression in your mind—to set you thinking, thinking as we have, for months past, and getting more enthusiastic, more convinced of the artistic, the practical, the money-making possibilities of that which we will lay before you;—we have enlisted the services of the noted impressionistic artist, Beryl Cosgrove, reproductions of whose original crayon sketches will be a striking feature of this campaign.

If we succeed in really, truly arousing your interest; if you can be led to see the possibilities of our plan as we see it,—as Beryl Cosgrove sees it,—as everyone, who has ever looked at it has seen it,—if, we say, its possibilities will, to speak slangily, "raise right up and hit you on the nose,"—then here is what we will accomplish:

FIRST: You will not lose any time in prosecuting an immediate investigation at first hand.

SECOND: You will do just as we have done,—put every dollar you can spare into the squarest, most cleancut, surest and quickest and biggest, money-making proposition ever offered to the Los Angeles investing public.

Don't Skip One Word Monday

The reading matter will not bore you.

An art-drawing will command your attention in this space Monday. You will be justified in giving thoughtful attention to the subject it presents.

One of our most successful clients recently said: "I always listen to everybody—then I THINK for myself."

A good rule, that.

Never close your ears to the man presenting a worthy subject. Give him a hearing. You are presumably old enough and wise enough to judge for yourself the merits of the case.

Let us have your careful attention for the next few days, while we talk our proposition to you through the newspapers. And you be the judge—"Let us do the talking, you do the thinking"—But listen carefully.

This Will Recall to Your Mind the Facts About Mulholland

Elevation 1000 feet, 18 miles from Los Angeles, in the very center of the citrus belt of the San Fernando Valley.

From Los Angeles and through Mulholland, straight as a dart, stretches the great "Pacific Highway," paved, palm bordered and soon to be electric cluster-lighted the entire length of the Pacific Coast. A highway which will attain fame more lasting and more magnificent than Caesar's Appian Way. At Taylor ave., (the central street of Mulholland,) the Highway forks, and following a southeasterly course through the La Crescenta and La Canada Pass, follows on through into Pasadena. This branch of the highway is known as the "Foothill Boulevard."

Mulholland is the junction of these two vitally important thoroughfares.

Mulholland is the commercial center of 15,000 acres of land equal or superior to any in the State of California.

Nearly 3000 acres of bearing lemon, orange and olive groves in this territory have for years demonstrated the fineness and dependability of its climate and soil.

The United States Forest Reserve embracing millions of acres of mountains, fish streams and hunting grounds adjoins the Mulholland district.

Mulholland was opened to the public on November 10th, 1912, and in two weeks over $167,000 worth of property was purchased in the town by visiting investors.

Bank, store buildings, Inn, Newspaper building and residences either completed or under course of construction and the town now entering into an active building, development and constructive era which will be unsurpassed in all the annals of Southern California's remarkable advancement.

Warehouse, factories, packing plants and other industries and business enterprises now occupying the business and industrial sections of the town and many others soon to follow.

The great fraternal order of the Independent Order of Foresters has just completed the first section of its Open Air Sanitarium in the Lopez Canyon, near the head of Taylor avenue, and purposes spending thousands of dollars more in making this a site for the National Health Resort of their great order.

The Mulholland Development Company, with hundreds of thousands of dollars at its command, was organized for the purpose of developing the resources of the surrounding territory, and of promoting the growth and substantial business advancement of the town and its rapidly increasing population.

Gas and electric light companies have been organized to distribute cheap natural gas and electric power in Mulholland.

Street improvements are being hurried forward, electric railway transportation will be fostered and developed and in a word, all conceivable lines of human endeavor which large capital, handled by constructive brains, can forward when working with unlimited natural resources, are being carried forward at Mulholland.

In the short three weeks of Mulholland's first opening, investors, real estate men, clergymen, doctors, business men, and wage earners set their seal of approval on this newest of California's wonder towns, by purchasing there, over $167,000 worth in two weeks.

The greatness of its possibilities have been scarcely touched—

One of its biggest money making features will be presented to you in our series of advertisements, starting Monday.

If you are serious in a desire to make money, then in the name of common sense, read our advertisement Monday, or, better yet, call at once, or mail us postal card or letter now—today—saying "I WANT TO MAKE MONEY—WHAT HAVE YOU TO OFFER?" Do this at once.

IMPERIAL VALLEY ROAD RACE CALLS FAST CARS.

Clash Between Valley Favorite and Local Men Will Be Most Interesting—Lyons, the Imperial Star, Chosen by Many as Possible Winner—Tetzlaff to Start on Big Fiat With Barney Oldfield as His Opponent.

BY BERT C. SMITH.

IMPERIAL, Feb. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The race committee for the Imperial Valley Road Race has been over the official course and has interviewed all of the road superintendents with reference to getting the highways in the best shape possible for Saturday. The roads are now in excellent shape, but every effort is being made to make the course the best possible.

The Board of Supervisors of Imperial county is doing everything possible to aid the auto men and has promised the Race Committee that there will be no ground for complaint as to the conditions of the road on Washington's Birthday if it is within the power of the Board to prevent it. Ed Lyons who will drive a National and his brother [illegible] who will drive a Fiat in the race are covering the route every day and are considered in the money if not favorites.

Every detail is completed for the Imperial Valley road race on Saturday. The course is in splendid shape. It will be longer this year than last, as the entry list is larger and faster cars will be started. The entries from Los Angeles give spice to an event which is of interest to the entire Imperial Valley population.

The start and finish of the great race will be in Imperial. That city has offered the largest purse. The [illegible] city to hang up a large sum [illegible] and the prize of $5000 is well worth striving for. The cars will be sent away with a strong chance for a world record, though the length of the course may serve to cut down the average.

Teddy Tetzlaff will drive the big Fiat with which he won the Santa Monica road race. After a conference with Attorney E. E. Hewlett, owner of the car, Tetzlaff decided to [illegible] the week practicing on the course and will leave for Imperial tomorrow with his cars. He will have as team-mate, George Hill, who will drive another Fiat. These men are among the topnotchers in the game and are counted as favorites among the visitors.

The man the drivers fear most is Ed Lyons, who will pilot a National. He won the race last year with a [illegible] and is familiar with the course. [illegible] T. Boothe, the local National [illegible] will attend the races though he has nothing to do with the entry. [illegible] Bingley, also of the local National agency, will be on the course. It has not been decided as yet just what part Bert will take in the big event.

There is considerable interest among the automobile dealers in this city. Clarence Smith has signed up a long list of prospective passengers who will make the journey in the Howdy Special. It is expected that at least 150 autoists from this city will be in Imperial the night before the big event. The entire valley townsmen are expected to attend.

The Imperial Valley road race is being conducted under the sanction of the Western Automobile Association, and Frank Garbutt, the president, will have supervision of the contest. The rules of the W.A.A. will govern the speed battle and the records will be kept for future reference. If and world marks are made a question of acceptance will be made. They will be O. K. as far as the West is concerned.

Never before in the history of the Imperial Valley has there been such interest in any big contest. The cars will be raced through the larger towns of the valley and an opportunity will be given to watch the battle from many vantage points. The largest crowd, it is expected, will be at the starting point in the town of Imperial. Plans have been made for a series of track events on the day following the big road race.

Barney Oldfield will drive a Fiat. The speed king signed a contract last night and will be in the big race. This announcement comes as a surprise to many as it was thought Oldfield would decide to stay out of a contest for at least two months. Oldfield is in splendid shape for the battle and the fans will be given a chance to see these two great drivers, Oldfield and Tetzlaff, in action for the first time in a big western classic.

BIG TRADE REPORTED.

McGraw Said to Be Willing to Turn Over Many Men for Two New Players from Boston Team.

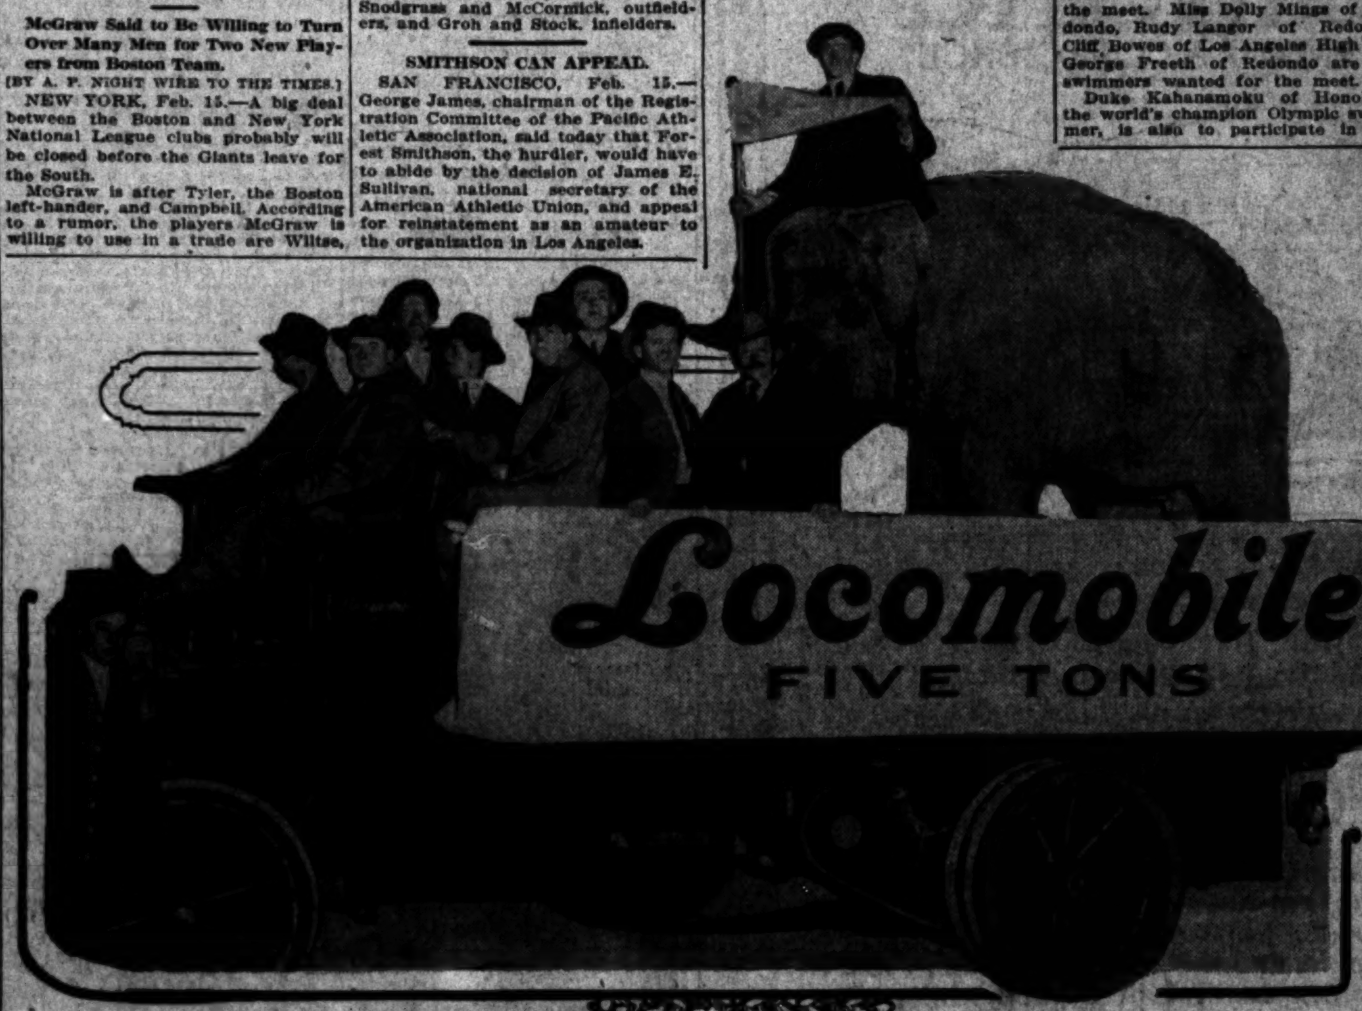
[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—A big deal between the Boston and New York National League clubs probably will be closed before the Giants leave for the South.

McGraw is after Tyler, the Boston left-hander, and Campbell. According to a rumor, the players McGraw is willing to use in a trade are Wiltse, Ames and Crandall, pitchers; Devore, Snodgrass and McCormick, outfielders, and Groh and Stock, infielders.

SMITHSON CAN APPEAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—George James, chairman of the Registration Committee of the Pacific Athletic Association, said today that Forest Smithson, the hurdler, would have to abide by the decision of James E. Sullivan, national secretary of the American Athletic Union, and appeal for reinstatement as an amateur to the organization in Los Angeles.



"Toddles," the King of Silent Comedy in the Photoplayer's Parade.

The acting elephant fro mthe Selig wild-animal farm, riding on a Locomobile motor truck, was the one big feature of the parade of motion-picture actors held last Saturday night. At the wheel of the truck is Clarence Watts and on the seat beside him is C. W. Arthur, sales manager of the truck department of the Locomobile Company of America. Riding on the elephant is "Curley," the well-known animal trainer, who has charge of all of "Big" Otto's interests at the Selig animal farm. The other passengers on the truck are photoplayers who have worked with "Toddles" in pictures.

Great Contest.

MANY ENTRIES ASSURED FOR TIMES MARATHON.

Big Annual Event Has Been Shortened This Year from Twelve to Ten Miles—Entry Blanks Will Be Issued This Week—Two Tea ms Expected from Sherman Indian School.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

ON SATURDAY afternoon, April 19, at 2 o'clock, the Times Modified Marathon is scheduled to leave the Times Building at First and Broadway for the second annual Modified Marathon Road Race held under the auspices of the paper.

There is only one change in the conditions governing the race this year and that will be the shortening of the distance from twelve miles to ten. On careful inquiry, it was found that more runners are able to go ten miles than twelve! Therefore, the race this season will be open to a larger field than ever before.

FOUR DIVISIONS.

Last season there were 172 entries in the four divisions and this season we are hoping that there will be even a greater number. The divisions are to remain the same this season as last.

First, there is the senior, open to all ambitious runners above 40 years of age. Second, is the regular division, open to all regularly registered amateurs. Third, is the military division, open to marching teams from the various companies of the Seventh Regiment or any other military organization in the State, under National Guard supervision. Fourth, is the junior division, open to all boys under 16.

The entry blanks will be out February 21 and can be obtained at all the sporting goods houses in the city. No entry fee is required for the race, but each contestant must be a regularly registered member of the A.A.U. All entries are to be finally filed either with O. R. Bird, at the sporting desk of The Times, or with H. H. Eling, at Spalding's, No. 435 South Spring street.

CUP FIRST PRIZE.

The prizes offered are to be practically the same as those of last year. The winner of the senior division will get a cup, the winning team in the military rank is to have the Gen. Otis trophy. The winner of the regular division will be awarded the Times prize. The winner of the junior division will be awarded the Spalding cup. The youngest and the oldest man finishing are to receive prizes.

In the regular division, the runners finishing in order up to ten, after the winner, will receive cups. All contestants finishing within a stipulated time limit are also to receive the Times Marathon button.

There is also to be a team prize in the regular division, which will go to the club or college making the best squad score in the race. The Los Angeles Athletic Club won the cup last year, but this season will have strong competition in the two teams from the Sherman Indian School and the two squads from the St. Joseph's Young Men's Club.

WARMAN FIRST ENTRANT.

Dr. Edward B. Warman has again been given No. 1, as he was the first to apply for an entry blank. Stagg, who last year won the senior trophy, is to be given No. 2, as he has applied for entry already.

The board of directors will be made up of the following: Owen R. Bird, president; H. H. Eling, secretary; Pat Higgins, assistant secretary; Warren Bovard, manager athletics, U.S.C.; Dean B. Cromwell, head coach, U.S.C.; Boyd Comstock, graduate coach, U.S.C.; Robert S. Weaver, chief clerk of course; J. A. Pipal, head coach Occidental College; Wallace L. Robb, head timer; Les Henry, delegate-at-large; Ralph C. Noble, chief judge of finish; H. W. Horning, Y.M.C.A., and W. A. Reynolds, Y.M.C.A.

Warren Bovard, Boyd Comstock and Robert S. Weaver are to have general supervision of the checking stations along the course, and will select captains and checkers during the next month.

At the present time there are enough classy runners training for the race to assure a good contest. Manager Joe Scholder of the Sherman Institute is to send down eight men for the event, running them in two teams of four men each.

The Los Angeles Athletic Club will probably enter two teams this season, instead of one, as was the case last year, as the competition for the team trophy is to be much keener this season. The St. Joseph's Club has eight men ready for the training campaign now, while the Y.M.C.A. figures on sending in at least one fast team.

"Spuds" Murphy and Phil Henderson of U.S.C. will form a part of the U.S.C. team and several others are trying for the squad. Pomona may send in a team of cross-country men, now that the course is ten miles instead of twelve. Occidental also has a number of fast cross-country runners this season and Coach Pipal thinks that he will probably have a team of four men entered in the race.

Further information as to the course and other matters concerning the race will be published during the next two weeks and the plans more definitely matured.

The local Registration Committee of the A.A.U. has been asked for a sanction and Chairman Horning says the same will be granted at the next meeting.

LAMBERT MAKES NEW RECORDS.

[By Atlantic Cable and A. P. Wire to The Times.]

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Percy Lambert broke all world's records for an hour's run in a motor car by accomplishing 103⅝ miles in that time on the Brooklands track.

He covered fifty miles in 29min. 2-5s., and 100 miles in 57min. 49 3-8s. His car had a motor of only twenty-five horse power.

LOS ANGELES AUTO ENTHUSIASTS INVADE NEW YORK.

Pickens Secures Famous Course for Entire Year and First Meet Will Be Between Tetzlaff and Oldfield on Memorial Day—Deal Is Big Thing in Automobile World.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Western Automobile Association has invaded the stronghold of the American Automobile Association and hoisted its battle flag over the famous Brighton Beach motordrome, long the leading three A track in the East.

Late this afternoon William Pickens announced he had closed a contract for the entire season for the Brighton track. The plant is worth more thtn a million dollars and it was only after convincing the owners of the stability of the Western Automobile Association that that track was thrown from the three A's to the California organization.

Pickens announced the opening meet would be built around a big match between Barney Oldfield and Teddy Tetzlaff. Beginning next Monday the bill boards will carry advertisments of the championship battle scheduled for May 30.

GREAT AQUATIC MEET SCHEDULED

CHAMPIONSHIP OF ENTIRE WEST TO BE SETTLED.

Tournament to Be Held at Sutro Baths in San Francisco—Southern Stars Asked to Enter—Duke Kahanamoku to Compete—Meet Expected to Be Greatest Ever.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

The Northern California Swimming Association has just sent word to Wallace L. Robb, president of the Southern California Association, that on July 4, the greatest indoor swimming tournament in the history of the entire west is to be held at the Sutro Baths in San Francisco.

W. M. Coffman, swimming director of the San Francisco Y.M.C.A., has been given the management of the meet, and has already begun to plan a record-breaking entry list.

The northern manager is counting on a large entry list from Southern California, and says the association will pay the expenses of the Southern California team attending the meet. Miss Dolly Mings of Redondo, Rudy Langer of Redondo, Cliff Bowes of Los Angeles High and George Freeth of Redondo are the swimmers wanted for the meet.

Duke Kahanamoku of Honolulu, the world's champion Olympic swimmer, is also to participate in the events of this tournament. Teams are to be entered from the Olympic Club, University of California, Multnomah Athletic Club of Portland, the University of Washington and from as far east as Chicago.

The tournament will decide the swimming championship of the entire western district.

The events of this tournament will include the five free-stroke races, the back and breast stroke events, short and long distance races for women, high and trapeze diving for both men and women, short and long distance under-water races, and spring-board diving.

Expert Opinion.

ATHLETICS TO WIN ANOTHER.

Fullerton Picks Mack's Men to Grab Pennant.

Says They Lost Last Year by Poor Pitching.

Should Repeat on Fielding and Batting.

BY HUGH FULLERTON.

Here we have stumbled over the probable American League pennant-winner right at the start. Usually it is customary to hold back the pennant winners to the last, but having announced the Athletics for this week there is no way out of it. Reserve your rooms for the next world's series right now for the Philadelphia end of it.

In deciding that the Athletics will come back and repeat their former successes I am not in the slightest discounting the advantage the Boston Red Sox will have in winning last season. This advantage consists of confidence and in the improvement that the pitching staff is bound to show during the early part of the season at least.

But admitting that Joe Wood will be as good as he was last year, that Collins will improve, and that Hugh Bedient is likely to develop into a star of the first dimension, still a stern comparison of the two teams will compel anyone to admit that barring a run of luck, bad one way and good the other, Boston has only a slight chance of beating out the Athletics for the championship.

I have compared the two teams so carefully that I do not think I have overlooked one possibility outside of sheer and unavoidable luck, and it is an even break which way the luck will turn. In fact, in this case I have figured that Philadelphia's chances of injury are 7 to 5 greater than Boston's, because the excessively speedy men are more likely to be hurt than the slow ones, while the chances of the luck favoring the faster team is 8 to 5, disregarding injuries.

One strictly analyzing last season's race must admit that Boston's victory was due more to luck than to anything else, and that I believe is the consensus of opinion of the great majority of baseball experts. Boston went through the season with scarcely a bad break. The Athletics were handicapped in the beginning by injuries, and more than that, by a surplus of overconfidence and prosperity. They were too prosperous, and SHETTLER OUT FOR THE W.A.A.

Lauds Western Association; Shows Race Records.

Charges A.A.A. With Murder of David Bruce Brown.

High Salaried Officials Mere Figureheads.

BY LEON T. SHETTLER.

In answer to numerous inquiries as to why I have asked all my customers and friends to hold up the payment of their dues to the Automobile Club of Southern California until that club has placed itself squarely on record as to whether the directors intend to continue to support the American Automobile Association of New York City, or affiliate with the Western Automobile Association of Los Angeles, my reasons must be obvious to any one who has given the matter any thought. For the benefit of those however, who have not posted themselves as to the point at issue, I take great pleasure in making the following explanation:

I feel that I am justified in taking the stand I do, primarily, by the fact that I have spent nearly $50,000 in promoting the automobile racing game in Southern California, covering the seasons of 1903-4-5-6-7-8-9-10 and 1911. Automobile racing is a very dangerous and expensive sport. I also feel that I am qualified to express an opinion on this subject owing to the fact that I have covered practically every phase of the racing situation; having driven cars in hill climbs and track races, and having been an entrant with a regular racing team, and having managed several of our largest race meets; notably, the Pasadena-Altadena hill climb, the Ascot Park six-hour motor Derby and the Santa Monica road race. Furthermore, I was directly responsible for the entrance of the American Automobile Association into this field.

Old-timers will remember that the first race run in Southern California under the sanction of the American Automobile Association was the first Santa Monica race in 1909. I managed this race for the Automobile Dealers' Association and a few weeks before the race was scheduled I decided in my own mind that it should be sanctioned by the A.A.A., believing firmly that world's records would be broken on this course.

Almost to a man every member of the Dealers' Association took a stand against me, and stated that they did not want to pay the A.A.A. the sanction fee and "hooted" the idea that a world's record would be broken. In an open meeting I offered to wager any amount of even money to the effect that the winner of the race would average better than sixty miles an hour.

There was a wild scramble to cover everything that appeared, but it finally dwindled down to the fact that on the day the race started I had $1500 bet to back my opinion. Every one, of course, knows that the Apperson won this race with an average of 64:45 miles per hour, breaking he world's record for road racing for stock cars, which record, we retained for a little more than a year.

A.A.A. NOT WANTED.

Our races should be sanctioned by some governing body for the protection of the entrants, drivers and for the general public. I have changed my opinion, however, as to what governing body we should affiliate with, as I really believe that the day of the A.A.A. in this territory has passed. They care nothing whatever for us, and we care but little for them. I have no fight with the A.A.A.; I simply do not want to have anything more to do with them, and I think the majority of people here will agree with me. I am positive that they would agree with me if they knew the circumstances. The American Automobile Association has passed up its opportunity as far as the betterment of the automobile racing sport on the Pacific Coast is concerned. The contest board has failed to protect the drivers and the entrants to the races and in fact has failed to protect the public.

The A.A.A. has appointed officials to run the races for them on the Pacific Coast and the contest board has then made decisions directly contrary to those made by said officials. Their treatment of Roy P. Hillman and Attorney Edward J. Kuster, who were appointed by them to look after their interests in the last Santa Monica race, was unfair, arbitrary and positively insulting. They paid no more attention to the wishes of these two gentlemen than they would have done had they been entire strangers and not appointed as their personal representatives.

Below, I am going to cite a few more reasons why the A.A.A. is indicted by the people who are on the inside of the racing game.

At the last Milwaukee races (the Grand Prize and the Vanderbilt of 1912,) the course was so dangerous that practically every driver of note who was entered in these events protested to the officials against the running of the races, stating that it was dangerous to themselves, their cars, and the public at large. In fact, there was a small mutiny on foot to make them postpone the races until the course was safe.

MURDER CHARGE.

The A.A.A. officials gave the drivers to understand that if they did not start their cars and compete in these races, they would be disqualified. Disqualification in a case of this kind simply meant that it would put them out of business to compete mind, you, on a course that they were satisfied in their own minds was not safe.

What is the result? Simply, the death of David Bruce Brown, one of the squarest sportsmen that ever drove a racing car. Therefore I charge that the A.A.A. officials are directly responsible for his death and if the matter had been followed up by his relatives, there is no doubt in the world but what they could have been indicted for manslaughter, or some other charge equally as grave.

The A.A.A. has time after time failed to pay to the drivers the purses advertised at races run under their sanction. Are we to infer that the driver is not to be protected and get his money when he wins a race? The A.A.A. forces the drivers to compete on dangerous courses and risk their lives so as to not disappoint the public. When a driver enters a race meet and signs his name to the entry blank, he enter into a contract with the promoter of the meet and the A.A.A., in which he agrees to drive a car in a certain race; on the other hand the entrant to the race and the American Automobile Association enter into a contract with the driver to pay him a certain purse if he wins the race. He is entitled to this purse, not only legally, but morally! and in many cases he has not gotten it.

Time after time, the A.A.A. through its contest board, has made arbitrary rulings disqualifying drivers and entrants to races without the courtesy or common justice of hearing the driver's or entrant's side of the story. Is there anything fair about a procedure of this kind? The least a man can expect in this free country is to have his side of the case heard before he is sentenced.

Last, but not least, when the present controversy arose with the American Automobile Association, it refused to discuss the matter in any way, shape or manner with a committee of reputable, disinterested sportsmen who were trying to obtain justice from their contest board. It simply took the attitude that it was none of our business; that it would run its affairs to suit itself without any interference from the general public.

The personal of the board of directors of the Western Automobile Association is above reproach or above any suspicion. We have worked hard and conscientiously to bring about a state of affairs that were tolerable, and that would build up the racing game instead of tearing it down. There isn't a salary attached to our organization. Contrast this with several $6000 a year salaries that the American Automobile Association is paying to different heads of departments.

It is a well known fact that the American Automobile Association is not strong enough to hold a successful race meet, hill climbing contest or endurance run. Understand, all it does is to sanction these affairs and just so long as it gives value received for the sanction fee, the drivers, entrants and promoters of race meets are satisfied to string with it. It begins to look to a man up a tree as if all the A.A.A. is after is the sanction fees so that it may keep a few favorites in a fat job. I have met several of its salaried representatives who are drawing $6000 a year and I have not seen one yet that I considered to be worth over $100 a month of any man's money.

Now Los Angeles has done some pretty big things. We are noted for our progressiveness all over the United States, and it is only natural that we should be the first to cast off the fetters of the A.A.A. organization, and as a matter of fact, we had no more than announced our intention than Milwaukee fell into line. I understand that Denver and Salt Lake City are about ready to cast off the yoke.

WIDER SCOPE.

It is also a well-known fact that the Grand Prix and Vanderbilt races for 1913, which are to be held in Savannah, will probably not be held under the A.A.A. sanction. For the coming year, as far as we are able to judge at this time, there will be considerably more race meets sanctioned by the Western Automobile Association than there will be by the American Automobile Association, providing we did not increase our organization any more than we have done at present, and mind you, we have not made any effort to get any membership, up to the present time, other than just enough to make a respectable showing in applying to the Secretary of State for our articles of incorporation.

Now, as far as the Automobile Club of Southern California is concerned, I have no fight with the club in any way. If the directors affiliate with the Western Automobile Association, they will only be doing what is fair and right. Why should they cast their lot with the New York proposition, when they have one right at their own door, run by people whom they know will give the racing game a fair show.

After all, what do we care about New York, anyway? Any Los Angeles man who has spent any time in New York can readily find out about how much New York cares for Los Angeles, or any other place west of Jersey City. They are sufficient unto themselves and so are we.

This article is not written as a director of the Western Automobile Association; it is simply written as an automobile dealer's explanation of why he took a certain stand with his customers and friends. But for the fact, that people of whom I never heard have called me up and written me letters indorsing my stand in this matter, I should not have made this explanation. I am not looking for publicity, and am not particularly anxious for a fight with any one over this proposition. However, if I find it necessary to get out my war club, I think you will find me there, or thereabouts.

MOTZ CUSHION TIRES ON THE ELECTRICS.

According to H. G. Hargreaves, sales manager of the Southwest Motor Company, the electric type of machine is becoming more popular every day as a pleasure car. The rapid growth of the electric motor car business shows this to be a fact. Hargreaves states that in Kansas City, where he is in business, there are now over 106 Rauch & Lang electrics in operation. Most of these are equipped with the Motz cushion tires, which do away with the common tire trouble.

"It may also be interesting to the motoring public," said the electric representative, "that there are a number of these electrics in the city that have been in use daily for nearly four years. They are using the original batteries and the same tires with which they were sent equipped from the factory. The mileage on some of these cars runs as high as 20,000 miles."

Road Race Manager Lauds Parent Organization.

Records We Have [illegible] Older Racing Body.

Man Who Suffered the [illegible] Now Lauds [illegible]

BY [illegible] YOUNG.

In the recent discussions and articles which have been appearing in our local papers, particularly in The Times, it seems as though the principle of "honor to whom honor is due" has been almost, if not entirely, forgotten. Perhaps some of those whose criticisms have been the most severe have not investigated all the conditions surrounding the [illegible] cases now under discussion, and it seems to me that the present uprising against the A.A.A. [illegible] locally, but in the various [illegible] is certainly a case of where the [illegible] is worse than the disease.

During the past three years I have been fortunate or unfortunate enough to be closely identified with the [illegible] race which has made Southern California famous as a racing center and put one little beach town [illegible] the map. The world's record established over that famous course in May still stands, and is liable to [illegible] for some time to come. As manager of the last event and as chairman of the committee which handled the preceding one, I became thoroughly familiar with A.A.A. principles and rules, and in the last event [illegible] familiar with the rulings. As to the rules, experience has taught me to believe that they are about as near perfect, from the standpoint of protecting the public, the contestants and the good of the sport in general as it is possible to make rules. Compare the rules of today with those of three years ago or four years ago and you will find that very few changes have been made, and with the universal activity in this line of sport during this time we can look back and see a [illegible] clean record. Who or what has been responsible for this [illegible] The American Automobile Association, first, last and all the time.

Perhaps it may seem funny that I should be the one to defend [illegible] at this time on account of [illegible] just ruling toward me, but [illegible] mind, the importance of having [illegible] fact a body recognized as the [illegible] has been seems more important [illegible] anything else just now. I believe [illegible] are all agreed that there should [illegible] one governing body in connection [illegible] automobile racing, to which I [illegible] add there should be but one.

I am not contending, for one minute, that there is not a [illegible] improvement in the present [illegible] tion. On the contrary, I [illegible] a change should be made [illegible] representative bodies in [illegible] if properly formed and acting in conjunction with the parent [illegible] tion, should have the power to [illegible] mend and control racing in their immediate vicinities.

BOARD TO HAVE CHARGE.

As to the adjustment of [illegible] ditions, I would certainly [illegible] the appointment of a racing [illegible] of five or more members, to be appointed by the directors of the Automobile Club of Southern California. This organization, to my mind, [illegible] of the strongest and best of [illegible] or of any kind, that there is [illegible] country, and their powers [illegible] extended so that the organization [illegible] still another association would [illegible] necessary. Wherein are we [illegible] be bettered by starting a [illegible] by acting in conjunction with [illegible] localities who plan a similar [illegible] ment? Suppose, for [illegible] waukee does both; suppose [illegible] withdraws. It would [illegible] formation somewhere, some [illegible] one general governing body, [illegible] we would be working against [illegible] other, and that would spoil [illegible] clean automobile racing, which is the only kind of racing we should recognize.

MUCH MONEY.

I believe that it can be truly [illegible] that there has been more money [illegible] vested and more money has [illegible] hands legitimately with less [illegible] in connection with automobile [illegible] than with any other sport of [illegible] nence in this country. Nobody [illegible] a good automobile race better than I do, and yet I do not care to see [illegible] every day or even every month. [illegible] the past this condition has been [illegible] regulated, through the [illegible] the A.A.A., and it certainly [illegible] to the benefit of everybody [illegible] in this particular sport to [illegible] regulation stand as it has always stood. If we were to attempt [illegible] ern automobile racing by [illegible] governing bodies in each locality [illegible] would each have the pleasure of [illegible] ways seeing the same faces behind the steering wheels of the same [illegible] cars, and I have learned, from [illegible] ence, that this is not what the public demands. During the last [illegible] tant road race held in the [illegible] town on the west, a [illegible] shown, but only after it had [illegible]

Up Lookout Mountain.

DARING WOMAN AT WHEEL OF HENDERSON TOPS HILL.

ROLLICKING up the steep sides of Lookout Mountain in an automobile is thrilling. With a woman at the wheel it becomes sensational. Mrs. H. S. Carroll of this city is the daring chauffeuse who has driven a 1913 Henderson to the top of the mountain. The car shot up the hill in great shape, the brakes were in excellent condition, but best of all, the motor hummed like a top all the way.

Enthusiastic over her daring drive, Mrs. Carroll declared yesterday that she is willing to repeat the trip any time just for the thrills it gives. She says she fears nothing when at the wheel of the Henderson because of the wonderful control she has over the new car. She is driving the tourer for the first time, but has learned to operate the machine so skillfully that she is competent to drive across the continent.

Questioned as to her experience on the trip, Mrs. Carroll said: "Really, I never knew before that a car could make so many twists and turns and still go smoothly chugging up the hill. I think it is the ideal car, I'm just in love with it.

"You see this center control, with only one lever to operate makes it so convenient and the left-hand drive enabled me to keep clear of the bank at all times. Then you know the gasoline tank in front gives positive gasoline feed at all times, so there's no danger of the gasoline being lower than the carbureter at any time.

"This was my first real attempt at hill-climbing and I was a little nervous at first, but I soon gained confidence as I realized how quickly the car responded.

"Our first thought when we reached the top was 'I wonder if the water is boiling,' but we found it quite the contrary. The radiator was cool and the motor was hitting perfectly."

Fine Work.

MARION CHIEF MAKES RECORD.

THIS YEAR IMPORTANT ONE IN HISTORY OF CONCERN.

Dawn of a New Era Marked by Present 'Season' When Sales Are Made in Fast Time—Much Interest Taken in New Models, Which Are More Classy Than Ever Before.

J. I. Handley, president of the Marion Motor Car Company of Indianapolis, says this has so far been a banner year for their factory. The concern has broken all previous records for the first five months of this year. They have had ten years of successful motor car building, but never since the inception of the Marion Motor Car Company have they had such a demand for their product, and expect the same results to follow for the remainder of the year.

"The present season marks the dawn of a new era for our firm," said Hammers, when seen at the Grand Central Palace automobile show. "Our capital has been increased by more than a million dollars, making possible factory extensions and facilities that allow for a greatly-increased production of high-grade cars. Many men, well known to the industry have been added to our staff. Sales and service policies have been broadened to reach, with the greatest possible benefit, to every corner of the globe. Within the past few weeks we have begun the shipment of fifty cars to South Africa.

"While, in all essentials of quality and primary construction, our cars are identical with those of last year, we have made improvements in detail which place the product in the front ranks of high-grade cars. The principal refinements found in the 1913 Marion cars are the new English steel springs, making for greater comfort, improved body lines and exterior finish, a deep cowl dash, concealed tool boxes and a lowering of the car by about one and three-quarters inches."

Franklin Expansion.

HAMLIN IS FORCED FOUR TIMES TO MOVE FOR SPACE.

THE new Franklin salesroom and garage at Nos. 1040-44 South Flower street is nearing completion and with the finishing of the final decorating next week R. C. Hamlin will move from the present quarters at Twelfth and Olive streets. February 15 is the date Hamlin has set.

The new building measures 87x165 feet. The salesroom will be 75x42 feet, which will give considerable room for the display of the late Franklin models and the R. and L. electrics. The finish will be of the finest grade walnut and this color scheme will be carried out to the minutest details. The beautiful panels have been made and will be put into place this week.

The mezzanine floor will be used for the offices. There will be a stairway leading from the salesroom which will add to the general attractiveness of the decorations.

Much attention has been given to the shop and garage. This will be a perfectly lighted and ventilated shop with all the most modern machinery and equipment. The Hamlin firm carried a complete line of parts dating back to the earliest models and an even larger stock will be carried when the Franklins are housed in its new place. Both the salesroom and garage will have a nineteen-foot ceiling.

The formal opening will be held March 1 when the different Franklin models will be exhibited. One feature of the exhibit will be a show car with a highly enameled and nickel finished motor.

This will be the fourth time Hamlin has been forced to move on account of the growing business. He was at Eighteenth and Main streets and then moved across the street when he outgrew his quarters. From there he came into what was considered far too large a place at Twelfth and Olive and now things have become so crowded it has been necessary to build an even larger place.

That Underslung Car.

REGAL ROLLS DOWN HILL BABY'S LIFE IS SPARED.

SITTING, laughing, in the back seat of an automobile while the horrified father and mother saw their touring car go dashing with its little occupant over the lower end of the Canejo grade, 2-year-old baby Terry escaped what appeared to be certain death.

The parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Terry of Long Beach, had stopped their Regal car on the top of the grade. Dr. Terry believed the brakes were set and he and his wife stepped to the ground, the baby remaining in the car. The doctor and Mrs. Terry had scarcely alighted when the car started down the grade with the baby in it.

The mother made a desperate effort to grab the child from the car, but the automobile swerved and gained further headway before the woman could save her babe. The car reached the foot of the incline in less time than it took to tell the story. Both parents climbed mournfully down, expecting to find their child dead, but the tot had escaped with only minor injuries. Thanks to the underslung construction of the touring car, it had not overturned and pinned the child beneath it. The doctor learned his lesson and will make sure the brakes are set before he leaves the car standing on a grade again.

The truck buyer is being better provided for by way of tires than ever before. The dual rear is now almost universal in vehicles of over one-ton capacity, and manufacturers of tires are apparently sufficiently satisfied with the situation to issue 10,000-mile tire guarantees. This has a double meaning: First, the tires have been improved; and, second, they are more adequately fitted for the service they have to perform.

A touring car may be warmed in winter with very little trouble, if it be fitted with storm curtains that can be drawn sufficiently tight to exclude most of the outside air. If this is the case, fit a large ventilator in the dash, to allow the warm air from the motor and radiator to enter. A pipe may be tapped into the exhaust manifold and led through a radiator in the tonneau, exhausting into the open air.

"54" HUDSON—a Six 65 miles an hour. To 58 miles an hour in 30 seconds, from standing start.

The Two New HUDSON Cars That 48 Engineers Built

The picked engineers from 97 European and American automobile factories combined in building the New HUDSON cars.

There are 48 experts in the organization, at the head of which is Howard E. Coffin, America's leading automobile engineer and builder of six famous cars.

Combined, these men had a hand in building more than 200,000 motor cars.

No car can be greater than its engineers planned it to be. We believe mechanical perfection is more quickly and thoroughly accomplished through combining the experience and skill of many men than is ever possible if dependence is placed entirely upon one man.

The Six

The "54" HUDSON supplies every demand made of any automobile, in speed, get-a-way, safety, power, luxurious equipment, distinctive appearance and comfort.

It is not merely a "Six" made so by the addition of two cylinders to a good four-cylinder car. It is capable of a speed of 65 miles an hour with full equipment and will jump to a speed of 58 miles an hour in 30 seconds from a standing start.

Its equipment is complete in every detail, which includes an electric self-cranking, electric lighting—dynomo type—and ignition system, known as the Delco, patented. Illuminated dash and extension lamp, mohair top, curtain, rain vision windshield, speedometer, clock, demountable rims, 36x4½-inch tires, 127-inch wheel base, etc.

The seat cushions are 12 inches deep, Turkish type. The finest materials are used throughout. No detail of finish or equipment is skimped or overlooked.

"54" HUDSON Models: Five-passenger Touring Car and Torpedo and Two-passenger Roadster, $2600 each, f. o. b. Los Angeles. Seven-passenger Touring Car, $150 additional. Limousine, 7-passenger, $3950; Coupe, 3-passenger, $3150. Open bodies furnished with Limousine and Coupe at extra charge.

The Four

No man need be told that Howard E. Coffin leads all in building four-cylinder cars. No designer has built as many successful automobiles.

In building the HUDSON "37" all his skill and experience contributed to its perfection. But in addition there was also worked into the car the skill and experience of his 47 expert associates.

Thus was produced a car such as no one man is capable of building. It is truly a composite masterpiece.

The "37" combines all that these experts know in the art of automobile building. Its detail of comfort, beauty, distinctiveness and equipment is precisely the same as that furnished on the "Six."

The car has sufficient power for every requirement. It is quiet and free from the degree of vibration common to most automobiles.

It is a simple, accessible, durable car—the best our 48 engineers know how to build; therefore we unhesitatingly recommend it as the Master of any four-cylinder car, regardless of cost, power or make.

Models are Five-Passenger Touring and Torpedo and Two-passenger Roadster at $2025 each; Limousine, $3400; Coupe, $2500; f. o. b. Los Angeles. Open bodies with Limousine and Coupe, extra.

How About This?

SPEED FIEND'S LIFE NOT EASY.

Nabbed by Motorcyclist When Having Great Time.

Killing a Pig May Be a Real Misdemeanor.

Dream of Low-Priced Car Sets One Man Wild.

BY THE SPEEDER.

I do not own an automobile. Not possessing a machine is not only my most agreeable pastime, but I find it a great saving of gasoline. Not to waste gasoline has been one of the chief aims of my useful and ambitious existence. It is darkly rumored that when a certain factory at Torrance has been completed it will produce a first-class machine for $333 as a retail price. This auto is to burn kerosene. When this happens it is my plan to own a vacant lot in Los Angeles so that I can bore in my back yard for oil and take advantage of the great uplift in crude petroleum prices. I was always strong for the elevation of the fallen.

Even a man with honorable intentions, however, may be acquainted with persons who own automobiles and may, in a sort of second-handed fashion, experience the full sensation of being arrested for speeding. This is almost as good as being a scorcher on one's own initiative, not to say on his own responsibility. Indeed that last phrase suggests the true meat of the proposition for to be arrested where another man pays all fines and costs is a sort of mastodonic joke on the universe, to say nothing of the other fellow. I have indulged in this pleasant feat so often of late that if I have been arrested once during the week at somebody else's expense I go through Sunday with a feeling of having forgotten something. Passing Sunday in this desolate and unfinished fashion is not compatible with a tender conscience like mine.

On my first offense, or rather the first time I was caught, I was seated in a new machine with a friend who was trusting himself at large under these conditions for the first time in his pure young life. He was "letting her out" with a cheefulness and courage which lost me in admiration and I began to feel myself a desperate character at being in his company. I have always wished to be bold and bad and his speed made me very happy. At last by the grace of a sympathetic Providence, I had become an outlaw. Five minutes later I was an outcast and so was my friend. We were not spilled; we were merely overhauled.

BOTH NABBED.

This had no adverse influence on the machine, but my friend was visibly affected by a chance meeting with a motorcyclist whom we had passed two or three times in a royal race. I never did believe in these pick-up acquaintances. They are so informal, don't you know." My friend seemed nettled at the determination of a miserable contraption on two wheels of outrunning us. Finally, when he thought we had reached the limit of our machine he called out to the despised motorcyclist, "You will get yours some day, young fellow, if you don't watch out."

"I guess you will get yours now," he answered with a malicious smile and a flash of a constable's badge.

I always hated a man without a sense of humor. I cannot say that I hate a woman of that kind because no man could afford to go through life hating almost half of the people in the world. We were near Huntington Park. A few minutes later we were entirely at Huntington Park. We were introduced to the Recorder. He is a kind-looking man, but he has a cold heart. You can never judge by appearances. A Recorder in the most classic of suburbs may smile and smile and be a villain still. This one wrote our names in a book and my friend gave him some money. He explained to me that Huntington Park is an ambitious place and that it takes money to keep it up.

We were not asked to stay all night and yet at the time I do not remember, that I considered this any breech of hospitality. I learned later that it is sometimes the custom to be offered entertainment for the night of for as much of it as it takes to convince a wart on a metropolis of one's financial standing. Another friend who was giving me a lift on life's toilsome way between here and a place I shall not name, made the mistake of killing a pig. In the first place, pigs should not run at large where automobiles are misunderstood to have the same privilege. In the second count, it should be a misdemeanor, if not a penitentiary offense for either a constable or a justice of the peace to own swine. This one seems to have been the joint property of the constable and the justice of that precinct and I think the life of no pig was ever mourned more completely or avenged to such an extent. I have a feeling yet that if it was the desire of the officials to raise a monument to the memory of this fond and departed swinelet, they have probably by this time unveiled one of the most remarkable piles in Los Angeles county. My friend can swear as tall as any monument. If the officers did not spend their money in this way they should be summoned before the Money Trust Investigation Committee at Washington, for they are certainly rich men. I have sometimes wondered if they have a herd of these swine trained to go out into the highways and get themselves killed whenever a particularly opulent machine approaches.

Of course, many women drivers are also arrested, but of this not much is heard as they give their cards to the constable and their husbands appear the next morning with a broad grin and an open purse. My hat off to the man who knows he holds the losing hand.

A physician arrested for driving his automobile at more than forty miles an hour, recently offered in Minneapolis to pay an automobile city detective $100 if he could make the car go that fast. The detective won, refused the money and the physician turned it over to charity. The fine was $20.

Decoration Day.

PEUGEOTS AND ISOTTAS FOR INDIANAPOLIS RACE.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] Information of the contemplated entry of the French Peugeots in the 500-mile race on the Indianapolis motor speedway Memorial Day has been received direct from Paris by David Beecroft, Chicago member of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association.

According to W. F. Bradley, who assisted in a hunt for European entries some months ago when C. W. Sedgwick, manager of the speedway, went abroad, the Peugeot had officially decided to send two cars to America for the international sweepstakes. Jules Goux and L. Zuccarelli are the two drivers who have been selected to pilot the two Peugeots and they are looked upon as being two of the best drivers in Europe. Beillot, winner of the French grand prix, would have come only he has to stay at home and tune up the cars his company will enter in the next French classic.

The cars Goux and Zuccarelli are to drive at the Hoosier capital are the same ones that made racing history in Europe last summer. As they stand at present, they are a trifle too large for the Indianapolis event, which is restricted to cars of a piston displacement of 450 cubic inches and under. However, small cylinders will be put on and it is expected the cars will be fully as fast as when Beillot's mount won the last French grand prix.

Italy also will join the international course at Indianapolis which already includes France, England and America. Three Isottas are to be entered. Fred J. Wagner is going to map out the campaign for the Isottas which are to be brought over by a New York importer.

Crankless Cars.

NEW ABBOTT-DETROITS HAVE SELF-STARTING DEVICE

THE announcement of the Abbott-Detroit line for 1913 is attracting widespread attention, and an inspection of the new models shows that the manufacturers have not only kept in close touch with the progress during the past year and incorporated the latest and best, but have taken an advance step in devising several new mechanical features of a rather sensational nature.

Perhaps the most interesting and striking feature to an expert is the new self-contained electric self-starter, with which all cars are equipped. For several years it has been the assertion of the engineering force of the Abbott company that all self-starters heretofore devised were wrong in principle and therefore could never adequately meet the requirements demanded of such a device. Believing their theory to be a correct one, they have after two years of indefatigable work and experiment, succeeded in constructing a starter that bids fair to entirely revolutionize this field. The success and efficiency of this new starter largely lies in its simplicity.

It is nothing more or less than a small electric motor mounted on the engine base and connected to the crank shaft by a train of gears. Unlike other starters, it is not connected in any way with the lighting, ignition and other systems, but is a complete and separate unit in itself, as are the other above mentioned features. By this arrangement, the many troubles arising from cross-wiring, complexity and inaccessibility, are avoided. The starting operation is the simplest thing imaginable. Instead of throwing the gearshift and perhaps several other levers, it is only necessary to retard the spark lever on the steering column and push a button, by which direct connection is had to the battery through a switch operated by the button, and the engine at once responds and is ready for action.

As soon as the starter has performed its function, all working parts pertaining thereto, stop automatically. The switch can only be operated when the spark is fully retarded and the lever assumes its proper running position when released after the engine is started. On account of the simplicity of the starter the most inexperienced person will have no difficulty in keeping it in perfect condition.

ONE GREAT MARKET.

Remarkable growth in the United States exports to South America, from $38,500,000 in 1902 to approximately $128,000,000 in 1912 is shown in a statement issued by the Bureau of Statistics. The percentage of gain in the exports to that continent is much greater than in the exports to any other general division of the world. In Europe the exports in 1912 were $986,000,000, and 1912 approximately $1,490,000,000; to North America, in 1902, $204,000,000, and in 1912, about $578,0000,000; to Asia and Oceanica, in 1902, $96,000,000, and in 1912, about $212,000,000.

ANOTHER CAR MODEL IN SIXES.

HENDERSON FACTORY MAKES IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

Features Exploited in Automobile Shows Have Been Incorporated in New Models, Which Are Soon to Be Ready for an Admiring Public. Car Is Handsome in Every Detail.

The six-cylinder Henderson model is to make its appearance in the near future. With this announcement comes the word that Chester S. Ricker, chief engineer of the Henderson Motor Car Company, and designer of the Henderson car, has resigned his position, after having completed his work in connection with the installation of the electric starter on the Henderson car. The six-cylinder machine will carry a motor of special design, mostly the work of Ricker. He remains as a stockholder and is to act in an advisory capacity, as a member of the board of engineers of the Henderson Motor Car Company.

Many of the features that were exploited in the automobile shows are included in the list of innovations of the Henderson car. Among these are the electric self-starter, long stroke "en bloc" motor, demountable wire wheels, left drive and single lever center control, cowl dash, gas tank under cowl, spring suspension and proper distribution of weight.

BERKELEY TEAM PUT OUT BY Y. M. C. A.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Feb. 12.—Because of defeat last night by the Berkeley Y.M.C.A., the California unlimited weight basketball team will be unable to compete in the P.A.A. tournament. The contest was the first of the elimination games to decide the Coast championship. The 145-pound team fared better, and won from the Oakland Y.M.C.A. by a score of 24 to 21. The lightweight quintette is still eligible to compete in the tourney and Blue and Gold basketball hopes are centered upon it.

Co-eds will own the campus on Friday, February 21, when they are to celebrate the annual women's day. Boat races on Lake Merritt, basketball and tennis games, a Blue and Gold tea and a ball in the evening, are some of the plans of the committee in charge.

Again the South scores. H. J. Sams of Los Angeles, and L. E. Bleuel of Long Beach, won places today on the varsity gymnasium team by scoring more than seventy-five points apiece. But one other man in the tryouts made seventy-five points.

Young Lauds A.A.A.

nounced that certain famous eastern drivers were to compete in connection with our crack western drivers, and yet present conditions, unless corrected along lines that at this time do not seem practical or possible, will not allow us to hope to secure eastern entries and will also deprive our western boys—or at least some of them—from carrying off eastern honors which we had hoped to annex in connection with those which we already hold.

From my own experience with the present board of control of the A.A.A. I am forced to believe that the trouble lies in the chairman of the contest board. He is a man of large business interests which require a great deal of his time. This makes it impossible for him to give the proper time and attention, necessary to get in touch with conditions as they exist in the different parts of the country. A man holding such an important position should be one who could devote his entire time to the task, which is by no means an easy one.

HIS SOLUTION.

The parent organization should have representative boards, such as I have suggested, in whom it has implicit confidence, and in that way a complete record, such as is necessary, could be kept of the acts of every driver, every contestant and every promoter. This would prevent a driver or entrant becoming disqualified in one locality and receiving consideration in another section, a practice which should not be tolerated or made possible. The owner who invests his money in a racing car, the driver who drives it and the promoter who runs the race, need all the protection possible. This can only be obtained by drastic rules, guarded by every possible precaution, and only those who have handled or been closely identified with large race meets know the real importance of this protection.

As to the recent suspension, which has been a matter of some discussion in the columns of your paper, it seems that an interpretation of the rules has been slightly misunderstood, as was the case at San Fernando. I have nothing but the kindest feelings toward Mr. Tetzlaff or Mr. Hixon, and yet it would seem that a palpable mistake had been made in allowing this race meet, even if it was only an exhibition entry. The rules specifically state that this is not permissible and the fact that it has been permitted in other localities, under similar, though perhaps, different conditions, would not in any way change the rule, and by its wording any entrant automatically disqualifies himself. It has even been said that this was not an exhibition entry and yet, I believe it was stated by the management that it was one of the attractions, and if I interpret the word "exhibition" properly, it certainly came under the rulings which the A.A.A. intended should cover entries of this kind.

The disqualification which I am forced to enjoin was due to conditions which seemingly were more the acts of the chairman than the association which he is supposed to represent. The rule which he tried to put into effect did not become effective for approximately sixty days after the race.

Mr. Kuster, who resigned on account of this controversy, performed his duties exactly in accordance with the written rules under which the race was run, as did also Mr. Hixon, the referee, and had conditions been understood then as they are now, no disqualifications would have been forthcoming for any of us, but several heated arguments were indulged in, with the result that the question of personal revenge overshadowed that of personal integrity. Nevertheless, I do not believe in the theory of condemning the entire organization on account of the personal acts of its chairman, any more than I would condemn the city of Los Angeles on account of any dissatisfaction in its government. Neither do I feel that a "progressive" or "new party" should be launched, which possibly would bring worse, rather than better, results.

MOTOR TRUCK REACHES ITS OWN

CHICAGO AUTOMOBILE SHOW SEES WONDERFUL STRIDES.

Many Sales Records Are Established and Public Shows Keen Desire to Examine the Details in Connection With Improvements in Commercial Car Lines.

From reports sent out by the commercial vehicle department of the Chicago automobile show, this is to be a great year in the purchase and use of motor trucks. Business men throughout the country are deeply interested in the power wagons, many with the intention of buying machines, some of them at the present time, and some at some period within the year.

Letters are pouring into the show headquarters at Chicago by hundreds from manufacturers, retailers and others, showing their intention of attending the commercial vehicle section of the show, which will open February 10. Many writers state in their letters that they intend making selections and will close contracts for machines while at the show. A large percentage of the letters come from express, storage, moving, transfer and other companies that are large users of horses and depend upon transportation on the public highways for their existence.

Reports from New York show that a great number of sales were made at the recent automobile show, several of which ran as high as ten or more trucks at one order. Some exhibitors took stock orders aggregating $100,000. Many prospects were obtained to be followed up by dealers during the balance of the winter.

It is a certainty now in the minds of some that this record will be exceeded at the Chicago show. An average of from 250 to 300 live prospects per day was obtained by the exhibitors at the New York show. The Chicago management are in receipt of letters from the largest business houses in Chicago, as well as from cities in the States of Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin, Indiana, Michigan, Iowa, Minnesota and Missouri, with some from Kentucky, Tennessee, Kansas, Minnesota and remoter States. It is expected from present indications that there will be fully a 100 per cent. increase this year in the number of commercial cars used in Chicago and throughout the whole western territory.

CARTER CARS HERE AT LAST.

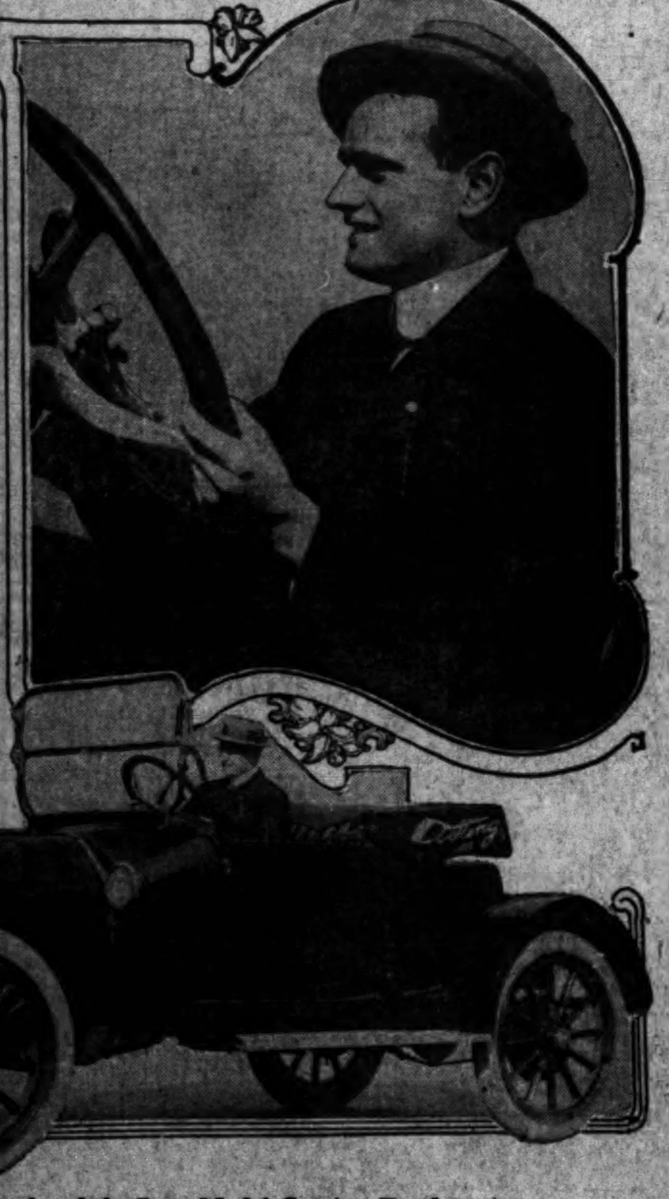
Carload a Week Promised by Factory Chief.

Models to Be on Exhibition Tomorrow.

Friction Transmission in a Stripped Chassis.

The first nineteen-thirteen Cartercars are here. After a long wait, after many orders have been refused and deposits returned the initial shipment is on the salesroom floor of the Vance-Canavan Company. The cars which but James J. Canavan, junior member of the firm, will endeavor to keep at least a touring car and a roadster as demonstrators. Harry R. Radford, vice-president of the Cartercar factory, has promised the local agency a carload a week.

This will not be enough, according to Canavan, who says the demand for the friction-driven pleasure car is greater than ever before. The style and equipment of this year's models,



George R. Kirkwood and the Late Model Cutting Roadster.

Above the dealer's smile, just as he looks after booking three borders for the roomy runabout.

together with the electric self-starting system, make the new Cartercar one of the handsomest of the friction-driven machines on the market. The stripped friction transmission is on exhibition this week.

One of the most interesting exhibits at the Chicago show was the friction-transmission of the Cartercar.

Notwithstanding the fact that this was the tenth consecutive year that the car was shown, hundreds gathered about the display and watched the running chassis.

The fiber-faced wheel rolling against the disk which is connected with the motor and revolves with it is all there is to this transmission, and yet it is this very simplicity that makes people stand and watch it operate.

The Cartercar Company was the first automobile company to build cars with friction transmission, and it has built nothing else but cars of this type. Some of the models turned out ten years ago are running today. After having served several years as pleasure cars, the bodies have been removed, delivery bodies built on and the cars have continued to run year after year.

This year the Cartercar was the only exponent of this type of transmission which was exhibiting pleasure cars at either of the shows. Many other manufacturers do not seem to believe in the friction transmission, but the Cartercar concern is selling more and more of these cars every season.

The Vance-Canavan Motor Company, California distributors of the friction-driven Cartercar, are naturally enthusiastic over the new models. Both Warren Vance and James J. Canavan have made several trips to the Cartercar factory trying to secure additional allotments, as all of the first models have been disposed of almost as fast as shipments were received. Vance is in the East at the present time, and after visiting the Chicago automobile show will make another trip to the Cartercar factory, and if possible secure an additional apportionment of cars.

It has been decided to transfer the automobile exhibit of the National Cycle Builders' Association, during the second week of the New York automobile show, from the Grand Central Palace to the Madison Square Garden. The latter structure has been discovered to be more suitable for the exhibit, as no special flooring or power plant will be necessary, as would be the case at the Palace. The turning out of automobile parts of all descriptions will be shown in this new feature of the show. Rough castings will be shown in the process of receiving the various cuts in finishing. Machines such as are used in automobile factories will be shown. In addition to the exhibit of the various parts there will be a model garage, fitted up to house finished cars and exhibited parts.

Nifty and Nobby.

BEVY OF NAMES FOR NEW NINETEEN-THIRTEEN CARS.

WHEN the Briarcliff Lozier was first marketed there were many who knew just why the name was applied to that fast, high-powered car which made such a wonderful showing in the Briarcliff race. Now, with the continuation of the novel series of names, there are those who are anxious to learn just why the Lozier factory people use the euphonious titles, all of which have some bearing on a particular happening in the building of the Lozier line of cars.

From Paul Smith, sales manager of the Lozier factory, comes the interesting explanation. The names are now familiar. The practice is common, but the new man in charge of the sales department of this factory, where the six-cylinders are being manufactured, gives us the reason.

"The custom of designating motor-car models by distinctive names, a new thing three or four years ago, has become so common today that a few of the reasons for the great extension of this christening process may be interesting to the automobile public," says Sales Manager Smith.

"We are often asked, for instance, why we prefer to call our seven-passenger touring car by the name 'Riverside' rather than by the plainer term 'touring model.' The answer to this question is a simple one. Not only is this christening of the different models an advantage from a sales and advertising standpoint, but it acts as a material aid within our own ranks in everyday routine connected with the production of automobiles. We are manufacturing at the present time two complete lines of six-cylinder cars. In each line there are, of course, various styles of touring, limousine and runabout models. We have found that by applying a proper name to each type of car all chances of mistakes in ordering, shipping and other details connected with the business are eliminated. In all our correspondence the cars are referred to by this name and no time is wasted in finding out whether a dealer is after a 'Big Six' or 'Light Six' touring car, a closed or open-front limousine, a five or seven-passenger model, etc. By using a distinctive name the type and model is immediately identified.

"From the sales standpoint the advantages are obvious. Our touring and runabout models are named for localities familiar to the motorist who travels afield in the summer months. We have the Riverside, Lakewood, Briarcliff, Larchmont and Meadowbrook models in our eighty-horse-power line. To the New Yorker these names smack of the open country and are particularly appropriate for touring cars. The Fairmount and Montclair models are also named for eastern points and refer to the 'Light Six' runabout and touring car. In naming our closed-car models we have endeavored to suggest the use to which this type of car is generally put.

"Thus we have the Knickerbocker and Metropolitan limousines. The first of these, while derived from the colonial appellation of New York's inhabitants, also carries the suggestion that the car is ideally adapted for use within the borders of large cities. Our Touraine coupe model is named after the famous hotel of that name in Boston, suggesting its city use; the Coronado is correspondingly typical of the famous beach and hotel near San Diego.

"That this naming of models has a dollars-and-cents value is proven by the number of inquiries received referring directly to a certain car by the name we have given it. In the indiscriminate naming of models that has ensued during the past two years many cars have been given 'handles' of little or no meaning, such as the 'Invincible' or the 'Defender.' It rests, of course, entirely with the maker just what course to pursue in this matter, but unless care is exercised names will be selected that might be regarded as meaningless by the automobile buyer and this is a condition that no manufacturer should willingly invite. Our own experience has taught us, however, that the scheme carried out correctly has a real value, and we will probably continue it in any new models we may produce in the future."

TRUCK INDUSTRY BOOMS.

That the truck industry has made gigantic strides during the last twelve months is apparent. The vehicles are improved; the methods of selling machines have improved; the old-line makers have generally increased the number of models, so as to cover the entire gamut of industrial transportation; there are over a dozen new companies, and while not a few, who were present a year ago, are missing today, it is not because they have been eliminated from the field, but in some cases due to financial difficulties, and in other cases to changes in policy.

Road makers in Menominee, Mich., are looking for a rat-proof road. For some reason or other, muskrats have been delighting lately in burrowing underneath newly macadamized roads. Washouts are the result when it rains.

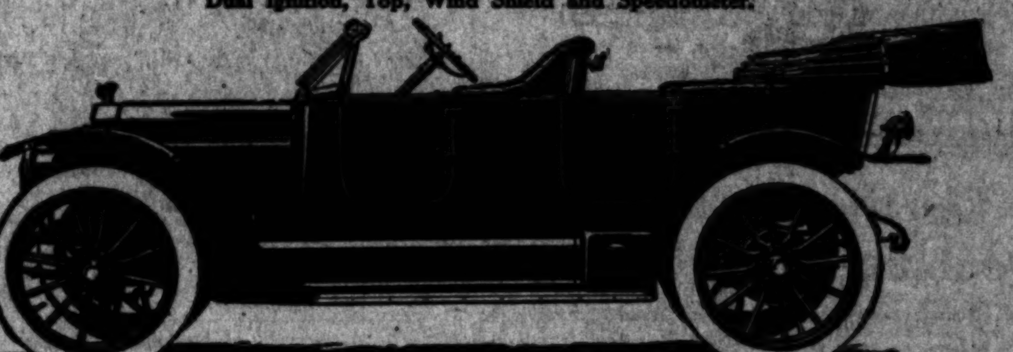
Rambler A New Cross Country $2025 Rambler

With GASOLINE and ELECTRIC LONG STROKE MOTOR

Dual Ignition, Top, Wind Shield and Speedometer.



THE unit gasoline and electric motor has won for the Cross Country the leadership of the medium-priced field.

Eighty per cent. is our increase to date over last year's sales.

In spite of this popular success and ignoring the old idea of yearly models, we announce a new Cross Country at $2025 with unit gasoline and electric long stroke motor, fifteen per cent. increase in power and dual ignition.

JUST PRESS THE BUTTON

To start, press a button; note, there is just a single operation. Press another—you light the lamps.

The gasoline and electric motor is but one advantage of the Cross Country. It is a car of exceeding beauty, richly finished in dark Brewster green. Rakish, low and balanced perfectly, it has grace, suggestion of speed and lines that catch and hold the eye.

RARE COMFORT

It's the easiest riding car we know. You may tour all day with pleasure and return without fatigue. Lots of leg room in front and rear; plenty of elbow room at the wheel, which turns easily but firmly; long springs of deliberate action.

JEFFERY STABILITY

Behind them is the Jeffery Company, with forty years of manufacturing experience.

Ask your banker or consult Dun & Bradstreet as to our responsibility.

Back of this organization is a great factory making ninety-six per cent. of all parts and maintaining a one-half million dollar stock of duplicate parts for the benefit of owners.

10,000-MILE GUARANTEE

These then are the things you get in the Cross Country:

Gasoline and electric long-stroke motor for starting, lighting and power—dual ignition.

Appearance that makes owners proud.

Comfort rare and pleasing that particularly appeals to women.

Ten Thousand Mile Guarantee backed by the Jeffery Company.

Are not these reasons enough?

SILENT AND SIMPLE.

The usual cast-iron fly wheel of the ordinary engine is left off. Parts forming the electric motor generator take the place of the fly wheel.

The only wearing parts, other than those of all gasoline engines, are the motor generator brushes, which are made much larger than necessary—ample for mileage of three seasons of ordinary use.

Specifications: Unit gasoline and electric motor, four cylinders, long stroke, 4½x5, 42-horse-power. Started electrically by push button. Ignition: Dual, magneto and battery. Wheel base 120 inches. Tread: 56 inches, option 60 inches. Wheels: 36x4 demountable. Tires: Goodyear or United States, 36x4.

Body styles: Five-passenger, $2025. Four-passenger, $2025. Roadster, $1985. Special touring body, five adults and two children, 37x4½-inch tires, [illegible]. Sedan four-passenger, all enclosed, with shock absorbers, $2725. Gotham, five-passenger limousine with two extra disappearing seats, shock absorbers and 37x4½-inch tires, $2975.

A CAR OF BEAUTY

Finished in light Brewster green with black bands and hairline gold stripe, with wheels to match. Polished metal parts are nickel, with bonnet, fenders and fillers in black enamel.

Equipment: Top and envelope, wind shield and speedometer; two 11-inch electric head lamps, flush electric dash lamps and electric tail lamp; extension lamp; tonneau, hinged robe rail, adjustable foot rest; complete tool equipment.

THE ENCLOSED TYPES

The Sedan is four-passenger of the exclusive enclosed type. Entrance to all seats from the curb side. All the advantages of an electric without its limitations.

The Gotham is a limousine type, regularly accommodating five passengers, but with two extra folding disappearing seats. A rare combination of utility and elegance.

KISSEL KAR TRUCK REPLACES THE HORSE.

The motor truck is constantly proving its worth from an entirely new angle. Ordinarily it is considered a valuable asset through its ability to keep going, but a case is now brought to notice where a Kissel Kar truck is operated only one hour each day and still proves itself an economical substitute for horses. It does this through being able to place men at their respective work in remarkably quick time.

The truck in question is in the service of the Citizens' Telephone Exchange of Sheboygan, Wis. Six installation and repair men start out on this truck every day. These men work in two, and sometimes three squads, and it has been found that the truck has made it possible for them to average 7¼ hours of actual work every day regardless of the time spent in coming and going. With horses doing but four miles an hour, it took three wagons to do the haulage duty, besides entailing a much greater loss of time in transit. Manager Gallon of the Citizens' Exchange is enthusiastic over the result obtained by the purchase of the truck.

BAKER'S HANDSOME LINES.

Long Low Body Is Attractive and Coupe Is Roomy and Elegant This Year.

Unusually long and low body lines, full limousine back, full-skirted fenders, clear road vision in every direction for the operator, revolving front seats and rear drive are a few of the strongest features of the new Baker electric coupe, which has just been placed on the market by the Baker Motor Vehicle Company.

While the new coupe is not so pretentious and large a car as the Baker brougham, it is considerably larger and roomier than any coupe model which has heretofore been produced. Although the wheel base of the new coupe is shorter and the general chassis construction lighter than that of the brougham, the interior arrangement of the car very nearly approaches the roominess and is equal in luxury of appointment to the larger model.

The coupe possesses a certain advantage over the heavier type of car in that it carries smaller battery equipment, thereby involving less expense in operation, while, at the same time, it makes quite as many miles on one charge of the batteries as any of the other models with a larger battery equipment.

It is the only electric on the market selling at a price less than $3000, which has all the features of convenience and luxury possessed by the largest and most expensive limousines and broughams on the market. The coupe may be had in two styles: a front wheel steer drive, the operator's position being a revolving chair just behind the front left quarter light, or side lever steer from rear seat.

A few of the many new features which at once distinguish the coupe, are the center dividing rain window, the low-cut front and side windows which afford the operator a clear road vision in every direction, ten-inch upholstery, two powerful electric headlights, interior dome light, which lights automatically when the door is opened, and an unusually wide and long metal step which permits firm footing when either entering or alighting from the car.

No-Rim-Cut Tires
10% Oversize

Panic in Tiredom

You have noted, perhaps, that there is a panic in Tiredom.

Makers who clung to old-type tires now proclaim an allegiance to tires which can't rim-cut. And they claim to make them.

That clearly shows how users feel about this new-type tire.

We Control No-Rim-Cuts

But the type of tire known as the No-Rim-Cut tire is controlled by Goodyear patents.

Goodyear experts solved this problem of rim-cutting. And the only satisfactory hookless tire must be made our way. Our Tire Book will prove this to you.

Outsell All Others

Goodyear tires, because of this feature, have come to outsell all others.

The demand today is seven times larger than two years ago. Last year's demand by far exceeded our previous 12 years put together.

Now we are building 6,000 tires daily to meet this amazing demand.

That is the reason for the panic in Tiredom. Motor car owners, by the hundreds of thousands, have adopted this new-type tire. And they have found their tire bills fairly cut in two.

When you come to them, insist on Goodyears, of which two million have been tested out.

Get the tire which, on sheer merit, won the topmost place.

In No-Rim-Cut tires you also get 10 per cent oversize. And that, on the average, adds 25 per cent to the mileage.

Write for the Goodyear Tire Book—14th-year edition. It tells all known ways to economise on tires.

How Electric Car Owners Are Doubling Their Pleasure

If your pleasure electric is equipped with pneumatic tires you are missing half the pleasure of motoring. And you are spending for tire upkeep far more than you should.

Why not say goodbye to those aggravating punctures and blowouts and to those mountainous tire-repair bills?

That's what the majority of electric car owners have done, and thus doubled their motor pleasures. They did it by equipping with Motz Cushion Tires.

Tires That Ride Like Air

Motz Cushion Tires are not hard-rubber tires—the kind that jolt and jar and injure the delicate mechanical parts of a car.

They are lively, easy-riding, shock-absorbing, resilient—as much so as any properly inflated pneumatic. All due to the double, notched treads (A in picture), which prevent skidding and distribute the weight to the sides. The sides are undercut (see B), which allows free action of slantwise bridges (see C). These bridges are elastic. They give and yield like the air in a pneumatic tire. Note D in the picture, showing shock-absorbing qualities when tire runs over a stone.

Utmost Mileage—No Repairs

Motz Cushion Tires end expensive repair bills and the need of extra tires.

And each set carries the strongest guaranty ever put on a tire—a guaranty of 10,000 miles, two years.

Think what you save, not only in trouble and time, but in actual CASH, with these long-mileage tires.

The Leading Electric Tire

More Motz Cushion Tires are now used than all other pleasure electric tires combined.

Even though they cost more than other electric tires, the leading electric car makers in America now include them as standard equipment. They do it to make their cars trouble-proof and easy-riding.

In two years the use of Motz Cushion Tires has increased 1,000%.

Perhaps So.

KRIT MAN SAYS PRICE OF AUTOS WILL REMAIN SAME.

ONE of the most important questions in which the auto public is always interested is that of price. This season, as heretofore, the possibilities of a reduction in the cost of automobiles is being widely discussed.

Five years ago the prediction was freely made that in a short time all grades of cars would be reduced in price, so low that the same amount expended would give the buyer the choice of a span of horses and a nice carriage, or an automobile, a prediction which has been repeated year after year, yet prices seem to remain about the same, and cars continue to sell at prices varying according only to their intrinsic value.

It has been commonly stated that prices were out of proportion to manufacturing and selling cost, and that prices were being maintained at unreal values, or in other words, inflated prices only on account of the abnormal demand. It was found, however, that even after the supply has caught up with the demand, manufacturers being obliged to strive even harder for the business, and competition becoming keener, no reduction in price could be made.

It is true that many manufacturers have made enormous profits, but the majority of the builders find that the prices which they were selling their cars at were receiving no more than a fair interest upon their investment, and in many cases where good business judgment had not been employed large losses have resulted. Many factories who have been doing business on a close margin have been forced to the wall because they had not planned upon a large production. Many makers have strived to improve and perfect their cars, and although prices are not reduced, cars are really made better through the employment of more costly materials and improved devices, which, as a matter of fact, are really in the nature of a price reduction; the purchaser paying the same amount of money, but receiving greater value.

Few people know that when once made, the tools, jigs and dies the manufacturer makes usually cost $100,000 and upwards before they can put a new model on the market. This, divided by the number of machines they make each year, or number of years, reduces the cost of each machine. If the factory makes 10,000 cars, the factory cost would be $10 per car, or 1000 machines would be $100 per car.

We will cite an instance; the K-R-I-T Motor Car Company of Detroit, Mich., five years ago produced a car to sell for $1500. Today this same car, improved in many ways, sells for less than $1000, because the same tools, jigs and dies are now being used in the make-up of high-grade material, which was unknown at that time, such as vanadium and chrome nickle steel, all of which cost more money to make, but the factory expense is less, and they are giving the public a machine which costs more to make, but the factory expense is less per machine, because the tools have almost paid for themselves in the last five years.

The demand for motor cars is greater at the present time than at any time during the last six months, and present indications are that manufacturers will be taxed to the utmost to supply the demand this summer. This makes it a reasonable certainty that no material price reduction is to be expected within the next twelve months.

Here We Come.

AUSTRALIANS TO TOUR AMERICA.

CRACK CRICKET ELEVEN WILL PLAY TEST MATCHES.

R. B. Benjamin, Manager of the Visiting Team, Arrived in New York Yesterday to Make Arrangements for Meeting All Cricket Teams in This Country.

BY MARSHALL D. TAYLOR.

A cricket team, comprising some of the most famous batsmen and bowlers in the world, is to invade the United States this summer. R. B. Benjamin, manager of the visiting eleven, arrived in New York yesterday to make final arrangements with Philadelphia, New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles clubs.

In a letter to The Times, R. B. Benjamin says: "I have pleasure in informing you that it is my intention of bringing a team of Australian cricketers to tour America and Canada early this year.

"The Associated Cricket Clubs of Philadelphia have assured me of their full support in the venture. The team will be a very strong one, and will include among the fourteen players, some of the most notable cricketers in Australia.

"I am pleased to learn that you have such a strong combination and I am sure our matches will be very interesting and create a great boost for the game. I am leaving for New York next week and hope to reach that city on February 14 or 15.

"I have written to P. J. Higgins, secretary of the Los Angeles Cricket Club, so that he can meet me in Los Angeles and make final arrangements for a series of matches with Southern California elevens."

SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

The Los Angeles Club had a very successful season last year, under the able presidency of John Alton. If the same talent is available this summer and the local club accepts the challenge of the Australians, some exciting cricket should be witnessed.

One of the strongest local elevens to be gotten together would include the following-named players: P. J. Higgins, captain; T. D. Bamford, W. Megget, O. D. Rasmussen, F. H Palmer, F. Bamford, W. G. Cochrane, C. Wilmot, C. E. Packman, W. Maddock, K. Elliot, N. B. Buchanan, E. A. Ball, A. R. Mitchell, P. J. Tomkins.

An all-Southern California eleven should be very strong, as it would include players of international repute. W. O'Carroll has played for the South Africans against All-England, while his brother, Oscar, has played for the Gentlemen of Ireland. R. Gautteron was one of the star trundlers on the British Honduras team; G. B. Page has represented New Zealand at cricket, while K. Elliot of Dover College, F. H. Palmer of Bedford College, W. Maddock of Sevenoaks, are all excellent with bat and ball.

With P. J. Higgins to break up the bowling by his terrific slogging, and T. D. Bamford and C. E. Packman to tire out the attack by their careful tactics, Southern California would be represented by an almost invincible aggregation.

WOULD ADMIT AUTOS.

Bar Harbor, Me., is so confident that at the coming Legislature a bill will be passed admitting automobiles to Mt. Desert Island that it has constructed a special automobile road on the island. What is known as Corniche drive, the principal approach to the village, is now being altered. The new roadway will be wide and smooth, and no grade over 3 per cent. It affords some of the finest sea and land views in the vicinity. As most of the Bar Harbor people, save those keeping horses, are in favor of opening the roads to automobiles, it is probable that next summer the horse will be almost as scarce in Bar Harbor as on Fifth avenue.

Welcome.

ARNOLD HOME FROM TRIP TO BIRTHPLACE OF HUDSON

H. L. ARNOLD, manager of the local Hudson Sales Company, has returned from a two-weeks' trip to the Hudson factory at Detroit, and the Chicago Automobile Show.

Arnold is leading the procession of "standardization" boosters along automobile row, and no dealer yells louder than the Hudson man does when he gets an audience that will listen to his enthusiastic declaration that the 1914 models will differ little from the cars that are now being marketed.

"My ardor for the standardization of machines," said Arnold yesterday, "comes from at least a score or more of interviews with the largest and most important automobile dealers in Detroit, which is admittedly the 'automobile city' of the country so far as manufacturing is concerned. Without exception these dealers propose to follow the lead of the Hudson people by paying more attention to the refinements of their cars for next year, rather than any decided changes in the lines, or other changes that will make the 1913 models look different from this season's type of machines.

"The Hudson idea of twelve-inch Turkish upholstery has found so much favor with the people who have bought this year's machines that there will be at least a dozen other makes of cars that will adopt this luxurious feature of [illegible] machine for next year.

"Personally, I do not look for radical improvements, alterations or change of any sort. The [illegible] Hudson seems to have set a standard for several years to come. The [illegible] trimmings, the deep, comfortable upholstery and the electric starter, together with the electric lighting system, have solved the most [illegible] problems of the car [illegible].

"One fact that strongly [illegible] me during my stay in Detroit, and I also noted it at the Chicago Automobile Show, was the [illegible] which the machine-buying public as well as manufacturers, look upon self-starters save the electric [illegible]. I believe that no car without an electrical device for starting will be found on the market next [illegible] certainly it will not if the opinion of the experts go for aught. The electric starters have put the [illegible] automobile cars within the [illegible] of women who have wanted to [illegible] a machine and have been unable to overcome the cranking [illegible].

"The Hudson designers tell me they are so thoroughly satisfied with the 1913 cars that they are going to adopt the same models for next season. There are some little improvements that have been decided upon, but all in all our engineers and designers are so well pleased with their work for this year that they are contented to rest upon their laurels until some competing makers set a new standard."

Bulkley Is Busy.

WORLD RECORD AUTOCAR STILL AFTER FAST MARKS.

M. S. BULKLEY, the man who made the Autocar famous, has just turned another good trick. This time he demonstrated to F. L. Crampton of the Hotel Northern, just what he can do with an auto-bus load of guests. With C. F. Walsh, the man who holds a world record with the Autocar, at the wheel, Bulkley carried the guests quickly and speedily up West Second street and delivered the people at the hostelry.

After having thoroughly tested the hill-climbing qualifications of the car Bulkley insisted on a trip over the country roads. Soon the Autocar bus was making a swift run over the rolling country toward Santa Monica. The bus was driven through Ocean Park and on to Venice where lunch was enjoyed at the Ship Cafe.

Twenty-seven minutes after the Autocar was started from Venice the bus was rolling over the paved streets of Los Angeles. Yes, Walsh was at the wheel. He is one of the few men who can turn such tricks, but according to Bulkley it is easy to drive the Autocar into world records in competition or otherwise. Well, Bulkley sold the truck and is taking orders for others every day.

Looks Good.

OHIO ELECTRIC SHOWS MANY NEW FEATURES.

IN THE CHICAGO Automobile Show the Ohio Electric Company exhibited three models of their making. There is also a chassis, which is finished entirely in white except the inner facings of the frame and a few other parts which have been done in a bright red. There are a few marked changes in the construction of the chassis compared to those that were followed last year. The most decided departure from last year's model is the connecting of the motor directly to the propellor shaft, the chain reduction being eliminated.

A large slow-speed motor is used. There are no universal joints in the propellor shaft, there being the same ball and socket joint, just back of the motor, at the intersection of the torsion rod with a forged crossed member attached to the side rails of the frame. The system of double control as used in the Ohio car is a great feature. The operator may drive his car from the forward or rear seat with equal ease. This system is only used in the models which have the revolving forward seats, accommodating five passengers.

The models in the brougham type and design were those known as models O, Y, and M. The two former cars were wide departures from the concontional. The company designates these two as the Dresden and Viennese, respectively, in pattern. They are semi-colonial in appearance, with limousine rear. The third car, or model M, is of very straight lines, and has two revolving forward seats and double control.

Those Big Trucks.

KNOX MARTIN-TRACTOR HIT OF COMMERCIAL SHOW

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch.] The magnitude of the commercial car division of the National Automobile Show is such that one must see it to appreciate it. Many makers of pleasure cars have gone into the truck manufacturing business—the Packard, Pierce; Peerless, Buick, Reo, Pope-Hartford, Alco, Speedwell and many others.

The Knox company has discontinued their trucks and are devoting all their time to the Knox-Martin car, a three-wheeled power wagon for drawing loads up to twenty tons. They have three at the show, all of which are sold and have taken many future delivery orders. In a personal interview Charles Martin, the designer, said:

"The commercial car engineers are designing what is best suited the the wants of the public and not taking so much into consideration what the public wanted as in the past. There are on exhibition motorcycle package carriers, small delivery wagons and trucks up to five tons capacity; five tons seem to be about the limit of what the manufacturers will put out in the conventional truck design and the consensus of opinion seems to be that this is not capacity enough to suit the general demand for a truck to do heavy work."

What is probably the feature of the show is the Knox Automobile Company's Martin tractor. The booth where these machines are shown was crowded from the time the doors opened. The tractor made its appearance for the first time a year ago. Then it occupied a small corner of the automobile company's space; this year it occupies the entire space.

There are three machines shown, one of fifteen tons capacity attached to a large ice wagon, another of ten tons capacity attached to one of the tank wagons of the Barrett Manufacturing Company and another of eight tons capacity attached to a self-dumping extension lumber wagon.

The Knox tractor is a motor unit of peculiar design which may be attached to any wagon designed to be drawn by horses, the combination making a five-wheel vehicle.

Many advantages are claimed for this device over the conventional motor truck, the chief advantage being the ability to cushion the shock of the stops and starts, thus enabling the machine to handle very heavy loads without danger of straining the mechanism and at the same time makes for much longer life.

The springs of the tractor do not carry one pound of the paying load and are made as light as touring car springs.

The only freaky feature of the tractor is the single wheel [illegible] in front. It is claimed, however, this single wheel is necessary to the successful handling of the [illegible] in congested traffic and [illegible] streets. By its use a wagon can be backed to a given point in an alley or with ordinary [illegible] the wagon can be turned [illegible] sixteen-foot alley.

Another advantage claimed is [illegible] three quarters of the load is [illegible] carried on steel tires, thus [illegible] away from the greatest [illegible] which motor driven wagons are subjected. It is also claimed that by applying the power in front a [illegible] load much heavier loads can be [illegible] than when the power is applied to the rear wheels as is the case with the ordinary motor truck.

Probably the feature that appeals most to lumbermen and other merchants whose business requires considerable time in loading and unloading is that the tractor may be used in connection with several wagons. [illegible] one wagon is being loaded the [illegible] can be on its way with another.

In operation the wagon is placed in the desired position, the body [illegible] up on jacks and tractor drawn out from under them leaving the wagon to be loaded or unloaded as the case may be. The tractor is then backed under a similar wagon and [illegible] on its way, the change taking [illegible] one and one-half or two minutes.

The question is often asked, [illegible] all being overdone?" [illegible] no. If all the automobile [illegible] in the United States were to [illegible] tinue making pleasure cars and [illegible] night and day turning out [illegible] equipment for business purposes [illegible] could not make enough to take [illegible] of the increase in our commerce, granting that this increase will continue at the same rate it has the last ten years.

Figures taken from government statistics show that there was an increase of 80 per cent. in the [illegible] the United States from 1900 to [illegible] At the same rate, in 1920 it would take the equivalent of [illegible] horses, or, approximately, [illegible] commercial vehicles to take care of this increase alone.

This is granting the motor [illegible] will do the work of ten horses. [illegible] there are at present less than [illegible] motor vehicle licenses in the country, it can easily be seen that there is little danger of over-production, especially as the motor now has an advantage over the horse from a [illegible] ly economical and reliable standpoint in any line of work, from drawing a plow on the farm and hauling loads of merchandise on the highway to delivering packages or taking the doctor on his rounds.

LONG TRIP IN SNOW WITH OLDSMOBILE SIX.

An interesting record was recently made by James Buchanan of Ashcroft, B. C., in his Oldsmobile "Six." With seven passengers he drove from Ashcroft to Quesnel and return, a distance of 440 miles. The temperature ranged from 20 to 34 degs. below zero and the snow was from one foot to a foot and a half, almost the entire distance. In some places there were drifts four feet in depth. This is a most interesting feat to one who is well acquainted with the roads and climate of that district. Buchanan believes that winter touring is more enjoyable than at any other time [illegible] is much more exciting.

"In spite of the fact that the temperature was so low the [illegible] were all delighted with the [illegible]" [illegible] Buchanan after his return to [illegible] "We were as much at home [illegible] open as would be a native of [illegible] nia who takes a winter drive [illegible] native State and [illegible] ing of ice and snow. It certainly [illegible] a great achievement and when I [illegible] that from Ashcroft to Quesnel [illegible] a rise of almost [illegible] understand there is [illegible] do. The tour satisfied [illegible] that there is no [illegible] up a car when the [illegible]

VAN COURT SAYS CAMPI HAS VERY MUCH TO LEARN.

Must Find Out How to Hit Properly in Order to Get Full Effect of Blows—Places Too Much Weight on Left Foot—Must Carry Weight of Body on Legs in Delivering Punch.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

EDDIE CAMPI'S great showing with Kid Williams last Wednesday has created a lot of talk as to what he would do to Williams if they met again.

A meeting between these two speed boys will no doubt take place some time in the future. Their last meeting was such a fine exhibition of high-class boxing that the fans will never be satisfied until they have it out.

Those who like the Jim Flynn and Al Conley style of milling were not as pleased with this real scientific stuff as anything that Flynn or Conley ever handed out.

If Eddie Campi and Tim McGrath [illegible] right away, Eddie stands a good chance to win that title yet. But there is one thing that Eddie will have to learn before he can ever accomplish his desires. That is to hit. He has a remarkable left-hand speed, but does not hit right to get the force he should out of it. He hit hard with his right, but the left did not hurt Williams in the least, except an occasional swing to his body.

ONE BIG MISTAKE.

He makes exactly the same mistake all light-hitters make in delivering a blow. He places too much weight on his left foot, and leans his body too far forward. This is a simple thing to understand, if given a little study. Again he hits often with the open glove.

It is also a common belief amongst the fans that a clever boxer cannot be a hard-hitter. But the hardest and best hitters I have ever seen have been the cleverest men.

When standing in a boxing position with the weight of the body on the left foot, the weight is on the left. It could not be otherwise. This is also true, if standing with the weight on the right leg or foot. The secret of hitting is the manner of carrying the body on the legs while moving forward to deliver the punch, either at the head or body, with either hand, be it a straight punch, a swing or a hook.

BAD POSITION.

[illegible] position with his weight on the left foot and his body leaning forward leaves him with the strength of his arm only to hit, and no weight of the body is behind it. The weight is thrown into the left foot.

With the position with the weight on the right leg and the body leaning back, then as the body is propelled forward in delivering a blow the weight of the body will be sent into the punch instead of the floor. As Eddie weighs 116 pounds, it is possible for him to get every ounce of that weight, plus his strength into his blows.

Another mistake he makes is not taking a long enough step as he delivers his blows. He does not carry his weight far enough forward.

The boxer who carries weight forward on his left leg also brings his head closer to his opponent and consequently in greater danger of being hit.

The rule of carring the weight on the right leg when in the act of hitting holds good in any kind of a blow.

FEW HITTERS CROUCH.

It has been the crouching position that has developed so few hitters of late years. It takes the weight of the body too far forward to be of any effect, and makes it a physical impossibility to be a good hitter from this position.

Campi is not a crouching boxer, but any position of this kind is the next thing to it.

Kid Williams also can improve himself in hitting and footwork. Williams stands with his legs spread too far apart to get all he has out of a punch, or to be as fast on his feet as he might. He also does a lot of unnecessary work with both his hands and feet.

Fast jumping around a ring and moving the arms backward and forward is often taken for cleverness, when as a matter of fact, it is significant of a lack of knowledge of the finer points of boxing. These motions are simply a signal as to what he intends trying to do, to a clever boxer.

WHAT HITTING IS.

The hard hitter is always the man who delivers his blows without the slightest backward movement before they are sent forward and the clever footwork is seen in the man who never takes an unnecessary step to accomplish his intention. The real clever boxer can move his feet an inch instead of a foot or two to make an opponent miss. Joe Gans, Jim Corbett, Abe Attell and Packy McFarland are men of this kind.

Both Campi and Williams would improve their work with practice and study. Imagine an improvement in both of these boys. What a great contest it would make!

Eddie made the mistake in not using his right hand more than he did. He also boxed too much at short range. His speedy feet would keep him out of any dangers of this kind.

Developing boxers is a job, and in each contest, mistakes can be seen. If managers and fighters would make more of a study of these things during their layoffs, skillful boxers would be a common thing instead of a rarity.

NORMAN MACBETH MAKES LOWEST SCORE AT GOLF.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

A FIELD of nearly 150 players took part in the qualifying round for the Winter Handicap at the Los Angeles Country Club yesterday afternoon, sixty-four of whom were to qualify for match play.

The two best scores of the day were made by Norman Macbeth with 78 and Judge Frederickson with 79, which is as it should be. The star [illegible] were starting in a nice regular [illegible].

Those to qualify were as follows and will be paired for match play in the order given. First round matches [illegible] this morning:

Norman Macbeth will play Dr. West [illegible] Winter Walton, Thomas Mc[illegible], [illegible] Tuttle, K. Parrott; H. M. [illegible], F. D. Hudson; R. J. [illegible], J. W. Wilson and [illegible] W. A. Barber and C. W. [illegible] L. Merrill and J. S. Mor[illegible] [illegible] Schneider and L. D. Sale, [illegible] and Rohan, Walter Coe[illegible] [illegible] J. S. Cook, S. G. Wilson and [illegible] F. L. Miller and T. J. Wil[illegible] [illegible] and H. S. Braly, E. [illegible] and M. P. Snyder, E. H. [illegible] and S. H. Hopper, Judge [illegible] and L. L. Elliott, Frank [illegible] and S. P. Hunt, Dr. Spinks [illegible] J. J. Mellus and J. A. [illegible]

[illegible] and J. C. Smith, C. H. [illegible] and A. G. Gage, Robert In[illegible] [illegible] S. C. Mudd and [illegible] S. Seaver and [illegible] and J. S. Hunt, [illegible] S. S. Parsons [illegible] Shirley and F. N. [illegible] and Bickister, [illegible] W. H. Davids, and W. H. Keller will play the winner of a match between Mr. Paul and Mr. Gardner, who tied for sixty-fourth place.

A big stag dinner was a great feature of the evening for which the masculine palate paid $2 per plate without liquid refreshments — and they do say they got more for their money in the grill room in consideration of less stringent style.

The league match between the San Gabriel and Virginia teams is to take place this afternoon on the links at the Virginia Country Club, Long Beach.

SCENIC ROAD SOON OPEN FOR TRAVEL.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

SANTA ANA, Feb. 15.—In the next month or six weeks $3000 will be spent in opening up for automobile travel one of the most picturesque roads in Southern California. The road is that section of highway between Laguna Beach and Serra, below San Juan Capistrano. While automobiles can travel this road, it is exceedingly rough and dangerous. With the money he proposes to expend, Supervisor Leck will put the road into fair condition for travel by automobilists. Grades will be changed according to stakes set by the County Surveyor. Two bridges are to be built, one at Aliso Creek and one at Salt Creek. With this road in shape, many automobiles going from Los Angeles to San Diego will take the Laguna road. The road to be improved lies along rugged coast.

To Win Another.

proved that some of the players could not stand prosperity.

Men who had behaved themselves and hustled for years weakened because they had too much money and because too much praise was bestowed upon them. The schedule, too, was against them in that they were at their worst when they met the Boston team. They had won the pennant twice by beating Boston, and they lost it during the early stages last season because they weakened in the games against Boston. The truth is that the team as a whole never weakened. It was a better ball club at practically every stage of the game than Boston was, except as to battery work. The pennant was lost by the pitchers lacking form in the crucial games and by a slump in the catching department. The outfield, too, wobbled, and some of the men did not behave themselves.

Before the end of the season Mack had corrected practically every weakness in his club, had straightened up his worst-offending pitcher, and had fired the others who were weakening the club. If he had started the season with the team that closed it he would have beaten Boston almost beyond doubt.

Whether Mack's team is as good as his teams that won the pennant is a question. Personally I think his infield just as good, and perhaps a bit improved by age, his outfield better and more reliable, his catching department as good, if not slightly improved by the addition of Schang as third catcher, and his pitching staff still ranking up close to the top.

Remember, it is not necessary for a pitcher for the Athletics to be a Walsh or a Wood to win. Any pitcher who has a little on the ball and does not force the runs across the plate ought to win 50 per cent. of his games with that club.

Last season the Athletics ran third and were beaten long before the end of the season, yet they led the league both in batting and fielding and showed the best base running of the circuit. That proves that the pitching was at fault and that the breaks of the luck were against the team. Bender slumped badly. Morgan became a second-rater. Undoubtedly Mack had to shoulder the burden of the blame. He should have known early in the season that some of his men were not going to give their best efforts to the club. Had he known Bender and Morgan were not behaving and that Bris Lord was suffering from too much prosperity and that their work was affecting others, he might have done it. But if Mack has a weakness it is in trusting his men—and he trusted them until it was too late to apply the remedy and effect a cure last year. He got out of quarantine late in the year and showed a lot of baseball.

McInnis, hitting .347 and stealing forty bases, fast, dangerous, and full of ambition and desire to win, easily ranks the first basemen of the league, barring Chase, and he has Chase beaten on ambition. Collins, hitting .3[illegible] and stealing sixty-three bases, is peer of the best of the second basemen. This boy has steadied with age and gained in reliability more than he has lost in brilliancy. Jack Barry, the brains of the infield and a wonderful ball player, had a slump last season, and it is evident from both purchase and draft that Mack fears his great shortstop is slipping back. Barry slowed up in his work all round, although he hit .261. Baker, hitting .347 and stealing forty bases, was at or near his best, and is the best third baseman on the circuit. The infield is still easily the best in the country, steadier than it ever was, a little less flashy and a lot more reliable.

The outfield, which rather smashed up for a time, is still strong. E. and D. Murphy are hard to beat and normally close to .320 hitters. Danny no longer has the speed, but he is a great player, and Eddie is almost as good and younger. Rube Oldring plugs along over the .300 mark. He never was fast, never was brilliant—but he hits, and his hits and his long driving cover a multitude of sins. Amos Strunk was a disappointment to a lot of people last season, but not to me. I did not expect him to flash as brilliantly as an outfielder in a regular job as he did when called in a pinch. He is one of the fastest men in baseball—the rival of Cobb and so close to Henriksen that a split second watch has a hard time separating them. He hit .289, which ought not to be disappointing except that wonders were expected. He stole twenty-nine bases, which proves he has some judgment back of his great speed. I believe Strunk will show great improvement during the coming season.

Lapp was the strength of the catching department. He is improving each season and still hitting. He hit .292 last season and is a normal .300 hitter. His catching improved, while Ira Thomas slumped badly, both back of the bat and in hitting. It seemed just an off year for him rather than any specific trouble. Things did not break right, and a couple of injuries hampered his work. Egan did not show strength enough to help out the catching staff.

The pitching was what hurt. Plank had another of his good years, and for a fellow who goes along year after year winning over .600 per cent he went too well. I do not figure him to win such a large percentage this season. Morgan exploded and went back, and Jack Coombs, with twenty-one victories and ten beatings, was about normal. Bender did not behave well. He won seventeen and lost ten games but in his usual form ought to have pitched more games and won a larger percentage.

Mack got Bender back onto the reservation before the end of the season and had him in form. I think the Indian will come again this season and win two out of three games, and I am figuring him to pitch thirty-two games at least and help out in others. Mack will let him earn his forgiveness.

Houck did only fairly well, winning eight and losing eight, but he improved steadily and at the close and in the post-season games he was showing a lot more and threatening to become a first rater. C. Brown is only average or a bit above it. Evidently Mack thinks he has enough in the pitching line, for he is not making extra strenuous efforts to land pitchers.

In fact, Mack appears satisfied with everything except shortstop and the catching department. He landed Schang, who is touted as the best minor league catcher of years, from Buffalo after a hot fight for the services of this fellow. He hit .334 for Buffalo and I am told he is as steady and clever a catcher as has been turned out of the International.

Now, outside of Schang it doesn't look as if Mack has added much. He still has some sort of a claim to Salmon, the big pitcher, but probably will not want him, and he has some string to Walsh and Murphy from Baltimore. He took Brady, a light hitting, fast and clever second baseman from Toledo, but probably without intention of using him. Orr, drafted from Sacramento, a .236 hitter, who stole twenty bases, is touted as a coming shortstop, but I am informed by one Coast League manager that he hasn't a chance to last.

Flick, the infielder from New Haven, only hits .240 in the minors, but is as fast as light on ground balls. Mathes, from Butte, is fast, and touted as a wonder in the West, but he ranked next to last both as second baseman and as shortstop, hit .290, and stole thirty-three bases. Bush, from Missoula, I'm told, is only a fair minor league pitcher, and Crabb, from Davenport, was only a fair pitcher out there and overshadowed by Hendirx, his teammate. He looked better in the tryout last fall than he did in minor company.

Everything Here.

SPORTSMEN'S BIG SHOW TO BE HELD IN APRIL.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT that the Los Angeles Motorcycle Club will conduct a motorcycle, motor boat and sportsmen's show in the Shrine Auditorium April 7 to 13, inclusive, has attracted the attention of sport lovers all over the Southland and from all indications the 20,000 square feet in the building available for exhibition purposes will not be enough to supply the demands of those who desire space.

George C. Fehrman, manager of the show, is now making reservations for space at the headquarters in the Grosse building, and states that each mail is bringing requests for space reservations and information.

In the various booths, among other things, will be shown motorcycles with all the various appliances and attachments, for pleasure and commercial use, motor boats from the smallest dory to the large palatial yachts and cruisers, marine engines of every modern type, for racing, pleasure and heavy duty, aeroplanes and hydroplanes, with the various designs of motors, firearms, ammunition, taxidermy, sporting and athletic equipment and fishing and hunting outfits.

A decorative scheme, wholly new in Los Angeles, has been evolved by the Decorations Committee of the Los Angeles Motorcycle Club and will be followed by Manager Fehrman in the beautifying of the interior of the auditorium.

Gold medals are to be awarded to the relay team that wins the race in the interscholastic meet on Stanford oval, April 12.

The Stanford second basketball team was beaten by the Ft. [illegible] quintette yesterday, 36 to 16.

Why An Underslung?

Information Worth Having

AN Underslung automobile carries its frame below the axle. This type of construction presents certain advantages with which the intending buyer of a new car should become familiar. To choose wisely, you should have this information.

Underslung construction is the safest construction known. The weight of the car is carried well within the wheels and nearer the ground. At the same time there is ample and even clearance. Nothing hangs below the frame. The vital parts of the car are protected. "Turning turtle" becomes impossible—skidding is reduced to the minimum.

Besides being safer, Underslung automobiles are easier riding cars. The spring construction makes Regal Underslungs free from "side sway" and makes them stronger. All springs are long and as each "half" vibrates at a different rate there is no violent bounce. The sensation experienced is more like gliding than riding.

Regal Underslungs are also economical in gasoline consumption. The different models average between fifteen and twenty miles to the gallon of gasoline. Their low suspension means a straight line drive and power developed in the motor is not wasted in the propelling system before it reaches the rear wheels.

Each owner of a Regal Underslung finds additional satisfaction in the appearance of his car. The low rakish body gives it that "different" look which makes a man proud of the car he drives. The nickel-plated trimmings, electric lights and luxurious upholstering are further factors for beauty, comfort and satisfaction.

All Regal Underslungs possess these advantages and many others. So well established is this type of construction that it deserves the careful consideration of every buyer. We ask you to see and ride in one of the Regal cars. Examine them at the local show room.

We employ special salesmen who will be glad to answer further questions about Regal Underslung construction and Regal cars. These men will make possible a personal touch in your relations with us which will inspire confidence and insure satisfaction.

HALLIWELL BROTHERS COMING BACK HOME.

C. E. and W. H. Halliwell of the Halliwell Company are to return from the East Wednesday. The brothers went back to attend the Chicago show and from there to the Knight factory and several other factories in the Middle West with which this firm is doing business.

The Halliwells have a number of new accounts which they will handle on the Coast in their string of stores, but no announcements will be made until their return.

The pair succeeded in having their shipments of Knight tires increased and from now on will receive a carload of tires a month. The last shipment contained anti-skids entirely and there has been a heavy run on this type.

The Knight is one of the new tires on the market that has made a strong impression. It costs more than the average tire and additional strength and mileage are claimed for it by its makers. The Halliwells spent several days studying the construction of the tire and will return with a better knowledge of this line of the business than ever before.

ROLLER AND GREEK TO APPEAR HERE.

Who has the best right to meet the question, now so vital in mat circles.

Both men have expressed a willingness to appear, and only the settlement of the date and terms remain to be attended to. Dan McLeod, wrestling instructor of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, is engineering the match.

The battle between these two giants should be one of the best mat contests ever staged in this part of the country.

Roller has defeated many men he has met, with the exception of Gotch, and Gotch was unable to throw Roller when these two met in the champion's home town.

Demetral's record is also remarkable, and as the styles employed are opposite, the contest will probably be fast and furious.

In many respects it will be a real championship battle, for the situation today in wrestling is not unlike that in boxing—the champion is so high that sub-champions have come into existence as a logical result.

Announcement of the date and terms of the match are looked for in the near future.

BREAKING INTO BASEBALL.

Hard Luck Has Hovered Over Ham Patterson, But He Believes That He Has Subjugated the Jinx—Managed Two Clubs and Sampled Life in the Major League.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

HAMILTON PATTERSON is the original hard-luck kid.

His life has been one continual round of grief. Ham broke a shoulder on one occasion, splintered an ankle on another, inadvertently got tied up to a club which he didn't fancy for two years, and lost out by twenty-four hours in getting a hunk of world's series money.

Now, if that isn't a row of calamities, I would like to see one.

Ham has fully recovered from his latest calamity—that of the busted ankle, and fondly predicts "the best season of his career."

Hamilton Patterson—he is devoid of middle names—was born in Belleville, Ill., which is not much more than a stone's throw from the great city of St. Louis. Contrary to the general run of biographies, Ham did not attend either high school or college. He was entirely too busy making a living to circulate in "rah-rah" circles.

He went direct from the work bench to the professional diamond.

MANY NICKNAMES.

Patterson has been favored with more than his share of nom de plumes or nom de guerres, meaning nicknames. When he was playing in Nashville, Tenn., some festive scribe sought to make a play on the name of the Governor of the State—Hamilton Patterson—and christened him Ham. As this happened to be Pat's original prefix, the joke was on the scribe.

Sandy Griswold got it into his head that Patterson is a Swede, and labelled him "Petey." Since arriving in Los Angeles, he has been variously known as "Ham," "Pa" and just plain "Pat."

Patterson's first professional engagement was with Omaha, then and still in the Western League. He made his advent into league company as a second baseman. Inside of a month he was sent to the rarified atmosphere of Denver by the swap route. He was taken sick, and returned home late in the season.

He returned to Denver the following season, 1904, and was shipped from there to Crookston, in the Northern League. And who should he find on the Crookston club but Walter Carlisle, who was then a budding outfield star.

LEAGUE EXPLODES.

The league "blew" on August 1, and Patterson, accompanied by Jack Henry, a catcher, set sail for Omaha. The train had a wait at Ft. Dodge. There was a game in progress there between Oskaloosa and Ft. Dodge. Patterson promptly repaired to the ball park. He became intensely interested. The manager of the Oskaloosa club learned his identity, and verbally signed him. The next day Patterson appeared in an Oskaloosa uniform. That was the beginning of an extended sojourn in the Iowa League.

The team proceeded to win twenty-three out of the next thirty-three games. At that time a signature to a receipt for salary placed a player under reserve, and Pat found himself the property of the Oskaloosa club at the end of the season. As he hit .320, the manager positively refused to relinquish claim to him.

Consequently Patterson lingered there through 1906 and 1907, taking the management of the club in these years. The team finished second both seasons. Pat was installed as manager after recommending another gent for the place.

ON TO PUEBLO.

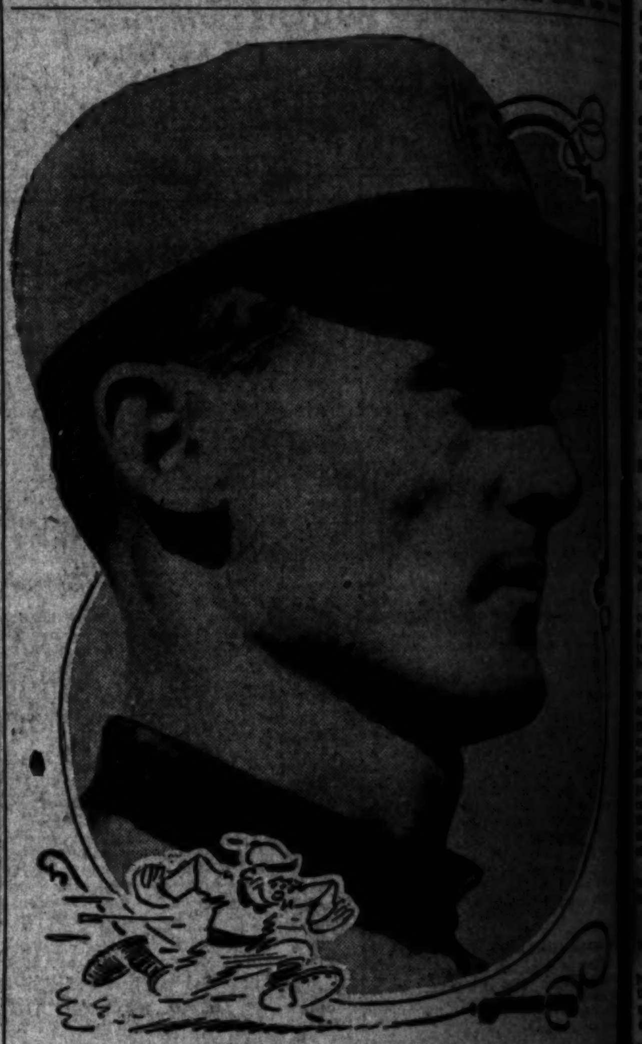
Patterson was installed as manager of the Pueblo Club in 1908. He had a good year, and five big league clubs were seeking his services at the end of the season. The late Frank Selee, who held an interest in the Pueblo Club, disposed of him to the St. Louis Americans, under a supposed "cover-up" sale. Patterson hit .322 that season, and looked like big league material from the toes up. Corhan, of the Seals, was on the team at that time.

St. Louis endeavored to get waivers on Patterson, and send him back to Pueblo, McAleer being decidedly friendly with Selee. But Fred Clark of Pittsburgh positively [illegible] waive. Fred needed a [illegible] or two himself.

PAT DISPLEASED.

This was far from pleasing [illegible] Patterson or to Pueblo, for the [illegible] stood ready to retain him at an increase in salary. He [illegible] Patterson that McAleer would [illegible] in getting waivers that he returned [illegible] Pueblo. Later he was forced to [illegible] to the Browns, and without the [illegible] lus of spring training.

Finally, McAleer shipped [illegible] Chicago, thinking that [illegible] might have the necessary [illegible] Clark to put through the waiver [illegible] But Clark was obdurate, and [illegible] son reported to the Pirates [illegible] 2, or just twenty-four hours [illegible] to be eligible for the world's [illegible] with Detroit, which followed.



Hamilton Patterson.

His wounded ankle has healed, and he is preparing himself for a "come back."

By the spring of 1910, [illegible] picked up a number of first [illegible] including Sharpe and Flynn. [illegible] parties looked so good that [illegible] was sent to Chattanooga. He [illegible] captain of the club, and had [illegible] in the lead when he fractured [illegible] of his shoulders in a collision [illegible] base runner.

CRIPPLE PASSED ON.

Owing to the salary limit, [illegible] did not permit of extra men [illegible] Chattanooga being in a position [illegible] did not justify it in carrying [illegible] ples, Patterson was sold to Na[illegible]

Hogan secured him in 1911 [illegible] change for Lindsay and [illegible] Patterson got away to a bad [illegible] these parts, but it was not long [illegible] fore he was systematically [illegible] our very farthest fences. His [illegible] was both hard and timely, and [illegible] stick work was a big factor [illegible] bang-up finish which the [illegible] with Portland that season.

Patterson had the misfortune [illegible] fracture one of his ankles [illegible] son and was forced to [illegible] bench most of the time. [illegible] absence from the game it is [illegible] than likely that the club would [illegible] finished in front.

Patterson is a late starter, but [illegible] he gets into his stride, [illegible] suffering in store for opposing [illegible] men. His wounded ankle [illegible] oughly healed, and he vows [illegible] will be the banner season [illegible] career.

MURPHY THINKS BASEBALL HO

[BY FEDERAL [illegible] TIMES.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF [illegible] TIMES, Feb. 15.—[Special Dis[illegible] President Taft's patronage of b[illegible] has proved one of the biggest [illegible] the game could have had. Pre[illegible] Murphy of the Cubs, in a [illegible] article published here yeste[illegible] makes this statement. The Ch[illegible] magnate also cites many poi[illegible] prove the absolute honesty of [illegible] game.

He writes that every man in [illegible] ball feels a debt of gratitude t[illegible] President of the United States [illegible] continues:

OVERALL WILL NOT SIGN UNLESS CONTRACT PLEASES

Cub Pitcher Glad He Is Reinstated, but Must Be Offered the Money He Thinks He Is Worth at This Time—Will Remain Out of Baseball if the Price Is Not Right.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

[illegible] OVERALL'S reinstatement [illegible] the National Commission has [illegible] him, rather than excit-[illegible]

[illegible] wants to get back into the [illegible]. He is willing to play with the [illegible] Cubs under favorable con-[illegible]. However, he is restraining [illegible] pending the receipt of [illegible].

[illegible] that Overall is back in the [illegible] of the baseball powers [illegible] Chicago must send him a con-[illegible] or relinquish its reservation. This [illegible] to be forthcoming any day [illegible].

[illegible] would not surprise me at all [illegible] Murphy send me a 'joke' con-[illegible]," said Overall. "At least, I am [illegible] to get my expectations up. [illegible] prepared for any kind of a jolt. [illegible] contract must be satisfactory [illegible] respect or I will not sign. Unless this [illegible] I will remain out of the [illegible]."

[illegible] Overall's misgivings may [illegible]. Reports of his great [illegible] winter games out here, show-[illegible] appears to be a full return [illegible] may have convinced Messrs. [illegible] and Evers that they can use [illegible] advantage.

[illegible] Opposed to Bonus.

[illegible] Berry does not believe in [illegible].

[illegible] Angel magnate fails to see [illegible] one on a club is entitled to [illegible] like that in these days of [illegible] and co-operation on the [illegible].

[illegible] rule, it is the pitchers who [illegible] for that extra bit, known as [illegible]. A member of the Angel [illegible] staff recently hinted that a [illegible] would be acceptable.

"[illegible] about the man at third base [illegible] down the hard drives made [illegible] delivery," quoth Henry. "And [illegible] the man at second, who cuts [illegible] run at the plate that might [illegible] the game if it scored. The [illegible] converts hard chances into [illegible] at first base for you, and the [illegible] coaches and steadies you in [illegible]. And then there are [illegible], who pick the long ones [illegible].

[illegible], if I give you a bonus, then [illegible] would compel me to give one [illegible] other member of the club."

* * *

[illegible] Backstops.

[illegible] of Redondo, who has been [illegible] "Happy" Hogan's articles on [illegible] of catching, arises to in-[illegible] whether the game has pro-[illegible] southpaw catchers of note.

I have in mind three left-handed catchers, who were good enough for the big league. The gents who shot the ball to second from the south side were Mike Hines, John Clements and Sam Trott.

Clements backstopped for the Phillies for several seasons, and Trott played with a number of big league clubs, including Baltimore and Brooklyn. Hines handled the delivery of Jim Whitney, who was one of the speediest slabsters in the business at that time.

While these men delivered the goods, they worked under more or less of a handicap. There are more right-handers hitters than the other kind, and the backstop who tosses with his offside "fin" must encounter more interference from the batter than his brother who pegs with his right.

Hal Chase and "Jiggs" Donohue could be classed as left-handed catchers, but it was at first base that they won their greatest fame.

Chase, in his younger days, could play any position on the diamond, including both battery points. He proved his versatility while with the Angels. Donohue started the game as a catcher, but wound up his career as a first baseman—and there were few better.

Fromme One-hit Game Artist.

Los Angeles has this winter been harboring a very celebrated young man in the person of Art Fromme of the Cincinnati Reds.

Anyone with the Reds is bound to be more or less famous, but Art accumulated additional glory as the author of a one-hit game last season. There were only ten of these in the two major leagues.

Fromme turned the trick against New York on August 27, when the Reds won, 2 to 0.

The first one-hit game of the season was unreeled by Cy Morgan of the Athletics against Washington, on April 12. The Athletics won, 3 to 1. Morgan struck out eleven batsmen.

Otto Hess of the Boston Nationals allowed the Chicago Cubs only one hit on May 9.

Jimmy Lavender of the Cubs pinned the Pirates down to a single bingle on June 28, and the following day, Joe Wood of the Boston Red Sox subjugated New York in a similiar manner.

Jean Dubuc, Detroit's young pitching marvel, broke into the one-hit class against the White Sox on July 6. Then Walter Johnson of Washington humbled the White Sox in the same manner on August 16.

Then Carl Wyman of the Browns "egged" Chicago on September 25, allowing but one hit. St. Louis won, 12 to 0.

Ralph Works, pitching for Cincinnati, held the Cubs to one hit in a seven-inning contest.

CHESS NOTES.

The Havanna chess tournament is scheduled to start today with eight entries. Jose R. Capablanca, Pan-American champion, winner of the San Sebastian international tournament of 1911 and the recent national tournament at New York, is the most prominent competitior; Frank J. Marshall, United States champion, is a close favorite; David Janowski, champion of France, should press both to their best efforts to precede him on the score sheet; while Oscar Chajes of Chicago, Charles Jaffe and A. Kupchik of New York, and two Cuban amateurs, Juan Corzo and Rafael Blanco, should play an interesting series of games.

The first six players named, with the exception of Kupchik, were the prize winners in the national tourney just finished, the totals of all competitors having been scored in the following order:

Capablanca 11, Marshall 10½, Jaffe 9½, Janowski 9, Chajes 8, Stapfer 8, Kupchik 6½, Tenenwurzel 5½, Whitaker 5½, Kline 4½, Rubenstein 4½, Morrison 4, Liebenstein 2½ and Zapoleon 2.

MOTOR CAR BURNS; PLUGS UNHARMED.

If your automobile burns don't throw away the spark plugs. At least keep them if they are V-Ray plugs. This is the testimony of Harry Winters, chauffeur for Attorney Earl Rogers, who says the V-Ray plugs on Attorney Rogers's car are as good as ever in spite of the fact that the garage and automobile were burned a few nights ago.

B. W. Sinclair, secretary and treasurer of the V-Ray Company, had occasion to examine these plugs and is authority for the statement that the plugs are as good as new in spite of the baptism of fire. He says he removed them from the motor and found them good enough to be placed on the new car, or on any car that Attorney Rogers may select.

"The V-Ray spark plugs, when taken out were in perfect condition," says Sinclair. "The intense heat did not even crack the platinum. This may seem remarkable but I know what I say when I tell you I examined them myself and then tried them to see if they had been harmed in any way. They are as good as new."

WHY KILBANE QUIT.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 15.—[Special Dispatch to The Times by Wireless Line.] The arrival of a nine-pound baby girl at the home of Featherweight Champion Johnny Kilbane yesterday morning explains why his bout scheduled for last night with George Kirkwood in New York was postponed. Now, if all goes well, Johnny announces he'll fight Kirkwood on the 19th.

UMPS ANNOUNCED.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] President Ban B. Johnson announced here yesterday his staff of eight umpires for the American League. They are T. H. Connolly, Frank O'Loughlin, W. H. Dineen, W. G. Evans, Robert Hart, Charles Ferguson, George Hildebrand and E. J. McGreevy. The last three are new men. Ferguson is from the American Association and Hildebrand and McGreevy are from the Pacific Coast League.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

Monrovia Coming Up.

It looks as though Monrovia High School was going to be heard from this season. All of last season's team has returned and there are several new lights, whose additional ability makes a winning team possible.

Goode, the sprinter of the institution, is getting away from his marks in fine form and is steadily improving in both speed and strength. He will probably run all the sprints for his school this season. Tuttle, Goode's team mate, is making his partner hustle.

Boyles, who was with the crack Citrus Union team last season, is a great help to the team. He is clearing the hurdles like a Kelly and running the quarter-mile in fine shape. Capt. Bynum stands out as the best distance man on the squad. He is leading the "grinders" well this season and will probably figure in some of the big meets if his present form can be taken as a criterion.

The team is rather weak in the jumps and some of the field events, but hard work is being put in on the bad spots and the manager is entertaining hopes of taking a few points here as well as in the track events.

High School Season Promising.

The present track and field season in Southern California is remarkable for the interest that is being taken in cinder sports by the suburban High Schools and the schools in the more important cities of the South. This spring there are schools on the athletic map in track that heretofore have never had a spike in the field and all seem to have bright prospects.

The schools in the larger cities like San Diego, Pasadena, Long Beach and Pomona are making strong bids for title honors in the local field and the big southern interscholastic track and field meet this year should be a record breaker.

Big Meet March 29.

The big High School meet mentioned takes place this year March 29 and will probably be held on the Y.M.C.A. field, though there is some talk of using the Oxy oval. This season all affairs pertaining to the meet are in the hands of the High School students directly, instead of in the hands of a committee composed of college men. The High Schools think that they are able to handle their own business. The Los Angeles High School has the matter in hand this season, as the meet is to be held in this city and the student body is making its plans at the present time for the entertainment of the visiting athletes.

San Diego Going Strong.

Track work is booming at San Diego High School this season and thirty men are now out trying for places on the team. The school has had one meet already with Santa Ana, which San Diego won by the score of 77 to 45.

Manager Gassman has one of the best schedules up in the history of the school. It covers Long Beach, another meet with Santa Ana, two meets with Manual Arts, one with Pasadena, the Southern California championships and a meet with the San Diego All-Stars, composed of former college men.

The team also figures to win the San Diego county meet and all the dual clashes with the other High Schools in the county.

The San Diego relay runners made an excellent showing in the Oxy carnival and the work of Waite, Dana, Dievendorf, Capt. Kohler and Lundy was very good. These boys are all fast and should be live factors in the coming struggle for the prep title of the South.

Pomona High Booming.

The track candidates have been working out steadily at the Pomona High School under Coach Dignowity since the first of the year, and at the present time are beginning to round into splendid shape. Pomona bids fair to be one of the most dangerous factors in the championship meet this season. Most of last year's point-winners are back, and the coach has some new material that looks exceedingly good.

The class meet revealed the new talent in a most gratifying way, and the coach is expecting some heavy point winners among his dark horses. The classy new men are Wendell Baker and Clay Briever, in the sprints, and Glen Walker and Leon Baker in the distances. Earl Clark and Willard Parker are also making good in the hurdles.

Capt. Luther Nichols will undoubtedly boost the world's interscholastic high jump record up another peg this season, as he did last year. He is now clearing six feet easily and is well over eleven feet in the pole vault.

Neal Clark is strong and consistent with the weights and has put the shot forty-six feet already. Ed Stone and Ed Maurer are showing form in the sprints again. Both have a record of ten-two, and are improving. George Parker is doing well in the 440.

Mumps Wreck Team.

The Pomona basketball team got away to a flying start this season, but when everything looked rosy the mumps descended like a plague, sweeping all before it, along with championship possibilities, for a time at least.

M. L. Fluckey, of the High School faculty, has done great things with the basketball team, and had it not been for this unfortunate happening would probably have landed the team near the top of the heap.

Good Team at Pasadena.

The Pasadena High School baseball team looks like a winner this season. Kent, the young pitcher that set Southern California prepdom on fire three years ago by taking the title in a walk, has returned to school and will again be on the firing line. He has been playing ball right along and is in fine shape to take up his athletic career where he dropped it when he left school. There is a great deal of rivalry between the Pasadena High School team and the Throop Polytechnic team. The P.H.S. squad has been scalping the Polyites of late and at last it looks as though Throop has a shade on the High School men.

A Terrific Finish.

'Art Torrance a Trojan Miler.

Who is now proving a worthy running mate for the mighty Capt. Linton Smith. Art puts his whole soul into his finish, as is shown here.

NO AUTOS THERE.

One of the oddest sights in Europe may be witnessed in the little city of Odder, Denmark. There are 4000 people dwelling there, but they have never relaxed from their earliest declaration—namely, never to permit the driving of an automobile through the streets. Consequently, a man in a business suit and a soft hat rides astride a black horse, which draws the motor car through the town. The operation affords great fun for the children, who pile into the automobile, even sitting on the laps of the chauffeur and occupants. A heavy fine attaches to any person attempting to violate the ordinance.

TIE IN FOOTBALL.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—[By Cable and A. P.] Oxford and Cambridge played their annual association football match today on the Queen's Club grounds. A score of two goals each was the result.

DICK CROKER REAL FIGHTER.

Beat Many Old Scrappers in Early Political Days.

Fought in Saloons, B[illegible] Rooms and Cellars.

Big Tim, Frawley and Mc-Manus Rose by Fists.

"Nearly all the noted political leaders of New York City had to fight their way up, not only with their brains, but with their fists as well," says Jack Skelly. "Boss William M. Tweed, although a very peaceful man generally, was always ready to fight at the drop of the hat in his younger days, before he became the leader of Tammany Hall. Those who knew John Kelly forty years ago can recall his fistic ability. Many a hard fight around election time proved Kelly's grit and physical power. It was this pugnacity, along with his big brain, that made Kelly the undisputed leader of Tammany for many years.

"Dick Croker, who followed Kelly as leader, also was a game fistic battler. One of his first notable victories was over Reddy Haskins in a [illegible] ring battle in a cellar on the [illegible] Side. Croker's next victim was [illegible] Kelly, whom he defeated in the back room of a saloon at Third avenue and Thirty-fifth street. Then he walloped Dick Lynch one fine Sunday morning in Jones Wood in 1866. It was a terrific contest, lasting almost an hour. After defeating Matt Grace and Danny Leavy, Croker gained considerable prestige on the East Side and he was elected Alderman at the age of 26, with the consent of [illegible] Tweed.

"Fatty Walsh, once leader of the old Fourth Ward, was also a game fighter. Away back in 1859 he was matched to meet Thunderbolt [illegible] Norton afterwards a State Senator, for $1000 a side. Mayor Tiemann, however had both men arrested and bound over to keep the peace. Walsh was afterwards elected to the Assembly and later was Warden at the Tombs, which position he filled with good credit for many years.

"Boss McLoughlin, who passed away in Brooklyn a few years ago, was able to handle himself with [illegible] pluck and ability in his younger days. He ruled Kings County for forty years as an able political leader.

"Take the most prominent leaders in the field today in Greater New York and you'll find they had to fight their way up from the ranks by hard knocks and clever brain work. I mean such men as ex-Sheriff Tom Foley, Senators Timothy D. Sullivan, James J. Frawley, Peter J. Dooling, Dan Finn and Senator McManus. I'm glad to see my old boxing friend, Marty McCue, making such a fine record for himself in the Assembly. I tell you gameness counts for a great deal in almost any walk of life. And its always the plucky fellow who reaches the top."

UNDER SEVERE TE[illegible]

Manufacturers of high-grade [illegible] have during the past year made provision for a department in their factory which will give a most rigid inspection of their motors. This is considered a necessary branch of activity in the successful marketing of any high-grade automobile. The [illegible] in the F. B. Stearns factory in Cleveland, where the Stearns Knight cars are built, is begun when the raw materials reach the factory.

Every consignment of steel is put through an analysis and inspection by experts. The parts are inspected [illegible] different times when they leave the machines in the shops, and another inspection is given the finished [illegible] after the chassis has been assembled in the erecting shops. Before the completed car goes out of the factory each is tried out and every part operated to make sure that the working is in perfect order.

The inspection system of the F. B. Stearns Company is nation-wide, as they not only make a thorough test of the cars they turn out of the plant, but will inspect Stearns-Knight owners' cars without cost. Specially trained service men are sent to the factory each year from all parts of the country for instruction in the shops. An owner may secure the services of one of these men at any time in the United States within twenty-four hours. In the cities [illegible] may be had at once. In this way Stearns-Knight cars are cared for at all times, before it leaves the [illegible] and during the time it is in operation.

[illegible]S.C. BREAKS RELAY RECORD.

[illegible] Oxy and Pomona in Fast Mile Race.

[illegible] Wilson Dislocates Ankle in Pole Vault.

[illegible] High Schools Make Great Showing.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

[illegible] first annual Occidental relay [illegible] proved a decided success yesterday [illegible] on Baer Field. All [illegible] were good and the [illegible] been in almost every [illegible]. The special events were also [illegible] although gloom was cast [illegible] Occidental rooters when the [illegible] pole-vaulting prize, "Bo" Wilson, [illegible] dislocated his ankle in the jump, [illegible] put him out of competition [illegible] rest of the season.

[illegible] was clearing 11ft. when the [illegible] happened, and in going over [illegible] developed so much speed [illegible] carried him across the [illegible] and he fell on the hard [illegible].

[illegible] RELAY RECORD GOES.

[illegible] intercollegiate mile relay record [illegible] Southern California went by [illegible] when the U.S.C. Trojans [illegible] the old mark of 3min. [illegible] Laird ran [illegible] and finished a yard behind [illegible] of Occidental, and in [illegible] with Youngman of Pomona [illegible] Crighton of Oxy got a bad [illegible] Berger jumped into the [illegible] the Trojans [illegible] ran like one possessed and [illegible] open up a gap. He covered [illegible], passing to [illegible] in front of the other [illegible] "Jack" ran a great race, [illegible] during the final 100, but [illegible] Vic Hodge a lead of twenty [illegible].

[illegible] out in great shape, knowing [illegible] Gillette of Pomona [illegible] the grit behind him. [illegible] magnificent lap and brought [illegible] to their feet. Yard [illegible] the gold of the Trojan [illegible] out in front, with a [illegible] of Pomona Blue cutting along [illegible] by this time the Occidental [illegible] were out of the running. [illegible] gained a few precious [illegible] the back stretch, and it [illegible] as though once more the fa[illegible] veteran would snatch victory [illegible] defeat.

[illegible] 100-yard mark, Vic Hodge [illegible] and putting his head [illegible] to open up again. The [illegible] breasted the tape practically [illegible] the same lead as he had [illegible]. His time was 51s. flat. [illegible] made [illegible]. It was [illegible] and the Trojans should [illegible] every event this year.

[illegible] LEADS AGAIN.

[illegible] intercollegiate two-mile event [illegible] another U.S.C. victory. Cole [illegible] for the Trojans, and came [illegible] few yard's lead. Johnny [illegible] for Oxy and finished a game [illegible] considering the fact that he had [illegible] out of bed for the race. [illegible] ran the second lap for U. [illegible] finished in the lead, giving [illegible] to Capt. Linton Smith. The [illegible] ran the most spectacular race [illegible] finishing in 2 minutes, [illegible] seconds.

[illegible] ran the best race of his life, [illegible] Tipton a big lead. Tip won [illegible] with yards to spare, the time [illegible] race was exceptionally fast, [illegible] minutes, 18 and 4-5 seconds.

LONG BEACH SHINES.

[illegible] two-mile High School relay [illegible] Long Beach by a good margin, [illegible] being second. The [illegible] Long Beach half-milers covered [illegible] in 2 minutes, 40 and [illegible]. Coach Russell has some [illegible] material in Dunn, Burk[illegible] and Green. All ran strong[illegible] good form.

[illegible] High school, class 2 half-mile [illegible] went to the four Pomona [illegible] Maurer, Stone, Baker and [illegible] with the San Diego quartet [illegible]. The time of 1 minute, [illegible] seconds is very good for [illegible] athletes. Maurer gave his [illegible] big lead in the first 220, and, [illegible] the San Diego runners tried [illegible] could never quite head the [illegible] runners out in [illegible].

L. A. HIGH GETS ONE.

[illegible] one-mile relay for the eight[illegible] produced some really ex[illegible]. It was purely a case [illegible] survival of the fittest. There [illegible] spill in the first lap, the [illegible] runner being dumped by [illegible] the L. A. High men on the [illegible] White second team. The [illegible] fought it out, neck and neck [illegible] first lap. First Long Beach [illegible] in front, then the blue of [illegible] High would forge out in the [illegible] slowly but surely, the Holly[illegible] began to close up the [illegible] when it came to Bill Can[illegible] the seventh lap, he put [illegible] aggregation into third [illegible] of the fact that the [illegible] finished from seventh posi[illegible] third, the team deserves a [illegible]. On the final lap it was [illegible] of L. A. High that [illegible] finishing with a [illegible] of speed that pulled L. A. [illegible] the fire for keeps.

[illegible] DIEGO THERE.

[illegible] School Class 2, one-mile [illegible] San Diego [illegible] the first lap and gave [illegible] lead, who passed it on [illegible] in turn came through [illegible]. Dievendorf finished [illegible] in splendid shape, and [illegible] an easy winner. [illegible] all by taking [illegible]. The time of [illegible] and 1-5 seconds made [illegible] success is also fast [illegible].

[illegible] the four man in [illegible] High School events [illegible] Beach out as a winner, [illegible] Dunn and Snow pro[illegible] speed. These lads [illegible] did not make as [illegible] as made by the San [illegible] in the Class 2 event, [illegible] minutes and 27 [illegible].

[illegible] the special events was [illegible] 100-yard dash. The [illegible] in two heats and a [illegible] Johnson of L.A. High [illegible] in the first heat, coming [illegible] in the final he left the [illegible] the tape a winner [illegible]. This young [illegible] excellent form this [illegible] keeps up his present [illegible] to the flat [illegible].

[illegible] trouble in the 100 [illegible] that some of the [illegible] and beat the starter's gun. This can not be done and the sooner these youngsters learn the fact the better runners they will be.

BORGSTROME TOO GOOD.

The pole vault went to Charlie Borgstrome, of U.S.C., who won with a leap of 12 feet, 3 inches, defeating Cliff Barnes of Pomona, who went out at 12 feet 1 inch. The competition here was good and if "Bo" Wilson had not dislocated his ankle, would have been even better as "Bo" was surely climbing when the accident happened.

Borgstrome wanted to vault again to try to break the southern record which is twelve-four, but the U.S.C. trainers pulled him out, as he has yet six meets to compete in. The move was a wise one, as pole vaulting is always dangerous and one can never tell when an accident similar to that of Wilson's will occur.

The High School high jump went to Nichols, of Pomona High, at 5 feet 9 inches, with Anderson of Santa Ana second and Gates of Hollywood third. Nichols went well for the first meet of the season, but will have to get a little more spring, if he is to equal his last year's record-breaking performances.

RESULTS.

The 100-yard dash (high schools.)

First heat—Stone, Pomona, first; Johnson, L. A., second; Brewer, Pomona, third. Time, 10 2-5s.

Second heat—Waite, San Diego, first; Maurer, Pomona, second; Newby, Pasadena, third. Time, 10 2-5s.

Finals—Johnson, L. A., first; Stone, Pomona, second; Waite, San Diego, third. Time, 10 1-5s.

High school high jump—Nichols, Pomona, first; Anderson, Santa Ana, second; Gates, Hollywood, third. Height, 5ft. 9in.

Open pole vault—Borgstrom, U.S.C., first; Barnes, Pomona, second; Nichols, Pomona High, third. Height, 12ft. 2in.

Two-mile relay, high schools, Class 1—Long Beach (Dunn, Burkhard, Ohl, Green,) first; San Bernardino, second; L.A.H.S., third. Time, 8m, 39 3-5s.

Two-mile relay, intercollegiate—U.S.C. (Cole, Kirchoffer, Smith, Tipton,) first; Pomona, second; Occidental, third. Time, 8m. 18 4-5s.

Half-mile relay, high schools, Class 2—Pomona (Maurer, Baker, Brewer, Stone,) first; San Diego, second; Monrovia, third. Time, 1m. 33 2-5s.

One-mile relay, high schools, eight men, Class 1—L.A.H.S., first; Long Beach, second; Hollywood, third. Time, 3m. 13s.

One-mile relay, high schools, Class 2—San Diego (Dana, Conklin, Kohler, Dievendorf,) first; Monrovia, second; Glendale, third. Time, 3m. 31 1-5s.

One mile relay, high schools, Class 1—Long Beach (Green, Ohl, Dunn, Snow,) first; Manual Arts, second; L.A.H.S., third. Time, 3m. 37s.

One mile relay, colleges—U.S.C. (Laird, Berger, Jackson, Hodge, first; Pomona, second; Occidental, third. Time, 3m. 29s.

STANFORD GOSSIP.

[Special Correspondence of The Times.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 14.—The Stanford "gym" club is preparing plans for a field day similar to those held in England. The sports will be held in the afternoon and will include soccer, basketball, mass drills and other forms of outdoor sports.

The Stanford varsity baseball team defeated St. Mary's College yesterday, 6 to 1. The Cardinal team showed a marked improvement in batting and seems to have struck its stride.

Jack McKenzie of the Barbarians has been chosen to referee the soccer game between Stanford and California at Berkeley, February 22.

A. E. Worthy ('15) of Santa Ana is one of the nominees for the Quad, the annual publication of the junior class.

BERRY WILL TRADE VERNON.

Young Angel Pitcher Wants to Remain East.

Local Magnate Will Try to Use Seven Heavers.

Coy Has Decided to Sign With Oakland Team.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Henry Berry is on the verge of losing Harry Vernon, the classy young right-hander, who finished the season with the Angels.

In fact, Hen has just about given up hope of getting the former Amherst man into a Los Angeles uniform again, and is trying to put through a trade with one of the International League teams, which will permit Vernon to play in the East.

Vernon has no objection to playing on the Coast, but can not leave his mother, who is well advanced in years. She can not accompany him here.

His home is in Boston, and he says that unless he is permitted to play in the East he will be compelled to retire from the game.

Berry is convinced that Vernon is playing fair with him, and for that reason will endeavor to place him with some club nearer home.

"I dislike to lose Vernon, for he certainly looked like a comer," said Berry, "but I would quit the baseball business rather than stand in his way under the circumstances. I regarded him as one of the most promising young pitchers seen in the Coast League in a number of years."

* * *

Berry will endeavor to struggle along with only seven pitchers this season, and there will not be a left-hander in the lot, unless Hewitt, the Portland youngster, should accomplish the miraculous, and step successfully from the sandlots to a permanent job in Class AA company.

Hen figures that seven will be sufficient for all his needs, as Chech, Toser, Jackson and Rogers are the type of twirlers who can go in and work every day if necessary. Jackson and Rogers have never shown in these parts, but each is credited with having a Samsonian right arm.

Rogers, who was found down in Texas, is classed as the goods by no less an authority than Del Howard.

* * *

Frank Dillon will leave today for a visit with George Wheeler at Yucaipa. Frank is interested in a pippin plantation out that way.

* * *

President Baum yesterday wired Henry Berry, Ed R. Maier and Happy Hogan to meet him in San Francisco on Tuesday for a conference regarding the new minor league.

Baum and J. Cal Ewing will in the meantime visit San Jose, which is to be included in the circuit. He suggests that the southern delegation come north by way of Fresno and Stockton, and size up the situation in those cities.

* * *

The inside story of Wilfred Page's recent visit to Paso Robles leaked out yesterday. Wilf went up there for the express purpose of raising a mustache. He sought the seclusion of a friend's ranch in that section, and for three weeks assiduously coaxed the thing along.

While the experiment is said to have been wholly successful, Page returned without so much as a pin feather on his upper lip. He found that this brand of upholstering was not adapted to his particular style of beauty and it took a barber just five minutes to prune away the tender young growth.

* * *

Bert Coy's holdout has just about petered into mere nothingness. Oakland gave Coy a raise, as becomes a pennant-winning team, but Bert opined that he could stand a second advance. As this has not been forthcoming, he has about decided to capitulate and accept the original terms.

* * *

Clarence Marshall has been doing some off-season scouting for the Rockford club, and has rounded up a cluster of coast talent consisting of Messrs. Cooney, Price and Wolfe. All of these lads have had some league experience. Cooney was tried out at first base by Los Angeles last season, and Wolfe adorned right field for the Angels in a few games three years ago. Price formerly was on the pay roll of the Sacramento club.

* * *

Tom Hasty, the former Tiger backstop, is back in town. Tom has been playing winter ball in Oxnard, something that has been a habit with him for the last three years. Hasty played with Winnipeg last season, and is due to report there again in May. Hasty hasn't anything against Winnipeg, except that it is situated in a league where the winter butts into the summer at each end, necessitating a short season. Up there the baseball agony lasts only four and a half months, and this materially reduces the annual income of the players.

OFFICERS CHOSEN FOR RUBBER COMPANY.

The election of officers for the newly-organized Panama Rubber Company was held last week with the following result:

W. D. Newerf, president; W. E. McCune, first vice-president; Motley H. Flint, second vice-president; J. S. Benner, secretary, and John F. Roe, treasurer.

Executive offices have been opened in the Los Angeles Investment building and plans will be pushed for the erection of a factory in which will be built the Panama tire.

Newerf has announced that it is his intention to make the best tire that can be manufactured and in order to carry out these plans one of the best known tire builders in the country has been engaged as factory superintendent.

Another important deal to the Panama Company was the closing of a contract by W. D. Newerf for the sale of 100 tires a day. These tires will be handled through the fifty agencies of the Newerf Rubber Company, located in California, Washington, Oregon and Arizona. The Newerf sales organization will take the tires at the market value.

This means that the sale of the factory output is assured from the start.

You said you wanted "More Mileage" from your tires, and here it is—

THREE POINT RIM CONTACT

More than once you and other motorists have paid for tires that have not delivered the mileage you had a right to expect.

Fifteen years ago, when we built the first pneumatic automobile tire in America, we knew the day would come when you would demand a tire tough enough to fight the road—elastic enough to absorb the shocks—built in such a way as to prevent rim troubles and breaking above the bead—and today we offer you

Diamond (No Clinch) Tires

made of Vitalized Rubber

—pure, young, lusty rubber, toughened by a new process—the ideal more mileage tire you have been waiting for—not the result of an effort to reduce the cost of building a tire, but to deliver to you a better tire at no additional cost.

You can get Diamond Vitalized Rubber (No-Clinch) Tires with Perfect 3-Point Rim Contact, No-Pinch Safety Flap for inner tube protection, and if you wish, the Safety (Squeegee) Tread—at any one of the

These Four Trucks Replaced Forty Horses

Forty horses replaced by four KisselKar Trucks, illustrated above, is the record of Alexander H. Revell & Co., Chicago's largest wholesale and retail furniture dealers. This company first purchased one truck. Then, as a result of its performance, bought three more. This fleet of four KisselKar Trucks reduced Revell's horse force from sixty to twenty. This is uniformly the records wherever KisselKar Trucks are placed in commission. KisselKar Trucks reduce haulage cost to the minimum, enabling you to extend your zone of operation and improve your haulage or delivery service.

Note these striking KisselKar features—simple engine—easy to operate—reserve power—differential lock preventing one drive wheel absorbing all the power on slippery places, and stalling the truck—four speed transmission, geared up fourth speed permitting faster travel when empty without racing engine; 15 to 20 per cent. lower fuel consumption than average trucks—light spring suspension for power plant, heavy spring suspension for load—gauge that weighs load—greatest accessibility—easy control—larger brake drums and extra powerful brakes—special bodies designed to meet every need.

KISSELKAR TRUCKS

1500 lbs.-1-2-3-4 and 5 Tons

In the purchase of a KisselKar Truck, you not only get the greatest truck value, but also the full benefit of the KisselKar Service.

KisselKar Service means taking off your hands all of the mechanical details. (A special service building is maintained in this city for the benefit of KisselKar owners.) The KisselKar Service is a broad and comprehensive arrangement between manufacturer and owners that cares for the car, maintains efficiency, retards depreciation and minimizes upkeep. This service is a valuable consideration in the purchase of a power wagon. Investigate it.

Ask us to analyze your present horse haulage as compared to motor haulage. The result will be interesting.

Rapacity.

ADD TWO MILLIONS MORE TO HIRAM'S PATRONAGE.

Crafty Scheme for Money Grabbing In Legislative Propositions.

Measures Designed to Hand Over to State Machine Full Control of Salaries of Nearly All the Offices. Enabling Acts to Give "Holy Hiram" a Chance to Pass Out Five Millions in All to His Favorites.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Now controlling under existing laws annually in direct and indirect patronage an estimated aggregate total of $3,130,554, Gov. Hiram W. Johnson will be endowed with more than $2,434,220 additional, if the present Legislature passes the assortment of legislation creating new commissions, bureaus and boards, which have been proposed and the people ratify the Legislature's action when amendments to the Constitution are found necessary.

Combined the present and proposed patronage would total conservatively the frightening sum of $5,564,774. [illegible] this amount of patronage is great, it does not include certain [illegible] items which are not accurately ascertainable.

Of the three million-odd dollars in patronage which the occupant of the gubernatorial office now commands, [illegible] is in direct control of the [illegible]. The remainder, $2,291,-[illegible] is semi-direct, or that directly [illegible] with important offices, [illegible] and commissions over which the Governor is given arbitrary authority.

Of the patronage proposed by the present Legislature $1,353,460 would [illegible] in the hands of the Executive [illegible] exclusive disposal if plans [illegible] go awry, and the remainder, [illegible] consisting largely of [illegible] pay-rolls of new bureaus, commissions and boards, would be largely [illegible] at the suggestion of the Governor.

When it is remembered that practically all bills or constitutional amendments proposing increased gubernatorial patronage have been introduced by those who are closely identified with the Bull Moose party and the Johnson-Lissner crowd, there is but one obvious construction to be placed on such a projected increase of power with the Executive.

AFTER THE COURTS.

The greatest single item of patronage which is proposed for the Governor embraces the entire Superior judiciary of the State and affects the Supreme Court to the extent of the chief justice and the three Appellate Court presiding justices. At the present time the judiciary pay-roll (which it is proposed to swing to the Governor by making those positions appointive) amounts to $632,460 annually. In addition to this projected raid on the courts, new judges are proposed, which, if the amendment to the Constitution necessary to transfer this patronage from the people to the Executive is adopted, would give the Governor an additional hand-out.

The constitutional amendments which create a Governor's Cabinet and would make the offices of Secretary of State, State Treasurer and Attorney-General appointive would place $16,000 in direct and about $100,000 in indirect patronage in the Executive's hands. These amendments apparently have a two-fold purpose. Besides the patronage affected, the appointment of these three officers now elective, would take from the people their right to direct the destiny of the State government by vote.

DAY'S EVENTS IN MEXICO.

2 a.m.—Armistice for twenty-four hours declared between Madero and Diaz.

American Ambassador removes women and children from danger zone.

Neutral zone established around American Embassy.

11 a.m.—Truce is broken and savage artillery conflict is resumed. Censorship is established.

Flagship of Cuban navy arrives at Vera Cruz, to land artillery and infantry for Mexico under special permit from Madero.

11 p.m.—President Taft calls special Cabinet meeting to draft a reply to President Madero's remonstrance addressed to the President. The Cabinet adjourns after midnight.

Madero and Mirando,

Who are on opposite sides in the conflict now raging in Mexico. Madero has asked President Taft to keep hands off in Mexico, assuring him that Americans will not be harmed if they keep out of the way of the bullets. It is from the British Embassy, shown above, that the report, which afterwards was denied, that Madero had resigned, emanated. The cavalry shown is part of Gen. Blanquet's reinforcements for the Federals. Madero's forces today resumed the bombardment of the arsenal in which Felix Diaz is fortified, but has promised to respect a neutral zone surrounding the American Embassy.

MADERO REMONSTRATES WITH PRESIDENT TAFT.

BY ROBERT MURRAY.

[BY FEDERAL (WIRELESS) LINE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY VIA GALVESTON, Feb. 16.—[Uncensored.] The following personal message was sent yesterday by President Francisco I. Madero to President William H. Taft:

So far Madero has received no reply.

"His Excellency, William Howard Taft, President of the United States:

"I have been informed that the government over which your Excellency presides with such dignity has ordered to set out for the ports of Mexico war vessels with troops to disembark and come to this capital to give guarantees of safety to Americans.

"Undoubtedly, the information which you have received and which led you to take this action is inexact and exaggerated, for the lives of Americans in the capital are at present in no danger, if they abandon the zone of fire and concentrate in certain parts of the city or its suburbs where tranquility is absolute and where the government can give all classes guarantees. If Americans residing here will do that following the precedent established by your own orders previously issued (this refers to Taft's proclamation last spring, advising all Americans to leave danger points in the republic,) all danger to the lives of Americans and other foreigners will be obviated. Regarding what material damages may be suffered by foreigners, this government is ready to accept all responsibility, according to the obligations of international law. Consequently, I ask your Excellency to order your men of war not to disembark troops in Mexico, as this act will cause a conflagration—terrible consequences of more serious extent than the ones we have to contend with at present. I assure your Excellency that this government is taking all measures necessary in order that the rebels in Ciudedela will do the least harm possible to the lives and property of foreigners in the capital and I have hopes that everything will be peacefully arranged in a very short time. It is true that my country at this moment is passing through a terrible crisis; and the disembarkation of American troops would only increase the dangers of the situation and be a very lamentable error. It would do great harm to a nation which has always been the loyal friend of the United States as well as contributing to the danger of interfering with the establishment of true democratic government here similar to that of the great American nation. I appeal to the equitable, just sentiments that have been the criterion of your government, that undoubtedly represents the sentiments of the great American people; and whose destinies you have guided with so much skill and patriotism.

[Signed.] FRANCISCO I. MADERO, President of Mexico."

CONFLICT AGAIN RAGES IN STREETS OF MEXICO.

Combatants, Chafing Under Armistice Break Truce Before Expiration.

Federal Government Establishes Strict Censorship. President Taft Calls Midnight Cabinet Meeting, at Which Reply to Madero's Protest Is Considered. Mexican Commanders Declare It's Fight to Finish.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CENSORSHIP on all dispatches has been established at Mexico City. Government officials took charge of the cable office shortly after 5 o'clock Saturday evening and shut off messages of correspondents to their papers.

Code messages and all messages containing any expressions that might be construed into a sign of the important happenings in the capital were confiscated by the censor and his assistants, but a bulletin was flashed through tonight that the armistice, signed at 2 o'clock Sunday morning, had ended and that both sides were fighting savagely.

The Mexican government did not stop official dispatches of the diplomatic representatives, but as these are sent in cipher considerable delay is experienced in translation. The government apparently is determined that no word of the fighting shall be communicated to the outside world.

News dispatches sent Saturday night from the United States to Mexico City also have been refused or held up.

Confirmation of the breaking of the armistice and the resumption of hostilities has been received from Laredo, Tex., where wire communication was established with Mexico City early Sunday morning, and again as late as 9 o'clock at night. On both occasions the messages stated that a battle was on.

Disorders also are reported from various parts of Mexico, although President Madero insists that he has the general situation in hand.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Secretary of State Knox was directed by President Taft to reply early this morning to the request of President Francisco I. Madero of Mexico, for a definite statement of the policy of the United States toward Mexico.

The Cabinet, which was in session for more than two hours, adjourning at 12:40 o'clock, spent the time discussing the terms of the reply. Though no official statement was given out, it was declared that Secretary Knox would state that the attitude of this government would remain just as it had been for the last two years.

It was stated that the note would be dispatched to Madero at once and probably would be made public later today.

Upon leaving the White House, Secretary Knox reiterated that intervention was not now contemplated nor would there be any change in the naval or military plans relating to Mexico.

HOSTILITIES RESUMED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 16.—Hostilities were resumed with renewed fierceness in the Mexican capital today after a truce which lasted only a few hours.

The armistice signed at 2 o'clock Sunday morning by the representatives of both sides, agreeing to suspend operation for twenty-four hours, was broken before noon. Soon the sound of heavy cannonading and the whirr of machine guns announced the return of the Federal troops to their posts.

It appeared as if the words of Madero and Diaz might prove prophetic and that this time the battle would be to a finish.

MADERO STILL CONFIDENT.

President Madero reiterated today his refusal to comply with the suggestion of the Senators that he resign. He declared that he still was able to dominate the situation and that, if given time, he would crush the rebel forces.

Gen. Diaz had not shown himself to be greatly in favor of the armistice, but consented to it out of respect for the efforts of the American Ambassador and the Ministers of the powers to bring about a cessation of hostilities until foreigners and other non-combatants, still within the zone of the fighting, could be removed to a position of comparative safety.

GAINS BY DIAZ.

Diaz regarded the truce merely as a delay in the accomplishment of his fixed purpose to drive Madero out of the presidency. The fighting Saturday undoubtedly had gone in favor of the rebels, who had resisted all assaults against them, had received into their ranks several hundred Federal deserters and had obliged the Federal commanders to admit that for the present at least the rebel position was impregnable.

HUERTA IMPATIENT.

Gen. Huerta, the commander of the government troops, a hard fighter, who has been through many a campaign, also was opposed to the armistice, and chafed under the terms which it imposed uopn him.

REMOVING FOREIGNERS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—American Ambassador Wilson in a message to the State Department tonight from Mexico City said arrangements were being rushed to remove women and children from the country via Vera Cruz and that Americans and other foreigners were rapidly being removed from the fighting zone in the
